PRIMARY ELECTION CANDIDATES LISTED

GOVERNORSHIP MAIN ISSUE OF PRIMARY TUESDAY

Four Present County Office Holders
Have Opposition—Local Man
Out for State Office

Ballots for the primary election to be held Tuesday, September 9th, have been delivered to township clerks by County Clerk Fenton R. Bulow.

As far as Charlevoix county is concerned, there is but one ticket in the field—the Republican. Two years ago the Democrats came to life, but this year have no candidates seeking office.

While the main issue centers around the governorship race, four present county office-holders have opposition—those of county clerk, treasurer, register of deeds and judge of probate. There are three candidates seeking to be coroner and Arthur L. Fitch, a local man, opposes Louis E. Anderson for representative in the state legislature from the Charlevoix-Leelanau district.

Following is the complete list of candidates as they appear on the ballot for next Tuesday's election:

LENOSKY-PUMPHREY WEDDING ON MONDAY

Well Known Young Couple Married at East Jordan

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lenosky of Wilson township, announce the marriage of their daughter, Della, to Clifford Pumphrey of Port Huron, a former young man of East Jordan and Charlevoix.

The ceremony was performed on Monday morning, August 25th, in the presence of the immediate relatives at St. Joseph's Catholic church, with Fr. T. J. Liebek officiating at a nuptial high mass at 9 o'clock. The double ring service was used.

Miss Dorothy Zoulek acted as bridesmaid, and Will Zoulek attended the bridegroom, both being cousins of the bride.

Miss Irene Bashaw presided at the organ, playing the wedding march.

The bride wore a gown of white satin and lace and carried white roses. The bridesmaid wore a dress of pink silk crepe and carried pink sweet peas.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride was for several years at the Charlevoix hospital where she served as trained nurse.

Mr. and Mrs. Pumphrey left for Port Huron.

ANNIVERSARY BANQUET AT THE INN

LOCAL MEN GUESTS AT AFFAIR GIVEN MONDAY NIGHT

Manager Andrew I. Creamer Given Many Tributes for 25 Years Service in Charlevoix

A large group of Charlevoix business and professional men were guests of Mr. Andrew I. Creamer at a banquet dinner given Monday evening at The Inn.

The affair was in observance of Mr. Creamer's 25th year as manager of this popular summer hostelry, which is owned by the Pere Marquette Railway company and holds the distinction of being Charlevoix's largest.

In well chosen words, Mr. Creamer expressed his delight at being able to be present with the group of men with whom he had been associated in business for so many years.

Responses were made by Dr. R. B. Armstrong, O. A. Solomon, D. S. Payton, A. J. Usher, Dr. C. J. Winder, John Martin and George W. Weaver. Without an exception, all were high in their praise of the wonderful cooperation Mr. Creamer had lent toward every move for the betterment of Charlevoix during his years in our midst. Personal friendships, which are close and numerous, were touched upon and many deserving tributes were tendered the host of the evening.

The principal speaker of the evening was Ralph B. Wilkinson of Detroit, a close personal friend of Mr. Creamer's. He expressed in well chosen phrases the significance of the occasion, leaving a deeper feeling than ever before with all those who heard him.

John R. Bowker and Tom Kelly, both of Southern Pines, N. C., and summer guests at The Inn, favored with several appreciated songs and added much to the entertainment of the evening. "Tubby" Gill won a big hand for a couple timely recitations given.

The delightful banquet dinner was certainly enjoyed by the group, who left with the wish that they might be present to observe a similar anniversary with Mr. Creamer at the conclusion of another 25 years in Charlevoix.

YEMMANS HOME SCENE OF SURPRISE AFFAIR

Friends Gathered at Their New Home Tuesday Evening

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Yemmans, who recently moved into their new home on the north side, were pleasantly surprised Tuesday evening when a party of twenty-five friends dropped in on them unexpectedly.

A delightful pot-luck supper was enjoyed by the group and, before departing, the guests left many beautiful gifts in remembrance of the occasion.

WILD LIFE EXHIBIT AT ANNUAL CO. FAIR

DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION SPONSORS PROJECT

Many Species of Michigan Animal and Bird Life Will Be Shown September 23-26

A department of conservation exhibit, carrying with it a great display of wild life animals, native to Michigan, will be shown at the Charlevoix County fair at East Jordan, September 23-26.

The local fair is one of the 27 at which the exhibit will be shown this year, although more than twice that number of applications had been received.

In addition to the wild life display which will include from 20 to 30 species of native animals and birds, the exhibit will include displays of a large variety of Michigan furs, confiscated guns and other hunting and fishing equipment.

Starting with exhibits at but two or three fairs a few years ago, the popularity of these wild life exhibits has increased remarkably, until now the department of conservation finds itself physically and financially able to accept but a portion of the applications received each year.

All of the animals shown in the wild life exhibit were captured in Michigan, most of them by conservation officers and state trappers. Among the animals to be shown at the fair grounds will be wolves, coyotes, porcupines, badgers, foxes, beaver, fawns, bear cubs, mink, opossum, muskrats, and among the birds, Canada goose, ducks and pheasants.

For the first time in their lives, many of the people of this county will see a real live mink, a live raccoon or a living badger.

If it were not for the little signs over each cage there would be few people who could readily identify all of the animals shown in this exhibit of wild life, according to those who are in charge of the display. The mink is mistaken for everything from a muskrat to a weasel.

Fawns, cub bears, wolves, beaver and porcupines are usually readily identified, it was said, but the lesser known animals, despite their abundance in various parts of the state, are often mistaken for something else.

In addition to its wild life display the department has a large booth filled with a variety of confiscated furs; guns confiscated from law violators, and a mass of hunting and fishing equipment that was once used illegally.

Those in charge of the exhibit are constantly answering questions concerning every angle of conservation.

A small folder outlining the 1930-31 game laws is being distributed at the booth.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS MEET SATURDAY

A meeting of primary and junior Sunday school workers of Charlevoix and Emmet counties will be held in Magnus state park, Petoskey, next Saturday, September 6th, from 10 o'clock a. m. to 4 o'clock p. m. There will be a picnic dinner at noon. Miss Lorne Catton of Lansing, will be present.

HUNTING SEASON OPENS SEPT. 16

INVASION OF DUCK MARSHES LOOKED FORWARD TO

Few Minor Changes in Regulations Covering Sport in 1930—Bag Limits Are the Same

The 1930 duck hunting season in Michigan will open with a "bang" at 4:50 a. m., central standard time, Tuesday, September 16.

Already duck hunters are securing their licenses, oiling their guns, and preparing for the annual invasion of the marshes.

The duck hunting regulations have not been changed; and dates, local ordinances and bag limits remain the same with only one exception, a reduction in federal daily bag limit of geese, from five to four.

The season for ducks, (except woodducks and eiders) geese, brant, coots, and Wilson snipe (jack snipe) remains open from September 16 to December 31, inclusive. The rail and gallinule season does not open until October 1.

The bag limit for ducks is 15 in day, 30 in possession at one time and 100 for a season. The federal regulations specify that only four geese may be shot in one day. This automatically sets the state limit of geese at four a day instead of five as set by state law. Ten in one day, 20 in possession at one time, and 50 in a season are the bag limits on Wilson snipe and coots in Michigan.

The three waterfowl refuges established a year ago are still being operated and are of course closed to hunters. These refuges are located at Munuscong Bay, Little Bay de Noc, and Wildfowl Bay marshes.

This year the refuge at Wildfowl has been slightly enlarged. That part of Warner Bayou just north of the Warner cut has been included in the closed area. Hunters may pass through the Warner cut, but may not shoot in it.

The opening of the duck season will bring hundreds of "first timers" to the marshes. The department of conservation urges every hunter to "play the game" and show consideration for the other fellow. "Green" hunters can easily and unintentionally spoil the other fellow's sport.

The department gives the following cautions: Motors should be used as little as practicable as punting and rowing frighten the ducks less.

Shooting at birds out of range is the badge of a beginner or careless hunter.

"Jump" shooting shouldn't start until after the early morning flight is over.

Watch carefully where your birds drop, and lose no time in going after cripples.

Do not shoot at gulls or any other protected birds.

Learn to measure your success by something besides the number of ducks you kill.

The department is asking that all banded ducks killed be reported to the department's office at Lansing, with information as to the date and place where the bird was killed. The place where the bird was killed, but the hands will be returned to any hunters who want to keep them as souvenirs.

Students, the Royal Portable Typewriter will help you make the grade. F. V. Tyler.—Adv. 361f.

ANNUAL CADDY TOURNAMENT IN PROGRESS

Favorites Are Victorious in Early Rounds—Finals Friday

The annual caddy tournament at the Charlevoix Golf club got under way this week and favorites have come through the early rounds with easy victories.

Heading the upper and lower brackets in the first flight are Bill Novak and Cornie McCall. Others who are favored to reach the semifinals in the first flight are Vic Smith and Joe Smith.

In the second flight, Winfield Kirby heads the upper bracket and Homer Brady is at the bottom. These two players will likely meet in the finals unless unexpected upsets occur.

Finals in both flights will likely be played off Friday.

LIBRARY HOURS TO CHANGE NEXT WEEK

Schedule of Open Hours Go Back to Former Schedule Monday

Miss Minnie Payton, city librarian, announces that hours at the library will change from summer schedule on Monday, September 8th.

Starting at that time afternoon hours will be from 2 until 6, and evening hours from 7:30 to 8:30 for the fall, winter and spring seasons.

SCHOOL STAFF IS ANNOUNCED

THREE NEW TEACHERS ON FACULTY THIS YEAR

Preparations for Opening of School Next Monday, September 8th, Are Nearly Completed

Several new teachers will make their debut here next Monday when Charlevoix public schools open for the 1930-31 term.

The complete list has been announced by Supt. M. Otterbein, who returns again this year and is now at his office in the high school building taking care of preliminary arrangements for the opening.

In the high school department, O. P. North will again be principal and instructor of science; Ray L. Kipke, coach and mathematics; Stewart E. Coleman, English and science; Miss Ruth Dowd, English and debate coach; Miss Helen S. Button, domestic science; Miss Edna Locan, language; Mrs. Ethel McKee, music and girls' athletic director; Miss Bea L. Ferneau, history.

Walter Alexander returns as principal of the junior high school and others are Harry E. Bingham, English; Miss Floranz Milner, history.

Grades—Principal and kindergarten, Miss Helen French; first grade, Miss Lydia Phillips; second grade, Miss Florence Little; third grade, Miss Margaret Fitch; fourth grade, Miss Sophia Manson; fifth grade, Miss Clara Dittmer; sixth grade, Miss Mildred A. Bodfish.

Miss Pearl Bigge returns as principal of the Charlevoix county normal and Mrs. Gertrude Dick as critic.

The school buildings are now undergoing their annual overhauling in preparation for school. Outside decorations have brightened the buildings up and the interior is being put in readiness. Among many improvements is re-shingling the high school building.

TWO PARTIES GIVEN AT ED. EDWARDS HOME

Family Leaves Soon for South Bend, Indiana, Their Future Home

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Edwards entertained with two delightful parties within the past week at their home on the Waller farm north of this city.

Nine couples were guests at breakfast served in the garden at their home Sunday morning, and Monday evening ten couples enjoyed bridge, followed by luncheon.

The affairs were given as farewell parties. The Edwards family leave Charlevoix soon for South Bend, Ind., where Mr. Edwards has taken a position. He will leave next week and Mrs. Edwards will join him later following a visit to Menominee with her mother, Mrs. Frank Morrison, and brother, Dr. H. R. Morrison.

An information booth for women will be held September 9, opposite the library on Mrs. Earl Johnson's porch. Signed, Citizenship Committee.—Adv. 361f.

HALF-YEAR RATE NOW IN EFFECT

SPECIAL AFFIDAVIT REQUIRED EXCEPT FOR NEW CARS

Exemption Does Not Apply to Michigan Residents Who Licensed Outside State Last Year

As the season for the issuance of half-year rate automobile licenses is now at hand and the first of December, when the 1931 license plates will probably be available, is not far away, the manager of the local branch office of the state department would like to urge upon car owners and dealers the observance of the following regulations and precautions.

Do not sign any application, title transfer or other document in blank—that is, before it has been properly filled out. Failure to observe this rule is likely to get one into considerable trouble, sometime.

Do not sign any document, of any kind whatsoever, where your signature has to be sworn to before a notary, except in the presence of the notary. Notaries public are under bond to observe the law in regard to the notarization of papers and no notary who cares anything for his job or his reputation for integrity will set his name to a document as attesting a signature that he has not personally seen placed thereon, unless the signer is known to the notary and is there in person to swear to his signature and the contents of the document. No transfers of title or applications for title will be accepted at the local office of the state department unless they are properly filled out and notarized or the transferor or transferee is present to sign them and swear to them.

Scrutinize carefully all documents, such as transferred titles, applications for new title filled out by dealers, etc., presented to you for signature or to be handed in at the license bureau, and make sure that same are properly filled out in every particular. This precaution will save much time and annoyance, as incomplete documents are invariably turned back for correction by the authorities at Lansing.

Do not ask special favors that involve a "winking at" or open violation of the law or the rules and regulations of the state department and do not become a party to such violation in order to favor someone else. This last especially applies to out-of-town residents or summer resorters to do things in connection with license documents that the latter should do themselves—sending their chauffeurs to sign their names, instead of appearing in person or having the papers sent to them for signature. The time of such people is not so important that they cannot use a little of it to comply with the law, which is no respecter of persons. Their evasion of duty usually only results in greater delay and trouble and does not benefit anyone.

In all cases, except that of a new car purchased since September 1, 1930, owners making application for half-year 1930 automobile licenses must appear in person before a notary and sign an affidavit to the effect that they have not driven their cars in 1930 prior to September 1, 1930. Forms for this purpose may be procured at the license bureau.

The privilege of obtaining a license for one-half rate is not extended to Michigan residents who licensed their cars in another state last year. Such owners were supposed to have immediately applied for Michigan license upon returning to Michigan, and must pay a full year's fee for 1930 if they drove on the highways of Michigan at all during this year.

GREEN BUTTONS WILL ADORN GAME HUNTERS

1930 Issue of Licenses Now Ready for Michigan Nimrods

A light green "button" bearing the picture of a pheasant will be the badge of the small game hunter this year.

The department of conservation is now sending out 425,000 of these "buttons" and licenses to all of its license agents.

The non-resident small game license "buttons" this year are salmon colored.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25¢ at the Central Drug Store, the Rexall store.

"NO MEDICINE IN THE WORLE LIKE KONJOLA"

Says Steamboat Captain, Aged 83, Who Finds New Health in Modern Compound.

CAPTAIN A. P. GALLINO

"To me there is no medicine in the world like Konjola," said Captain A. P. Gallino, 11437 Wisconsin street, Detroit. "I harbored various ills in my system for years before I found the right medicine. My digestion was poor and I gained little strength from what I ate. Bloating pains and severe headaches were the penalty I invariably paid for eating. I am 83 years of age and I felt my health failing rapidly."

"I had little hope that Konjola would help but this medicine gave me the surprise of my life. While on the second bottle my digestion began to improve and headaches disappeared. After that, improvement came rapidly until today, after taking six bottles, it seems difficult to believe that I was ever ill. Thanks to Konjola, I am still on the active list as the captain of a Great Lakes steamboat."

There is nothing exceptional in the case of Captain Gallino. Konjola often appears at its best in ailments of the aged. It is all pure medicine and every drop works.

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix, Mich., at F. J. Fessenden's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

husband's death Mrs. Postmus made her home with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Shooks. Funeral services were held Tuesday at 1 o'clock from the residence, and at 1:30 o'clock p. m. at the Christian Reform church of Ellsworth, of which she was a member. The remains were buried in Boss cemetery.

Charlevoix Public Schools Welcome Rural Students

THE time has come when boys and girls from rural districts must decide where they are to attend school during the coming year. Charlevoix Public Schools have become more and more popular with the rural students of Charlevoix county as demonstrated by the fact that over 25 per cent of the students in High School are from outside districts. There is that about the Charlevoix school spirit that makes the rural student feel that there is a place for him or her in every school activity. This friendly spirit together with the complete courses of study offered, the excellent corps of teachers which is employed, the standing of the Charlevoix Schools with the University of Michigan and other colleges, their strong athletic teams, all combine to make Charlevoix the best school for the boys and girls from the rural schools of Charlevoix county.

STANDING OF THE SCHOOL

The Charlevoix High School has been on the University Accredited List for about a quarter of century. During this time the high educational standards of the Charlevoix Schools have constantly been maintained. For over 25 years Charlevoix graduates have been admitted to Universities and Colleges without examination.

In addition to this the Charlevoix High School is a member of the North Central Association of High Schools and Colleges. This Association has ten standards which every high school must meet in order to be a member. Charlevoix High School has been a member of this Association since 1927. Only graduates of Colleges which are members of The North Central Association are permitted to teach in the Charlevoix High School.

Those outside of Charlevoix who are expecting to attend High School this fall should remember that no High School in this part of the state has a better reputation either as a school preparing for life work or for college and university.

TEACHING STAFF

Nearly all of last year's teaching staff is returning this year. The new members of the staff have excellent qualifications and come very highly recommended. Every effort is being made to maintain the standards of the Charlevoix teaching staff.

TUITION

Our rate of tuition for the High School is the same as last year and is the lowest rate found in the state. The rates in the state vary from $60 to $100. Our rate is $60.

ATHLETICS

Perhaps one of the most interesting factors to the student, though not always to the parents, is the ranking of the school in athletics.

Charlevoix has not always won all the games but it has turned out championship teams in basketball and in football in recent years. We do aim to teach true sportsmanship and develop true character through sports and these are the highest aims of athletics—even higher than winning pennants.

Mr. Kipke, an experienced and expert coach, a graduate of Michigan State College, will again have charge of athletics this year.

COUNTY NORMAL

Charlevoix County Normal has almost reached its limit of students for next year. There is room however for a few with good recommendations. Almost a year's credit at the State Normal Colleges is given for the County Normal Work.

REGISTRATION

Superintendent Otterbein will be at his office from 10 to 12 a. m. and from 2 to 4 p. m. on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week to enroll students and to outline their work for them.

WILL MARK CIVIL WAR VET'S GRAVE

ERECT STONE AT SITE ON CHE-BOYGAN PLAINS

Tragic Death of Hunter and Trapper Recalled in Detroit News Feature Story

(From Cheboygan Observer)
Some time ago, on Sunday, July 13 to be exact, the Detroit News carried a story to the effect that Cheboygan county Civil War veterans expected to erect a marker on the grave of Mr. Devereaux, Aloha township, with that story was also a picture of the lone grave, and alongside that grave stood Ed. Buck who is responsible for what has been done toward marking the grave of a civil war veteran who died alone in a fight with a bear years ago in a black-berry patch near his little forest home.

Mr. Buck first communicated facts in the case to the Detroit News, and a special correspondent was sent here to interview Mr. Buck, to visit the grave and to take pictures, that were shown in the paper.

Mr. Buck on being informed what steps were necessary to take to get a government marker for the grave carried on all the necessary correspondence and obtained the data required for the same.

Now he has been notified that the stone has been shipped from Vermont, and if it comes at the proper time, it is quite likely that a dedicatory service will be held at the grave a week from next Sunday, but that date will be announced next week and a suitable program will be arranged.

Here is the story as carried by the Detroit News:

Cheboygan.—Civil War veterans of Cheboygan county, assisted by Edward H. Buck, of Aloha, expect to erect a memorial to the "only man in Michigan killed by a bear."

On the edge of Silver Lake, a small body of water lying in a cut over patch of timber near Aloha, lies the unmarked grave of Franklin Devereaux, hunter, trapper and berry picker who met death in 1883 in an encounter with a bear his dog had cornered a few rods away.

Devereaux, who served with Company I, Twenty-fifth Michigan Infantry during the rebellion, was a picturesque character. He lived alone in what was then a wilderness with a hut of hemlock bark, brush and stones as his shelter. He slept on the floor even in zero weather, and when blizzards were at their worst went about with his shirt open at the throat. He owned an old rowboat, with which he marketed his berries here.

The memorial, according to Buck, will be a granite tombstone placed at the head of the grave, about which a rail enclosure has been built. The inscription will be: "Here Lies Franklin Devereaux, the Only Man in Michigan Killed by a Bear."

Buck who is 65, and spent most of his life in the vicinity, helped bury the Civil War veteran, after his mangled body had been found by a settler. The bear, dead from a bullet from Devereaux's musket, was discovered within a stone's throw. The ground bore evidence of a desperate struggle between man and beast.

"Devereaux had apparently gone to the rescue of his dog, which was fighting near the cabin," Buck related. "He shot the bear, but did not have time to reload. The bear charged him, and apparently forced him into a pocket between two fallen trees, from which there was no chance to escape."

"He used his musket as a club, but the bear was too big and strong for him. He was found where he fell, death having been instantaneous. The dog, which survived the fight, was in the vicinity when a berry picker came upon the scene of the tragedy two days later. Devereaux, who never went without his gun, was berry picking when the bear appeared. The month was August."

Buck says he wrote the Michigan Historical society to learn if there was record of another person having been killed by a bear in this state. The reply he declares, was that this distinction belongs exclusively to Devereaux, who had lived a hermit's life near the lake since the early '70's and was 55 when he was killed. He was born in New York, but enlisted at Benton Harbor.

A dedication ceremony will be held when the monument is placed. The grave is overgrown with grass and weeds and at the end of the enclosure is a verse supplied by Mrs. John Larson, a neighbor:

"A wanderer poor and without care —An honest soul lies buried here."

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

"It has been the history of the automobile industry that when prices on cars were reduced trade was immediately stimulated; early indications since the reduction of Hudson and Essex cars to the lowest prices in the 21-year history of the company are that this precedent has been followed, for sales have considerably increased since the reduction announcement," says Benjamin Brown, local dealer.

"It is not surprising that this is so for, although prices on Hudson and Essex cars have been reduced, quality has been consistently improved year by year and today that quality is the greatest ever offered. Hudson is the largest seller in the eight cylinder field and Essex the Challenger; with a 113-inch wheel base, is a large car, highly powered, available in any extraordinarily low-priced field. Thus we have the greatest quality at the lowest price—and buyers are not slow to see and take advantage of it. Today, sales are made on that basis, and never were buyers more discriminating."

"I believe that the recent price reductions on automobiles will result in stimulation of trade, not only in the automotive industry but in all allied lines," says Benjamin Brown, local dealer.

will be a vote in the interests of this community.

It is the duty of every elector to vote. Important matters are pending and we must be represented. The correction of the mistakes in laws governing fishing in Lake Charlevoix allowed by our present representative is ENOUGH in itself to demand the election of a live, active man who knows our conditions.

Lets attend to our own affairs and best interests.

Michigan Needs a Man of Deeds

This Is No Time For Experimenting

The eyes of the nation are on Michigan. Lovers of efficient government and the pursuit of lower taxes are aching with hope for a drastic and much needed change in governmental affairs. Now instead of a credit balance in the state treasury, as when Gov. Groesbeck left office, there is a deficit of nearly $8,000,000 and it will be $15,000,000 by January 1st, 1931. Michigan demands a leader... and intelligent leader... AN EXPERIENCED LEADER! Such a man is Alex J. Groesbeck! A man whose ability, whose organizing genius, whose competency, are a matter of open record and at the service of Michigan. With a deficit of $15,000,000 staring the people of Michigan in the face THIS IS NO TIME TO EXPERIMENT with men whose ambitions are high and whose experience in conducting vast business affairs is low. WE REPEAT, THIS IS NO TIME FOR EXPERIMENTS, BUT FOR EXPERIENCE. Vote for Alex J. Groesbeck and end the reign of inefficiency.

Alexander J. Groesbeck

Store Your Faith in a Man That's Faithful

Alex J. Groesbeck has proven his faith to the people of Michigan during his previous administrations. His promises were rigidly adhered to, his word was his bond, his deeds today stand as achievements in experienced business ability and organizing genius. The thousands of miles of clear, wide and unobstructed roads you drive on today are Groesbeck's accomplishments, the scores of new and rebuilt institutions for the sick, the aged, the poor, are products of Groesbeck's honor bound pledges in office. His guarding of the state's funds and the consistent healthy conditions of the State Treasury kept faith with his promise to the people. The low taxes that you paid during the years 1920 to 1926 are indicative of Groesbeck's executive ability. Here is truly a man that keeps your faith and holds your faith. Not a blemish, not a mark stands on the name of him. STORE YOUR FAITH IN THE MAN THAT'S FAITHFUL!

NEED OF SANATORIUM
PURPOSE OF CO. MEET

Counties in District Plan for Care of Tuberculosis Patients

Realizing the imperative need for a tuberculosis sanatorium for the northern portion of Michigan, representatives of at least 22 county boards of supervisors are meeting today to formulate plans for action. The meeting, which will be attended by more than 50 men, will be held at the AuSable club in Crawford county.

One or more representatives already have been appointed by 22 of the 33 counties in the northern part of the lower peninsula. The counties which have named men to attend the meeting are: Alcona, Alpena, Antrim, Arenac, Bay, Benzie, Charlevoix, Clare, Crawford, Emmet, Grand Traverse, Iosco, Kalkaska, Manistee, Mason, Mecosta, Missaukee, Ogemaw, Otsego, Presque Isle, Roscommon, and Wexford.

The purpose of the meeting, which the Michigan Tuberculosis association helped organize, is to discuss ways and means to provide more adequate sanatorium facilities for tuberculosis patients in this part of the state. The most logical solution, in the minds of those concerned with the problem, is the erection of a northern state sanatorium to serve the counties in this section of the state.

Statistics from the Michigan Tuberculosis association reveal that there is an average of 231 tuberculosis deaths each year in this area, and that there are approximately 2,000 active cases of the disease, most of which are without sanatorium care.

PRIMARY SCHOOL FUND IS LARGEST

Apportionment is to Be Made on Basis of $17.92 per Child

Apportionment of the $24,070, 285.63 primary school fund of 1930 was announced last Thursday by the state department of public instruction. The distribution is made on a basis of $17.92 for each of the 1,335,911 students in the state's primary schools.

The fund this year is the largest it has been since its establishment and is $4,093,635 more than it was a year ago. The increase in the fund resulted in a gain of $2.22 in the allotment for each student.

Wayne county, with 486,962 children, will receive $8,859,128; Kent will get $1,178,434, and Oakland is to receive $1,013,845.

The apportionment list includes the following nearby northern Michigan counties, the list giving first the name of the county, then the number of children on which the apportionment is based and last the amount of money the county will receive: Alpena, 6,425, $114,072.06; Charlevoix, 4,197, $75,210.24; Cheboygan, 3,934, $70,717.08; Grand Traverse, 5,089, $91,194.88; Kalkaska, 1,315, $23,564.80; Leelanau, 2,919, $52,308.48; Mackinac, 2,985, $53,144.75; Manistee, 5,210, $92,878.20; Mecosta, 5,010, $89,842.00; Montmorency, 997, $17,866.24; Otsego, 1,898, $34,012.16; Presque Isle, 4,002, $71,715.84; Roscommon, 607, $10,877.44; Wexford, 5,076, $90,056.12.

INSIDE INFORMATION.

Two glass measuring cups, one for wet and one for dry ingredients, are a great convenience in cake making.

Oysters are in season again. They are extremely valuable as a source of various minerals needed by the body. Like fresh fish, they supply iodine.

Choose designs for children's clothes with ironing in mind, whether you make the clothes yourself or buy them readymade. Fussy ruffles and queer-shaped parts take up the time of the laundress, and never look as well after washing and ironing as trim, smooth garments that are well-cut and made of interesting materials.

Probably fewer sandwiches would be discarded from children's lunch boxes if the bread were always of the best quality. Children will eat more bread if different kinds are served. Sometimes so simple a change as making the bread in a new form, a twist or roll instead of a loaf, or twisting the sandwiches into fancy shapes with a cookie cutter, will increase interest in it. The change of flavor given by added raisins, dried currants, dates, or nut meats is another inducement to like the lunch bread.

FOR GOVERNOR —vote for WILBER M. BRUCKER

—saved $3,000,000 for the people in the Bell Telephone case.

—cut the costs of Woodward avenue widening by $1,000,000.

—collected $3,000,000 worth of "bad debts" for the state.

—curbed the "loan shark" business.

—prosecuted the House of David case.

—won the lake level case, that will eventually make Michigan porta ocean porta.

He has devoted his life to service for Michigan

The record of Wilber M. Brucker has been a record of true public service—of full-time, whole-hearted service to the people of Michigan.

As assistant Attorney General, he attracted widespread praise because of his effective work in the notorious House of David case.

Consistently since he has held office for the State—all his effort and talent and time have been devoted to the State—to Michigan interests, Michigan welfare, Michigan advancement. Private practice and personal business have found no place in his long and distinguished public career.

And later, as Attorney General, he realized the full scope of his abilities with a series of unusual legal and administrative achievements—thwarting the famous "Chicago water steal"—sustaining the negligent homicide act—winning the State's radio case—and making the Telephone company submit to state legislation.

A University of Michigan graduate—and member of a Michigan division during the World war—Mr. Brucker first served the people in the role of assistant prosecutor and later, prosecutor of Saginaw county. In this capacity, he soon became known as one of the outstanding prosecutors in Michigan.

Obviously—your vote for Wilber M. Brucker will be a vote for Michigan, because Wilber M. Brucker has devoted his life to serving the people of Michigan. He is, above all, the people's candidate—your candidate for governor.

Thoughts of a Tourist
When I look at the deep blue water
Of beautiful Charlevoix Lake,
I think of the trials of a nation;
The things we endure for its sake.
Sometimes carried under by sorrow
In the deep rolling waves of life
We're touched by the hand of the Master.
And once more begin the strife.
We are soothed to sweet gentle calmness,
And billows of life rise and fall
With a steady even tenor—
And we feel at peace with it all.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT DANGEROUS

NOVEMBER ELECTION TO DECIDE IMPORTANT ISSUE

Detroit Move to Increase Representation Would Give Them Control of Entire State

A movement to amend the Constitution of the State of Michigan, presumably to permit additional representation from the larger cities at the expense of the less densely populated sections of the state, has been promoted—rather quietly so far, but undoubtedly with the thought in mind that the large city vote will carry the proposition provided the apathy of the outstate voters does not become aroused. Petitions for the amendments have been circulated and filed with the requisite number of signatures, with the result that the proposed change will be made part of a separate ballot at the coming November election.

The petitions as circulated were headed "A Petition to Amend Sections Three and Four of Article Five of the Constitution of This State, Relative to the Number and Apportionment of Representatives and Senators in the State of Michigan," followed by a statement of the section and article of the Constitution authorizing circulation of such petitions. The wording of section three, as it is proposed to have it read appears next, and with the exception of one sentence which has been entirely eliminated, reads essentially the same as the present section. The elimination of this sentence, however, is important, and will be discussed further in this article. In section four, the proposed changes are more radical, and it is the right of every voter to know what these proposed changes are and what their adoption would mean.

To explain this fully is not an easy task, and requires the statement of certain points that might be termed as elementary. First of all, section three would provide that the house of representatives shall consist of one hundred members, who shall be chosen for two years and by single districts, which shall contain as nearly as may be an equal number of inhabitants and shall consist of convenient and contiguous territory. No change whatever is indicated here. Later, however, in the section now in effect, appears the sentence, "Each county with such territory as may be attached thereto, shall be entitled to a separate representative when it has attained a population equal to a moiety of the ratio of population." This is the sentence which the proposed new section omits, and the use of actual figures perhaps will best explain the present method of apportionment.

Based on the 1920 population of the state, which was 3,668,412, one representative would be allotted to each 36,684, but with the added provision contained in the sentence above quoted that each county or district with a moiety of the ratio of population shall be entitled to separate representation. This permits the less populous counties and sections to have representation with a population greater than one-half of the population ratio, or on the 1920 basis, a county or district with a population of 18,342 or more would have its own representative. In eliminating this sentence in the article, the proponents of the change would transfer this added representation to the cities and under the 1930 census figures this division would mean even greater disadvantage to the out-state sections than under the 1920 census, because of the shift in population from the rural to urban sections.

Under the 1925 apportionment, made following the passage of the bill authorizing the fifth normal school, the 100 representatives are allotted as follows:

Wayne, 21; Kent, 5; Saginaw, 3;

Genesee, 3; two each in Bay, Berrien, Calhoun, Houghton, Ingham, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Muskegon, Oakland, and St. Clair; one each in 34 counties, and the remaining 35 counties combined into 14 districts, of which Emmet and Mackinac comprise one district.

The proposed section four provides the "teeth" for enforcing section three and states that if the legislature does not re-apportion following each decennial federal census, the secretary of state shall rearrange the districts according to population, file his report and his re-apportionment shall then have immediate effect. Nor is this all, as the final sentence in the proposed section provides that no further action can be taken, nor any alteration made in the apportionment, until the next decennial census, or a period of ten years.

In conclusion, it may be pointed out again that this movement would remove the moiety clause, thus removing also the only safeguard the out-state sections of Michigan have against complete domination by the urban sections. Both the house and the senate would be apportioned solely on the basis of population, although far-seeing legislators for generations back have guarded against such arrangements. The House of Representatives of the United States is based on the population ratio, but the Senate is not, each state being entitled to its two senators regardless of its size geographically or its population. The framers of the federal constitution thus tacitly admitted the unfairness of an apportionment based on population alone. Yet more than 150 years since the adoption of the Constitution of the United States, representation on the basis of population alone is seriously advocated in Michigan!

"Christ Jesus" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, August 31.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "Then said Jesus unto them again, Verily, I say unto you, I am the door of the sheep" (John 10:7).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus established his church and maintained his mission on a spiritual foundation of Christ-healing. He taught his followers that his religion had a divine Principle, which would cast out error and heal both the sick and the sinning" (p. 136).

HEALTH CONTEST AT COUNTY FAIR

Cash Award Will Be Made for Most Healthy Babies Under Two Years

The annual Emmet county fair baby health contest has been announced by Miss Katherine Warner, Emmet county nurse, who has charge of this division of fair activity. The contest will be on Thursday, September 4th, at the Baby Clinic building and will be for babies under two years of age.

The contest will be conducted under American Medical association rules and regulations with physicians and nurses doing the weighing and measuring. Score cards will be provided by the association and the baby with the best health record will be given the first prize. Other prizes will go to those coming next in line.

It is absolutely necessary that each child entered in the contest be listed on or before September 1st, so that proper arrangements for the weighing, measuring, etc., may be made in advance. Children not listed by September 1st will be unable to compete.

Entries may be made with Miss Warner, by letter, telephone to No. 345, Petoskey; or personal call at her office (commissioner of school's office) in the city hall in Petoskey.

The baby clinic on Wednesday and Friday will be open to all children of pre-school age. Doctors and nurses will be in charge and the clinic will replace the regular clinic in the community rooms in Petoskey for that week. It will be open to all and will be entirely free. The hours will be from 2 to 4 p. m.

GROESBECK'S ROAD BUILDING RECORD

During Green Administration
Cost of Concrete Climbed
To $40,009 a Mile

REPRESENTS 25% INCREASE

Lansing, Mich.—According to the records of the State Highway Department issued in its report covering the period up to and including June 30, 1929, the average cost per mile of building concrete roads under the Green administration was $40,009 as against $32,017 in the six years that Alex J. Groesbeck was in office.

Comparing the last three years of the Groesbeck administration, 1924, 1925 and 1926 with the first two years of Green's administration, the average cost per mile, was $34,190 under Groesbeck and $40,009 under Green, a difference of $5,819 per mile. These are fiscal year figures and apply only to roads actually accepted as fully complete and do not represent surface actually laid.

The state highway records show that on June 30, 1929, there were only 880 miles of concrete highway; in 1921, 540 miles; in 1922, 611 miles; in 1923, 826 miles; in 1924, 1,162 miles; in 1925, 1,329 miles; in 1926, 1,493 miles; in 1927, 1,732 miles; in 1928, 1,764 miles.

This carries the Groesbeck building program down only to June 30, 1926 and omits the first half of the year 1921. The former governor built a total of 1,219 miles of concrete highways.

The Green record is aided by 238 miles of concrete highways which were under construction when Groesbeck's term expired in December 1926. By June 30, 1927 under Green there were 1,732 miles of concrete in the state, an increase of 249 miles in one year accounted almost entirely for by the 238 miles of roads that Groesbeck had under way when he left office.

By June 30, 1928, construction under Green had fallen off considerably there being an increase of only 22 miles, the fiscal year of least progress in 10 years of concrete road building.

The year 1924 was the high spot in the Groesbeck program. In that year 849 miles of highways were completed of which 471 were concrete. This record had never been approached before, or since.

The state highway records show that in the face of the most tremendous building of roads that Michigan has ever experienced the cost per mile of modern concrete were kept down to the low average cost of $32,017 per mile, or $7,992 per mile lower than under Green as far as the statistics have appeared for public reading.

Deland Throws Light On "Daylight Government"

Detroit, Mich.—Several instances of the "daylight government" of Governor Fred W. Green are cited by Charles J. Deland, now state representative from Detroit, and former secretary of state under Governor Alex J. Groesbeck.

"In 1927, the legislature appropriated $25,000 to entertain the conference of governors of the United States at Mackinac Island he said, 'the money to be spent under the direction of the state administrative board.' Including Gov. Green, only 14 governors were present at the biggest party ever staged by the state at the expense of the taxpayers.

"Of the money $9,000 was spent for a banquet, $2,200 for flowers, $300 for vaudeville, $250 for golf prizes, $250 for an airplane, to bring a friend of Green's from Detroit and $40 for a launch to take him across the straits.

"The vouchers for that party were filed in the office of the auditor general and when a newspaperman asked to see them he was refused and had to get a mandamus from the Supreme Court to do so. Even then the records were only copies. I later found the originals in a tin can, unnamed and unnumbered.

"During the six years I was secretary of state only $5,400 was spent for outside auditors. In the first two years of the Green administration $119,000 was spent with one Detroit firm alone, and the expenditure was stopped only when I asked for an investigation.

"When Mr. Groesbeck was governor, no man acting as agent for automobile license plates received more than $3,500 a year with the exception of Detroit where the agent got $5,000. When Gov. Green took office, Rep. Chester M. Good of Highland Park was agent there and in 120 days he collected for himself $10,104. The vouchers were made out to his brother.

"In 1928 the agent in Hamtramck, George J. Kolowich, received a little less than $11,000. Then he was elected state senator and the vouchers were made out to an employee in his bank. In 1929 they totalled about $10,000.

"The state administrative board of which Mr. Brucker is a member must know about these transactions as all business of the state passes through this board.

Green's Record Shows Groesbeck's Economy

Lansing, Mich.—Records here show that within three years after Alex J. Groesbeck had left the office of governor, there had been added to the state payroll a total of 642 employees at an additional monthly cost to the taxpayers of $73,995.40, which in one year amounts to $887,944.80.

The total number of employees in the major boards, commissions, departments, etc., which conduct the business of the state, under Groesbeck in December 1926 was 1,901. Three years later, under Governor Green they had mounted to 2,543, an average increase of 214 yearly. In the 32 departments from which the figures were compiled only 5 departments showed decreases and they totalled only 21 persons. Most of these were put on other jobs.

And Green Shouted About Groesbeck's Paroles!!

Lansing, Mich.—That Governor Fred W. Green has released almost as many convicts on parole in three and one-half years as was done by Alex J. Groesbeck in six years is revealed by records of the state parole commission. The total are 8,302 paroles for Green up to June 30 last while Groesbeck's total ran to about 8,000 in six years.

This is at an approximate rate of 2,500 paroles a year for Green to 1,500 a year for Groesbeck.

The records further show that a considerable number of the Green paroles were of men confined at Marquette prison, to which the more desperate criminals are sent.

Under the Michigan indeterminate sentence law criminals are not sent up for a definite period but for a minimum and a maximum, with time off for good behavior, it has become customary to consider a parole at the end of the minimum sentence.

During Groesbeck's time each parole was thoroughly scrutinized and local officials were consulted before the application was granted. The governor gave his own time personally to study of the individual cases. Since Groesbeck left office the responsibility has rested largely upon employees of the parole department, owing to the varied social demands upon the governor's time, and this may account for the increase in the parole rate.

Prominent War Veterans Who Are Backing Groesbeck

Detroit, Mich.—Among almost two thousand professional and business people who have given their endorsement to the candidacy of Alex J. Groesbeck for governor by joining the Wayne County Groesbeck Committee are a considerable number of men who have given distinguished military service to their country. A partial list of these committee members, who have consented to the public use of their names, includes the following:

Col. Heinrich Pickert, Col. Harry M. Malejan, Col. Carl M. Deaking, Lt. Col. Harold S. Baker, Lt. Col. Harold F. Mathys, Lt. Col. Wade Mills, Lt. Col. Harold D. Coate, Lt. Col. Chas. D. Kelley, Lt. Col. E. M. Howell, Lt. Col. Albert E. Harris, Lt. Col. Blou R. East, Maj. Daniel P. O'Donnell, Maj. Eugene Van Aotwerp, Maj. John C. Alderdice, Maj. Arlo Emery, Maj. Wm. W. Pierce, Maj. Charles L. Bartlett, Maj. Lawrence G. King, Maj. Ernest LaJole, Maj. Frank M. Laogdon, Maj. A. J. Bleckl, Maj. James R. Stewart, Capt. Wm. F. Merrill, Capt. James J. Murphy, Capt. Frank B. Cosby, Capt. Geo. Bushnell, Capt. Edward H. Wyatt, Capt. Chas. Upton Shreve.

Detroit, Mich.—One hundred dollars a day salary is being paid Paul W. Voorhies to help Wilbur M. Brucker, state attorney general, and Prosecutor Chenot, of Wayne County do the actual work of conducting the grand jury investigation of the Buckley murder case and crime conditions in Detroit generally.

This fact was not known until it was dug up in the office of the Wayne County auditor, where the admission was made that the state is paying $50 of this sum and Wayne County the other $50. In addition, it is understood by the county auditor's office that Mr. Brucker's living expenses, hotel bills, meals, etc., are being paid by the state while he is in Detroit.

It was generally supposed when Brucker announced his intention to handle the grand jury matter himself, that he and Mr. Chenot would do the actual work, but it now seems that Voorhies, who is a capable man in every respect and enjoys the confidence of the community, and who has a large political following, is doing the major share of the work.

In the meantime Brucker is making quite a few speeches in points outside of Detroit and over the radio, while Chenot is engaged in his campaign to be elected to a Circuit Court judgeship.

The appointment of Voorhies as assistant attorney general was made by Mr. Brucker himself.

The hour was held sacred by the Knights of the Iron Age.

LOUIS E. ANDERSON

To the Voters of Charlevoix County:

You will be given an opportunity on September 9th to select a candidate for State Representative on the Republican ticket.

This article is contributed by several representative citizens and summer residents of the Charlevoix-Leelanau district—not necessarily friends of Mr. Anderson, but men who firmly believe that a change in the office at this time would not be for the best interests of the Charlevoix district.

Mr. Anderson's record in the legislature has been outstanding. He has not been a so-called "rubber stamp legislator"—placing his approval on everything that certain faction may advance—but has fought consistently for legislation that he thought should be enacted and equally hard against bills that he conscientiously believed would not be for the best interests of the State of Michigan and particularly the District which he represents.

It was Mr. Anderson who, in demanding a roll call on a reconsideration of the $20,000,000 proposed bond issue, killed the issue in the House of Representatives and by his action saved the State a million dollars a year in interest charges alone. (See the House Journal February 28, 1929, or the story in the Michigan Digest of March 7, 1929).

It was Mr. Anderson alone who, taking the floor at the psychological moment and taking advantage of a technicality, knocked out a bill just fifteen minutes before the legislature adjourned, which would place city policemen and firemen on pensions at the expense of the State of Michigan.

Mr. Anderson has been able to meet all issues as they arise:—Has made no promises: Has never been guilty of trading votes and, if nominated and elected, will return to the Legislature with no specific promise but the one pledge which is sacred to him; viz., The pledge to protect the best interests of the Great State of Michigan and the Charlevoix-Leelanau District, which he loves so dearly.

The farmer needs Mr. Anderson in the Legislature.

The Fisherman needs the prestige he will have as a second Term. Mr. Anderson was mindful of the fishing industry in the Charlevoix district when he with two other Representatives attempted to stop the steam trawler tactics used by the interests behind the new fish law. (See the Grand Rapids Herald of March 14, 1929).

The Cherry Grower and Cherry Canner needs his experience to follow up horticultural legislation which he introduced in the last session.

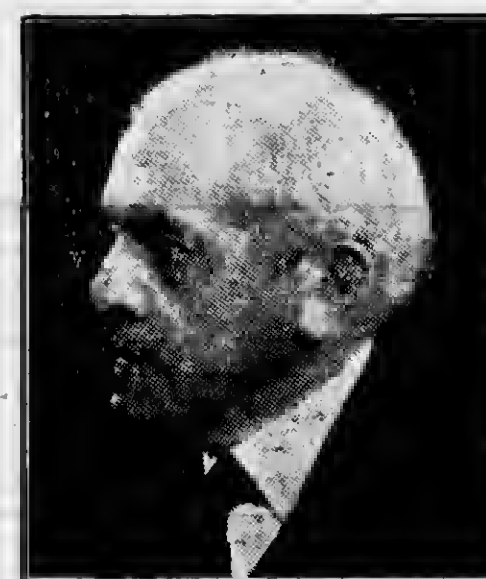

Mr. Anderson is a merchant. The business and professional men need him because his interests in the home town and community life are allied with theirs.

M-22 and M-66 need Mr. Anderson's cooperation before the Administrative Board. His personal acquaintance and influence is important.

Talk Anderson, Work for Anderson, and Vote for Anderson on September 9, and he will be nominated by a larger majority than before.

A REPUBLICAN for the UNITED STATES SENATE

If you feel that Michigan should be represented in the United States Senate by a REAL REPUBLICAN — by a man of proved ability — by a man of years of experience in public service and with a proved record of accomplishment for his state — then you will vote for Former Governor Chase S. Osborn.

CHASE OSBORN

CHASE S. OSBORN has a long record of public service behind him. He served Michigan as Governor in 1911 and 1912, and refused to be a candidate for a second term. As Governor, Chase Osborn gave Michigan:

The first Industrial Accident Board and the workmen's compensation and employers' liability law, which has served as a model for other states. More than $50,000,000.00 have been paid employees under this act.

The opportunity to adopt a constitutional amendment granting the right of suffrage to women.

The presidential preference primary. The first forward step toward prohibition, in a law which prohibited the ownership of saloons by brewers or anyone interested in the wholesale liquor traffic.

One of the first regulatory laws covering charges by railroads and express companies. Its first forward step toward tax revision.

To the Voters of Charlevoix County:

I wish to announce my candidacy on the Republican ticket for the office of county clerk. Since being appointed to office of county clerk in July 1929, I have given all the duties of said office faithful attention. I am unable to see each voter in the county personally as the duties of office prohibit me from making such a campaign, but I respectfully solicit your vote and support at the primaries September 9th, and if nominated and elected I shall continue to perform the duties of county clerk in a prompt, efficient and courteous manner.

OSBORNE WILL GET BIG VOTE

CHARLEVOIX VOTERS THINK WELL OF SOO MAN

His Stand on Temperance Question Should Interest Every Woman Voter

Charlevoix county should go solidly behind Chase S. Osborn for the Republican nomination for United States senatorship.

Mr. Osborn's stand on prohibition which is in marked contrast to Mr.
Couzens's wet convictions should and we believe will in itself have a big bearing on this election.

Mr. Osborn made himself clear on the wet and dry issue when he launched his campaign.

"Mr. Couzens, who admits he is opposed to the eighteenth amendment, says he will vote dry only so long as the voters tell him to. He asks a referendum," said Mr. Osborn. "The people of Michigan have emphatically expressed themselves on the question more than once, and my entrance into this primary will give them a chance to express themselves, in a referendum. If they are wet like Senator Couzens, then let them vote for him. If they are dry, and I believe Michigan is 70 per cent dry, then they can vote for me, because everyone knows where I stand on prohibition."

Osborn as governor, brought down the wrath of the liquor interests upon him when he forced through the legislature a law which prohibited breweries and distilleries from engaging in the saloon business. It was the first telling blow delivered against the liquor interests in Michigan, and it was the beginning of the end of the licensed saloon.

Couzens, on the other hand, startled the nation when he openly advocated 5 per cent beer, which is stronger than the wets themselves were asking for.

Mr. White of the Osborn for Senator headquarters at Lansing states that there has been a steady swing to the Osborn candidacy ever since the campaign got under way.

"During the last two weeks, volunteers in large numbers have been carrying on the fight in every county in the state, and we are assured a large out-state majority. Reports from Wayne county are more encouraging every day. The working men, as well as industrial leaders are volunteering their support to the campaign, and the least we can expect in southeastern Michigan is an even break, which assures Chase Osborn of victory."

One of the most surprising features of the Osborn candidacy is the interest the women are taking in the campaign. Osborn for Senator committees are springing up among the women in every county, and the women are going to make it a point to get out the vote on primary day.

The Osborn campaign swung into its final phase last week with Governor Osborn invading Wayne county, the home of his opponent. The radio will play an important part in the Wayne county campaign, as will series of personal appearances by Governor Osborn at factory and night meetings.

The Osborn candidacy received another boom a few days ago with the entrance of Coleman C. Vaughan

JOSEPH WM. FLANDERS FOR County Treasurer

I wish to announce my candidacy on the Republican ticket for nomination to the office of county treasurer at the primary election September 9, 1930. If nominated and elected, I will give the office the same faithful attention as in the past. I greatly appreciate the confidence of Charlevoix county voters in the past and solicit your continued support.

TAXES, REAPPORTIONMENT AND THE GOVERNORSHIP

(Editorial reprint from Hastings Banner)
When it became certain that Mayor Bowles of Detroit, would have to face a recall vote, an effort was made to induce Alex Groesbeck to become a candidate for Mayor against Mr. Bowles. He declined, and was reported by the Detroit News, in its issue of July 25th, to have made this significant statement: "If I run against Governor Couzens I think I can be of as much service to the city as I could if I were Mayor."

Every citizen of Michigan living outside of Wayne County can have little doubt as to the meaning of the sentence quoted from a Detroit paper, which is supporting Mr. Groesbeck for the Governorship. It seems to mean that Mr. Groesbeck thinks he might be able to do as much for Detroit in the Capitol at Lansing as he could in the City Hall of Detroit.
That seems a fair inference from what the Detroit News stated July 25th, in quoting ex-Governor Groesbeck.

Coming at this time when a reapportionment of the State for representation in the legislature will be pending, a Detroit man in the Governor's chair will be a big asset for that city.

The Governor is a member of the State Administrative Board, which he (Groesbeck) dominated while Governor. They decide what roads shall be paved; what new trunk lines shall be adopted. Would not that naturally suggest to a representative, if his county wanted its trunk line paved to favor bills the Governor was interested in?

The logic of this situation, as it seems to us, is that this is not the time when a Detroit man should be made Governor of Michigan. If he is selected it will give Detroit the whip-hand, and it will inevitably lead to the dominance of Detroit in legislative matters, in taxation and all matters that vitally concern the people of this State. The logic of the situation as it seems to us, is that Wilbur M. Brucker of Saginaw, present Attorney General of the State, a fair man and well qualified for the Governorship, should be chosen for that high office. We think it will be far wiser for the voters of Michigan outside of Detroit to name Mr. Brucker than to give Mr. Groesbeck a fourth term.

Mr. Groesbeck was Governor for three terms. He has had all the honor there is in that high position. Why put him back there now, when according to the Detroit News, he has declared, "If elected Governor I can be of as much service to the city as I could if I were Mayor."

We think Mr. Groesbeck is not the man who should be made Governor at this time. He is too willing to serve Detroit, as shown by his own words quoted from the Detroit News, which is urging Groesbeck for a fourth term. Besides that, the Banner believes he is too arbitrary, as shown by what he did when he was Governor.

In our judgment, the gubernatorial situation is a very serious matter for the State of Michigan outside of Detroit. It will be easy to put Detroit in the saddle by naming Mr. Groesbeck. No one wants Detroit harm. It will be given fair consideration if Mr. Brucker is successful at the primary, as we earnestly hope he may be.—Adv. 361f of St. Johns, into the campaign as

Mr. Vaughan, former secretary of state and for years a leader in Republican party ranks, made this announcement upon entering the fight:

"I am for Chase S. Osborn for senator because he is a Republican, because he knows more about the peoples, governments, productions, living and social conditions of the various nations and tribes of the world than any man in Michigan and is thoroughly equipped to make a very useful senator. I believe he would support a Republican President in carrying out the pledges of the Republican party. Michigan would be proud of him. He made an excellent governor and has been a good officer in every position he has held."

AT THE MOVIES

"Bright Lights" Reveals Underworld and Elite of Two Continents

A large and diversified cast to play the many varied characters was assembled by First National for "Bright Lights," a 11-Technicolor musical melodrama, which opens at the Palace theatre Friday and Saturday.

Dorothy Mackaill and Frank Fay portray the leading roles. Miss Mac-kaill appears as a hula dancer in her first "special" production since "The Barker." She is the primitive, elemental hula queen whose ability at her crude art brings her to Broadway stardom. Fay, who was the master of ceremonies in "The Show of Shows," plays another such role.
He has had a quick rise to screen fame since coming from the stage.

Noah Beery is a Portuguese trader and Daphne Pollard and Tom Dugan are a comedy dancing team.
James Murray is an underworld
cially dancer. Frank McHugh, who recently completed an outstanding drunken reporter role in Ziegfeld's "Show Girl," portrays a similar role in the film. Edmund Breese is a producer; Eddie Nugent, a press agent; Philip Strange, a snooty millionaire; Jean Bary, a blonde;
Virginia Sale, a sob sister; William Irving, a cop, and Kewpie Love, leader of the African fat girl's chorus.
These are the prominent characters, while a host of minor players support them.

Norma Shearer Stars in Smart So- ciety Comedy

"Let Us Be Gay," with Norma Shearer in the starring role, will be the attraction at the Palace theatre starting Sunday. The picture was adapted from the New York stage success by Rachel Crothers which ran for ten months at the Little theatre with Fanchine Larrimore in the role portrayed on the screen by Miss Shearer.

The story is an amusing tale of a woman who loses her husband's affection because she neglects her appearance in an over-efficient absorbance in household duties. A few years in Paris, however, teaches her a number of things she had never thought of before and she returns in time to prevent her ex-husband from marrying a charming but entirely unsophisticated debutante.

"Numbered Men" Coming to P Theatre

Conrad Nagel, Bernice Claire Raymond Hackett head the all-star cast of "Numbered Men," a very high-powered dramatic special coming to the Palace theatre Sunday and Monday.

"Numbered Men" is a Vitaphone production by First National, based on the story and play by Dwight Taylor. Mervyn Le Roy directed the picture, which deals realistically with prison life, the honor system, the life of road gangs, and a highly dramatic jail break.

In the all-star supporting cast are Tully Marshall, Ralph Ince, Maurice Black, William Holden, Blanche Frederici, Ivan Linow, George Cooper and Frederick Howard. With them are some of the most picturesque and tough-looking extras ever gathered

STATE PARKS ESTAB- LISHING NEW RECORDS

Season Not Yet Closed Said to be Largest in History

Although six weeks remain before
Michigan's state parks will be closed for the year, the peak of the summer season is over, with a record for attendance, though not completely compiled, that is believed will be far in excess of last year.

During the last week of August and the first week of September, with the approach of the opening of the school year, the number of campers drops to a minimum. Large crowds continue to fill the parks over week-ends, however.

EMMET PHYSICIAN HEAD TB CAMPAIGN

J. C. McLIN LEADS EFFORT TO GET STATE HOSPITAL

Organization Perfected at Big Roundup Meeting Wednesday at Au Sable Club

Resolutions to work through their state representatives to get action at the next legislative session to obtain a northern state tuberculosis sanatorium were adopted by representatives of 23 county boards of supervisors at a meeting held Wednesday afternoon at the Au Sable club in Otsego county. The representatives were from the 33 counties of the northern portion of the lower peninsula which have no beds for tuberculosis patients.

The meeting was the first united effort made by the 33 counties which provide no care for the tuberculosis patients to obtain sanitarium facilities. J. C. McLin, chairman of the Emmet county board of supervisors, was made permanent chairman of the organization formed, and Ray McKinley of the Otsego county board, secretary-treasurer.

A legislative committee composed of H. Karcher, Ogemaw county; W.
J. Fisher, Benzie county; and McLin, was named to present the needs of the northern counties to the 1931 session of the legislature. They were instructed to show state officials that the proposed sanitarium is an economic necessity for the entire state.
The committee which drew up the resolutions adopted was composed of
Rev. H. B. Johnson, Clare; Henry Knowlton, Cadillac; and Frank Hewitt, city assessor of Bay City.

The supervisors were addressed during the afternoon by F. E. Mills and T. J. Werle, both of Lansing, president and executive secretary respectively of the Michigan Tuberculosis association. The speakers emphasized the need for early care of the tuberculosis. They also pointed out the great difficulty for patients from the northern part of the state to receive treatment at the Howell state sanitarium because of its great distance and the crowded conditions there.

The following board of directors for the organization effected at the meeting was appointed: Dr. C. B.
Keppert, Crawford county; Dr. D. A.
Waite, Manistee county; A. R.
Flynn, Alcona county; Frank Richardson, Roscommon county; and
J. W. Thompson, Midland county.

FOOTBALL PRACTICE STARTED THIS WEEK

Coach Kipke Putting Men Through Pacing for Opening Game

With the 1930 football season a little more than two weeks away, Coach Ray Kipke started putting his men through their paces Tuesday afternoon.

Twenty-three were issued suits that afternoon at a meeting at the gym, and 15 reported for the initial practice session. Wednesday afternoon's crop of candidates was somewhat larger and before the week is over several others who are still tied up with summer duties will be in uniform.

Coach Kipke has six letter men around which to build his squad in addition to a likely looking bunch of new-comers. Of last year's timber are Bob Foster and Bill Clark, ends; Dave Coulter, guard; Joe Arvilla, fullback; Joe Stutzman, guard and halfback; and Devere Bird, who sub-bed at center. Others who saw action for periods in several games are Cornie McCall, Bill Novak, Homer
Struthers and Victor McSaubey, all likely candidates.

Passing, kicking and line work tactics are now being used to taper the boys into shape, and next week the more serious phases of the game will be entered into.

Charlevoix will play their opening game here September 20th against Onaway.

JUILLERET'S PLACE CLOSES SUNDAY EVE

Big Carnival Parties Friday and On Closing Night

Juilleret's popular summer entertain, located on the Charlevoix-Potoseky road north of Charlevoix, closes its 1930 season with a final party Sunday evening, September 7.

Big carnival parties, the first Friday evening and the other the final night, will feature the program of the concluding week. Emerson Brown and his orchestra, who have proven highly popular with patrons of the place during the present season, will furnish the music.

Big Increase Shown in Both Graded and High School, While Junior High Fell Off Somewhat

School bells Monday morning sounded the close of the 1930 vacation period for over 600 children in Charlevoix, who, at that time, reluctantly resumed the pursuit of education for another nine-months period.

The public and parochial schools of Charlevoix opened on that day. Sessions were on the short period basis as the children reported to be assigned to classes and to learn the program they will follow throughout the school year.

Enrollment this year shows an increase from 621 to 662. To be exact, there are 41 more students than in 1929-30. The high school grades, ninth to twelfth, inclusive, have increased from 194 to 241. The senior class numbers 33, as compared to 29 a year ago. This year's junior class shows an enrollment of 45, while in 1929 there were only 33. Sophomores held their own with 60, while the freshman enrollment jumped from 72 to a new high record of 101. In addition there are two post-graduates, bringing the high school enrollment to 241.

The junior high—seventh and eighth grades—fell off from 119 last year to 103, while in the grades there are 318 as compared to 308 a year ago. The county normal has an enrollment of 14.

Following is a comparison of the two years:

	1930	1929
Kindergarten	37	38
First grade	33	37
Second grade	46	54
Third grade	44	35
Fourth grade	44	34
Fifth grade	46	45
Sixth grade	28	35

Eleventh grade	45	33
Twelfth grade	33	29

Post-graduate	2

It may be seen that the most appreciable gain is in the grades and high school. The former gained ten and the latter 47, while in the junior high there was a drop of 16.

CHANDLER TWP. MAN TAKEN ON WET COUNT

Alleged to Have Sold Liquor to State Officer—Still Is Found

Ward Gill, Chandler township farmer residing four miles east of Charlevoix, is in the county jail here charged with violation of the liquor law.

He was arrested late last week when it is alleged a state stool-pigeon purchased moonshine from him. Further evidence against the man was obtained Monday morning when prosecuting attorney Rollie L. Lewis and two assistants confiscated a still on Gill's property.

The outfit was found cleverly concealed in a deep swamp. A barrel of mash, two quarts of alleged moonshine and other equipment was also found.

Gill is said to have enjoyed a heavy patronage in Emmet county, and local officers had been trying to get "the goods" on him for some time. It is also said that Gill is a gun-toter and apparently a bad character.

MACKINAC GIRL IS HEALTHIEST

Mildred Hart Wins Title at State Fair, Over Large Field

Mildred Hart, 16-year-old daughter of a Mackinac county fisherman, is Michigan's healthiest girl, and Frances Hoyer, 15, who lives on a farm near New Hudson, is the state's healthiest boy.

They won their titles in competition with more than 30,000 boys and girls of the state 4-H club. The awards were made at the state fair.

Mildred likes "nearly everything to eat" and favors basket ball and baseball as diversions. She is five feet, four inches tall and weighs 129 pounds. Her hair and eyes are dark brown.

Frances is five feet, seven inches and scales 142 pounds. He has light brown hair and blue eyes. He is an all-around athlete at the New Hudson high school.

They will represent Michigan at Chicago, December 1, when 40 teams from other states send their healthiest pair to the Illinois metropolis for national honors.

JASON L. PRICE CALLED BY DEATH

DIED TUESDAY MORNING FOLLOWING
LONG ILLNESS

Had Been a Resident of Charlevoix
Over Half Century—Widow,
Four Daughters Survive

Charlevoix lost its second pioneer resident within a week through the death early Tuesday morning of Jason L. Price, who passed away at his home on Newman street following an extended illness.

Mr. Price was born September 5, 1856, at Lexington, Michigan. He was married to Miss Katherine Smith October 7th, 1878, at Elk Rapids. The same year the couple came to Charlevoix and had since made this city their home. Last October they celebrated their 51st wedding anniversary.

The first year in Charlevoix Mr. Price was employed as dock agent at the old Charlevoix pier in Lake Michigan. It was before the channel was dredged between Lake Michigan and Round lake. The following year he learned the barbering trade from the late Frank Wood and followed that occupation until three years ago, when a stroke of paralysis necessitated his retirement. Since that time and up until last July, he took care of a large garden at his residence. He was confined to bed three weeks before his death.

Surviving besides Mrs. Price are four daughters: Mrs. Roy Kellogg, Petoskey; Mrs. John A. Mayne, Detroit; Mrs. Marguerite Cram, Flint; Mrs. F. J. Boelio, Denver, Colo. There are ten grandchildren and one brother, Lyman Price of Avalon, California Island, Calif.

Mr. Price was a life member of the Charlevoix Masonic lodge, under whose auspices the funeral will be conducted at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon from the residence, Rev. W. H. Rauch will officiate and interment will be at Brookside cemetery.

HAS MAJORITY OF 25,000 VOTES IN STATE WITH OVER FOUR HUNDRED PRECINCTS TO BE HEARD FROM

NEITHER FACTION HAS CONCEDED DEFEAT

Present Incumbents Returned in Charlevoix County—Anderson Victorious Over Fitch—Dickinson in Lead for Lieutenant Governor—Couzens Defeats Osborn

As we go to press Wednesday afternoon, the closest governorship race in Michigan history is still in doubt.

Associated Press reports from Grand Rapids give Wilber M. Brucker a majority of 25,000 votes from 2903 out of 3324 precincts.

Districts still to be heard from are largely in the Detroit area—conceded Groesbeck's stronghold—and possibilities of the former governor overcoming the lead against him are not at all impossible. Associated Press and daily newspapers are calling for a check-up from precincts throughout the state, indicating that the battle is close and will not be decided until the last district is heard from.

In the race for lieutenant governor, Luren Dickinson has been conceded victory. Only an unprecedented heavy vote against him in the Detroit area will change the present situation.

According to Associated Press reports, James Couzens of Detroit, wins by a large majority over Chase S. Osborn, Sault Ste. Marie, in the race for United States senator.

With contests on for national, state, all but four county offices and delegates to the Republican convention, Charlevoix county turned out a near-record vote at the primary election Tuesday.

Present county officers were returned to office with comfortable margins in spite of strong opposition in several instances.

Fenton R. Bulow, county clerk, won over Oakley J. Hammond by a majority of 1152. Joseph William Flanders, county treasurer, defeated Howard Stephens, Hayes, township, by a margin of 739, and Frank F. Bird, registrar of deeds, was nominated with a majority of 601 over Sabin Hooper, Boyne City. Ervan A. Ruegger, Boyne City, defeated Robert Paddock by 576 votes for judge of probate.

Arthur L. Fitch, who was seeking nomination as representative from the Charlevoix-Leelanau district, lost to Louis E. Anderson, Northport, by 144 votes. Fitch had a majority of 663 votes in Charlevoix county, but was snowed under 1067 to 260 in Leelanau county. The race was a close one and was not decided until results from practically the last precinct in this county were heard from.

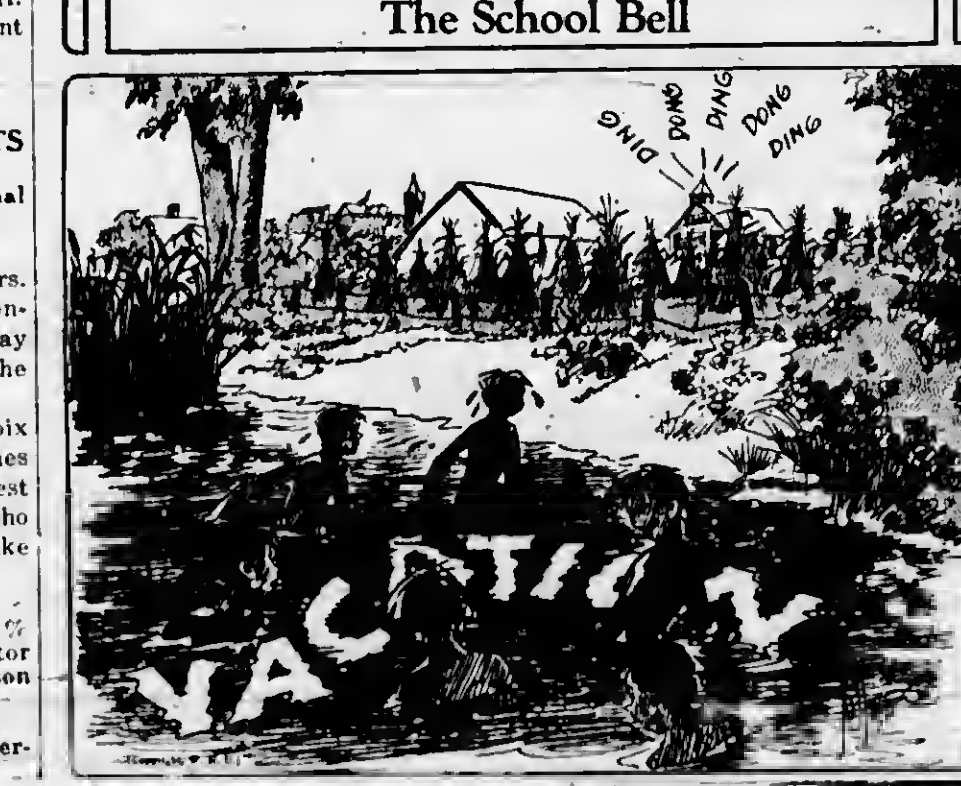

F. F. McMillan of Charlevoix, and S. B. Stackus of Boyne City, were the county's choice for coroners, both having a fairly large majority over Dr. C. J. Winder of Charlevoix.

According to all available reports, Frank P. Bohn of Newberry, seeking re-nomination as representative in congress from the 11th district, will win by a heavy majority over John J. O'Hara, Escanaba.

The vote for the 25 precincts of Charlevoix county follows:

CHARGED WITH MALICIOUS DESTRUCTION OF PROPERTY

Henry Sullivan, Cross Village Fisherman, Claims They Cut His Nets Valued at $3,000

Charles Martin and Carl Left, Beaver Islanders, were jailed here Tuesday morning, charged with malicious destruction of property.

Martin and Left, the former now on probation for resisting officers a year or more ago, and the latter a persistent trouble-maker, were arrested by Sheriff Dave Vaughan and State Troopers McQuire and Black of Cheboygan, on complaint of Henry Sullivan, Cross Village fisherman. To avoid any suspicion of the impending arrest, officers went to Beaver Island from Cross Village, rather than direct from Charlevoix.

It is claimed by Sullivan that Martin and Left cut pond nets valued at $3,000, also destroyed a tent, camping equipment, etc., at Hog Island. Along with Martin and several other Beaver Islanders, Sullivan had nets set off Hog Island. He had camping equipment on the island which was used as shelter for himself and crew when they were out on overnight trips.

It is claimed Martin and Left resented Sullivan's operations at the Hog Island grounds, and that during his absence they cut his nets and destroyed his camp. Officers failed to find the tent, ropes on which had been cut, or an oil stove and other items of equipment missing. Some cooking utensils were found smashed at the camp site.

Martin and Left waived examination before Justice Robert Withers Tuesday morning and were bound over to the October term of court to stand trial. Martin furnished cash bond of $1,500 and Left bond of $2,000.

The offense with which the two men are charged is a serious one and, if found guilty, the former will likely get a prison sentence. In our estimation, it would be a mighty good thing. Martin has been a persistent trouble-maker for several years and a bit of stiff punishment might change his attitude towards the rights of other people.

CHARLEVOIX PIONEER IS CALLED

ANDREW ROSS DIED AT HOSPITAL
LAST THURSDAY

Was Identified With Early Lumbering and Served as Mayor of City Years of 1913-14

Charlevoix lost one of the colorful figures of its pioneer days by the death last Thursday of Andrew Ross. Mr. Ross, who had been in failing health the past two years, began to decline rapidly six weeks ago. Two weeks ago he was taken to Charlevoix hospital, where death overtook him.

Deceased was born in Province of Quebec, Canada, August 15, 1873, and was 77 years old at time of death. He spent his boyhood days there and first came to Charlevoix to visit a brother at the age of 18.

He returned to Canada and was married March 13, 1890, to Miss Hannah Wilkins, the couple later coming back to Charlevoix to make their home. Four children born to this union survive; viz: Sam W. Ross, Sault Ste. Marie; Mrs. Maud Loy, Chicago; P. R. Ross, Charlevoix; Mrs. Caroline M. Cook, Howard City. Mrs. Ross died two years ago.

Mr. Ross was identified with the early lumbering operations at Charlevoix. After connections with several firms, he became manager and general superintendent for the Charlevoix Lumber Co., which position he held around 40 years until the firm suspended operations.

Mr. Ross was very active in city and fraternal affairs. He held the offices of alderman and supervisor for many years, and served as Charlevoix's mayor for two terms, 1913-14. He held every office in the Odd Fellow lodge and gained state-wide recognition by his activities in connection with the lodge.

Mr. Ross carried on the traditions of his Highland Scotch parentage. He had a "natural" ear for music, and abundance of wit and humor, and his stock of Scotch songs and dances were known to many. As an entertainer in the early days, he was in constant demand, and even in later years was frequently called upon to display his talents.

Mr. Ross was buried Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Funeral services were held from Christ Episcopal church, Rev. Edward S. Doan of Petoskey, officiating. Services at Brookside cemetery were conducted by the L. O. O. F., with Grand Lodge ritual. Complying with a promise of several years standing, David Howard and Otto Powers of Muskegon, Grand lodge officers, conducted the services, acting in the capacity Mr. Ross had occupied on an untold number of occasions for fellow lodge members.

Many out-of-town friends were present to pay last respects to Mr. Ross. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Paulson, and Mrs. Al Tornjo, Cadillac; Mr. and Mrs. Milton Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Mosher, Big Rapids; Chris Hanson, Mrs. Bert Marshall and son, William, Mrs. Bert Meier, and Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Solomon, all of Howard City; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith and daughter, Bertha, Bellaire.

CHEBOYGAN EDITOR TO BE TOASTMASTER

Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple
Show Banquet on October 30th

Al Weber, editor of the Cheboygan Observer will be toast master at the eighth annual banquet of the Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple show, according to B. C. Mellenkamp, secretary.

Editor Weber, commonly known as "Al" has been active in the support of this show since its inception back in 1923. His influence caused Cheboygan county to become one of the charter members of the show association and it has been in the fold ever since, always offering keen competition in both potatoes and apples.

The banquet will be held in the Lundeen hall of the 4-H club camp at Gaylord on Thursday evening, October 30th. An interesting program has been arranged by the program committee.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderly at night. Next day-bright. Get 24 for 25c at any of the Central Drug Store, the Rexall store.

"KONJOLA SAVED MY LIFE," SAYS HAPPY LADY

Constipation and Extreme Nervousness Soon Banished By Power of New Medicine

MRS. MARGARET HAYNES

"Konjola saved my life for I was a nervous wreck," said Mrs. Margaret Haynes, 2724 Fourth street, Detroit. "I could not bear to talk to people and often, at meal time, I left the table rather than hear people talking. I did not sleep well and lost weight rapidly. No medicine I tried appeared to help me until I began taking Konjola."

"This great medicine helped me from the beginning. My nerves became calmer and my appetite is good. Constipation which had bothered me so long, is now a thing of the past. It required but four bottles to bring about this amazing change in my health. I cannot say enough in praise of it and I have all my friends taking it."

Konjola is a compound of 32 ingredients, 22 of which are the juices of roots and herbs of known medicinal value. It attacks the source of ailments of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness.

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix, Mich., at F. J. Fessenden's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

RURAL SCHOOLS

MARION CENTER SCHOOL
School began on Tuesday, September 2, with an enrollment of 35 pupils.

There was no school on Tuesday of this week as Mr. Dutcher attended the institute at Charlevoix.

Annette Livingston, Celia Crain, Caroline Greiner and Barbara Withers were visitors at school last week.

The fifth grade have made a picture study in their language work, "The Child Handel," by Margaret Isabel Dicksee.

We have two new scholars this year, Mae Herrington, formerly of Flint, who is in the sixth grade, and Mildred Rayman, who is a beginner. The seventh grade have had a poem study, "If," by Rudyard Kipling, and will each write their interpretation in the form of a composition.

The first grade have memorized the poem, "In the Heart of a Seed," by K. L. Brown. The second grade are learning "Farewell to the Farm" by Robert Louis Stevenson.

There have been several improvements made on and in our school building this year. We are most thankful to the board and taxpayers for new cement steps, window shades, steel ceiling, clock, physiology charts and other supplies.

FARMERS URGED TO ENTER SHOW

SELECT POTATOES FOR DISPLAY AT DIGGING TIME

Suggestions Covering Selection Made by B. C. Mellencamp, Secretary Gaylord Show

With potato digging just around the corner, the potato growers of the Top O'Michigan should plan to select a few potatoes for the Eighth Annual Potato and Apple Show at Gaylord on October 29th to 31st.

The best time to make the first selection is at digging time according to B. C. Mellencamp, secretary of the show.

While many of the exhibitors at the show need little advice in regard to selecting show samples, Mr. Mellencamp believes there are many "beginners" in the game, who may improve their selection, and his advice is as follows:

1. While picking up the potatoes from the field at digging time, lay aside all those that are most nearly perfect as to size, shape, and color and free from diseases and blemishes. Select ten to twenty bushels in this manner and wrap them in paper in the field to prevent bruising. (Hand digging is best).

2. When all the potatoes have been dug and put away, select the final show sample of one peck (32) or one bushel as the case may be.

3. Do not wash the potatoes, but remove dirt with a soft brush or soft woolen cloth.

4. Keep potatoes wrapped in paper until they are placed on the show room table to prevent bruising and greening with exposure to light. Keep in a cool, dry, dark place.

5. Bring to the show in person or send by your county agricultural agent. However, any samples sent to Gaylord in care of the show by prepaid charges will be taken care of by the management according to the rules and regulations of the show association.

6. Persons expecting to show for the first time would benefit by consulting with their county agricultural agent. All prospective exhibitors should get a premium book from their agricultural agent or write to B. C. Mellencamp, secretary, Boyne City.

FINDS STATE BANKS WELL SUPERVISED

Bankers Body Sees Less Politics in Banking Departments With Better Facilities in the Hands of the Responsible Officials.

A survey of state banking departments by the State Bank Division, American Bankers Association, discloses a distinct tendency the past five years to take bank supervision out of politics, to increase the discretionary powers of bank commissioners, to lengthen their terms of office, to supply them with adequate forces of qualified examiners and to relieve banking departments of duties foreign to banking, says a recent statement issued by the association.

"We have consistently urged that the office of bank commissioner be as free from partisan politics as the judiciary itself and that it be divorced from all other functions of state government," the statement says. "Further, that his term of office be made more secure and lasting, with sufficient salary and power granted to attract and retain the services of men of outstanding executive ability, courage, resourcefulness and successful banking experience."

"Five years ago the first survey of state banking departments by the division demonstrated the need for improvement. On the basis of data now in hand it is evident that, through the revision of statutes in many states, rapid steps are being taken in the right direction. One by one the states are coming to recognize the primary importance of strong, competent banking departments. The demand for increasing the effectiveness of banking departments is beginning to be met."

How Bank Commissioners Are Chosen

The office of bank commissioner is now separated as an independent department of state government in thirty-four states, the bankers find. In two states the bank commissioner is elected at general elections; in one he is appointed from eligible lists of the civil service and in another he is selected by the banks. In nine states the bankers' association selects a list of five names from which the governor appoints one as superintendent of banks; in another he is appointed by the State Corporation Commission and in another by the State Banking Board.

"Terms of office of bank commissioners have been lengthened in several states during the last five years," the report says. "In 28 states the term is four years, in one, five years, and in three it is six years and in some the term is indefinite. A short term is condemned as inefficient time to become thoroughly conversant with his field work. A longer term permits his rendering useful service through capitalizing his experience. Five years ago the average length of service was less than three years, while now it has risen to five years."

Higher Standards Required

"Signs of an awakening in the necessity of making successful banking experience a qualification for bank commissioner are evident. While eleven states report no banking experience necessary, the majority require experience of this sort, ranging from two to five years. Twelve states now have banking boards, with powers ranging from acting in an advisory capacity to full power over all state banks to issue and reject charters."

"A healthy sign is the number of reports which disclose that the commissioners have full power to appoint bank examiners or that these appointments are made from civil service lists. This power is now granted to the commissioner by twenty-seven states. Three require that selection be from civil service lists. Complaints are still made in a few states of political pressure in the appointment of examiners, but the contrary seems to be true in a growing number of states. The most capable commissioner cannot successfully perform his duties unless he is able to command the services of efficient, honest examiners. The safety of depositors is dependent on their work, and their appointment, fitness and compensation are highly important. The number of examiners has increased 25 per cent in the last five years."

BANKERS TO HOLD GREAT CONVENTION

Cleveland, Ohio, has been designated for the 1930 annual convention of the American Bankers Association. This organization, which numbers about 20,000 banks with $65,000,000,000 in assets, is annually the nation's most important, financial event. The attendance ranges between five and ten thousand.

Cleveland is especially significant in the history of the Association's educational traditions since it was in this city, when the organization last met there in the year 1899, that the original resolution was presented looking to the formation of an educational section. This subsequently resulted in the American Institute of Banking in which are now enrolled 35,000 bank men and women engaged in the study of the technical and scientific phases of the business.

POLITICAL COMMENT

Another primary election in the state of Michigan, and in Charlevoix county, has passed and the results are recorded. We have very little comment to make regarding the result in the state as the uncertainties were very apparent before the election and many voters were undecided and confused by the claims and counter-claims of rival candidates without any reliable means of ascertaining the real truth. A candidate for governor has been named and it is our duty to support him as our candidate.

Some of the local results were surprising. Some outstanding candidates for county offices fell before the campaign efforts of men in office, by majorities that were overwhelming. On one hand we hear comments indicating that a man who has made a good official should be kept in office, while on the other hand we hear as many comments to the effect that there is nothing about the work and duties of any county office that requires a continued voting for one man. So there we have it. The man that's in has the edge and the challenger has the burden. Usually he has not had the opportunity, through contact with the people, to become as well known.

In certain district offices a peculiar situation developed. In the Charlevoix-Leelanau legislative district a candidate from Leelanau county was opposed by one from this county. The voters of Charlevoix county gave their candidate a majority which ordinarily would be satisfactory, and considering the comparative voting strength of the two counties it was quite generally conceded that he would win. However, we find the voters of Leelanau county showing a loyalty to their home man while the voters of Charlevoix county, except in certain sections, apparently disregarded any thought of loyalty and what would naturally be their own interests and cast their votes against their home man. We do not attempt to understand and cannot explain this thing. Mr. Fitch is well known and popular as a vote-getter, and he had many constructive ideas for service to the people. Undoubtedly, he ran as strongly as any other man could have, yet he was defeated by nearly 150 votes. Two years ago the voters of Charlevoix county did practically the same thing, and defeated Mr. Harris, who was a good legislator and a credit to his county and district.

Our analysis of the condition is this. The voters of this county permit too many personalities, too many personal prejudices and too much false propaganda to creep in and interfere with the exercise of sound judgment. As a result, their own interests suffer. When the voters realize that the qualifications and fitness of a candidate and his ability to give service should be the sole question, and get down to real facts, better results will be obtained.

For our part, we are beginning to doubt, and the more we see of these primary struggles, the less we like them. It is not the outcome that we refer to, because we have no fault to find with them, and have no decided preferences of our own, but it is the squabble and mess that is kicked up, the interferences with business, the bickerings and "deals," and leading the people astray on important matters, that we complain of and think should be remedied in some way. General elections are different because the issues can be known and party lines are drawn which the people can understand. We have no remedy to offer, but one should be found.

We noticed a warm contest for delegates to the county convention. In many places this overshadowed other issues. The county convention will name five delegates to the state convention to be held later which will nominate state officers below lieutenant-governor. That is a cut-and-dried affair and the candidates for governor will dominate the convention. So this contest for delegates was little more than a farce. In some precincts it was a contest between factions who will engage in a fight for something or other not worth a candle. In Charlevoix we saw a contest between two factions, one a slate made up by and sponsored largely by women voters, the other was a male slate. The latter won. The wife of the editor was running against him and that made us mad all through, so we gave the wife a beating. Wife-beating is a reprehensible practice and we are against it. Seriously however, there is no sense in this business. There should be no women's slate nor a man's slate but all should disregard sex entirely and be sensible. Of course, the men charge the women with dominating the affair and with selecting "women's men" to run with them, while the women retort that they must have a voice. We have a grave suspicion that some of the men manipulate the women's slate and hefted them sometimes for their own ends. That's bad and we are against it. Let's be sensible and organize in a sensible manner for the good of all and most of all, FOR THE GOOD OF THE COMMUNITY.

CORN AND FEED CROPS HARD HIT

Recent Survey Shows Situation to Be Worse Than First Supposed

Further shrinkage of corn and feed crops due to the drought conditions which extended throughout August, appears likely to aggravate the plight of American farmers.

Extent of this latest four-week period of dry weather has been revealed by Secretary of Agriculture Hyde. Its effect will be shown September 10th when the agriculture department will report on crop conditions throughout the United States.

The prospect for the report is that the corn crop will drop close to the 2,000,000,000 bushel level. Earlier indication of drought damage were shown in the report of about a month ago when the crop, forecast on July 1 to make 2,800,000,000 bushels, was estimated as of August 1 at only 2,200,000,000 bushels.

The corn crop has fallen below 2,000,000,000 bushels only twice since 1895.

With corn, other feed crops are expected to decrease and the August rainfall tables indicate the problem of finding water for stock remains acute.

TAKING THE GUESS OUT OF BUSINESS

By JOHN G. LONSDALE
President American Bankers Association

BANKERS and business men are not adopting more liberally the tactics of the scientist. When the

John G. Lonsdale

The uncanny power of the microscope's all-seeing eye has revealed countless secrets for the material and intellectual progress of humanity. It has enabled us to study the processes of growing cells in plant and animal life, trace the causes of disease and successfully combat the ills of mankind; it has aided the engineer in his search for stronger and more serviceable materials, giving us taller, lighter and more sanitary structures, and better highways; it has disclosed the defects in steel rails and brought us an era of safer railway travel; it has added to the food supply of the nation. In fact, it has affected favorably nearly every activity of the human race, whether it apply to production, distribution or consumption, in time of peace or in time of war.

In the business and banking world, economic research and analysis serve as the microscope through which we are enabled to see basic factors more clearly and thus determine the causes of success and failure. Only recently have we begun to realize the full value of research and analysis and apply them in such a way as to eliminate the guesswork that was characteristic of industry a few years ago. "Eliminate the guess and reach success," might well be a motto for all of us.

Banking Conducting Continual Research

The American Bankers Association is daily submitting every phase and every department of banking to searching scrutiny and study, says John G. Lonsdale, president of this the world's greatest financial association. The findings of these investigations are made available to the 20,000 members of the organization for their guidance.

"It is a fine tribute to the spirit of cooperation among bankers that it is able to carry on this work," he says. "Bankers from one end of the country to the other are constantly giving freely and unselfishly of their skill and experience so that the association may produce the truly great results that are being accomplished."

Statistical information on national and state banks, savings institutions, trust companies and trust departments, clearing house groups and general banking is prepared after exhaustive inquiry and distributed for the use of all bankers. The organization's investigations have resulted in the passage of beneficial legislation, revision of banking practices and innumerable changes for a stronger and more efficient banking structure. It has set up an educational system through its affiliated American Institute of Banking, where 45,000 ambitious young bank men and women are now availing themselves of the opportunity to advance in the banking field.

"It has been well said that the American Bankers Association, exclusive of the Federal Reserve System, has been the greatest single nationwide source of stability and improved conditions for banking in the United States," Mr. Lonsdale says.

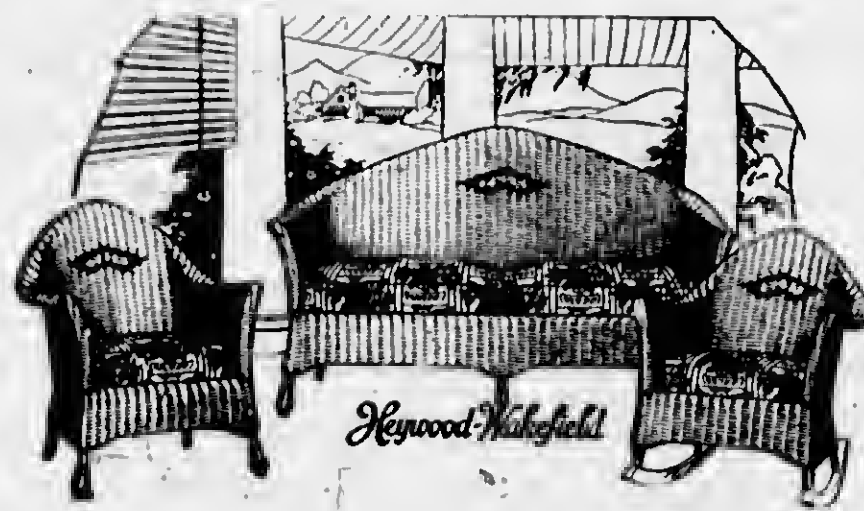

Banking Grows More Complicated

DENVER, Colo.—The increase in the technicalities of the banking business in the past dozen years was shown by a speaker before the American Institute of Banking which held its annual convention here recently when he pointed out that in 1918, when the institute last met in this city, it gave only three courses, while today it gives 10, with more subjects in preparation. At the earlier date, he said, the curriculum of the institute consisted of elementary banking, commercial and banking law, and money and banking, whereas today it consists of banking fundamentals, commercial law, negotiable instruments, standard economics, standard banking, credits, investments, trust functions, analyzing financial statements, and public speaking, while the two new subjects of bank operation and organization, and bank management are to be added.

The New Pace of Business Change
Business evolution used to move slowly—it measured out its gradual changes almost invisibly, like the hour hand on the clock. But today its tempo is that of the second hand. The movement of evolution that is quickening business with rapid changes is alarmingly visible and makes it difficult to keep up with them.—L. E. Hecht.

RABBITS ARE NEXT ON HUNTING LIST

Upper Peninsula Season Open October 1—Lower Peninsula Oct. 15

Open seasons on two species of small game will rapidly follow the opening of the duck hunting season. Cottontail and Snowshoe or Jack rabbits may be killed in the upper peninsula beginning October 1. The lower peninsula rabbit season does not open until October 15.

The open season for Florida Gallinules and rails also opens October 1.

No changes have been made this year in the bag limits for rabbits, or for gallinules and rails. The limit on rabbits in the upper peninsula is five in a day, five in possession at one time and 50 in a season. The bag limit for gallinules and rails is 10 (combined) in a day, 20 in possession and 50 in a season. These birds may be hunted from a half hour before sunrise to sunset and the same time table used in duck hunting is applicable.

WILL FORCE TRAVERSE CITY SEWAGE DISPOSAL

Legal action to compel Traverse City to build a sewage disposal plant will be started in Grand Traverse county circuit court some time in the immediate future, Walter A. Sperry, engineer of the state stream control commission, stated. He said that the results of his investigation of conditions in Grand Traverse Bay has been placed in the hands of Assistant Attorney General Paul Eger who is preparing it in legal form.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our many friends in Charlevoix, both local and summer residents, also to those living in outlying districts, for the unstinted efforts made to find the body of the late Sam Hamilton, lost in the recent burning of the pleasure boat "Two Brothers." Words cannot express our feeling to our friends for the efforts put forth, the many expressions of sympathy and the attention given us during these weeks of suspense and sorrow. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hamilton, Mrs. Sam Hamilton and family.—Adv. 3711p.

Plan Great Tribute to Disease Warfare

Arrangements have been completed to make the Achievement Day banquet, which will be held at Michigan State college, Friday evening, September 19, a memorable tribute to those who have had a part in the bovine tuberculosis eradication campaign in this state.

H. R. Smith, Chicago, national livestock commissioner, will act as toastmaster for the banquet which will be held in the Union building on the campus at 6:30 p. m. R. S. Shaw, president of Michigan State college, will give the address of welcome.

Speakers during the evening will be Dr. John R. Mohler, chief of the bureau of animal husbandry, Washington, D. C.; Charles L. Hill, president of the national dairy show, Madison, Wis.; Herbert E. Powell, Lansing, state commissioner of agriculture; Dr. D. C. Lockhead, head officer, Rochester, Minn.; H. R. Davison, vice president of American institute of meat packers, Chicago; and M. L. Noon, Jackson, vice president Michigan milk producers association.

The banquet will mark the conclusion of a nine-year campaign whose success is attested by the federal accreditation given to Michigan as being the first great dairy state to reduce the percentage of cattle infected with tuberculosis to less than one-half of one per cent of the total number within the state.

Forests are Crop for Poorer Soils
Trees are the best crop for 750,000 acres of southern Michigan soils which are not adapted to the growing of ordinary field crops due to slopes, erosion, or the type of the soil itself, according to members of soils and forestry departments at Michigan State college.

Plantings on cutover lands in the northern part of the state have been advised for several years but the recommendations for southern Michigan have been brought about by agricultural conditions which make it unprofitable to grow the common crops on lands which are hard to till or which will not produce good yields.

Mixed plantings of white pine and Norway spruce are recommended for lower Michigan. The trees can be set as seedlings in furrows or in holes dug with a spade. The seedlings should be spaced about six or eight feet apart each way.

About 1,200 seedlings will be needed to plant one acre. Cultivating, fertilizing, or watering are not recommended after the trees are set.

Norway spruces can be thinned out for Christmas trees eight or ten years after planting. Trees from 20 to 30 years old will furnish pulpwood, 40-year-old trees are large enough to cut for railroad ties, and trees which have passed the 50 year mark will be large enough to yield saw logs.

Plant Breeders Aid Winners in Contest

The value of the work done by plant breeders on college experimental plots for the improvement of old varieties of grains or the creation of new ones is shown by the number of such varieties grown by prize winners in the Ira Butterfield contest at the state fair in which prizes were offered for the best fields of grain harvested in Michigan this year.

Ernest Kniverin, Blissfield, won first place in the wheat class with a yield of 59.34 bushels per acre; John Kaye, Custer, with a yield of 58.66 bushels was second; and William Finkbeiner, Clinton, was third with 57.31 bushels per acre. Wheat varieties created at Michigan State college won nine out of the first 15 places.

Exceptionally good yields of oats were entered in this year's contest, and out of the first 15 places, varieties developed at the college took 12. First place was won by George Aldrich and Son, Fairgrove, with 125.57 bushels per acre; second was D. A. Geddes, Saginaw, with 113 bushels; and third by Reid J. Kirk, Fairgrove, with 110.29 bushels.

Spartan, the last barley variety developed at Michigan State college, took 13 out of the 15 first places. Ferdinand Foss, New Haven, was first with a yield of 66.65 bushels; Adolf Nitz, Pigeon, with 63.41 bushels per acre took second; and third place was won by O. B. Merriman, Deckerville, with a yield of 62.05 bushels.

Wednesday evening at 7:45.

Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to all services.

"Man" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, September 7th.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "Thou madest him a little lower than the angels; thou crownedst him with glory and honour, and didst set him over the works of thy hands." (Hebr. 2:7).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook: "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man is not made to till the soil. His birthright is dominion, not subjection. He is lord of the belief in earth and heaven,—himself subordinate alone to his Maker. This is the Science of being." (p. 517).

Eight Club Members Attend State Fair

Charlevoix county was represented at the Michigan State fair by the largest delegation of club members yet to be awarded trips in recognition of excellent club service.

Carleton Smith, Clayton Smith, and Robert Cummings, all of Charlevoix, were awarded trips as a result of winning second place at the Gaylord camp in the judging of dairy cattle.

Robert Tainter, Boyne City; Howard Whaling, East Jordan; and Fred Runney, East Jordan, were our representatives in the crops judging contest. Then, not to be outdone by the boys, two girls from Boyne Falls, Hazel Mosley and Mable Mosley, were our delegates in the canning demonstration contest.

Every year the successful winners from the three district camps receive this trip in order to compete for the state championships, which are awarded during the state fair week. The state champions then go to Chicago to the national boys' and girls' club congress where the national champions are selected.

Did these boys and girls have a good time? Just ask them. In addition to seeing the fair they also saw considerable of Detroit and the sights that Detroit is noted for. We are anxiously waiting to hear the results now.

Purebred "Ram Truck" Coming

The Michigan Purebred Sheep Breeders association will again cooperate with the Michigan State college extension service by sending a truck load of purebred rams through Charlevoix as well as other northern Michigan counties during the months of September and October.

Last year 104 rams and ewes were sold and delivered from the truck in 20 northern counties and according to past custom the ram truck will again be present at a series of flock improvement meetings where the rams will be used for demonstration purposes. Topics to be discussed will pertain to the sheep outlook, to fall management problems, and to breeding; besides there will be actual demonstrations on judging, selection of breeding stock, culling of ewes, and on lamb grading. At the close of each meeting these individuals will be discussed and offered for sale.

The following meetings will be held in this county:

Wednesday afternoon, September 17, at 2:30, fast time, at the farm of Ed. Graham, Charlevoix, located on Barnard road, south of Charlevoix.

Thursday forenoon, September 18, at 10:00, fast time, at the farm of W. R. Barnett, East Jordan, located on road leading to fair grounds one-half mile from town.

The rams from the truck will be offered for sale at lower prices and at a reduction of from $5 to $10 under previous years.

All rams are personally inspected by the Michigan State college specialist, and will be of excellent quality and type. Shropshire, Hampshire, and Oxford breeds will be represented.

If you need a ram visit these demonstrations and no doubt you will find just the one to fill your needs. Know how to judge, cull, and care for sheep for best results.

* AUTOMOBILE NEWS *

Dashing over a gravel or dusty road, with the wind causing swirls of dust to cloud the pathway of the car, the motorist often wonders what effect this dust has upon the engine of his automobile, and if it finds its way into the vital working parts thus causing a grinding wear.

The reassuring answer to this question is supplied by James M. Crawford, chief engineer of the Chevrolet Motor company, who explains interestingly how the air cleaner removes the dust from the intake air, making it purer than that which you yourself breathe.

"If it were not for the air cleaner, dust and sand would enter the carburetor—even in city driving—causing wear on cylinders, rings and pistons," Mr. Crawford says. "Quite often the dust on a good road cannot be seen, but it is there just the same. Motor car wheels constantly grind off fine particles of road material which are dispersed through the air. These particles viewed under a microscope bear a striking resemblance to a valve grinding compound.

"Were it not for the air cleaner, this dust would enter the engine, form on the cylinder walls and soon become thoroughly mixed with the lubricating oil. The inevitable result would be formation of a grinding compound which would attack pistons, rings, cylinder walls, bearings and other working parts, causing damage throughout the engine, lowering its performance, shortening its life and making unnecessary repair expense.

"The air cleaner, used on all Chevrolet cars, is made entirely of metal, has no moving parts and will last for the lifetime of the car."

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale

Notice is hereby given that default has occurred in the conditions of a certain mortgage, dated the 30th day of November, 1918, executed by Arthur Van Amburg and Nellie S. Van Amburg, his wife, as mortgagors, to the Federal Land bank of St. Paul, a body corporate of the city of St. Paul, county of Ramsey, state of Minnesota, as mortgagee, filed for record in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for Charlevoix county, Michigan, on the 26th day of December, A. D. 1918, at 4:00 o'clock p. m., recorded in Liber 62 of mortgages on page 258 thereof, in that certain installment of forty-two and 25-100 dollars ($42.25), principal and interest due November 30, 1929, remains unpaid; and further, that the taxes were not paid by the mortgagors; that on the failure of said mortgagors to pay said taxes, the Federal Land bank of Saint Paul did elect to pay the same, and on June 27, 1930, paid the sum of One Hundred Forty-seven and 67-100 dollars ($147.67), as taxes for the years 1928 and 1929; that pursuant to the provisions of said mortgage, said mortgagee has elected to declare the whole debt secured thereby to be now due and payable; and there is due and payable at the date of this notice upon the debt secured by said mortgage, the sum of One Thousand Three Hundred Forty and 49-100 dollars ($1,340.49); and that no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover said debt or any part thereof, that, by virtue of a power of sale therein contained, said mortgage will be foreclosed and the land and premises therein described lying and being in the county of Charlevoix, state of Michigan, as follows, to-wit:

The North Half of the Southeast Quarter (N½SE¼) of Section Thirty (30), Township Thirty-four (34) North, Range Six (6) West, containing Eighty (80) acres, more or less, according to the Government survey thereof, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for the cash by the sheriff of Charlevoix county, at the front door of the court house, in the city of Charlevoix, in said county and state, on Tuesday, October 28, 1930, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon, to pay and satisfy the debt secured by said mortgage and the costs and disbursements allowed by law upon said foreclosure sale.

Dated this 26th day of July, 1930. The Federal Land Bank of Saint Paul, mortgagee. James F. Shepherd, attorney for the mortgagee, Cheboygan. 31113

SECOND OFFENDERS GO TO JAIL

MANDATORY RULING COVERS GAME LAW INFRACOCTIONS

Law Passed by 1929 Legislature Makes Second Offense Punishable by Jail Sentence

A second offense against conservation laws, carries a mandatory jail sentence and all conservation officers this fall will be prepared with records of past offenders to properly enforce this law.

The 1929 legislature adopted a law making jail sentences mandatory for second offenders against small game and deer and bear laws, and against all regulations made by the state conservation commission acting under the discretionary power act, when a second offense is specifically charged in the complaint. The law went into effect just a year ago. With the approach of the opening of the various fall hunting seasons, officers will investigate past records of all offenders to determine whether they have ever before been convicted of breaking conservation laws.

For any second or any subsequent offense against the small game laws, charged as such in the complaint, the penalty set by the legislature is a fine of not less than $50 and not more than $200 and costs and imprisonment for a period of not less than ten days or more than one year. A fine of not less than $100 or more than $500 and costs, and a jail sentence of not more than 100 days is the penalty to be imposed on any second offender against the various deer and bear laws, when charged as such.

The discretionary power act which grants powers to the conservation commission to make certain regulations provides severe penalties for offenses, especially for second offenses. Hunters, anglers and trappers violating such regulations for the second time, and when charged specifically with a second violation, must pay a fine of not less than $50 or more than $200 and must serve jail terms of not less than 20 days or more than 90 days.

All of these severe penalties were adopted by the state legislature for a purpose—that of commanding respect for conservation laws—according to the law enforcement division of the department of conservation, and all conservation officers will consider all previous offenses in drawing up complaints.

BITS OF INFORMATION FOR FARMERS

Plant tulip bulbs as early as they can be secured. Best results follow from plantings made before the end of September, but up to December they may be put in with promise of satisfaction.

Drinking vessels in the poultry house should be kept on a platform about 12 to 18 inches from the floor.

Velvet Beans Are Soil Improvers

Best Way to Plant This Crop for Good Results Is With Corn.

Velvet beans, while not recommended for hay, are as valuable for soil improvement as soy beans or cowpeas and at the same time cost only half as much.

"The best way to plant this crop for good results is with corn," says E. C. Blair, extension agronomist at the North Carolina State college. "They will do as well or better with corn than if planted alone and the grower will receive a profit from the corn in addition to improving his soil."

Plant in Alternate Rows.

The corn and beans should be planted in alternate rows, three feet apart, dropping the beans six inches apart on poor soil and about one foot apart on rich soils. Cultivate the corn until the bean vines have covered the middle. In this way a ton or more of vegetation, worth $14 in plant food alone, will be added to each acre planted to these crops.

On light sandy land or on very poor soils velvet beans make a much better growth than do soy beans, while on good land they make equally as good a growth and are much more valuable as a fall grazing crop. Cattle may be turned into the fields at frost and grazed until the vines and seed are gone.

Plant for Grazing.

Where the beans are planted for grazing purposes, it is a good plan to plant two rows of corn to one of velvet beans. This gives a clear space between rows for harvesting the corn and will also furnish sufficient grazing for the average farm animals.

Mr. Blair states that velvet beans and the Illinois variety of soy beans grow together with excellent results. The heavy stalks of the soy beans help to hold up the beans, which makes for a larger growth and a corresponding increase in value to the land as well as grazing.

Prune Grapes in Winter to Get Best Results

Winter is the season for pruning grapes—anytime when the wood isn't frozen, for then the vines are brittle and will snap off if handled.

Pruning grapes is in reality thinning the crop. The idea is to remove enough wood so that the strength of the vine will be thrown into fewer bunches, and make them larger and finer. In general this result will be best gained by pruning the vine to about 30 or 40 buds distributed over four or five canes.

The size of the canes is important. According to Michigan studies the best yields are from canes about one-fourth of an inch thick, measured between the fifth and sixth buds. Big canes have spent their strength in producing wood and are poor producers of buds.

There are several different systems of pruning and training grapes, and your agricultural college will be glad to give you the best advice for your section.

Cut Out Over-Wintering Cankers to Cure Blight

Get after the fire-blight during the dormant season by cutting out the over-wintering cankers, for they are the sources of next year's infection. The cankers are often found at the base of blighted twigs and are dark-sunken areas in the bark. The cankers should be cut out beyond the discolored part of the inner bark. The wound should be disinfected with corrosive sublimate and painted over with white lead paint or coal tar. Blighted twigs and branches should be cut off during the growing season about six inches below the blighted part and the stub disinfected. The disinfecting can be quickly done with a saw on the end of a stick which is carried in a bottle of disinfectant. A fast growing tree is more susceptible to fire-blight than a slow-growing one, and a tree in full bearing is usually less susceptible than a young tree.

Around the Farm

All work and no play generally makes a grouch.

An inch of compost manure put on your lawn now will give good green grass next spring.

Cutting the weed trees in the farm woodlot will improve the quality of the stand in future years.

Protecting farm machinery from the weather during the winter will save heavy drains on the bank account next spring.

A farm inventory and a credit statement will tell where you stand in the farming business, and may help you get the loan you need to expand that business.

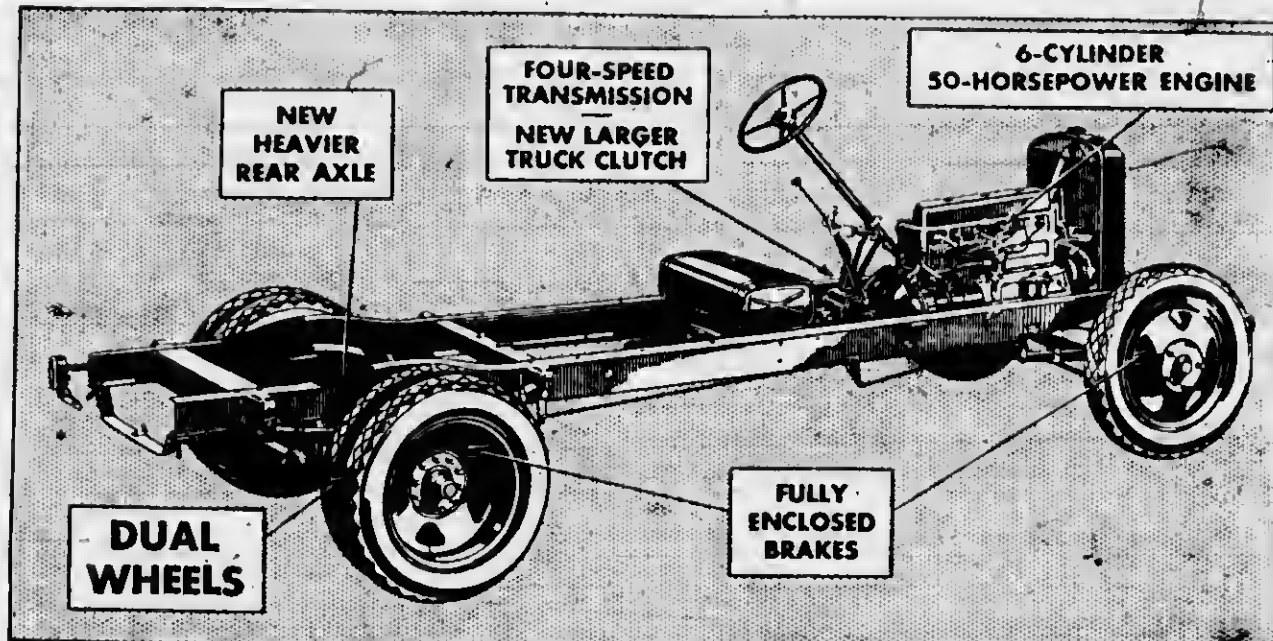

Much heavier dressings of barnyard manure may be applied to garden soils during the winter than while the vegetables are growing. In fact, chicken droppings may be safely applied for some plants at no other time of the year. One ton of such fertilizer is equal to two or three tons from the dairy barn.

In Women's Hands

IN THE FREEDOM of women's hands is to be read much of the story of this modern day. Hands that press electric buttons, that lift telephone receivers, that turn the pages of newspapers. Hands no longer fettered by the endless household labors of a generation ago.

In woman's hands today are the advertisements in the newspaper. They speak to every woman's judgment. They appeal to her sense of efficiency. They answer her desire for a life unhampered by needless difficulties and restraints.

By helping her in the intelligent management of her household, advertisements free her hands for direction, for pleasure, for the graces of living. They tell her of products and appliances that lighten her work. They tell her of foods, clothing and equipment that can be advantageously bought. They tell her of countless ways in which she can manage her home more economically and with more success.

In women's hands advertisements are symbols of a new power, in a new day. They are eloquent of progress, of comfort, of accomplishment. They serve well. Read them.

MINIATURE SAFETY CITY TO BE SHOWN

DISPLAY SHOWING CAUSES OF ACCIDENTS AT COUNTY FAIR

Interesting Exhibit Sponsored by Michigan Mutual Liability Company of Great Interest

"Safety City," the miniature city depicting 18 causes of accidents, will open its exhibit at the Charlevoix county fair. B. F. Emery, of "Mayor of Safety City," as he is sometimes called, accompanies the exhibit and will give short talks on the subject of safety.

The model city, unique in its many details and mechanical and electrical devices, is the contribution of the Michigan Mutual Liability company in behalf of the citizens of Michigan, teaching its lessons in the prevention of industrial and even domestic accidents.

The exhibit is 20 feet long with a six foot wing at each end, where modeled and scenic effects extend upward and outward in proper perspective. Across the entire foreground is the Detroit river, on which are pleasure boats, ferries, motor boats and canoes. Along the water-front extends Riverside Drive and a promenade. Predominant in the general view is Detroit's sky line in which are seen the Book, Eaton, Barlum, and other noted towers of commerce, the art institute, the public library, department stores, the buildings of the Michigan Liability company, and other prominent buildings, including the birthplace of Charles A. Lindbergh, at 122 W. Forest avenue. The Ford airport displays its beacon light.

In the foreground are typical city blocks with modeled buildings of various types and all the details of a busy community faithfully carried out, even to complete mechanically operated signal systems, in operation. Perfectly modeled to scale as all the other buildings are is the Michigan Mutual hospital. There are fire escapes with washings hanging on them in typical big-city fashion, milk bottles standing on window sills, and little fairy-like people walk the streets. Planes are seen overhead and down below there is a constant flow of traffic through the business section. "All along the streets are little accidents which occur every day through carelessness of drivers.

Through special lighting effects the scene changes from day to night. As darkness falls, moon and stars come out; buildings are illuminated, auto headlights are turned on; signals, trains and boats are lighted, and electric signs may be realistically portrayed, the two flash. The varied traffic conditions in the wings are devoted to country landscape, hills, rivers, waterfalls, bridges, and lakes. All the more common accidents such as happens through carelessness, violation of traffic regulations and common discourtesy are impressively "staged." This mechanical city was built in a New York studio famous for its success in building "sets" for the stage and moving picture production.

Do not fail to see this exhibit at the Charlevoix county fair, September 23-26.

BILLY NOVAK IS NEW GOLF CHAMP

WON FIRST FLIGHT OF CADDY TOURNAMENT SATURDAY

Harold Potter Is Champion of Second Flight—Efficiency Prizes Were Awarded

Bill Novak, who has been runner-up in two previous caddy tournaments at the Charlevoix Golf club, became champion of the city's club-toters by his victory in the finals Saturday afternoon.

Novak defeated "Cornie" McCall, a former champion and top-heavy favorite to win the 1930 tournament, 2 up. Both boys shot excellent golf, Novak turning in a card of 81 and McCall an 82 for the par 72 course. Prizes were awarded the winner and runner-up.

Harold Potter succeeds Carlton Ikens as champion of the second flight. Potter won from Otto Russell in the finals Saturday 3-4.

Five efficiency prizes were awarded the caddies having the best record throughout the 1930 summer season. First prize of $10 went to George Richardson. Others were: Devere Bird, second; David Dick, third; Emil Olack, fourth; Cecil Yettaw, fifth.

Several hundred dollars was paid out to the caddies this year on their savings. Each season members of the Chicago club add ten per cent to the caddies' earnings as an inducement for them to save their money. Upon presentation of their bank pass book, they are given this additional bonus, and it is surprising the amounts some of the lads accumulate during the season.

The Charlevoix Golf club will remain open for still another two weeks, with the probable closing date around the 20th of this month. Billy Supernaw is substituting as caddy master in place of Cleveland Roe, who concluded his duties early this month.

Mrs. A. A. Swinton is resuming her class-piano work and is organizing a new class of beginners. The Curtis System, which she uses, will appeal to all parents who wish their children taught in accordance with the best ideas in modern musical education. "Parents are welcome to watch the work of these classes at all times."—Adv. 3612.

FEEDING WILD ANIMALS INTERESTING

Conservation Department Exhibit at County Fair September 23-26

Mink, denizens of the swamps and waters of Michigan are fond of tropical fruit—bananas. Raccoons enjoy hamburger sandwiches. Coyotes, usually considered too blood-thirsty to consider anything but raw meat as a diet, plead for bread and milk.

Over at the Charlevoix county fair grounds, where the department of conservation will display its exhibit of Michigan wild life, September 23-26, the feeding of the animals always attracts crowds around the cages. The feeding of wild animals is not a matter of just throwing something into the cage. Every animal must have something different from the other, something that must correspond in a way with his normal feeding habits in his natural habitat.

For instance, beaver usually cannot stand the strain of captivity and frequent transportation unless he has a regular diet of poplar. He takes vegetables to vary his diet. Bobcats and wolves must have meat.

Wild life exhibits, such as the one now being shown at the Charlevoix county fair by the conservation department, have become increasingly popular throughout the state. The exhibit is being shown at 27 fairs this year to probably close to a million people.

The wild life exhibit is only part of the department's display at the fair. Inside is a booth banked with all varieties of Michigan furs, including timber wolves, coyotes, bobcats, mink, beaver, fawns, bear, weasels, woodchucks and others. Various kinds of guns are displayed, confiscated from conservation law violators.

AT THE MOVIES

"The Dawn Patrol," Starring Richard Barthelmess Example of New Type of War Epic

"War back-grounds for air stories but skim the surface of dramatic possibilities of flying pictures," declared Howard, First National Vitaphone director, during a lull in the filming of "The Dawn Patrol," starring Richard Barthelmess, which comes to the Palace theatre on Thursday and Friday.

"Every air story which I have seen," he continued, "has had a war or military background. It seems as though the general idea is that planes are used only in warfare.

"There is untold drama in the air-mail service, for example, which has not yet been touched. Lindbergh's epochal trans-Atlantic flight has not been done adequately or worthy of such a history-making event."

"In 'The Dawn Patrol' we have tried to hit upon a new angle in relation to planes in wartime. The condition around which our story is built obtained only in the early years of the World war when very young, so-called 'schoolboy flyers' were compelled to face experienced German aces. They were equipped with obsolete planes and were outnumbered by the enemy.

"The tragic outlook of these boys, the bitterness of having such a command—sending boys to their death—which Barthelmess enacts—it is this which makes 'The Dawn Patrol' something other than just an air spectacle. In other words we have strived for a dramatic story and character, study of the air service and not merely a circus of the skies."

Dare-Devil Stunt Flyer Likes Danger

Flaunting
With more than 5,000 hours in the air to his credit and with all manner of stunting performances behind him, Lee Nomis, one of the pilots in "Young Eagles," Charles (Buddy) Rogers' starring picture, which will show at the Palace theatre Saturday and Sunday, says he follows his daredevil line of work because he likes the excitement.

While still very young, Nomis undertook a balloon parachute jump at a country fair, and, later, varied these performances with high dives from ladders into nets. Then he quit fairs and went into pictures as an automobile driver. In 1917, he learned to fly. During the war he was a flying instructor.

SUPPLY OF TRAPPERS' TAGS ARE NOW READY

Home-Made Tags of Rust-Proof Material May Be Used.

Trappers preparing their equipment for their coming seasons are reminded by the law enforcement division of the department of conservation that each trap must have attached a tag bearing the name and address of the owner, and that the letters on the tag must be legible at all times.

Last year for the first time, trappers were required to furnish their own name and address tags. As a result many hastily made makeshift tags resulted so that conservation officers examining the traps were unable frequently to read the tags even after they had been in use but a short time. Tags were made of broken tobacco cans with the lettering inscribed with indelible pencil; tin with the lettering scratched on with nails, and of other equally unsatisfactory materials.

Tin tags rusted with water and could not be read.

Tags can be purchased at such a low cost, according to the law enforcement division, that it is generally cheaper to buy them than try to make them. Home-made tags of rust proof material with the owner's name and address properly stamped is satisfactory, however.

LIVERMORE TO JUDGE POTATOES AT SHOW

Cornell University Extension Specialist Coming to Gaylord Affair

J. R. Livermore, extension specialist in potatoes at Cornell University, Ithaca, New York, has been engaged to judge the potatoes at the Eighth Annual Top O'Michigan Potato and Apple show at Gaylord on October 29th, 30th, and 31st, according to B. C. Mellencamp, secretary. Mr. Livermore will be assisted by H. C. Moore, potato specialist at the Michigan State college.

Mr. Livermore is recognized as a national figure in potato work and the show association considers itself fortunate in securing him for this show. It speaks well for the Top O'Michigan show to have him accept this invitation to judge.

Since the show began in 1923, judges have been secured from New York and Minnesota twice and once each from Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Wisconsin.

D. A. Hootman, specialist in horticulture at the Michigan State college will judge the apples. Mr. Hootman judged the apples at this show two years ago and all apple growers will be pleased to see him return.

All three of these judges will appear on the various programs during the three days of the show.

OPEN FOOTBALL SCHED SATURDAY

ONAWAY COMES HERE FOR THE FIRST TILT OF 1930 SEASON

Charlevoix's Aggregation Heaviest in Recent Years — Four Home Games Have Been Scheduled

Teams of the Tip of Michigan conference of class C schools swing into action Saturday in the opening encounters of the 1930 football season. In every instance games are non-conference tilts, serving as warm-ups for the more serious engagements of coming weeks.

Charlevoix's Kipke-coached aggregation takes on Onaway Saturday afternoon at the south side field in their opening game. Kipke's men now have two full weeks of practice behind them, more than they have had in any previous season before their opening game.

Preliminary drills are now past and the team is down to the more serious business of passing practice, blocking, tackling and signal drill. From all outward appearances, the squad is apparently the strongest Charlevoix has placed on the field in recent years. They are a heavy outfit, averaging over 150 pounds to a man. Several, such as Coulter, Arvilla and Struthers tip the scales near the 200 mark and the rest are heavier than the average high school aggregation.

Since practice opened September 2, between 25 and 30 men have been out every afternoon. No definite line-up has been given for Saturday's game, but those out for the several positions are: Devere Bird, center; Capt. Bill Clark and Cornie McCall, right half; Arvilla and Geneit, full-back; Novak and Kirby, quarterback; Foster and Livingston, left half; Swartout and Stutzman, guards; Coulter, Struthers and Cartier, tackles; Walker, McSaub, Novotny and Anee, ends. Among others working for positions are McCann, Richardson, Davenport, Potter and Supernaw.

Stewart Coleman, manager of the high school athletic association and assistant coach, has arranged a fine seven-game schedule with four home games. A contest has been slated with every member of the Tip of Michigan conference. Other contests are the opening game with Onaway, and another with Petoskey there November 8. Following is the full schedule:

September 20, Onaway here.
September 27, Boyne City here.
October 4, East Jordan there.
October 11, Manclona there.
October 18, open.
October 25, Gaylord here.
November 1, Harbor Springs here.
November 8, Petoskey there.

Mr. Coleman has worked out a new system of ticket sales this season which should prove popular, with the student body. Season tickets, covering all home games are being offered to both high school and grade students at a rate of less than 15c per game for the upper classes, and less than 10c for the grades. Adult tickets will be sold for 35c each game as in former years.

Let's see a good crowd of fans out for the opening contest Saturday afternoon.

LOCAL REBEKAH HONOR- ED WITH ADVANCEMENT

Charlevoix Rebekahs and local friends of Mrs. Frank F. Bird, will be pleased to hear of her appointment as chaplain of the Rebekah Assembly of Michigan.

The appointment comes to Mrs. Bird as a fitting reward following a successful year as district president, and she is to be congratulated on her achievement.

REPRESENTATIVE BOHN WINNER BY A MA- JORITY OF 4,575

Congressman Frank P. Bohn, of the 11th district, comprising counties on both the upper and lower peninsula, has emerged victor over John J. O'Hara in the hardest fight he has had for his seat at Washington.

The final vote was Bohn 24,464 and O'Hara 19,889, giving Bohn a margin of 4,575. O'Hara found his great support in Delta and Menominee counties, where he ran well ahead of Bohn. He was unable to overcome the lead given the incumbent in most of the counties, however. Bohn ran ahead in every county except Menominee and Delta.

to Hunters for Season

According to a statement by Alex Lark of the Emmet county supervisors, the board has not as yet received a report outlining the course of action taken by the department of conservation in response to a petition addressed to that body, requesting that Emmet county be closed to deer hunting for another term of five years.

Mr. Lark says, that inasmuch as the department is also considering a counter petition asking that this same territory be thrown open to hunters, and that there has been a material increase in the number of deer now roving the woods of the area in question, it is, in his opinion, quite probable that the county will be opened this fall to one season of hunting. After which, the supervisor says, it will likely be the policy of the department of conservation to close to deer hunting the entire northern group of counties in the lower peninsula, and treating them as a unit hereafter in the matter of open and closed deer areas.

WARRANTS ISSUED POLLUTION CHARGE

ELEVEN HOUGHTON LAKE COT-TAGERS ARE FINED

State Conservation Dept. Starts Campaign to Stop Pollution of Inland Lakes

The first blow in a campaign recently inaugurated by the pollution division of the department of conservation against those polluting Michigan's inland lakes fell last week on 11 cottagers along Houghton lake.

Roy Walling, Houghton Lake, pleaded guilty to a charge of permitting a sanitary sewer to empty into the lake, was sentenced to pay a fine with costs of $41.10 and in addition he was required to spend about $400 to rectify his methods of disposing of his sewage.

Effner Parker, George Snapp, Charles Evans, Norman Hart and Denver Sprague, other cottagers, have pleaded guilty to the same offense and are waiting sentence. According to the pollution division, five more warrants have been sworn out and are now awaiting service.

Each of the five men awaiting sentence have been ordered by the pollution division to clean up their sewage systems within 30 days. If this is not done each day in which sewage is dumped into the lake after the specified period will be considered under the law as a separate offense.

The place at which the sewage was being dumped into the lake was only about 200 feet from a bathing beach.

The arrests at Houghton Lake mark the beginning of an extensive campaign that will be carried on throughout the state, in an attempt to keep these inland lakes free from pollution.

Inspectors from the division are now investigating conditions along these lakes and in each instance in which cottagers are permitting their sewage to enter the water, or in which other forms of waste are permitted to pollute the waters, the offenders will be given a definite period in which to clean up. If the warnings are not heeded arrests will follow as they did at Houghton Lake.

Every year the inland lakes of this state are becoming of more economic importance, it was said. Large resorts are being built up, the lakes are becoming more popular for fishing and these things are of a great financial asset to the vicinity and to the state at large. Unless these waters are kept clean and free from pollution improvements cannot continue.

FORMER RESIDENT DEAD IN DETROIT

Word Received Here Monday of Passing of L. D. Coulter

Word was received here Monday by Mrs. Lotta Coulter of the death in Detroit of L. D. Coulter, who, during his residence in Charlevoix, was superintendent of the D. M. Ferry Seed company local branch.

Mrs. Coulter, also her sister-in-law, Mrs. Will Coulter, left Tuesday to attend funeral services, which will be held Thursday in Detroit.

The Congregational ladies will serve a harvest supper on Wednesday evening, September 24th.—Adv. 381

CONCRETE PIER WORK COMPLETED

HERE SUNDAY EVENING

Wonderful Improvement Made Since Work Was Started Last May—Upper and Lower Piers Rebuilt

The past week saw the completion of new piers on the south side of both upper and lower channels between Lake Michigan and Lake Charlevoix.

The last convoy of U. S. Engineering department equipment left Charlevoix harbor Sunday evening, towed by the "Cumberland," large government tug, marking the close of operations here.

Charlevoix business interests will miss the revenue derived from those engaged here the past summer, but throughout the city there is a feeling of pride occasioned by the wonderful improvement made early in May.

While new piers have been constructed on but one side of the channel, Charlevoix is justly gratified. It is not hard now for one to visualize how our harbor would look with fine concrete piers flanking both sides of upper and lower channels.

Where once there were old rotting timber, fastly crumbling in decay, today one sees glistening white concrete piers that reflect staunchness and will last for many years to come.

After work of pouring the concrete piers was completed, large scoops were employed to dredge sand from the channel bed to fill in the space behind. Now in place of an unsightly jumble of underbrush and rubbish, one sees a smoothly graded embankment along the entire length of the new piers. There is still chance for much improvement since the government has completed their part of the task, and it behooves Charlevoix civic interests to continue the work where it has been left off to further the project of landscaping the property along the channel.

Charlevoix will not get another appropriation for some time for duplication of work on the north side of the channels. It will likely be at least four years. However, it would be well to plan ahead for that time and bend every effort towards completion of the project.

Charlevoix citizens as a whole are more than grateful to the interest whose efforts resulted in the fine improvement made—one that marks this harbor as one of the best on the lakes.

LATE SEASON OF RESORT SERVICE

Pere Marquette Special to Run on the Following Schedule

Pere Marquette resort special post season service for Chicago and Detroit is announced by Agent B. Nickerson as follows:

Wednesdays and Sundays, September 17, 21 and 28 trains will operate on the regular schedule of the Chicago section, with same equipment to Chicago and Detroit (except St. Louis and Cincinnati sleepers) as during its regular season. The Detroit section will run via Grand Rapids, arriving in Detroit at 6:00 a. m. (c. t.).

The ladies of the Baptist church will serve a chicken supper in the basement of the church, Friday evening, September 19. You are invited.—Adv. 381

MANY ATTENDED HARBOR HEARING

RECOMMENDATIONS LISTED WITH U. S. ENGINEERS

Completion and Extension of North Pier Urged—Express Appreciation of Work Already Done

With Major H. M. Tripp, district engineer at Milwaukee for the U. S. Corps of Engineers presiding, a hearing was held Tuesday afternoon at the council chambers regarding Charlevoix harbor and further proposed improvements. Others representing the government with Major Tripp were A. F. Everett, associate engineer of the war department, Milwaukee, and L. W. Goddard, government engineer at Grand Rapids.

A large group of Charlevoix business and professional interests were present when Major Tripp called the meeting to order and announced its purpose.

The first local speaker was Prof. R. S. Swinton of Ann Arbor, president of the Argo Milling company, who read the following recommendation by the city of Charlevoix as signed by Mayor Arthur Bergeson:

"It is desired that the government complete the structure built along the north side of the channel entrance from Lake Michigan to Round Lake, at Charlevoix, up to the bridge."

It has been stated that, due to use and application for permit to build a dock by the Argo Milling company the structure in front of these properties has been classified as private.

"The lot west of the Argo mills was at one time used as a coal yard and dock, but such use was discontinued approximately 20 years ago. Title to this property rests with Mrs. P. D. Campbell. It is their statements that no use of the waterfront as a dock or wharf is contemplated."

"The Argo Mills received grain in sailing ships for many years. This was delivered in wheelbarrows over the side of the ship on planks set on temporary horses to the door of the mill. At one time the building of a dock was contemplated and drawings, together with a request for permission, filed. This permit was never acted upon, as the requirements involved more expense than the value warranted. No shipments have been received over this line in 15 to 20 years. The Argo Mills and Campbells indicate their willingness to relinquish any title that may have been acquired to facilitate the carrying on of the desired project."

"This is the only incomplete link in the very excellent improvement recently carried on by the government in Charlevoix harbor. Neither of the owners are in financial position to make such an improvement in form adequate and acceptable to the government."

"The present rate of wear, due to suction created by passing steamers, is such that serious foundation trouble may be anticipated within three years and it is hoped that, if permanent improvement cannot be made, temporary work shall be done at an early date."

"It is the policy of the present city officers to carry on improvements of the waterfront. The attached chart shows in the 1 to 100 feet scale portion the harbor entrance and improvement. (Continued on page 8.)"

PIONEER RESIDENT DIED LAST FRIDAY

Mrs. Lavina Stafford Succumbed Following Stroke of Paralysis

Mrs. Lavina J. Stafford, a pioneer resident of Norwood township, died last Friday at her home on East Garfield avenue. She was stricken the previous Monday with a stroke of paralysis, from which she failed to rally.

Deceased was born October 27, 1860, at Waltham, Canada. She was married October 5, 1883, to Allan A. Stafford. The couple moved to Norwood township, where Mr. Stafford died in 1919. Seven years later, Mrs. Stafford came to Charlevoix and had since made her home here.

Surviving are four daughters and three sons, viz: Mrs. George Fox, Kalamazoo; M. June Stafford, Detroit; Mrs. T. L. Pearl, Charlevoix; Mrs. F. A. Wagner, Norwood; Raymond E. Stafford, Norwood; Ralph W. Stafford, Chicago, Mass. There are also five sisters and one brother.

Funeral services were held Monday morning from the residence, Rev. W. H. Rauch of the Baptist church officiating.

REPUBLICAN CON- VENTION TUESDAY

DELEGATES CHOSEN TO STATE CONVENTION AT LANSING

Herman C. Myer, Chairman; Delegates Instructed to Endorse Fitzgerald for Secretary of State

Preliminary to the Republican county convention held at the Charlevoix court house Tuesday morning, officers of the county committee were chosen Saturday.

Herman C. Myer, Boyne Falls, was re-elected chairman; Kit Carson, East Jordan, secretary, and Mrs. Lela Simmons, Charlevoix, was chosen to succeed Mrs. Anna B. Saltonstall as treasurer.

At the county convention Tuesday 97 of 100 Charlevoix county delegates were present. This representation is probably the largest ever to attend a convention.

The meeting resulted in a solid Brucker delegation being selected to attend the state Republican convention at Lansing September 26. The Bruckerites elected Herman C. Myer of Boyne Falls, as temporary chairman over Harry A. Craig, Charlevoix, the Groesbeck candidate, by a vote of 55 to 42.

A resolution presented by the committee on resolutions urging support of the Republican party and its officers, was read and adopted.

Charles McCutcheon, Boyne City, addressed the convention regarding importance of the office of secretary of state and urged endorsement of Frank D. Fitzgerald for this office. A motion was made and adopted that delegates be instructed to endorse Fitzgerald at Lansing.

On motion made and carried, the chairman appointed the following delegates and alternates: Delegates—William Vought, Boyne City; Kit Carson, East Jordan; Dr. F. H. Wilkinson, Charlevoix; Herman C. Myer, Boyne Falls; William Mayne, Norwood township. Alternates—William Tindall, Boyne City; Howard Porter, East Jordan; William M. Sanderson, Charlevoix; Dr. F. F. McMillan, Charlevoix; George Block, Norwood township.

STATE WARS ILLE- GAL DEER HUNTERS

Many Convictions Obtained Since Campaign Was Opened

The intensive war against illegal deer hunting, started several months ago by the law enforcement division of the conservation department has resulted in more than a score of convictions in the upper peninsula.

The three most recent are from Marquette county, John Salmi, Palmer, convicted of illegal possession of venison paid a fine of $50, costs of $12.25 and served 10 days in jail. Arthur R. Carlson, convicted of the same offense paid a fine of $50 and costs of $11.90. Adolph Swenor paid a $50 fine and costs of $11.90 and his rifle was confiscated because he had venison in his possession out of season.

The ladies of the Baptist church will serve a chicken supper in the basement of the church, Friday evening, September 19. You are invited.—Adv. 381

ANNUAL COUNTY FAIR NEXT WEEK

EXHIBIT AT EAST JORDAN SEP-TEMBER 23-24-25-26

Large Entry in Divisions—Good Entertainment Program—Three Days of Horse Racing

Frank F. Bird, secretary of the Charlevoix County Agricultural society announced today that everything was in readiness for the 46th annual county fair, to be held Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, September 23, 24, 25 and 26, at East Jordan.

Judging from the large number of entries in nearly every division of exhibition, the displays this year will be as large and in many instances excel those of former years.

This fact is probably more true in the grain and fruit divisions. The fair this year is several weeks later than that of 1929, when the exhibit was held the last week of August. The later date has found farm products farther advanced and has also given farmers a better chance and more time to prepare exhibits.

While interest is always centered around the many exhibits, the entertainment program arranged for the fair is bound to prove popular. Listed among the free acts, which will be given both afternoon and evening all four days of the fair, are Wallace's lions, whose stunts will be of more than average interest; Harry, who comes billed in a strong man act, and Laverne & Kane, rope act specialists.

School bands from Charlevoix, East Jordan and Boyne City will furnish music. The Charlevoix organization plays on Wednesday, Boyne City on Thursday and East Jordan on Friday, the concluding day.

Friday is school day and all children having tickets issued by the county school commissioner will be admitted free.

There will be three days of horse races, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Events listed for Wednesday are 2:30 trot or pace, 2:10 trot or pace and half mile run with prizes of $200 for winners of the first two events and $50 for the last. On Thursday there will be the 2:25 and 2:15 class events in addition to the running race with prizes the same as Wednesday. The final day's program calls for the free-for-all, consolation race and half mile run. Prizes posted are $225, $150 and $50. A good bunch of fast horses, larger in fact than in previous years, are entered for the above events.

Throughout the summer merchants in the county have been passing out numbered tickets on cash purchases. During the three days of the fair prizes in cash and livestock totalling $1,000 will be given to the ones holding lucky numbers.

No effort has been spared by those in charge of the fair to make it one of interest and benefit to all of Charlevoix county. Everyone is urged to arrange so they may be able to spend at least one if not more days at East Jordan.

POPULAR LOCAL GIRL MARRIED SEPTEMBER 7

Miss Gwendolyn Geneit Became Bride of Edgar W. Behrens, Niles

A marriage of interest to Charlevoix citizens was performed Sunday noon, September 7th, at Michawanka, Ind., when Miss Gwendolyn Geneit, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grover C. Geneit, this city, was united in marriage to Edgar W. Behrens of Niles, Michigan.

Following a wedding dinner at the home of the groom's parents, the couple motored back to Petoskey, where they will make their future home.

Mrs. Behrens, a local girl and graduate of Charlevoix high school, has a large following of friends who will extend their congratulations.

REV. LOCKYER RETURNS TO METHODIST CHURCH

At the annual Methodist conference held last week at Muskegon, Rev. John E. Lockyer was returned to Charlevoix for his fourth year as pastor of the First Methodist church. Before the conference, Rev. Lockyer was tendered an invitation to return by prisoners of the church, indicating their satisfaction in his pastorate here.

The Congregational ladies will serve a harvest supper on Wednesday evening, September 24th.—Adv. 381

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c to-day at the Central Drug Store, the Rexall store.

Henry Syres each have a six to ten acre crop of potatoes this year north of town that are looking fine. The late rains have been of great value in increasing the crop.

CHURCH CHOIRS ONE ATTRACTION

OF TOP O'MICHIGAN POTATO
AND APPLE SHOW

Contest to Be Conducted Under Auspices of Michigan State College—Offer Awards

The Top O'Michigan town and county choir and chorus singing contest held in connection with the annual potato and apple show at Gaylord is one of the outstanding features of the show and attracts more and more church choirs each year.

B. C. Melencamp, secretary of the Top O'Michigan potato and apple show states that arrangements have been made through R. W. Tenney of the Michigan State college for the contest to be held again this year in connection with the eighth annual show at Gaylord, October 29, 30 and 31.

This contest is conducted under the auspices of the R. E. Olds Community Music Fund and the Michigan State college. One hundred and forty dollars in prizes will be awarded as follows: First, $60; second, $40; third, $20; fourth and fifth, $10 each.

The contest will take place at the Gaylord auditorium at 10 o'clock in the morning of October 31, according to the following rules and regulations:

1. The choir from any open country church or town church in towns of 2,000 population or less (according to the 1930 census) or a chorus representing any rural organization, will be eligible to enter the contest.
2. Each choir or chorus must consist of at least six singers and as many more as possible.
3. The participants must be regular choir or chorus members of the church or organization represented.
4. The leader and accompanist may or may not be members of the choir or chorus. If they are not members they must not participate in the singing.
5. Two selections will be rendered by each contesting group.
6. The first may be any selection the group wishes to make.
7. The second is to be the anthem

KONJOLA ENDS STOMACH ILLS OF 15 YEARS

New Medicine Only Treatment
To Give Relief—Detroit
Man Enthusiastic

MR. JOE JOHNSON

"Four bottles of Konjola ended stomach trouble for which I had suffered for fifteen years," said Mr. Joe Johnson, 110 Cortland street, Detroit. "After meals I was bothered with gas, bloating and severe pains in the stomach region. No matter what I ate, the food never seemed to agree with me and I was always worried about my diet. During these years I was never able to put on weight and was in a badly run-down condition."

"Last fall a friend induced me to try Konjola. At the end of the second bottle, I could feel a splendid improvement. I continued with the medicine until I had taken four bottles. I can truthfully say that I feel much better generally. I have gained considerable weight and can now thoroughly enjoy my meals. I have told many friends of the benefits I have received and I shall always be a 'booster' for Konjola."

Taken regularly over a six to eight week period, Konjola has made a remarkable record in the relief of ailments of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness.

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix, Mich., at F. J. Fessenden's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

"The Radiant Morn Hath Passed Away" by Woodward. (Enough copies of this anthem for your group may be secured by writing to B. C. Melencamp, Boyne City.)

8. The scoring will be based on: 1st, general expression, 50; (a) attack and finish, (b) loud and soft, (c) fast and slow, (d) volume of tone. (This covers a wide range of interpretation). Second, pitch, 50; Third, enunciation, 25. This makes a total of 100 points to be scored.

MICHIGAN STATE COLLEGE WEEKLY BULLETIN

Hay Supply Lowered by Abnormal Demand

One result of the continued drought this year, which may prove expensive for Michigan farmers, has been the great demand for hay and straw for use in Ohio and Indiana, and the sale of roughages from Michigan may have reduced the supply for home use below the amount needed, according to C. A. Brown, head of the animal husbandry division of Michigan State college.

Bids for alfalfa hay which is to be shipped or trucked into other states have been as high as $30 a ton for second cutting, and many farmers who have had any surplus have already sold it. Professor Brown believes that most of this hay would find ready sale in Michigan before it will be possible to turn stock on pastures next spring.

If Michigan feeders have to purchase roughages this year, it may be necessary to go into distant markets, and the cost of shipping the hay will be added to the purchase price. In addition to the extra expense, there is always danger of importing undesirable weeds in shipments of hay from a distance.

Farmers who have hay for sale will undoubtedly take advantage of the abnormal demand and will continue to sell for shipment outside the state, and farmers who will have to buy hay are advised by Professor Brown to check up on the supply of surplus hay in their community before it is too late to make local purchases.

Use Modern Method to Replace Scrubs

The auto salesman's method of making an offer for the old car will be used by dairy specialists on the special train which is run over the Ann Arbor railroad from Beulah to Howell, September 22 to 30, when the sale of purebred bulls will be stimulated by bids on the scrub bulls which are retarding the progress of the dairy industry in that section.

The railway company and Michigan State college are cooperating to give dairymen the opportunity to buy selected purebred sires representing four dairy breeds. Forty bulls will be carried on the train which will make stops in 16 towns.

The bulls which are offered for sale were selected by field men for the different breed associations and represent some of the best blood lines of their breeds. Each of the animals has a production record back of him, as no bull whose dam produced less than 400 pounds of butterfat per year was selected.

Prices for the animals will be nominal and the money paid to the farmer for his scrub bull will be applied upon the purchase price of the purebred. The purebred bulls are from nine to twelve months of age. No scrub bulls less than a year old will be bought, and only those brought to the train will be purchased.

Two stops will be made by the train each day and dairy specialists will discuss dairy problems at each of the stops.

Winter Quarters for Bees

Although good colonies of bees with plenty of stores often survive very cold winters with little protection, it is usually better in the north to provide some protection. Packing and protection tend to reduce the necessity for heat production by the honeybees. Consequently they consume less food and their vitality is not reduced so much. Pack the hive in chaff, leaves, or similar material to check loss of heat. In generating heat bees consume honey, and the water in the honey passes off into the hive as vapor. Unless the temperature within the hive is high enough this water will condense. If water runs onto the cluster, harm results. If the hive is packed properly and if the colony is in good condition, the beekeeper need have little fear that water vapor will condense within the hive to the injury of his colony. In cold weather entrances should be contracted to keep out the cold, sudden draughts, and wind, and to prevent mice from entering. It is best to contract the entrance to a space just high enough for a bee to pass through. This will then permit flight in suitable weather, will allow the bees to carry out debris, and will prevent the bees from becoming restless as might be the case if they were confined.

AT THE MOVIES

"Road to Paradise at Palace Theatre
"Road to Paradise," a much-heralded First National and Vitaphone character drama, opens at the Palace theatre Thursday for a run of two days.

Loretta Young heads the all-star cast in a dual role, either part of which is the most important in the picture. Jack Muhlhill is her leading man. George Barraud has an outstanding role, and other striking characters are enacted by such favorites as Raymond Hatton, Kathryn Williams, Dot Farley, Purnell Pratt and Fred Kelsey.

No Pink Teas

The place that other screen performers would call a dressing room is nothing more nor less than a training quarters for George Bancroft, star of "Ladies Love Brutes" which comes to the Palace theatre for two days, beginning on Saturday next.

Out in Hollywood, where Bancroft's many Paramount pictures have been made, his dressing room has one chief item of furniture. It is a rubbing table upon which the mighty Bancroft climbs to be muddled and pounded by the muscular Jim, his trainer.

Uninviting as the table appears, it is the most comfortable piece of furniture in the room, for the other item is a battered sofa with lumpy springs—a divan that is far from restful.

Bancroft's time in his dressing-room-training headquarters is occupied in the histological exercises of Jim and in the hurried change into the wardrobe of the sequence that impends. Other stars have their dressing rooms fitted out luxuriously, and often invite friends there to tea. But that's not the way of Mr. Bancroft.

How Much to Yourself?

Each month you pay your bills—for food and clothing, for services, perhaps for installments on some major purchase. But do you also pay yourself—by depositing a portion of your income in a Savings Account?

Many people are paying such installments on the future—on financial independence, or the realization of some ambition. Wouldn't it be wise to do the same—to come in, open your account now, and start buying your future?

HEAVY DAMAGE FROM DROUGHT

SHORTAGES LISTED IN SIX ITEMS OF FARM CROPS

Corn, Potatoes, Beans, Alfalfa, Buckwheat and Pastures Suffered from Drought

New low record levels were reached by six Michigan crops on September 1, a report of Verne H. Church, U. S. agricultural statistician, co-operating with the Michigan Crop Reporting Service, shows. Church blamed extreme drought conditions for the low levels.

Yields of corn, potatoes, beans, alfalfa, buckwheat and pastures all were below condition figures for this date since records have been kept, Church stated. The composite condition of the 15 principal crops in this month's report is 55 per cent as compared with 67 per cent on August 1, and 73 per cent for the 10-

WIFE, GAS, SCARE MAN IN DEAD OF NIGHT

"Overcome by stomach gas in the dead of night, I scared my husband badly. He got Adlerika and it ended the gas," Mrs. M. Owen. Adlerika relieves stomach gas in TEN minutes! Acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, removing old poisonous waste you never knew was there. Don't fool with medicine which cleans only PART of the bowels, but let Adlerika give stomach and bowels a REAL cleaning and get rid of all gas! F. J. Fessenden, druggist.

"In general, fruit is maturing early and is of good flavor. The commercial apple crop, is estimated at 995,000 barrels as against 1,206,000 produced last year. The production of the winter varieties, however, will be considerably smaller than last year, growers estimating that these comprise only 45 per cent of the total crop, whereas last fall they amounted to 60 per cent."

Barnard Calf Club to Hold First Achievement Day September 20

The Barnard junior dairymen extend a cordial invitation to their parents, co-workers, and friends to attend their first achievement day and exhibit at Barnard, on Saturday, September 20.

Come and see these splendid calves that have been so efficiently cared for by these young enthusiastic dairymen, who are participating in the boys' and girls' club program.

A most interesting and inspiring program has been arranged for your enjoyment and pleasure. At 11 o'clock fast time there will be a ball game between the club boys and their parents. Beware, parents! At 12:30 everyone eats. Bring your well-filled lunch baskets and enjoy a real picnic dinner.

The afternoon program will start at 1:30 promptly, with a demonstration on "Fitting and Showing the Calf," by two club members, Carleton Smith and Robert Cummings.

These two boys demonstrated at the Gaylord club camp and the Guernsey picnic. Don't miss this feature. Then James Block and Warren Shapton will describe their trips to the Gaylord club camp and the state fair at Detroit respectively. These two boys can hardly wait to tell you their wonderful experiences. Next, two parents of club members appear on the program with short talks, "What Club Work Means." Their identity is secret, but they are some orators.

The main address of the achievement day will be given by L. V. Benjamin, district club leader of Gaylord. His subject will be "The Value of 4-H Club Work." We are particularly pleased to have "Benny" with us, as he has worked with a large number of rural boys and girls, and has had a large variety of pleasant contacts and experiences in club work.

The judging of the calves completes the big day. Ribbons will be awarded the winners by the various breed associations. Premium money will also be given, through the generosity of Charlevoix business men. The exhibit will be judged by L. V. Benjamin. Also, don't forget the Barnard band will play several selections. This band of young musicians are making a name for themselves throughout the county.

Space does not permit more details, but come, bring your family and friends, and see club work on parade Saturday, September 20, at Barnard.

The outcome of late potatoes was hanging in the balance on the first of the month, dependent upon rain during September and absence of early frosts which would enable the crop to mature. Growers estimate the probable yield on this date at 61 bushels per acre. If realized, this would mean a state production of 16,943,000 bushels as compared with 19,410,000 harvested last year. The present season is more or less comparable with that of 1916 when the average yield for the state was only 48 bushels.

Sunday services 10:45 a. m. Subject, "Matter."

Wednesday evening at 7:45. Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to all services.

"Substance" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, September 14.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "Jesus saith unto her, Touch me not; for I am not yet ascended to my Father: but go to my brethren, and say unto them, I ascend unto my Father, and your Father; and to my God, and your God" (John 20:17).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The divine must overcome the human at every point. The Science Jesus taught and lived must triumph over all material beliefs about life, substance, and intelligence, and the multitudinous errors growing from such beliefs" (p.43).

CITY MOURNS DEATH OF ADELINE HOLLEY

Succumbed Sunday in Ann Arbor
Following Short Illness

Charlevoix today mourns the loss of one of its most beloved citizens, Miss Adeline Susan Holley, who passed away Sunday, September 14, at University hospital, Ann Arbor, where she had been taken for medical treatment following a short illness.

Miss Holley was born in Detroit, November 8, 1879. She came with her parents to Charlevoix in 1886 and had made her home here since that time.

Miss Holley was a graduate of Charlevoix high school, class of 1901. She served 12 years as bookkeeper for the Michigan Bell Telephone company local exchange, was two years at the desk at the Charlevoix Beach hotel and one time secretary of the Association of Commerce. For the past eight years she had been engaged in business, operating the Holley Gift Shop, which has been enlarged from time to time since its inception.

Surviving are her mother, Mrs. Louise Elston, and three uncles, Harry, William C. and Alfred C. Taylor, all of Charlevoix.

Funeral services were held at 10:30 Wednesday morning from the residence on Dixon avenue, Rev. Bernard G. Mattson, former pastor of the Congregational church, officiating. Interment was at Brookside cemetery.

The ladies of the Baptist church will serve a chicken supper in the basement of the church, Friday evening, September 19. You are invited. —Adv. 3811

POTATO GROWERS
IRRIGATING FIELDS

Emmet County Farmers Confront
Serious Problem to Save Crops

Several Emmet county growers of certified seed potatoes have been trucking water in large volumes from nearby streams, and pouring it over their fields in a last effort to forestall the ill effects of a too-long continuation of dry weather. Never before in their long experience of potato growing in northern Michigan have farmers here been confronted by a condition of drought so serious as to require these emergency measures.

J. D. Robinson of Pellston, one of the prominent growers of the county, has been irrigating two large fields in this manner. He said that the year's prospect for a crop had reached a critical stage where something must be done to save it. His system is to extend a network of small ditches over the fields, and water by the tankful is emptied into them. He has applied as much as 100 barrels of water per hour to the thirsty soil by this method, and plans the distribution of water over his entire potato acreage to the equivalent of three-quarters of an inch of rainfall.

Pearl Bonter, a grower in Center township, has been operating in a like manner to moisten his field. He trucks water for more than a mile from Maple river.

DEATH TAKES BELOVED
ONE FROM OUR MIDST

Sudden Passing of Mrs. William Ives Shock to Entire City

Charlevoix was shocked and deeply grieved Sunday by the unexpected and untimely death of Mrs. William Ives, who passed away at Charlevoix hospital at 11:30 that morning.

Mrs. Ives was taken suddenly ill Wednesday evening. When her condition became decidedly worse Saturday she was removed to the hospital, where the end came the following day.

Winifred Shores was born November 23, 1894, at Charlevoix, and spent her entire life here and attended the local schools. On April 24, 1917, she was united in marriage to William Ives in this city. She had been in the employ of the Michigan Bell Telephone company since 1915 and for the past five years was chief operator of the local exchange.

Surviving besides her husband are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shores; five sisters, Mrs. Archie Nowland, Reinlander, Wis.; Mrs. Mary Dixon, Charlevoix; Mrs. Jess Feuness, Gloucester, Mass.; Mrs. Fred Shultz, Charlevoix; Mrs. Claude Davy, Charlevoix; also two brothers, Gary Shores of Gloucester, Mass., and Timothy Shores of Charlevoix.

Funeral services were held from the Congregational church at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon; Rev. W. H. Rauch of the Baptist church officiating. Interment at Brookside cemetery.

The Congregational ladies will serve a harvest supper on Wednesday evening, September 24th.—Adv. 3811

CONSERVATION DEPT.
PLANTS FINGERLINGS

Streams of North Region Getting Quota from State Hatcheries

With the 1930 fishing season closed, the fish division of the department of conservation has started planting trout in the upper and lower peninsulas.

Planting of brook, brown and rainbow trout will continue until about November.

Because of the rapidly increasing proportion of fingerling trout being planted each year, and the fact that many of these fish are almost of the legal size, most of the planting does not begin until after the close of the fishing season. By the time the 1931 trout season opens many of these fish will be of legal size and may be taken by hook and line.

Bluegill distribution will be undertaken from hatcheries and outside rearing ponds during the fall months, and there will also be considerable planting of large and small mouth bass.

Dance at Maple Grove Grange hall, Friday evening, September 19. Good music, good order. Everybody welcome.—Adv. 3811.

MANY ATTENDED HARBOR HEARING

provements desired. The 14 to 100 feet chart shows the several improvements thus far carried out by the city (mening new docks constructed and parg work completed). It would not be wise, at present, to make any statements, but it is hoped that a large portion of the waterfront may be acquired by purchase or long term lease for control and improvement. The situation is realized that most dock owners do not receive income from their property, while the city as a whole does benefit by adequate dock facilities.

Many individuals, especially men of lake experience, were called upon for expressions during the hearing. Almost unanimously they recommended completion of the north pier and its extension 200 or more feet further into the lake, also a straightening, if possible, of the present channel between Lake Michigan and Round lake. Others expressed in a very definite manner, their appreciation of the work already done and urged completion of the project.

In turn, Major Tripp assured those present that the government intended to complete the project already started and to always keep the piers in necessary state of repairs. He stated that Charlevoix harbor was one of the first to receive attention on the war department's five-year improvement program and that completion of the project was dependent upon necessity for the work and the procuring of appropriations.

In closing the meeting, Major Tripp thanked those present for their interest and helpful suggestions.

Card of Thanks
We wish to express our sincere appreciation for acts of kindness and assistance rendered during the illness and following death of Mrs. Lavina J. Stafford, also to Rev. W. H. Rauch for his comforting words. Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Pearl and other relatives.—Adv. 3811.

IRONTON FERRY IS ON NEW SCHEDULE

Operating Hours from 5:00 a. m. to 11:00 p. m., Standard Time

Following the busy summer season, during which time day and night service has been maintained, the Charlevoix county road commission has announced a new schedule of operation for the Ironton ferry.

Starting with Monday, September 15th, and continuing until further notice, the ferry will be operated between the hours of 5:00 a. m. and 11:00 p. m., central standard time.

Taken from a standpoint of all concerned, this schedule should prove adequate and satisfactory. Early morning patrons will be accommodated by the new schedule, also those who would go to the cities evenings.

TOURIST BUREAU REPORTS WORK

NOT SO MANY PEOPLE HERE IN 1930, FIGURES SHOW

Visitors Asked Mostly for Cabin and Low-Priced Cottage Accommodations Along Lake Shore

Records of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce, kept for the information bureau for the season of 1930, reflect a falling-off of inquiries made in person at the bureau this season as compared with last year—1,225, as against 1,675 in 1929.

However, written inquiries (mostly for hotel and cottage accommodations, with quite a few requests for summer employment) answered from the bureau totaled 299—an increase of 167 over last year, and the names of 126 prospective visitors were listed at the bureau and turned over to eight different hotels of the city for detailed follow-up, while only 87 were listed last year. Inquiries by phone totaled 99 this year, against 45 in 1929, while the total of incoming calls was 511 in 1930 and of outgoing calls 520, as compared with 114 and 456 respectively, in 1929. Of course, the addition of the state license work is responsible for a certain percentage in the increase of telephone calls over last year. Letters written by F. V. Tyler, the corresponding secretary this season, totaled 298 and, in addition to this, 100 copies of various letters and documents were made. Postage expense totaled $33.56. This amount also covered the mailing of about 2,000 Charlevoix booklets or folders and maps from the bureau. From nine to ten thousand pieces of literature were distributed by the Association of Commerce this year, in various ways—mostly from the display table of the information bureau and the balance from the various gasoline filling stations and the hotels. The re-run of 5,000 Charlevoix illustrated folders printed this spring is entirely used up and a brand-new folder is now being prepared for the printer for 1931. More than $500.00 have been collected by the corresponding secretary, as annual dues and contributions to the general fund of the Association of Commerce, during the latter part of the season, and there is a prospect of additional sums.

Inquiries this year were mostly for cabins and low-priced cottages, "somewhere on the lake." It is evident that we should have more of this class of accommodations, particularly the former—whether at the city tourist camp or at other locations. There were also many requests on the part of people passing through to be directed to bath houses where they might change to their bathing suits. Not a very satisfactory answer could be given, as the nearest bath houses are at Young's state park, 12 miles away. People staying to bathe, especially in the afternoon, are apt to spend a night, or at least eat-supper here, but many of these went on elsewhere when told that they would either have to rent a hotel room or find a secluded spot along the shores.

The new Mid-West map service purchased this summer by the Association proved to be a valuable and much appreciated feature. This provided free highway maps of every state in the Union, including an unlimited supply of Michigan maps with a short sketch of Charlevoix and the compliments of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce printed in red on the cover. The sign that accompanied this service, advertising "Free Maps and Information," was also very helpful, as it did a great deal to rectify the impression that a majority of the visitors seemed to have that there would be a charge for information and literature. A

DISTRICT "Y" MEET- ING THURSDAY NIGHT

Fred B. Freeman to Be Present at Potosky Gathering

A meeting of the northern district Y. M. C. A. committee is called for Thursday night, September 25. The committee will meet in Potosky at the Perry hotel, having supper together at 6 o'clock, central standard time.

The work for the winter will be planned and arrangements will be made for the work of the year 1931. Fred B. Freeman, secretary of the state Y. M. C. A., will be present at the meeting.

greater demand for Canadian literature and maps was also evident this year, and many tourists made their way home from the Soo, via Sudbury and Toronto.

Suggestions for further improvements, based on inquiries made at the bureau this summer would include the location of a fair-sized sign at the intersection of Antrim and Bridge streets, on the southwest corner facing north, directing south-bound traffic to the tourist camp, together with the distance thereto; better street marking and some form of a city directory that shall be more comprehensive than the present telephone book. A surprising number of requests for information regarding air travel would seem to indicate that Charlevoix will be faced at no far distant date with the necessity of securing a permanent city landing field and developing it to at least the status of a third class airport. If we want to attract and keep a rapidly growing class of patrons.

As a license bureau for motor vehicles, the Charlevoix branch has amply justified the wisdom of establishing it. Nearly $19,000 in passenger automobile and truck license fees have been taken in since December 1, 1929, and this figure does not include a great many transfers of title, transfers of license, and applications for operator's, chauffeur's, trailer and motorcycle licenses where blanks were made out and notarized by the branch manager but no fees charged or collected.

IMPROVING CHARLEVOIX GOLF COURSE

ALL GREENS AND FAIRWAYS
BEING RESEED

Repairs Expected to Put Course in Best Condition in History—
William Watson in Charge

Although the resort season is practically past and only a couple dozen summer families still at their cottages, golf continues to be a popular pastime at Charlevoix.

The eighteen-hole course of the Charlevoix Golf club closed to play September 18th in order to get started on a big program of improvements, but at the Belvedere many are still following for local people to play golf, a rate of 50c is being charged after 4 o'clock and many are taking advantage of this small charge. The Belvedere club house is still being kept open and will continue as long as there is a demand.

Members of the Charlevoix Golf club have outlined and started a program of improvements on that course which will put it in a condition second to none in this region.

All of the eighteen greens are being repaired. They have been thoroughly raked and then reseeded. Spots which have become badly grown to weeds are being cut out. All have been given a top dressing of new, rich dirt and it is expected the new seeding will be well along this fall.

Out near the sixth hole a nursery has been established. Here seedlings are made in well prepared beds. The soil-grown there will be used for patching purposes on greens needing such repairs.

A greater portion of the fairways on the course are also being repaired. They have been gone over with a spike-tooth drag and then reseeded. A good, heavy covering of barn-yard fertilizer will be spread on each, allowed to lay throughout the winter and then removed in the spring.

Work on the improvements, which is under the supervision of William Watson, professional at the club, is now underway. Mr. Watson will remain to take charge of the work until October 1st and it is expected the improvements will continue for another month if weather conditions allow.

It is expected the course will be in the best shape in its history when play opens in 1931.

CHOIR AND CHORUS SINGING CONTEST

FEATURE AT GAYLORD POTATO
AND APPLE SHOW

One Hundred Forty Dollars in Prizes Are Offered—Contest Under Auspices M. S. C.

The Top O'Michigan town and county choir and chorus singing contest, held in connection with the annual potato and apple show at Gaylord, is one of the outstanding features of the show and attracts more and more church choirs each year.

B. C. Mellencamp, secretary of the Top O'Michigan Potato and Apple show, states that arrangements have been made through R. W. Tenney of the Michigan State college for the contest to be held again this year in connection with the Eighth Annual Show at Gaylord, October 29, 30 and 31.

This contest is conducted under the auspices of the R. E. Olds Community Music Fund and the Michigan State college. One hundred and forty dollars in prizes will be awarded as follows: First—$60.00; second—$40.00; third—$20.00; fourth and fifth—$10.00 each.

The contest will take place at the Gaylord auditorium at 10 o'clock in the morning of October 31, according to the following rules and regulations:

1. The choir from any open country church or town church in towns of 2,000 population or less (according to the 1930 census) or a chorus representing any rural organization will be eligible to enter the contest.

2. Each choir or chorus must consist of at least six singers, and as many more as possible.

3. The participants must be regular choir or chorus members of the church or organization represented.

4. The leader and accompanist may or may not be members of the choir or chorus. If they are not members they must not participate in the singing.

5. Two selections will be rendered by each contesting group.

6. The first may be any selection the group wishes to make.

7. The second is to be the anthem "The Radiant Morn' Hath Passed Away," by Woodward. (Enough copies of this anthem for your group may be secured by writing to B. C. Mellencamp, Boyne City.)

8. The scoring will be based on:

1. General expression 50
- (a) Attack and Finish
- (b) Loud and Soft
- (c) Fast and Slow
- (d) Volume of Tone
- (This covers a wide range of interpretation.)
2. Pitch 25
3. Enunciation 25

Religious Education Survey
The County Council of Religious Education is to promote "Go to Church" Sunday, October 5th, and conduct a house to house survey to learn the size of our community families and their church preference so as to receive a more close contact between churches and homes. If the public will cooperate to this end when the religious census takers come it will be a result of much value to us all.

CHICAGO BUREAU OPEN YEAR ROUND

TOURIST & RESORT ASSN. AN-NOUNCES PLAN

Fall, Winter and Spring Information to Be Available in Metropolitan Entire Year

Climaxing its two years of successful experience in conducting a summer travel information bureau in Chicago, the West Michigan Tourist and Resort association has announced its intention to extend this service to also provide autumn and winter travel information, and to keep "open house" all year 'round.

In previous years it has been the practice of the association to close its Chicago bureau about the first of October. But this year the key has been thrown away, and all through the glorious autumn and on through the winter, the public will be invited to make use of the travel service of the association. Every day and every night the big neon sign, lettered "Michigan, Playground of a Nation," will flash its message to the crowds on Michigan avenue.

"This extension of our service is made to keep up with the new needs of the public," said H. J. Gray, secretary of the Michigan Tourist and Resort association. "We are confident that this will mean a tremendous increase in the number of Michigan visitors all through the fall and winter seasons. Now that modern methods of transportation have made it so easy and comfortable and inexpensive for people to make these delightful trips, it no longer is necessary or desirable that they be restricted to the few months of summer. As a matter of fact, every year more and more families are discovering that autumn and winter visits to Michigan have many delightful features all their own."

It is the purpose of the association to turn its Chicago office into a veritable clearing house of West Michigan information for the service of the public. It will have available the latest authentic news about autumn carnivals and winter sports; about motor highways, boat, train and bus service; about hotel, boarding house and tourist camp accommodations; about golf and fishing.

The hotels and resorts which remain open through late autumn will have many guests—those who have learned that this is one of the best of all vacation times; that the weather is finest and the scenery the most gorgeous. Then the highways are uncrowded, there's plenty of room at resorts, on golf links and tennis courts.

The association's travel bureau at Chicago will likewise be of service to those who, while perhaps not planning winter trips, will along in January, begin to think about next summer's outing.

RELIGIOUS COUNCIL MEET EAST JORDAN

The Charlevoix County Council of Religious Education will hold their fall convention this year in East Jordan on October 1, in the Presbyterian church.

The listed speakers on the program for the afternoon session are Rev. E. W. Halpenney of Lansing, Supt. M. Otterbein of Charlevoix, and Rev. G. E. Smock of Boyne City. Lieutenant-Governor L. D. Dickinson of Charlevoix, has been secured to give the principal address of the evening.

Conservation Department

The department of conservation again calls attention to the table of shooting hours for duck hunting. This time table, which is printed in the Game Law Digest now being distributed, gives the official opening and closing time for duck shooting throughout the entire duck season. Conservation officers will use this table in enforcing the duck hunting laws.

The hours are listed as central standard time and the dates are inclusive. It will be noticed that a shift of time takes place every eight days, instead of each day. Following is the table:

Sept. 16-20—4:50 a. m. to 5:50 p. m.
Sept. 22-26—5:00 a. m. to 5:45 p. m.
Sept. 30-Oct. 4—5:10 a. m. to 5:20 p. m.
Oct. 5-15—5:20 a. m. to 5:10 p. m.
Oct. 16-23—5:30 a. m. to 5:00 p. m.
Oct. 23-31—5:45 a. m. to 5:45 p. m.
Nov. 1-8—5:50 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.
Nov. 9-16—6:00 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.
Nov. 17-24—6:10 a. m. to 4:20 p. m.
Nov. 25-Dec. 2—6:20 a. m. to 4:10 p. m.
Dec. 3-10—6:30 a. m. to 4:00 p. m.
Dec. 11-18—6:40 a. m. to 4:00 p. m.
Dec. 19-26—6:50 a. m. to 4:10 p. m.
Dec. 27-31—7:00 a. m. to 4:10 p. m.

A conservation commission order prohibits shooting later than 1 p. m. (CST) on each day of the season at Muskegon and Houghton lakes and on Wildfowl and Sebawaing bays the closing hour is 3:00 p. m. (CST).

COUNTY FAIR DRAW- ING RECORD CROWD

ATTENDANCE THIS YEAR EX-PECTED TO SET RECORD

Exhibits in Every Division Are Larger Than in Previous Years;
Many Enter Race Program

The forty-sixth annual exhibit of the Charlevoix County Agricultural society opened Tuesday at the East Jordan fair grounds.

According to Frank F. Bird, secretary of the society, prospects were never better for a record-breaking fair. Maturity of farm crops has resulted in a large display in every division, and favorable weather has brought out larger than usual crowds for the opening two days—Tuesday and Wednesday.

Nearly every exhibition building is jammed to capacity from the stock barns to the educational building, where a large and varied assortment of school exhibits are on display. In the grains, fruits, poultry and stock divisions, competition promises to be closer than in previous years, and judging, which started Wednesday, will be a very difficult task for those in charge.

Viewing with other departments from a standpoint of interest manifest, is the very complete wild life exhibit of the Michigan conservation department. Fair-goers have found this attraction very unique and highly educational.

Those who have been to East Jordan the opening days speak highly of the several free attractions offered and, with the horse racing program opened today, attendance the hall-ance of the week promises to be a record-breaker if present weather conditions hold out. There has never been a larger field of good horses entered than this year and today fair officials were wondering what to do with so many entries. It is probable many of the events on the racing card will have to be split up to give all a chance to compete.

Thursday is school children's day and those having tickets issued by the county school commissioner will be entered free. Parents will accompany the youngsters and Thursday's and Friday's attendance will likely be the larger of the week.

Most of Charlevoix's business places are closing Thursday afternoon so that employees may attend the fair.

Returns from Northern Trip
Oluf Nordrum has returned from a ten-day trip to the Be-De-Noc and Manitowish districts in the interests of Booth Fisheries company. He reports fishing rather light at all ports. Mr. Nordrum also visited at Whitefish Point, Lake Superior. He stated the blueberry crop in that district had been plentiful and that an army of around 3,000 pickers had harvested a crop estimated at over 10,000 cases, all of which had been taken by Chicago dealers.

CHARLEVOIX WON OPENING BATTLE

SMOTHERED LIGHT ONAWAY
TEAM UNDER 40 TO 0 SCORE

Were Superior to Visitors in Every Division—Meet Crucial Test Against Boyne City Saturday

Charlevoix high school opened their 1930 quest for northern Michigan class C football honors at south side field last Saturday afternoon with a 40 to 0 victory over Onaway's light and scrappy eleven.

While the team looked potentially strong, they were playing against an aggregation far weaker than those they will meet in subsequent games. Kipke's men showed themselves alert by taking advantage of most of Onaway's errors. They have a mighty good bunch of ball-toters, although this division has many rugged edges to be smoothed off. The line is strong and heavy. They stopped every advance the visiting team made, holding them without a single first down.

Charlevoix made their initial scores in the first few moments of the game. Onaway received deep in their own territory and punted after three attempts to advance were stopped dead. The kick was straight up in the air from behind the goal line. Charlevoix nabbed the Onaway satcher, scoring a safety for two points.

They then took the ball on Onaway's 20-yard line and in just three plays crashed over for a touchdown and were leading before the first quarter had barely started by a 9 to 0 margin.

Onaway elected to kick. Charlevoix advanced to mid-field and Ance, halfback, reeled off a pretty 20-yard run around right end. On an assortment of plays, Kipke's men advanced to Onaway's 15-yard strin, where the period ended. Starting in the second period a left end run failed, but the next play, a pass Ance to Arvilla, placed the pig-skin on the 5-yard line, from which point Ance went through for a touchdown. Foster scored the extra point and Charlevoix led 16 to 0.

Charlevoix's next touchdown came quickly. Struthers kicked deep into Onaway territory. The visitors attempted a forward pass on their first play. Arvilla snatched the ball out of a tangle of players and raced across the goal line. Try for extra point failed and the count stood Charlevoix 23, Onaway 0.

That marker ended scoring for the half, but Charlevoix was well into Onaway's territory when the whistle ended the melee. Before the intermission-Kipke was using substitutes freely, both in the line and backfield. The replacements apparently did not weaken the team's offense very much, for they continued to gain at will.

Charlevoix scored three times in the last half. The first came after the locals had advanced the ball nearly the length of the field on an assortment of line plays, cross-backs and end runs. Ance carried the ball over-but fumbled and the touchdown was credited to Arvilla, who recovered. Charlevoix blocked an Onaway punt to pave the way for the second. From the 30-yard strip Foster and Ance made first downs. Two line plays carried the ball to the two-yard line and Arvilla crashed through again.

On the first play following Charlevoix's kick to Onaway, Ance intercepted a forward pass. At this point the visitors staged a short rally and held the locals for downs the first time. After getting the ball they made the mistake of trying another pass, however. Foster intercepted and advanced to Onaway's 15-yard line. Three plays failed to gain, but (Continued on page 2.)

IS THIS SPORTSMANSHIP?

Charlevoix high school will go through the balance of the 1930-31 school year without the services of two promising football and basketball stars.

At a meeting attended by ten members of the State Athletic Association at Lansing last Monday, Bill Novak and "Cornie" McCall were ruled ineligible to compete in high school athletics for the balance of the school year. The action was taken as a result of their participation and of winning of cash prizes in the annual caddy tournament at the Charlevoix Golf club recently.

Principal O. P. North and Coach Ray Kipke were given a hearing Monday morning at Lansing, but their plea for leniency was apparently disregarded.

The situation, which is without precedent in local school history, has caused no small amount of consternation among local people. The caddy tournament has been a local feature as far back as one can remember. It is given by members of the Chicago club primarily as a reward to caddies for their summer's work and has never been considered as professional competition any more than Fourth of July or athletic contests staged at any similar celebration. It has always been taken just as a matter of course, and we firmly believe that these two boys have been unjustly punished for something they done in absolute innocence.

However, somebody in one of our neighboring towns, who claimed he or they, were acting from a sense of duty, thought differently. A newspaper clipping covering the caddy tournament was sent to A. W. Thompson, director of the State Athletic Association at Lansing. He immediately notified local school authorities and the action of disbarment Monday resulted.

It is hard to believe that officials of any of our neighboring schools are responsible for the act. We would rather place the blame on some individual who was probably prompted by jealousy and maybe a grudge, rather than the sense of duty claimed. If all schools were constantly on the look-out for similar reasons to discredit each other's athletes, their relations would certainly be in a turmoil at all times. Charlevoix could, without much trouble, find young men in other schools who are as innocently guilty of so-called professionalism. There is hardly a youth who goes through school without competing in contests for which prizes are given in excess of the value set by the state athletic association. But why look for trouble?

It must be admitted that Novak and McCall are guilty of violating rulings of the state athletic association. The blame may be placed on school officials or parents for not warning them of what the consequences might be. They should have known themselves, although we firmly believe they value their participation in school athletics far above the paltry sums received for winning the tournament, and that the punishment meted out to them is unreasonable.

And for the person who so kindly sent in the clipping that resulted in their disbarment, words cannot adequately express our feeling. It certainly was a small trick. Charlevoix high school will continue its athletic activities without the participation of Novak and McCall, but the injustice done these young men is a matter far more serious than that of just winning contests.

CONSERVATION ENFORCEMENT EFFICIENT

99 Per Cent of Arrests Resulted in Convictions, Figures Show

A man arrested for conservation law violation hasn't much chance of being acquitted or getting his case thrown out of court.

Ninety nine per cent of all arrests for conservation law violations last year resulted in court convictions, figures compiled by the law enforcement division of the department of conservation show.

Last year 4,161 arrests were made by conservation officers.

This gradual increase in the percentage of convictions is not mere chance, according to Hugh E. Green, chief conservation officer. It is the result of a more effective working of a policy that has long been adopted by this division. That is to exercise care in the making of an arrest—to be absolutely sure that a violation has been committed, and to be able to prove it in court.

The number of arrests made each year by conservation officers has no particular significance, Mr. Green said. A large number does not necessarily mean that more people are not heeding the conservation laws. Twice as many violators are warned and lectured as are taken to court. But when a man is taken to court he has a very slight chance of evading a penalty.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

Sixteen Dairy Calves and Yearlings Exhibited at Show

The first annual achievement day for the Barnard Calf, Pig and Canning clubs held last Saturday at Barnard exceeded fondest expectations. The weather was great, program fine and the display of young livestock excellent.

Highlights on the program were the splendid music by the Barnard band, the highly interesting talk by L. V. Benjamin, district club leader; talks by Warren Shapton and James Block on club trips to the state fair and Gaylord club camp respectively; remarks on what the parents think of club work by Earl Shapton, and songs led by Dorothy Smith. Talk about a bull game, you should have seen the old boys beat the club youngsters by a score of 15 to 14.

The exhibit of calves and pigs was a surprising feature of the day. Generally speaking, they were fitted and prepared for the show in an excellent manner by the club boys. The horns were polished to a brilliant luster, the hair was brushed and combed; also, the calves were trained to lead. Ribbons were awarded by the various breed associations. Prize money awarded the winners was generously donated by the Charlevoix Cooperative association, Charlevoix, Chamber of Commerce, E. A. Young, Realtor, and the two Charlevoix banks. Thanks for this splendid assistance.

In the Holstein class, under eight months, Marion Jackson, East Jordan, won first place. In the Holstein class over eight months first place went to David Matchett, Charlevoix. In the Guernsey class under eight months first place was won by Edwin Gregory, Charlevoix. Carleton Smith won first in the Guernsey class over eight months.

Newton Pierce, Charlevoix, won first in the Shorthorn class. Martin Richardson, Charlevoix, was awarded first in still another class. In the pig club group first place was awarded Carleton Ager.

All in all it was a great occasion, and one that will be remembered by the club members, parents and friends.

on the fourth. Anee made a beautiful pass to McSaba over the goal for the final counter. Charlevoix kicked, but the whistle ended the battle.

A summary of the game showed Onaway held Charlevoix for downs but once while failing to make a first down for themselves. Onaway completed two lateral passes out of a dozen pass plays, but failed to make any yardage. Charlevoix intercepted three Onaway passes for good gains and completed three out of three passes for them. Ives, two for good yardage and the third for a touchdown. After the first quarter, Charlevoix made but few fumbles and the game was quite free of penalties on either side. Both teams played clean ball and there were no injuries. John Ferez of Traverse City, was the referee and handled the game in fine shape.

Charlevoix meets their crucial test at south side field next Saturday afternoon when they tackle Boyne City, class C champs for the past two years.

Kipke has the heaviest, and we believe, the best team. Charlevoix has had in several years. He has seen them in action and will have the rough spots smoothed off for Saturday's game. Charlevoix ought to take Boyne into camp. The east-enders lost heavily by graduation last spring and will be playing their initial game of the season. This fact should be an advantage for the locals.

Let's all turn out and give the boys a big hand.

Norma Talmadge Talks from the Screen for First Time in "New York Nights"

Norma Talmadge, whose popularity as one of the ten most successful screen stars has never waned, comes now in a production that promises new revelations of her talent. In "New York Nights," the musical-all-talking picturization of the stage play "Tin Pan Alley" by Hugh Stanislaus Stange, which shows at the Palace theatre Wednesday and Thursday, she will not only appear in a role particularly suited to her gifts—the role of a chorus girl—but she will be seen dancing and will be heard singing the newest Al Jolson-Dave Dreyer composition, "A Year From Today."

The story centers about the personality of a show girl who continues a marriage with a worthless song writer in the hope that she can reform him. In the process she runs the full Broadway gamut of night life, adventure and resplendent apartments.

Playing the lead opposite Miss Talmadge, for the fourth consecutive picture, is Gilbert Roland as the song writer. John Wray, actor-playwright, is the "heavy." Lilian Tashman is a hard-boiled chorus girl. Others in the cast are Roscoe Karns and Mary Doran.

First Aid Needed for Movie Fight

Featured players and extras of "Hell Harbor," the United Artists' all-talking picture starring Lupe Velez which plays at the Palace theatre on Saturday and Sunday, made generous use of arnica and bandages as the result of a free-for-all which is part and parcel of one of the big climaxes in the production. The picture was taken at Rocky Point, one of the most picturesque spots in the Floridian everglades. Many Tampana who had been agog with excitement at the prospect of having a film company in their midst, contrived to get themselves cast as extras in the big dance hall scene where the catch-as-catch-can battle took place. Despite bruises and cuts none of them has lost any enthusiasm for picture production.

"Hell Harbor" unfolds the tender romance of a tempestuous lass who falls in love with the man she has plotted to ruin. Set in the colorful atmosphere of a Caribbean coast town overrun by greedy pearl traders, soldiers of fortune, fugitives and ne'er-do-wells, "Hell Harbor" offers Lupe Velez the most colorful vehicle of her short but eventful cinema career. In support of the Mexican star are Jean Hersholt, John Hollaud, Gibson Gowland, Al St. John, Harry Allen, Paul E. Burns and George Back-Asta.

BITS OF INFORMATION FOR FARMERS

There is no "best" breed of any class of livestock. The important thing is a good individual animal.

Many a valuable boar is sent to the block when he should be kept in the breeding herd. There are not many sires of superior quality, and if a boar proves to be a superior sire it pays to keep him as long as he can successfully breed the sows of the herd.

Tests of the influence of soil fertility on cane sirup show that sirup made from cane grown on heavily manured soil frequently contains considerable sediment, but that sirup from cane grown on light soil is comparatively clear. The U. S. department of agriculture says.

Begin the education of the colt as early as possible. Handle and pet but never tease or "rough" a colt. A good plan is to break the colt to lead before it is weaned and to harness it between the ages of two and three years. Accustom a colt to work gradually and do not use it at heavy work until it is practically mature.

Steers will be in better condition for shipping if they are given such feeds as oats, flax, and linseed meal toward the end of the feeding period. Other grains and all laxative feeds, including silage and legume hay, should be reduced at least half during the last two to three days before shipping. Some dry roughage such as grass hay should be fed.

To liquefy crystallized extracted honey, heat it in a double boiler. Never heat honey directly over a stove or flame, as this injures the flavor. Most honeys will crystallize and harden if exposed to changes of temperature. However, many people prefer to use honey in the crystallized form. Honey heated higher than 160 degrees F. quickly loses its delicate flavor and darkens rapidly.

Sell Eggs on Quality Basis

If you sell eggs to local dealers, insist on selling them on a quality basis, says the U. S. department of agriculture. Under a quality basis, the buyer does not pay for eggs that are unwholesome and unfit for food; and he should pay a differential, based on quality, for the good eggs. This system offers an incentive to produce good eggs. Some states regulating egg buying require purchasing on the loss-off basis.

Poultry need more mineral feed in proportion to their total feed requirements than most other classes of animals. Mineral feed is best supplied in the form of crushed oyster shells, or limestone, which furnishes calcium for the egg shells. Steamed bone meal may also be fed to advantage, especially to supply phosphates. The bone meal may be mixed with the mash ration. Bone meal contains lime and phosphorus, which are highly important for egg production.

Feeding pigeons is entirely different from feeding other poultry. Give pigeons a ration of whole grains and a constant supply of fresh water and grit, but no mash or green feed, say poultry specialists of the U. S. department of agriculture. A good grain mixture is four parts, by weight, of small, whole corn, three parts each of kafir and field or Canada peas, and one part each of hard red wheat and millet or hempseed. Include hempseed in the molting period. In warm weather, reduce the proportion of corn in the ration. Pigeons feed their young on "pigeon milk," produced in the crops of both the parent birds.

Stinking smut of wheat and covered smut and stripe disease of barley succumb to certain dust fungicides as well as to liquid fungicides, and the former have several advantages. Seed for planting, if treated with a satisfactory dust, is not injured by storing, and therefore the work of treating the seed may be done in a slack season. Dust fungicides also protect stored grain from weevils and to some extent from rodents. Dust fungicides are easy to apply. They are mixed with the grain at the rate of two or three ounces per bushel, in a barrel mixer or other simple mechanical mixer. As a rule, treated grain should not be used for feeding livestock, and therefore only enough for seed should be dusted. However, poultry can eat wheat that has been treated with copper carbonate.

"Devil Grass"

In the irrigated sections of the southwest, Bermuda grass is known as "devil grass" on account of the trouble it causes in irrigated fields, but in the gulf states this crop is one of the most valuable pasture grasses. Bermuda grass pasture should be closely grazed, says the U. S. department of agriculture, as the stems dry and wiry if allowed to get too old. If there are not enough animals to keep Bermuda grass well grazed, it may pay to harvest the crop for hay, or clip the grass with a mower in order to get a fresh growth for pasture. On sandy soils Bermuda grass will not stand trampling and close grazing as well as on heavier soils, says the department and in such situations carpet grass and Bahia grass are to be preferred.

A slippery concrete feeding floor is undesirable for livestock. A rough surface that will give a good foothold can easily be provided when making the floor by sliding a straightedge along the side forms with a sawlike motion and "jiggling" it up and down.

Do this while the concrete is fairly soft. Another way is to roughen the surface with a stiff broom after the concrete has set sufficiently.

Although canaries when acclimated can stand a good deal of cold, they are susceptible to sudden changes in temperature, and their cages should be hung away from drafts, says the biological survey of the D. S. department of agriculture. It is a good plan to hang a cage before a window, where the birds will get light and sunshine, provided it is draft-proof and kept closed in cold or stormy weather. Keep the room at a fairly even temperature day and night, and in cold weather cover the cage with a cloth at night, says the survey. Don't hang a cage above a radiator, or in the kitchen.

Good size and quick growth are the essentials in raising good roasters. Ground grains produce better flesh than whole grains and are more easily mixed and fed with milk. Use about two pounds of milk to one pound of mash. If dried milk is used, mix 15 pounds in 100 pounds of mash and add water. Cornmeal, oatmeal, low-grade flour, middlings, and finely ground oats are good fattening grains. Give water freely at the beginning and end of the fattening period. Feed the birds very lightly twice a day for about the first two days; then feed them all they will eat twice a day for the rest of the time, but do not leave feed before them. Cockerels weighing about four pounds will gain about three-fourths of a pound in flesh in 10 days feeding.

A thick steak after searing may be successfully finished in a hot oven (340° F.). Slip a rack under the steak in the skillet, and the meat will cook evenly without being turned.

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale. Notice is hereby given that default has occurred in the conditions of that certain mortgage, dated the 30th day of November, 1918, executed by Arthur Van Amburg and Nellie S. Van Amburg, his wife, as mortgagors, to the Federal Land bank of St. Paul, a body corporate, of the city of St. Paul, county of Ramsey, state of Minnesota, as mortgagee, filed for record in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for Charlevoix county, Michigan, on the 25th day of December, A. D. 1918, at 4:00 o'clock p. m., recorded in Liber 62 of mortgages on page 258 thereof, in that certain installment of forty-two and 25-100 dollars ($42.25), principal and interest due November 30, 1929, remains unpaid; and further, that the taxes were not paid by the mortgagors and were permitted to become delinquent, that on the failure of said mortgagors to pay such taxes, The Federal Land bank of Saint Paul did elect to pay the same, and on June 27, 1930, paid the sum of One Hundred Forty-seven and 67-100 dollars ($147.67) as taxes for the years 1928 and 1929, that pursuant to the provisions of said mortgage, said mortgagee has elected to declare the whole debt secured thereby to be now due and payable, and there is due and payable at the date of this notice upon the debt secured by said mortgage, the sum of One Thousand Three Hundred Forty and 49-100 dollars ($1,340.49); and that no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover said debt or any part thereof, that, by virtue of a power of sale therein contained, said mortgage will be foreclosed and the land and premises therein described lying and being in the county of Charlevoix, state of Michigan, as follows: to-wit:

The North Half of the Southeast Quarter (N½SE¼) of Section Thirty (30), Township Thirty-four (34) North, Range Six (6) West, containing Eighty (80) acres, more or less, according to the Government survey thereof, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash by the sheriff of Charlevoix county, at the front door of the court house, in the city of Charlevoix, in said county and state, on Tuesday, October 28, 1930, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon, to pay and satisfy the debt secured by said mortgage and the costs and disbursements allowed by law upon said foreclosure sale.

Dated this 26th day of July, 1930. The Federal Land Bank of Saint Paul, mortgagee.

James F. Shepherd, attorney for the mortgagee, Cheboygan, 31113

PETOSKEY GIRLS INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

Two Taken to Hospital Following Accident Tuesday Night

Two Petoskey girls were quite severely injured in an automobile collision Tuesday evening at the corner of State and Clinton streets.

A light coach driven west on Clinton street by Foster Johnson, Iron-ton youth, crashed into a large sedan carrying the two Petoskey young ladies and four other companions as they were traveling south on State street.

The impact pushed the sedan against the curbing in front of the Earl Johnston residence and tipped it over on its top. The six girls had to be extricated through a window.

Lucille Reilly was taken to the Charlevoix hospital with a badly sprained knee, and Nell Lambert suffered from minor cuts, bruises and shock.

Other occupants of the sedan were Mildred Eppler, Beulah Vaughn and Alice House, all of Petoskey.

Johnson and Ole Neilson, occupants of the coach, were not injured. Both cars were badly wrecked.

If troubled with headache, dizziness, nervousness or a pain in the back of the head, the cause is eye-strain, and the only permanent relief is glasses properly fitted. Consult Dr. Lenhy, the Optometrist, when he comes Monday, October 6th. Office at Hotel Charlevoix.—Adv. 39t2.

This New Instant-Light
Aladdin
MANTLE LAMP

At Less Expense
from KEROSENE

No longer need the home without electricity be without a modern white light with all of its many advantages. This new Aladdin burns common kerosene, and gives a light nearer in quality to sunlight than all others. Why struggle along in the semi-darkness of the old open flame lamp, when you can at a small investment have a light that will make your home bright and cheerful.

Its use will make it possible for every member of your family to do whatever they may wish to do indoors time, for its light enables you to do all evening work quicker and better.

Aladdin Light is Nearest Sunlight

A match and a minute is all it takes to light it. Burns common kerosene (coal oil) with 94% air—only 6% fuel. Gives a modern white light nearest to sunlight. Burns without smoke, noise, smell or trouble. Absolutely safe. Operates as simply as the old style lamp and runs for 50 hours on a gallon of oil. Tested by 33 leading Universities and Colleges and every claim verified. Approved by Fire Underwriters and Good Housekeeping Institute.

No other artificial light has such endowments.

A Style for Every Purpose at a Price to Suit Every Purse

Aladdins are modern too in style and finish—can be secured in table, vase, hanging, bracket and floor lamp—a style for every purpose and need.

Exquisite Shades; Hand Decorated in Either Glass or Parchment

Beautiful multicolored shades in either glass or parchment are available—exceedingly decorative and pleasing in design. Plain glass shades too if you prefer.

TWO INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT ON MONDAY

Ila Bassett, Age 10 Years, Suffered Leg Fracture

Miss Ila Bassett, ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Bassett, was painfully injured Monday noon when she was struck by a car driven by Fred G. Bellinger at the corner of State street and Garfield avenue.

In company with Neva Kirby, age 9, the injured girl had just alighted from a truck driven by Lawrence Taylor, in which they were being given a ride to school. Both stepped directly in front of Bellinger's car. The Bassett girl suffered a fracture of her right leg and received other bad bruises. The Kirby girl fortunately was only slightly hurt, although thrown several feet by the impact.

Both were taken to the Charlevoix hospital for treatment. Miss Kirby was taken to her home shortly afterward, and word comes that the little Bassett girl's condition is not considered serious.

DUCK HUNTERS MAY USE OUTBOARD MOTOR

However, Motor Must be Laid in Boat While Hunting

A duck hunter who detaches his outboard motor and lays it in the bottom of the boat while he is hunting is not violating the law, in the opinion of the office of the attorney general.

The law enforcement division of the department of conservation has recently received several requests for rulings on this question from both hunters and field officers, some contending that a motor had to be moved to a raft before a boat could be considered as anything else than a motorboat. Others claimed that with the motor detached the boat was no longer a motor boat.

The attorney general's office takes this latter attitude.

"It would not be a violation of the statute prohibiting hunting waterfowl during such times as said person is upon any kind of floating device or other contrivance propelled by or using as motive power, steam, gas, naphtha, oil, gasoline, or electricity, if the individual should be found to be hunting ducks while in a row boat merely because it contained an outboard motor detached and in the bottom of the boat," the opinion states.

NINE HOUGHTON LAKE
COTTAGERS PAY FINE

Arrested for Illegal Disposal of Sewage in Inland Lake

Nine Houghton Lake cottagers, charged by the pollution division of the department of conservation with polluting the lake through illegal methods of disposing of sewage, have been convicted in a Rosecommon county justice court and have been sentenced to pay fine of $25 each. Costs ran from $9.30 to $16.10 in each case. All those convicted have been given 30 days in which to "clean up" and rebuild their sewage systems to cost them between $50 and $100 each. In event they do not come within the time limit each day of delinquency will be considered as a separate offense.

The nine paying fines are: Ray Walling, Denver Sprague, Ora Akin, Effner Parker, Hazan Randall, Norman Hart, Charles Evans, George Snapp and Dr. Roy Eagle.

Wednesday evening at 7:45.

Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to all services.

"Matter" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, September 21.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "For, behold, I create new heavens and a new earth; and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind" (Isa. 65:17).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "When we fully understand our relation to the Divine, we can have no other Mind but His,—no other Love, wisdom, or Truth, no other sense of Life, and no consciousness of the existence of matter or error" (p.205).

CENTRAL LAKE TOT
FELL INTO CISTERN

Had Narrow Escape from Accident There Last Tuesday

The four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dawson, residing on the Willis Wilkinson place in Bay View, narrowly escaped drowning when he fell into a cistern on Tuesday of last week.

The cistern was ten feet deep and contained about two and one-half feet of water. It was about 15 minutes before the child was taken out by a neighbor.

The child was watching his mother draw wash water from the cistern, and as she turned around to empty the pail, leaned over the edge and fell in, head first.

According to Dr. F. P. Ramsey of East Jordan, the boy will suffer no ill effects, other than the shock, from the accident.

SERIOUS SHORTAGE OF ROUGHAGE CROPS SEEN

Extremely Dry Summer Season Has Brought Condition

Michigan farmers will experience a serious shortage in roughage crops this winter because of the increasing demand from other states for Wolverine produce. G. A. Brown, head of the animal husbandry department at Michigan State college, stated. Brown stated that drought conditions in other states, principally Indiana and Ohio, have caused dairymen to come to Michigan to secure their winter roughage feed. Bids for alfalfa hay which is to be shipped or trucked into other states have been as high as $30 a ton for second cutting, and many farmers who have had any surplus have already sold it.

1930 DUCK SEASON
CLAIMS 4 VICTIMS

Man Drowned and Three Other Wounded on Opening Day

The first reported casualties of the duck hunting season in Michigan showed three hunters shot and one drowned.

In the Saginaw-Bay district Edwin Hartner, 19, of Saginaw, and Joseph Badour of Essexville, were admitted to Mercy hospital for treatment of wounds. Both were hit in the right eye by stray shots. A third youth, Vernon Melton of Saginaw, was wounded in the right hand, and right leg by stray shots.

Louis Clark, 38, Battle Creek business man, was drowned in the Kalamazoo river when he stepped into a deep hole while wading in to retrieve two ducks he shot. The accident occurred 12 miles west of Battle Creek.

BOYNE DEFEATED RED AND WHITE

WON ANNUAL BATTLE HERE
SATURDAY 18 TO 0

Visiting Eleven, Playing Under Adverse Conditions, Took Advantage of "Breaks" to Win

Playing on a water-soaked field and for the most part in a driving rain storm, Boyne City high school won their traditional football battle from Charlevoix's Red and White eleven at south side field Saturday afternoon, 18 to 0. The victory was the fourth for the Brotherton clan in successive years.

Conditions were not very ideal for football Saturday and before the contest opened it could easily be seen that the team getting the "breaks" would win. Boyne got most of them, but, despite this fact, it must be said they played smarter ball than Charlevoix. They made many of their "breaks" and were alert enough to take advantage of them.

Boyne won the toss and elected to kick. They chose the west goal in order to take advantage of the wind. The first boot sailed nearly to Charlevoix's goal and the locals, after four attempts to gain, were forced to punt from their 15-yard line. The kick was against the wind and short, Boyne receiving in Charlevoix territory. They tried one play and returned the punt over Charlevoix's goal, giving the locals the ball on their own 20-yard line. One play was stopped, an off-side penalty shoved them back further. Anee's punt from the 5-yard strip was blocked and Boyne recovered. Rouse, their quarterback, went over for a touchdown on the first play. His drop kick for extra point was blocked and the count stood Boyne 6, Charlevoix 0, before the game had hardly started.

The set-back failed to dampen the spirit of Kipke's men, however. During the balance of the first quarter, in the second and again in the third, they outplayed the Brotherton outfit and, on several occasions, it looked as if they would turn the tide to victory or at least a tie. However, with three good chances to score, they could not muster enough punch when it was needed.

Starting play after the first touchdown, Boyne kicked over Charlevoix's goal, giving the locals the ball on their 20-yard strip. Arvilla, Anee and Clark were held on successive plays and Anee punted to mid-field. Boyne was likewise held and they punted over the goal and play was again resumed from Charlevoix's 20-yard line. Using straight line plays, Charlevoix reeled off two first downs and were within scoring distance when the quarter ended.

Again in the second period, after Boyne had fumbled on their 25-yard line, Charlevoix threatened. Seeing a chance to even the count, Kipke's men opened a strong drive that put them on Boyne's 5-yard strip, but after four attempts to score the ball went over. Boyne's punt was a short one, but the half pulled them out of danger.

Near the end of the third period, after both teams had battled to little advantage, Anee punted to Boyne's 5-yard line. Doyle was stopped on a line plunge and Rouse's punt just as the period ended was short. Starting play on Boyne's 30-yard strip, Charlevoix made a first down on three plunges and it looked like a touchdown. However, over-anxiousness cost the locals two 5-yard penalties and their final attempt, a pass, was blocked, ending their last serious bid.

Boyne took over the helm from then on. They ripped off a first down and Poirier went to Charlevoix's 25-yard line on a run around right end. A 25-yard penalty stopped their scoring chance and they punted to Charlevoix's 10-yard strip. After three attempts to gain Anee punted. The kick was hurried and went outside on his own 20-yard line. On Boyne's first play, Sandel, right half, went around right end to the 5-yard strip, and after two line plays Poirier scored. Rouse's drop-kick for extra point was blocked and Boyne led 12 to 0.

The visitors scored again before the final whistle. Arvilla fumbled the kick-off deep in his own territory, and Boyne recovered. After two attempts at the line, Rouse passed to White, right end, and he skipped over for a touchdown.

In scrimmage, Charlevoix scored 7 first downs to Boyne's two. Boyne attempted and completed one pass for a touchdown, while Charlevoix completed one out of several tries. Charlevoix made gains consistently through Boyne's line, while the visitors made few gains by plunges. There appeared to be little difference in size and strength of the two teams. Charlevoix has one decided weakness — interference for end runs. Instead of blocking the opposing tacklers and throwing them off their feet, Charlevoix's interference seldom dropped their men and consequently their plays were broken up. John Ferenz of Traverse City, referee, and his fellow-townsmen, Clyde Greichen, was umpire.

SECRETARY NATIONAL ASSN.
WAS SPEAKER AT HARBOR

Two Hundred Heard Him Explain
Work of Fighting Eye and Other Diseases

About 200 Indians from all over this region gathered at the village hall at Harbor Springs Thursday evening to hear a talk by Dr. Running Bear, of Wheeling, West Virginia, secretary of the American Indian association. The visiting chief explained the work of this organization as being largely educational and social, centering considerably in an effort for relief of eye trouble from which thousands of Indians of the United States are suffering.

Eder Matthews, village president, presided and presented the visiting speaker. Dr. Running Bear is an Indian artist and a minister. He has traveled extensively and is devoting his income to the work of the association in undertaking. He stated that the national dues are $1.50 per member per year and that the money is really a missionary gift to the Indians needing education and medicines.

The speaker gave a highly interesting address, dealing largely with efforts to organize the Indians, the benefits to be secured from organized effort, and reviewed the work of this nature carried on in the past. The present organization, it was explained, was started in 1912 and has enjoyed a steady growth since that time.

It has worked with the federal bureau of Indian affairs at Washington for better handling of Indian affairs, more and better lands for the tribes, more and better medical care, greater educational effort, etc., he said, and explained that the results obtained thus far were highly encouraging.

The speaker explained that there are fully 60,000 Indians in America gradually losing their eye sight through illness and that more than 122,000 are suffering from tuberculosis.

PEN OF SQUIRRELS A BIG ATTRACTION

Antics of Young Pets Amuse Young and Old Alike

Charlevoix citizens, old and young alike, have been getting a great "kick" out of watching a pen of six young Red squirrels now on display at Wood Bros. hardware store.

They are the property of James Davis and were taken a short time ago from a hollow telephone pole. Mr. Davis fixed them up a cage with a wheel, perches, etc., and their antics are a source of constant amusement for those passing the store.

AIR EXPRESS HAS A NEW SCHEDULE

GIVE ROUND TRIP DAILY TO GRAND RAPIDS

Advantages Offered by Alternation—Has Safely Covered More Than 150,000 Miles

The Grand Rapids-Detroit air passenger route, the first exclusively air passenger route in the United States, will again become active on October 6th with the inauguration of the Michigan Air Express company's line from Grand Rapids to Detroit, which completes the northern transcontinental route from New York City to Seattle.

At Detroit the line will connect with the Stout Air Lines' amphibian planes for Cleveland and other eastern cities and, at Grand Rapids, with the Kohler Aviation Corporation's amphibian planes for Milwaukee and the northwest.

Stinson six passenger cabin monoplanes with Wright whirlwind motors will be used in the new line to Detroit, assuring a combination of comfort with the best possible equipment.

The service will be started with one round trip daily, which will be increased to two round trips daily within 60 days.

The first plane will leave Grand Rapids at 9:45 a. m., October 6th, arriving in Lansing at 10:30 and Detroit at 11:30. Passengers from Milwaukee will leave that city via Kohler line at 8:00, arriving in Muskegon at 8:55 and Grand Rapids at 9:30, and the Michigan Air Express leaves Petoskey at 7:00 a. m., arriving in Grand Rapids at 9:30. At Detroit, passengers will have time for luncheon and leave on the Stout planes at 12:20 for Cleveland.

On the return trip, the Michigan Air Express will leave Detroit at 12:00 noon, arriving in Lansing at 1:00 and reaching Grand Rapids at 1:55, connecting with the Kohler Milwaukee plane, which leaves Grand Rapids at 2:15, arriving in Muskegon at 2:55 and Milwaukee at 3:50, and with the Michigan Air Express plane for Petoskey, which leaves Grand Rapids at 2:30, arriving there at 4:41.

This new service gives direct connecting scheduled air service between Cleveland, Detroit, Lansing, Grand Rapids, Muskegon, Milwaukee, LaCrosse, Minneapolis, St. Paul, and with cities on the Northern Michigan route, Petoskey, Charlevoix, Traverse City, Cadillac and Big Rapids. Other air lines to the east and west coasts connects at Cleveland and at Milwaukee, but the schedules have not been adjusted to make direct connections at this time. It is planned, however, to eventually have a through schedule from one coast to the other.

On August 1, 1926, the Stout Air Lines inaugurated the first exclusive air passenger service in the United States between Grand Rapids and Detroit and operated the line for a year as an experimental line before starting its Detroit-Cleveland service. The Michigan Air Express has been successfully operating an air passenger and express service to Northern Michigan cities since the spring of 1930. The Kohler Aviation Corporation has just concluded its first year's successful operation of services between Grand Rapids and Milwaukee, using amphibian planes three times each way, daily. This record assures competent, experienced fast air travel.

CHARLEVOIX HIGH IN DEBATE LEAGUE

TEAM COACHED BY RUTH M.
DOWD OF FACULTY

Meet Neighboring School November
7—Chain Store Topic for 1930-31 Series

Charlevoix high school has become a member of the Michigan High School Debating League this year and will compete for the interscholastic debate championship of the state, according to an announcement by Professor G. E. Denmore, of the University of Michigan, manager of the league.

The first step in the forensic race for state honors will be taken on November 7 when the local high school debating team, coached by Miss Ruth M. Dowd of the high school faculty will meet one of the neighboring schools, to be announced later by the University, in a debate on the subject: "Resolved: That National Chain Grocery Stores operating in the State of Michigan are detrimental to the people of the State."

The debating of this question has been endorsed by the National Chain Store association, The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, The Kroger Grocery and Baking Company, The Independent Grocers and Meat Dealers Association of Michigan.

Three other state-wide debates on November 21, December 12, and January 9, will constitute the four preliminary debates in which all schools will participate in order to compete for entrance in the elimination series of debates which begin on February 20.

Only the schools with the highest percentage of victories will be entered in this elimination series and each of these schools will receive the University of Michigan Wall Plaque trophy through the cooperation of The Detroit Free Press. This trophy is in the shape of a shield, the design of which was taken from the well-known University of Michigan shield. Its base is of American walnut, 17 inches in height and 15 inches across the top, and the medallion, superimposed upon the shield, is 9 inches in diameter, three-eighths of an inch thick, and is cast in solid bronze with all lettering artistically embossed.

While the elimination series, beginning on February 20, is in progress the schools will debate among themselves with the defeated schools dropping out after each debate until only two undefeated schools remain. Those two schools will be taken to Ann Arbor, at the expense of the University, for the state championship debate on May 1. Each of the six debaters participating in this final debate will be presented with a gold watch by The Detroit Free Press and both schools will receive a large bronze trophy cup, one engraved First Honors, and the other engraved Second Honors, presented by the University of Michigan extension division.

The University of Michigan extension division will recognize the success attained by the two semi-final schools by presenting each with a bronze trophy cup properly engraved.

A large number of high schools from all parts of the state have already joined the league, and it is expected that by October 10, the date when the league enrollment closes, the membership for the year will surpass last year's record membership of 265 schools.

Any four-year high school in the state may become a member of the Michigan High School Debating League by applying for membership to Professor G. E. Denmore, manager, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

The Michigan High School Debating League, the largest forensic organization of its kind in the United States, was organized by the Board of Regents of the University of Michigan in 1917 with a membership of 64 schools which has steadily grown to the membership of 265 schools of last year. With the largest enrollment in the history of the league, 1,800 high school debaters participated in 700 debates which were heard by 150,000 people of the state.

The final state championship debate of last year, held in Hill Auditorium in Ann Arbor, where Clawson high school defeated Detroit Northwestern high school was attended by 4,500 people, which is the largest audience ever to attend a debate in this state.

RECOUNT COST IS QUARTER MILLION

TAX PAYERS MUST DIG DOWN TO PAY THE "SHOT"

Groesbeck Cry Against Waste of State's Money Didn't Mean
Very Much After All

While the primary recount is in progress in Lansing at an estimated cost to Michigan tax payers of approximately a quarter of a million dollars, Charlevoix county residents may console themselves from the fact that their ballots contained less errors than those of other Michigan counties.

We predict, however, that a soothed vanity will prove trifling compensation for the good, hard-earned dollars that must be "couched up" to satisfy a bunch of poor losers.

This publication supported Groesbeck's candidacy for governor, but certainly does not approve of what is now taking place in Lansing. It is hard to believe that Groesbeck, who just closed a campaign through which he stressed the needless waste of public money, would turn about and willfully cause the squandering of a quarter million dollars, which, of course, will be saddled upon our state at a time when the public is already over-burdened.

If Mr. Groesbeck had the welfare of Michigan at heart, he certainly would not be wasting the public's money just to vent his spite on an honorable candidate, just because he received the majority of votes.

Getting back to the subject of ballots, this county had a greater percentage of correct boxes than any other Michigan county.

There were irregularities, however, even though small. In cases where mistakes were found, the original count of the board of canvassers stood. Our standing among the faults were improper sealing and wrapping of ballots, and the failure of inspectors to report to the county clerk for instructions prior to election.

The estimated cost of the recount for 83 Michigan counties is $250,000. The state's expense for Charlevoix county was $600.

TWO CADILLAC LADS KILLED IN ACCIDENT

Football Reserves in Car Smashup on Way from Big Rapids

Two high school boys were killed and four others were injured last Wednesday night when their automobile turned over on the highway south of Cadillac. They were returning from a reserve team football game at Big Rapids. The accident occurred when their machine went around one car and crashed head-on into a truck coming from the opposite direction.

William Buckley, Jr., 15, and Leonard Laurant, 15, were killed. Those injured were Carl Lindstrom, 15; Roland Lund, 17; Clifford Bloomquist, 16, and Harley Murphy, 17. All are in a hospital.

COUNTY FAIR WAS BEST ON RECORD

EXHIBITS WERE MOST COM-PLETE IN HISTORY

All Departments Filled to Overflow—Wild Life Exhibit Was Center of Interest

Helping any previous year in its history from a point of interest, the 46th annual exhibit of the Charlevoix County Agricultural Society, held last week at the East Jordan fair grounds, goes down on the records as the most successful ever staged.

According to Frank F. Bird, secretary of the society, there has never been a time when exhibits were so large and complete. The association ordered the same number of premium ribbons as in former years, but fell way short of the quantity needed. It has some times been a question whether Charlevoix county residents wanted a fair. However, with this year's exhibits the largest on record, it hardly seems that interest is waning, especially among the rural population.

Attendance has been reported up to standard following a check-up after the fair. Thursday's crowd was by far the largest of the week, although Friday promised a large attendance until a heavy rain drove fair-goers away.

Of more than ordinary interest to all those attending the fair was the wild-life display of the Michigan conservation department. The deer, coon, ducks, pheasants, fox, coyote, bear, beaver and badger were a constant source of interest to both the young and old alike, as was also the display of confiscated furs and guns. Fair and conservation department officials feel that the display was well worth while and favorably accepted.

While we are unable to give results of the three-day race program, the field of horses entered was the largest on record and the races fast and closely contested.

Livestock and cash prizes were awarded three days of the fair to holders of lucky numbers given out by Charlevoix county merchants. Twenty dollar gold pieces were won by Mrs. Alfred Johnson, George Morton, Boyne City, and Roy Gunderson, East Jordan. Ole Onland, East Jordan, won the registered Jersey bull, and registered Jersey heifers were won by Mrs. G. Bullard, Mancelona, and Ed. Carson, East Jordan. WHY SEWAGE DISPOSAL?

There has been in recent years an awakening of interest in the protection and rehabilitation of our natural streams and lakes, which are not only the source of water supply for millions of people, but also possess unlimited recreational value and opportunities. Public sentiment is molding movements to preserve the beauty and usefulness of natural streams and lakes against the ever increasing loads of pollution from domestic sewage and industrial wastes. The public today has, because of good roads and automobiles unlimited opportunities to enjoy nature through such sports as camping, fishing, swimming and similar pleasures. The League of America is, without doubt, the leading organization creating public demand for protective measures against stream pollution.

Public officials generally endeavor to maintain high standards of municipal progress at the lowest tax rate possible and unfortunately have unconsciously become indifferent to this important and vital question of sewage disposal. Generally, this indifference carries no great concern to the public, as the taxpayer is not as cognizant of any tangible and direct benefits from money spent for the purpose of sewage disposal as he is with that from money spent for the construction of a pavement or sidewalk in front of his property. The riparian owner, however, living along waters, carrying tons of impurities from some community above his homestead, is well aware of such difference and the once beautiful stream or lake has become an open sewer with obnoxious odors and unsightly sludge banks.

Under the common law, the court has repeatedly upheld the rights of the downstream property owner to receive the waters in its natural state free from the destructive effects of sewage and industrial wastes and state legislatures have enacted laws to protect the natural usefulness of rivers, streams and lakes.

Communities should assist the available natural purification agencies through the constructing of adequate sewage treatment works and thereby safeguard the inherent right of citizens afforded by clean streams.

The construction of adequate sewage treatment works should be recognized by local governments as a civic and moral obligation—not only as a necessity made incumbent upon it by laws governing stream pollution, but also as a means of safeguarding the recreational playgrounds of their citizens. Perhaps the thought is best expressed in the words of Prof. A. N. Talbot: "A responsibility that civilized people owe to civilization is to make proper disposal of its wastes."—Reprint of article by A. A. Brensey, sanitary engineer, Suhr, Berryman, Peterson & Suhr, Inc., 130 N. Wells street, Chicago.

AN ALL-YEAR OFFICE

The Michigan Tourist and Resort association has determined to retain its office on Michigan boulevard, Chicago, the year around. Its directors have made a wise decision.

With its great 16-foot neon "Michigan" sign, its scenic interior impressing the visitor almost as though he were stepping out on the beach of a sand dune resort, its animated electric window displays and changed showings with the seasons, this office is a constant advertisement of Michigan's playground resources. Minds are made up at all times of the year as to the place for next summer's outing. The retention of this constant and vivid reminder in downtown Chicago, and the information service going with it, would be worth while if there were no other advantage than keeping Michigan in Chicago residents' and visitors' minds the year around.

Aside from that, however, the office provides special facilities for extending the resort season through the color tour weeks of autumn, the fall hunting season and the winter sports period. Michigan has ceased to be just a school vacation playground. Hay fever is bringing a new influx of tourists as the families with children move homeward, October in Michigan is often the finest month of all. Winter sports lodges, carnivals and celebrations are gaining vogue in the north country where snow is assured. Chicago is the natural advertising outpost to sell these ventures to the territory furnishing most of our summer visitors, to put Michigan's best foot forward first of all resort areas in the spring and to provide a Chicago center of accommodation for the winter real-estate business in resort properties.

The Michigan office on Michigan boulevard should never close. —Grand Rapids Press.

TANK SALESMAN ROBBED OF CASH

Two Men Held On John W. Pangborn at Greenski Hill

John W. Pangborn, septic tank salesman from Otsego, Mich., who has been making regular calls over this territory during this year, was held up and robbed of about $14 in money and his watch by two men near Greenski hill Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Pangborn reported that he had left his parents at Boyne City and was enroute to Petoskey via Greenski hill. As he drove out onto the main highway, U.S.-31, at that point a black Buick coupe crowded him off the road. Two men, both young, stepped from the machine and menaced Pangborn with guns. They went through his pockets and took his cash.

The salesman indicated that both men were young, probably 17 to 19, one, rather dark with a dark blue sweater and the other, man with a rather tanned face. They seemed nervous, indicating they may have been amateurs at the robbery business.

CENTRAL LAKE BOY WED IN CHARLEVOIX

Ceremony Performed at Edwards Home September 20th

A pretty wedding occurred Saturday, September 20th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Edwards of 1301 Bridge street, Charlevoix, Mich., uniting in marriage John D. Kirby of Central Lake and Miss Neva Fethestone of Rochester, Mich.

They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Dale James, sister and brother-in-law of the groom. The wedding march was played by little Bernice Edwards, niece of the groom, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Rauch, pastor of the First Baptist church of Charlevoix.

After the ceremony 20 sat down to a bountiful wedding supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirby will make their home on the Bois Blanc island, where Mr. Kirby is a member of the coast guard crew.

MICHIGAN STATE COLLEGE WEEKLY BULLETIN

Dairy Cows Need Good Legume Hay

Any stinting of the dairy cow's ration because feeds are high priced will prove to be a poor economic practice, according to members of the dairy department of Michigan State college.

The dairy specialists anticipate that the shortage of hay in Michigan will cause some dairymen to hesitate about buying this roughage for cows, and the members of department point out that a reduction of the ration may result in injury to the cow. The average dairy cow will need from one to one and one-half tons of legume hay per year and the substitution of straw, marsh hay, or timothy hay will not prove to be a profitable dairy practice, the college men say. They also point out that the higher price for hay this year will increase the cost of feeding each cow approximately ten dollars.

Herd improvement association records show that a cow which produced 348 pounds of butterfat in 1929 made a return above feed cost of 134 dollars. The 10 dollar increase for hay would only lower the returns to 124 dollars while the substitution of poor roughages may reduce the production of the cow to a point where the returns will be a great deal lower.

Storing Soybeans

Be careful in curing and storing soybeans, as they spoil easily, says the U. S. department of agriculture. Watch the beans after threshing to prevent heating and molding. If they are to be used for seed, or if they are immature or contain a high percentage of damaged beans and foreign material, let them dry out thoroughly by spreading them on a floor immediately after threshing and turning them over from time to time before putting them in sacks or bins. The store room should be dry. There should be a free circulation of air around the sacks—cross piling them will accomplish this.

SLEEP ON RIGHT SIDE, BEST FOR YOUR HEART

If you toss in bed all night and can't sleep on right side, try simple glycerin, saline, etc. (Adlerika). Just ONE dose relieves stomach GAS pressing on heart so you sleep sound all night. Unlike other medicine, Adlerika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, removing poisons you never knew were there. Relieves constipation in 2 hours. Let Adlerika cleanse your stomach and bowels and see how good you feel! F. J. Fessenden, druggist.

YOUNG MEN'S CONFERENCE OCT. 11-12

Will Be Held at Cheboygan for Northern District of Y. M. C. A.

The young men of the Northern Michigan Y. M. C. A. are holding a fall conference for the high schools of this district. This conference will be held in Cheboygan, October 11-12, opening with a banquet on Saturday evening. The Cheboygan Rotary club, assisted by the Hi-Y club will entertain the 80 guests who have been invited to represent the high schools of the north.

A. E. Roberts of New York, National Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. will be the main speaker. Mr. Roberts has for many years been associated with John H. Mott and has played an important part in international relationships of the Y. He is one of America's best speakers and it is hoped that some men of the district will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear Mr. Roberts and acquaint themselves with what the young men of the Hi-Y clubs are doing in their quest for a fuller and a richer way of life.

New Construction for Metatarsal Arch

The ball of the foot is not flat so it should not be expected to find comfort on a flat insole in a shoe. In MUSEBECK DOUBLE-ARCH WEAR-STRAIGHT SHOES for men, the insole is built of firm leather and IT FITS THE BOTTOM OF THE FOOT so that there is a perfect support for the metatarsal arch.

METATARSAL ARCH

(C) Musebeck WEAR-STRAIGHT insole, shaped to give perfect foot balance. Results: Outsoles wear straight across the bottom instead of wearing thin to wedged shape at outside ball.

(D) Thick, mellow insole, shaped to Metatarsal Arch. A permanent solid leather arch that fits the normal foot and does not collapse.

(E) Imported hair felt, chemically treated. An insulation against dampness, cold or heat.

CORRESPONDENCE

NORWOOD

Mrs. Frank Coatta, Sr., of Charlevoix, called on Mrs. I. L. Dice last Tuesday morning.

Many of the Norwood citizens attended the East Jordan fair last week and reported it as being a good fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Isa Alward of Ellsworth, who have been looking after the interests of the William Alward farm home while Mr. and Mrs. Alward were on a vacation trip, returned to their home Monday evening.

John McCall of Traverse City enjoyed a few days' vacation with friends and relatives at Charlevoix and was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Richardson and family from Thursday until Sunday of last week.

Last Friday a heavy rain fell in our locality and was followed by a high wind for a couple of days, but now we are enjoying cool weather with an abundance of sunshine. The crops are mostly out of frost danger.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mayne and Mr. and Mrs. William Alward returned to their homes Monday evening after a motor trip to Lansing, where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman VanDusen and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Publow. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Mayne at Grand Rapids.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Whitman of Flint, on a return motor trip from Gaylord, called on William Richardson and family last Wednesday. Mr. Whitman is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Whitman, who was pastor of the M. E. church about 40 years ago, their children attending the Norwood school.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richardson and their son Cecil have returned to their home after motoring to Lansing, also to Hammond, Ind., where they were the guests of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Brennon and son Richard, then to Chicago. They also enjoyed an overnight visit at Traverse City with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John McCall and family.

Laverne McGhan is very ill.

Charles Jones was in Petoskey last week for medical treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Snyder left last Monday for a week's stay in Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Nellie Fowler of Grand Rapids, was the guest of Mrs. George Meggison last week.

A special meeting was called Thursday by the Ladies Aid of the Church of God, at the home of Mrs.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry, hard waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without losing a habit or ever increasing loss.

NO MEDICINE IN THE WORLD LIKE KONJOLA

"Though I Never Would Be Well Again," Said Saginaw Man in Praise of New Medicine

MR. BENJAMIN VINCENT

"To me there is no medicine in the world like Konjola," said Mr. Benjamin Vincent, Sixth and Madison streets, Carrollton, Saginaw. "I was told that I had stomach ulcers. My kidneys were out of order and my back ached all the time. Night risings were frequent. My stomach was so sore, I could scarcely bear the weight of my clothing. My son was then taken ill and we thought we were getting more than our share of misery."

"A friend of mine in the South wrote me about Konjola and told me to take it for my ailments. Two bottles of this great medicine were enough to show me that I was on the right road. I took five bottles in all and at the end of that time my health troubles were over. I eat and sleep as I did years ago and all my health problems have vanished."

Konjola, when taken over a period of from four to eight weeks, easily and harmlessly relieves ailments of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness.

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix, Mich., at F. J. Fessenden's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Reuben Pearl of Charlevoix and the following officers re-elected with the exception of the vice president, who did not hold the office the past year: President, Mrs. Jessie Shaw; vice president, Mrs. Palmer; secretary, Mrs. Snyder; treasurer, Mrs. Will Shaw.

BAY SHORE

Arthur Yohr is helping Oakley Saunders fill silo this week.

Ira Lee of East Jordan was a business caller here Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Gimble were Sunday evening guests at the McCall home.

There will be a box social and program at the church Friday evening, October 3rd.

There will be no school this week Thursday and Friday on account of teachers' institute.

Miss Mary Guzikzak of Petoskey visited at the McCall home Thursday evening and attended the East Jordan fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Voise are spending a two weeks' vacation visiting at A. G. Tillotson's and at Harhor Springs.

A large number from here attended the county fair at East Jordan last week and report a good fair and good attendance.

AT THE MOVIES

Spooks Seen in Sinister House on Movie Lot

An ominous-looking house, with dark corners, secret passageways, ancient furnishings and a generally sinister and foreboding appearance greeted workers at the First National and Vitaphone studios at Burbank, Cal., one morning.

The place had risen up almost overnight on the studio's back lot, built by the construction department for "In the Next Room," the mystery comedy featuring Jack Mulhall which comes to the Palace theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

"In the Next Room" is an all-talking version of the similarly named stage play by Eleanor Robson Belmont and Harriet Ford. The screen version was written by Harvey Gates and the dialogue by James Starr, Edward Cline directed.

Dorothy Mackaill and Sidney Blackmer, who appeared together in "The Love Racket," are again the heroine and hero in "Strictly Modern," the first National picture coming Saturday and Sunday to the Palace theatre.

Blackmer, who has in a measure taken the place of Jack Mulhall as Miss Mackaill's leading man, steps into the Mulhall type of role in "Strictly Modern." He is a small town fellow who almost marries the wrong girl. His situations with Miss Mackaill, who is a writer of cynical love novels, are the humorous, whimsical style that Mulhall might play, too.

The story is also a return for the actress to her former type of portrayals. After making "The Barker," "First National" cost her in more dramatic parts, such as those in "Her Captive Woman" and "The Great Divide." Now she again becomes a comedienne.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY
Sunday services 10:45 a. m.
Subject, "Unreality."
Wednesday evening at 7:45.
Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m.
The public is cordially invited to all services.

"Reality" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, September 28.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "Thy kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and thy dominion endureth throughout all generations" (Ps. 145:13).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "We know no more of man as the true divine image and likeness, than we know of God. The infinite Principle is reflected by the infinite idea and spiritual individuality, but the material so-called senses have no cognizance of either Principle or its idea" (p. 208).

If troubled with headache, dizziness, nervousness or a pain in the back of the head, the cause is eye-strain, and the only permanent relief is glasses properly fitted. Consult Dr. Leahy, the Optometrist, when he comes Monday, October 6th. Office at Hotel Charlevoix.—Adv. 392f.

LEGAL NOTICES

Registration Notice for General Election November 4th, 1930
To the Qualified Electors of the City of Charlevoix, State of Michigan:

Notice is hereby given that in conformity with the "Michigan Election Law," I, the undersigned city clerk will, upon any day except Sunday and legal holiday, the day of any regular or special election or primary election, receive for registration the name of any legal voter in said city not already registered who may APPLY TO ME PERSONALLY for such registration. Provided, however, that I can receive no names for registration during the time intervening between the second Saturday before any regular, special or official primary election and the day of such election.

Notice is hereby further given to the Qualified Electors of this city that I, the undersigned clerk of said city, will register qualified electors who may apply at my office on any business day in the year up to and including Saturday, October 25, 1930—last day for general registration by personal application for said election from 8:00 o'clock a. m. to 8:00 o'clock p. m.
Ray S. Hamilton,
City Clerk.
By D. S. Payton,
Deputy City Clerk.

Probate Notice

State of Michigan—The Probate Court for the County of Charlevoix.

At a session of said court, held at the probate office, in the city Charlevoix, in said county, on the 25th day of September, A. D. 1930.

Present: Hon. Ervan A. Rueggger, Judge of Probate.

Case No. 1043. Matter of the Estate of Lavinia Stafford, deceased. Raymond E. Stafford having filed in said court his petition praying that said court adjudicate and determine who were at the time of her death the legal heirs of said deceased and entitled to inherit the real estate of which said deceased died seized.

It is Ordered, that the 24th day of October, A. D. 1930, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at said probate office, he and is hereby appointed for hearing said petition.

It is Further Ordered, that public notice thereof be given by publication of a copy of this order, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing in the Charlevoix Courier, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county.

—Adv. 403f. Ervan A. Rueggger, Judge of Probate.

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale
Notice is hereby given that default has occurred in the conditions of that certain mortgage, dated the 30th day of November, 1918, executed by Arthur Van Amburg, and Nellie S. Van Amburg, his wife, as mortgagors, to the Federal Land Bank of St. Paul, a body corporate, of the city of St. Paul, county of Ramsey, state of Minnesota, as mortgagee, filed for record in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for Charlevoix county, Michigan, on the 26th day of December, A. D. 1918, at 4:00 o'clock p. m., recorded in Liber 62 of mortgages on page 258 thereof, in that certain installment of forty-two and 25-100 dollars ($42.25), principal and interest due November 30, 1929, remains unpaid; and further, that the taxes were not paid by the mortgagors and were permitted to become delinquent, that on the failure of said mortgagors to pay such taxes, The Federal Land Bank of St. Paul did elect to pay the same, and on June 27, 1930, paid the sum of One Hundred Forty-seven and 67-100 dollars ($147.67) as taxes for the years 1928 and 1929, that pursuant to the provisions of said mortgage, said mortgagee has elected to declare the whole debt secured thereby to be now due and payable; and there is due and payable at the date of this notice upon the debt secured by said mortgage, the sum of One Thousand Three Hundred Forty and 49-100 dollars ($1,340.49); and that no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover said debt or any part thereof, that, by virtue of a power of sale therein contained, said mortgage will be foreclosed and the land and premises therein described lying and being in the county of Charlevoix, state of Michigan, as follows, to-wit:

The North Half of the Southeast Quarter (N½SE¼) of Section Thirty (30), Township Thirty-four (34) North, Range Six (6) West, containing Eighty (80) acres, more or less, according to the Government survey thereof, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash by the sheriff of Charlevoix county, at the front door of the court house, in the city of Charlevoix, in said county and state, on Tuesday, October 28, 1930, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon, to pay and satisfy the debt secured by said mortgage and the costs and disbursements allowed by law upon said foreclosure sale.

Dated this 26th day of July, 1930. The Federal Land Bank of Saint Paul, mortgagee.

James F. Shepherd, attorney for the mortgagee, Cheboygan, Mich. 31113

GEORGE LINN DIED TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Succumbed Following Illness of Several Weeks—Pioneer Resident

Charlevoix lost a pioneer resident Tuesday by the death of George Linn, who died at 4 o'clock that afternoon at the home of his brother, James Linn, Antrim street. He had been ill for several weeks.

Deceased was born October 15, 1860, in Simco county, Canada, and lacked two weeks of being 70 years of age. He came to Charlevoix with his parents 50 years ago. The journey from Petoskey was made by stage coach, some members of the family walking to give room in the vehicle for women and smaller children.

Mr. Linn sailed on the lakes for many years out of Charlevoix and of late had been following various occupations. He was well known and highly respected by everyone in the city.

Mr. Linn was married in 1894 to Miss Phoebe Holland, now deceased. A son and daughter, William Linn of Detroit, and Mrs. Henry College of Battle Creek; three grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. William Poole, Charlevoix, Mrs. Sarah Walker, Talent, Oregon; three brothers, James M. and Thomas of Charlevoix, and John Albert Linn, Chicago, survive.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon from the First Baptist church, Rev. W. H. Rauch officiating. Interment will be at Brookside cemetery.

Campbell's bargain baskets freshly filled with shoes. Nothing over $1.00.—Adv. 401.

STATE PARKS CLOSE AFTER RECORD YEAR

Attendance During Summer Said to Surpass All Records

Following a season believed to have been unprecedented in point of attendance, 15 of Michigan's 65 state parks closed Tuesday evening. The parks superintendents are now storing their equipment for winter.

The parks closing Tuesday were: Benzie State park; Bloomer No. 3 at Ortonville; Bloomer No. 4 at Clarkston; Brimley State park at Brimley; Cheboygan State park at Cheboygan; D. H. Day State park at Glen Haven; Fletcher State park in Presque Isle county; Gladwin State park at Gladwin; Harrisville State park at Harrisville; Higgins Lake State park in Roscommon county; Charles Meurs State park at Pentwater; Silver Lake State park in Oceana county; White Cloud State park at Cedar River, and Wilson State park at Harrison.

While attendance figures for the season will not be compiled until later in the year, the parks division of the department of conservation has little doubt but that the final figures will show a large increase in attendance over 1929 when more than 7,000,000 state park visitors were registered.

Unusually warm weather which drove people out of doors, and numerous improvements and additional equipment in many of the parks have been given as the most important reasons for the increased popularity of the state parks this season.

Among the state parks improvements recently authorized by the state administrative board were: the building of a water line for the Bay City State park and fish hatchery; the building of a bath house at the Charles Meurs park; the building of a pavilion at the Harrisville park; and the installation of electric service at the Muskegon and Interlochen parks.

ANNUAL TOURIST ASSN. MEETING OCTOBER 9-10

Grand Rapids Will Be Host to Members of Assn. and Supervisors

The committee consisting of L. J. Thompson, Lee Woodruff and Carl L. Saunders, directors of the Michigan Tourist and Resort association, who were appointed to arrange date, place and program for the annual meeting of the association, have announced that it will be held at the Pantland hotel, Grand Rapids, on Thursday and Friday, October 9 and 10.

The first session will convene at the Pantland at 1:30 p. m., last time, on Thursday; business sessions will be held that afternoon, Friday morning and Friday afternoon; banquet at the Pantland on Friday evening.

The committee having charge of arrangements have promised to provide not only an interesting business session, but a real party at the banquet Friday evening. A complete program will be released later.

All supervisors in western Michigan will be invited to attend as guests of the association and sentiment ascertained in advance guarantees a large attendance.

POTATO SHOW PRE- MIUM BOOKS READY

Slight Increase in Premiums Are Offered This Year

The premium books of the Top O'Michigan Potato and Apple show, to be held at Gaylord on October 29 to 31, are being mailed this week and show a slight increase in premiums offered this year over any previous year.

With an enlarged junior department and an additional class in apples, the premium list this year, including contests and special awards, totals over $1,700. The potato lists continue to be largest with over $900 offered in all potato classes, both adult and junior divisions.

The potato growers of the Top O'Michigan should not hesitate to exhibit because their potatoes are small. The dry weather was general over all of northern Michigan and many potatoes will be small this year. The chances to win prizes at the show, however, are as good, if not better than ever before, according to B. C. Mellenkamp, secretary.

The best from the Top O'Michigan always goes to the State Potato show in February. With the very bad potato crop in southern Michigan, all winners at the Top O'Michigan show should have an opportunity of winning at the State show and of showing the State show winners that the Top O'Michigan potatoes are supreme.

Write to your county agricultural agent or to B. C. Mellenkamp, Boyne City, for a premium list and program if you have not already received one.

Plan now to show by selecting potatoes at digging time.

"Don't Work too Hard"

That's a kind bit of advice you've heard often, especially at house cleaning time, but when there is just so much work to be done, does it mean anything? When we ask you not to work too hard there is a meaning because here you can find all the modern conveniences for cleaning—vacuum cleaners, new mops, wall paper cleaner, brushes, pails, step ladders, and a very complete line of paints, varnishes and lacquers. See them and you won't work too hard.

SUPERVISORS IN OCTOBER SESSION

ANNUAL MEETING CONVENED AT COURT HOUSE MONDAY

L. C. Rouse Elected Road Commissioner—Other Important Business Still in Committee

Charlevoix county legislators opened their annual October session at the court house Monday morning.

With three days of the present session past, a greater portion of the important business to be transacted is still in committee. Wednesday morning the supervisors adjourned early so that committees could meet and prepare their reports.

Boyer City placed L. C. Rouse on the road commission Monday afternoon. A year ago, when it was that city's turn to name the commissioner, Frank Wageman of Eveline township was given the choice over Rouse. However, in the meantime, Boyer found fault with their representation and this year asked that a Boyer City resident be elected to the commission. According to recognized procedure it was East Jordan's turn and the name of Samuel E. Rodgers, whose term expired with the present session, was placed in nomination. Both cities were represented by a delegation of business men and Howard Porter, East Jordan, made a strong but unsuccessful plea for Rogers' candidacy. The ballot showed 20 votes for Rouse against 5 for Rogers, so Boyer won the inning.

W. P. Porter was chosen park commissioner for a term of 5 years by unanimous vote and Jacob E. Chew, East Jordan, was chosen poor commissioner for 3 years by a like vote. Supt. M. Otterbein of Charlevoix, was elected county school examiner by a majority vote over Supt. Close of Boyer City. The term is 2 years.

At Monday's session, the board went on record in support of the establishment of a tuberculosis sanitarium in northern Michigan. An organization of 33 counties in the northern part of the lower peninsula will place the proposition before the state legislature at the coming session and the board voted $10 for Charlevoix county's share of the expense.

At Tuesday's session, Frank F. Bird, secretary of the Charlevoix County Agricultural Society, gave the annual report of the fair association and asked an appropriation of $2,000 to cover the 1930 deficit. The matter was referred to the ways and means committee.

Miss Hamilton, representative of the Michigan Children's Fund, presented a plan to establish a clinic in a district to be comprised of Charlevoix, Emmet, Antrim and Otsego counties.

An office will be located centrally in this district and will have a personnel consisting of a physician, dentist, inspector and three nurses. The appropriation from the fund for the proposed district is $23,000. Supervisors of each county will appoint a committee of three to act as directors. These directors will choose location of the clinic and will have charge of hospitalization of children needing medical attention. The local board went on record as approving the plan and voted to appropriate the amount necessary for this county's share of office maintenance, which is expected to be approximately $200.

The clinic is primarily for prevention of disease. School children will be examined throughout the district and, if in need of medical attention,

THOUSANDS OF PERCH AVAILABLE TO PLANT IN LAKES OF DISTRICT

Perch by the thousands are available for planting at Traverse City. A conservation department crew has opened a field station on the Boardman river at the old Hannah and Lay grist mill site to dip out the fingerling-perch that are running in the river and send them out to lakes throughout the state. The fish are "Wolverine" took 150 cans of perch to the upper peninsula, and baggage car shipments are going out on nearly every train.

But aside from this organized distribution perch will be given out to people who care to make plantings in nearby lakes. The only restriction is that the plantings must be made in lakes that are open to the public.

parents will be notified. In case of families in meager circumstances, poor-commissions of the counties will be asked to take care of the patients. The clinic is certainly a commendable project.

LUDINGTON FATHERS

LAUD COAST GUARDS

A resolution commending Capt. Nels Palmer and seven members of the Ludington coast guard station for their response to the rescue call from the schooner "Our Son," was passed by the board of commissioners in formal session at Ludington.

The crew spent part of the afternoon and night in the worst gale recorded here in history in cruising Lake Michigan in search of the "Our Son." The coast guards had not been informed of rescue of the crew.

Members of the crew were Capt. Palmer, William Dipert, Lewis Helmbolt, Milton Wilson, Louis Holstad, Raymond Chapman, Harold Gaffield and Leslie Squire.

Capt. Palmer was formerly a member of the Charlevoix coast guard crew and is well known in this city.

MANCELONA UPSET CHARLEVOIX TEAM

WON SATURDAY TILT ON HOME FIELD 12 TO 6

Charlevoix Scored Late Touchdown on Belated Rally in the Fourth Period—Idle This Week

Scoring in the second and third periods on their home field last Saturday afternoon, Mancelona, high school handed Charlevoix's football eleven a 12 to 6 defeat in a game that was closely fought throughout.

Loss of Saturday's tilt put Charlevoix still further in the cellar so far as standing in the Tip of Michigan class C conference struggle is concerned. It was their third conference game. They had been previously beaten by Boyer City and played a tie with East Jordan.

The two teams battled on even terms throughout the first period, but in the second, on a series of forward passes, line plunges and end plays, Mancelona went over for their first touchdown. They failed on try for extra point and were leading 6 to 0 at the half.

Charlevoix put up a more aggressive brand of football as the second half opened, but a blocked punt which Mancelona recovered deep in Charlevoix territory, gave them another scoring chance and a touchdown in the third period.

Kipke's men played Mancelona off their feet in the last quarter, but the spurt started too late to overcome the lead against them. Arvilla plunged over for a marker in that frame after a steady march down the field. Again in the final period Charlevoix threatened to score, but the final whistle robbed them of a chance to tie or even win over the Antrim county combination.

Arvilla, who called signals in place of Foster in Saturday's tilt, played an outstanding brand of football in the backfield. Bird and Struthers were pillars of strength in the line, giving an excellent account of themselves. Cartier and Dick, who started in place of Goulter and Warner as linemen, played excellent ball.

Charlevoix has a vacant date for the coming Saturday and Coach Kipke is using the extra week for practice to put his men in winning shape for Gaylord high school when they come here on Saturday, October 25.

BELVEDERE CLUB IS MAKING IMPROVEMENT

Landscape and Seed Roadside South of Belvedere Station

A fine improvement is now well under way on the grounds of the Belvedere club.

The large plot of ground east of the Charlevoix-East Jordan highway and south of the Belvedere station is being graded for seeding. A pipe line is being put down to furnish water.

After seeding a landscaping plan will be carried out and the plot otherwise beautified in keeping with the surrounding grounds.

TRAVERSE FACES SUIT BY STATE

STATE TO FORCE CITY TO BUILD A DISPOSAL PLANT

Grows Out of Complaint That City Is Polluting Boardman River and Spoiling Bathing

A suit which will test the powers of the state stream control commission to force cities to discontinue polluting Michigan's streams and lakes was filed last Thursday in Grand Traverse circuit court against Traverse City.

Bill of complaint was filed by Assistant Attorney General Paul G. Eger, representing the commission and 21 property owners in the county.

The suit is filed as a reply to the continued failure of the city to establish a sewage disposal plant. The city was warned early last summer that the condition should be eliminated and it was given until September 1st to submit a definite plan. Meanwhile engineers employed by the mission made a study of conditions in the Boardman river and west arm of Grand Traverse Bay and found them serious enough to justify legal action.

September 1st passed without formation of a plan by the city, the voters of which have turned down several bond issues to finance a sewage disposal plant.

The stream control commission was created by the 1929 legislature and given authority to go into court to force municipalities and private corporations to cease such pollution as the commission might find objectionable. For a year and a half the commission has proceeded with its work without necessity of legal action and the suit against Traverse City will be the first which has been undertaken.

The bill of complaint filed last Thursday asks a permanent injunction against Traverse City. Mayor George W. Lardie and the city commission restraining them from discharging or continuing to discharge the sewage of the city into the Boardman river and requiring them to "abate the nuisance they now maintain." The bill also asks that the defendants be required by order of the court to construct, equip and maintain a sewage disposal plant.

The complaint sets forth that the city is discharging untreated sewage into the bay which creates a condition dangerous to public health and fish life; that the value of resort property is lowered; that the water used by the city for drinking purposes before treatment shows pollution in amounts sufficient to constitute a health menace; that the condition interferes with the use of the lake and river by the public for recreational purposes.

Charlevoix officials and citizenry alike would do well to take warning from Traverse City's plight. We, as a resort town, could not afford the publicity attendant with such a happening, and local conditions are not unlike those at Traverse. Petoskey has a sewage disposal plant. Harbor Springs and Au Sable have plants under construction. It is time for Charlevoix to fall in line.

Friday and Saturday, Oct. 24 and 25 Ye Olden Tyme Shoppe, 206 Michigan avenue, will sell gifts and antiques. One-third of proceeds to be donated to Congregational church. Ladies will serve tea and cakes each afternoon. Charge, 15c. Everyone invited.—Adv. 42t1.

FAIR OFFICIALS CHOSE OFFICERS

ANNUAL MEETING AT EAST JORDAN FRIDAY EVENING

Henry Korthase, Boyer City, President—Frank F. Bird Cootinues As Secretary

Business of the Charlevoix County Agricultural Society was closed for the year at the annual meeting held Friday evening at East Jordan.

At another gathering the previous evening, the finance committee submitted their annual report, showing receipts and disbursements for the fiscal year. As in former years, the society is in the "red." They have $1,956.75 in premiums to be paid. This amount, it is hoped, will be taken care of by the annual appropriation of the board of supervisors.

Another item of indebtedness, totalling $1,409.56 is outstanding. This amount represents the balance of indebtedness incurred when the grandstand was rebuilt following its destruction in a windstorm a year ago. The society would have cut this amount to less than a thousand dollars this year had it not been for an expenditure of $478.59 to cover payment of 1929 bills.

It would appear that fair officials are confronted by a difficult problem. The 1930 exhibit was by far the largest in history with a subsequent heavy premium list. However, receipts fail to provide sufficient funds to cover expenditures. A plan for officers of the Society to meet with chambers of commerce of the three cities of the county in an effort to find a solution has been suggested and will likely be carried. There is no doubt that county-wide cooperation and interest would help matters a lot.

At the annual meeting Friday night, the following officers, committees and directors were chosen:

President, Henry Korthase, Boyer City; vice-president, Richard Lewis, East Jordan; secretary, Frank F. Bird, Charlevoix; treasurer, Kit Carson, East Jordan.

Finance committee: Richard Lewis, East Jordan; Frank Wageman, Boyer City; Dr. C. J. Winder, Charlevoix; Harry A. Craig, Charlevoix. Executive committee: Richard Lewis, East Jordan; Frank Wageman, Boyer City; Fenton R. Bulow, Charlevoix; Kit Carson, East Jordan; Clarence Schaub, Boyer City. Speed committee: Nat Burns, Jay Adams, Dave Vaughan, all of Charlevoix.

Directors: Division A—Frank Wageman; division B—Frank Behling; divisions C and D—Frank Wageman; division E—Al Warda; divisions F and G—Charles Murphy; division H—Sam Rogers; division I—Mrs. Frank Wageman; divisions J and K—Mrs. Pete Lalonde; division L—B. C. Mellencamp; division M—William C. Palmer.

Mission at St. Mary Church A well attended mission is being held at St. Mary church this week by Fr. Judson of New Haven, Conn., assisted by Fr. R. E. Fitzpatrick. Hours of service are 6:00 and 8:00 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. The mission closes Sunday evening.

POPULAR COUPLE MARRIED LAST WEDNESDAY

Peter H. Timmer and Miss Wilhelmina Cooper Were Wed

A pretty wedding was solemnized last Wednesday, October 8th, at the Christian Reformed church of Ellsworth, when Miss Wilhelmina Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cooper of Ellsworth, was united in marriage to Peter H. Timmer of Charlevoix, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Timmer of Ellsworth.

Rev. B. H. Einink performed the ceremony before a large gathering of relatives and friends. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. John Bergsma of Ellsworth.

Following the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served to a gathering of sixty.

Mr. and Mrs. Timmer returned Tuesday from a week's honeymoon spent in Chicago and southern Michigan, and are now at home to their many friends at 807 State street.

Mr. Timmer, who is assistant postmaster here, has a large following of friends both here and at Ellsworth, as has also Mrs. Timmer, who has been employed for some time at the VanderArk & Company store at Ellsworth. Charlevoix friends extend their congratulations.

PYTHIAN SISTERS TO HAVE CONTEST

PUT ON MEMBERSHIP AND ATTENDANCE DRIVE

Lodge Divided Into Two Divisions—Losers Put on Program and Dinner for the Winners

The Pythian Sisters held a regular meeting on Wednesday evening, October 8. Due to misunderstanding as to the time, few members turned out. Last week, regular meetings occur on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month.

The name of one candidate was proposed and committees were appointed. It was decided to have a membership and attendance contest with Mrs. Lottie Nowland and Mrs. Ruby Staley as captains.

The contest begins with the next meeting, October 22, and continues until the first meeting in January. The losing side will put on a program and banquet for the winners. Points will be scored as follows: New members, 25; attendance, 15; visiting sick members, 10.

Following are lists of captains and members on each side:

Mrs. Lottie Nowland, captain; Mesdames Hilda Alexander, L. B. Bartlett, Laura Courier, Pearl Fitch, Mayde Glados, Henrietta Gill, Mary Hamilton, Frances Hamilton, Alice Heise, Carrie Heise, Margaret Jacobs, Mae Jardine, Eva King, Pearl Partridge, Gemelia Restien, Amelia Wallace, Dorothy Shapton, May Ward, Ruth Whitley.

Mrs. Ruby Staley, captain; Mesdames Alice Adams, Minnie Bonthron, Cleo Cook, Grace Dutcher, Lelia Goss, Grace Gencit, Alice Gebeau, Nellie Hammond, Clair Heise, Lebbie Hammond, Florence Miller, Rena Johnson, Anna Holbeck, Viola Kibbe, Sylvia Lewis, Viola Ranger, Rose Smith, Rose Taylor, Zelma Withers, Helen Webster, Ella Usher.

Every member is urged to attend the next meeting, which will have pot-luck refreshments as a feature. Important business is to be settled. The officers are the committee in charge.

HARBOR SPRINGS COUPLE WERE MARRIED HERE

Bradley-Wright Nuptials Events of Last Thursday Afternoon

Miss Charlotte Bradley and Charles Wright, popular members of the younger Harbor Springs set and well known to local young people, were united in marriage at 4 o'clock last Thursday afternoon.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Rauch at the Baptist parsonage in the presence of immediate relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brown, brother-in-law and sister of the bride, attended the young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright were guests Thursday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Brown and left Friday morning on a honeymoon trip to the southern part of the state.

NEW MARINE RAILWAY BEING BUILT

WILL BE LARGEST ON WEST SHORE LAKE MICHIGAN

New Equipment Will Be Capable of Handling Craft of Any Type Up to 100 Feet in Length

An improvement which will mark Charlevoix as one of the most completely equipped harbors on the Great Lakes is now under way at Hamilton & Son's boat yard on Round lake.

Work has been started there on the largest marine railway on the west coast of Lake Michigan. In fact, there are but two others on this section of the lakes, one at Manitowish, Wis., and another at Sault Ste. Marie.

Construction of the track has been started and is now well along. It will be 200 feet in length, located east and running parallel to the smaller one now in use. Timbers are 10x12 inches and 56-pound railroad iron is being used. When sunk, it is expected the track will allow a 10-foot clearance in the water.

Twelve thousand pounds of steel will be used in construction of the car. It will be 60 feet long, 7 feet 6 inches wide on the track and 20 feet wide on the bunks, which are of 10x12 timbers. The car will be equipped with automatic hinge blocking designed to fit the hull of any type boat and it is expected craft up to 100 feet in length may be handled easily.

A five h. p. electric motor with gear box will furnish motive power for the new car. The equipment will be completed and placed in use this fall.

The ordinary person—one not acquainted with marine activities—probably does not realize what the installation of this new marine railway means to Charlevoix. In years gone by, many larger craft which would have outfitted in this port, have gone elsewhere because there was no railway large enough to handle their boat. It will also prove an incentive for our permanent resorters to purchase larger boats, knowing there is equipment here to handle them in case it is necessary to haul out. It will unquestionably bring new business to Hamilton & Son and at the same time help the city generally.

Mr. Hamilton points out that the new railway will greatly facilitate operations at the yard. It will relieve considerable congestion, and, when necessary, three boats of the smaller type may be hauled out at one time.

When the railway is completed and in use, Mr. Hamilton has plans for several other improvements in the yard, including construction of new docks, grading, etc.

ENTERTAINED WITH OVER SUNDAY PARTY

Miss Mary Helen Fochtman entertained members of Mrs. Swinton's Sunday school class at a delightful week-end party at the Sherbrook cottage at Pine Point.

Like, swimming and roasts were very much enjoyed. The girls hiked in Monday morning to school. Other members of the party were Jean and Jane Stelter, Byrnee Lamphear, Dorothy Struthers, Gwendolyn Miller, Virginia Nickerson and Marion Tyler.

CLOSED SEASON ON LAKE TROUT EFFECTIVE NEXT SUNDAY

Starting Sunday, October 19th, Lake Michigan waters will be closed to commercial fishing for mackinaw trout and local fishermen will prepare for the annual spawning run which will follow within 20 days from that date.

The ruling goes into effect each year to allow these valuable commercial fish to reach their spawning grounds unmolested. When spawn is declared "ripe" following conservation department tests, the season will be reopened and fishermen will bring spawn to the hatcheries for propagation.

Local commercial fishermen are holding on in hopes of an increase in price for their catch when the spawn fishing season is on. They have been making poor catches generally throughout the summer and this condition has been made even worse by a low market value.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The school notes this week have been edited by Gwendolyn Miller and assistant editors Lola Fessenden, David Dick, Byrnee Lamphear, and Dorothy Staley.

Instruction enlarges the natural powers of the mind.—Horace.

Class Organization

The classes of the high school have been organized as follows:

School Spirit

The athletic activities of C. H. S. are now in full swing, and high school students have a fine feeling of school spirit and cooperation. The football games have been well attended, and with the enthusiasm of the cheerleaders, Johnny Winder and Bob McCally, the mass-meetings have been a great success. More pep is being shown in the high school now than there has been for several years. New yells are being practiced, and the band has learned a new school song. Our pep-meetings have been distinguished by speeches from the faculty, and also by members of the football team.

Debate

Debate, coached by Mrs. Ruth Dowd, local English instructor, has caused quite an excitement among the students of C. H. S. There are

DR. CARL'S DISCOVERY STOPS GAS, CONSTIPATION

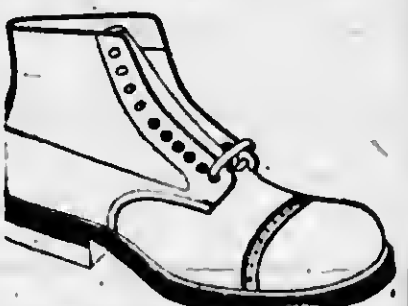

In his private practice, Dr. Carl Wescheke first perfected the simple mixture now known as Adlerika. Unlike most remedies, Adlerika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel and removes old poisons you would never believe were in your system. Stops GAS bloating in 10 minutes! Relieves chronic constipation in 2 hours! Let Adlerika give your stomach and bowels a REAL, cleansing and see how good you feel! It will surprise you! F. J. Fessenden, druggist.

Feeling "All In?" Look to the Arches

Do your feet feel like the most tired part of your body when you are "all in"? If so, you are having arch trouble but don't know it.

MUSEBECK DOUBLE ARCH WEAR-STRAIGHT SHOES will correct your arch trouble and give you a new sense of vitality.

These shoes give support to both the inner and outer longitudinal arches with a broad, non-collapsible steel shank. The important metatarsal arch is given proper support by an all leather insole which is shaped to the bottom contour of the foot. Having no cork filler, this insole will not break down and let the shoe lose its shape.

COLUMN EDITED BY STUDENTS WILL BE PUBLISHED WEEKLY

Commencing in this week's issue of the Courier, and continuing throughout the balance of the 1930-31 school year, will be found the Charlevoix school notes.

This week's edition is edited by Gwendolyn Miller and Lola Fessenden, Dorothy Staley, Byrnee Lamphear and David Dick, assistant editors.

School notes are ever of interest. They cover such items as social events, sports, special functions and progress of the year's work—information that is not available outside of the school itself only by hearsay, but nevertheless as interesting to parents as pupils themselves.

The Courier takes pleasure in publishing the school notes weekly, knowing that its readers will find them of more than ordinary importance.

nine students working on the debate question which is: Resolved, "That National Chain Grocery Stores Operating in the State of Michigan are Detrimental to the People of the State."

Great interest is being shown by both the students and the ones with this question concerns. The debating of this question has been endorsed by the National Chain Store association. The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., The Kroger Grocery and Baking Co., The Independent Merchants Association of Michigan, and the Independent Grocers and Meat Dealers Association of Michigan.

To avoid the necessity of the home team attacking the independent home stores it has been decided that the affirmative will entertain all debates. The teams as yet have not been chosen, but we hope to have two expert teams, one to debate the affirmative side of the question, and the other, to debate the negative side.

We will soon have a bulletin issued giving the dates of the various debates. The first debate will take place November 7.

Charlevoix has been a member of the state league for several years. Let's have the whole town present to back up the team! We promise an interesting evening for all.

Dramatic Club

A Dramatic club has been organized in the high school. It promises to become a very interesting course of study. About 25 juniors and seniors have taken the advantage given by Mrs. Ruth Dowd to study the drama, its stage settings, lighting, the art of acting and other interesting sidelights on this source of artistic expression.

The Little Theatre Movement is the basis for the work of the club and in time we hope to have a real Little Theatre in Charlevoix which will attract visitors from the neighboring towns. At the first meeting the Little Theatre movement was studied and the cultural effects upon people in general were noted.

The Dramatic club will be the nucleus of the stage production in Charlevoix this winter, such as the Junior and senior plays. It is also hoped that a costume play will be given. The advertising, business management and lighting will be handled by the members of the organization.

The club meets every other Tuesday evening. At present, Mrs. Dowd is reading David Belasco's book, entitled "The Theatre Through the Stage Door." This fascinating story tells the author's personal experiences concerning the character of the drama, from the selection of characters and correct lighting to the incidents connected with the drama as the audience sees the finished product.

The values of studying this subject are many. Personal value to each member of the club comes in having a clear conception of the art of acting when he or she has the opportunity to see operas or great dramatic productions. The public will benefit by enjoyment and the cultural experience provided by the productions. Charlevoix should feel that it has made a distinct step ahead in the beginning of such a movement.

Junior High Class Organization

Eighth grade: President, Lewis Greenman; vice president, Jack Forter; treasurer, Frances Block; sponsor, Mr. Bingham.

Seventh grade: President, Ernestine Chew; vice president, Thad Pearce; treasurer, Charles Scott; sponsor, Miss Milner.

To begin the social activities of the year the 8th grade has planned a party on Friday evening, October 17.

Campfire

The Junior High School Camp Fire under the guardianship of Miss Helen Button has begun to make plans for the coming year.

The first meeting this year was opened by repeating the Camp Fire creed. Many interesting events were then related by the girls who had been to the summer Camp Fire Girls' camp. Grace Belding gave a talk on the officers and rules of the camp. Marie Ikens told of the daily program while Ingama Isaksen told the duties of the members. Anna Belle Rhinehart then gave a very interesting description of the building. This was followed by the law of the Camp Fire.

Playground Supervision

The teachers have been organized in groups of two to supervise playground activities. This supervision makes the children more cooperative in their play. The boys and girls enjoy having the teachers with them at the recess periods.

Kindergarten carpenters are busily engaged in building a postoffice which is but one phase of our study of home and community life. Completed projects are the home, store, church, library and school.

The fifth graders are having a hall game in Arithmetic. Neil Fike and Bertrand Pearl are captains. Neil named his side the "Black Bears," and the other team the "Wild Times." The "Black Bears" are ten points ahead.

Friday afternoon the sixth grade is presenting to the elementary school a dramatization of John Ruskin's story, "The King of the Golden River." The story has been divided into four scenes in which we have two sets of characters. Mrs. McKee is directing a poster illustration of these scenes.

General Science Teacher: "What is steam?"
Bright Student: "Water gone crazy with the heat."

Y. M. C. A. LEADER WAS SPEAKER HERE

A. E. Roberts, New York City, Addressed Group Tuesday, Noon

A group of local men met at the Hotel Charlevoix Monday noon for dinner and to hear a talk by Albert E. Roberts, of New York, one of the national secretaries of the Y. M. C. A. Supt. M. Otterbein acted as chairman.

Mr. Roberts spoke of a need of changing education and changing emphasis in a changing world, adding that if we do not prepare a better youth than the previous generations all our speed and mechanical inventions will be vastly more detrimental.

He went on to mention four ways in which this district could co-operate in the fascinating task of making better men and women.

First: Physical development—making athletics contribute to ideal of building healthy bodies rather than promote professional and commercial ends.

Second: Education—not the type that emphasizes books alone, but education in those things of life itself.

Third: Social with respect for setting ideals and training social life of youth. Social in contrast to socialability.

Fourth: Responsibility for development of spiritual or religious side of youth. He said that none ever rises to highest place without the knowledge of how to use properly natural as well as supernatural resources.

STANDARD OIL STARTS NEW ADV. CAMPAIGNS

Product to Be Featured in 13 Middle-west States

Autumn campaigns to advertise premium gasoline and new motor oils have been started by the Standard Oil company of Indiana. Large ads will be used in more than 1,550 newspapers in 13 middle west and Rocky Mountain states in this major undertaking to assist marketing by use of newspaper space.

The advertising of gasoline will undertake to impress on the motoring public the great success the company has achieved in sales of its premium product, New Red Crown Ethyl, and will feature the endorsement the product has received also from independent dealers who are handling gasoline on a reseller basis. "Amazing Acceptance," "First in the Field," and "Evidence" are to be catchwords of the campaign.

The motor oils advertising will consist of a series of ads which will strikingly picture and explain the ability of the winter grades of the new oils to flow at freezing temperatures when other oils tested remain solid.

Spring and early summer advertising smashes, coupled with vigorous selling effort, have greatly increased popularity of the premium gasoline, Red Crown Ethyl. The new oils, Iro-Vis and Polarine, have also achieved an outstanding success on the market.

RECOUNT COST IS FIFTY THOUSAND

Total Lower Than Estimates Made Several Weeks Ago

The actual cost of the statewide primary recount was approximately $50,000 instead of the $250,000 estimated by John S. Haggerty, secretary of state, according to the state auditor general's department.

Vouchers covering the cost of clerks and employees, at $1 an hour, have been issued and the total was only $44,000. There remains to be paid only the county and township clerks, who are limited by law to $2 a day plus mileage one way at 10 cents a mile, and John P. Kirk, who was counsel for the state board of canvassers, besides miscellaneous bills. John B. LaFountain, who handles the vouchers for the department, estimated the total cost would not far exceed $50,000. This figure includes the expense of the Seventh congressional district recount.

Haggerty and Clarke Brown, head of the state compiling division, fixed the figure of $250,000 when Alex J. Groesbeck first filed his petition for a recount. Later Brown said that many corners were being cut and the cost might be "considerably less."

The average pay of the $1 an hour clerks was $57. Scores of letters from county and township clerks protesting against their meager allowance have been received but "inasmuch as their compensation is fixed by statute there was doubt as to whether anything can be done for them."

Quick Relief for Coughing Spells

Famous Prescription Stops Them Almost Instantly

The amazing success of this prescription called Thoxine is due to its quick double action; it immediately soothes the irritation and goes direct to the internal cause not reached by ordinary medicines. The very first swallow usually stops even the most obstinate cough.

Thoxine is pleasant tasting and safe for the whole family. Your money will be refunded if it does not give better and quicker relief for coughs or sore throat than anything you have ever tried. Put up ready for use in 35c, 60c, and $1.00 bottles. Sold by Central Drug Store, and by all other good drug stores.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

Labor Investigates

Although child labor is no longer the storm center of reform movements and concerted protests, it is still prevalent enough to merit attention from so influential an organization as the American Federation of Labor. This was made plain at the federation's executive council meeting held recently in Atlantic City. The council, in considering a request from the Sugar Beet Workers' association for affiliation with the Federation, ruled that the petition could not be acted upon until an investigation of labor conditions in the beet fields was completed.

William Green, president of the Federation, clearly indicated that the affiliation will not be granted until the obstacle of child labor is removed. "While we are anxious to help people in the organization of a strong, compact labor union," Mr. Green said, "the main obstacle seems to be the use of child labor in their ranks."

Representatives of the American Federation of Labor are now making a survey to determine for themselves the labor conditions that prevail in the beet fields. Complaints are frequently heard that the beet sugar industry makes use of women and children and of undesirable Mexican immigrants. Public-spirited people will welcome such an impartial investigation of the facts.

The Microphone Professor

Is a mixture of education and advertising, well shaken and poured through a loudspeaker, a desirable concoction for thirsty minds? Educators gravely doubt it, states Armstrong Perry, specialist in radio education of the federal office of education. The "commercial taint" in pure instruction is the bugaboo that frightens these objectors.

Some educators have been censured for speaking in programs sponsored by tobacco companies. It was claimed that the speakers were thereby endorsing certain brands of cigarettes, even though their remarks had nothing to do with the industry. Others are afraid that lecturers may be restrained in accuracy because of the financial element involved.

One thousand hours of educational broadcasting are done daily by America's 600 radio stations, representing 15 per cent of the total broadcasting time. More than 60 colleges own radio stations, and numerous others use outside broadcast facilities. Programs of musical appreciation reach about 5,000,000 students in 150,000 school rooms throughout the country.

The word, "educational," is a broad one as applied to radio broadcasts. It included everything from reports on the London Naval conference to lectures on insect life. Aerial instruction is far more developed in European countries where the broadcasting of education is given serious, organized thought and effort.

A Seal with a History

"The most beautiful national emblem in existence" is the Great Seal of the United States, according to reputable art critics. For this, the credit must go largely to Jefferson. Adams and a French engraver, Du Simitre, who collaborated in evolving a design for our nation's first hand-mark the best features of which appear on the present seal. Although the seal was ordered soon after the Declaration of Independence was signed, so particular were those in authority that no design was accepted until 1779.

We have had two great seals since that time. In 1885, the secretary of state, Mr. Frelinghuysen, called attention to the fading lines of the original seal which had been in use for more than a century, and a second seal was ordered. It was used until the Roosevelt administration, when prevailing official sentiment that the seal lacked real heraldic significance led to another change. Under Secretary of State John Hay, a new hand mark, reproducing the most attractive features of the 1779 seal together with certain improvements in design, was made. It is that seal which Colonel Stimson used today.

CORN CROP HITS
NEW LOW RECORDESTIMATED TO BE LIGHTEST IN
32 YEARSPotatoes and Other Produce Hit New Low Marks—Extended Drought
Damage Heavy

The volume of late crops being harvested by Michigan farmers this fall is considerably below the average of recent years, according to the estimates released Saturday by the office of the agricultural statistician. Although spring grains yielded well above average, the late crops, with the exception of grapes and pears, were reduced by the drought which continued practically unbroken in many localities from the latter part of July until late September. Rain-fall during the past month was more than one inch below normal for the lower peninsula, and in many sections, it came too late to be of much benefit to the potato crop. Harvesting of beans and fall fruits has progressed rapidly during September due to favorable conditions and the advanced nature of the season.

The Michigan potato crop promises to be the second smallest of the last 31 years, the yield per acre from early reports being the lowest since 1916. The total production as estimated on October 1st was for a crop of 16,043,000 bushels as compared with 18,410,000 bushels last year and 30,249,000, the average for the ten years 1920-29. The crop was favored by a longer growing season this year, heavy frosts not being general until the last few days of the month. Last year killing frosts were quite general September 18 to 20.

The longer growing season was also beneficial to the bean crop. The estimated production of field beans amounts to 5,165,000 bushels as against 5,691,000 bushels last year. Average production for the ten years 1920-29 was 5,626,000 bushels. The probable yield is now estimated at 6.2 bushels per acre, returns being best on the heavy lands of the Saginaw Valley and the Thumb and lightest in the south-central counties. A ten-year average yield for Michigan is 11.6 bushels per acre.

Oats yielded nearly six bushels per acre more than average this year, and the total crop is estimated at 57,342,000 bushels. This is 14 per cent more than the average production of the last ten years. The yield per acre of barley for Michigan was 30 bushels or almost five bushels more than the average return. This crop is estimated at 7,440,000 bushels or 33 per cent larger than last year's production. The average yield of spring wheat for the state was 18 bushels per acre, three bushels more than the long time average. The production of this crop is estimated at 90,000 bushels.

Michigan's corn crop will be the smallest in 32 years according to the October 1st estimate. The condition reported on that date was 51 per cent of normal. Last year at this date the figure was 56 per cent, while for the previous ten years the average has been 80.

Michigan's tame hay crop is the smallest since 1925, the average yield being only 1.20 tons per acre while the long-time average return for the state is 1.32 tons. The alfalfa crop is smaller than a year ago being set at 1,076,000 tons with 1,254,000 tons the 1929 crop.

Sugar beet production in Michigan this year promises to amount to 480,000 tons compared with 300,000 produced last year. The planted acreage is 64 per cent larger than the harvested area for 1929, and in addition sugar beets have withstood the drought better than most other late crops.

The final estimate on the Michigan peach crop amounts to 629,000 bushels as against 816,000 for 1929. The total apple crop is estimated to be 29 per cent smaller than one year ago. The commercial apple crop amounts to 995,000 barrels while that for last year totaled 1,206,000 barrels. The pear crop is estimated at 770,000 bushels, with 468,000 bushels harvested a year ago. The grape crop is estimated at 73,720 tons with the 1929 production set at 68,870 tons.

Sunday services 10:45 a. m. Subject, "Doctrine of Atonement." Wednesday evening at 7:45, first Wednesday of month only. Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m. The public is cordially invited to all services.

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, October 12. Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good." (Rom. 12:21).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Stand porter at the door of thought. Admitting only such conclusions as you wish realized in bodily results, you will control yourself harmoniously. When the condition is present which you say induces disease, whether it be air, exercise, heredity, contagion, or accident, then perform your office as porter and shut out these unhealthy thoughts and fears." TEMPERANCE UNION
HELD OCTOBER MEETMrs. W. H. Rauch Chosen Delegate
to State Convention

Mrs. W. H. Rauch, in an address given at the W. C. T. U. meeting held in the community room last Friday afternoon, expressed the opinion that the work of the organization is so important that no one should be invited to join and told that they "would not need to do anything."

Workers are needed to carry out the program of "Temperance Education for Today," which was the topic under discussion. Mrs. Rauch directed the L. T. L. work for the union last year and will continue it this year. She is especially concerned that the children be given temperance instruction and thinks there should be leaders for groups of children and young people of different ages.

Mrs. Benton, Mrs. Usher, Mrs. Staley and Mrs. Saltonstall gave readings on the topic containing some scientific truths about alcohol and showing the need of teaching these truths in the day school and Sunday school. World Temperance Sunday comes October 26th and Sunday school teachers will on that date have opportunity to discuss personal liberty, total abstinence and prohibition with their classes.

Mrs. Rauch was elected a delegate to the state convention to be held in Grand Rapids October 14 to 17.

The proposed amendment to the constitution of the state of Michigan to be voted on at the November election was explained and reasons given why many will vote "no."

The election of officers was deferred until next month. Mrs. Hart will lead the November meeting and Mrs. Nordrum and Mrs. Brown will act as hostesses.

Could Not Eat A Meal Without Distress—New Medicine Wins Another Fine Triumph

MR. HENRY GEDDES

"For some time I suffered intense distress from a very disordered stomach," said Mr. Henry Geddes, 1231 Cass avenue, Grand Rapids, Mich. "Every meal caused suffering and I could not eat a bite of food without having indigestion pains and gas bloating. The food formed a heavy mass in the pit of my stomach and always brought on smothering spells. I found it impossible to get sound, refreshing sleep."

"Konjola marked the turning point of my health. Day by day the different ailments became less severe and then, like magic, they disappeared. Today I eat what I please, enjoy the food and digest it as nature intends. Sound, refreshing sleep is mine. I owe this all to Konjola and I praise it with all my heart and soul."

Though Konjola works quickly, and many sufferers are greatly benefited in a week, a complete treatment of from six to eight bottles is recommended for thorough results.

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix, Mich., at F. J. Fessenden's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

will be eligible to enter the singing contests held under the direction of Michigan State college short course department at each of the four regional potato shows.

The dates for the contests are: Escanaba, Oct. 25; Gaylord, Oct. 31; Reed City, Nov. 5; Mayville, Nov. 7. Both the chorus and the choir groups must contain six or more members. Entries for the contest may be made by writing the short course department, M. S. C., East Lansing.

Each group will be required to sing two selections one of which must be "The Radiant Morn Hath Passed Away." The other number to be sung is left to the option of the singers. Prizes totaling $560, provided by the R. O. Olds Community Singing fund, will be awarded the winning groups at the four shows. Choir singing contests held annually at the college during farmers' day have proved very popular and have drawn many groups of contestants.

The contests will be judged by members of Michigan State college music department.

ARCHIE ALCOCK INJURED
IN AUTO CRASHHis Wife Also Hurt When Car Hit
Tree Wednesday Forenoon

A trip of inspection to the poor farm by a party of Charlevoix county supervisors now in annual session here, wound up in the local hospital Wednesday morning.

Mrs. John Cadden of Clarion, owner and driver of the machine, failed to make the turn at White's corner and the car plunged into a tree. Archie Alcock, supervisor of Charlevoix third ward, also Mrs. Alcock, were injured. The former received a gash on the scalp requiring 17 stitches, and Mrs. Alcock suffered a severe cut over the eye. Mrs. Woods of Chandler township, fourth member of the party, was uninjured.

CONSTANTINE WOMAN
DIED HERE TUESDAYSuccumbed at Charlevoix Hospital
Following Brief Illness

Mrs. William H. Garber of Constantine, Mich., died at 3:30 Tuesday afternoon at the Charlevoix hospital, where she had been taken three days previous because of illness.

Mrs. Garber was taken sick at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Garber, residing south of this city, where she was making a visit. Her husband was called and was present at the time of her death.

The remains were shipped to Constantine for funeral and interment Wednesday morning.

Insects infesting stored grain may be destroyed by fumigation with one of several poison gases, but carbon disulphide is probably the cheapest and most effective for treating grain in bulk on the farm. Carbon disulphide evaporates when exposed to air, forms a vapor heavier than air, and when applied at the top of a gas-tight bin of grain will penetrate down through the grain. Be careful in handling carbon disulphide, as its vapor is very inflammable.

ANNUAL MEETING CONVENED AT COURT HOUSE MONDAY

L. C. Rouse Elected Road Commissioner—Other Important Business Still in Committee

Charlevoix county legislators opened their annual October session at the court house Monday morning.

With three days of the present session past, a greater portion of the important business to be transacted is still in committee. Wednesday morning the supervisors adjourned early so that committees could meet and prepare their reports.

Boyer City placed L. C. Rouse on the road commission Monday afternoon. A year ago, when it was that city's turn to name the commissioner, Frank Wageman of Eveline township was given the choice over Rouse. However, in the meantime, Boyer found fault with their representation and this year asked that a Boyer City resident be elected to the commission. According to recognized procedure it was East Jordan's turn and the name of Samuel E. Rodgers, whose term expired with the present session, was placed in nomination. Both cities were represented by a delegation of business men and Howard Porter, East Jordan, made a strong but unsuccessful plea for Rogers' candidacy. The ballot showed 20 votes for Rouse against 5 for Rogers, so Boyer won the inning.

W. P. Porter was chosen park commissioner for a term of 5 years by unanimous vote and Jacob E. Chew, East Jordan, was chosen poor commissioner for 3 years by a like vote. Supt. M. Otterbein of Charlevoix, was elected county school examiner by a majority vote over Supt. Close of Boyer City. The term is 2 years.

At Monday's session, the board went on record in support of the establishment of a tuberculosis sanitarium in northern Michigan. An organization of 33 counties in the northern part of the lower peninsula will place the proposition before the state legislature at the coming session and the board voted $10 for Charlevoix county's share of the expense.

At Tuesday's session, Frank F. Bird, secretary of the Charlevoix County Agricultural Society, gave the annual report of the fair association and asked an appropriation of $2,000 to cover the 1930 deficit. The matter was referred to the ways and means committee.

Miss Hamilton, representative of the Michigan Children's Fund, presented a plan to establish a clinic in a district to be comprised of Charlevoix, Emmet, Antrim and Osego counties.

An office will be located centrally in this district and will have a personnel consisting of a physician, dentist, inspector and three nurses. The appropriation from the fund for the proposed district is $23,000. Supervisors of each county will appoint a committee of three to act as directors. These directors will choose location of the clinic and will have charge of hospitalization of children needing medical attention. The local board went on record as approving the plan and voted to appropriate the amount necessary for this county's share of office maintenance, which is expected to be approximately $200.

The clinic is primarily for prevention of disease. School children will be examined throughout the district and, if in need of medical attention,

THOUSANDS OF PERCH AVAILABLE TO PLANT IN LAKES OF DISTRICT

Perch by the thousands are available for planting at Traverse City.

A conservation department crew has opened a field station on the Boardman river at the old Hannah and Lay grist mill site to dip out the fingerling perch that are running in the river and send them out to lakes throughout the state. The fish are "Wolverine" took 150 cans of perch to the upper peninsula, and baggage car shipments are going out on nearly every train.

But aside from this organized distribution perch will be given out to people who care to make plantings in nearby lakes. The only restriction is that the plantings must be made in lakes that are open to the public.

parents will be notified. In case of families in menager circumstances, poor commissions of the counties will be asked to take care of the patients. The clinic is certainly a commendable project.

LUDINGTON FATHERS LAUD COAST GUARDS

A resolution commending Capt. Nels Palmer and seven members of the Ludington coast guard station for their response to the rescue call from the schooner "Our Son," was passed by the board of commissioners in formal session at Ludington.

The crew spent part of the afternoon and night in the worst gale recorded here in history in cruising Lake Michigan in search of the "Our Son." The coast guards had not been informed of rescue of the crew.

Members of the crew were Capt. Palmer, William Dipert, Lewis Holten, Milton Wilson, Louis Holstad, Raymond Chapman, Harold Gatfield and Leslie Squire.

Capt. Palmer was formerly a member of the Charlevoix coast guard crew and is well known in this city.

Charlevoix Scored Lone Touchdown on Belated Rally in the Fourth Period—Idle This Week

Scoring in the second and third periods on their home field last Saturday afternoon, Mancelona high school handed Charlevoix's football eleven a 12 to 6 defeat in a game that was closely fought throughout.

Loss of Saturday's tilt put Charlevoix still further in the cellar so far as standing in the Tip of Michigan class C conference struggle is concerned. It was their third conference game. They had been previously beaten by Boyer City and played a tie with East Jordan.

The two teams battled on even terms throughout the first period, but in the second, on a series of forward passes, line plunges and end plays, Mancelona went over for their first touchdown. They failed on try for extra point and were leading 6 to 0 at the half.

Charlevoix put up a more aggressive brand of football as the second half opened, but a blocked punt which Mancelona recovered deep in Charlevoix territory, gave them another scoring chance and a touchdown in the third period.

Kipke's men played Mancelona off their feet in the last quarter, but the spurt started too late to overcome the lead against them. Arvilla plunged over for a marker in that frame after a steady march down the field. Again in the final period Charlevoix threatened to score, but the final whistle robbed them of a chance to tie or even win over the Antrim county combination.

Arvilla, who called signals in place of Foster in Saturday's tilt, played an outstanding brand of football in the backfield. Bird and Struthers were pillars of strength in the line, giving an excellent account of themselves. Cartier and Dick, who started in place of Coulter and Warner as linemen, played excellent ball.

Charlevoix has a vacant date for the coming Saturday and Coach Kipke is using the extra week for practice to put his men in winning shape for Gnyford high school when they come here on Saturday, October 25.

BELVEDERE CLUB IS MAKING IMPROVEMENT

Landscape and Seed Roadside South of Belvedere Station

A fine improvement is now well under way on the grounds of the Belvedere club.

The large plot of ground east of the Charlevoix-East Jordan highway and south of the Belvedere station is being graded for seeding. A pipe line is being put down to furnish water.

After seeding a landscaping plan will be carried out and the plot otherwise beautified in keeping with the surrounding grounds.

TRAVERSE FACES SUIT BY STATE

Grows Out of Complaint That City Is Polluting Boardman River and Spoiling Bathing.

A suit which will test the powers of the state stream control commission to force cities to discontinue polluting Michigan's streams and lakes was filed last Thursday in Grand Traverse circuit court against Traverse City.

Bill of complaint was filed by Assistant Attorney General Paul G. Eger, representing the commission and 21 property owners in the county.

The suit is filed as a reply to the continued failure of the city to establish a sewage disposal plant. The city was warned early last summer that the condition should be eliminated and it was given until September 1st to submit a definite plan. Meanwhile engineers employed by the mission made a study of conditions in the Boardman river and west arm of Grand Traverse Bay and found them serious enough to justify legal action.

September 1st passed without formation of a plan by the city, the voters of which have turned down several bond issues to finance a sewage disposal plant.

The stream control commission was created by the 1929 legislature and given authority to go into court to force municipalities and private corporations to cease such pollution as the commission might find objectionable. For a year and a half the commission has proceeded with its work without necessity of legal action and the suit against Traverse City will be the first which has been undertaken.

The bill of complaint filed last Thursday asks a permanent injunction against Traverse City. Mayor George W. Lardie and the city commission restraining them from discharging or continuing to discharge the sewage of the city into the Boardman river and requiring them to "abate the nuisance they now maintain." The bill also asks that the defendants be required by order of the court to construct, equip and maintain a sewage disposal plant.

The complaint sets forth that the city is discharging untreated sewage into the bay which creates a condition dangerous to public health and fish life; that the value of resort property is lowered; that the water used by the city for drinking purposes before treatment shows pollution in amounts sufficient to constitute a health menace; that the condition interferes with the use of the lake and river by the public for recreational purposes.

Charlevoix officials and citizenry alike would do well to take warning from Traverse City's plight. We, as a resort town, could not afford the publicity attendant with such a happening, and local conditions are not unlike those at Traverse. Petoskey has a sewage disposal plant. Harbor Springs and Wequetonsing have plants under construction. It is time for Charlevoix to fall in line.

Friday and Saturday, Oct. 24 and 25 Ye Olden Tyme Shoppe, 206 Michigan avenue, will sell gifts and antiques. One-third of proceeds to be donated to Congregational church. Ladies will serve tea and cakes each afternoon. Charge, 15c. Everyone invited. Adv. 421.

FAIR OFFICIALS CHOSE OFFICERS

ANNUAL MEETING AT EAST JORDAN FRIDAY EVENING

Henry Korthase, Boyer City, President—Frank F. Bird Continues As Secretary

Business of the Charlevoix County Agricultural Society was closed for the year at the annual meeting held Friday evening at East Jordan.

At another gathering the previous evening, the finance committee submitted their annual report, showing receipts and disbursements for the fiscal year. As in former years, the society is in the "red." They have $1,956.75 in premiums to be paid. This amount, it is hoped, will be taken care of by the annual appropriation of the board of supervisors.

Another item of indebtedness, totaling $1,409.56 is outstanding. This amount represents the balance of indebtedness incurred when the grandstand was rebuilt following its destruction in a windstorm a year ago. The Society would have cut this amount to less than a thousand dollars this year had it not been for an expenditure of $478.59 to cover payment of 1929 bills.

It would appear that fair officials are confronted by a difficult problem. The 1930 exhibit was by far the largest in history with a subsequent heavy premium list. However, receipts fail to provide sufficient funds to cover expenditures. A plan for officers of the Society to meet with chambers of commerce of the three cities of the county in an effort to find a solution has been suggested and will likely be carried. There is no doubt that county-wide cooperation and interest would help matters a lot.

At the annual meeting Friday night, the following officers, committees and directors were chosen:

President, Henry Korthase, Boyer City; vice-president, Richard Lewis, East Jordan; secretary, Frank F. Bird, Charlevoix; treasurer, Kit Carson, East Jordan.

Finance committee: Richard Lewis, East Jordan; Frank Wageman, Boyer City; Dr. C. J. Winder, Charlevoix; Harry A. Craig, Charlevoix.

Executive committee: Richard Lewis, East Jordan; Frank Wageman, Boyer City; Fenton R. Bulow, Charlevoix; Kit Carson, East Jordan; Clarence Schaub, Boyer City.

Speed committee: Nat Burns, Jay Adams, Dave Vaughan, all of Charlevoix.

Directors: Division A—Frank Wageman; division B—Frank Behring; divisions C and D—Frank Wageman; division E—Al Ward; divisions F and G—Charles Murphy; division H—Sam Rogers; division I—Mrs. Frank Wageman; divisions J and K—Mrs. Pete LaLonde; division L—B. C. Mellenkamp; division M—William C. Palmer.

Mission at St. Mary Church

A well attended mission is being held at St. Mary church this week by Fr. Judson of New Haven, Conn., assisted by Fr. R. E. Fitzpatrick. Hours of service are 6:00 and 8:00 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. The mission closes Sunday evening.

The Methodist Ladies' Aid chicken pie supper, advertised last week for Wednesday evening the 22nd, has been postponed to Thursday evening, October 23rd. All the chicken can eat served from 5:00 until all are served. Adv. 421.

POPULAR COUPLE MARRIED LAST WEDNESDAY

Peter H. Timmer and Miss Wilhelmina Cooper Were Wed

A pretty wedding was solemnized last Wednesday, October 8th, at the Christian Reformed church of Ellsworth, when Miss Wilhelmina Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cooper of Ellsworth, was united in marriage to Peter H. Timmer of Charlevoix, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Timmer of Ellsworth.

Rev. B. H. Einink performed the ceremony before a large gathering of relatives and friends. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. John Bergsma of Ellsworth.

Following the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served to a gathering of sixty. Mr. and Mrs. Timmer returned Tuesday from a week's honeymoon spent in Chicago and southern Michigan, and are now at home to their many friends at 807 State street.

Mr. Timmer, who is assistant postmaster here, has a large following of friends both here and at Ellsworth, as has also Mrs. Timmer, who has been employed for some time at the VanderArk & Company store at Ellsworth. Charlevoix friends extend their congratulations.

PYTHIAN SISTERS TO HAVE CONTEST

PUT ON MEMBERSHIP AND ATTENDANCE DRIVE

Lodge Divided Into Two Divisions—Losers Put on Program and Dinner for the Winners

The Pythian Sisters held a regular meeting on Wednesday evening, October 8. Due to misunderstanding as to the time, few members turned out. Let us forget, regular meetings occur on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month.

The name of one candidate was proposed and committees were appointed. It was decided to have a membership and attendance contest with Mrs. Lottie Nowland and Mrs. Ruby Staley as captains.

The contest begins with the next meeting, October 22, and continues until the first meeting in January. The losing side will put on a program and banquet for the winners. Points will be scored as follows: New members, 25; attendance, 15; visiting sick members, 10.

Following are lists of captains and members on each side:

Mrs. Lottie Nowland, captain; Mesdames Hilda Alexander, L. B. Bartlett, Laura Courier, Pearl Fitch, Mauda Gladys, Henrietta Gill, Mary Hamilton, Frances Hamilton, Alice Heise, Carrie Heise, Margaret Jacobs, Mae Jardine, Eva King, Pearl Partridge, Gemelia Restien, Amelia Wallace, Dorothy Shapton, May Ward, Ruth Whitley.

Mrs. Ruby Staley, captain; Mesdames Alice Adams, Minnie Bonthron, Cleo Cook, Grace Dutcher, Lelia Goss, Grace Genet, Alice Gebeau, Nellie Hammond, Clair Heise, Lephie Hammond, Florence Hiller, Rena Johnson, Anna Holecbeck, Viola Kibbe, Sylvia Lewis, Viola Ranger, Rose Smith, Rose Taylor, Zelma Withers, Helen Webster, Ella Usher.

Every member is urged to attend the next meeting, which will have pot-luck refreshments as a feature. Important business is to be settled. The officers are the committee in charge.

HARBOR SPRINGS COUPLE WERE MARRIED HERE

Bradley-Wright Nuptials Events of Last Thursday Afternoon

Miss Charlotte Bradley and Charles Wright, popular members of the younger Harbor Springs set and well known to local young people, were united in marriage at 4 o'clock last Thursday afternoon.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Rauch at the Baptist parsonage in the presence of immediate relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brown, brother-in-law and sister of the bride, attended the young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright were guests Thursday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Brown and left Friday morning on a honeymoon trip to the southern part of the state.

NEW MARINE RAILWAY BEING BUILT

WILL BE LARGEST ON WEST SHORE LAKE MICHIGAN

New Equipment Will Be Capable of Handling Craft of Any Type Up to 100 Feet in Length

An improvement which will mark Charlevoix as one of the most completely equipped harbors on the Great Lakes is now under way at Hamilton & Son's boat yard on Round lake.

Work has been started there on the largest marine railway on the west coast of Lake Michigan. In fact, there are but two others on this section of the lakes, one at Manitowish, Wis., and another at Sault Ste. Marie.

Construction of the track has been started and is now well along. It will be 200 feet in length, located east and running parallel to the smaller one now in use. Timbers are 10x12 inches and 56-pound railroad iron is being used. When sunk, it is expected the track will allow a 10-foot clearance in the water.

Twelve thousand pounds of steel will be used in construction of the car. It will be 60 feet long, 7 feet 6 inches wide on the track and 20 feet wide on the bunks, which are of 10x12 timbers. The car will be equipped with automatic bilge blocking designed to fit the hull of any type boat and it is expected craft up to 100 feet in length may be handled easily.

A five h. p. electric motor with gear box will furnish motive power for the new car. The equipment will be completed and placed in use this fall.

The ordinary person—one not acquainted with marine activities—probably does not realize what the installation of this new marine railway means to Charlevoix. In years gone by, many larger craft which would have outfitted in this port have gone elsewhere, because there was no railway large enough to handle their boat. It will also prove an incentive for our permanent resorters to purchase larger boats, knowing there is equipment here to handle them in case it is necessary to haul out. It will unquestionably bring new business to Hamilton & Son and at the same time help the city generally.

Mr. Hamilton points out that the new railway will greatly facilitate operations at the yard. It will relieve considerable congestion, and, when necessary, three boats of the smaller type may be hauled out at one time.

When the railway is completed and in use, Mr. Hamilton has plans for several other improvements in the yard, including construction of new docks, grading, etc.

ENTERTAINED WITH OVER SUNDAY PARTY

Miss Mary Helen Fochtman entertained members of Mrs. Swinton's Sunday school class at a delightful week-end party at the Sherlock cottage at Pine Point.

Hiking, swimming and roasts were very much enjoyed. The girls hiked in Monday morning to school. Other members of the party were Jean and Jane Stelter, Byrnee Lamphear, Dorothy Struthers, Gwendolyn Miller, Virginia Nickerson and Marion Tyler.

CLOSED SEASON ON LAKE TROUT EFFECTIVE NEXT SUNDAY

Starting Sunday, October 19th, Lake Michigan waters will be closed to commercial fishing for mackinaw trout and local fishermen will prepare for the annual spawning run which will follow within 20 days from that date.

The ruling goes into effect each year to allow these valuable commercial fish to reach their spawning grounds unmolested. When spawn is declared "ripe" following conservation department tests, the season will be re-opened and fishermen will bring spawn to the hatcheries for propagation.

Local commercial fishermen are holding on in hopes of an increase in price for their catch when the spawn fishing season is on. They have been making poor catches generally throughout the summer and this condition has been made even worse by a low market value.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The school notes this week have been edited by Gwendolyn Miller and assistant editors Lola Fessenden, David Dick, Byrnee Lamphear, and Dorothy Staley.

Instruction enlarges the natural powers of the mind.—Horace.

Class Organization

The classes of the high school have been organized as follows:

School Spirit

The athletic activities of C. H. S. are now in full swing, and high school students have a fine feeling of school spirit and cooperation. The football games have been well attended, and with the enthusiasm of the cheerleaders, Johnny Winder and Bob McCall, the mass-meetings have been a great success. More pep is being shown in the high school now than there has been for several years. New yells are being practiced, and the band has learned a new school song. Our pep-meetings have been distinguished by speeches from the faculty, and also by members of the football team.

Debate

Debate, coached by Mrs. Ruth Dowd, local English instructor, has caused quite an excitement among the students of C. H. S. There are

DR. CARL'S DISCOVERY STOPS GAS, CONSTIPATION

In his private practice, Dr. Carl Weschke first perfected the simple mixture now known as Adlerika. Unlike most remedies, Adlerika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel and removes old poisons you would never believe were in your system. Stops GAS bloating in 10 minutes! Relieves chronic constipation in 2 hours! Let Adlerika give your stomach and bowels a REAL cleaning and see how good you feel! It will surprise you! F. J. Fessenden, druggist.

Feeling "All In?" Look to the Arches

Do your feet feel like the most tired part of your body when you are "all in"? If so, you are having arch trouble but don't know it.

MUSEBECK DOUBLE ARCH WEAR-STRAIGHT SHOES will correct your arch trouble and give you a new sense of vitality.

These shoes give support to both the inner and outer longitudinal arches with a broad non-collapsible steel shank. The important metatarsal arch is given proper support by an all leather insole which is shaped to the bottom contour of the foot. Having no cork filler, this insole will not break down and let the shoe lose its shape.

COLUMN EDITED BY STUDENTS WILL BE PUBLISHED WEEKLY

Commencing in this week's issue of the Courier, and continuing throughout the balance of the 1930-31 school year, will be found the Charlevoix school notes.

This week's edition is edited by Gwendolyn Miller and Lola Fessenden, Dorothy Staley, Byrnee Lamphear and David Dick, assistant editors.

School notes are ever of interest. They cover such items as social events, sports, special functions and progress of the year's work—information that is not available outside of the school itself only by hearsay, but nevertheless as interesting to parents as pupils themselves.

The Courier takes pleasure in publishing the school notes weekly, knowing that its readers will find them of more than ordinary importance.

nine students working on the debate question which is: Resolved, "That National Chain Grocery Stores Operating in the State of Michigan are Detrimental to the People of the State."

Great interest is being shown by both the students and the ones whom this question concerns. The debating of this question has been endorsed by the National Chain Store association, The Great Atlantic & Pacific, Ten Co., The Kroger Grocery and Baking Co., The Independent Merchants Association of Michigan, and the Independent Grocers and Meat Dealers Association of Michigan.

To avoid the necessity of the home team attacking the independent home stores it has been decided that the affirmative will entertain all debates.

The teams as yet have not been chosen, but we hope to have two expert teams, one to debate the affirmative side of the question, and the other to debate the negative side.

We will soon have a bulletin issued giving the dates of the various debates. The first debate will take place November 7.

Charlevoix has been a member of the state league for several years. Let's have the whole town present to back up the team! We promise an interesting evening for all.

Dramatic Club

A Dramatic club has been organized in the high school. It promises to become a very interesting course of study. About 25 juniors and seniors have taken the advantage given by Mrs. Ruth Dowd to study the drama, its stage settings, lighting, the art of acting and other interesting sidelights on this source of artistic expression.

The Little Theatre Movement is the basis for the work of the club and in time we hope to have a real Little Theatre in Charlevoix which will attract visitors from the neighboring towns. At the first meeting the Little Theatre movement was studied and the cultural effects upon people in general were noted.

The Dramatic club will be the nucleus of the stage production in Charlevoix this winter, such as the junior and senior plays. It is also hoped that a costume play will be given. The advertising, business management and lighting will be handled by the members of the organization.

The club meets every other Tuesday evening. At present, Mrs. Dowd is reading David Belasco's book, entitled "The Theatre Through the Stage Door." This fascinating story tells the author's personal experiences concerning the character of the drama, from the selection of characters and correct lighting to the incidents connected with the drama as the audience sees the finished product.

The values of studying this subject are many. Personal value to each member of the club comes in having a clear conception of the art of acting when he or she has the opportunity to see operas or great dramatic productions. The public will benefit by enjoyment and the cultural experience provided by the productions. Charlevoix should feel that it has made a distinct step ahead in the beginning of such a movement.

The Honor Roll for the First Month of School

Freshmen: A's and B's—Byrnee Lamphear, Janet Livingston, Marguerite Chew, Drew Young, John Kerchak.

Juniors: All A's—Lila MacMillan, A's and B's—Norman Anee, David Dick, Stanley Cartier, Edna Knudson, Margaret Smith.

Sophomores: A's and B's—Gertrude Clark, Marjorie Jean Carey, Elizabeth Dhaseler, Winifred Trimble, Virginia Taylor, Marion Tyler, Lila Tillotson.

Seniors: All A's—Eloise Tillotson, A's and B's—Gwendolyn Miller, Lola Fessenden, Bill Novak.

Eighth grade: President, Lewis Greenman; vice president, Jack Foster; treasurer, Frances Block; sponsor, Mr. Bingham.

Seventh grade: President, Ernestine Chew; vice president, Thad Pearce; treasurer, Charles Scott; sponsor, Miss Milner.

To begin the social activities of the year the 8th grade has planned a party on Friday evening, October 17.

Campfire

The Junior High School Camp Fire under the guardianship of Miss Helen Button has begun to make plans for the coming year.

The first meeting this year was opened by repeating the Camp Fire creed. Many interesting events were then related by the girls who had been to the summer Camp Fire Girls' camp. Grace Belding gave a talk on the officers and rules of the camp. Marie Ikens told of the daily program while Ingama Isaksen told the duties of the members. Anna Belle Rhinehart then gave a very interesting description of the building. This was followed by the law of the Camp Fire.

Playground Supervision

The teachers have been organized in groups of two to supervise playground activities. This supervision makes the children more cooperative in their play. The boys and girls enjoy having the teachers with them at the recess periods.

Kindergarten carpenters are busily engaged in building a postoffice which is but one phase of our study of home and community life. Completed projects are the home, store, church, library and school.

The fifth graders are having a ball game in Arithmetic. Neil Fike and Bertrand Pearl are captains. Neil named his side the "Black Bears," and the other team the "Wild Times." The "Black Bears" are ten points ahead.

Friday afternoon the sixth grade is presenting to the elementary school a dramatization of John Ruskin's story, "The King of the Golden River." The story has been divided into four scenes in which we have two sets of characters. Mrs. McKee is directing a poster illustration of these scenes.

General Science Teacher: "What is steam?"
Bright Student: "Water gone crazy with the heat."

Y. M. C. A. LEADER WAS SPEAKER HERE

A. E. Roberts, New York City, Addressed Group Tuesday Noon

A group of local men met at the Hotel Charlevoix Monday noon for dinner and to hear a talk by Albert E. Roberts, of New York, one of the national secretaries of the Y. M. C. A. Supt. M. Otterbein acted as chairman.

Mr. Roberts spoke of a need of changing education and changing emphasis in a changing world, adding that if we do not prepare a better youth than the previous generations all our speed and mechanical inventions will be vastly more detrimental.

He went on to mention four ways in which this district could co-operate in the fascinating task of making better men and women.

First: Physical development—making athletics contribute to ideal of building healthy bodies rather than promote professional and commercial ends.

Second: Education—not the type that emphasizes books alone, but education in those things of life itself.

Third: Social with respect for setting ideals and training social life of youth. Social in contrast to social-bility.

Fourth: Responsibility for development of spiritual or religious side of youth. He said that none ever rises to highest place without the knowledge of how to use properly natural as well as supernatural resources.

Product to Be Featured in 13 Middle-west States

Autumn campaigns to advertise premium gasoline and new motor oils have been started by the Standard Oil company of Indiana. Large ads will be used in more than 1,550 newspapers in 13 middle west and Rocky Mountain states in this major undertaking to assist marketing by use of newspaper space.

The advertising of gasoline will undertake to impress on the motoring public the great success the company has achieved in sales of its premium product, New Red Crown Ethyl, and will feature the endorsement the product has received also from independent dealers who are handling gasoline on a reseller basis. "Amazing Acceptance," "First in the Field," and "Evidence" are to be catchwords of the campaign.

The motor oils advertising will consist of a series of ads which will strikingly picture and explain the ability of the winter grades of the new oils to flow at freezing temperatures when other oils tested remain solid.

Spring and early summer advertising smashes, coupled with vigorous selling effort, have greatly increased popularity of the premium gasoline, Red Crown Ethyl. The new oils, Iso-Vis and Polarine, have also achieved an outstanding success on the market.

Mrs. Frances Crawford and daughter, Catherine, also H. Shearer of Central Lake, were callers at the home of Clyde Smith Sunday.

The Co-Op meeting was well represented by Barnard folks on Friday night, and all enjoyed the fine program and ice cream and cake.

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lax, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the Central Drug Store, the Rexall store.

Capt. Brant enjoyed Sunday dinner at the home of C. Robertson, at Eastport.

J. W. Thum, county school commissioner, visited the Antrim City school Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henderson and son of near East Jordan, were Sunday visitors at the H. Slate home.

Grace Brooks of Rogers City spent the week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Brooks.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Hall and Mr. and Mrs. Greg Sutter of Gaylord, were Sunday visitors at the Stott home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Smith and Mrs. Heeter of Three Oaks, spent two days last week at the Harry Slate home.

Farmers could get better prices for their cowpeas if the peas were released after threshing or hulling, the U. S. Department of Agriculture believes. Practically all the foreign matter and light-weight and broken seed which are often found in cowpeas at the market could be removed on the farm by running them through a small cleaning machine. If such a machine is not available, run the cowpeas through the huller a second time. Screenings from cowpeas will serve as feed for livestock.

SHOULD ATTEND ALL LECTURES

EXTENSIVE PROGRAM OF INSTRUCTION FEATURES MEET

All Features of Show Will Be Held in 4-H Club Camp Just North of City Limits

While the hundreds of exhibits of potatoes and apples have been the main attraction at the Top O'Michigan Potato and Apple Show at Gaylord October 29 to 31, those persons planning on attending this year should arrange to attend the lectures and discussions.

The first meeting is on Wednesday noon when the certified seed growers of the Top O'Michigan will attend a luncheon. Speakers at this luncheon will be J. R. Livermore of New York State, H. C. Moore of Michigan State college, and Guy Eppler, Master Potato Grower of 1929.

Immediately following this program the regular afternoon program will be held when an opportunity will be given the potato growers to hear O. F. Jensen of the National Fertilizer Association and I. J. Matthews of the Potash Importing Corporation discuss potato fertilization. Apple growers will have a chance to hear D. H. Hootman, horticulturist of the Michigan State college.

On Thursday afternoon, R. Wayne Newton of the Michigan State Farm Bureau, Burt Wermuth, editor of the Michigan Farmer, and R. J. Baldwin, director of extension of the Michigan State college will talk.

A special potato dealers meeting is also scheduled to follow this afternoon program.

The junior folk will have a luncheon program on Thursday noon to be addressed by Professor Carl Spiller of Petoskey. Club winners will also be announced at this time.

The women's program in charge of Glenn McCrary of Alpena will be held Thursday afternoon. Miss Edna Smith in charge of home economics at Michigan State college will be the main speaker.

Then, the main event of the day, (Thursday) the banquet at 6:30 p. m. Al Weber, editor of the Cheboygan Observer, will be master of ceremonies which will include music, singing, talks and announcement of awards. Don't fail to take in the Thursday program including the banquet.

On Friday morning at 10 o'clock, the annual Top O'Michigan Town and Country Choir Singing contest will be held. There will be two to three hours of good singing at this contest.

The eighth annual show will close at 3 o'clock on Friday afternoon.

All features of the show will be held at the newly constructed 4-H Club camp just north of Gaylord city limits except the singing contest which will be held at the Gaylord auditorium across from the court house.

A big time is being planned by the management. Every farmer in the Top O'Michigan, whether a potato or apple grower, or not should plan to attend at least one day; many people take in all three days.

BITS OF INFORMATION FOR FARMERS

It is easy to test the soundness of Portland cement. Make a ball, about one and a half inches in diameter, of neat cement and water and put it under a wet cloth and keep it moist for 24 hours. Then put the ball in a container of water, let it come to the boiling point slowly, and boil for three hours. A good cement will not be affected, but an inferior cement will crack, or go to pieces entirely.

Many insect pests of the garden find protection under boards, stakes and other loose material left in the garden during the winter. These should be cleaned up. The dead vines or dead leaves of the crop plants may harbor diseases and insects which will attack the crops the following year. As soon as the crop is removed all plant remains should be turned under deeply and thoroughly in order to check the development of certain insects and diseases. If a crop is known to have been badly infested by insects or diseases it is safer to remove the plant remains and burn them even though this involves a loss of organic matter which under ordinary conditions, should be

The actual cost of the statewide primary recount was approximately $50,000 instead of the $250,000 estimated by John S. Haggerty, secretary of state, according to the state auditor general's department.

Vouchers covering the cost of clerks and employees, at $1 an hour, have been issued and the total was only $44,000. There remains to be paid only the county and township clerks, who are limited by law to $2 a day plus mileage one way at 10 cents a mile, and John P. Kirk, who was counsel for the state board of canvassers, besides miscellaneous bills. John B. LaFountain, who handles the vouchers for the department, estimated the total cost would not far exceed $50,000. This figure includes the expense of the Seventh congressional district recount.

Haggerty and Clarke Brown, head of the state compiling division, fixed the figure of $250,000 when Alex J. Groesbeck first filed his petition for a recount. Later Brown said that many corners were being cut and the cost might be "considerably less."

The average pay of the $1 an hour clerks was $57. Scores of letters from county and township clerks protesting against their meager allowance have been received but inasmuch as their compensation is fixed by statute there was doubt as to whether anything can be done for them.

Quick Relief for Coughing Spells

The amazing success of this prescription called Thoxine is due to its quick double action. It immediately soothes the irritation and goes direct to the internal cause not reached by ordinary medicines. The very first swallow usually stops even the most obstinate cough.

Thoxine is pleasant tasting and safe for the whole family. Your money will be refunded if it does not give better and quicker relief for coughs or sore throat than anything you have ever tried. Put up ready for use in 35c, 60c, and $1.00 bottles. Sold by Central Drug Store and by all other good drug stores.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

Labor Investigates
Although child labor is no longer the storm center of reform movements and concerted protests, it is still prevalent enough to merit attention from so influential an organization as the American Federation of Labor. This was made plain at the federation's executive council meeting held recently in Atlantic City.

The council, in considering a request from the Sugar Beet Workers' association for affiliation with the Federation, ruled that the petition could not be acted upon until an investigation of labor conditions in the beet fields was completed.

William Green, president of the Federation, clearly indicated that the affiliation will not be granted until the obstacle of child labor is removed. "While we are anxious to help people in the organization of a strong, compact labor union," Mr. Green said, "the main obstacle seems to be the use of child labor in their ranks."

Representatives of the American Federation of Labor are now making a survey to determine for themselves the labor conditions that prevail in the beet fields. Complaints are frequently heard that the beet sugar industry makes use of women and children and of undesirable Mexican immigrants. Public-spirited people will welcome such an impartial investigation of the facts.

The Microphone Professor
Is a mixture of education and advertising, well shaken and poured through a loudspeaker, a desirable concoction for thirsty minds? Educators gravely doubt it, states Armstrong Perry, specialist in radio education of the federal office of education. The "commercial taint" in pure instruction is the bugaboo that frightens these objectors.

Some educators have been censured for speaking in programs sponsored by tobacco companies. It was claimed that the speakers were thereby endorsing certain brands of cigarettes; even though their remarks had nothing to do with the industry.

Others are afraid that lecturers may be restrained in accuracy because of the financial element involved. One thousand hours of educational broadcasting are done daily by America's 600 radio stations, representing 15 per cent of the total broadcasting time. More than 60 colleges own radio stations, and numerous others use outside broadcasting facilities. Programs of musical appreciation reach about 5,000,000 students in 150,000 school rooms throughout the country.

The word, "educational," is a broad one as applied to radio broadcasts. It included everything from reports on the London Naval conference to lectures on insect life. Aerial instruction is far more developed in European countries where the broadcasting of education is given serious, organized thought and effort.

A Seal with a History
"The most beautiful national emblem in existence" is the Great Seal of the United States, according to reputable art critics. For this, the credit must go largely to Jefferson, Adams and a French engraver, Du Simitre, who collaborated in evolving a design for our nation's first hand-marks the best features of which appear on the present seal. Although the seal was ordered soon after the Declaration of Independence was signed, so particular were those in authority that no design was accepted until 1779.

We have had two great seals since that time. In 1885, the secretary of state, Mr. Frelinghuysen, called attention to the fading lines of the original seal which had been in use for more than a century, and a second seal was ordered. It was used until the Roosevelt administration, when prevailing official sentiment that the seal lacked real heraldic significance led to another change.

Under Secretary of State John Hay, a new hand mark, reproducing the most attractive features of the 1779 seal together with certain improvements in design, was made. It is that seal which Colonel Stimson used to day.

CORN CROP HITS
NEW LOW RECORDESTIMATED TO BE LIGHTEST IN
32 YEARSPotatoes and Other Produce Hit New Low Marks—Extended Drought
Damage Heavy

The volume of late crops being harvested by Michigan farmers this fall is considerably below the average of recent years, according to the estimates released Saturday by the office of the agricultural statistician. Although spring grains yielded well above average, the late crops, with the exception of grapes and pears, were reduced by the drought which continued practically unbroken in many localities from the latter part of July until late September. Rainfall during the past month was more than one inch below normal for the lower peninsula, and in many sections, it came too late to be of much benefit to the potato crop. Harvesting of beans and fall fruits has progressed rapidly during September due to favorable conditions and the advanced nature of the season.

The Michigan potato crop promises to be the second smallest of the last 31 years, the yield per acre from early reports being the lowest since 1916. The total production as estimated on October 1st was for a crop of 16,043,000 bushels as compared with 18,410,000 bushels last year and 30,249,000, the average for the ten years 1920-29. The crop was favored by a longer growing season this year, heavy frosts not being general until the last few days of the month. Last year killing frosts were quite general September 18 to 20.

The longer growing season was also beneficial to the bean crop. The estimated production of field beans amounts to 5,165,000 bushels as against 5,691,000 bushels last year. Average production for the ten years 1920-29 was 5,626,000 bushels. The probable yield is now estimated at 6.2 bushels per acre, returns being best on the heavy lands of the Saginaw Valley and the Thumb and lightest in the south-central counties. A ten-year average yield for Michigan is 11.6 bushels per acre.

Oats yielded nearly six bushels per acre more than average this year, and the total crop is estimated at 57,342,000 bushels. This is 14 per cent more than the average production of the last ten years. The yield per acre of barley for Michigan was 30 bushels or almost five bushels more than the average return. This crop is estimated at 7,440,000 bushels or 33 per cent larger than last year's production. The average yield of spring wheat for the state was 18 bushels per acre, three bushels more than the long time average. The production of this crop is estimated at 90,000 bushels.

Michigan's corn crop will be the smallest in 32 years according to the October 1st estimate. The condition reported on that date was 51 per cent of normal. Last year at this date the figure was 56 per cent, while for the previous ten years the average has been 80.

Michigan's tame hay crop is the smallest since 1925, the average yield being only 1.20 tons per acre while the long-time average return for the state is 1.32 tons. The alfalfa crop is smaller than a year ago being set at 1,076,000 tons with 1,254,000 tons the 1929 crop.

Sugar beet production in Michigan this year promises to amount to 430,000 tons compared with 300,000 produced last year. The planted acreage is 64 per cent larger than the harvested area for 1929, and in addition sugar beets have withstood the drought better than most other late crops.

The final estimate on the Michigan peach crop amounts to 629,000 bushels as against 816,000 for 1929. The total apple crop is estimated to be 29 per cent smaller than one year ago. The commercial apple crop amounts to 995,000 barrels while that for last year totalled 1,206,000 barrels. The pear crop is estimated at 770,000 bushels, with 468,000 bushels harvested a year ago. The grape crop is estimated at 73,720 tons, with the 1929 production set at 68,870 tons.

Sunday services 10:45 a. m. Subject, "Doctrine of Atonement." Wednesday evening at 7:45, first Wednesday of month only. Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m. The public is cordially invited to all services.

"Arc Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, October 12.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good." (Rom. 12:21).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Stand porter at the door of thought. Admitting only such conclusions as you wish realized in bodily results, you will control yourself harmoniously. When the condition is present which you say induces disease, whether it be air, exercise, heredity, contagion, or accident, then perform your office as porter and shut out these unhealthy thoughts and fears." TEMPERANCE UNION
to State Convention

Mrs. W. H. Rauch, in an address given at the W. C. T. U. meeting held in the community room last Friday afternoon, expressed the opinion that the work of the organization is so important that no one should be invited to join and told that they "would not need to do anything."

Workers are needed to carry out the program of "Temperance Education for Today," which was the topic under discussion. Mrs. Rauch directed the L. T. L. work for the union last year and will continue it this year. She is especially concerned that the children be given temperance instruction and thinks there should be leaders for groups of children and young people of different ages.

Mrs. Benton, Mrs. Usher, Mrs. Staley, and Mrs. Saltonstall gave readings on the topic containing some scientific truths about alcohol and showing the need of teaching these truths in the day school and Sunday school. World Temperance Sunday comes October 26th and Sunday school teachers will on that date have opportunity to discuss personal liberty, total abstinence and prohibition with their classes.

Mrs. Rauch was elected a delegate to the state convention to be held in Grand Rapids October 14 to 17.

The proposed amendment to the constitution of the state of Michigan to be voted on at the November election was explained and reasons given why many will vote "no."

The election of officers was deferred until next month. Mrs. Hart will lead the November meeting and Mrs. Nordrum and Mrs. Brown will act as hostesses.

Could Not Eat A Meal Without Distress—New Medicine Wins Another Fine Triumph

MR. HENRY GEDDES

"For some time I suffered intense distress from a very disordered stomach," said Mr. Henry Geddes, 1231 Cass avenue, Grand Rapids, Mich. "Every meal caused suffering and I could not eat a bite of food without having indigestion pains and gas bloating. The food formed a heavy mass in the pit of my stomach and always brought on smothering spells. I found it impossible to get sound, refreshing sleep."

"Konjola marked the turning point of my health. Day by day the different ailments became less severe and then, like magic, they disappeared. Today I eat what I please, enjoy the food and digest it as nature intends. Sound, refreshing sleep is mine. I owe this all to Konjola and I praise it with all my heart and soul."

Though Konjola works quickly, and many sufferers are greatly benefited in a week, a complete treatment of from six to eight bottles is recommended for thorough results.

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix, Mich., at F. J. Fessenden's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

will be eligible to enter the singing contests held under the direction of Michigan State college short course department at each of the four regional potato shows.

The dates for the contests are: Escanaba, Oct. 25; Gaylord, Oct. 31; Reed City, Nov. 5; Mayville, Nov. 7. Both the chorus and the choir groups must contain six or more members. Entries for the contest may be made by writing the short course department, M. S. C., East Lansing.

Each group will be required to sing two selections one of which must be "The Radiant Morn Hath Passed Away." The other number to be sung is left to the option of the singers.

Prizes totaling $560, provided by the R. O. Olds Community Singing fund, will be awarded the winning groups at the four shows. Choir singing contests held annually at the college during farmers' day have proved very popular and have drawn many groups of contestants.

The contests will be judged by members of Michigan State college music department.

ARCHIE ALCOCK INJURED
IN AUTO CRASHHis Wife Also Hurt When Car Hit
Tree Wednesday Forenoon

A trip of inspection to the poor farm by a party of Charlevoix county supervisors now in annual session here, wound up in the local hospital Wednesday morning.

Mrs. John Cadden of Clarion, owner and driver of the machine, failed to make the turn at White's corner and the car plunged into a tree. Archie Alcock, supervisor of Charlevoix third ward, also Mrs. Alcock, were injured. The former received a gash on the scalp requiring 17 stitches, and Mrs. Alcock suffered a severe cut over the eye. Mrs. Woods of Chandler township, fourth member of the party, was uninjured.

CONSTANTINE WOMAN
DIED HERE TUESDAYSuccumbed at Charlevoix Hospital
Following Brief Illness

Mrs. William H. Garber of Constantine, Mich., died at 3:30 Tuesday afternoon at the Charlevoix hospital, where she had been taken three days previous because of illness.

Mrs. Garber was taken sick at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Garber, residing south of this city, where she was making a visit. Her husband was called and was present at the time of her death.

The remains were shipped to Constantine for funeral and interment Wednesday morning.

Insects infesting stored grain may be destroyed by fumigation with one of several poison gases, but carbon disulphide is probably the cheapest and most effective for treating grain in bulk on the farm. Carbon disulphide evaporates when exposed to air, forms a vapor heavier than air, and when applied at the top of a gas-tight bin of grain will penetrate down through the grain. Be careful in handling carbon disulphide, as its vapor is very inflammable.

Intercepted Pass in Fourth Period Gave Local Lone Counter of Contest—Harbor Here Saturday

Dame Fortune smiled upon Charlevoix's heretofore down-trodden football warriors Saturday afternoon at south side field and aided them towards a 6 to 0 victory over the heavily favored Gaylord eleven.

After three quarters of scoreless battling, much of which was in the shadows of Charlevoix's goal, Arvilla, fullback, speared one of Gaylord's many forward passes and galloped unhindered for a touchdown—the one and only counter of the afternoon.

For Gaylord, the contest was just a series of successful forward passes and unsuccessful attempts to cross Charlevoix's goal from distances ranging from 30 to less than ten yards. For Charlevoix, it was just a continuous defensive effort to stem drives which appeared headed for a touchdown several times in each quarter.

With their back to the wall and their goal threatened, Kipke's men staged one gallant stand after another. Without a question it was only their ability to hold in the pinches that saved them from overwhelming defeat. Gaylord had no less than three excellent scoring chances in the first period, as many in the second, two in the third and one in the fourth. Gaylord attempted to score in the second period on a placekick, and again in the third quarter tried a drop-kick. Both were wide.

Gaylord completed several passes in the first half for good gains and, while in mid-field, seemed to be able to advance on straight football without much trouble. As they neared the goal, however, their attack broke. Strange as it may seem, while Charlevoix's line was a stone wall on defense, it crumbled on offense. Once was able to get off few good punts. Many were from behind his own goal and invariably they were hurried. On several instances they were nearly blocked and put the local team in a dangerous position. However, the boys would tear in even harder and another Gaylord scoring chance would be averted.

Outside of the lucky hunk when Arvilla grabbed off a Gaylord pass and romped down the field for a touchdown, Charlevoix never made a serious threat. They garnered but two first downs, once late in the second quarter on straight football, and again early in the third period when Foster made four yards on successive line plays and then passed to Clark for the necessary yardage. On the other hand, Gaylord's many passes and gains through line plays and end runs gave them a good yardage.

John Ferenc of Traverse City, was referee, handling the game in good shape before a fairly large crowd. Charlevoix's victory Saturday was their first in conference tilts. They had previously been tied by East Jordan and beaten at Mancelona.

SHIAWASSEE SOLONS REFUSE POOR FUNDS FOR GAS AND MALT

Indigent persons who drive an automobile or harbor a dog will not receive help from Shiawassee county, the board of supervisors has resolved.

The ruling was made after it was learned that many applicants for county aid were driving cars and used county orders to buy gasoline and that others bought malt to make beer. In some cases food that should go to children has been fed to dogs, the supervisors learned.

Without casting any reflections, we might add that Shiawassee county's supervisors have taken the right stand on a condition that exists elsewhere than in their own county. While conditions are generally bad throughout the entire country, there are still those who would take advantage of the taxpayers' generosity by squandering funds given to aid only where dire necessity demands.

PILGRIM CIRCLE ENJOYED RURAL MEETING

Gathered Last Wednesday at Struthers' Farm Home

Mrs. Andrew Struthers was hostess last Wednesday to the Pilgrim Circle of the Congregational Ladies' Aid society at her country home on the shore of Sagan lake in Hayes township.

There were 28 present, four of whom were visitors, to partake of the bountiful chicken dinner. The usual business and social session followed in the afternoon.

The work of the Community Benevolent committee was explained by Mrs. Cross, who represents the Congregational church on the committee. A group was enlisted for the 1930-31 home management extension course of the Michigan State college with Mrs. Saltonstall and Mrs. Sterritt as leaders.

Circle officers for 1931 will be elected at the next meeting which is to be held November 12th with Mrs. E. E. Cross.

OCTOBER COURT IS IN SESSION

EIGHT PLEADED GUILTY ON WET COUNTS MONDAY

Judge Parm C. Gilbert Will Impose Sentences in Court Thursday Morning

The October term of circuit court opened Monday at the Charlevoix court house with Judge Parm C. Gilbert of Traverse City, presiding. A large portion of the 44 probation cases on file were heard Monday and those who were not present will come before the court Thursday.

Eight pleas of guilty were entered Monday afternoon for various violations of the liquor law.

Admitting their guilt were Oscar Johnson, Melrose township, possession and sale; Claude Gokee, Melrose township, possession; Saul Henderson and Zander Bass, Boyne City, possession; Hugh Kinner, Detroit, possession and transportation; Frank Tison, Boyne Falls, possession; Ward Gill, Melrose township, possession; Arthur Taft and John Winters, Beaver Island, possession. They will be sentenced Thursday morning. James Rose, Charlevoix, pleaded not guilty to violation of the liquor law, and James Whitely, local resident, entered a similar plea to a charge of malicious destruction of property. Both will be tried before a jury.

Judgment in the sum of $2,137.33 was given in favor of First National Bank, Boyne City, in their assumpsit case against Pine Shore Realty Co. In a similar action, E. F. MacCrone & Co. was awarded judgment of $1,997.73. Alexander Heller, Boyne City, was defendant. The trespass case of Alexander Heller, Boyne City, vs. M. Brandy & Son, Grand Rapids, was settled out of court.

Court will be adjourned Thursday afternoon until next week, when a number of cases which were not ready at the present session will be heard.

MELROSE TWP. VOTE ON FIRE EQUIPMENT

Proposition Before Voters at Election November 4th

At the general election on November 4th the voters of Melrose township in Charlevoix county will vote on the question of purchasing fire fighting equipment for the use of the township.

The proposition is to assess two mills on the assessed valuation of the township each year for five years commencing in April 1931. In the township are Walloon Lake and Clarion besides a lot of valuable resort homes that, at the present time, are without any adequate fire protection.

The adoption of the proposition would place the township among the leaders of the state in fire protection for its residents.

WRITER EXPLAINS FIVE AMENDMENTS

STATE OFFICIAL SHOWS EFFECT OF ALL IF ADOPTED

Apportionment Scheme Hatched in Detroit Would Rob Northern Michigan of Rights

We are republishing from the Petoskey Evening News an article written by Emerson R. Boyles explaining the five questions which will appear on the amendment ballot at the election November 4th.

Mr. Emerson explains in a short, concise manner, each of the five questions, and we believe that our readers, after perusing the article carefully, will go to the polls Tuesday and vote "NO" on each.

The article follows: The constitutional amendment ballot November 4th will contain five propositions to be voted on, the first three of them are amendments to the Constitution proposed by the Legislature, the fourth is an amendment proposed by an initiative petition, and the fifth is a referendum vote whether the state will adopt the cigarette tax law passed by the legislature. So far as I know, this is the first time a statute has been put up to a vote of the people by referendum.

The first amendment affects only counties having an assessed valuation of $100,000,000 or more, so far as it proposes to allow township officers to be elected every two years at the November election. This part will not apply to small counties. However, there is a provision in this amendment which will apply to small counties and that is that the legislature may provide for the appointment by the township board of a commissioner of highways instead of making it mandatory for each township to elect a highway commissioner. The obvious result of this amendment, if adopted, would be to allow the legislature to change the township law so that the highway commissioner would be an appointive office instead of an elective office, and the office would be filled by the township board.

ERNEST CHEW DEAD AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Died at Home on Belvedere Avenue Last Saturday

Ernest Chew, who came here early this summer with his family, from Tennessee in search of health, died Saturday at his home on Belvedere avenue after a prolonged illness. He was 39 years of age.

The family had resided several months with Mrs. Chew's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Datus Dean of Ironton, before moving to Charlevoix.

Surviving besides the widow are four children, Emerald, Marquerite, Ernestine and Harold.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning from the First Methodist church, Rev. John E. Lockyer officiating. Interment was at Brookside.

GENERAL ELECTION TUESDAY, NOV. 4

FIVE PARTY TICKETS HAVE CANDIDATES FOR OFFICE

Republican Party Candidates for State, Congressional, Legislative and County Berths

Next Tuesday, November 4th, is general election day, and polls of Charlevoix central voting place—the library building—will be open from 7:00 a. m. to 6:00 p. m.

The ballot this year has six party tickets. Practically the only one concerning Charlevoix voters very much is the Republican party, which has a full ticket of candidates for state, congressional, legislative and county offices. If a dozen votes are cast for other parties in this county it will be unusual.

Then, of course, there are the five amendments on another ballot. Almost without an exception, adoption of these amendments would be detrimental to other than a small section of Michigan and out-state voters owe it to themselves to go to the polls next Tuesday and vote these amendments down. So that the amendments will be understood more thoroughly, we are publishing a short explanation of each in another column of this issue. Read it over carefully.

Following is the line-up of all parties for state offices:

REPUBLICAN TICKET

For Governor—Wilbur M. Bruckner.

Lieutenant Governor—Luren D. Dickinson.

Secretary of State—Frank D. Fitzgerald.

State Treasurer—Howard C. Lawrence.

Auditor General—Oramel B. Fuller.

Attorney General—Paul W. Voorhies.

Justice of the Supreme Court—Henry M. Butzel.

Congressional

U. S. Senator—James Couzens.

U. S. Representative—Frank P. Bohn.

FORMER LOCAL RESIDENT DIED THURSDAY

Mrs. Max Fralick Pneumonia Victim at Racine, Wis.

Funeral services conducted by Rev. John E. Lockyer were held Monday afternoon from the First Methodist church for Mrs. Max Fralick, former local resident, who died last Thursday at Racine, Wis.

Mrs. Fralick's death was a distinct shock to her family and many local friends. She was taken suddenly ill with pneumonia and died within a few days at a hospital in Racine.

Violet Sherman was born July 28, 1898, at Sebewing, Michigan. She resided with her parents in Alpena until her marriage in January, 1916, to Max Fralick. The family made their home in Charlevoix for about three years before moving to Racine. Mrs. Fralick held the highest office in the Beavers fraternal order at Racine and was also president of the Methodist Ladies' Aid Society of that city, where she had a large following of friends. Funeral services were held there prior to bringing the remains to Charlevoix.

Surviving besides her husband are three children: Clarence, 12 years; Maxine, 8 years; and Patricia May, 18 months; also her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Sherman of this city.

BENEVOLENT COMMITTEE ORGANIZE

OFFICERS AND CHURCH REPRESENTATIVES ARE CHOSEN

Committee Plans Campaign of Work to Help Needy of Charlevoix and Vicinity During the Winter

At a meeting held recently a Benevolent committee, whose plans and work are to aid needy families in Charlevoix and vicinity during the coming winter, was organized, officers elected and representatives of various local church societies appointed.

Heading the committee as president is Mrs. Minnie Cross. Other officers and society representatives are as follows: Vice-president, Mrs. Harker Kirby; secretary, Mrs. Clinton Cooper; treasurer, Mrs. A. F. Bridge; church society representatives: Baptist, Mrs. Harker Kirby; Catholic, Mrs. James Gaskin; Congregational, Mrs. E. E. Cross; Christian Science, Mrs. L. E. Benton; Church of God, Mrs. Reuben Pearl; Methodist, Mrs. F. E. McMillan; Episcopal, Mrs. Henry Cooper.

It is the plan of the committee that each of the above named societies sew one day each month for the needy, also to collect and distribute clothing as the needs are made known through the schools and other channels. Each group will present their needs to the respective leaders.

Donations of clothing are solicited and may be sent to the community room, where necessary repairs will be made and where each group will meet to remodel and distribute clothing. At present the donation of a sewing machine for use during the winter would be greatly appreciated, and anyone having one may phone Mrs. Cross or Mrs. Kirby.

The Mary Brewster Circle have set the date of their meeting for work on November 12th, and as soon as other societies arrange dates they will be published.

Plans of the Benevolent committee are very worthy and deserve the whole-hearted cooperation of everyone in the city.

MAY DISCONTINUE AIR TRANSIT LINE

BYRNE EXPLAINS TRAFFIC IS TOO SMALL TO PAY

Would Use Plane on Petoskey Line Between Grand Rapids and Automobile City

We reprint the following article from Saturday's issue of the Traverse City Record-Eagle. It concerns an announced plan by Jack Byrne, president of the Michigan Air Express, to discontinue the Grand Rapids-Petoskey line which has been in operation the past ten months, because of insufficient traffic. We uphold the Record-Eagle in the opinion that towns along the route should organize to produce sufficient business to hold the line. The article follows:

"The Michigan Air Express is making plans to abandon the Grand Rapids-Petoskey line that for the past 10 months has enabled Big Rapids, Cadillac, Traverse City, Charlevoix, Harbor Springs and Petoskey to board a daily airplane service, the Record-Eagle learns from Jack Byrne, president of the company.

"If the plans are carried out, the black-orange six-place Stinson plane that wings southward over Traverse City at 7:51 a. m. and northward at 3:32 p. m. will leave this route—which hasn't yet made money for the company—to go into service on the new Detroit-Grand Rapids route, which already, according to Byrne, has more traffic than its present equipment can handle. Whether the northern Michigan route, once abandoned, would be reopened during the summer probably cannot be predicted, but Byrne doubts that it would be. It would be unwise to purchase equipment for three or four months operation while express business could not be built up satisfactorily for a short period, he believes.

"As a matter of fact, both Byrne and Ed. Curtis, his traffic manager on the northern route, say they are highly pleased with the express traffic, as a number of retail and wholesale houses are using its service regularly, but the passenger traffic, satisfactory during the summer, has dropped off disappointingly. An average of one passenger a day in and out of Traverse City would be enough to warrant continued operation of the line, Byrne says, but the average is considerably less than that. He believes that the traffic is here, if local people traveling to Detroit and Grand Rapids were sufficiently sold on airplane travel, but apparently they are not. The difference in the cost of plane and railroad travel is immaterial in many cases and the time saved by plane and the comfort of the journey should persuade many business men and others to use the line, Byrne reasons. He believes that the line can be made to pay, given a little more time, but at present he sees it as good business to use the equipment on the Detroit run rather than invest money in a new plane there while continuing to lose money here. Another plane will have to be added between Detroit and Grand Rapids, he says.

"Opened less than a month ago, the Detroit line has a heavy patronage, much of it through traffic using the line as a link in a transcontinental route connecting the east with the northwest. The local traffic too between Grand Rapids and Detroit is large, Byrne reports, despite the (Continued on page 8.)

ELECTION TUESDAY; DO YOUR DUTY AS A CITIZEN BY VOTING

Next Tuesday, November 4th, is election day and the polls in the library building will be open from 7:00 a. m. to 6:00 p. m.

Voting is a privilege, a right for which our ancestors fought and for which millions of down-trodden people in other sections of the world would give their lives.

Those who say they do not pay any attention to politics do not realize that politics means the government of the city, state and nation.

Those who do not interest themselves in these matters and ignore their civic duties help give control to the politicians for whom they profess contempt.

Do your duty by voting next Tuesday.

Night Coughing Quickly Relieved

Famous Prescription Gives Almost Instant Relief

Night coughs or coughs caused by a cold or by an irritated throat are usually due to conditions which ordinary medicines do not reach. But the very first swallow of Thoxine, a doctor's prescription, is guaranteed to give almost instant relief. Thoxine works on a different principle, it goes direct to the internal cause.

Thoxine is pleasant tasting and safe for the whole family. It will give you better and quicker relief for coughs or sore throat than anything you have ever tried or your money will be refunded. Put up ready for use in 35c, 60c, and $1.00 bottles. Sold by Central Drug Store and by all other good drug stores.

Magazine Campaign

The Curtis Publishing company has given the seniors the privilege of selling their magazines, including the Saturday Evening Post, Ladies Home Journal and the Country Gentleman. This is a very good money-making scheme for the class has a 50 per cent commission on each subscription.

In order to make the selling game more interesting the senior class is divided into two teams and each team is endeavoring to get more than the other. The names of the teams are the Reds and the Blues. Mary Simmons is captain of the Reds and Marjorie Manley of the Blues. At present the teams are tied.

It is planned that the losing team will give a party for the winners.

The Latin I class has been busy making floor plans of Roman houses. These plans were made after the class had completed the study of the interior and exterior of Roman houses during the Empire age.

The football game with Gaylord last Saturday certainly was decidedly a "no point" game until our big curly headed "woman hater," Joe Arvold intercepted a pass and scored a touchdown for old "Red and White."

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause." But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c to-day at the Central Drug Store, the Rexall store.

The team showed themselves loyal to the school they were fighting for. They certainly outdid themselves in "Holding That Line." Most of the team think that there is not enough "pep" on the side-lines. It seems as though some of you girls should do something about that. Band

With the addition of this year's beginner's class, the high school band has an enrollment of 40 members. This means that approximately one-sixth of the number of students in the high school are taking the advantage of learning to play an instrument and to understand the rudiments of music free of cost.

The band is now practicing from a new book. It is more simple than the last book because of the beginners. The band will give a concert at the auditorium soon for the students. Mr. Terwee has received the list of contest numbers. The required selection is "Prelude to the Faust," by Gounod, and for his choice number he will probably select the "Gypsy Festival Overture," by Haydn. Practice will begin on the contest numbers as soon as they arrive.

Debate

Mrs. Dowd has chosen the debate team which will represent Charlevoix in the first debate which will be held here in the gymnasium on November 6th with Boyne City.

Our team which consists of Dorothy Staley, Charles Cellner, Daisy Dutcher and Clarence Smith will have the affirmative of the question for high schools this year which is: "Resolved, that national chain grocery stores operating in the state of Michigan are detrimental to the people of the state."

The team wishes to thank the independent merchants for the information given them and also the chain store manager.

Because of the interest shown by the public the debate will be in the gymnasium in order to accommodate the crowd that is expected.

Do High School Students Need Notebooks?

"Well, Miss Brown what do you know about Ben Jonson?" Mr. Coleman inquired of Miss Brown in senior English class one day.

"I left my notebook in the assembly and I can't remember much about it," Miss Brown answered.

"Does that mean you keep your brains in your notebook?" Mr. Coleman demanded. "If there was a fire I suppose you'd all come in here with blank and shining faces and tell me you knew nothing because you'd lost your notebooks."

With due respect to Mr. Coleman we still believe students do need notebooks, at least for those subjects which incur the obtaining of a large amount of outside material. We do not intend to keep all our brains in notebooks but we do like to keep part of them there.

Especially when exam time arrives, the notebook is in continual use. Without its valuable help we've an idea the "midnight oil" might be burning even later than usual.

Therefore we zealously champion the notebook and vote for its use in many classes.

Drama Club

The Drama club has been exceptionally busy of late. At the last meeting the officers were elected.

President, Gwendolen Miller; secretary, Pat Moran; treasurer, David Coulter.

At that meeting Lilace Johnston gave a report on Miss Bonstelle and the Detroit civic theatre. Mrs. Dowd gave a few interesting sketches on lectures by Miss Bonstelle which she had heard. The club then continued their study of David Belasco's book on the theatre.

Mrs. Dowd reports that the junior play try-outs have been held and 28 juniors have tried out for the respective parts. The cast will be announced soon. Good luck juniors!

The school wishes Mrs. Dowd a very successful year and we sincerely hope the Drama club which she has introduced will become a permanent part of the school program.

Kindergarten

We have just completed testing in the Kindergarten. The Detroit Kindergarten test is an individual intelligence examination. It is designed to test the mental ability of the pupil upon entering kindergarten. It is an individual rather than a group test because the group test is less feasible for children so immature. The measurement of intelligence of the young child is very important as predictive of classification in school. This gives the teacher an opportunity to observe the nature of reaction in addition to the score itself.

First Grade

First grade has a circus parade which we feel sure is equal, if not superior to that of Ringling Brothers at their best. The child who draws the best animal in art class is chosen to draw it on the long strip of paper which is the foundation for the parade.

EDITORIALSCAMPAIGN NEARS END

Another state-wide political campaign is nearing the closing stages. So far but little enthusiasm has been aroused among the voters.

Perhaps as we go into the final week this may change—but not much—people have pretty much made up their minds and will refuse to get excited over candidates or issues.

The primary campaign was much more interesting. With the primary system of selecting candidates we can expect it to grow acrimonious at times.

But there is no danger in that. A heated struggle brings out issues and brings out men. It interests and informs the voters. In the long run it makes for better government.

Sometimes candidates tear down government and faith in it by their campaigns. But the old ship of state always rights itself. Right now we are more concerned in jobs—not political—for those who want to work. If we can do that we have accomplished much.

Let the politicians do the talking—that's their job. But for the future prosperity of the great mass of people the individual or the firm that succeeds in producing two jobs where only one job grew before will be of far greater value than all the patriots seeking a path to glory through the ballot box.

THE TAXPAYER'S DOLLAR

One noticeable feature of the October sessions of Michigan supervisors was a tendency towards economy. So predominant was this sentiment throughout the entire state that in Washtenaw the county actually cut the salary of its own members. In other counties the urge to curtail expenditure of the taxpayer's dollar was paramount, the county solons believing that the certain way to reduce taxes was to quit spending.

In taking the long road, the high road, towards economy, the supervisors were expressing a wide spread public opinion that the time has actually arrived when we should quit talking about our excessive tax burdens and begin to get some action looking towards relief.

There is no denying that for years almost every taxing unit in the state has been on a spending spree regardless of whether or not the money spent was absolutely necessary to community well being. If we erred at any time during this period it was more than likely to be in the direction of liberality, even to the point of extravagance.

Expert observers of the present tax situation believe that the present drive does not mean that economy will be practiced to the extent of cutting out all public improvements, which would furnish work for the unemployed, but that all needless activities should be suspended until the public has caught up with its tax-carrying burdens.

SCHOOL AND THE COUNTRYLAD

School in the country has something that the city pupil knows nothing about. There are the roads—and we like those narrow country lanes with weeds growing along the side—sometimes these roads are dusty, sometimes they are muddy, but always they make "barefooting" a luxury. Let the city lad pound the unchanging sidewalk and view the monotony of house fronts—the country boy has such a variety of changing things that if he has anything of the poet or the artist latent within him it will be brought out by those walks through the country lanes. He sees nature dying in the fall time—blanketed with snow during the winter, and coming to new life with buds and sprouts in the springtime. The smell of plowed sods, the odor of dying weeds, the fragrance of the springtime—ever changing those sensations—ever changing the moods that go with them. There is the music of the country—songs of birds—the honk of geese as they travel southward in the fall and north in early spring—they suggest distance and space as they leisurely wend their way through the skies; what are books to that? Books are what men, other men, say about all of those things, and who cares about what others say about what you witness yourself? Least of all a carefree schoolboy.

CHRISTMAS SEALS

Another season is fast approaching when we will be asked to buy Christmas seals. Already preparations for the successful conduct of this campaign is being made. For every dollar spent in buying Christmas seals we get splendid results from our generosity.

All through the first ten months of 1930 we have watched the proceeds of last year's sales go into tuberculosis clinics, held in every part of the state.

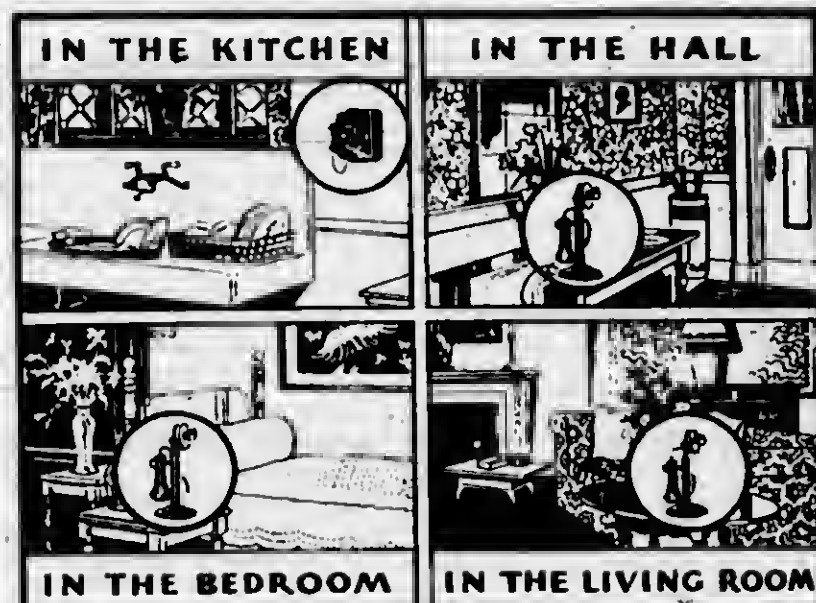

Young folks are examined that the disease may be detected before it spoils a life or brings death. Older people are advised as to treatment that will prevent illness or lengthen life.

Remember this when you are asked to buy seals—we get such good returns for our kindness.

COUNTY NORMAL NEWS

The normal class have completed the first section of the "Technique of Teaching" course. The remainder of this term will be devoted to the study of "School Management."

Through the courtesy of the county clerk, Judge Gilbert, and other court officers, the normal class was permitted to witness the complete court procedure in a jury case.

The first class meeting of the year resulted in the following election: President, Wesley Manley; vice president, Stella Szepetaki; secretary and treasurer, Minnie Marie McDonald.

Anyone interested in plans for the beginning teachers' "First Day," are welcome to visit the class on Tuesday of this week. On Friday the visitor may meet a "Rural Supervisor in the Making."

The normal housekeepers of last week surprised the class by demonstrating a novel method of "picture framing." Anyone interested in learning the trade inquire of Miss Bird or Miss DeMoca.

VICTOR OFFERS COMPACT RADIO AT NEW LOW PRICE

Prominent in the new line of Victor radios now being shown by S. M. See & Sons, is the R-15, an instrument priced within the reach of everyone, yet possessing all the qualities of performance and workmanship which have for more than thirty years characterized Victor products. In commenting on the new instrument, Mr. See described the R-15 as being greater and finer in many respects than the costliest instruments of last year's manufacture.

"The Victor R-15 is as dependable in workmanship as Victor products have always been," he said, "and it is better in design, more versatile in performance and sells for less money than many other low-priced instruments which do not give Victor quality. First of all it has Victor tone, that smoothly flowing, mellow pouring out of sound that only thirty years of acoustical experience could create. Secondly, it has Victor selectivity. With the help of screen-grid radiotrons of modern type and four selective circuits, the R-15 defines the station you want and rules out every other. Then, too, it has amazing sensitivity, and a volume control which makes it possible to fill a hall or cut down volume to a whisper.

"The R-15 is housed in a cabinet fashioned as much to please the ear as the eye. It is of Early English design, made of carefully matched woods, all walnut-veneered, and the acoustical properties are calculated to a nicety. One of its most attractive features is that, because it is built compactly, it can be easily tuned while the listener is comfortably seated in an easy chair."

nittee composed of Mrs. Andrus, Miss Guilford, and Miss M. Donald, are planning to entertain the training room Friday afternoon, October 31, at a Halloween party.

As a part of the final technique of teachers' test, the class, divided into two groups are working out two rural teachers' institutes, programs for which will be provided by the various members of the class. Notice as to exact date and program numbers will appear in a later issue.

The first regular function of the social program of the year occurs on Thursday evening, when the Misses Szepetaki and Saliez entertain the normal class, the faculty and county normal board. In spite of the fact that this is a busy week, no one will want to miss a chance to learn their fate.

A regularly planned social program for the year, on which provision is made for each class member to act as host or hostess at a social function (prepared by himself) has supplanted the earlier plan for class plays, which did not seem to provide an opportunity for the teachers in training practice in a phase of that type of entertainment in which they are most often called upon to participate when they are actually teaching in rural schools.

The training room first grade surprised the normal room by presenting a dramatization of "Wolf and Seven Kids," one day this week.

OBSERVED WORLD TEMPERANCE LAST SUNDAY

Appropriate Program Rendered at Congregational Church

World Temperance Sunday was observed at the Congregational Sunday school last Sunday with a short program appropriate to the day.

Charles Scott recited "Where There's Drink There's Danger." The young ladies of the Willing Workers' class sang "Give Prohibition a Chance" to a popular tune, and pledge cards were presented for signature to all who had not already signed.

The cards are retained by the signers and the names transferred to a wall roll. The pledge reads: "That I may give my best service to home and country, I promise, God helping me, not to use intoxicating liquor in any form."

ted, will allow the state to expend money in improving (dredging) rivers and streams for the purpose of drainage. This may now be done by counties, but the supreme court has held that under the present constitution the state cannot expend state money. This amendment was proposed at the instance of some counties in the "Thumb" district where the expense of a drainage project would be too large to be handled by the local counties or taxpayers and permits the state to expend money in aid of the same.

The third amendment would increase the value of homestead exemptions. At the present time, a farm of 40 acres or less or a house and lot owned and occupied as a homestead is exempt from forced sale for debts, etc., against the owner to the extent of $1,500. The proposed amendment increases this exemption to $3,000 probably on the theory that at the present time a $1,500 homestead exemption is not as large as it was 15 years ago when the constitution was adopted.

The fourth proposition is an amendment proposed by an initiative petition circulated mainly in Wayne county, which, if adopted, will increase the number of senators and representatives in the state legislature from Wayne county in proportion to population, and, of course, automatically decreases such representation from the rest of the state as a whole.

The fifth proposition is the referendum on the cigarette tax. This law passed by the last legislature puts a tax of one cent on each ten cigarettes or fractional part thereof to be raised by requiring stamps on each package practically the same as the Federal tobacco stamp tax. The purpose of the act is, of course, to raise additional revenue for the state general fund. Under the constitution any law passed by the legislature does not take effect when a petition is filed demanding that it be referred to the voters until after it has been voted on and adopted by a majority of the persons voting.

TO THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF THE CITY OF CHARLEVOIX, COUNTY OF CHARLEVOIX, STATE OF MICHIGAN.

NOTICE is hereby given that an election will be held in each of the wards for the city of Charlevoix, at the Central Polling Place, county of Charlevoix and state of Michigan, on Tuesday the fourth day of November A. D. 1930, from seven o'clock in the forenoon until six o'clock in the afternoon Central Standard Time for the purpose of electing the following officers: Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Attorney General, State Treasurer, Auditor General, Justice of the Supreme Court (to fill vacancy), for the term ending December 31, 1931.

Congressional—United States senator and representative in Congress for the Congressional district of which said city forms a part.

Legislative—State senator and state representative.

County—Judge of Probate (to fill vacancy), prosecuting attorney, sheriff, county clerk, county treasurer, register of deeds, circuit court commissioner, drain commissioner, 2 coroners, surveyor.

AND TO VOTE ON THE FOLLOWING PROPOSITIONS: Being four proposed amendments to the Constitution of Michigan and one Referendum proposition, as follows:

Relative to Providing for the Election of Township Officers.

Amendment to Section 18 of Article VIII of the Constitution relative to election of township officers.

Sec. 18. There shall be elected annually, on the first Monday of April in each organized township, one supervisor, one township clerk, one treasurer, one assessor, one constable, and one overseer of highways for each highway district, whose powers and duties shall be prescribed by law: Provided, That in counties having an assessed valuation of not less than one hundred million dollars as determined by the state board of equalization, such township officers may, in the discretion of the board of supervisors of such county, be elected at each general biennial election on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of even numbered years.

General law provide for the appointment by the township board of each organized township of one commissioner of highways, whose powers and duties shall be prescribed by law.

Relative to Authorizing the State to Improve or Assist in Improving Rivers and Streams.

Amendment to Section 14 of Article X of the Constitution relative to authorizing the state to improve or assist in improving rivers and streams.

Section 14. The state shall not be a party to nor interested in any work of internal improvement or in the carrying out of any such work except in the improvement of or aiding in the improvement of the public roads, in the improvement of the rivers and streams for the purpose of drainage only, in the reforestation and protection of lands owned by the state, and in the expenditure of grants in aid of the state of land or other property.

Relative to Increasing the Homestead Exemption to Three Thousand Dollars.

Amendment to Section 2 of Article XIV of the Constitution relative to increasing the homestead exemption to three thousand dollars.

Section 2. Every homestead of not exceeding forty acres of land and the dwelling house thereon and the appurtenances to be selected by the owner thereof and not included in any town plat, city or village; or instead thereof, at the option of the owner, any lot in any city, village or recorded town plat or sun parts of lots as shall be equal thereto, and the dwelling house thereon and its appurtenances, owned and occupied by any resident of the state, shall be exempt from forced sale on execution or any other final process from a court to the amount of not less than three thousand dollars. Such exemptions shall not extend to any mortgage thereon lawfully obtained, but such mortgage or other alienation of such land by the owner thereof, if a married man, shall not be valid without the signature of his wife to the same.

Relative to the Number and Apportionment of Representatives and Senators to the State Legislature.

Amendment to Sections 3 and 4 of Article V of the Constitution relative to number and apportionment of representatives and senators in the state legislature.

Section 3. The house of representatives shall consist of one hundred members. Representatives shall be chosen for two years and by single districts, which shall contain as nearly as may be an equal number of inhabitants and shall consist of convenient and contiguous territory; but no township or city shall be divided in the formation of a representative district, except that when a city is composed of territory in more than one county, it may be divided at the county line or lines: And provided, That in the case of cities hereafter organized or created or territory annexed to an existing city, the territory thereof shall remain in its present representative district until the next apportionment. When any township or city shall contain a population which entitles it to more than one representative, then such township or city shall elect by general ticket the number of representatives to which it is entitled. In every county entitled to more than one representative, the board of supervisors shall assemble at such time and place as shall be prescribed by law, divide the same into representative districts equal to the number of representatives to which such county is entitled by law, and shall cause to be filed in the offices of the secretary of state and clerk of such county a description of such representative districts, specifying the number of each district and population thereof, according to the last preceding enumeration.

Section 4. At the first regular or special session of the legislature following the enumeration of the inhabitants of this state in each United States decennial census, the legislature shall by law in accordance with the provisions of this constitution rearrange the senatorial districts and apportion a new representatives among the counties and districts, according to the number of inhabitants, using as the basis therefor said preceding enumeration; provided, however, that if the figures as to the population of this state by counties according to said enumeration are not available before or during such session, then the legislature shall carry out the provisions of this section at the first regular or special session following the time when such figures are available. If, for any reason the legislature shall not comply with the provisions of this section, then the secretary of state shall forthwith so rearrange said senatorial districts and apportion anew the representatives in the legislature. Immediately after the secretary of state has performed the duties hereinbefore required of him, he shall file in his office a certificate showing the territory included in each senatorial district and showing the apportionment of the representatives among the several counties and districts, and such rearrangement and apportionment shall become effective at the time of said filing. Such certificate shall be included in the succeeding publication of the public acts. When senatorial districts have been rearranged and representatives apportioned anew and any county divided into state representative districts by the board of supervisors, the same shall not be altered until after the enumeration of the inhabitants of this state in the next United States decennial census.

Relative to Referendum on Proposed Law to Impose a Specific Tax Upon the Sale, etc., of Cigarettes.

An act to impose a specific tax upon the sale, gift, exchange, barter or distribution of cigarettes in this state; to provide for the collection of such tax and the disposition thereof; and to prescribe the penalties for the violation of this act.

The People of the State of Michigan Enact:

Section 1. Every person, firm, association or corporation, selling or engaging in the business of selling cigarettes in this state, shall pay to the state a specific tax on all cigarettes sold, given away, exchanged or bartered, at the rate of one cent on each ten cigarettes or fractional part thereof. Only one sale of the same article shall be used in computing the amount due.

Section 2. The tax hereby imposed shall be paid and the stamps hereinafter provided for shall be affixed by the person having possession or ownership of cigarettes to every package of cigarettes before, the same is distributed, sold or given away in this state, unless such stamps shall have been affixed or attached thereto by the manufacturer or distributor of such cigarettes.

Section 3. The tax hereby imposed shall be paid by the purchase of stamps from the secretary of state, of such design and denominations as shall be prescribed by him. Unless such stamp is already affixed, each dealer, distributor or manufacturer in this state shall affix to each package of cigarettes the stamp so purchased from the secretary of state, which stamp shall be in the amount of the tax upon the contents of such package. The stamp so affixed shall be prima facie evidence of payment of the tax imposed by this act. Any person who shall open any package of cigarettes or remove any of the contents thereof without the stamp required by this act having been affixed to said package, or any person who shall open any package of cigarettes or remove any of the contents thereof, unless the stamp shall have been cancelled, mutilated or destroyed, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not more than ten dollars and costs of prosecution, or by imprisonment in the county jail not more than ten days, or both, in the discretion of the court.

Section 4. It shall be unlawful for any person to sell, offer for sale, display for sale, barter, exchange or give away any cigarettes in this state without there having been first affixed to each individual package of cigarettes the stamp required to be affixed thereto by this act. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars or imprisonment in the county jail not more than ninety days, or both, in the discretion of the court.

Sec. 5 Any person who shall falsely or fraudulently make, forge, alter or counterfeit any stamp prescribed by the secretary of state under the provisions of this act or who shall cause or procure to be falsely or fraudulently made, forged, altered or counterfeited any such stamp, or who shall knowingly and wilfully utter, publish, pass or tender as true any false, altered, forged or counterfeited stamp prescribed by the secretary of state under the provisions of this act, or who shall knowingly possess any such false, altered, forged or counterfeited stamp, or who shall use more than once any stamp provided for and required by this act for the purpose of evading the tax hereby imposed, shall be deemed guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof, shall be imprisoned for a term of not less than one year and not more than ten years.

Section 6. Whenever the secretary of state or his assistants shall discover any cigarettes subject to tax as provided by this act, and upon which the tax has not been paid as herein required, said secretary of state or his assistants are hereby authorized and empowered to forthwith seize and take possession of such cigarettes which shall thereupon be deemed to be forfeited to the state, and the secretary of state may within a reasonable time thereafter by a notice posted upon the premises where such seizure is made, or by publication in some newspaper having circulation in the county wherein such seizure is made, at least five days before the day of sale, sell such forfeited cigarettes, and such sale shall be deemed to be payment to the state of the taxes due and the cost incurred in the collection thereof. Provided, however, that such seizure and sale shall not be deemed to relieve any person from fine or imprisonment provided herein for violation of this act. Such sale shall be made in the county where most convenient and economical. All moneys received or collected under the provisions of this act shall be deposited in the state treasury and credited to the general fund and shall be available for any purpose for which such general fund is made available by law.

Section 7. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state to enforce and administer the provisions of this act; to design, procure, furnish and sell the stamps herein provided for, to collect and keep a record of all taxes collected and stamps sold under the provisions hereof; to promulgate such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act, and the said secretary of state is hereby authorized to employ such assistants as may be necessary to administer the provisions hereof.

Section 8. The secretary of state or his assistants are hereby authorized and empowered to examine the books, papers, and records of any distributor or dealer in this state for the purpose of determining whether the tax as imposed by this act has been fully paid, and shall have the power to investigate and examine the stock of cigarettes in and upon any premises where such cigarettes are possessed, stored or sold, for the purpose of determining whether the provisions of this act are being obeyed.

Section 9. The provisions of this act are severable and if any part, section or sentence thereof shall be held unconstitutional or invalid, the same shall not affect the validity of any remaining portion of this act.

Section 10. As used in this act:

(a) The word "person" shall be construed to mean and include persons, firms, associations and corporations;

(b) The word "distributor" shall be construed to mean and include every person who engages in the business of receiving or importing cigarettes and making the original sale or gift thereof in this state;

(c) The word "dealer" shall be construed to mean and include every person other than a distributor who sells, offers for sale or engages in the business of distributing or selling cigarettes in this state;

(d) The word "sale" shall be construed to mean and include gift, exchange, barter, offer for sale and distribution;

(e) The word "cigarette" shall be construed to mean all tobacco or any mixture of tobacco and other ingredients rolled in paper or in any substitute other than tobacco.

Notice is further hereby given that the place or places for voting upon the above Amendments to the Constitution and Referendum on Proposed Law, in each of the several wards and precincts of the city will be the same as for the general November election, and the hours for voting upon said Amendments will be the same as for voting upon all other matters at said election.

MICHIGAN STATE COLLEGE WEEKLY BULLETIN

Michigan Harvests Fine Alfalfa Seed
A record crop of certified Hardigan and Grimm alfalfa seed in Michigan this year promises to place this state among the first four states in the production of this important crop and the fine quality of the seed will add to Michigan's reputation as a source of dependable seeds, according to the farm crops department of Michigan State college.

The estimate of the farm crops men places the production of certified alfalfa seed at 250,000 bushels in Michigan this year, and yields from fields not certified will make the total harvest 750,000 bushels. The quality of the seed is said to be exceptionally good.

Certified seed is that which is grown from seed of known variety and which meets certain requirements of quality and freedom from mixture with other varieties of alfalfa or of noxious weeds. The certification is made by the Michigan Crops Improvement association, an organization of farmers who have been actively interested in maintaining Michigan's high position as a seed producing state.

Huron, Tuscola, Saginaw, Cheboygan, Presque Isle, Alpena, Montmorency, Alcona, and Midland counties have led in growing this crop in 1930. Several high yields, one of ten and one-half bushels per acre, have been recorded.

Dairy Cows Provide Good Nearby Market
A market which at the present time will pay Michigan farmers $25 a ton for lucerne hay, $8 a ton for silage, and $20 a ton for grain is provided by every dairy cow which is able to produce 350 pounds of butterfat per year, according to dairy specialists at Michigan State college.

The same cow will pay 70 cents an hour, in addition, for the time her owner spends in feeding and other care. The college dairymen estimate that it requires 170 hours of labor to care for the 350-pound cow during the year.

Good rations properly balanced will be required to permit the cow to pay such good prices for grain and labor. The college dairy specialists state that it is false economy to shorten or to fail to balance the good cow's ration. The normal requirements for such a cow will be one and one-half tons of hay, four or five tons of silage, and from one to one and one-half tons of grain per year.

Several grain mixtures are recommended for use with various kinds of hay. Either 1,200 pounds of ground oats, 500 pounds of crushed wheat, and 300 pounds of 44 per cent cottonseed meal; or 1,000 pounds ground oats, 500 pounds crushed wheat, 200 pounds barley, and 300 pounds 44 per cent cottonseed meal can be used with alfalfa, sweet clover, or soy bean hay.

With ordinary clover hay, either of the mixtures made from 1,200 pounds ground oats, 400 pounds crushed wheat, and 400 pounds 44 per cent cottonseed meal; or 1,000 pounds ground oats, 400 pounds crushed wheat, 200 pounds crushed barley, and 400 pounds 44 per cent cottonseed meal can be used.

With timothy hay or other non-leguminous roughage, the recommended grain mixtures are 1,000 pounds ground oats, 300 pounds crushed wheat, 500 pounds 44 per cent cottonseed meal, and 200 pounds linseed meal; or 900 pounds ground oats, 200 pounds crushed wheat, 200 pounds crushed barley, 500 pounds cottonseed meal, and 200 pounds linseed meal.

The cows should be fed one pound of grain for every three pounds of high-testing milk or one pound of grain for every four pounds of low-testing milk.

"INSIDE" INFORMATION
Neglecting to boil the glasses may cause cases of fermentation of the jelly after a few weeks. Scalding the glasses with hot water is not so good a precaution against this undesirable result as boiling them.

Moldy bread may result from wrapping the bread up before it is thoroughly cool, or from lack of care of the bread box. In addition to airing the bread box frequently, sometimes scald it out thoroughly, and dry it in a warm oven or on the back of the stove, or directly in the sun. Molds do not like dry hot air or sunshine.

Whites or yolks of eggs may be used instead of whole eggs in making fancy white or yellow cakes, or as an economy in using up parts of eggs left over. For most purposes, two whites or two yolks may be considered roughly the equivalent of one egg. When yolks alone are used a little extra baking powder is sometimes needed.

CROSS-COUNTRY RUN IN PETOSKEY

Schools of Region to Compete There Saturday, November 1

The 1930 northern Michigan regional cross-country meet will be held at Petoskey on November 1. Runners will compete in two classes; B and C-D. Class B is defined as all schools having an enrollment of from 300 to 699, while class C-D is all schools having less than 300 students.

No boy under 16 years of age may compete in the regional. The winning team in each class will receive a team trophy. Four teams will qualify for the state run in class B provided there are eight entries; three teams will qualify for the state run provided there were six or seven entries; two teams will qualify providing there were four or five entries; and one team will qualify if there were less than four entries.

In class C-D, any team competing in a regional run will be eligible to compete in the state run regardless of the number of entries at the regional.

The state run will be held at Ypsilanti on November 8.

A maximum number of six may compete from any school in a regional or state meet.

short distance of less than 150 miles between the two cities and the length of time required between the airport and the downtown section in each city. The Michigan Air Express went into Detroit an experienced operator after its daily operation for nearly 10 months in northern Michigan, a factor that played a large part in its immediate success.

"Of course, Byrne and his associates might be persuaded to continue the northern Michigan line if business interests in the several towns argue the point strongly, but their intention is to withdraw the line early in November. Traverse City and the others will not only lose a convenient service and the prestige that goes with location on an air line, if the intention persists, but the prospect of air mail service, which has seemed very bright lately, will fade completely."

CHEBOYGAN FINDS MURDER MYSTERY

Body of Woman Found by Hunters—Apparently Dead Several Months

The remains of the body of a woman, discovered by two hunters on Point Au Sauble near the Straits of Mackinac, furnished state police Monday with another murder mystery evidently months old.

The body, badly decomposed, was wrapped in canvas and a sash cord was knotted about the neck. The right arm had been severed below the elbow. The woman was clothed in a dress of some light material and a pair of overalls over it. In one pocket was $23 in new banknotes. There were no marks of identification.

Sergeant George Aldrich of the state police station in Cheboygan, estimated that the woman was between 30 and 40 years old, and weighed from 100 to 115 pounds. Her hair was dark brown.

The coroner ordered the body interred in a shallow temporary grave, on the spot where it was found.

Sergeant Aldrich said he had no reports of missing persons which would account for the tragedy.

ROAD MEN ATTENDING ANNUAL SHOW

Commissioners and Engineers Meet This Week at East Lansing

Outlined to be larger and more educational than in the past two years, plans have been completed for the third annual Michigan State Road show, to be held at East Lansing October 28, 29 and 30.

The show is held co-operatively by the Michigan Association of Road Commissioners and Engineers and officials of Michigan State college. The show is a non-profit enterprise sponsored by the association for the educational purposes to road commissioners, engineers, contractors and township, city, county and state officials.

Attending the show are R. T. Davis, county road superintendent, and commissioners, W. E. Byers of Charlevoix, Frank Wageman of Boyne City, and S. T. Rogers of East Jordan.

Go where they all go. Use 100% Pennsylvania. Surprise your motor with its wonderful results. Johnson Oil Station.—Adv. 36tf.

AT THE MOVIES

Two Song Hits Are Featured in "Careless Age"

Three of the most popular Broadway song-writers, all of whom are now under contract to First National Pictures, Inc., composed the musical numbers for "The Careless Age," featuring Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Loretta Young and Carmel Myers, which comes to the Palace theatre Saturday and Sunday.

The outstanding songs are "Melody Divine," which is sung by Carmel Myers, and a frivolous ditty entitled "Say It With a Solitaire."

"Melody Divine" is said to be altogether worthy of its title. The lyrics were written by Herman Ruby and the music by Norman Spencer. It is romantic; it is yearning; and the tune has an insidious quality which makes it linger long in one's ears—even after a single hearing.

Crime and Mystery Play Weird Roles in "The Furies"

"The Furies," described as one of the strangest and most baffling mystery pictures ever made, will show here Wednesday and Thursday at the Palace theatre.

Laid in New York's upper social strata, and amid the luxuries of the modern Babylon, the plot is based on the theory that a crime will bring about punishment of the criminal, if not by law, then in the pangs of a guilty and tortured conscience. The story has a surprise ending which is said to be startling in the extreme.

However, Charlevoix provided the unexpected last Saturday and may have possibly have struck their stride. It's hard to tell what will happen these days. They have an outside chance and might turn the trick.

FORMER PIONEER SUC-CUMBED OCTOBER 22ND

Mrs. Richard McKeel Died at Home of Daughter in Grand Rapids

Funeral services were held last Saturday from the Beattie residence for Mrs. Minnie McKeel, former pioneer resident of Charlevoix, who died last Wednesday, October 22, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Edmonds of Grand Rapids.

Rev. John E. Lockyer of the First Methodist church, conducted services and interment was at Brookside cemetery.

Minnie Huntington was born in Uxbridge, Ont., Canada, May 24, 1844, and was 86 years of age at the time of death. She was married to Richard Burnett, who died some years later. Two children were born to this union, both dying in their youth. In 1880 she married Richard McKeel in Chicago.

Surviving are her foster daughter, four grandchildren and several nieces.

During her residence in Charlevoix Mrs. McKeel resided at 214 Mason street. She was a member of the Methodist church.

Ladies of the Baptist church will hold a rummage sale in the County Bank building on Friday and Saturday of this week.—Adv. 44t1.

ALL ROADS LEAD TO GAYLORD, THIS WEEK

Eighth Annual Potato and Apple Show Now On

This week the eighth annual Top O'Michigan Potato and Apple show is being held at Gaylord.

This is the leading potato and apple show in the country and all farmers and business men of the Top O'Michigan should be interested in its success.

We have arranged with the show association to furnish us with a complete account of the show through a supplement to this newspaper next week. It will allow those not fortunate enough to attend to get a complete report of all activities at the show.

Benzonia Winner of Choir Contest

ELEVEN CHURCH CHOIRS COMPETE FOR R. E. OLDS SINGING PRIZES FRIDAY

With eleven choirs, from all over twenty-three counties of upper Michigan competing for the premiums offered by the R. E. Olds Church and Community choir singing prizes, the two judges, Fred Killeen, assistant director of the State Institute of Music, and Professor Glenn McCracken of M. S. C., had a big job on their hands Friday morning in determining who were the best singers in this section of the state. R. W. Tenney, director of short courses, M. S. C., represented the Fund and was chairman of the meeting.

Twelve choirs had sent in applications, but for some reason Roscommon did not put in an appearance. The eleven were chosen to sing in the order named: Mackinaw City, Brethren, Herron, Elk Rapids, East Jordan, Bellaire, Atwood, Vandorhilt, Kaleva, Harrietteville and Benzonia. Kaleva brought its singers 125 miles to take part, and Brethren, over 130 miles, and both these choirs were here before ten o'clock last time.

It would be impossible to discuss each choir as they deserve. Suffice to say that it was the best contest ever held here, with more choirs competing by 50 per cent. Prof. Killeen stated that the singing was a credit to any locality, and that any of the choirs would give a good account of themselves in any company.

Where and How to Place Fertilizer

CARE SHOULD BE USED IN PROPERLY APPLYING PLANT FOOD

"The seed piece of the potato and young potato sprouts are extremely sensitive to fertilizer injury, and not only must direct contact be avoided, but no fertilizer should be placed either directly above or directly below the seed, according to O. F. Jensen of the National Fertilizer Association, who addressed the Potato Show visitors the first day.

"In my opinion, he remarked, row application of fertilizers for potatoes is more efficient than broadcast up to any ordinary amount. Certainly for rates up to 500 to 600 pounds per acre, row application is to be recommended.

"The fertilizer attachment on the potato planter is on the whole a very satisfactory implement. Manufacturers of farm implements seem to have devoted more study to potato planter fertilizer attachments than to fertilizer attachments for other crops. In the most approved types of potato planter and fertilizer attachments, the fertilizer is applied in two furrows ahead of the planter furrow opener, which splits the ridge between the fertilizer furrows. Disks then cover both seed and fertilizer, with a partial mixing with the soil. The attachment can be regulated so (Continued on page 3)

Guy Eppler Talks Of His Trip To Prince Edward Island And Maine, During Summer

By Guy Eppler

Having had the honor to be chosen winner of the Master Potato Growers' Contest at the 1929 Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show, it was with much pleasure that I made the trip to Prince Edward Island which this Association so generously provided.

It was on Monday, August 18th, that I arrived at the New York Central Station, Youngstown, Ohio, and received the necessary tickets and credentials to accompany the members of the Pennsylvania Potato Growers' Association on their wonderful 3,000 trip by special train through some of the continent's most scenic and historic sections.

I boarded one of the Special Cars in the evening which came by the way to Youngstown, and during the night our special train, consisting of seven Pullmans, two Dining cars, one Club car, and one Observation car with one hundred and ninety people from several counties in Pennsylvania, was assembled. The next morning found us well on our way traveling northward through Central New York. I was much impressed with the vast amount of waste land in Northern New York and also the very beautiful scenery of the Adirondacks. The first afternoon was spent in sight-seeing houses on a tour of the City of Montreal.

The second night was spent traveling through the Province of Quebec, and early Wednesday morning found us entering the Province of New Brunswick, traveling through the valley of the St. John's River where (Continued on page 3)

Economy and Equalization are Michigan's Present Tax Needs

"The time has come to speak out plainly on the subject of taxation." This was the opening remark of R. Wayne Newton, Director of Taxation, Michigan State Farm Bureau, who addressed the Thursday afternoon visitors at the Potato and Apple Show. "If taxes are too high in Michigan, it is because the people have sanctioned a system which makes it too easy to increase the public expenditures and too hard to reduce them. Moreover, the State has alternately commanded and persuaded the local districts to spend the taxpayer's money without showing any appreciable interest in seeing to it that the money so spent is wisely used.

"Michigan needs genuine budgeting laws, effective on every tax levy jurisdiction. She needs review laws that will give over-burdened taxpayers an opportunity to rebuke and veto any and all extravagances of local officers. And she needs an auditing system that will subject (Continued on last page)

Emmet Co. Grower Irrigates Potatoes

EXPERIMENT PROVES PROFITABLE TO J. D. ROBINSON AND OFFERS NEW IDEA

Reading about irrigating potatoes, and actually knowing of its worth, especially when applied to potatoes grown in Michigan, are two different things. By actual experience, J. D. Robinson, Emmet County certified seed potato grower, has found that this year, irrigated potatoes will yield 61 bushels more per acre than unirrigated ones. His irrigated potatoes yielded 343 bushels per acre, while his unirrigated ones produced only 282.

Last year, at the Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show, this grower and exhibitor there was lauded highly for his achievement of winning four first places in the peck and bushel class of both Rural Russets and Irish Cobblers. It was he who, along in the third week of August, after watching his fine stand of Rural Russets going down because of drought, convinced himself that irrigation of potatoes in Michigan might prove profitable.

So with his dream of how to put the experiment into practice, together with a few helpful aids gathered through the Agricultural Engineering Department of Michigan State College, he was able within a few days to perfect his plans, set up his equipment and start work. A field of four and a half acres, with rows running east and west, was to be irrigated. The contour of the field was such that it dipped to the east a bit but more so to the south. Because of this, the matter of distributing the water by means of troughs was quite successful.

The water supply was a small stream better than a quarter of a mile from the field. Where the stream crossed a township road a 2,000 gallon storage tank was erected and was set high enough so that the water could be pumped into it by a gasoline engine and water from it (Continued on page 2)

Six Hundred Three Exhibits Potatoes - Apples at Eighth Annual Show

FOUR HUNDRED FORTY-FIVE ENTRIES OF SPUDS; PRESQUE ISLE WON COUNTY EXHIBIT AND LIONS SHARE OF PREMIUMS; FRANK GUY NEW POTATO CHAMPION

No one would ever think the farmer had problems of taxation, crop surpluses and Farm Relief if they had attended the Eighth Annual Potato and Apple Show of the Top O' Michigan Potato Association at Gaylord last week.

No one present would deny the existence of these problems, and they were discussed by specialists in their line, but the general feeling of both exhibitors and visitors was one of optimism; optimism perhaps for the opportunities seen and discussed for the greater benefit of the farmers of the Top O' Michigan territory. On the other hand the spirit shown may have been due directly to the fact that the Eighth Annual Potato and Apple Show just held was the greatest in the history of its organization.

Nearly 2,500 farmers and business men of the Top O' Michigan attended and took part in the three days activities beginning with a certified seed growers' luncheon on Wednesday and concluding with the Choir Singing Contest Friday morning. The high light of the three days was the annual banquet on Thursday evening, which was addressed by Percy Taylor, of the Federal Farm Loan Board, Washington D. C., and W. H. Tomlinson of Bay City.

A new record was set for the number of Potato entries with 445. This was over ten per cent greater than last year. The number of Apple entries fell off slightly so that the total entries for the show were 603, just a little less than last year. There were 124 entries in the peck exhibit of Rural Russets alone.

This new record in the face of very adverse growing conditions for potatoes speaks well for the farmers and exhibitors of this territory as well as the management of the show.

When the judging was completed, it was found that a new potato king would rule for another year. Frank Guy of Pellston was the sweetpotato winner in the open class. This showing by Mr. Guy was remarkable, since last year was his first try at showing potatoes and the best he did was to win an award of merit.

Another remarkable thing about the selecting of this new Potato King is that during the eight years of the Show, no person has won first place more than once. This indicates that the Show is not dominated by "professionals" and that anyone has a chance every year.

Emery Rutter of Alanson, was the Junior Champion and Elias Leusing of Pellston was the winner in the Certified Seed classes.

In the Apple classes, Homer Waring of Kewadin and D. D. Tibbits of Boyne City divided honors. Mr. Waring won sweetpotatoes in plates and Mr. Tibbits in trays. F. B. Gillespie had many exhibits and took home many prizes.

Drought Not Noticed There was a drought in this area last summer—a severe drought in certain sections, yet the quality of exhibits was not lowered in any degree. To say they were better would be superfluous, because it does not seem possible to grow better potatoes than have been shown at this Show the last two or three years. The growers of the Top O' Michigan have greatly improved their potato growing during the last few years and this Show, the leading agricultural institution in Northern Michigan, has been a factor.

The economic result has of course, been reflected through the returns received from high quality certified seed potatoes and the improving of the table stock to an equivalent degree.

An Educational Institute The Top O' Michigan Show was the first district potato show in the State, and as such, has been a leader in the improvement of the potato industry of the state as a whole, as well as the Top O' Michigan territory.

The Show was designed to bring direct to the farmer, information on the production and marketing of potatoes and apples.

The complete list of winners at the Eighth Annual Show is as follows: Late Potato Classes: Peck Russet Rural—first, Frank Guy of Pellston; second, J. D. Robinson of Pellston; third, Rudolph Klee of Waukegan; fourth, Fred Brudy of Wolverine; fifth, Pearl Banter of Pellston; sixth, Harry Behling of Boyne City; seventh, Martin Hasselman of Hawks; eighth, Reiner Bros. and Hopp of Hawks. Awards of merit went to Milford Shaft of Gaylord; Clinton McDonald of Millersburg; A. N. McDonald of Millersburg; Ralph Dye of Petoskey, and Percy Reed of Levinger.

Peck White Rural—first, M. Smulowski of Gaylord; second, William Duncan, Spratt, and Fred Collins of Spratt, seventh.

Any Other Variety of Merit—first, F. E. Wyrick of Alanson; second, W. A. Straw of Charlevoix and third, Hugh Heynig of Harbor Springs.

Early Potato Classes: Irish Cobblers—first, J. D. Robinson of Pellston; second, Frank A. W. Behling of Boyne City; third, Charles Herron of Alpena; fourth, Ralph Brudy of Wolverine; fifth, Clever G. Brudy of Wolverine; sixth, Fred Brudy of Wolverine.

Any Other Variety—second, John Karasale of Vanderhill. Beginners Special—first, Martin Hasselman of Hawks; third, Reiner Bros. and Hopp of Hawks; fourth, Clinton McDonald of Millersburg; fifth, S. D. Haar of Levinger; sixth, William Baller of Levinger. Awards of merit to Edgar Ramhardt of Lincks; Adolph Reiner of Hawks; Alvin H. Widger of Gaylord and Frank of Gaylord.

County Exhibits In the County Exhibits consisting of ten, one peck exhibits from each county, first place was won by Presque Isle; second, Emmet; third, Cheboygan; fourth, Charlevoix; fifth, Oshtemo; sixth, Kalkaska. (Continued on last page)

Homemaking Is A Profession Which Involves Many People

"Would we not all think of the job of housekeeping with a little more respect and dignity if we realized there is no occupation or profession which involves so many people as that of the homemaker's job?"

This question was asked by women visitors of the Eighth Annual Potato and Apple Show by Miss Edna V. Smith, Acting State Leader of Home Demonstrations at the Michigan State College, who addressed the women's meeting on Thursday afternoon.

"There are about 24,000,000 homemakers in the United States," remarked Miss Smith. "Each one of these homemakers must have training in many different lines. Probably there is no profession that is as complex as that of homemaking."

Continuing, Miss Smith stated that "the purpose of the home is being interpreted so differently than it was at one time. Once it was thought of more as a boarding house existing simply to feed the family. Now (Continued on last page)

Care In Choosing Fruit for Growing

H. D. HOOTMAN SOUNDS WARNING TO FRUIT GROWERS HERE

"When we think of formulating a fruit production program for northern Michigan it will be well to consider first those fruits that are already being grown here, remarked H. D. Hootman, Secretary of the Michigan Horticultural Society, who addressed the fruit growers on Wednesday afternoon.

"In the commercial production of fruit our attention is naturally drawn to the Cuthbert red raspberry, the Montmorency sour cherry and a number of apple varieties, namely the Wealthy, Snow, McIntosh, Greening and Wagener—all of which are being successfully grown in the territory served by the Top O' Michigan Potato Association.

The Red Cherry In Cheboygan County we find ideal soil and climatic conditions for growing the red raspberry, he stated. "Here we find not only some of the best red raspberry plantations in the state, but also, the largest grower, Edward Douglas, who has 80 acres of red raspberries in bearing. Fortunately most of the red raspberries planted in this section have been the Cuthbert variety—the variety most desired by the canners and the fruit trade.

The Cherry Mr. Hootman also stated that in recent years a large number of sour cherry trees have been planted in Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Cheboygan counties. "Plantings have also been heavy in other cherry producing sections. Unlike apples—sour cherries are produced commercially in comparatively few states, namely: Wisconsin, Michigan and New York. "There are three factors," he stated, "that influence the economical production of sour cherries. A good site—a good soil—and good care. A good site that affords fair protection (Continued on page 2)

Careful Grading Is Necessary To Develop A Demand For Michigan Potatoes In Future Years

Quality Products! For years agricultural leaders have been preaching this gospel in an effort to stimulate greater use of certain products and to create for the producer a more favorable market.

Potatoes are a commodity where there is probably a wider range of grading and standardization than almost any other farm product. The reason is that every farmer produces potatoes and the majority sell a few surplus bushels above actual home requirements.

In the heavy potato producing areas, the potatoes are more closely graded and sold under state regulations.

It has also come to the attention of potato shippers and dealers that where the potatoes are produced farther from market and use rail

Premier Farmers from Presque Isle

REISNER BROS. & HOPP GROW 375 BUSHELS PER ACRE ON PLOT

The prize for the Premier Potato Growers contest of 1930 was awarded to three men of Presque Isle. When the contest in which 17 contestants competed was over, Reisner Brothers and Hopp of Hawks were declared the winners.

To win this prize they were required to compete in five different events—yield, 125 points; quality, 125 points; ability to select show samples, 100 points; ability to grade, 75 points; cost of production, 75 points.

Reisner Bros. and Hopp were first in yield, first in low cost of production, first in quality, second in grading and eighth in ability to select show samples.

The three farmers had a yield of 375 bushels per acre as determined by J. J. Bird of the Michigan State College. These farmers are growers of certified seed and grew seven acres this year.

Of the seventeen contestants, there were six from Emmet County, four from Oshtemo County, three from Presque Isle County and two each from Cheboygan and Charlevoix Counties.

Other near winners in this contest were Percy Reed of Pellston, who won second and Pearl Bonter of Pellston third.

Reisner Brothers and Hopp received a beautiful wrist watch as compliments of the Potato Show Association and will compete with winners (Continued on last page)

What Lies Beyond Certification Work

COMMENTS BY POTATO JUDGE WORTH CONSIDERATION OF GROWERS HERE

By J. R. Livermore

(Mr. Livermore is assistant Professor of Plant Breeding at Cornell University. He judged the potatoes at this year's show and addressed the visitors on several occasions.

Before delving into the future it might be well to become firmly established in the present. Just what do we mean by certification? The word certified is becoming so widely used that it is losing a bit of its significance. To illustrate the diversity of use of this word, there are certified dairies, certified public accountants, certified hawking alleys, and no doubt there soon will be certified Tom Thumb golf courses. Is it strange that certification is often misunderstood and given credit for virtues or faults it never possessed? Even within one field, that of certified seed, there is too great a diversity in the usage of the word certified. In New York we are trying to define the word certified so that it may be applied only to the seed produced by the members of the New York Seed Improvement Cooperative Association, such seed having satisfied the requirements of certain standards set up by the Association. It is our hope that a law (Continued on page 2)

A View of the Show Room This Year

may be passed making it illegal to use the word certified as applied to seeds unless they are so produced. The procedure involved in the certification of seed potatoes is quite simple. The field of potatoes is inspected at least twice by some unbiased individual, usually a member of the College staff or possibly a graduate student. There may or may not be a bin inspection of the tubers at some time after harvest. Should the inspection records show that these potatoes have satisfied the requirements in regard to amount of disease and varietal mixture as set forth in the standards set up by the Association, then the potatoes may be certified. So far as New York is concerned, the actual certification is accomplished when the grower, by signing his name or number on the tag, certifies that the potatoes within the container bearing that tag are from the field or fields inspected and passed by the inspector.

There are difficulties and weaknesses in the present system that should and will be overcome as time goes on. With a limited number of inspectors it is impossible to visit each field at the most opportune time, the fields must be inspected in rotation in order to save time and travel. It is a well-known fact that mosaic symptoms are masked or covered up by certain weather conditions. Consider for the moment two fields with the same amount of mosaic in each. The inspector visits one field at a time when optimum weather conditions prevail. The report on that field will record better than 90 per cent of the actual disease present in that field of potatoes. But the other field if inspected under adverse conditions, will show a disease count probably only 40 to 50 per cent of the actual disease content. Both of these lots of seed will be sold on the basis of the disease count on the tag. The first lot will give satisfaction, the second lot will not because it is quite probable that there will be twice as much disease in the crop as was noted on the tag. The certification standards at present pay little if any attention to productivity or yield. They are primarily concerned with disease content. In spite of the fact that it has been shown that two lots of seed with the same amount of disease may differ materially as to yield, no requirement as to yielding ability or productivity of certified seed has been incorporated in the standards.

In New York we have tried to take care of this situation through the establishment of another grade of seed to be known as registered-certified seed. To qualify for this grade of seed potatoes the stock must be practically free from disease, must have been developed in a tuber-unit selection plot and must have demonstrated its ability to yield when grown with other strains under identical conditions in comparative strain tests.

But back of all these regulations there still remains the human factor in the equation. The buyer of certified seed must in the last analysis depend upon the grower for the quality of seed he receives. There are all kinds of growers of certified seed potatoes—good, bad and indifferent. Unfortunately there are still some growers who strive to keep just within the law. No matter how heavily they have to rog out their fields to do it, if they can get by with a count just under the limit of tolerance they are satisfied. I am glad to say that there are many others who are striving continually to reduce the disease count to the absolute minimum and are doing everything possible to improve the quality of the seed potatoes they grow.

The matter of grading seed potatoes offered for sale is a big problem. Perhaps you folks in Michigan have no complaints to make, maybe your seed stock is always well graded. Be that as it may, in New York the growers have much to learn about grading potatoes. It is a very simple matter to grade one's neighbor's potatoes or some that one has bought, but it is extremely difficult to grade one's own potatoes, particularly those one wishes to sell. Altogether too many culls find their way into commerce.

Then in regard to yield; what should the grower do to improve the productivity of his strain of potatoes? I believe, and strongly too, that every grower should make some effort to improve his strain of seed potatoes. There are several ways that this may be accomplished and the practice of any one of these processes would well repay the grower for his effort. Probably the most effective method of improvement, both from the standpoint of accomplishment and nnd labor involved, is that of hill-selection. By means of this practice it is possible to separate many strains or tuber-lines within a given variety of potatoes, grow them under comparable conditions and through the elimination of the poorer yielding strains the better ones are concentrated thus improving the average yield of the given lot of seed stock. Carrying on this process for a period of three or four years it is possible to eliminate all but two or three of the better strains, thereby developing a strain of potatoes that will yield materially more than the original stock from which it was selected.

It has always seemed to me that the grower of certified seed of any crop, be it potatoes or wheat or, in fact, his brother's keeper. It is his duty to produce the best seed that experience and science have made possible. He should never be satisfied to grow seed stock that just gets in under the wire, but should be continually striving to improve his product. As one of my co-workers has expressed it, "Seed growing is an art." It is as necessary in the production of a masterpiece that the seed potato grower have the aptitude and appreciation for his work as it is for an artist or a sculptor. The growing of high quality seed potatoes should be considered not as hard work, but as a pleasant duty and a privilege. Only those men who consider seed potato growing in this light should be in the business.

POTATOES NOW SERVE AS HOTEL PENHOLDERS

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 21.—The lowly potato, which lost its job as a stopper for kerosene cans, has gone to work in hotels as a penholder.

The pens with which guests at two Kansas City hotels register are plunged into potatoes, peeled and shaped to fit into convenient compartments in large pen and ink sets. Clerks at those hotels explained fresh portions of potato penholders are placed in the pen and ink set several times a day.

Farm Bureau Fertilizer Wins Again

Albert Kipfer of Stephenson, Michigan had high yield in the Michigan 300-bushel potato club. Mr. Kipfer's average yield on a 5 acre plot was 402 bushels per acre.

Alphonse Verseure of Manistique placed second with a yield of 365 bushels per acre.

Both of these men used Farm Bureau Fertilizer purchased the Co-operative way.

could be run by gravity into 300 gallon tanks set on trucks.

The truck-load, upon reaching the field would be emptied by gravity into a 400 gallon tank set upon the ground. This tank then supplied the water to troughs running perpendicular to the rows. From this supply it was so regulated that water was run down two rows at a time. About one acre was irrigated and then the troughs and tank in the field were moved on another acre and it was irrigated. The truck was going day and night, two crews of men being on the job. The four and one-half acres were covered with water to the equivalent of three-quarters of an inch, within four days.

To check the value of irrigation, one acre joining the rest of the field was left unirrigated. Considerable interest among the neighborhood growers was manifested during the time the water was being applied to the field and many guesses as to its worth were made.

Mr. Robinson, under the direction of J. J. Bird, Michigan State College Potato Specialist, made comparative checks throughout the two fields. It was found that the irrigated field yielded 343 bushels per acre as compared to a yield of 282 bushels on the unirrigated acre, or a gain of 61 bushels per acre.

Potato growers are aware of the fact that each year there is a period of drought and because of this are becoming more and more interested in the matter of irrigation. Mr. Robinson has carried on a very worth-while experiment and has been repaid for his efforts, and at the same time has helped the potato industry. It is hoped that this will be the beginning of more trials of a similar nature to be carried on in the future.

problems to solve when the motor truck becomes a common carrier of such crops as potatoes is the standardization of this crop. When potatoes are hauled in carlot quantities, and have to be brought to a central shipping point, it is comparatively easy to arrange grading operations which will bring about more or less satisfactory standardization. When, however, trucks are driven to the farms and the potatoes often loaded onto trucks from fields where they are dug, it becomes a much more difficult problem to arrange for proper grading of the potatoes. It is becoming increasingly apparent that especially in seasons of heavy production, all potato growers would better off if the entire crop would be properly graded so that nothing but first class potatoes would reach the market and consumers.

"The erroneous idea which is still in the minds of some growers that the larger percentage of their entire crop they can work off into the channels of trade, no matter what the grade is one which is doing much harm at the present time. We have not given as much consideration as we should to the influence which the forcing of cull potatoes often mixed with good potatoes, onto the market has on consumption of potatoes. A displaced customer is a liability rather than an asset so far as potato consumption is concerned. We cannot expect the city consumer to be pleased or even satisfied when she is forced to pay good money for potatoes which the grower himself would think of using on his table.

"We do not know how it is going to be possible to standardize the portion of the potato crop handled by motor trucks. Michigan has made a good start in this direction by passing a law requiring that all potatoes be properly labeled when placed on the market. Such a law can only be satisfactorily enforced when the public sentiment is back of it. We should endeavor therefore, to create public sentiment in all potato producing states looking toward the establishment of such laws as may be needed to secure better standardization of the potato crop. When all of the states are able to satisfactorily carry on work of this type, a great advance will have been made in the matter of standardizing the potato crop and thereby making potato growing more profitable to the producer and more satisfactory to the consumer as well as to the distributor.

According to P. Dukeshener, director of the Bureau of Weights and Standards of the State Department of Agriculture, an attempt is being made to inspect truck shipments as well as rail shipments, by a force of inspectors who stop trucks loaded with potatoes anywhere at any time and see that the potatoes are properly labeled as to grade.

It is difficult to reach the individual trucker, who often does his driving at night and reaches the market in a round about way. Communities such as the Top O' Michigan have not yet felt the influcent, shall be allowed for potatoes affected by soft rot.

U. S. No. 2

U. S. No. 2 shall consist of potatoes of similar varietal characteristics which are free from freezing injury and soft rot and from serious damage caused by sunburn, second growth, growth cracks, hollow heart, cuts, scab, blight, dry rot, disease, insects, or mechanical or other means.

The diameter of potatoes of this grade shall not be less than 1 1/2 inches.

In order to allow for variations incident to proper grading and handling, not more than five per cent by weight, of any lot may be below the prescribed size, and in addition, not more than six per cent by weight may be below the remaining requirements of this grade; but not to exceed one-sixth of this tolerance, or one per cent, shall be allowed for potatoes affected by soft rot.

Michigan Apple Grades

Michigan Fancy shall consist of one variety of apples which are hand picked and firm, well grown and well formed and apparently free from dirt or skin puncture and injuries caused by bruises, hail, disease, insects, or mechanical or other means, except those incident to proper packing.

Michigan Fancy apples must be uniform in size, and must not vary to exceed 1-2 inch in diameter from the smallest to the largest apples in any one package.

Each apple must have the amount of color specified for the grade and variety.

In order to allow for variations incident to proper packing, not more than five per cent, by count, may be below the color requirement nor more than five per cent, by count additional, may be below the grade requirements inclusive of both the minimum and maximum sizes.

Michigan A

Michigan A shall consist of one variety of apples which are hand picked and firm, well grown and well formed and apparently free from dirt and skin puncture and injuries caused by bruises, hail, disease, insects or mechanical or other means, except those incident to proper packing.

Michigan A apples must not be smaller than the minimum size specified for the grade and variety.

Each apple must have the amount of color specified for the grade and variety.

In order to allow for variations incident to proper packing, not more than ten per cent, by count, may be below the color requirement, nor more than ten per cent, additional may be below the grade requirements inclusive of the minimum size required.

Uniform A

Uniform A apples must not vary more than 1-2 inch in diameter from the smallest to the largest apples in any one package.

In every other respect, apples in the Uniform A grade must meet the requirements of the Michigan A grade.

B Grade

B Grade shall consist of one variety of apples which are hand picked and firm, well grown and fairly well formed and apparently free from serious damage caused by dirt, hail, bruises, disease, insects or injuries caused by mechanical or other means except those incident to proper packing.

B Grade apples must not be smaller than the minimum size specified for the grade and variety.

In order to allow for variations incident to proper packing, not more than 15 per cent by count, may be below the grade requirements, inclusive of the minimum size required.

Commercial Grade

Commercial Grade shall consist of one variety of marketable fruit, which does not conform to the foregoing grade requirements, except that apples must not be less than two inches in diameter and apparently free from decay and broken skins.

Not more than ten per cent, by count, may be below two inches in diameter.

Packing Requirements

Containers must be well filled, but not bruised or crushed. The Michigan Fancy, Michigan and Uniform A grades must be ring-faced and tailed and a flexible cushion should be placed between the fruit and cover. B grade must be ring-faced.

"Careful cultivation, thorough spraying and light pruning must be carried on in the cherry orchard if maximum results are to be secured for the money and labor expended.

"Here in the northern part of Michigan is located a large number of neglected apple orchards," continued Mr. Hootman. "Some of these have been planted on poor locations, others stand on poor soils but most of them have been neglected because the varieties selected for planting were not suited to commercial apple production in this section.

"A few examples of good varieties that grow to perfection when planted in some apple growing sections but often lack size, color or finish, when grown in this section are the Jonathan, Grimes and Delicious."

In closing, Mr. Hootman remarked that, "a recent study of consumer demand in the Detroit market has revealed that only a dozen different varieties of apples are wanted. The Wealthy, McIntosh, Greening and Spy can be grown satisfactorily in Michigan and find a steady market at Detroit. At present, Detroit, which is our logical market, is not well supplied with Michigan grown apples.

"If we ship east we run into competition from New York grown apples. If we ship west we have the box apples of Washington with which to contend. To the south, growers in the various states are generally closer to their market than we are. Let's grow what Detroit needs.

that the fertilizer bands on either side of the seed will be at the same level as the seed, or above it, or below it. General practice seems to favor placing the fertilizer at about the same level as the seed, or above it, or below it. If you have an old type fertilizer attachment, that cannot apply fertilizer in the method described above, it will pay you to junk it. The modern fertilizer attachment will safely and successfully apply concentrated fertilizers. In some experiments in Maine in 1928, as much as 1000 pounds per acre of a 10-16-14 and 667 pounds of a 15-24-12 were applied with a potato planter fertilizer attachment without difficulty, and with very good results. These fertilizers were compared with 2000 pounds per acre of a 5-8-7, which was applied with the attachment.

"Although the potato planter fertilizer attachment has several advantages to commend it, such as accurate placement of fertilizer, saving of an extra operation, and moderate cost, there are many growers in the east who prefer a separate implement for applying the fertilizer. This is usually a one or two row distributor which drills the fertilizer with some mixing with the soil. Then the potato planter follows the rows made by the fertilizer distributor. This kind of a distributor is used by large growers, who apply large quantities per acre. I have never seen this implement used in Michigan or Wisconsin.

"Neither of the implements I have described fit the grower with a small acreage, who perhaps does not have a potato planter, or feel that the scale of his operation warrants an investment in this equipment. Then there are many growers who plant by hand because they wish to check row their potatoes, and cultivate both ways. For this grower, the use of a cultivator with fertilizer attachment is a very practical method to apply fertilizer along the rows. This type of implement has been used to some extent in central Wisconsin, having been called to my attention by Mr. Harold Frost, an agronomist with one of the fertilizer companies. The practice is to plant the potatoes in the usual way, and then hand cultivate immediately to apply the fertilizer. The discharge tubes should be tied behind the first shovel of each gang, so that the hands of fertilizer are applied fairly close to the row, and mixed with the soil. The cultivator fertilizer attachment is inexpensive, and has a good deal to commend it for the small grower.

the hills and valleys were covered with evergreen forests, which were being cut into pulp wood and floated down the river to paper mills. We arrived at the village of St. Leonard, New Brunswick, at 9:00 a. m., where we were greeted by a band and also met by 150 motorists from Aroostook County, Maine. These Maine Potato Growers conveyed us across the St. John's River into the United States at Van Buren and gave us a tour of 105 miles through Aroostook County, Maine, best potato section. The country is flat to rolling and we saw large farms and fine roads with tremendous fields of potatoes on either side. The thrift and prosperity of the growers was shown by well kept farms and homes, good horses, and well kept machinery.

After stopping at several potato fields, we proceeded to Fort Fairfield, where we were given a royal welcome by the Aroostook County Growers and greeted by Governor Gardner. After being served an excellent dinner the party went to the United States Department of Agricultural Experimental Farm at Presque Isle, where Dr. Shultz outlined the experimental work. He emphasized the importance of keeping the fields of good seed away from the fields that are badly diseased, because of the spread that takes place through insect carriers. What impressed me on this farm was that where they sprayed eight or more times with a high pressure sprayer, using three nozzles in the row, there was no blight. Blight had been very noticeable in most of the fields we had passed. I had been told by our driver that two or three sprayings with one nozzle to the row was the common practice.

Cropping methods used in a general way by Aroostook County Potato Growers consists of a 3-year rotation of oats, clover, and potatoes. The clover is cut about July 1st and left on the fields and plowed down to a depth of five inches. Just before freezing time, it is again plowed to a depth of seven inches, and as soon as possible in the spring, it is again plowed to the depth of seven inches, double harrowed, and planted. The potato seed, about 25 bushels per acre, is all cut before planting time, treated with sulphur dust and planted with seed pieces placed one inch below the level of the ground. Nothing is done to the field until the sprouts emerge when it is cultivated and the plants covered. As soon as the plants emerge again, they are again covered, and when from five to six inches tall, they are hilled with scrapers. This operation is repeated two, three or four times, depending on the conditions. Fertilizer analyzing about 5-7-10 is all applied in the row at the rate of 2,000 pounds per acre.

At about 5:30 in the afternoon we returned to our train and started at once on a trip of several hundred miles through New Brunswick. Early

B. E. Musgrave, County Agricultural Agent of Kalkaska County is using 400 to circulate to farmers in his county.

Thursday morning our train was ferried across the Northumberland Strait (nine miles) to Prince Edward Island. Arriving at Emerald Junction, we were met by a delegation of potato growers from the Island and welcomed by the Premier of the Province, Hon. William M. Leach. We were then taken on a tour of this Island, which is about 134 miles long and 4 to 35 miles wide, and lies in the Gulf of the St. Lawrence, just north of Nova Scotia. Here we found land that is flat to rolling, soil that is red and of a sandy loam and farms averaging about 80 acres, where diversified farming is practiced. We traveled many miles on good graded roads and visited several Irish cobbler and Green Mountain potato fields. We saw potatoes growing where it seems conditions must be ideal. The large healthy plants had wonderful foliage with large flat leaves and with blossoms that at a distance resembled a field of huckleberry in full bloom. We then proceeded to Summerside, one of the largest towns on the Island. The usual cropping method practiced in growing potatoes on the Island is to follow a 4-year rotation of oats, clover, pasture and potatoes. The pasture is plowed to a depth of four to six inches in the fall after an application of 10 tons of manure.

During the spring the ground is harrowed three times and planted 35 inches between the row and 12 to 14 inches in the row. Planting is done between the 1st and 10th of June, at the rate of 17 bushels per acre. Fertilizer analyzing 4-8-7 is applied in the row at the rate of 1600 to 2000 pounds per acre. After the plants emerge, the fields are given a cultivation and the plants covered. This is later repeated, hilling being used only one time. It is the practice to spray up to five times, carrying up to 200 pounds pressure with a 6-6-50 Bordeaux solution. The digging season starts October 1st and the yield averages approximately 200 bushels per acre. Most of the potatoes grown on the Island are grown for seed. In 1929 over 2000 cars of certified seed were marketed, these being shipped to Canada, New England, Long Island, New Jersey, Virginia, and Carolinas, and Florida.

In the early evening we ferried across the Strait to New Brunswick and the next morning found our special train traveling in the valley of the St. Lawrence, where we saw long narrow farms of the French Canadians. The St. Lawrence river with its many islands was also very interesting. We arrived at Levis and were ferried across the St. Lawrence river to Quebec, where we were given a sight-seeing tour of this old historic city. We left Quebec in the evening and during the night our car left the special train. The following morning found us on our way to Niagara Falls, where we spent several enjoyable hours. We arrived at Youngstown, Ohio, which was the end of our tour, on Saturday at 9:00 p. m.

(Mr. Eppler won the Top O' Michigan Master Potato Grower Contest in 1929 and was given $100 to pay expenses on this trip.)

HOT POTATO SALAD

Cook six potatoes in their jackets. Remove skins and slice thin. Place potatoes in a casserole. Season, and add a cupful of cut celery, a teaspoonful of chopped onion and a tablespoonful of chopped chives. Add four tablespoonfuls of vinegar. Cover and heat thoroughly.

Modern, scientific farming produced a new American record yield of 1,145.17 bushels of potatoes per acre last fall for L. G. Schutte, prominent local farmer of Monte Vista, Colorado and San Luis Valley potato king in 1928.

Methods used by this former Chicago market gardener and World War veteran, who came to the "San Luis Valley" in 1919, are attracting widespread interest among Colorado farmers.—Grand Rapids Press.

A "piedmont plain" means a plain at the foot of a mountain.

POTATO CANDY

This easily made and interesting confection admits a number of easy variations. A large amount of the foundation dough may be prepared and a variety of candies made by changing the flavor and treatment.

Mash enough freshly boiled potato to make a cupful. Be sure to remove all lumps and have the potato perfectly smooth. While it is still hot, stir in two pounds of confectioner's sugar. This should make a dough of proper consistency for rolling or shaping into balls.

Part of the mixture may be flavored with vanilla rolled into small nut-like balls with a nut ment pressed into the top of each. A sprinkling of granulated sugar gives a pretty effect.

Another way is to conceal on the inside of the candy balls, nut-meats, candied cherries, or other fruit. Malaga grapes are tasty with vanilla flavored candy foundation.

A bit of vegetable coloring is also attractive. A delicate green or pink is pretty.

POTATO AND BEAN CUTLETS

1 cup rice potato
1 cup rice lima beans
1 can pimientos
1/2 cup bread crumbs
Mix thoroughly and salt to taste. Form into shapes to look like cutlets. Dip into beaten egg and sprinkle with bread crumbs and bake in a moderate oven until slightly brown; turn carefully and brown on the other side. Serve with a tomato or cheese sauce.

2 tablespoons fat
2 tablespoons flour
1 1/2 cups milk
1 cup grated cheese
Brown the flour in the melted fat, add the milk and cook for five minutes, and add the cheese. Remove from the fire and stir until the cheese is melted.

POTATOES A LA SCRAMBLE
Into a hot pan, place two tablespoonful of butter. In this, brown one small minced onion and add two cups of cold, sliced potatoes. Beat two egg yolks and spread over the top. Serve when brown on both sides.

RAGOUT POTATOES
Melt two tablespoonful of fat in a stew pan, slice two onions into it, and fry until a light brown. Stir in one tablespoonful of flour and one pint of meat stock. Season, and add four cups of sliced raw potatoes. Cover and simmer slowly until the potatoes are cooked.

Variations: A cup of minced corn beef, dried beef, or ham makes this a good one-dish meal.

NORWEGIAN POTATOES

2 cups raw diced potatoes
1 cup raw diced carrots
1 small onion
1/2 tablespoon salt
5 tablespoon butter or fat
Sauté the onions in half of the fat, then add carrots, potatoes, and seasoning. Stir well, then put into a greased baking dish with enough water to come to the top of the vegetables; cover and cook until tender, then drain off water, if any, add rest of butter, and let brown, uncovered.

POTATO TEA CAKES

2 cups grated raw potato
1/2 cup shortening
1 cup milk
4 cups flour
Salt
Mix potato and flour, and rub in shortening. Add seasoning and then add milk, and roll to one-half inch thickness. Cut out as for large biscuits and bake in a hot oven until a golden brown. Split, butter, and serve very hot. These are excellent with cold meat.

Variations: Add half cup currants.

POTATO ALLEMANOE

3 cups boiled diced potatoes
1 1/2 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon chopped onion
3 cooked pimientos
Salt
Pepper
Parsley
Cook the chopped onion in the butter, add the pimiento, cut in small pieces, add the hot diced potatoes. Stir until well mixed and turn into a serving dish. Cover with allemande sauce and sprinkle with chopped parsley.

BAKED APPLES A LA Russe

1 cupful sugar
6 medium sized apples
1/2 cupful red jelly
1 1/2 cupfuls water
2 tablespoonful lemon juice
Whipped cream
Cook together the sugar and water for five minutes. Cut off a slice at one end of each apple and scoop out as much of the center as possible, leaving deep cup-like shapes. Place the apples in the syrup and bake at 400 F. in a covered casserole until the apples are tender. Be careful that they do not become broken. Meanwhile cook the pulp of the apples with a portion of the syrup and the lemon juice until soft enough to be rubbed through a sieve. To the smooth, velvety pulp, add the red jelly and beat until well blended. Cook the cooked apple cases, fill with the mixture, then chill thoroughly and top with whipped cream. Serve with plain cream and syrup with which apples were baked as a sauce.

APPLE CORNMEAL PUDDING

1 cupful cornmeal
1 teaspoonful salt
Syrup
3/4 cupfuls boiling water
3 cupfuls apples
Cream
Combine the cornmeal and boiling water and place in the top of a double boiler. When blended together, add the salt and apples, which have been previously pared, cored, and cut in eighths. Cook covered for two or three hours, stirring occasionally. Serve with syrup or molasses and top milk or thin cream.

Potato Dealers Growers Meeting

DISCUSS COMMON PROBLEMS TO IMPROVE GRAADING AND SELLING

One of the most interesting sessions held in connection with the Potato Show was the Dealers' Meeting presided over by Mr. Sam T. Metzger of Greenville, one of Michigan's pioneer and foremost potato shippers.

Indicative of the general purpose of the Show, as set forth by its sponsors at its inception, the problems of the potato industry were frankly discussed by representatives of all agencies interested in this business. After the growers had expressed their views, the dealers' point of view was ably brought out by Mr. Metzger and, to the surprise of some, they found that they were on common ground. Mr. Frank Ishbee of the Detroit Terminal gave an interesting description of this new Terminal and then proceeded to demonstrate that even his problems were identical with those of the grower and the dealer. To make the meeting unanimous, Hon. H. E. Powell, Commissioner of Agriculture, and Prof. H. C. Moore, of the Michigan State College, could do very little except emphasize the importance of these same problems as viewed from their respective fields. The entire message revolved around PROPER GRADING, ATTRACTIVE PACKAGES, QUALITY OF ARTICLE, GOOD STORAGE, AVOIDING FIELD FROST AND ADVERTISING. These points were stressed again and again and the importance of them were summarized very plainly in Mr. Metzger's closing remarks.

He said: The dealers and shippers of potatoes are endeavoring to conduct a good legitimate business, giving a square deal all around. It is our wish to give the buyer as good or better stock than he thinks he is purchasing and also pay the farmer the utmost that the market will stand. To be able to do this, there are, however, a few important points which must be considered more closely such as storage, quality, quantity, warehousing, and loading of stock. The proper construction of bins, the segregation of diseased and slightly off of grade stock, proper heating methods, proper ventilation, etc., are perhaps the most important factors to bear in mind in connection with storage, or a considerable shrinkage will occur.

In regard to quantity, Michigan is in a geographical position to supply markets which consume 30,000 carloads, in all of which we have a distinct advantage over any other shipping point. Michigan's production for the past two years has been so far below this figure that we have not been even the slightest factor in determining the national potato market. Its production in the seven years preceding 1928 averaged 17,200 carloads as against 6,000 carloads in 1929. This has not been due to a reduction in acreage—our growers did your part—but on account of the weather man.

We are at present allowing Maine to ship from 30 to 50 cars daily right into our Detroit market while the industry in Michigan has dwindled to a point where Maine, Idaho, Wisconsin and Minnesota have also come into our markets. We were unfortunate this year in that the continued drought shortened what would otherwise have been a more representative crop than has been grown in a good many years. It is the wish of the Michigan shippers that a gradual

Farm Storage Cellar Will Pay for Itself

Have you ever had the experience of trying to sell apples, potatoes and other crops when everyone else was trying to do the same thing?

Markets glutted at harvest time often knock the profits out of a season's efforts.

Why not arrange to store some of your crops so they can be marketed in accordance with demand?

Here's where the concrete storage cellar comes in. Many a farmer who has one can tell you that its total cost was returned to him the first year by being able to take advantage of marketing conditions when they were most favorable.

You can easily build a storage cellar or other concrete improvements on your farm by following a few simple directions. Let us send you a free copy of our booklet "Plans for Concrete Farm Buildings." Write for it today.

every outgoing public dollar to scrutiny to determine whether it was spent in full compliance with the law and according to the budget for which it was raised.

"There must be no more 'passing the buck' back to the local districts, remarked Mr. Newton. "School, highway, and other services now paid for largely by local taxation are of primary benefit to the whole state.

R. WAYNE NEWTON

Much of the present excessive taxation in the hardest hit localities results from state laws that require more taxation than the districts can afford. If better roads, streets, and schools are a state problem, then the legislature which sets out to provide them should also provide for their financing on a basis that will equalize the costs of what the State demands or needs along these lines.

"Our present laws restrict the field of taxation so that too many people avoid making direct payments to their ability. This condition promotes extravagance since many people pay taxes who, fancy they are escaping. Everyone pays taxes in some amount whether he knows it or not. Taxes are paid at the grocery, the railroad station, the dry goods store, the bank and to the landlord. No small part of the cost of many articles and services is added on because of taxes already paid by the seller or those who sold to him. It would be a wholesome influence if all persons could pay more of their taxes directly and less of them indirectly."

Qualify is always a paramount consideration in any commodity. It is improving in Michigan each year as regards potatoes. This has been accomplished mainly thru the efforts of the growers, and, in particular, by the College. Potato Shows like this one do a great deal of good along these lines in the advancement of the potato industry.

With the team-work displayed at this meeting, there is no doubt but that great strides will be made by the Michigan potato industry during the next few years, according to Mr. Moore. Since the prosperity of all agencies is centered around the production of the same products, it is very fortunate that this Potato Show should have brought them together to launch a concerted campaign.

Mr. Fred Hibst, Manager of the Michigan Potato Growers Exchange, gave a brief discourse and endorsed most heartily the idea of working together towards this common end.

Carl Cetas Won the Ford Hardware Free Trip to 'Chi' in Nov.

Carl Cetas of Good Hart, Emmet County, was the winner of the trip to the 4-H Club Congress at Chicago, offered by the Ford Hardware Co. of Gaylord and the Saginaw Branch of the International Harvester Company.

This contest was open to all members of 4-H Potato Clubs in the Top O' Michigan who met the following requirements: 1. Must have been at least 15 years of age. 2. Must have been a second year club member. 3. Must have exhibited one peck of potatoes at the show. 4. Must have submitted a report on the exhibit. Award was made on basis of report and story, forty points; Exhibit at Show, forty points; and Interest in Club work, twenty points.

Carl is 19 years of age. This is his third year of Potato Club work. Last year, although every other member of his club dropped their work, he decided to continue. Carl comes from a community where no other type of boys' work is carried on.

Carl grows both certified seed and table stock and carries on several types of experimental work for his own benefit. His report in brief is as follows: Fall plowed land better than spring plowed. Potatoes were better where fertilizer was used. Spraying seven times was very beneficial. Profit from certified seed was greater than from table stock.

Carl expects to grow more potatoes next year and then enter Michigan State College next fall.

Banquet Enjoyed by Over 300 Men and Boys on Thursday

The Annual Banquet, which is the high-light of the three days activities was held Thursday evening at 6:30, with Al Weber, editor of the Cheboygan Observer, as Master of Ceremonies.

Over 300 farmers, their wives and children, from all over the Top O' Michigan, were present to be entertained by the speakers and singers. A special table near the speakers' stand was reserved for the Kalkaska Board of Supervisors who attended in a body.

It looked like a long program when one viewed the talent assembled about the speakers' table, but by ten o'clock all was over.

Percy Taylor of the Federal Farm Board, Washington D. C., and H. W. Tomlinson of Bay City were the headliners, ably assisted by Miss Edna Smith of the Michigan State College, and the Honorable H. E. Powell, Commissioner of Agriculture at Lansing.

Mr. Taylor emphasized the importance of cooperation and the preparation of standard products of high quality and careful consideration of over production are factors in farm relief. He also told how Federal Farm Board operated.

Mr. Tomlinson, who is a wholesale shoe distributor by profession, gave an inspirational talk, stressing the value of more knowledge in our business activities.

The Brechlsen Bros., 9 and 11 years, of Bay View, gave several musical selections.

Mr. MacDonald, secretary of the Petoskey Chamber of Commerce, also gave a humorous talk on music.

And last but not least, the Rainbow Quartette of the Pennsylvania Railroad sang many songs to the enjoyment of the audience.

The list of winners was announced by the Secretary and this special prizes presented by their donors or special representatives.

About the Show

Moore and Livermore or Livermore and Moore were the judges in the potato classes. Often they sighed "Are there any more?" They were told "there are 'More' and 'More'." This show had its largest entry of potatoes in its eight years with 445. There were 124 entries in the open class of peck Russet Rurals.

The entire Board of Supervisors of Kalkaska County came over on Thursday. Kalkaska county is one of the newest members of the Association and we are glad to see this interest. There were twenty exhibits of potatoes from Kalkaska county.

H. C. Moore of Michigan State College, in charge of Seed Potato Certification, told the certified seed growers that there was about one-half the usual acreage of certified seed in the state this year and about one-half the usual yield.

The show was honored to have Honorable Herbert E. Powell, Commissioner of the State Department of Agriculture spent a few hours at the show. He arrived Thursday.

There must be rain for rainbows to appear. It rained most of Tuesday and Wednesday morning. Wednesday noon the Rainbow Quartette food is not thought of as an end in itself but of in terms of right foods to provide abundant vigor and health.

"The home is not simply a lodging house where one goes to sleep, but it should be such that it provides complete relaxation, rest and recuperation. This is provided not only in comfortable beds, but with restful coloring of walls, arrangement of furniture and the lack of too many knick-knacks.

"The modern home is thought of as a place which emphasizes preparation for right living rather than a place for punishment for wrong-doing.

"The Home Economics Extension Department is now offering service to the farm women in Michigan in the following subjects:

Foods and Nutrition
"Teaching how to select food in accordance with standards for health and growth, preparing it so that it will be appetizing and palatable and teaching the family the wisdom of a well-balanced diet are the phases presented in this project.

Clothing
"One of the greatest problems facing the farm women of today is how to clothe herself and family becoming and suitably at a low cost. This service is helping to solve this problem by showing how to select materials wisely, how to choose ready-made garments and if she wishes, how to sew for herself and children.

Home Furnishing
"The purpose of this study is to help make the home a place where people may live so as to get the fullest enjoyment from life—as how to make the home more attractive by arranging the furniture for restfulness and comfort, how to choose good backgrounds for the rooms as well as how to secure beauty and color through the addition of the right accessories.

Child Care and Development
"For the most part this is taking the form of parent education. Mothers and fathers too, are studying to gain a better understanding of the child mind at different stages of his development and to acquire a greater knowledge of the psychology governing the formation of habits.

of the Pennsylvania Railroad appeared and sang songs of cheer. The weather cleared during early afternoon.

A. C. Lytle, who was secretary of the show for the first seven years, visited the show as a spectator. A. C. is now selling certified seed potatoes for the Potato Growers' Exchange.

The Michigan State College and the State Department of Agriculture had nice exhibits at the show this year.

The Cheboygan Daily Tribune gave a beautiful loving cup for the best exhibit of Certified Alfalfa Seed. This was won by Albert Dietz of Hawks. This is the first time alfalfa seed has been included and will likely be a yearly feature. This cup must be won three years for permanent possession.

APPLE PIE CONTEST

First, Mrs. Percy Reed of Levering; second, Albert Sydow of Good Hart; third, Mrs. Benzer of Gaylord; fourth, N. H. Malone of East Jordan; fifth, Mrs. Arthur Ludlow of Petoskey. Awards of merit were made to Mrs. Jack Holewinski of Gaylord; Mrs. Hannah Anderson of Petoskey; Mrs. Cecina Veenstra of Ellsworth; Mrs. Libeke of Gaylord; Mrs. Frank Wyrick of Alanson; Mrs. M. Collier of Petoskey. The remainder of the 39 contestants received 50 cents each.

POTATO PEELING

First, Mrs. W. H. Green of Gaylord; second, Mrs. Rutan of Vanderbilt; third, Mrs. Ernest Weigmyer of Herron; fourth, Mrs. Bullimore of Vanderhill; fifth, Mrs. F. Woodin of Gaylord; sixth, Mrs. R. Moorhead of Gaylord; seventh, Mrs. Jane Chapman of Gaylord.

Seed Producers Annual Luncheon

OVER 200 GROWERS ENJOY MEAL AND EXCEPTIONAL PROGRAM

The third annual Certified Seed Growers Luncheon Wednesday noon was well attended. Over 200 potato growers and their wives ate together in the dining hall of the 4-H Club Camp and listened to talks by H. C. Moore, potato specialist at Michigan State College; J. R. Livermore, potato specialist at Cornell University and Guy Eppler, of Petoskey, Master Potato-Grower of last year's show.

Mr. Moore emphasized the importance of early planting as a precaution against field frost injury at digging time.

He stated that potatoes in this district should be planted from the middle of June first to May, because the Russet Rural Potato needs a growing season of from 120 to 130 days for complete maturity.

Mr. Moore emphasized the importance of quality and remarked that the housewife was interested in how the potato looked on the inside as well as the outside. If Michigan is to hold its place in the city markets with potatoes from Maine and New York, more care must be used in production.

In closing Mr. Moore recommended the following practices:

First — Careful spraying; second, more general use of commercial fertilizer and green manures, plowed down; third, closer planting of seed pieces to reduce hollow heart and increase the number of medium sized potatoes; fourth, the use of 20 to 25 bushels per acre of certified seed for planting.

J. R. Livermore then addressed the group on New York's method of potato improvement. He was followed by Guy Eppler of Petoskey, who told of his trip to Maine and Prince Edward Island with a special trainload of Pennsylvania Potato Growers last August. The talks given by Mr. Livermore and Mr. Eppler are found elsewhere in this issue.

BENZONIA WINNER OF CHAIR CONTEST

shown in the singing has been greatly helped by these contests, and now, a choir that wins any of the first five places, to say nothing of the first place, can well be proud of its effort.

The five winners this year in the order named were: Benzonias, $60.00; Kalevas, $40.00; East Jordan, $20.00; Brethren, $10.00 and Atwood, $10.00. East Jordan won first last year.

This is the second year for Benzonias to win first.

Over 500 people attended the contest.

PREMIER FARMERS FROM PRESQUE ISLE

HARBOR SPRINGS BURIED LOCAL "11"

SCORED 35 TO 0 VICTORY HERE
LAST SATURDAY

Bradley, Captain and Fullback, Starred for Visitors—Charlevoix Plays Petoskey Saturday

Led by the brilliant running and passing of Bradley, their captain and fullback, Harbor Springs high school football eleven buried Charlevoix high warriors under a 35 to 0 count at south side field last Saturday afternoon.

While the most optimistic fan had predicted a Charlevoix defeat in view of Harbor's past record, few figured the Emmet county aggregation would pile up so heavy a score. Almost from the opening whistle, however, the result was apparent. The visitors forced Charlevoix to assume the defensive early in the first quarter and kept them fighting off a barrage of end runs, line smashes and passes throughout the remainder of the game.

The elusive Bradley scored Harbor's first touchdown after about five minutes of play. He passed from Charlevoix's 40-yard strip to Francis on the 15-yard line, and on the next play swept around left end across the goal. On a similar play he made the first extra point, just as he did after the four other touchdowns which followed.

Soon after play resumed again, Harbor punted over Charlevoix's goal, and the ball was put in play on the 20-yard strip. After three attempts to advance, Ance punted. Harbor returning to the local 30-yard line, Bradley streaked around left end for 20 yards and two plays later went to the 3-yard line. Charlevoix held the visitors to downs and the ball went over, spoiling what appeared to be a sure score. Charlevoix punted out of danger after making a first down on line plays just before the period ended.

The respite was a short one, however. A Harbor advance toward the goal was stopped when they fumbled on the local 30-yard line, but Charlevoix could not gain and punted. On the first Harbor play Bradley reeled off 30 yards around left end, thrust through for a first down and then passed over the goal to Francis for the second marker. The third soon followed. From Charlevoix's 40-yard line Daybird made first down through the line. Sorensen cracked tackle for 3 yards. Bradley passed to the 10-yard strip and then ripped around left end for another score. The half ended with the count 21 to 0 for the visitors.

It took the Emmet county aggregation just four plays to produce another touchdown as play resumed in the second half. Bradley reeled off one of his many left end runs for a substantial gain from mid-field and then passed to Francis, who had about two yards to go for a score.

Following the next kick-off, Charlevoix had its only scoring chance when Harbor fumbled on their own 30-yard line. However, Foster fumbled after a 10-yard advance. Harbor recovered and on the first play Bradley carried the pig skin 40 yards on a brilliant run. On the next play he went to within a foot of the goal. The play was called back. Harbor penalized, and Bradley went on another spree of about 25 yards to the 15-yard line. Here Charlevoix held and started an advance which appeared good for a touchdown. They completed three straight passes to carry the ball from Harbor 15-yard strip to their own 30-yard line, but the next two passes were blocked and the ball went over.

On the next four plays Harbor scored their final touchdown. Daybird carried the ball for a first down on Harbor's opening play. Using the time-worn "Old 83," this same lad

UNITED SERVICE SUNDAY AT METHODIST CHURCH

On Sunday at 7:00 p. m., a community service in honor of veterans of the World war will be held at the First Methodist church.

The city band will play the special numbers and the address of the evening will be given by Rev. G. Russell Parker of Winterville, who is coming to the Congregational church as a candidate for that pastorate which has been supplied since the withdrawal of Rev. Bernard G. Mattson.

The public and especially war veterans are invited to this service.

went to Charlevoix's 7-yard line. Bradley added two yards and in two more plays Daybird went over and the struggle ended 35 to 0 after Bradley added extra point.

While Harbor presented a well-balanced team, Bradley was by far their best ground-gainer. He was good for yardage almost every time he carried the ball, and his running was certainly pretty to watch. The visitor's interference played a big part in the ease with which they advanced. The backfield played as a unit, providing good protection for the ball-toter. Their line stopped every advance Charlevoix attempted.

Dave Livingston, who put in his initial appearance for Charlevoix in the backfield Saturday, showed exceptionally well. It is apparent Coach Kinke overlooked him earlier in the season and that in future years this lad will make a place for himself. We might add that as a unit, the team was badly outclassed, but not out-fought. They put up a good battle all the way against heavy odds.

Saturday's game closed Charlevoix's Tip of Michigan conference schedule. Through their victory, Harbor maintained a perfect record for the season and are now well out in front in conference standing.

Charlevoix closes their season next Saturday by playing the class B Petoskey outfit at Petoskey.

TWELVE SENTENCED IN CIRCUIT COURT

FINES AND COSTS ASSESSED
RANGING FROM $50 TO $500

Crowded Condition of State Prisons
Saved Some from Doing Time
Court Convenes Again This Week

The October term of circuit court adjourned last Thursday afternoon following a four-day session. Earlier in the week probation and several non-jury cases were disposed of.

Infractions of the liquor law proved costly for twelve violators who were sentenced before Judge Parm C. Gilbert at Thursday morning's session.

Paul Carrow, George Lusk and Robert Russell, Charlevoix, were sentenced to pay costs of $50 for transportation and were placed on probation for one year. Harry Point, Bay Shore, drew a similar sentence for possession.

Frank Tison and Oscar Johnson, Melrose township, were assessed costs of $100 each for possession and placed on probation one year. Saul Henderson and Zander Blass, Boyne City, must pay costs of $50 each for transportation and drew a year's probation. Ward Gill, Melrose township, guilty of manufacture and sale, was fined $300, placed on probation for two years and furnished perpetual search warrant. Hugh Kinner, Detroit, who pleaded guilty to transportation, was assessed costs of $500, and drew two years' probation. John Winters and Arthur Taft, Beaver Island, and Claude Gokee, Melrose township, all of whom pleaded guilty to possession, were placed on probation for one year and will be sentenced later.

It had been previously stated that Mr. Johnson had pleaded guilty to possession and sale. This was a mistake for he was not charged with sale of liquor.

Court was to be re-opened on Wednesday of this week, when a number of jury cases not ready for the last session will be tried.

COMMERCIAL ASSOCIATION MEETS THURSDAY

All Business Men Asked to Attend
Gathering at Council Rooms

A meeting of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce has been called for Thursday evening of this week at the council chambers in the library building. The time set is 8 o'clock.

Inasmuch as this is the first meeting of the commercial body since early in the spring, there will be much in the way of reports of summer activities, etc., to be heard. Date for the annual meeting will be set at this time.

An urgent request is made that all business interests and others seeking welfare of the city generally turn out for the meeting.

BRUCKER IS GIVEN A HEAVY MAJORITY

INCOMPLETE RETURNS GIVE REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE
100,000 LEAD OVER COMSTOCK IN GOVERNOR RACE

Associated Press Reports Indicate Four of Five Proposed Amendments Lost by Decisive Margin—Charlevoix
City and County Voters Poll Light Vote

Climaxing a state election without rival from a point of interest, reports given us through Associated Press at Grand Rapids, indicate Wilbur M. Brucker, Republican candidate for governor, won out by a comfortable majority over William A. Comstock, Democrat.

Latest figures at noon Wednesday, gave Brucker a majority of 100,000, with many precincts still to be heard from. In all likelihood, the plurality will mount as more complete returns are compiled. With practically the same decisive vote, other Republican candidates for state and congressional offices were returned victorious.

With 900 out-state precincts still to be heard from, Wayne county's reapportionment amendment is leading by a majority of about 20,000 votes. However, it can hardly be conceded that the amendment will be adopted, for the out-state precincts will cast a negative vote which should be large enough to overcome the lead. All of the other four amendments lost.

Charlevoix county went overwhelmingly Republican as it always has, although a new slant on the number of Democrats within its boundaries is now available. The county vote was generally light and Charlevoix fell over 500 behind the record vote of 1,957 cast at the 1928 election.

The vote cast in 24 out of 25 precincts follows:

For Governor—
Brucker, R.	2014
Comstock, D.	469
For U. S. Senator—
Couzens, R.	2068
Woodcock, D.	328
For Lieut. Governor—
Dickinson, R.	1984
Sawyer, D.	373
For Secretary of State—
Fitzgerald, R.	1979
Abbott, D.	357
For State Treasurer—
Lawrence, R.	1989
Stebbins, D.	357
For Auditor General—
Fuller, R.	1983
Stack, D.	341
For Attorney General—
Voorhies, R.	1981
Kirkby, D.	361
Justice Supreme Court—
Buntzel, R.	1980
Henry, D.	347

The county vote on amendments was as follows:

Election Township Officers—
Yes	442
No	1674
Drainage Amendment—
Yes	460
No	1685
Homestead Exemption—
No	359
Yes	1788
Reapportionment—
Yes	175
No	2056
Cigarette Tax—
Yes	522
No	1389

The straight Republican county ticket was elected without opposition as follows:

Judge of Probate, Ervyn A. Ruegger; sheriff, David Vaughan; clerk, Fenton R. Bulow; treasurer, Joseph William Flanders; register of deeds, Frank F. Bird; prosecuting attorney, Rollie L. Lewis; circuit court commissioner, Lisle Shanahan; drain commissioner, James Simmons; coroners, F. F. McMillan, M. D., S.

OPENING DEBATE THURSDAY EVENING

Charlevoix Affirmative Team Meets
Boys City at Gyn

On Thursday evening of this week, 275 Michigan schools will swing into action in the 1930-31 debating series in competition for the state championship and the University of Michigan wall plaque trophy.

Charlevoix high school's affirmative team, composed of Dorothy Staley, Charles Cellner and Daisy Dutcher, will oppose Boyne City high school's negative team on the question: "Resolved: That National Chain Grocery Stores Operating in Michigan Are Detrimental to the People of the State."

Because of the unusual interest manifest in this very important question and in anticipation of a record attendance, the debate will be held in the gymnasium, commencing at 8 o'clock. The school band will give several selections.

Judges for Thursday night's debate are Supt. George Eikey, Albaj and Messrs. Johnson and Musser of Mancelona high school.

MARION EXTENSION GROUP MEET NOV. 13

Open "Home Management" Project at Marion Town Hall

Marion Center group in the "Home Management" extension class work will hold their first meeting November 13th at the Marion Center town hall. All women living within a convenient distance are invited to attend.

The object of this meeting is to give a broader comprehension of the woman's task as home-maker and will be of interest to those who desire to make the best of their opportunities to advance in this, the fundamental occupation of the nation.

The class will begin at 10:00 last time. Pot-luck dinner will be served at noon. Bring dishes and sandwiches for self and a dish to pass. Everyone bring pencil and notebook.

HALLOWEEN PARTY DELIGHTFUL AFFAIR

Supernatural Home Scene of Charming Event Thursday Evening

The Misses Genevieve Supernaw and Frieda McMillan were charming hostesses at a Halloween party given last Thursday evening at the Supernaw home on West Hurlbut avenue.

The house was prettily decorated in yellow and black, with jack o' lanterns, witches and other novelties appropriate to the occasion.

Entertainment features of the evening were bridge and fortune-telling. At bridge prizes were awarded Mrs. Rny Kipke, Mrs. Arthur Westfall and Miss Mary Bronersky.

NEW MARINE RAILWAY NEARING COMPLETION

Under Water Track Finished and Other Work Being Rushed

Work on the new marine railway under construction at Hamilton & Son's boatyard for the past several weeks is rapidly nearing completion.

Perhaps the most difficult part of the work has been completed by the laying of that portion which goes under water. The railway extends nearly to the north end of the present dock and has a clearance of around fourteen feet.

Putting the balance of the railway and construction of the big, heavy car is being pushed as rapidly as possible so that it may be used to haul out boats for winter storage yet this fall.

FISHER LOSES MILES OF ILLEGAL CHUB NET

Five and a half miles of gill nets valued at $500 and 1,200 pounds of chubs were confiscated by the department of conservation following the arrest of Fred Schmuckel, Rogers City commercial fisherman. Schmuckel was convicted of using nets having illegal sized mesh. He paid a fine of $25 with costs of $6.50. It was his first offense.

COMMERCIAL FISH- ING SEASON OPEN

REQUIRED SPAWN TAKEN AND BAN LIFTED SUNDAY

Early Catches Running Light and Much of Spawn Green—Think Opening Is Too Early

Commercial fishermen in the Charlevoix and Beaver Island districts were given cause for rejoicing Sunday by the opening of the closed season on mackinaw trout in Lake Michigan waters.

Test nets lifted that day on the Ishlia Shoals spawning grounds by Michigan patrol boat No. 1, produced 54 per cent ripe spawn, fourteen over the required 40. The lift Sunday was considerably lighter than that made Saturday, when three boxes of nets set on the same grounds took 2,650 pounds of trout, as compared with 1,800 pounds Sunday. However, fish taken in Saturday's lift contained only fourteen per cent ripe spawn, and it was thought then that the season would not be opened for several days at the earliest.

Opening of the 1930 season was on identically the same date as a year ago and somewhat later than in 1928 when the ban was lifted late in October.

Raymond Cross, operating the gasoline boat "Swallow," brought in the first lift Monday forenoon. He took around 700 pounds of trout from the grounds off North Point. Other lifts throughout the day were considered light, although some ranged up to 2,500 pounds and over.

Much of the spawn in fish taken Monday was green, many of the lifts failing to come up to the required forty per cent. It is the general consensus of opinion that the season has been opened too early, in fact so early that fish will not reach the spawning grounds at all. It is thought that more fish and more ripe spawn would have resulted had the season been opened a week later.

POPULAR LOCAL GIRL WED LAST THURSDAY

Miss Irene Bogart Became Bride of Gregory Shadko at Harrisville

A marriage of interest to Charlevoix was performed Thursday, October 30th, at Harrisville, Mich., when Miss Irene Bogart, daughter of Mrs. Emma Bogart, East Hurlbut avenue, was united to Gregory Shadko of that city.

The ceremony was performed at the Harrisville Methodist parsonage by Rev. C. S. Brown. The couple are at home to their many friends at 536 Chisholm avenue, Alpena, Michigan.

The former Miss Bogart is a graduate of Charlevoix high school, class of 1929, and has a large following of local friends. For the past 13 months she had been a student nurse at Petoskey hospital. Mr. Shadko, a graduate of Michigan State college, is a civil engineer with the state highway department at Alpena.

COUNTY BIG WINNER AT GAYLORD SHOW

TOOK $194.00 HOME AS RESULT OF SHOWING

Harry Behling, Boyne City, Charlevoix County's Heaviest Individual Prize Winner

(By R. C. Mellenkamp)
The eighth annual Top O' Michigan apple and potato show is now past history, but many hearts will beat faster for some time and many pocketbooks are more optimistic as a result.

The show was a distinct success from every angle. Never was there a time that so many attractive programs were arranged, nor as large an attendance present. The potato department was as large as last year, but the apple exhibit was slightly smaller. However, the quality of apples has never thus far been equalled. Of great interest was the exhibit of alfalfa seed, included in the show for the first time.

In the apple division Douglas Tibbitts of Boyne City, was one of the largest exhibitors and the heaviest winner from the county. He had the sweepstakes tray of apples, winning on Wealthy as his outstanding achievement. He won second on a plate of McIntosh, second on a plate of Snows, first on a plate of Wealthy, third on a plate of Wolf River, second on a plate of Northern Spy, first on a plate of Wagener, second on a plate of Hubbardston, third on a tray of McIntosh, first on a tray of Wealthy, second on a tray of Wolf River, first on a tray of Wagener, fifth on a bushel of McIntosh, award of merit on a bushel of Hubbardston, and second on "collection of 50 apples," which was a new class this year.

In the potato division Harry Behling of Boyne City, was our highest winner. His outstanding achievement was that of having the best single potato in the show. He won sixth on a pack of Russet Rurals, had the best peck within the county, third on a bushel of Russet Rurals, and first on a bushel of baking potatoes. Frank A. W. Behling won fifth on a bushel of Russet Rurals and second on a peck of Irish Cobbler. W. K. Struww, Charlevoix, won second on a peck of Burbanks. Rollo Williams of Charlevoix, won an award of merit on his peck of Russet Rurals. Charlevoix county won fourth in the county exhibits in competition with six counties.

In the junior division the East Jordan potato club won second in competition with six clubs. Within the club Gwendon Hott won first, Albert Omland, second, and Robert Tainter, third. Boyne Falls school won third in Smith-Hughes work. Within the school Albert Lang won first, Ervin Lick second, and Robert Russell third.

In the open class, Gwendon Hott won third and Albert Omland sixth on a peck of Russet Rurals. George Spenthen, Charlevoix, won first on a peck of Irish Cobbler. In the apple identification contest D. D. Tibbitts won first and Carl Umor, East Jordan, third.

One of the features of the show was the choir singing contest. East Jordan Presbyterian choir won third place with a splendidly well balanced choir in competition with eleven different choirs from northern Michigan.

Space does not permit the giving of more details, but read carefully the supplement found within this paper that will give all the interesting details.

BENEVOLENT COMMITTEE REPORTS WHOLE-HEARTED COOPERATION

With splendid response and very satisfactory results attending their efforts so far, the Benevolent committee which recently organized to help needy families of Charlevoix and vicinity during the winter, has perfected plans to further their work.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoon of this week the community room in the junior high school building will be open to receive donations of clothing or other articles anyone has to give to the cause.

In response to their request a week ago, three sewing machines have been donated for use of the committee. Other donations of clothing have been received and the various city clubs are getting organized for individual meetings.

With such a splendid spirit of cooperation, much will be accomplished.

THE ONLY BASIS
In Canada, in most of the provinces, there is a government sale of liquor.

Three of the rules that are set down are as follows:

1. Liquor must not be sold to those who abuse it, and sales should not be made so as to render possible a continuance of drunkenness.

2. Liquor must not be sold to those who from the amount of their purchases and from their standing and circumstances are likely to be supplying bootleggers.

3. Liquor must not be sold when the financial standing of the purchaser is such that the sales must be followed by a diminution of the comforts of life in the family.

Good rules, you say. And they are.

But in the saloon days there were plenty of good rules and regulations, plenty of them. Every crime that could be headed off by law was prescribed. There was a sincere attempt to make saloons as decent as possible. But good rules did not work and good rules will never work in connection with the liquor business because the liquor business wants no rules and regulations. It is essentially lawless and it always will be.

The only way that it will ever be handled is to make it an outlaw and deal with it as such.

LEELANAU READY TO MAINTAIN CHANNEL

The Leelanau county board of supervisors at its annual October meeting, informed the war department that it will take upon itself the responsibility of keeping the channel open and dredged free of sand, provided the government will place a breakwater at Leland.

When Major H. M. Tripp, U. S. A., made his recent survey of Leland harbor, he asked whether any local body would undertake to keep the harbor open provided the government built a breakwater. The action of the county board resulted.

RECORD FOREST FIRE SEASON IS NOW FAST

Report Reveals 225,000 Acres Burned During 1930 Season

Michigan's 1930 forest fire season, the worst in years and which commanded all of the fighting strength the state could muster, is now a thing of the past.

The two hundred and more tower-men and special fire wardens have been relieved of their posts in the towers and at the telephones and are building fire lines in preparation for next spring's battles against the fires.

Hundreds of "fire" reports are pouring into the Lansing office of the forest fire division of the department of conservation, and are being compiled to show the number of fires, acreages burned over, costs of suppression, causes, etc.

With figures still incomplete, Howard R. Sayre, chief fire warden, estimated that the total acreage burned over this year would probably show approximately 225,000. The damage was the greatest since 1925 when more than 725,000 acres were burned over.

The long continued drought was as severe in the northern as the southern peninsula, aiding the spread of the flames. The largest single fire was experienced in Schoolcraft county where 25,000 acres were burned over before the fire could be checked.

Interest and active cooperation of the public in preventing fires; in reporting fires; and in assisting in fighting fires, proved an important factor this year in minimizing fire losses, Mr. Sayre said.

CREEL CENSUS CARDS WILL BE CONTINUED

Plan to Extend Queries to Other Branches of Sports

The information given in creel census cards during the past two years has been so important and the public has given such enthusiastic cooperation that cards will now be in the hands of conservation officers throughout the year for use by the public.

The importance of fall fishing, ice fishing, and the numbers and kinds taken by spear during the winter and spring are some of the reasons given for desiring a year-around census.

The fish division of the conservation department has been issuing creel census cards for use by anglers who report local fishing conditions. However, in the past, the cards have been used chiefly during the trout season. Through the thousands of cards returned to the department much valuable information was obtained, information concerning local fishing conditions which has assisted in determining fish planting activities.

It is desired to obtain information concerning other species than trout, and the division is urging that anglers continue to use the cards. The cards may be obtained from the local conservation officers, the division's office at Lansing, or from the local Izaak Walton League secretary. The league has been active in distributing these cards for several years.

ELLSWORTH CANNERY PAYS FARMERS WELL

Three Thousand Dollars Goes to Local Beet Growers

During the week ending October 25th, the Ellsworth canning factory of E. M. Murdoch & Co., took in approximately 200 tons of red beets and 60 ton of carrots, paying out over $3,500 to growers.

Thus far, the company has received about 865 ton of red beets and all indications point to the fact that the crop will total better than 1,000 tons.

The plant is operating to full capacity, and an overtime schedule working every other night for two and one-half hours is in force to enable the plant to do something with the enormous amount of beets on hand.

ATWOOD

Turkey time is here. Ethan Joliffe is contracting peas and radishes for the Leonard Seed company.

George Parsons claims he has a splendid dog, but he is useless on Hallowe'en occasions.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Farrell leave this week Thursday for a two weeks' outing. They will visit friends and relatives in Boulah, Muskegon, Lake City and Chicago. The trip will be made by auto.

Mr. and Mrs. Ethan Joliffe received a letter from Mrs. Lillie Nasson (Lillie Pearl) of Montezuma, Wash., stating her brother, M. Pearl, died in Los Angeles, Calif., last August. Both of the above-named were raised in Atwood.

BARNARD

Mrs. Irving Drost is visiting her daughters in Flint this week.

The L. A. S. will meet next Wednesday, November 12, with Mrs. A. J. Bolhuis.

Miss Lula Watson of Central Lake spent the week-end with her cousin, Dorothy Smith.

Some from this community attended the box social and program at the Burns school near Central Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith returned on Sunday from Detroit, bringing their little niece home with them for a few weeks' visit.

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderly at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c to-day at the Central Drug Store, the Rexall store.

ILL 15 YEARS: KONJOLA BRINGS QUICK RELIEF

Detroit Man Eager to Tell Other Sufferers About New Medicine—"Best of All," He Says

MR. ROY BROWN

"For the past fifteen years I have suffered from stomach trouble and constipation," said Mr. Roy Brown, 7584 Richmond street, Detroit. "I was forced to use laxatives almost daily. I did not sleep well at night and my nerves were becoming badly affected. I was down to 98 pounds and feeling utterly miserable. Nearly everything I ate seemed to remain in a lump in my stomach and caused me great pain. Gases formed from nearly everything I ate."

"Since I have finished my seventh bottle of Konjola I can eat practically anything I wish without distress. I have gained steadily in weight, and can sleep soundly at night. My general health has improved wonderfully and I feel that I owe all this to Konjola."

It is logical to believe that what Konjola has done for others it will do for you—for everyone. This is especially true when this great medicine is given a real test over a period of from six to eight weeks.

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix Mich., at F. J. Fessenden's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Our Sunday school band enjoyed the trip to Levering on Sunday very much, being entertained at the parsonage by Rev. and Mrs. Stanford.

Our parent-teacher association has not been fully organized yet, although a nice crowd met on the day designated. We hope to be able to report a successful meeting soon.

BAY SHORE

Bay Shore school had a Hallowe'en party and program at the school Friday afternoon.

Remember the pie social at the church Friday night, November 7th. There will be a program.

Miss Dorothy Zipp, Arthula Zipp, and Hazel Birch were all home from Petoskey for the week-end.

Miss McCalmon, with her mother and Master Donnie, motored to Boyne Falls Sunday evening.

William Mendle had a bad fall from a car Friday, but is reported as being all right again and able to go to school.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack McCalmon came Wednesday night to visit at the home of their mother. They returned to their school work Sunday evening.

Carpenter school held their Hallowe'en party Friday evening at the school. The 7th and 8th grades of the Murray school were invited and all reported lots of fun and a general good time.

ANTRIM CITY

Joe Stott made a business trip to Central Lake Thursday.

Mrs. C. Stott and family were Ellsworth visitors Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Tyrrell and family called on Mr. and Mrs. F. Brooks Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Robertson and son Wilbur, of Eastport, were visitors at the H. Slate home Sunday.

Lester Brooks and Joe Stott attended the show, "Careless Age," at Charlevoix, Saturday night.

Antrim City folks had a party Friday night at the Antrim school. All reported having a good time.

Mabel Montgomery, teacher of the Antrim school, had a Hallowe'en party for the school children Friday afternoon. Jack and Dick Tyrrell, Albert Slate and Edith Stott were visitors.

STATE LETS CONTRACTS FOR FERRY ELEVATORS

A contract for two automobile elevators at the state ferry docks at Mackinaw City and St. Ignace has been awarded by the state administrative board to the Otis Elevator company whose low bid was $66,640 for both. The elevators will convey cars to the upper decks of the ferries.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

East Jordan Business Men Entertain Club Members

The second annual boys' and girls' club banquet and exhibit was held at the Russell hotel, East Jordan, Tuesday evening, October 28th. It was a most delightful event and attracted a capacity attendance of business men and parents of club boys.

A total of seven potato exhibits, 11 bean samples, and one corn display, were shown by the enthusiastic club boys. Considering the year the potato samples were exceptionally well selected. In fact, the group of samples won second place at the Gaylord potato show in competition with six different clubs.

Premium money to the amount of $22.50 was awarded to the winners, made possible by the splendid generosity of one of East Jordan's leading citizens.

The group was very fortunate in having O. B. Price, agricultural agent for the New York Central Lines in attendance. He acted as judge of the show and spoke very highly of the exhibits. In very well chosen words he commented favorably on the wonderful work being accomplished by these young farmers.

Following are the winners and premium money awarded:

Beans — 1st, Russell and Lyle Knapp, Boyne City, $2.00; 2nd, Donald Fuller, East Jordan, $1.50; 3rd, Percy Brown, Ironton, $1.00; 4th, George Johnston, East Jordan, $1.00.

Other bean exhibitors were Lester Stevens, Walloon Lake; Nyle Gould, East Jordan; Lewis Laurie, Boyne City; George Jones, Boyne City; Howard Gould, East Jordan; Gardelle Niece, East Jordan; and Richard Ziska, East Jordan, each winning $1.00 as premium.

Potatoes — 1st, Gwendon Hott, East Jordan, $2.00; 2nd, Albert Omland, East Jordan, $1.50; 3rd, Gordon Boyer, East Jordan, $1.00.

Other exhibitors were Robert Tainter, Boyne City; Ralph Shepard, East Jordan; Fred Ranney, East Jordan; and George Sneathen, Charlevoix, each winning $1.00.

Corn—Ivan Korthase of Boyne City was the only corn exhibitor and was awarded first place and $1.50 in premium money. He had a splendid sample and one that had already won at our county fair.

Let's hope that this same program can be carried on next year and with similar gratifying results.

AT THE MOVIES

Belasco's Greatest Fame Game After Production of "Girl of the Golden West"

"Girl of the Golden West," which comes to the Palace theatre on Saturday and Sunday, as a First National and Vitaphone production, is considered David Belasco's outstanding theatrical success, and it placed him definitely in the forefront of American play producers.

The play opened in 1905, and was given its first tryout performance in the Belasco theatre in Pittsburgh. It was so popular that it was immediately taken in to New York City, where it ran to capacity audiences during that and the following season.

"The Lone Rider" Due at Palace Theatre Soon

"The Lone Rider," a breath-taking, all-talking "western" with the hard-riding Buck Jones in the main role is scheduled to play at the Palace theatre on Wednesday and Thursday. The film is a depiction of the colorful days of '49. Supporting roles in this production are played by Vera Reynolds, Harry Woods and George Pearce. Louis King, well-known director of outdoor action films, handled the megaphone.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday services 10:45 a. m. Subject, "Adam and Fallen Man." Wednesday evening at 7:45, first Wednesday of month only.

Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to all services.

"Everlasting Punishment" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, November 2.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "For this my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found." (Luke 15:24).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Sorrow for wrong doing is but one step towards reform and the very easiest step. The next and great step required by wisdom is the test of our sincerity, — namely, reformation." (p. 5).

IMPROVED FERRY SERVICE PLANNED

More Frequent Trips in Winter by Car Ferries Believed Assured

Negotiations which are expected to result in improved automobile ferry service across the Straits of Mackinac by the company operating the railroad ferry are reaching a conclusion. Grover C. Dillman, state highway commissioner, announced Thursday.

The boats operated during the summer months by the highway department are not able to cope with winter conditions and the only service available is from the train ferries.

Dillman said that representatives of the railroad companies operating the ferries have tentatively agreed to operate boats morning, noon and afternoon on a regular schedule during the winter. The proposal remains only to receive formal approval of heads of the railroads.

STATE WILL PUSH HIGHWAY BUILDING

MANY MEN WILL HAVE WORK
ON 3-DAY WEEK BASIS

Other Public Building Also to Be Moved Along As Fast As Finances Will Permit

A winter highway construction program which will result in expenditure of between $500,000 and $1,000,000, designed to aid in relieving unemployment in Michigan, was outlined to the state administrative board Monday afternoon by Governor Green.

"We are doing it in that way," Green said, "so that we will be able to hire the most possible men."

The board also continued its efforts to maintain state construction programs to reduce the unemployed ranks of approving contracts totalling more than $300,000 for construction of buildings at the new Ypsilanti state hospital. The work will be started at once although the contracts specify that the state will make no payment for the work until next February.

At that time state tax receipts will have refilled a state treasury which is now somewhat "in the red." The contracts were given to A. J. Dekoning of Kalamazoo, and Spence Brothers of Saginaw. Dekoning will build the employees building and the staff apartment for about $200,000 and the Spence concern will build the superintendent's building for $32,100. Electric work will be done by the Hall Electrical company, Muskegon Heights, $36,615; plumbing and heating, Davis Brothers, Detroit, $55,836; tunneling, Dekoning, $10,300.

The contract for underground piping was held up after Union leaders from Detroit charged that the Lorne Plumbing and Heating company of Detroit, low bidder by only $71, does not pay "the going wage."

The administrative board also received a report of the building department covering this year's work and it informed a Battle Creek delegation that a stretch of 11 miles on M-78 south of the city will be placed on next year's program.

SCHOOL NOTES

"Failure is the only thing which can be achieved without effort."

The paper this week has been edited by Marian McKee, Virginia Nickerson, Marian Smith, Bill Novak, and Drew Young.

Junior Class Rings

Last Monday morning a class meeting of the juniors was called for the purpose of discussing class rings. A committee of five, Margaret Smith, Esther Brady, Marian Smith, David Dick and Howard Davenport, was appointed to interview the ring salesmen, making selections from each representative's rings, to be presented to the class.

By next Friday the committee expects to be prepared to present their selections to the class for elimination and final choice of the class ring for the class of '32."

Cast for Junior Play Chosen

The members of the class that will take part in the play are Gladys Meggison, Ralph Lemieux, Dorothy Griffin, Howard Davenport, Kathleen McCall, Mary Orlowski, Lilnee Johnston, Keith Kerr, Esther Brady, Dan Genett, and Richard McCann, all of whom possess admirable ability to fill their parts.

The executive cast has not been determined, but will be announced later.

The play will be given on December 5th, an appropriate date for the play which is a Christmas story.

"The Goose Hangs High," is a play with a very high royalty, but the juniors are certain that the great appeal of the play will attract such a large audience that there is no need for them to worry.

Kindergarten

The morning and afternoon groups of the kindergarten each enjoyed a Halloween party Friday. The room was darkened and jack-o-lanterns glowed from each table. These, with the reflection from the fire in the fireplace provided the only light in the room, giving a very spooky atmosphere.

Anyone seeing the number of pumpkin jack-o-lanterns at the first grade party Friday afternoon would have had cause to fear a pumpkin pie shortage in Charlevoix. Several mothers sent good things to eat and there is no reason to doubt these were appreciated, since every scrap was eaten.

Children Like This Safe Prescription

Coughs and Sore Throat
Relieved Almost Instantly

Stop children's coughs and sore throats before these ailments lead to dangerous ills. Use Thoxine, a doctor's famous prescription which brings relief within 15 minutes, yet contains no harmful drugs.

Thoxine works on a different principle, it has a quick double action—it relieves the irritation and goes direct to the internal cause. Ideal for all children because it is pleasant tasting and easy to take—not a gargle. Ask for Thoxine, put up ready for use in 35c, 60c, and $1.00 bottles. If you are not satisfied your money will be refunded. Sold by Central Drug Store and by all other good drug stores.

Home Economic Students Attend Demonstration

Mrs. Blanche Kendall supervised cooking classes on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week at the Odd Fellow hall. The high school members of the home economics classes had the privilege of attending on Friday, from 2:00 to 4:30 p. m.

These cooking demonstrations were given under the auspices of the Russell Milling company, producers of Occident flour, and the various grocers of this city.

Campfire Girls

Next Wednesday evening the Campfire girls are going to hold a ceremonial meeting at which two new members, Arletta Mitchell and Barbara Withers, will be taken into the organization. At this time the honors which are given for participation in activities or helping at home will also be presented.

The Campfire girls spent Tuesday afternoon practicing group songs for the ceremonial meeting. Soon they will be veritable nightingales.

Class Dues

Some people pay their dues when due, some when over due, and some never do. When do you?

Enthusiastic Pep Meeting

A particularly striking pep meeting was held Friday morning at the high school, directed by Corney McCall and Johnnie Winder. A new yell was introduced and several girls were asked to give short talks to inspire members of the team. Mr. Otterheim and Mr. Coleman also gave exceptionally encouraging and inspiring talks. Then the meeting was closed with the school song, "Red and White Forever."

Ancient History

The Ancient history classes have been very busy during the last week making attractive posters of many colors illustrating the civilization in ancient Egypt and Asia Minor.

Jokes

Miss Button (Speaking about keeping chairs in order): "Mr. Alexander let's get together on these chairs."

Mother: "Why were you kept after school today, Tommy?"

Tommy: "Teacher told us to write an essay on 'The Result of Laziness, and I turned in a blank sheet of paper.'"

Teacher: "How many days in a year Johnnie?"

Johnnie: "Seven?"

Teacher: "Wrong, there are seven days in a week, but how many in a year?"

Johnnie: "Seven."

Teacher: "No. How many days in a year?"

Johnnie: "Seven, Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. If there are any more I've never heard of them."

The teacher, Mrs. Novotny, returned to the school Monday, finding the windows badly soaped.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Evers and family visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond May Sunday.

The school was decorated with pumpkins and black and orange crepe paper, which made it very gay.

The girls' class from the Burgess Sunday school gave the boys' class their hanquet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orson Cook Saturday. Forty-two attended and a very enjoyable time was had by all.

FARMERS PAID WELL FOR PHEASANT KEEP

They Feed on Many Varieties of Obnoxious Plants

Pheasants feed on 100 different species of insects as well as nearly 100 kinds of seed and plants, a year's study by the department of entomology-zoology of the South Dakota State college shows.

In a report by Oscar H. Johnson, game and fish commissioner of that state, declares that the pheasant will eat almost anything digestible which qualifies him for a wider range than any other species of game bird.

The study referred to included examination of the crops of 285 specimens collected in all parts of the state at all times of the year.

Plants and seeds found in crops included foxtail, wild buckwheat, ragweed, bindweed, smartweed, wild sunflower, wild rose, wolfberry, Russian thistle, wild oats, corn, wheat, oats, and barley as well as leaves and roots of numerous other plants.

Insects identified in the pheasant crops included cutworms, armyworms, many species of caterpillars, chinch bugs, tarnished plant bugs, buffalo tree hoppers, aphids, seed corn beetles, wire worms, white grubs, flies and their larvae, ants and grasshoppers.

Of approximately 25 pheasants examined in a Pennsylvania study, it was found that only one bird had eaten corn. This particular bird's crop contained only five grains of corn against 11 beetles that are known to ravage crops. Hundreds of beetles, including many Japanese beetles and large quantities of weed seeds as compared to only three oat kernels were found in the gizzards and crops of the pheasant studied.

While pheasants do eat some grain it is usually waste grain picked up after the crops are harvested. During the summer when insects are obtainable the birds seem to prefer them to grain. The pheasant pays the farmer well for his keep.

INCREASE SHOWN IN BANK SAVINGS

Commercial Deposits on Other Hand
Have Drop of $9,000,000

An increase of approximately $9,000,000 in savings deposits since last June in Michigan state banks and a decline of about $9,000,000, in commercial deposits is shown in the quarterly report issued Friday by Rudolph E. Reichert, state banking commissioner.

According to the commissioner, "The decline in commercial deposits has been due to the need of funds in business during a period of inactivity following last year's market crash. It is worthy of note, however, that since the call of last June that savings deposits have shown a net increase of $5,657,132."

Resources of the 572 banks under state supervision total $522,508,083.

Little Things

It is little things that make us happy.

Most men want to do something big in business and are holding their happiness in reserve, to burst like a sky rocket when they accomplish the big thing they are after.

Therefore, happiness is not as common, as worry, the smile not as frequent as the frown.

The complete service that the Charlevoix State Bank gives you is made up of many little things.

FIECHTL'S YODLERS BRING HIGH CALIBER PROGRAM

Present American, Swiss, Tyrolean and Bavarian Yodel Songs—Are Highly Recommended

Fiechtel's yodlers have been secured to appear November 12th, under the auspices of public schools. They will present American, Swiss, Tyrolean, Bavarian yodel songs, native mountain folk dance, instrumental numbers, concert zither, mandoline, guitar.

Personnel of the company is Miss Anna Fiechtel, yodler, soprano, guitar; Mrs. Elsie Fiechtel-Kuester, yodler, mandoline; Otto Kuester, basso, entertainer; Richard Denzler, yodler, tenor guitar; Joe Waldberr, concert zither.

The original Fiechtel's Yodler company was originated in Innsbruck, Tyrol, one of the most picturesque places in the Alps, in the heart and cradle of the music loving, music living Tyroleans. The Fiechtels have for generations been known as the leading folksingers and yodlers among their own people, holding unquestioned rank as master artists in their craft. Otto Fiechtel having won the six day yodel contest in Innsbruck.

Fiechtel's yodlers present a big musical entertainment, which is exceptionally high class and unfailingly popular. There is no other organization of this type in the country comparing with them today. They appear in their native costumes, said to be one of the most picturesque worn by any of the Alpineans.

Their program is varied with numerous instrumental numbers; rendered delightfully on the instruments popular in the yodler's native land, also will Mrs. Kuester give a short talk on the most interesting subjects of Switzerland and Tyrol, its customs, manufacturing, and its people.

WILL DISTRIBUTE HUNTERS' WARNINGS

What Deer Hunters Should and Should Not Do in Information

Warnings, caution, and advice to deer hunters will be posted in hotel lobbies, post offices and other places where sportsmen gather, throughout the "deer country" this month by the department of conservation.

Last year these signs were posted on the three state ferries at the Straits of Mackinac. Because of requests for copies of the signs from hotel keepers, sporting goods stores, etc., the department decided this year to make a general distribution.

The signs outline what privileges the hunter has through possession of a deer license; what the license does not permit; advice to prevent accidents and advice as to what to do if the hunter becomes lost in the woods. The posters will be distributed by the local conservation officers.

COUNTY NORMAL NEWS

Mrs. Andrus is back again after a week's illness.

The bulletin board this week has helped to acquaint the class with the duties of the elector and the necessity of the elector acquainting himself with the issues as well as the candidates appearing on the ballot.

Using the knowledge gained from the bulletin board the county normal became the scene of an election, supervised by Mrs. Andrus and Miss Szepelak.

The county normal was offered the opportunity of becoming acquainted with the consolidation movement in Michigan. They were invited to a mass meeting at the Deer Lake school November 5th, at which meeting Roy Noteware of the state department, spoke on that subject.

Education week, November 10-14, will be appropriately observed in the normal and training rooms, under the direction of Miss Baumbach.

The schedule of the county normal health lecture program, carried on by the state department, has been received. The class is looking forward with pleasure to the coming of the first lecture, by Miss Melitta Hutzel, November 19.

Training Room News

The training room enjoyed a very happy hour last Friday afternoon, October 31, being entertained by the county normal student teachers. Games were played and refreshments served.

Marvin Cross brought several small goldfish to the training room. Ora Howe completed the outfit by adding a fish bowl.

Nice weather for election.

Della Carroll has returned to Kalamazoo.

O. R. Morse has returned from contracting at Owosso.

A social was held last week at the Grange hall to get money to pay the back taxes.

Mrs. John Stevens is a little improving in health. Mrs. Aenas is caring for her.

Abe Arnold and family have moved from their farm to the Art Knowles residence in town.

Doris Morse has been clerking for A. E. Sage at the Bay View store. Mr. Sage has been doing some farming.

Herbert Finch, who has been staying with his mother on the Roxana Morrow farm, has rented and moved onto the Abe Arnold farm.

The road men have completed grading the "shoulders" of U. S. 31 between Eastport and Atwood. The road is now in fine condition.

Albert Brower and family of Harbor Springs, was visiting at the John Triplet home last week. They now live on a farm north of Harbor Springs.

J. A. Triplet, who has been living on the Wahlroff farm, has purchased and is moving onto the Vernie Chamberlin farm northeast of Eastport. Mr. Triplet has retired from teaching.

E. S. Carroll has returned from the big Sunday school convention, report of which we will try to give next week. He has been gone about three weeks, visiting his daughter, who teaches in Detroit, as well as other relatives in southern Michigan.

William C. Palmer preached at the Eastport Baptist church last Sunday afternoon. He preached an interesting sermon from the text, "Having the Mind of Christ." Charlevoix county has bought him a new Ford car. They evidently are well satisfied with the commissioner as well as the Ford.

Monday, November 10th, is the date when Dr. Leahy, the Optometrist, will be at the Hotel Charlevoix. Glasses guaranteed to fit.—Adv. 4412

ENTERTAINED WITH HALLOWEEN PARTY

The Misses Gleason and Case Hostesses Saturday Evening

The Misses Doris Gleason and Esther Case entertained with a Halloween party at the home of Miss Case's parents last Saturday evening.

The rooms were prettily decorated in appropriate colors, and here and there a gruesome ghost or witch to greet or tell fortunes of the guests.

The evening's entertainment consisted of games and stunts, with modern and old-fashioned dancing. Miss Dorothy Struthers proved to be the best story-teller with her "blood-curdling" ghost story told in the first person.

A Halloween lunch was served by the hostesses.

The Woman's Guild of the Episcopal church will hold a bazaar and sale of baked goods December 3rd.—Adv. 4514.

Benzonia Winner of Choir Contest

ELEVEN CHURCH CHOIRS COMPETE FOR R. E. OLDS SINGING PRIZES FRIDAY

With eleven choirs, from all over twenty-three counties of upper Michigan competing for the premiums offered by the R. E. Olds Church and Community choir singing prizes, the two judges, Fred Killeen, assistant director of the State Institute of Music, and Professor Glenn McCracken of M. S. C., had a big job on their hands Friday morning in determining who were the best singers in this section of the state. R. W. Tenney, director of short courses, M. S. C., represented the Fund and was chairman of the meeting.

Twelve choirs had sent in applications, but for some reason Roscommon did not put in an appearance. The eleven were chosen to sing in the order named: Mackinaw City, Brethren, Belleair, Atwood, Vandewater, Kaleva, Harrisville and Benzonia. Kaleva brought its singers 125 miles to take part, and Brethren, over 130 miles, and both these choirs were here before ten o'clock last time.

It would be impossible to discuss each choir as they deserve. Suffice to say that it was the best contest ever held here, with more choirs competing by 50 per cent. Prof. Killeen stated that the singing was a credit to any locality, and that any of the choirs would give a good account of themselves in any company.

Where and How to Place Fertilizer

CARE SHOULD BE USED IN PROPERLY APPLYING PLANT FOOD

"The seed piece of the potato and young potato sprouts are extremely sensitive to fertilizer injury, and not only must direct contact be avoided, but no fertilizer should be placed either directly above or directly below the seed, according to O. F. Jensen of the National Fertilizer Association, who addressed the Potato Show visitors the first day.

"In my opinion, he remarked, row application of fertilizers for potatoes is more efficient than broadcast up to any ordinary amount. Certainly for rates up to 500 to 600 pounds per acre, row application is to be recommended.

"The fertilizer attachment on the potato planter is on the whole a very satisfactory implement. Manufacturers of farm implements seem to have devoted more study to potato planter fertilizer attachments than to fertilizer attachments for other crops. In the most approved types of potato planter and fertilizer attachments, the fertilizer is applied in two furrows ahead of the planter furrow opener, which splits the ridge between the fertilizer furrows. Discs then cover both seed and fertilizer, with a partial mixing with the soil. The attachment can be regulated so (Continued on page 3)

By Guy Eppler
Having had the honor to be chosen winner of the Master Potato Grower's Contest at the 1929 Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show, it was with much pleasure that I made the trip to Prince Edward Island which this Association so generously provided.

It was on Monday, August 18th, that I arrived at the New York Central Station, Youngstown, Ohio, and received the necessary tickets and credentials to accompany the members of the Pennsylvania Potato Growers' Association on their wonderful 3,000 trip by special train through some of the continent's most scenic and historic sections. I boarded one of the Special Cars in the evening which came by the way to Youngstown, and during

Economy and Equalization are Michigan's Present Tax Needs

"The time has come to speak out plainly on the subject of taxation." This was the opening remark of R. Wayne Newton, Director of Taxation, Michigan State Farm Bureau, who addressed the Thursday afternoon visitors at the Potato and Apple Show. "If taxes are too high in Michigan, it is because the people have sanctioned a system which makes it too easy to increase the public expenditures and too hard to reduce them. Moreover, the State has alternately commanded and persuaded the local districts to spend the taxpayer's money without showing any appreciable interest in seeing to it that the money so spent is wisely used.

"Michigan needs genuine budgeting laws, effective on every tax levy jurisdiction. She needs review laws that will give over-burdened taxpayers an opportunity to rebuke and veto any and all extravagances of local officers. And she needs an auditing system that will subject (Continued on last page)

EXPERIMENT PROVES PROFITABLE TO J. D. ROBINSON AND OFFERS NEW IDEA

Reading about irrigating potatoes, and actually knowing of its worth, especially when applied to potatoes grown in Michigan, are two different things. By actual experience, J. D. Robinson, Emmet County certified seed potato grower, has found that this year, irrigated potatoes will yield 61 bushels more per acre than unirrigated ones. His irrigated potatoes yielded 343 bushels per acre, while his unirrigated ones produced only 282.

Last year, at the Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show, this grower and exhibitor there, was lauded highly for his achievement of winning four first places in the peak and bushel class of both Rural Russets and Irish Cobblers. It was he who, along in the third week of August, after watching his fine stand of Rural Russets going down because of drought, convinced himself that irrigation of potatoes in Michigan might prove profitable.

So with his dream of how to put the experiment into practice, together with a few helpful aids gathered through the Agricultural Engineering Department of Michigan State College, he was able within a few days to perfect his plans, set up his equipment and start work. A field of four and a half acres, with rows running east and west, was to be irrigated. The contour of the field was such that it dipped to the east a bit but more so to the south. Because of this, the matter of distributing the water by means of troughs was quite successful.

The water supply was a small stream better than a quarter of a mile from the field. Where the stream crossed a township road a 2,000 gallon storage tank was erected and was set high enough so that the water could be pumped into it by a gasoline engine and water from it (Continued on page 2)

FOUR HUNDRED FORTY-FIVE ENTRIES OF SPUDS; PRESQUE ISLE WON COUNTY EXHIBIT AND LIONS SHARE OF PREMIUMS, FRANK GUY NEW POTATO CHAMPION

No one would ever think the farmer had problems of taxation, crop surpluses and Farm Relief if they had attended the Eighth Annual Potato and Apple Show of the Top O' Michigan Potato Association at Gaylord last week.

No one present would deny the existence of these problems, and they were discussed by specialists in their line, but the general feeling of both exhibitors and visitors was one of optimism; optimism perhaps for the opportunities seen and discussed for the greater benefit of the farmers of the Top O' Michigan territory.

On the other hand the spirit shown may have been due directly to the fact that the Eighth Annual Potato and Apple Show just held was the greatest in the history of its organization.

Nearly 2,500 farmers and business men of the Top O' Michigan attended and took part in the three day's activities beginning with a certified seed growers' luncheon on Wednesday and concluding with the Choir Singing Contest Friday morning. The high light of the three days was the annual banquet on Thursday evening, which was addressed by Percy Taylor, of the Federal Farm Loan Board, Washington D. C., and W. H. Tomlinson of Bay City.

A new record was set for the number of potato entries with 445. This was over ten per cent greater than last year. The number of Apple entries fell off slightly so that the total entries for the show were 603, just a little less than last year. There were 124 entries in the peak exhibit of Rural Russets alone.

This new record in the face of very adverse growing conditions for potatoes speaks well for the farmers and exhibitors of this territory as well as the management of the show.

When the judging was completed, it was found that a new potato king would rule for another year. Frank Guy of Pellston was the sweepstakes winner in the open class. This showing by Mr. Guy was remarkable, since last year was his first try at showing potatoes and the best he did was to win an award of merit.

Another remarkable thing about the selecting of this new Potato King is that during the eight years of the Show, no person has won first place more than once. This indicates that the Show is not dominated by "professionals" and that anyone has a chance every year.

Emery Rotter of Alanson, was the Junior Champion and Elias Leusing of Pellston was the winner in the Certified Seed classes.

In the Apple classes, Homer Waring of Kewadin and D. D. Tibbits of Boyne City divided honors. Mr. Waring won sweepstakes in plates and Mr. Tibbits in trays. P. B. Gillaspie had many exhibits and took home many prizes.

Drought Not Noticed
There was a drought in this area last summer—a severe drought in certain sections, yet the quality of exhibits was not lowered in any degree. To say they were better would be superfluous, because it does not seem possible to grow better potatoes than have been shown at this Show the last two or three years. The growers of the Top O' Michigan have greatly improved their potato growing during the last few years and this Show, the leading agricultural institution in Northern Michigan, has been a factor.

The economic result has of course, been reflected through the returns received from high quality certified seed potatoes and the improving of the table stock to an equivalent degree.

An Educational Institute
The Top O' Michigan Show was the first district potato Show in the State, and as such, has been a leader in the improvement of the potato industry of the state as a whole, as well as the Top O' Michigan territory.

The Show was designed to bring direct to the farmer, information on the production and marketing of potatoes and apples.

The complete list of winners at the Eighth Annual Show is as follows:

Large Potato Classes
Peck Russet, Ruralus—first, Frank Guy of Pellston; second, J. D. Homemaking Is A Profession Which Involves Many People

"Would we not all think of the job of housekeeping with a little more respect and dignity if we realized there is an occupation or profession which involves so many people as that of the homemaker's job?"

This question was asked by women visitors of the Eighth Annual Potato and Apple Show by Miss Edna V. Smith, Acting State Leader of Home Demonstrations at the Michigan State College, who addressed the women's meeting on Thursday afternoon.

"There are about 24,000,000 homemakers in the United States," remarked Miss Smith. "Each one of these homemakers must have training in many different lines. Probably there is no profession that is as complex as that of homemaking."

Continuing, Miss Smith stated that "the purpose of the home is being interpreted so differently than it was at one time. Once it was thought of more as a boarding house existing simply to feed the family. Now (Continued on last page)

Care In Choosing Fruit for Growing

H. D. HOOTMAN SOUNDS WARNING TO FRUIT GROWERS HERE

"When we think of formulating a fruit production program for northern Michigan it will be well to consider first those fruits that are already being grown here, remarked H. D. Hootman, Secretary of the Michigan Horticultural Society, who addressed the fruit growers on Wednesday afternoon.

"In the commercial production of fruit our attention is naturally drawn to the Cuthbert red raspberry, the Montmorency sour cherry and a number of apple varieties, namely the Wealthy, Snow, McIntosh, Greengreen and Wagener—all of which are being successfully grown in the territory served by the Top O' Michigan Potato Association.

The Red Cherry

"In Cheboygan County we find ideal soil and climatic conditions for growing the red raspberry, he stated. "Here we find not only some of the best red raspberry plantations in the state, but also, the largest grower, Edward Douglas, who has 80 acres of red raspberries in bearing. Fortunately most of the red raspberries planted in this section have been the Cuthbert variety—the variety most desired by the canners and the fruit trade.

The Cherry

Mr. Hootman also stated that in recent years a large number of sour cherry trees have been planted in Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Cheboygan counties. "Plantings have also been heavy in other cherry producing sections. Unlike apples—sour cherries are produced commercially in comparatively few states, namely: Wisconsin, Michigan and New York.

"There are three factors," he stated, "that influence the economical production of sour cherries. A good site—a good soil—and good care. A good site that affords fair protection (Continued on page 2)

Premier Farmers from Presque Isle

REISNER BROS. & HOPP GROW 375 BUSHELS PER ACRE ON PLOT

The prize for the Premier Potato Growers contest of 1930 was awarded to three men of Presque Isle, when the contest in which 17 contestants competed was over, Reiser Brothers and Hopp of Hawkes were declared the winners.

To win this prize they were required to compete in five different events—yield, 125 points; quality, 125 points; ability to select show samples, 100 points; ability to grade, 75 points; cost of production, 75 points.

Reiser Bros. and Hopp were first in yield, first in low-cost of production, first in quality, second in grading and eighth in ability to select show samples.

The three farmers had a yield of 375 bushels per acre as determined by J. J. Bird of the Michigan State College. These farmers are growers of certified seed and grew seven acres this year.

Of the seventeen contestants, there were six from Emmet County, four from Otsego County, three from Presque Isle County and two each from Cheboygan and Charlevoix Counties.

Other near winners in this contest were Percy Reed of Pellston, who won second and Pearl Bonter of Pellston third.

Reiser Brothers and Hopp received a beautiful wrist watch as compliments of the Potato Show Association and will compete with winners (Continued on last page)

What Lies Beyond Certification Work

COMMENTS BY POTATO JUDGE WORTH CONSIDERATION OF GROWERS HERE

By J. R. Livermore

(Mr. Livermore is assistant Professor of Plant Breeding at Cornell University. He judged the potatoes at this year's show and addressed the visitors on several occasions.

Before delving into the future it might be well to become firmly established in the present. Just what do we mean by certification? The word certified is becoming so widely used that it is losing a bit of its significance. To illustrate the diversity of use of this word, there are certified dairies, certified public accountants, certified bowling alleys, and no doubt there soon will be certified Tom Thumb golf courses. Is it strange that certification is often misunderstood and given credit for virtues or faults it never possesses? Even within one field, that of certified seed, there is too great a diversity in the usage of the word certified. In New York we are trying to define the word certified so that it may be applied only to the seed produced by the members of the New York Seed Improvement Cooperative Association, such seed having satisfied the requirements of certain standards set up by the Association. It is our hope that a law (Continued on page 2)

A View of the Show Room This Year

may be passed making it illegal to use the word certified as applied to seeds unless they are so produced. The procedure involved in the certification of seed potatoes is quite simple. The field of potatoes is inspected at least twice by some unbiased individual, usually a member of the College staff or possibly a graduate student. There may or may not be a thin inspection of the tubers at some time after harvest. Should the inspection records show that these potatoes have satisfied the requirements in regard to amount of disease and varietal mixture as set forth in the standards set up by the Association, then the potatoes may be certified. So far as New York is concerned, the actual certification is accomplished when the grower, by signing his name or number on the tag, certifies that the potatoes within the container bearing that tag are from the field or fields inspected and passed by the inspector.

There are difficulties and weaknesses in the present system that should and will be overcome as time goes on. With a limited number of inspectors it is impossible to visit each field at the most opportune time, the fields must be inspected in rotation in order to save time and travel. It is a well-known fact that mosaic symptoms are marked or covered up by certain weather conditions. Consider for the moment two fields with the same amount of mosaic in each. The inspector visits one field at a time when optimum weather conditions prevail. The report on that field will record better than 90 per cent of the actual disease present in that field of potatoes. But the other field if inspected under adverse conditions, will show a disease count probably only 40 to 50 per cent of the actual disease content. Both of these lots of seed will be sold on the basis of the disease count on the tag. The first lot will give satisfaction, the second lot will not because it is quite probable that there will be twice as much disease in the crop as was noted on the tag.

The certification standards at present pay little if any attention to productivity or yield. They are primarily concerned with disease content. In spite of the fact that it has been shown that two lots of seed with the same amount of disease may differ materially as to yield, no requirement as to yielding ability or productivity of certified seed has been incorporated in the standards.

In New York we have tried to take care of this situation through the establishment of another grade of seed to be known as registered-certified seed. To qualify for this grade of seed potatoes the stock must be practically free from disease, must have been developed in a tuber-unit selection plot and must have demonstrated its ability to yield when grown with other strains under identical conditions in comparative strain tests.

But back of all these regulations there still remains the human factor in the equation. The buyer of certified seed must in the last analysis depend upon the grower for the quality of seed he receives. There are all kinds of growers of certified seed potatoes—good, bad and indifferent. Unfortunately there are still some growers who strive to keep just within the law. No matter how heavily they have to rogue their fields to do it, if they can get by with a count they are satisfied. I am glad to say that there are many others who are striving continually to reduce the disease count to the absolute minimum and are doing everything possible to improve the quality of the seed potatoes they grow.

The matter of grading seed potatoes offered for sale is a big problem. Perhaps you folks in Michigan have no complaints in make, maybe your seed stock is always well graded. Be that as it may, in New York the growers have much to learn about grading potatoes. It is a very simple matter to grade one's neighbor's potatoes or some that one has bought, but it is extremely difficult to grade one's own potatoes, particularly those one wishes to sell. Altogether too many culls find their way into commerce.

Then in regard to yield; what should the grower do to improve the productivity of his strain of potatoes? I believe, and strongly too, that every grower should make some effort to improve his strain of seed potatoes. There are several ways that this may be accomplished and the practice of any one of these processes would well repay the grower for his effort. Probably the most effective method of improvement, both from the standpoint of accomplishment and labor involved, is that of hill-selection. By means of this practice it is possible to separate many strains or tuber-lines within a given variety of potatoes, grow them under comparable conditions and through the elimination of the poorer yielding strains the better ones are concentrated thus improving the average yield of the given lot of seed stock. Carrying on this process for a period of three or four years it is possible to eliminate all but two or three of the better strains, thereby developing a strain of potatoes that will yield materially more than the original stock from which it was selected.

It has always seemed to me that the grower of certified seed of any crop, be it potatoes or what not, is, in fact, his brother's keeper. It is his duty to produce the best seed that experience and science have made possible. He should never be satisfied to grow seed stock that just gets in under the wire, but should be continually striving to improve his product. As one of my co-operators has expressed it, "Seed growing is an art", it is as necessary in the production of a masterpiece that the seed potato grower have the aptitude and appreciation for his work as it is for an artist or a sculptor. The growing of high quality seed potatoes should be considered not as hard work but as a pleasant duty and a privilege. Only those men who consider seed potato growing in this light should be in the business.

POTATOES NOW SERVE AS HOTEL PENHOLDERS

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 21.—The lowly potato, which lost its job as a stopper for kerosene cans, has gone to work in hotels as a penholder.

The pens with which guests at two Kansas City hotels register are plunged into potatoes, peeled and shaped to fit into convenient compartments in large pen and ink sets.

Clerks at those hotels explained fresh portions of potato penholders are placed in the pen and ink set several times a day.

Farm Bureau Fertilizer Wins Again

Albert Kipfer of Stephenson, Michigan had high yield in the Michigan 300-bushel potato club. Mr. Kipfer's average yield on a 5 acre plot was 402 bushels per acre.

Alphonse Verschure of Manistique placed second with a yield of 365 bushels per acre.

Both of these men used Farm Bureau Fertilizer purchased the Co-operative way.

could be run by gravity into 300 gallon tanks set on trucks.

The truck-load, upon reaching the field would be emptied by gravity into a 400 gallon tank set upon the ground. This tank then supplied the water to troughs running perpendicular to the rows. From this supply it was so regulated that water was run down two rows at a time. About one acre was irrigated and then the troughs and tank in the field were moved on another acre and it was irrigated. The truck was going day and night, two crews of men being on the job. The four and one-half acres were covered with water to the equivalent of three-quarters of an inch, within four days.

To check the value of irrigation,

one acre joining the rest of the field was left unirrigated. Considerable interest among the neighborhood growers was manifested during the time the water was being applied to the field and many guesses as to its worth were made.

Mr. Robinson, under the direction of J. J. Bird, Michigan State College Potato Specialist, made comparative checks throughout the two fields. It was found that the irrigated field yielded 343 bushels per acre as compared to a yield of 282 bushels on the unirrigated acre, or a gain of 61 bushels per acre.

Potato growers are aware of the fact that each year there is a period of drought and because of this are becoming more and more interested in the matter of irrigation. Mr. Robinson has carried on a very worthwhile experiment and has been repaid for his efforts, and at the same time has helped the potato industry. It is hoped that this will be the beginning of more trials of a similar nature to be carried on in the future.

problems to solve when the motor truck becomes a common carrier of such crops as potatoes is the standardization of this crop. When potatoes are handled in carload quantities, and have to be brought to a central shipping point, it is comparatively easy to arrange grading operations which will bring about more or less satisfactory standardization. When, however, trucks are driven to the farms and the potatoes often loaded onto trucks from fields where they are dug, it becomes a much more difficult problem to arrange for proper grading of the potatoes. It is becoming increasingly apparent that, especially in seasons of heavy production, all potato growers would be better off if the entire crop would be properly graded so that nothing but first class potatoes would reach the market and consumers.

"The erroneous idea which is still in the minds of some growers that the larger percentage of their entire crop can be worked off into the channels of trade, no matter what the grade is one which is doing much harm at the present time. We have not given as much consideration as we should to the influence which the forcing of cull potatoes often mixed with good potatoes, onto the market has on consumption of potatoes. A displeased customer is a liability rather than an asset so far as potato consumption is concerned. We cannot expect the city consumer to be pleased or even satisfied when she is forced to pay good money for potatoes which the grower himself would think of using on his table."

"We do not know how it is going to be possible to standardize the portion of the potato crop handled by motor trucks. Michigan has made a good start in this direction by passing a law requiring that all potatoes be properly labeled when placed on the market. Such a law can only be satisfactorily enforced when the public sentiment is back of it. We should endeavor therefore, to create public sentiment in all potato producing states looking toward the establishment of such laws as may be needed to secure better standardization of the potato crop. When all of the states are able to satisfactorily carry on work of this type, a great advance will have been made in the matter of standardizing the potato crop and thereby making potato growing more profitable to the producer and more satisfactory to the consumer as well as to the distributor."

According to P. Dukeshener, director of the Bureau of Weights and Standards of the State Department of Agriculture, an attempt is being made to inspect truck shipments as well as rail shipments, by a force of inspectors who stop trucks loaded with potatoes anywhere at any time and see that the potatoes are properly labeled as to grade.

It is difficult to reach the individual trucker, who often does his driving at night and reaches the market in a round about way. Communities such as the Top O' Michigan have not yet felt the influence of the motor truck, but down state potato growers have. However, our growers should keep one step ahead by producing only the highest quality potatoes, in order to compete in the market with those small surplus amounts from each farm, in the larger consuming centers.

Standard Potato And Apple Grades

Above is an article pertaining to the proper grading and standardization of potatoes as a means of improving market quality and increasing consumer's demand.

Since the proper grading of potatoes and apples concerns the grower more directly each year, the following rules and regulations concerning the Michigan grading laws are given. (Taken from Bulletin No. 55, Michigan Department of Agriculture).

Michigan U. S. Potato Grades

U. S. Fancy shall consist of potatoes of one variety which are mature, bright, well-shaped, free from freezing injury, soft rot, dirt, or other foreign matter, sunburn, second growth, growth cracks, hollow heart, cuts, scab, blight, dry rot, disease, insect or mechanical injury, and other defects.

The size shall be stated in terms of minimum diameter or minimum weight or of range in diameter or weight following the grade name, but in no case shall the diameter be less than two inches.

In order to allow for variations incident to proper grading and handling, not more than five per cent, by weight, of any lot may vary from the size stated, and, in addition, not more than six per cent, by weight, of any lot may be below the remaining requirements of this grade; but not to exceed one-sixth of this tolerance, or one per cent, shall be allowed for potatoes affected by soft rot.

U. S. No. 1 shall consist of potatoes of similar varietal characteristics which are not badly misshapen, which are free from freezing injury, and soft rot, and from damage caused by dirt or other foreign matter, sunburn, second growth, growth cracks, hollow heart, cuts, scab, blight, dry rot, disease, insects, or mechanical or other means.

The diameter of potatoes of round varieties shall be not less than 1 7/8 inches and of potatoes of long varieties 1 3/4 inches, but lots of potatoes which are not less than 1 1/2 inches in diameter and which meet the remaining requirements of this grade may be designated "U. S. No. 1, 1 1/2 inches minimum."

In order to allow for variations incident to proper grading and handling, not more than five per cent, by weight, of any lot may be below the prescribed size. In addition, not more than five per cent, by weight, may be damaged by hollow heart, and not more than six per cent may be below the remaining requirements of this grade; but not to exceed one-sixth of this amount, or one per cent, shall be allowed for potatoes affected by soft rot.

U. S. No. 2 shall consist of potatoes of similar varietal characteristics which are free from freezing injury and soft rot, and from serious damage caused by sunburn, second growth, growth cracks, hollow heart, cuts, scab, blight, dry rot, disease, insects, or mechanical or other means.

The diameter of potatoes of this grade shall not be less than 1 1/2 inches.

In order to allow for variations incident to proper grading and handling, not more than five per cent, by weight, of any lot may be below the prescribed size, and in addition, not more than six per cent, by weight, may be below the remaining requirements of this grade; but not to exceed one-sixth of this tolerance, or one per cent, shall be allowed for potatoes affected by soft rot.

Michigan Apple Grades

Michigan Fancy shall consist of one variety of apples which are hand picked, and firm, well grown and well colored, and apparently free from dirt or skin puncture and in unies caused by bruises, hail, disease, insects, or mechanical or other means, except those incident to proper packing.

Michigan Fancy apples must be uniform in size, and must not vary to exceed 1-2 inch in diameter from the smallest to the largest, apples in any one package.

Each apple must have the amount of color specified for the grade and variety.

In order to allow for variations incident to proper packing, not more than five per cent, by count, may be below the color requirement, not more than five per cent, by count, may be below the grade requirements inclusive of both the minimum and maximum sizes.

Michigan A

Michigan A shall consist of one variety of apples which are hand picked and firm, well grown and well formed and apparently free from dirt and skin puncture and injuries caused by bruises, hail, disease, insects or mechanical or other means, except those incident to proper packing.

Michigan A apples must not be smaller than the minimum size specified for the grade and variety.

Each apple must have the amount of color specified for the grade and variety.

In order to allow for variations incident to proper packing, not more than ten per cent, by count, may be below the color requirement, nor more than ten per cent, additional may be below the grade requirements inclusive of the minimum size required.

Uniform A

Uniform A apples must not vary more than 1-2 inch in diameter from the smallest to the largest apples in any one package.

In every other respect, apples in the Uniform A grade must meet the requirements of the Michigan A grade.

B Grade

B Grade shall consist of one variety of apples which are hand picked and firm, well grown and fairly well formed and apparently free from serious damage caused by dirt, hail, bruises, disease, insects or injuries caused by mechanical or other means except those incident to proper packing.

B Grade apples must not be smaller than the minimum size specified for the grade and variety.

In order to allow for variations incident to proper packing, not more than 15 per cent, by count, may be below the grade requirements, inclusive of the minimum size required.

Commercial Grade

Commercial Grade shall consist of one variety of marketable fruit, which does not conform to the foregoing grade requirements, except that apples must not be less than two inches in diameter and apparently free from decay and broken skins.

Not more than ten per cent, by count, may be below two inches in diameter.

Packing Requirements

Containers must be well filled, but not bruised or crushed. The Michigan Fancy, Michigan and Uniform A grades must be ring-faced and tailed and a flexible cushion should be placed between the fruit and cover. B grade must be ring-faced.

tion from the losses caused by late spring frost is all important. There are seasons when a good crop will be produced on a poor site and a good site does not guarantee success, but success over a period of years without a good site is well nigh impossible.

Careful cultivation, thorough spraying and light pruning must be carried on in the cherry orchard if maximum results are to be secured for the money and labor expended.

"Here in the northern part of Michigan is located a large number of neglected apple orchards," continued Mr. Hootman. "Some of these have been planted on poor locations, others stand on poor soils but most of them have been neglected because the varieties selected for planting were not suited to commercial apple production in this section. A few examples of good varieties that grow to perfection when planted in some apple growing sections but often lack size, color or flavor, when grown in this section are the Jonathan, Grimes and Delicious."

In closing, Mr. Hootman remarked that, "a recent study of consumer demand in the Detroit market has revealed that only a dozen different varieties of apples are wanted. The Wealthy, McIntosh, Greening and Spy can be grown satisfactorily in Michigan and find a steady market at Detroit. At present, Detroit, which is our logical market, is not well supplied with Michigan grown apples."

"If we ship east we run into competition from New York grown apples. If we ship west we have the box apples of Washington with which to contend. To the south, growers in the various states are generally closer to their market than we are. Let's grow what Detroit needs."

Most Accurate, Fastest, Safest Potato and Onion Grader

The Boggs makes No. 1 and No. 2 grades with less than 3% variation from Government sizes. Culls and dirt are eliminated at the same time.

It grades 75 to 500 bu. per hour, depending on the model. Will not bruise or injure even green stock. All cuts and diseased stock can be picked out easily when equipped with Roller Picking Table, which automatically turns potatoes over.

Quick-change attachment permits changing belts in less than a minute to grade a different variety of potatoes. Machine can be stopped without shutting off motor. Filled bags can be replaced without stopping machine.

Impossible to overload power machines. Boggs Graders do the manual labor of 3 to 5 men.

Where and How to Place Fertilizer

that the fertilizer bands on either side of the seed will be at the same level as the seed, or above it, or below it. General practice seems to favor placing the fertilizer at about the same level as the seed, or above it, or below it. If you have an old type fertilizer attachment, that cannot apply fertilizer in the method described above, it will pay you to junk it. The modern fertilizer attachment will safely and successfully apply concentrated fertilizers. In some experiments in Maine in 1923, as much as 1000 pounds per acre of a 10-16-14 and 687 pounds of a 15-24-12 were applied with a potato planter fertilizer attachment without difficulty, and with very good results. These fertilizers were compared with 2000 pounds per acre of a 5-8-7, which was applied with the attachment.

"Although the potato planter fertilizer attachment has several advantages to commend it, such as accurate placement of fertilizer, saving of an extra operation, and moderate cost, there are many growers in the east who prefer a separate implement for applying the fertilizer. This is usually a one or two row distributor which drills the fertilizer with some mixing with the soil. Then the potato planter follows the rows made by the fertilizer distributor. This kind of a distributor is used by large growers, who apply large quantities per acre. I have never seen this implement used in Michigan or Wisconsin.

"Neither of the implements I have described fit the grower with a small acreage, who perhaps does not have a potato planter, or feel that the scale of his operation warrants an investment in this equipment. Then there are many growers who plant by hand because they wish to check row their potatoes, and cultivate both ways. For this grower, the use of a cultivator with fertilizer attachment is a very practical method to apply fertilizer along the rows. This type of implement has been used to some extent in central Wisconsin, having been called to my attention by Mr. Harold Frost, an agronomist with one of the fertilizer companies. The practice is to plant the potatoes in the usual way, and then blind cultivate immediately to apply the fertilizer. The discharge tubes should be tied behind the first shovel of each gang, so that the bands of fertilizer are applied fairly close to the row, and mixed with the soil. The cultivator fertilizer attachment is inexpensive, and has a good deal to commend it for the small grower.

"Broadcast application of fertilizers can be made with any of the ordinary types of line and fertilizer sowers. A difficulty likely to be experienced with many broadcast distributors is their lack of accuracy and uniformity of distribution, and their inability to apply small amounts per acre. Broadcast applications should be made before planting, and disced or harrowed to mix the fertilizer with the soil."

In closing, Mr. Jensen remarked that in the purchase of equipment to apply fertilizers for potatoes, he would advise anyone to observe the following:

"1. The distributor should apply fertilizer properly, avoiding direct contact with the seed, or placement either directly above or directly below the seed.

"2. The distributor should have an accurate feed, that will apply uniformly at either low or high rates of application.

"3. The feed should be capable of easy adjustment and accurate setting.

"4. For potatoes, a distributor should be able to apply as low as 100 pounds per acre and as high as 2,000 pounds per acre.

"5. The hopper should be large enough so that frequent refilling is not required.

"6. Agitators should be provided in the hopper to prevent bridging and allow full feed whether full or nearly empty.

"7. The distributor should be accessible for easy cleaning and emptying. This is an important feature."

A FRUIT GROWER'S CREED

Realizing that my profit from my orchards is the last thing to come out of my returns, after I have paid all my expenses of every kind, I resolve that I will do all that I can to increase my profit margin.

I will get the biggest possible crop by proper pruning, thinning, cultivation and fertilizing. I will get the biggest market prices by producing the finest quality. I will not tolerate scale marks, stings, scab spots, or any other blemish which can be avoided by proper and thorough spraying.

I will not skimp on the number of sprays that I apply, on the thoroughness with which I apply them, nor on the spray materials to do the work most effectively. I will put the quality of my fruit ahead of other considerations. And, since quality depends more upon proper spraying than on any other factor, I will select my spray materials solely and absolutely on the basis of their proved efficiency.

All of these things I resolve to carry out so long as I remain a fruit grower.—The Spray.

Consumers restrict their thinking to western grown tubers when baking potatoes are mentioned. These western producers have done a good job of selling and are reaping a fine reward.

But Michigan may get in on some of this money. Tests in this state demonstrate that all the baking qualities ever put into a western grown tuber can be had in Michigan grown potatoes. Several hundred bushels were successfully produced last year by F. W. Johnston of northern Montcalm County, and other Michigan growers have met with success in this direction.

These practical tests call for prompt and careful plot and field work to the end that Michigan potatoes may early enjoy the premiums that consumers of good baking potatoes are willing to pay.—Michigan Farmer.

the hills and valleys were covered with evergreen forests, which were being cut into pulp wood and floated down the river to paper mills. We arrived at the village of St. Leonard, New Brunswick, at 9:00 a. m., where we were greeted by a band and also met by 150 automobiles from Aroostook County, Maine. These Maine Potato Growers conveyed us, across the St. Johns River into the United States at Van Buren, and gave us a tour of 105 miles through Aroostook County, Maine's best potato section. The country is flat to rolling and we saw large farms and fine roads with tremendous fields of potatoes on either side. The thrift and prosperity of the growers was shown by well kept farms and homes, good horses, and well kept machinery.

After stopping at several potato fields, we proceeded to Fort Fairfield, where we were given a royal welcome by the Aroostook County Growers and greeted by Governor Gardner. After being served an excellent dinner the party went to the United States Department of Agricultural Experimental Farm at Presque Isle, where Dr. Shultz outlined the experimental work. He emphasized the importance of keeping the fields of good seed away from the fields that are badly diseased, because of the spread that takes place through insect carriers. What impressed me on this farm was that where they sprayed eight or more times with a high pressure sprayer, using three nozzles to the row, there was no blight. Blight had been very noticeable in most of the fields we had passed. I had been told by our driver that two or three sprayings with one nozzle to the row was the common practice.

Cropping methods used in a general way by Aroostook County Potato Growers consists of a 3-year rotation of oats, clover, and potatoes. The clover is cut about July 1st and left on the fields and plowed down to a depth of five inches. Just before freezing time, it is again plowed to a depth of seven inches, and as soon as possible in the spring, it is again plowed to the depth of seven inches, double harrowed, and planted. The potato seed, about 25 bushels per acre, is all cut before planting time, treated with sulphur dust and planted with seed pieces placed one inch below the level of the ground. Nothing is done to the field until the sprouts emerge when it is cultivated and the plants covered. As soon as the plants emerge again, they are again covered, and when from five to six inches tall, they are killed with sprayers. This operation is repeated two, three or four times, depending on the conditions. Fertilizer analyzing about 5-7-10 is all applied in the row at the rate of 2,000 pounds per acre.

At about 5:30 in the afternoon we returned to our train and started at once on a trip of several hundred miles through New Brunswick. Early

POTATO CANDY

This easily made and interesting confection admits a number of easy variations. A large amount of the foundation dough may be prepared and a variety of candies made by changing the flavor and treatment.

Mash enough freshly boiled potato to make a cupful. Be sure to remove all lumps and have the potato perfectly smooth. While it is still hot, stir in two pounds of confectioner's sugar. This should make a dough of proper consistency for rolling or shaping into balls.

Part of the mixture may be flavored with vanilla rolled into small nut-like balls with a nut meat pressed into the top of each. A sprinkling of granulated sugar gives a pretty effect.

Another way is to conceal on the inside of the candy balls, nut-meats, candied cherries, or other fruit. Malaga grapes are tasty with vanilla flavored candy foundation.

A bit of vegetable coloring is also attractive. A delicate green or pink is pretty.

POTATO AND BEAN CUTLETS

1 cup rice potato
1 cup rice lima beans
1 can pimientos
1 cup bread crumbs

Mix thoroughly and salt to taste. Form into shapes to look like cutlets. Dip into beaten egg and sprinkle with bread crumbs and bake in a moderate oven until slightly brown; turn carefully and brown on the other side. Serve with a tomato or cheese sauce.

Cheese Sauce

2 tablespoons fat
2 tablespoons flour
1 1/2 cups milk
1 cup grated cheese
Brown the flour in the melted fat, add the milk and cook for five minutes, and add the cheese. Remove from the fire and stir until the cheese is melted.

POTATOES A LA SCRABBLE

Into a hot pan, place two tablespoonfuls of butter. In this, brown one small minced onion and add two cups of cold, sliced potatoes. Beat two egg yolks and spread over the top. Serve when brown on both sides.

RAGOUT POTATOES

Melt two tablespoonfuls of fat in a stew pan, slice two onions into it, and fry until a light brown. Stir in one tablespoonful of flour and one pint of meat stock. Season, and add four cups of sliced raw potatoes. Cover and simmer slowly until the potatoes are cooked.

Variations: A cup of minced corn beef, dried beef, or ham makes this a good one-dish meal.

NORWEGIAN POTATOES

2 cups raw diced potatoes
1 cup raw diced carrots
1 small onion
1/2 tablespoon salt
5 tablespoons butter or fat
Sauté the onions in half of the fat, then add carrots, potatoes, and seasoning. Stir well, then put into a greased baking dish with enough water to come to the top of the vegetables; cover and cook until tender, then drain off water, if any, add rest of butter, and let brown, uncovered.

POTATO TEA CAKES

2 cups grated raw potato
1/2 cup shortening
1 cup milk
4 cups flour
Salt

Mix potato and flour, and rub in shortening. Add seasoning and then add milk, and roll to one-half inch thickness. Cut out as for large biscuits and bake in a hot oven until a golden brown. Split, butter, and serve very hot. These are excellent with cold meat.

Variations: Add half cup currants.

POTATO ALLEMANDE

3 cups boiled diced potatoes
1 1/2 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon chopped onion
3 canned pimientos
Salt
Pepper
Parsley

Cook the chopped onion in the butter, add the pimiento, cut in small pieces, add the hot diced potatoes. Stir until well mixed and turn into a serving dish. Cover with allemande sauce and sprinkle with chopped parsley.

BAKED APPLES A LA RUSSE

1 cupful sugar
6 medium sized apples
1/2 cupful red jelly
1 1/2 cupfuls water
2 tablespoonsful lemon juice.
Whipped cream

Cook together the sugar and water for five minutes. Cut off a slice at one end of each apple and scoop out as much of the center as possible, leaving deep cup-like shapes. Place the apples in the syrup and bake at 400 F. in a covered casserole until the apples are tender. Be careful that they do not become broken. Meanwhile, cook the pulp of the apples with a portion of the syrup and the lemon juice until soft enough to be rubbed through a sieve. To the smooth, velvety pulp, add the red jelly and beat until well blended. Cook the cooked apple cases, fill with the mixture, then chill thoroughly and top with whipped cream. Serve with plain cream and syrup with which apples were baked as a sauce.

APPLE CORNMEAL PUDDING

1 cupful cornmeal
1 teaspoonful salt
Syrup
3 1/2 cupfuls boiling water
3 cupfuls apples

Cream
Combine the cornmeal and boiling water and place in the top of a double boiler. When blended together, add the salt and apples, which have been previously pared, cored, and cut in eighths. Cook covered for two or three hours, stirring occasionally. Serve with syrup or molasses and top milk or thin cream.

B. E. Musgrave, County Agricultural Agent of Kalkaska County is using 400 to circulate to farmers in his county.

Thursday morning our train was ferried across the Northumberland Strait (nine miles) to Prince Edward Island. Arriving at Emerald Junction, we were met by a delegation of potato growers from the island and welcomed by the Premier of the Province, Hon. William M. Lea. We were then taken on a tour of this island, which is about 134 miles long and 4 to 35 miles wide, and lies in the Gulf of the St. Lawrence, just north of Nova Scotia. Here we found land that is flat to rolling, soil that is red and of a sandy loam and farms averaging about 80 acres, where diversified farming is practiced. We traveled many miles on good graded roads and visited several Irish cobbler and Green Mountain potato fields. We saw potatoes growing where it seems conditions must be ideal. The large healthy plants had wonderful foliage with large flat leaves and with blossoms that at a distance resembled a field of buckwheat in full bloom. We then proceeded to Summerside, one of the largest towns on the island.

The usual cropping method practiced in growing potatoes on the island is to follow a 4-year rotation of oats, clover, pasture and potatoes. The pasture is plowed to a depth of four to six inches in the fall after an application of 10 tons of manure.

During the spring the ground is harrowed three times and planted 35 inches between the row and 12 to 14 inches in the row. Planting is done between the 1st and 10th of June, at the rate of 17 bushels per acre. Fertilizer analyzing 4-8-7 is applied in the row at the rate of 1600 to 2000 pounds per acre. After the plants emerge, the fields are given a cultivation and the plants covered. This is later repeated, hillers being used only one time. It is the practice to spray up to five times, carrying up to 200 pounds pressure with a 6-6-50 bordenux solution. The digging season starts October 1st and the yield averages approximately 200 bushels per acre. Most of the potatoes grown on the island are grown for seed. In 1929 over 2000 ears of certified seed were marketed, these being shipped to Canada, New England, Long Island, New Jersey, Virginia, and Carolinas, and Florida.

In the early evening we ferried across the Strait to New Brunswick and the next morning found our special train traveling in the valley of the St. Lawrence, where we saw long narrow farms of the French Canadians. The St. Lawrence river with its many islands was also very interesting. We arrived at Levis and were ferried across the St. Lawrence river to Quebec, where we were given a sight-seeing tour of this old historic city. We left Quebec in the evening and during the night our car left the special train. The following morning found us on our way to Niagara Falls, where we spent several enjoyable hours. We arrived at Youngstown, Ohio, which was the end of our tour, on Saturday at 9:00 p. m.

(Mr. Eppler won the Top O' Michigan Master Potato Grower Contest in 1929 and was given $100 to pay expenses on this trip.)

HOT POTATO SALAD

Cook six potatoes in their jackets. Remove skins and slice thin. Place potatoes in a casserole. Season, and add a cupful of cut celery, a teaspoonful of chopped onion and a tablespoonful of chopped chives. Add four tablespoonfuls of vinegar. Cover and heat thoroughly.

Modern, scientific farming produced a new American record yield of 1,145.17 bushels of potatoes per acre last fall for L. G. Schutte, prominent local farmer of Monte Vista, Colorado and San Luis Valley potato king in 1928.

Methods used by this former Chicago market gardener and World War veteran, who came to the San Luis Valley in 1919, are attracting widespread interest among Colorado farmers.—Grand Rapids Press.

Potato Dealers Growers Meeting

DISCUSS COMMON PROBLEMS TO IMPROVE GRAING AND SELLING

One of the most interesting sessions held in connection with the Potato Show was the Dealers' Meeting presided over by Mr. Sam T. Metzger of Greenville, one of Michigan's pioneer and foremost potato shippers.

Indicative of the general purpose of the Show, as set forth by its sponsors at its inception, the problems of the potato industry were frankly discussed by representatives of all agencies interested in this business. After the growers had expressed their views, the dealers' point of view was ably brought out by Mr. Metzger and, to the surprise of some, they found that they were on common ground. Mr. Frank Ishbee of the Detroit Terminal gave an interesting description of this new Terminal and then proceeded to demonstrate that even his problems were identical with those of the grower and the dealer. To make the meeting unanimous, Hon. H. E. Powell, Commissioner of Agriculture, and Prof. H. C. Moore, of the Michigan State College, could do very little except emphasize the importance of these same problems as viewed from their respective fields. The entire message revolved around PROPER GRADING, ATTRACTIVE PACKAGES, QUALITY OF ARTICLE, GOOD STORAGE, AVOIDING FIELD FROST, AND ADVERTISING. These points were stressed again and again and the importance of them were summarized very plainly in Mr. Metzger's closing remarks.

He said: The dealers and shippers of potatoes are endeavoring to conduct a good legitimate business, giving a square deal all around. It is our wish to give the buyer as good or better stock than he thinks he is purchasing and also pay the farmer the utmost that the market will stand. To be able to do this, there are, however, a few important points which must be considered more closely such as storage, quality, quantity, warehousing, and loading of stock. The proper construction of bins, the segregation of diseased and slightly off of grade stock, proper heating methods, proper ventilation, etc., are perhaps the most important facts to bear in mind in connection with storage, for a considerable shrinkage will occur.

In regard to quantity, Michigan is in a geographical position to supply markets which consume 30,000 carloads, in all of which we have a distinct advantage over any other shipping point. Michigan's production for the past two years has been no far below this figure that we have not been even the slightest factor in determining the national potato market. Its production in the seven years preceding 1923 averaged 17,200 carloads as against 6,000 carloads in 1923. This has not been due to a reduction in acreage—our growers did your part—but on account of the weather man.

We are at present allowing Maine to ship from 30 to 50 cars daily right into our Detroit market while the industry in Michigan has dwindled to a point where Maine, Idaho, Wisconsin and Minnesota have also come into our markets. We were unfortunately this year in that the continued drought shortened what would otherwise have been a more representative crop than has been grown in a good many years. It is the wish of the Michigan shippers that a gradual every outgoing public dollar to scrutiny to determine whether it was spent in full compliance with the law and according to the budget for which it was raised.

"There must be no more 'passing the buck' back to the local districts, remarked Mr. Newton. "School, highway, and other services now paid for largely by local taxation are of primary benefit to the whole state.

R. WAYNE NEWTON

Much of the present excessive taxation in the hardest hit localities results from state laws that require more taxation than the districts can afford. If better roads, streets, and schools are a state problem, then the legislatures which sets out to provide them should also provide for their financing on a basis that will equalize the costs of what the State demands or needs along these lines.

"Our present laws restrict the field of taxation so that too many people avoid making direct payments to their ability. This condition promotes extravagance since many people pay taxes who fancy they are escaping. Everyone pays taxes in some amount whether he knows it or not. Taxes are paid at the grocery, the railroad station, the dry goods store, the bank and to the landlord. No small part of the cost of many articles and services is added on because of taxes already paid by the seller or those who sold to him. It would be a wholesome influence if all persons could pay more of their taxes directly and less of them indirectly."

ual increase in acreage and yield per acre would be inaugurated to such an extent that Michigan will regain her position as a premier potato growing state.

Quality is always a paramount consideration in any commodity. It is improving in Michigan each year as regards potatoes. This has been accomplished mainly thru the efforts of the growers, and, in particular, by the College. Potato Shows like this one do a great deal of good along these lines in the advancement of the potato industry.

With the team-work displayed at this meeting, there is no doubt but that great strides will be made by the Michigan potato industry during the next few years, according to Mr. Moore. Since the prosperity of all agencies is centered around the solution of the same problems, it is very opportune that this Potato Show should have brought them together to launch a concerted campaign.

Mr. Fred Hihat, Manager of the Michigan Potato Growers Exchange, gave a brief discourse and endorsed most heartily the idea of working together towards this common end.

Carl Cetas Won the Ford Hardware Free Trip to 'Chi' in Nov.

Carl Cetas of Good Hart, Emmet County, was the winner of the trip to the 4-H Club Congress at Chicago, offered by the Ford Hardware Co. of Gaylord and the Saginaw Branch of the International Harvester Company.

This contest was open to all members of 4-H Potato Clubs in the Top O' Michigan who met the following requirements: 1. Must have been at least 15 years of age. 2. Must have been a second year club member. 3. Must have exhibited one peck of potatoes at the show. 4. Must have submitted a report on the exhibit. Award was made on basis of report and story, forty points; Exhibit at Show, forty points; and interest in Club work, twenty points.

Carl is 19 years of age. This is his third year of Potato Club work. Last year, although every other member of his club dropped their work, he decided to continue. Carl comes from a community where no other type of boys' work is carried on.

Carl grows both certified seed and table stock and carries on several types of experimental work for his own benefit. His report in brief is as follows: Fall plowed land better than spring plowed. Potatoes were better where fertilizer was used. Spraying seven times was very beneficial. Profit from certified seed was greater than from table stock.

Carl expects to grow more potatoes next year and then enter Michigan State College next fall.

Certified Seed
In the Russet Rural Class first place was won by Elias Luesing of Levering; second, J. D. Robinson of Pellston; third, Harry Behling of Boyne City; fourth, John Soderman of Crystal Falls; fifth, Frank A. W. Behling of Boyne City; sixth F. E. Wyrick of Alanson; seventh, Reiser Bros. and Hopp of Hawks; eighth, Pearl Banter of Pellston; ninth, Andy Novinger of Wolverine; tenth, George Coultas of Gaylord.

In the Irish Cobbler Class first place was won by J. D. Robinson of Pellston and second place by Fred Brudy of Wolverine.

Baking Potatoes
In the Baking Classes first place was won by Harry Behling of Boyne City; second, Victor Koronka of Gaylord; third, Hugh Campbell of Gaylord; fourth, George Skilton of Gaylord and fifth, Warren Gilling of Johannesburg.

The best individual Potato was exhibited by Harry Behling of Boyne City.

Sweepstakes exhibit at the Show was won by Frank Guy with his peck of Russet Rural.

In the 4-H Club Exhibits first place was won by the Five Lakes Potato Club of Gaylord; second, East Jordan Club; third, Alba Spud Growers of Alba; fourth, Lark Lake Potato Club of Pellston; fifth, Van Potato Club of Van; sixth, Hayes Potato Club of Gaylord.

In the Smith-Hughes Classes first place was won by the Alanson High School; second, Harbor Springs High School; third, Boyne Falls High School; fourth, Manacela High School; fifth, Onaway High School; sixth, Bellaire High School.

Junior Open Class
In the Open Classes for members of 4-H Clubs and Smith-Hughes Students only, first place was won by Emory Rotter of Alanson; second, Albert Ojjas of Harbor Springs; third, Gwendon Holt of East Jordan; fourth, Lytle A. Jenkins; fifth, Carl Wiger of Gaylord; sixth, Albert Overland of East Jordan; seventh, Russell Skilton of Gaylord; eighth, Ray Warner of Gaylord; ninth, Richard O'Reilly of Alanson; and tenth, Clifford Drier of Van.

In the Junior Class of any other variety than Russet Rural first place was won by George Sneathen of Charlevoix; second, Hugh Heynig of Harbor Springs and third, Ernest Schmidt of Alanson.

Junior Sweepstakes was won by Emory Rotter.

Apples Classes—Plates
Homer Waring of Kewadin won first place in plates of McIntosh, Northern Spy, Stark, Delicious and any other Variety (Klag). He won third with Snow.

D. D. Tibbits of Boyne City won first in Wealthy and Wagener; second in McIntosh, Snow, Northern Spy and any other variety (Hubbardston). He won third in Wolf River.

P. B. Gillespie of Cheboygan won first in Snow, Wolf River, and Jonathan. He won second in Wealthy and third in McIntosh, Northern Spy and any other variety (Tallman Sweet).

F. W. Crowl of Harbor Springs won second in Wealthy, Wolf River, Wagener, Golden Russet and Jonathan and third in Stark Delicious.

In N. W. Greening Sam Hutzler of Glenora won first; M. A. Pynnen of Lewiston second, and J. Pynnen of Lewiston, third.

Martin Hansen of Kewadin won third in Wagener and Mrs. I. Ide of Potosky first in Golden Russet. William Duncan of Spratt was third in Golden Russet.

Sweepstakes in plates was won by Homer Waring with McIntosh.

Apple Trays
Homer Waring won first in McIntosh and any other variety (King). He won second in Snow and Northern Spy.

D. D. Tibbits won first in Wealthy and Wagener, second in Wolf River and third in McIntosh.

P. B. Gillespie won first in Wolf River, Snow, Jonathan, and Stark Delicious, second in McIntosh, Wealthy, and any other variety (Winter Banana), third in Northern Spy and any other variety (Tallman Sweet).

F. F. Crowl won first in Northern Spy, and Golden Russet, second in Wagener and third in Snow, Wealthy and Wolf River.

H. B. Elliot of Alden won third in Wagener and Mrs. J. Ide second in Golden Russet.

Sweepstakes in trays of apples was won by D. D. Tibbits.

Bushel Apples
First place won by Homer Waring with McIntosh; second, P. B. Gillespie with Wealthy; third, Martin Hansen with Wagener; fourth, P. B. Gillespie with Snow; fifth, D. D. Tibbits with McIntosh; sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth by P. B. Gillespie with Wolf River, Stark Delicious, McIntosh and Tallman Sweet, respectively; tenth, D. D. Tibbits with Hubbardston.

Special Display
In the Special Display of 50 apples of any four varieties, first place was won by Homer Waring; second, D. D. Tibbits; third, P. B. Gillespie; fourth, H. B. Elliot.

Fancy Pack
In the class of Fancy Pack for special-commercial trade, Homer Waring won first and second with McIntosh and King. H. B. Elliot was third with Wagener.

Best Apple
Homer Waring won the prize for the best apple in competition with twelve other exhibitors.

Special Prizes
The silver loving cup offered by the Michigan Business Farmer (now Michigan Farmer) for the best peck of Russet Rural was won by Frank Guy of Pellston.

The $5.00 offered by the Otsego County Herald Times to the best individual sample in the Junior Department was won by Emory Rotter of Alanson.

The silver loving cup offered by the Michigan Central Railroad to the best 4-H Club exhibit was won by the Five Lakes Potato Club of Gaylord.

The Alpena News cup for best exhibit of potatoes from Alpena, Alcona, Presque Isle or Montmorency counties was won by Rudolph Klee of Hawks.

The Michigan State Farm Bureau special prize of 1750 pounds of 3-12-4 fertilizer was divided as follows: Rudolph Klee, 1,000 pounds; Martin Haseiman of Hawks, 500 pounds; Reiser Bros. and Hopp of Hawks, 250 pounds.

The silver loving cup offered by the Tri-County Telephone Company was won by J. D. Robinson of Pellston.

The silver loving cup offered by the Potato Show Association for best county exhibit was won by Presque Isle county.

The 1,000 pounds of Agricor fertilizer for potatoes, offered by the American Agricultural Chemical Co., was won by J. D. Robinson.

Every exhibitor who won a prize at this show receives a new (or renewal) subscription to the Michigan Farmer for one year.

Banquet Enjoyed by Over 300 Men and Boys on Thursday

The Annual Banquet, which is the high-light of the three days activities was held Thursday evening at 6:30, with Al Weber, editor of the Cheboygan Observer, as Master of Ceremonies.

Over 300 farmers, their wives and children, from all over the Top O' Michigan, were present to be entertained by the speakers and singers. A special table near the speakers' stand was reserved for the Kalkaska Board of Supervisors who attended in a body.

It looked like a long program when one viewed the talent assembled about the speakers' table, but by ten o'clock all was over.

Percy Taylor of the Federal Farm Board; Washington D. C., and H. W. Tomlinson of Bay City were the headliners, ably assisted by Miss Edna Smith of the Michigan State College, and the Honorable H. E. Powell, Commissioner of Agriculture at Lansing.

Mr. Taylor emphasized the importance of cooperation and the preparation of standard products of high quality and careful consideration of over production are factors in farm relief. He also told how the Federal Farm Board operated.

Mr. Tomlinson, who is a wholesale shoe distributor by profession, gave an inspirational talk, stressing the value of more knowledge in our business activities.

The Brechelsen Bros., 9 and 11 years, of Bay View, gave several musical selections.

Mr. MacDonald, secretary of the Potosky Chamber of Commerce, also gave a humorous talk on music. And last but not least, the Rainbow Quartette of the Pennsylvania Railroad sang many songs to the enjoyment of the audience.

The list of winners was announced by the Secretary and the special prizes presented by their donors or special representatives.

About the Show

Moore and Livermore or Livermore and Moore were the judges in the potato classes. Often they sighed "are there any more?" They were told "there are 'More'—and 'More'." This show had the largest entry of potatoes in its eight years with 445. There were 124 entries in the open class of peck Russet Rural.

The entire Board of Supervisors of Kalkaska County came over on Thursday. Kalkaska county is one of the newest members of the Association and we are glad to see this interest. There were twenty exhibits of potatoes from Kalkaska county.

H. C. Moore of Michigan State College, in charge of Seed Potato Certification, told the certified seed growers that there was about one-half the usual acreage of certified seed in the state this year and about one-half the usual yield.

The show was honored to have Honorable Herbert E. Powell, Commissioner of the State Department of Agriculture spent a few hours at the show. He arrived Thursday.

There must be rain for rainbows to appear. It rained most of Tuesday and Wednesday morning. Wednesday noon the Rainbow Quartette

Homemaking Is A Profession Which Involves Many People

food is not thought of as an end in itself but of in terms of right foods to provide abundant vigor and health.

"The home is not simply a lodging house where one goes to sleep, but it should be such that it provides complete relaxation, rest and recuperation. This is provided not only in comfortable beds, but with restful coloring of walls, arrangement of furniture and the lack of too many knick-knacks.

"The modern home is thought of as a place which emphasizes preparation for right living rather than a place for punishment for wrong-doing.

"The Home Economics Extension Department is now offering service to the farm women in Michigan in the following subjects:

Food and Nutrition
"Teaching how to select food in accordance with standards for health and growth, preparing it so that it will be appetizing and palatable and teaching the family the wisdom of a well-balanced diet are the phases presented in this project.

Clothing
"One of the greatest problems facing the farm women of today is how to clothe herself and family becomingly and suitably at a low cost. This service is helping to solve this problem by showing how to select materials wisely, how to choose ready-made garments and if she wishes, how to sew for herself and children.

Home Furnishing
"The purpose of this study is to help make the home a place where people may live so as to get the fullest enjoyment from life—as how to make the home more attractive by arranging the furniture for restfulness and comfort, how to choose good backgrounds for the rooms as well as how to secure beauty and color through the addition of the right accessories.

Child Care and Development
"For the most part this is taking the form of parent education. Mothers and fathers too, are studying to gain a better understanding of the child mind at different stages of his development and to acquire a greater knowledge of the psychology governing the formation of habits.

of the Pennsylvania Railroad appeared and sang songs of cheer. The weather cleared during early afternoon.

A. C. Lytle, who was secretary of the show for the first seven years, visited the show as a spectator. A. C. is now selling certified seed potatoes for the Potato Growers' Exchange.

The Michigan State College and the State Department of Agriculture had nice exhibits at the show this year.

The Cheboygan Daily Tribune gave a beautiful loving cup for the best exhibit of Certified Alfalfa Seed. This was won by Albert Dietz of Hawks. This is the first time alfalfa seed has been included and will likely be a yearly feature. This cup must be won three years for permanent possession.

APPLE PIE CONTEST
First, Mrs. Percy Reed of Levering; second, Albert Sydow of Good Hart; third, Mrs. Benzer of Gaylord; fourth, N. H. Malone of East Jordan; fifth, Mrs. Arthur Ludlow of Potosky. Awards of Merit were made to Mrs. Jack Holcinski of Gaylord; Mrs. Hannah Anderson of Potosky; Mrs. Gezina Veenstra of Ellsworth; Mrs. Libeke of Gaylord; Mrs. Frank Wyrick of Alanson; Mrs. M. Collier of Potosky. The remainder of the 30 contestants received 50 cents each.

POTATO PEELING
First, Mrs. W. H. Green of Gaylord; second, Mrs. Rutan of Vanderbilt; third, Mrs. Ernest Weigmore of Gaylord; fourth, Mrs. Bullmore of Vanderbilt; fifth, Mrs. F. Woodin of Gaylord; sixth, Mrs. R. Moorhead of Gaylord; seventh, Mrs. Jane Chapman of Gaylord.

Seed Producers Annual Luncheon

OVER 200 GROWERS ENJOY MEAL AND EXCEPTIONAL PROGRAM

The third annual Certified Seed Growers Luncheon Wednesday noon was well attended. Over 200 potato growers and their wives ate together in the dining hall of the 4-H Club Camp and listened to talks by H. C. Moore, potato specialist at Michigan State College; J. R. Livermore, potato specialist of Cornell University and Guy Eppler, of Potosky, Master Potato Grower of last year's show.

Mr. Moore emphasized the importance of early planting as a precaution against field frost injury at digging time.

He stated that potatoes in this district should be planted from the middle to the twenty-fifth of May instead of June first to tenth, because the Russet Rural Potato needs a growing season of from 120 to 130 days for complete maturity.

Mr. Moore emphasized the importance of quality and remarked that the housewife was interested in how the potato looked on the inside as well as the outside. If Michigan is to hold its place in the city markets with potatoes from Maine and New York, more care must be used in production.

In closing Mr. Moore recommended the following practices:

First—Careful spraying; second, more general use of commercial fertilizer and green manures, plowed down; third, closer planting of seed pieces to reduce hollow heart and increase the number of medium sized potatoes; fourth, the use of 20 to 25 bushels per acre of certified seed for planting.

J. R. Livermore then addressed the group on New York's method of Potato Improvement. He was followed by Guy Eppler of Potosky, who told of his trip to Maine and Prince Edward Island with a special trainload of Pennsylvania Potato Growers last August. The talks given by Mr. Livermore and Mr. Eppler are found elsewhere in this issue.

shown in the singing has been greatly helped by these contests, and now, a choir that wins any of the first five places, to say nothing of the first place, can well be proud of its effort.

The five winners this year in the order named, were: Benzonina, $80.00; Kaleva, $40.00; East Jordan, $20.00; Brothren, $10.00 and Atwood, $10.00. East Jordan won first last year. This is the second year for Benzonina to win first.

Over 500 people attended the contest.

from the other district Shows at the State Show during Farmers' Week next February.

There farmers are expected to win the State contest and receive the grand prize of a free trip to some other great potato producing center. According to J. J. Bird this yield is the highest reported in the contest to date, the Upper Peninsula potato Show winner had a yield of 345 bushels per acre.

POTATO GRADING CONTEST

First, Irwin Cole of Alanson; second, David Reiser of Hawks; third, Irwin Hopp of Hawks; fourth, A. N. Farm Storage Cellar Will Pay for Itself

Have you ever had the experience of trying to sell apples, potatoes and other crops when everyone else was trying to do the same thing?

Markets glutted at harvest time often knock the profits out of a season's efforts.

Why not arrange in store some of your crops so they can be marketed in accordance with demand?

Here's where the concrete storage cellar comes in. Many a farmer who has one can tell you that its total cost was returned to him the first year by being able to take advantage of marketing conditions when they were most favorable.

You can easily build a storage cellar or other concrete improvements on your farm by following a few simple directions. Let us send you a free copy of our booklet "Plans for Concrete Farm Buildings." Write for it today.

HUNTERS TREK TO THE NORTH WOODS

CHARLEVOIX SENDS LARGE CONTINGENT THIS YEAR

Season Opening Saturday, November 15th—Few Changes in Laws Covering the Sport

When the 1930 deer season opens Saturday morning, November 15th, Charlevoix will be well represented among the huge army of hunters who will swarm over deer territory in the upper peninsula and eastern counties.

While officials of the conservation department estimate there will be an increase of approximately 5,000 hunters over 1929 when a record of 80,000 was reached, many do not have the same opinion. Last year hunters were making the trek north in advance of the season, the state's highway being packed with parties motoring north from a week in advance up the opening day. However, this year the traffic up to Monday amounted to practically nothing. Even though the number is smaller, there will be plenty of hunters.

No changes of consequence have been made in the hunting regulations for the 1930 season. The period runs from November 15 to 30. The kill is limited to one male deer with antlers at least three inches above the scalp. It is unlawful to have the carcass in possession more than 30 days after the season closes. Hunting parties of not less than four members are entitled to a camp deer under special license costing $3.00. The resident fee is $2.50, non-resident, $5.00.

All of the counties in southern Michigan south of Town 20 are closed to deer hunting. In addition to this a number above this line have also been closed under special order. These include Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet, Grand Traverse, Missaukee, Wexford and Benzie. All other peninsula counties are open.

In addition to one buck deer the hunter is also privileged to kill one bear.

Among the Charlevoix hunters who will be in the woods Saturday morning are the following:

Frank F. Bird, Frank Courrier, Floyd Brown, A. C. Belding, Clarence Coblenz, Charlevoix; also Kit Carson of East Jordan, who will camp on the Little Two Heart river northeast of Newberry.

Albert Staley, Ed. Bogart, and B. Nickerson, Charlevoix; George Weaver and Sterling Nickerson of Kingsley, who hunt near Lake Gogebic in Ontonagon county. Others located in this territory are Sander Halverson, Charlevoix; Jake Ypma, Norwood; and Vaughn Orvis and Jim Wilson of Eveline.

Kenneth Usher, Charles Heise, Bernie Ward, Will Heise, Clarence Heise and Clarence McGinnis are hunting north and east of Seney. Another Charlevoix party in that district will be Oscar Nelson, John Zeitler, Fred Bergman and Harry Gregory.

A party composed of Lou Shupton, Jess Gregory, Glenn Cummings, Harry Walstead and Orville Hilton go to the Two Heart territory north of Newberry.

Percy Edwards joins E. A. Robinson of Boyne City, and a party of five Detroiters at their camp on Nevin lake west of Beaver on the Seney-Grand Marais road.

Dan Soule, Charlevoix; Roger Ray and A. J. Davis, Lansing; Richard Conner, Ionia, and Bert Perrigo.

FRUIT AND VEGETABLE DRIVE FOR HOSPITAL NOVEMBER 20

Thursday, November 20th, has been set by the Charlevoix hospital board as the date of the annual drive for fruits and vegetables for the institution, and the whole-hearted support and cooperation of the city is solicited in this worthy cause.

On the designated day, members of the board will make a solicitation of the city, either in person or by telephone. W. H. Wallace will solicit the south side; P. D. Campbell, Geo. W. Weaver and Martin Block the valley; and Harry A. Craig and Joseph Foster the north side.

Charlevoix citizens are asked to give as large donations as they feel able. Fruits, jellies, potatoes, vegetables, etc., will be solicited. Members of the committee will call for articles and those giving fruit and jellies will be given cans and glasses to replace their own.

Grand Rapids, will hunt on the Yellow Dog river north of Marquette. Mr. and Mrs. Murley Plani will hunt near Trout lake, and Mr. and Mrs. Amos O'Neil go to the Gladstone district. Nick Shores, Sam King and Claude Davey will invade the Two Heart territory; Lyle Kowalski and George Cook hunt near Harwood lake east of Vankirk. Others who will make the trek to other scattered points are Fred Conn, Louis O'Neil, Willard Olney, J. C. Marshall, Glenn Ingalls, Bert Ingalls, Ray Shearer, R. T. Davis, and others.

LOCAL WOMAN HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Mrs. H. S. Harsha Stepped in Front of Moving Vehicle

Mrs. Horace S. Harsha received bad bruises and cuts on her arms and legs late Monday afternoon when she stepped out from the curb directly in front of a machine driven by Lawrence Korth.

The accident occurred on Bridge street in front of the Sugar Bowl. Mrs. Harsha was taken immediately to the local hospital, where her injuries were cared for. Her condition today is much improved.

Mrs. Harsha was fortunate in not being more seriously injured, as the impact of the car threw her several feet across the pavement.

ANNUAL RED CROSS DRIVE UNDER WAY

OPENED TUESDAY AND CONTINUES UNTIL NOVEMBER 27

Friday and Saturday, November 14 and 15 Days Set for Local Drive—Cooperation Urged

The 14th annual Red Cross roll call membership drive opened Tuesday, November 11th, and will close on Thanksgiving day, November 27.

The drive in Charlevoix will be conducted Friday and Saturday, November 14 and 15. On these two days headquarters will be at the Charlevoix Hardware company and from then until the close of the drive at 102 Park avenue.

The local Red Cross chapter is not planning a house-to-house canvass as in former years, but instead are counting upon the loyalty of the citizenry to call at headquarters and renew their membership or become members. It is the belief that loyalty to the cause will result in spontaneous response as it has in other years.

Mrs. Adah Beaman heads the committee as roll call chairman and other members are Mrs. E. L. Dawson, Mrs. John Burns, Mrs. James Simmons, Mrs. Archie Belding, Mrs. A. J. Usher and Mrs. Alton Smith. Miss Helen French will head the drive for the Junior Red Cross.

The drive this year is not primarily a campaign for money, but one to give everyone an opportunity to renew their membership in the country's outstanding welfare organization. Work of the American Red Cross is continuous and is a guarantee to the people of this country that loss of life shall be prevented in calamity, and that suffering shall be lessened to the utmost degree.

Work of the Red Cross is known throughout the world as the foremost organization of mercy. When disaster comes, it is the first one present to provide needed medical attention, food, shelter, etc., to those stricken. Your membership fee of one dollar will help a worthy cause.

CHARLEVOIX HIGH WON FIRST DEBATE

Affirmative Team Given Unanimous Decision Over Boyne City

Charlevoix high school's debating team opened the 1930-31 series at the local school gymnasium last Thursday evening with a victory over Boyne City.

The Charlevoix affirmative team, composed of Daisy Dutcher, Dorothy Staley and Charles Cellner were given the unanimous decision over the negative Boyne City debating squad. The judges were Supt. Geo. Eikey of Albia, and Messrs. Johnson and Musser of Mancelona high school. The question was, "Resolved: That National chain grocery stores operating in Michigan are detrimental to the people of the state."

Charlevoix's victory Thursday evening was their initial success in an opening debate, and, with the team presenting a strong and convincing argument, spells well for their future success.

NEW SERVICE FOR COMMERCE BOOY ARMY OF HUNTERS HELD FALL MEET

PUBLIC SAFETY DEPT. LENDING ITS COOPERATION RECOMMEND EXTENSION OF PARK AVENUE TO LAKE

Questionnaire at Straits to Seek Municipal Dock and Further Harbor Improvement Find Favor—Annual Meeting in December

With the 1930 deer hunting season but a few days away, the law enforcement division of the conservation department has completed its plans for taking care of more than 70,000 hunters who will invade the northern part of the state.

As in past years a large crew of special conservation officers will patrol the woods with their prime duty to enforce the deer laws. Several of these special officers will be assigned to each county in the deer area, working with the regular officers.

The state department of public safety is again cooperating with the conservation department by assigning state police to patrol duty along the main highways. The police will assist officers in inspecting all deer tags, and licenses as they cross the Straits of Mackinac going south and will be stationed at strategic points along the southern border of the deer area in the lower peninsula.

A new service will be performed for deer hunters this season. Two or more officers will be at the Mackinac City ferry dock and will fill out questionnaires concerning hunters going north. An attempt will be made to show the name of the driver of each car, the license number, the make of car, the names and addresses of all members of the hunting party, the numbers of their deer licenses, the county in which the party will hunt and whether the party is going to a hunting club camp.

Many requests are received by the law enforcement division almost every day of the deer hunting season urging assistance in locating some hunter. Most of these calls have to do with accident, sickness or death. Copies of the questionnaire will be sent to the officer located in the county where the hunter resides, to the officer in the county where the party will hunt, and to the Lansing office.

In addition to performing a possible service to the hunters, the questionnaires are expected to assist in preventing non-residents from hunting on resident licenses, a practice that is said to be all too common.

PROPERTY TRANSFERS AT BELVEDERE CLUB

Two Cottages Recently Change Hands—Improvements Continue

Many improvements both on the grounds, hotel and cottages are being made at the Belvedere club this fall. Many repairs have been made on the hotel, and many cottages are having improvements made on their residences.

Two property transfers are reported by W. H. Miller, warden of the club. The Edith Miller cottage, No. 125, has been sold to Arthur P. Taylor of Cincinnati, Ohio, and John Owen III, Detroit, has purchased the Tate cottage, No. 208.

Grading of property east of Ferry avenue has been completed, water line installed and seeding will be done in the spring.

"Hard Time" dancing party at Maple Grove Grange hall Friday evening, November 14. Good order, good music.—Adv. 461.

The first meeting of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce to follow the resort season of 1930 was held at the council rooms on last Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock. One hundred and twenty-five postcards, announcing the meeting, produced an attendance of 20 members.

Following the call to order by President Winder, a resume of the proceedings of the last meeting was given by the secretary-treasurer, George Beaman, followed by the report of the corresponding secretary on the activities of the information bureau.

Several important matters, introduced by Mayor Bergeon, were discussed at length, among them the project of extending Park avenue to the water front of Round lake, acquiring the Wilbur property for the purpose of constructing an adequate municipal dock for large vessels and improving the balance of the shoreline in front of Bridge street by creating a driveway along the bank of the lake and protecting the shore from the erosion by water by means of sheet piling.

With reference to securing and improving an airport for Charlevoix, the consensus of opinion seemed to be that, in the absence of sufficient freight and passenger traffic to warrant the continuance of a regular commercial air schedule, the advertising value to the town of maintaining a field for the use of private individuals should first be determined. In any event, it was felt that such a field should be purchased outright, rather than rented year by year as at present.

Mr. Bergeon also suggested that the Michigan Transit Corporation be petitioned to instruct the captains of the Meniston and Puritan to enter Lake Charlevoix for the purpose of turning their vessels around, thus giving the passengers a better view of the beautiful countryside and wondrous lake scenery surrounding the city.

The date for the annual meeting of the association was set for a date as close to December 4th as practicable, and the suggestion that the accompanying banquet be held at one of the local restaurants or hotel capable of furnishing the necessary accommodations met with unanimous approval. The exact date of the annual meeting will be later announced.

CHARLEVOIX RESORTER KILLED IN COAL MINE

W. E. Tytus One of Victims of Sunday Creek Mine Disaster

The recent coal mine disaster at the Sunday Creek coal mine in Ohio, touched nearer Charlevoix than many may have thought.

W. E. Tytus, one of the officials of the mine, killed in the tragedy, occupied the Coke cottage on the Belvedere club during the summer season of 1929, and is a brother of J. B. Tytus of Middletown, Ohio, a Belvedere cottage owner, and regular Charlevoix summer visitor.

REAPPORTIONMENT, FAG TAX DEFEATED

Other Three Amendments Carried by Michigan Voters

Already decisively beaten by the negative vote of out-state districts, the proposal to reapportion the state was further buried as each belated report was received.

Indications were that the final canvass would show the proposed amendment beaten by from 10,000 to 50,000 votes. At one time, just after the Wayne county vote was counted, the affirmative vote on the proposal led, but this edge was quickly wiped out by additional out-state ballots.

The cigarette tax referendum, was decisively beaten in all parts of the state. The measure would have levied two cents on each package of cigarettes.

The other three amendments, however, were passed. One of these will permit the state to aid in the improvement of rivers and streams for the purpose of increasing drainage facilities; the second permits boards of supervisors in the larger counties to order the election of township officials in the fall of even numbered years instead of the spring of odd numbered years; the third increased the homestead exemption from $1,500 to $3,000.

SPAWN FISHING RESULTS LIGHT

SMALL CATCHES AND LITTLE SPAWN ARE BEING OBTAINED

Better Results Expected as Season Advances—Fifteen Boats Operating Out of Harbor

With almost two weeks of the spawn fishing for mackinaw trout past, the season has so far failed to come up to expectations of either commercial fishermen or conservation officials.

Following early season lifts, which were generally light both in fish and spawn, five days of heavy weather kept all fishing craft in shelter. The entire fleet lifted Sunday with disappointing results in all but a few exceptions. Some of the fish, especially those taken from deep water, were soft after several days in the water. However, the loss from this cause was light. Lifts made Monday were also considered small for this time of year.

Fishermen are looking forward to better results as the season advances, however. The past week has been in the light of the moon and it is thought when the change comes trout will seek the spawning beds in large numbers and catches will increase accordingly.

From the conservation angle, the season so far has been a decided disappointment. Few, if any, of the lifts have been producing the required 54 per cent of ripe spawn and only a small quantity of eggs are being brought to the hatchery.

In all, there are 15 boats fishing out of Charlevoix harbor. In addition to the local fleet of 11 boats, there are four outside outfits. J. W. Cornell and son, Leslie Cornell, are here from Washington Island with their two fine tugs. There is one outfit from Manistee and one from Cheboygan. A greater portion of the Beaver Island fleet are shipping their catch to local packing houses, bringing all operators in the district to quite a large number.

MANY ATTENDED INITIAL P. T. A. MEETING

Hear Visiting Speakers and Enjoy Excellent Program

A good attendance was present at the opening meeting of the Charlevoix Parent-Teacher association at the high school assembly room last Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Jessup and A. M. Hootman of Petoskey, gave interesting talks, dealing largely with the problems of teachers and parents and the help a parent-teacher association may be to both. William Hicken, president of the local organization, gave a short and interesting talk.

The business session was followed by refreshments and a social hour.

CHARLEVOIX CLOSES FOOTBALL SEASON

DROPPED FINAL GAME SATURDAY BY 22 TO 0 COUNT

Class B Petoskey Outfit Outplayed Local Eleven Throughout the Entire Contest

Charlevoix high school closed their 1930 football season last Saturday, losing to the class B Petoskey outfit on the latter's field by a 22 to 0 count.

Their record for the season was two victories, one tie and four defeat. They won the season opener from Onaway, dropped the next two to Boyne City and Mancelona, tied East Jordan, defeated Gaylord and then lost the final two lifts to Harbor Springs and Petoskey.

With every appearance at the beginning of the season of being one of the strongest eleven Charlevoix had turned out in recent years, the team proved later to have plenty of heavy material but not much of anything else. The loss of Novak and McCall before the season opened was a severe blow to Coach Kipke, but this handicap should not have stopped them. The team lacked a something which we will not try to explain. From the very outset it was a fighting eleven and continued to be throughout the season.

Charlevoix was completely outplayed at Petoskey Saturday. The Northmen had three chances to score in the initial period, making good on the first. A fumble put Charlevoix in a dangerous position. They punted from behind the goal and Dombrowski, who starred throughout the game for Petoskey, carried back to the local 15-yard line. After several small gains Wells carried the ball over. Petoskey missed two other chances and the period ended with the ball on Charlevoix's 32-yard line.

Five plays in the second period netted the second marker. From the 32 yard, Dombrowski made 22 on a couple of plays. Wells added five. Hooker was held and Dombrowski went over. The remainder of the second period was scoreless. In the third Petoskey scored on a safety when Foster dropped on a blocked punt behind his own goal, making the score 15 to 0.

The Northmen scored their third and last touchdown in the fourth period. Charlevoix had held on their 3-yard strip and Anee punted. Dombrowski caught the ball on Charlevoix' 40-yard line and raced down the right side of the field to cross the goal. The extra point counted when Charlevoix was off-side and the game soon ended with the count 22 to 0 for Petoskey.

Foster, Arvilla and Clark made many nice gains for Charlevoix, but an almost equal number of fumbles undid all their good work. Petoskey gained little through Charlevoix's heavy line, making most of their long gains around the ends. There have been few teams able to penetrate the local line this year, Harbor being practically the only one able to accomplish the trick.

SKUNK-CAT CROSS A BIG CURIOSITY AT ELK RAPIDS

Albert Huber of Elk Rapids, does not know whether he is fonder of his house cat or her kitten.

The kitten is a most beautiful animal and inherits only the more beautiful traits or its father, a skunk. There were two kittens in the litter, both exceedingly beautiful, but one of the kittens has strayed away, according to Mr. Huber.

Mr. Huber will be pleased to show this kitten now over a year old, he says, to anyone who may call at his residence during a rainy reasonable hour.

CORRESPONDENCE

NORWOOD

Mrs. Nelson Empey is in quite feeble health at her home in Norwood.

Jacob Ypma expects to leave this week for a deer hunting trip in the upper peninsula.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Publow of Lansing occupied their cottage in Norwood over the week-end.

Sam Alward seems to be the champion raccoon hunter in this locality. He bagged one last week weighing 30 pounds.

Mrs. Merrill Richardson, who was in the Lockwood hospital at Petoskey for the past ten days, returned to her home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Penny Genett, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Yetaw of Charlevoix, visited relatives in Traverse City Sunday.

William Lucia left Wednesday for the home of his daughter, Mrs. Timmer, of Cleveland, Ohio, where he expects to spend the winter.

Mrs. Floyd Wagner delightfully entertained the Norwood L. A. S. at her home last Wednesday afternoon. During the business meeting election of officers was held for the ensuing year, after which the hostess served refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. William Alward entertained a group of relatives at their home last Thursday evening, honoring Mr. Alward's birthday. The evening was spent in playing cards and visiting, after which the hostess served delightful refreshments.

Norwood citizens are saddened to learn of the death of Mrs. Cora Willis of Charlevoix. Mrs. Willis was a teacher in the Norwood school for a period of three years and was highly respected by all the pupils and patrons, who join in extending sympathy to the family.

Mrs. Moorehouse of Walton Station, Quebec, Canada, is visiting friends and relatives at Charlevoix and Norwood at present. Mr. and Mrs. Moorehouse were residents of Norwood until about 11 years ago, when Mr. Moorehouse died, after which Mrs. Moorehouse has resided in other places. She has many friends and relatives to visit during her stay here.

CENTRAL LAKE

Nice November weather. Jake Simon called at the home of Albert Snider Sunday.

Rev. W. H. Rauch preached at Eastport again Sunday.

John DeYoung of Hank's oil station was a Mancelona visitor Saturday.

Miss Thelma Fox, who is teaching in Grand Rapids, spent the week-end here.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

pastor, last Sunday. He first preached to about 20 people at Atwood at 9:30, then to Ellsworth congregation, about 70 people, and then to a crowd of about 60 people at Barnard at 2 o'clock p. m. It keeps him busy and he doesn't have much time to stop and visit at any place. It was one of the pleasantest fall days and the roads were fine. The people were all cordial, and all have fine churches. Ellsworth has a fine young people's choir and Barnard a young people's orchestra.

BARNARD

Real Indian summer. Mrs. Ricksgers of Beaver Island, is visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. Dhaseler, this week.

The Barnard band and friends are having a party at the church this week Friday, November 14th.

The home management club meet this week Thursday at the Grange hall. Subject, "Goals in Home Making."

The harvest festival which was planned for next Sunday and Monday has been postponed until another week.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Ricksgers and son, also Mr. and Mrs. Moran, all of Ablen, visited Mr. Ricksgers's sister, Mrs. Dhaseler on Sunday.

Miss Josephine Kerr, Glen Somerville, Andy Keller and Joe Emmons, all of Central Lake, were callers at the home of Clyde Smith on Sunday afternoon.

A party was given at the hall on Wednesday evening on honor of the newly weds, Mr. and Mrs. Medrie Waffle. Needless to say a good time was enjoyed by all.

A large delegation of Barnard Grangers attended Pomona Grange at Boyne River on Saturday. We understand that this Grange won the prize for the largest percentage of attendance at the Pomona meetings this year.

MARION

Born, Thursday, October 30, to Mr. and Mrs. Earl VanZant, a daughter.

PRESENTING THE NEW CHEVROLET SIX

Today the Chevrolet Motor Company presents the Bigger and Better

Chevrolet Six, a new model of the six-cylinder car which has enjoyed such wide popularity. In the chassis and body of this new six-cylinder Chevrolet you will find expressed, as never before, Chevrolet's well-known policy of progress through constant improvement.

For—without departing from the basic features which have won the enthusiastic approval of over 2,000,000 buyers—Chevrolet has set an entirely new standard of quality and value in the low-price field.

Your first impression of the new Chevrolet will be one of striking fleetness, grace and beauty. The car is longer, lower and modernly smart. The radiator has been deepened. The long hood lines sweep back to blend gracefully into the new Fisher bodies. And never was Fisher's fine craftsmanship more evident than in the bodies of the new Chevrolet Six!

Not only are the bodies roomier and more comfortable, but as you study them you will discover many gratifying new features and refinements.

Mechanically, too, the new Chevrolet Six is a better automobile. The wheelbase is longer. The frame is stronger. The steering is easier. The clutch is more durable. There is a smoother, quieter, easier shifting transmission. In fact, wherever finer materials and more advanced design could add to Chevrolet quality or increase Chevrolet's traditional economy of ownership—improvement has been made. See the new Chevrolet Six—for here is the Great American Value!

BAY SHORE

Mrs. Lewis Price is on the sick list this week.

Lovely weather and all the farmers are making good use of it.

Mrs. Bessie Zipp made a business trip to Petoskey Monday morning.

Mr. Wiseman and family have moved to Bay Shore for the winter.

Mrs. Alice Mowby and son Louie, spent the week-end with friends in Petoskey.

The Murray school held a box social last Wednesday night made about $10.

The pie social held at the church Friday evening was a big success. About $20 was netted.

Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Saunders of Ironton were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Yohr.

The Ladies' Aid will meet at the home of Mrs. Bessie Zipp on Wednesday, November 12. An all day meeting will be held with pot-luck dinner at noon.

The Carpenter school held their P. T. A. meeting for October last Thursday evening, at the school. A short program by the children and talk by Mr. Braid, the president, and an address by Mrs. Grace Jessup of Petoskey, on the topic, "Value of Reading." Humorous songs by Brecken boys. Refreshments were served by the ladies.

ROCK ELM

Fine Indian summer weather after our Squaw winter.

MICHIGAN CROPS
BELOW AVERAGESLUMP HIT ALMOST EVERY KIND OF FARM PRODUCEPotato Production Second Lowest on Record—Other Declines Are Proportionate

The volume of late crops being harvested by Michigan farmers this fall is considerably below the average of recent years. Although spring grains yielded well above average, the late crops, with the exception of pears and grapes, have been severely cut by the drought which continued practically unbroken in many localities from the latter part of July until late September. Rainfall during the past month was more than one inch below normal for the lower peninsula, and in many sections it came too late to be of much benefit to the potato crop. However, heavy frosts did not occur this year until the last few days of September, whereas in 1929 killing frosts were quite general from the 18th to the 20th. The longer growing season was beneficial to the potato crop and to some late fields of beans, particularly since growth had previously been retarded by the dry weather. Harvest of beans and fall fruits progressed rapidly during the past month, due to the favorable weather and the advanced nature of the season.

Grain Crops

The average yield of oats in Michigan this year was 38.0 bushels or nearly six bushels more per acre than the ten-year average yield. The total production is now estimated to 29 per cent larger than that for last year and four per cent greater than the average crop of the preceding five years. The average quality is reported to be 91 per cent as against 87 per cent last year and 86, the ten-year average.

Michigan's barley crop is 33 per cent larger than last year's production, the average yield per acre being 30 bushels or almost five bushels more than the long-time average yield. The quality is the same as for oats, 91 per cent, as compared with 86 per cent last year and 87, the ten-year average.

The conditions of the state's corn crop on October 1st was 29 points below average, the yield indicated being 21.9 bushels per acre as against 34.8 bushels the ten-year average. The total production will likely be three millions bushels below last year's short crop, which, if realized, would stand as the smallest crop of the last 31 years. Because of the light fodder yield, and the shortage of other feed, the proportion of the acreage harvested for grain will be considerably below normal.

With the reduced acreage and with the yield cut by the drought, Michigan's buckwheat crop now appears to be the smallest since 1899.

Beans

The longer growing season was beneficial to the Michigan bean crop in that it allowed some late fields to mature more beans than would otherwise have been possible. The average yield per acre indicated by October 1st reports on condition and probable yield is 6.2 bushels. Last year's final yield was 8.2 bushels while the average for the preceding ten years was 11.6. The estimated production for the state, therefore, is nine per cent less than last year's crop and 21 per cent smaller than the average crop for the years 1924-1928.

The United States bean crop is nearly six per cent larger than that harvested in 1929 due to the heavy yields in the Rocky Mountain states and less than the usual amount of loss of acreage. The crop in the Great Northern section promises to be 14 per cent larger than that of last year and the Colorado and New Mexico crops combined, mostly Pinotus, are estimated at 13 per cent greater than for 1929.

Potatoes

The state's potato production promises to be next to the smallest on record during the last 31 years, the yield per acre indicated this month being the lowest since 1916. The estimated total production is 13 per cent less than the short crop of 1929 and 47 per cent smaller than the five-year average crop. Scattered showers early in September improved the prospects on this crop in some localities. However, most of the precipitation for the southern part of the state came from the 23rd to the 26th—too late to benefit most fields to any material extent. Freedom from early frosts helped materially in preventing a decline below the estimate for one month ago.

Absence of early frosts and beneficial rains in many of the late potato states added nearly 13,000,000 bushels to the prospective United States potato crop as compared with the September 1st estimate. The largest increase was recorded in Maine, while Ohio, Idaho, Colorado, North Dakota, and Pennsylvania all reported prospects better by 1,000,000 bushels or more than for one month ago. However, the nation's crop still appears to be seven and one-half million bushels less than the short-time average production.

Tame Hay

Michigan's tame hay crop is the smallest since 1925, the total production being 31 per cent smaller than last year's high record crop and 17 per cent less than the average crops for the years 1924-1928. The average yield was only 1.20 tons per acre. Last year Michigan farmers harvested 1.68 tons, and during the preceding ten years the average return was 1.32 tons. The quality was only average or 89 per cent due to the dry weather. The quality of the 1929 crop was 93 per cent.

The state's alfalfa crop is 14 per cent less than the 1929 production although still eight per cent greater than the five-year average crop since the acreage has been steadily increasing during that time. The average yield was only 1.80 tons per acre, this being the first time in the 13 years that estimates have been made that the state yield has fallen below 2.00 tons.

The condition of the red and blue clover seed crop was 55 per cent of normal as compared with 82 per cent this time last year and 75 per cent, the ten-year average. Both the acreage and the yield have been materially reduced by the drought.

Sugar Beets

With the larger share of the sugar beet acreage located in the Thumb and in eastern counties, where the drought was less severe, the outlook is more promising than for most other late field crops. The production will likely be 180,000 tons greater than in 1929, but nearly 300,000 tons short of the five-year average crop since the acreage has been declining steadily during recent years.

Fruit

Winter injury and late frosts cut the Michigan peach crop to a point where the preliminary estimate of the 1930 production is 187,000 bushels below that for last year and 212,000 bushels less than the five-year average. Berrien county had practically a complete failure while VanBuren secured less than 20 per cent of a crop. Allegan and Oceana report better than 70 per cent production. The quality is reported at 83 per cent, four points better than in 1929 but two points below average. While the drought reduced the size of the fruit in some orchards, the color and flavor were excellent.

Late spring frosts and the summer drought shortened the state's apple crop by 1,773,000 bushels as compared with the five-year average production. The commercial crop is 180,000 barrels below average, the greatest shortage being in the winter varieties. Heavy windstorms that occurred about September 26 caused a heavy drop in many orchards.

The pear crop varies considerably between orchards in the same locality, but in general the outlook is for a state production 300,000 bushels larger than the short crop of 1929, and 36,000 bushels greater than average.

Grapes suffered some damage from frosts last spring both in the southwestern counties and farther north in the fruit belt, but the present outlook is slightly better than on September 1st and the indicated production is larger than for any of the eight years previous in which estimates have been made.

"Adam and Fallen Man" was the

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-lesson was the following from the Bible: "Mark the perfect end of that man is peace." (Ps. 37:37.)

The lesson-lesson also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mortals have a very imperfect sense of the spiritual man and of the infinite range of his thought. To him belongs eternal life.
Never born and never dying, it were impossible for man, under the government of God in eternal Science, to fall from his high estate." (p. 258.)

Invention of Perminvar Permits Development of Transatlantic Cable

Because of the impracticability of installing at the bottom of the ocean either repeater stations or loading coils, which extend the range of the voice on long distance land telephone lines, something had to be found to take their place before serious consideration could be given to the idea of a transatlantic telephone cable. So Bell System scientists developed perminvar, a highly efficient magnetic alloy of iron. It is wrapped in the form of tape around the single copper conductor of the cable, and acts as a continuous "loading" agent throughout the length of the circuit. It is the development of this unique magnetic metal which makes possible the new transatlantic cable, 1800 nautical miles long, which is to be laid from Newfoundland to Ireland.

AND NOW WHAT?

Outstate Michigan stood with its back to the wall when it voted down Detroit's reappointment amendment in Tuesday's election. The plurality against this bold effort on the part of the big city politicians is gratifying. It probably will reach 70,000 in spite of the fact that Wayne county itself, responding to the propaganda of the Detroit newspapers, pulled a favorable majority of 120,000 votes which outstate had to overcome.

But now what? This Detroit enterprise, adroit and audacious, designed to take over for all time the ownership and control of the legislature in defiance of all American precedent, has been defeated. The victory is only transient, however. Unless outstate forces rally to amend the constitution in a proper way, adopting protective provisions against Detroit domination in line with those of the federal constitution and in line of those with other states in which the big city problem has arisen, there will be further moves on the part of Detroit to take over the legislature.

Detroit already has 40 per cent of the state's population and its growth will continue. In another two years, or four years, or six years or ten years, it will be able to accomplish by the sheer weight of numbers what it failed to achieve against a united opposition outstate last Tuesday.

Never was outstate Michigan so united on any single issue as it was against the Detroit amendment. The state press played a conspicuous part. In connection with its own editorial campaign against the amendment the Evening News mailed copies of its comment to all papers throughout the state. A check of the issues of outstate papers taken in the week preceding the election yielded no less than 88 clippings showing reprints of this material coupled with additional editorial comment by the other editors.

The outstate press was unanimous in its opposition to the amendment with the possible exception of the one Grand Rapids paper which seemed impressed by the additional representation the amendment would give to Kent county.

Will this outstate morale die on the vine now that the Detroit thrust is turned back or will it be carried into the next legislature to effect a proper and permanent amendment of the constitution, giving Detroit a fair and proper representation, but protecting Michigan from all time against a Detroit dictatorship? Time will tell. Outstate leadership is needed as never before. We hope and trust that such a leadership will arise. If it does not arise in the next two years, it will probably be too late.—Monroe Evening News.

CAN TAXES BE CUT?

The commission of inquiry into taxation has been collecting figures and holding hearings for a year and a half. Before the legislature meets in January it will announce its recommendations.

Undoubtedly the commission has a great deal of information that the average citizen cannot command. But it is quite improbable that the commission's data differ essentially from the facts that are of common knowledge. The report and recommendations will throw more light on the state's tax problem, but it will not be a new kind of light.

The facts are that certain activities of government cost too much and that this cost is unfairly distributed, an unreasonably large part of it falling on real estate.

A certain amount could be saved by economies in the operation of state government. A great deal more could be saved by repealing the prohibition amendment and thereby reducing the prison population. Since the state tax makes up only ten or twelve per cent of the total tax collected for state, county and local purposes, complete elimination of that tax would leave the problem almost as serious as before.

This is one point overlooked by the advocates of the income tax who have been having a field day at the meeting of the State Grange this week. Nobody has advocated an income tax for local purposes. It would not be practical for such purposes, because the bulk of the income from this sort of tax would come out of Detroit and a half dozen other industrial centers. If local government were to depend on an income tax half the communities in the state would have no tax revenue at all.

The remedy—if it is found—must lie somewhere in the local tax situation. The cost of running the cities, townships, counties and school districts must be cut if there is to be any relief from the present tax burden on real estate.

It is not likely that any very effective or permanent reduction can be made if the present governmental set-up is to continue. The administrative machinery is too expensive because there is too much of it. It was designed to meet conditions of the horse and buggy era.

The township is too small. If it were abolished altogether and its functions were taken over by the county, the average citizen would be nearer to the center of local government in terms of automobile travel than he was to the town hall in terms of horse and buggy travel.

There are too many school districts and there is too little uniformity and far too little economy in their operation. There is some question whether there should be such a thing as a school district. Why should what amounts to a separate government be set up to run the schools? Why should they not be operated as a branch of the general government, city or county?

Senseless duplication of governmental agencies appears to be one of the main causes of the high cost of local government. In the case of the larger cities the situation verges on the ridiculous. Why, for example, should Detroit, or even Grand Rapids and Flint, run three separate local governments, a city government, a school district government and a county government? The work of all three could be done better and cheaper by the city government alone.

One of the biggest costs of local government is highway and street construction and maintenance. Everyone knows that the money spent on roads in the townships is pretty completely wasted. The cities, on the whole, do much better with their streets. But there is room for a lot of improvement. Would it be interfering too much with local autonomy if the state were to be required to set up an agency, perhaps as a part of the highway department, to furnish plans and specifications that might be used by any city or township, and to make detailed studies on request of the local units?

These suggestions are radical and may seem impossible, but they at least follow the only line along which there is any chance of discovering a solution to the real estate tax problem. Because, when the special commission and the legislature and the people get all through with their changes and reforms the principal part of the cost of government is going to rest right where it is now, on the farms and the homes and factories and the tangible property generally.—Michigan State Digest.

WE ARE WONDERING

Michigan has always stood as one of the states opposed to capital punishment. It has observed the experience of other commonwealths where the extreme penalty is inflicted and the consensus of opinion has been that not only is the taking of human life by the state a relic of barbarism, but that it has also failed in the prevention of the major crime of murder.

If Michigan ever makes capital punishment a part of our criminal code it will be because public opinion in this state has decided to lay aside its scruples, its deep rooted aversion against "a life for a life," and actually in a spirit of revenge demand that those who indulge in wanton killing while engaged in turn be murdered by society.

The record of four peace officers shot down and killed in the line of duty within the space of one month will have a powerful influence in shaping legislation during the next session of the legislature. And while the opinions of thousands of people will remain unchanged it would occasion no surprise if we find them disposed to witness a capital punishment law enacted in this state without raising their voices in protest.

LIQUOR NOT AN ISSUE

Down at Lansing the two great news gathering agencies which are supposed to reflect public sentiment and conditions correctly, would have us believe that the wet and dry battle is one of the important issues to be settled at the November election.

No single candidate of any party nor group of candidates, can make a wet and dry fight possible in Michigan this year. It is much more likely that a referendum on the liquor question will be submitted during the spring campaign of 1931 where the issues may more clearly be brought out into the open for discussion.

The liquor question will always remain more of a social than a political issue. It should be determined in every instance outside party lines. Whenever men succeed in making the liquor issue part of any political platform it is done wholly for the purpose of attracting votes to that party and never is it a wholesome attempt to solve the greatest social problem that has ever confronted this nation.

John Haggert, Chippewa county, has paid a fine of $60 for having 200 pounds of moose meat. The meat furnished an unusual feast for the inmates of the Mackinac county poor farm.

While Haggert refused to reveal where the meat came from, officers have no doubt but that the animal, a cow moose, was killed in Chippewa county. For the past few years the number of moose in that section of the state has been steadily increasing, probably as the result of migrations from Canada. Three moose were killed by automobiles in Chippewa county last year and several were seen in the vicinity of St. Ignace this year.

DOLL CONTEST OPEN AGAIN THIS WINTER
Voting for Pretty Prizes to Start November 22nd

Judging from the success of last year's trial, the Rexall doll contest sponsored by the Central Drug store should prove popular again this year. In an ady, on another page in this issue, it will be noted that nomination of candidates is now open, and that voting starts November 22nd.

Little Things

It is little things that make us happy. Most men want to do something big in business and are holding their happiness in reserve, to burst like a sky rocket when they accomplish the big thing they are after.

Therefore, happiness is not as common as worry, the smile not as frequent as the frown.

The complete service that the Charlevoix State Bank gives you is made up of many little things.

A new idea in Christmas gifts and at a very low cost

Extension telephones offer a new idea in Christmas presents. Providing increased comfort and convenience, they make a most welcome gift.

In the living room... bedroom... den... kitchen... wherever convenience and ease are desirable, there extension telephones will prove doubly useful. Extension telephones eliminate running from one part of the house to another, enabling you to place or answer calls readily without interrupting your work or leisure.

Extension telephones cost less than 3 cents a day. To place an order, or for information, call or visit any Telephone Company Business Office. Installation will be made promptly at any time you specify.

"The recipe for perpetual ignorance is to be satisfied with your opinions and content with your knowledge."—Albert Hubbard.

Le Petit Journal

"Le Petit Journal," a paper for French students, has arrived and has caused much interest among the pupils of the French II class, by whom it will be read. This paper contains condensed articles from various French newspapers. The subjects are those which would interest anyone—current events, literature, art, short stories, plays and jokes. An illustrated supplement is included sometimes dealing with subjects of universal interest. The first supplement this year deals with the French restaurant. Questions and suggestions for study are included and the French is in such a form that the advanced class can read it easily. A great deal of enjoyment and practical knowledge is to be expected from the reading of this paper.

English Department

On a hill overlooking the city of Granada stands a monument of Moorish art. For nearly six centuries the ancient fortress has stood there, the impassive witness of the progress of a nation from barbarism to civilization. It is called the Alhambra, or Red Castle.

From the city it forms a fascinating picture with a background of blue-gray hills and a cloudless sky. It makes the old stories of Moorish art, of which we have been suspicious before, appear real to us now and we marvel that mere human creatures should have fashioned it. But as we draw nearer the next vision is not one to awaken enthusiasm.

Surrounding the old palace is a massive wall flanked by many crumbling towers, all devoid of beauty. They are guarding these few unattractive yet celebrated structures and the one huge square mass of masonry, the alcazar, royal palace of men who lived during the fourteenth century. This consists of two long courts, one, the court of Myrtles, and the other, the Court of Lions. In the exact center of the latter is a white marble fountain supported by 12 lions. It is surrounded by an arcade with small pavilions at each end, consisting of many tall old columns which support arches of the most exquisite workmanship. In the old palace are many ancient wonders. Foremost among them is the Hall of Ambassadors, the throne of Ferdinand and the place where Isabella stood when she offered to pledge her jewels to Columbus. The ornamentation of the hall is rich and varied. The whole castle is surreal. It is as if we have turned back 500 years and are among things so remote from our land of every-day men and places that we are loth to leave them.

Charles Levinson 16, Jack Withers 16, Ernestine Nickerson 15, George Bollinger 14, Jean Graves 11, Gloria Dickie 11, Wilma Kirby 11, Edwin Heise 13, William Hansen 13, Adeline Bellinger 13, Rosemary Swanson 13, Ernestine Chew 13, Iva Howe 12, Esther O'Neil 12, Herman Meyers 12, Helena Bogart 12, Robert Heise 12, Rose Dodd 12.

Seventh Grade Party

On the evening of October 27th the seventh grade gave a masquerade party in the gymnasium. The costumes of Adeline Bellinger, as a pirate, and Robert Livingston, as a little girl, were among the most unique. There were many others which should also receive mention. The party was a great success and everyone had an enjoyable time.

One of the fifth graders brought seven tiny goldfish to school for the grade. The fish were placed in an aquarium in which sea weed was planted. The fish are not gold, as one would expect, but gray. The children are anxiously watching for the gold to appear on the fish.

Charlevoix Wins First Debate of the Season

The debate last Thursday evening on the question of chain stores proved a great success to Charlevoix, who won the victory over the Boyne City opponents by a unanimous vote.

The judges who decided the debate in Charlevoix's favor were Mr. Musser of Manistota, Mr. Johnson of Harbor Springs, and Supt. Eikey of Albia.

Preceding the debate was music furnished by the high school band followed by cheers for the debaters. Mr. Otterbein, as chairman, stated the question for debate and announced each speaker in turn.

The negative team was represented by Boyne City students and the affirmative by Charlevoix.

After the debate the judges, coaches, chairman, and debaters were served a delicious lunch prepared by the home economics class, under the supervision of Miss Button.

Word has been received from league headquarters that the next debate will take place November 21st at the Charlevoix gymnasium, with Onaway as our opponents.

Charlevoix again will take the affirmative side of the question. The affirmative debaters who will represent Charlevoix are Daisy Dutcher, Dorothy Staley, and Charles Cellner.

They are working very diligently to improve their case and presentation in order to meet the strong team which represents Onaway.

There are about 300 schools in the debate league this year. The debaters must win three debates and (Continued on page 8.)

GLOWING HEALTH BROUGHT QUICKLY BY NEW KONJOLA

This Master Medicine Triumphs Where Other Medicines and Treatments Fail

MISS MYRA WHITE

"I suppose that it was through neglect of my health that I got into such a dreadful condition," said Miss Myra White, 2132 Sixth street, Detroit, Michigan. "It was practically impossible for me to get a complete night's rest because I would roll and toss for hours before going to sleep and then I was constantly being disturbed. My appetite failed and I really had to force myself to eat anything and then food failed to nourish me properly."

"But all that is ended now, and I owe everything to this new Konjola. It had reacted on my inner system just like some wonderful stimulant. By the time I had completed the first treatment, I was ready to give up taking medicines. Not one of my former symptoms have returned since completing this treatment. I will always endorse and recommend Konjola to others."

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix, Mich., at F. J. Fessenden's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

MICHIGAN STATE COLLEGE WEEKLY BULLETIN

Chicago Trip Given State Club Members

Nearly 50 Michigan boys and girls will be rewarded for long hours spent caring for crops, tending livestock, earning fruits, or making clothing, by a trip to the National Boys' and Girls' Club Congress, Chicago, November 29 to December 5, was the announcement of the Michigan State college club department.

Some of the club members who will make the trip were winners in contests held at the state fair, part of them won in national contests conducted for club members by companies interested in club work, and the rest are sent by local agencies in their home counties.

Winners in state contests will compete at Chicago with the thousands of other club members who will represent most of the states in the Union. One Michigan girl is taking an exhibit of canned fruit to Chicago and one boy will show a pen of fat lambs. Michigan's boy and girl health champions will compete for national honors.

Members of the staff of state club leaders will accompany the youngsters and will supervise the sight-seeing trips which have been arranged for them.

Alfalfa Produces More Tons of Hay

Adverse weather conditions served as a gauge for the measurement of the superiority of alfalfa as a hay crop in Michigan, according to the farm crops department of Michigan State college, who point to the state crop report which shows alfalfa yielding an average of 1.8 tons of hay per acre while other hay averaged 1.01 tons per acre.

Michigan farmers cut 598,000 acres of alfalfa this year and harvested 1,075,000 tons of hay. The use of alfalfa instead of clover or timothy as a hay crop placed over 425,000 extra tons of hay in Michigan hay mows this year. This extra tonnage is all the more important this year when there is both a local and national shortage of forage crops.

Another superiority of alfalfa is evidenced by the high percentage of new seedlings which survived the drought while ordinary clover seedlings died. Many farmers who reported their alfalfa seedlings killed have found that the fall rains revived the seedlings until they promise to make a fair yield of hay next year.

A Visitor from the North

This iceberg has strayed down from the Arctic and is grounded near shore on the northern coast of this continent. Icebergs extend several times as far below water as above, and offer a new test to telephone engineers' ingenuity, since in planning for the new transatlantic cable the landward approaches must be located to avoid the likelihood of interference by icebergs.

AUTO NEWS

Prices on the new Chevrolet line for 1931, as announced by President W. S. Knudsen, range from $475 to $650, as against $495 to $685 for the 1930 car.

Price reductions range from $20 to as much as $40. A comparison of old and new prices follows:

Model	Old Price	New Price	Change
Roadster	$495	$475	$20
Sport Roadster	515	495	20
Standard Coupe	565	535	30
5-window Coupe	545
(new model)
Sport Coupe	615	575	40
Coach	565	545	20
Standard Sedan	675	635	40
Special Sedan	685	650	35

In addition to the price changes in the passenger car line, Mr. Knudsen also announced reductions in the Chevrolet commercial car line. The commercial chassis has been reduced $10 to a new price of $355, and the Sedan Delivery $20 to a new price of $375.

Definite assurance that Chevrolet will introduce a new car for 1931 on Saturday was revealed last week during the staging by Chevrolet factory officials of the first of 50 dealer meetings to be held in the next five weeks throughout the country.

Although the meeting was closed to the public, it was learned that H. J. Klingler, vice-president and general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor Co., who attend the meeting in Cleveland, told the 500 dealers and associated bankers in attendance that the car would be publicly announced the coming Saturday, and that, despite its increased size and improved appearance, it would be priced considerably below current levels.

Dramatic incidents attended the presentation of the car. It was trucked under canvas from the freight shed to the stage of the auditorium, and there, boxed in by velvet drops and under a flood of spotlights, disclosed to the audience.

A burst of applause greeted the unveiling of the car, and when the announcement of new lower prices was made, a wild cheering dealer group interrupted proceedings for several minutes.

The car is longer than the present Chevrolet, and changes and refinements are so extensive that it has a decided "big car" appearance, one dealer reported.

If the sentiment among the dealers in Cleveland is any criterion, the new car ought to prove the most successful product in the history of the company.

SMALL TOWN VS. BIG CITY

From New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, and other large cities comes word of anti-noise campaigns, whose objective is the toning down of some of the noises that observers in these centers of population claim are ruining the health and the nerve of city residents. Clanging street cars, thundering elevated trains, steel riveters, and loud speaking devices are listed by the anti-noise campaigners as chief among the offenders against the cause of reasonable peace and quiet.

These campaigns re-open an old argument in the respective merits of life in small and big cities. One point in this argument is certain, and it is that the small town does not drain energy and vitality as does the big city with its merciless rush and roar.

Nervous disorders of one description or another, according to the Michigan Tuberculosis association, are becoming increasingly prominent as causes of serious illness. Without a doubt the reason for the increase is to be looked for in the larger cities where circumstances favorable to development of nervous ailments are present in greatest number.

In respect to healthful living conditions, there can be little question that the small and medium sized towns are far and away in the lead over the noise-ridden cities. And it will indeed take a stupendous amount of campaigning on the part of the cities, against noise as well as smoke, dirt, and other by-products of the typical modern metropolis, to overcome their handicap.

Petoskey-Charlevoix Game

Those who witnessed the game at Petoskey last Saturday have a right to be proud of our boys for the way they held the strong Petoskey team. Petoskey has been playing remarkably well this year, having beaten Big Rapids and tied Manistee.

The score at the end of the half was, Petoskey 13, and Charlevoix 0. At the end of the game it was 21 for Petoskey and 0 for Charlevoix. However, even if we were beaten, our boys fought hard and held the stronger team well. Due to the absence of Arvilla, perhaps in the first quarter, Petoskey was able to score early in the game. In spite of the handicaps that our team has had this year we are proud of the fine spirit that our boys have shown in their playing.

Pep Meeting

One of the peppiest and most interesting pep meetings of the year was held last Friday morning.

Speeches were made by the players, as well as by the faculty members.

There were several new features on the program. Charles Novotny played two college songs on the accordion, which were rousing and filled with the spirit of the school.

Pat Moran and Bob Foster entertained with a tap dancing negro doll, which was very amusing.

Altogether, the mass meeting was a great success, and though the football season is over, Charlevoix high school is looking forward to the basketball season with great enthusiasm.

Music

A music memory contest is being carried on in the grades under the direction of Mrs. McKee. The following numbers have been studied:

"Italian Caprice," by Tchaikowsky.

"William Tell Overture," by Rossini.

At present they are studying the "Peer Gynt Suite," by Grieg.

The purpose of this contest is to acquaint the pupils with some of the famous pieces and their composers and to train the ear for real music. The junior high will contest with the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades and prizes will be awarded the winners.

The grades in music are continuing the study of sight reading, tonal and rhythmic problems and are learning new art songs.

While musical education of this kind, including the care of children's voices, is fundamental, it is very important to bring children into contact with a higher type of music than they can produce themselves. Very little could be done last year to present this important phase of school music, as the music department had no victrola and few records.

This year a fine new combination victrola and radio has been added to the equipment of the music department, also new records bought. In addition to the "listening lessons" thus provided for the children, the concerts broadcast for school study can be taken in. Also a course in music appreciation is being presented to the junior high school. This course is made up of a brief history of music, study of composers, compositions, artists, the emphasis being placed on study of compositions.

The music department is most appreciative of this fine instrument and the possibilities it affords.

Speedy Relief for Sore Throat

This Doctor's Prescription Requires No Gargling

No longer is it necessary to gargle and choke with nasty tasting medicines to relieve sore throat. Now you can get almost instant relief with one swallow of a doctor's famous prescription. This prescription was refined so often that the druggist who originally filled it decided to put it up under the name "Thoxine" and make it available to everyone.

The remarkable thing about Thoxine is that it relieves almost instantly, yet contains nothing harmful. It is pleasant tasting, and safe for the whole family, and is guaranteed to relieve sore throat or coughs in 15 minutes or money back. Put up ready for use in 35c, 60c, and $1.00 bottles. Sold by Central Drug Store and by all other good drug stores.

SCHOOL DISTRICT TO FURNISH TRANSPORT

Busses to Operate North and South Outside One-Mile Zone

Forty-one voters were present Monday evening at a special meeting of the school district called to vote on the question of transporting pupils living at a distance from the school. The proposition carried by one vote.

According to the data prepared by the board of education, about 25 pupils at the south end of the district and an equal number at the north end who live outside a one-mile zone from the school, will be transported for four months or more, depending on weather conditions.

The north side bus will make two stops, one at the corner of Petoskey avenue and Division street, and the other at Durance's corner, or at the west end of Division street, depending on condition of the roads.

The south side bus will make four stops—at the Four Corners, Stover road at cemetery, corner Stover road and May street, and corner Stover road and Ferry avenue.

LOCAL DEALER BUILDS LARGER ICE STORAGE

Plan Largest Harvest on Record for Coming Winter

Work which has been in progress for several weeks has been completed on a new ice house for the Charlevoix Coal & Ice company.

The former storage place on Lake Charlevoix has been dismantled, and new quarters have been provided in the old beet sugar factory. A large space has been cleared inside the west foundation. The new bin will have a capacity of around 10,000 tons, double that of the old plant.

Extended and usually warm weather the past summer created a most unusual demand for ice and the intense heat resulted in enormous loss to all local ice dealers. The supply here, as well as in neighboring cities ran out early in the fall. Boyne City has been shipping from Alpena and Petoskey has been trucking ice for some time from Traverse City.

Messrs. Heise and Yettaw, proprietors of the Charlevoix Coal & Ice company, plan the largest harvest on record the coming winter.

Australia's native trees are practically all hardwoods, whereas Canada supplies chiefly softwoods.

CHARLEVOIX TO BE HEADQUARTERS

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT WILL MAINTAIN OFFICES HERE

Plan Provides for Full-Time Doctor, Dentist, Sanitary Inspector and Three Nurses

Much local interest has been aroused by the news that Charlevoix county was to be a participant in the benefits of a state-wide plan for promoting the welfare of the children of Michigan, sponsored by an organization created by United States Senator James Couzens of Detroit, and to be supported from a unit-fund donated by Senator Couzens for the purpose.

On Thursday of last week, at Bellaire, these plans were brought to a focus in a meeting of the district board of health which is composed of three delegates from each of four adjoining counties, Charlevoix, Emmet, Antrim and Osego. This meeting was held mainly for the purpose of determining by vote of the delegates the place to be designated as the headquarters of the local unit of the Children's Fund of Michigan, Child Health Division, whose general headquarters for the state are located at No. 51 West Warren avenue, Detroit. Six ballots were cast and, on the sixth, the city of Charlevoix received a majority of the votes and was selected as headquarters for the four-county group unit of the fund organization, partly due to its more central position in the territory to be covered by the activities of the unit, but more especially to the efforts of H. A. Craig of this city, co-delegate from Charlevoix county with William J. Pearson of Boyne Falls and W. F. Binslow of East Jordan. The delegates, of course, strongly urged the claims of their respective committees to be considered in the selection of a site for the headquarters offices and Mr. Craig is to be congratulated on having so ably presented his arguments for Charlevoix as to swing the majority of the delegates to our support. Chester Gibson of Petoskey, who, it will be remembered, spoke at Charlevoix last May on the chain-store question, was elected chairman of the health board and H. A. Craig treasurer. Dr. Carleton Dean, a physician of Eaton Rapids, Michigan, was elected health officer of the group unit.

Briefly, the plan in carrying out the aims of the new organization is as follows. The ten million dollar fund provided by Senator Couzens and the accumulated interest is to be spent within the period of the next 25 years, the broad intention being to promote and increase the health, happiness, welfare and development of children in Michigan, primarily; only a small part of this fund being devoted to projects outside of the state. In order to do this in Michigan, such portions of the state as are particularly in need of the ministrations of the health workers employed by the fund and have but limited means to provide a health service of their own will be divided by the officials of the fund into groups of counties, the number of counties in each group depending largely on their size and needs. In each of these groups a district health unit is to be

SHOOTING A BUCK IS AN EASY TRICK AVERS THESE BOYS

"Huh, no trouble to get a buck 'tail," says Ray Shearer. "Gosh, got mine in an hour after hitting the brush. And Otto Kneke had little trouble connecting with his buck the same morning. He was with me just north and west of the red bridge on the Manistee river. Otto got his about nine o'clock. I went him to it about an hour."

Louie O'Neill of the postoffice force, backs up the statements of both Shearer and Kane. Louie left Charlevoix late Saturday night to hunt near Hendrick's Quarry. He stopped at the house where he had been before, found the party away, unimpaired his gun, walked down an old railroad grade, and nailed his buck before he had finished his pipe just lighted. He came back home and arrived here late Sunday night.

"Just nothin' to it," says Louie. Otto and Ray. Sure, we agree with them. There's nothing to it if you just happen to be in the right place. The writer pulled this same stunt several years ago and didn't connect with a buck for several years afterwards.

established. The work has already begun in isolated districts of the upper peninsula where a physician or a nurse is already on duty, although the division into county group units has not as yet been effected, and in portions of the city of Detroit where such services are urgently needed. It is probable, however, in view of the fact that many of the southern counties of Michigan have their own health service units that most of the fund's resources will be concentrated on that part of the lower peninsula, lying north of Cadillac, and the upper peninsula.

The organization of the local group unit which is to have its headquarters in this city and will be known as district health unit No. 3 will consist of a full-time physician (who, in this case, will be Dr. Dean), a full-time dentist, a full-time sanitary inspector and three nurses, all of which expense, with the exception of the actual maintenance of the group headquarters office, is to be paid from the moneys available by virtue of the Couzens gift. It is intended to spend approximately $23,000.00 a year in the four counties of this group previously named. The various officers of the unit, with the exception of the health officer, will be elected by the delegates.

KING WINTER IS TO BE RESISTED

COUNTY ROAD COMMISSIONERS
MARSHALING SNOW DEFENCES

Additional Snow Fence and a Heavy-Duty Truck and Plow Have Been Pressed Into Service

Snow removal is now the subject uppermost in the minds of the Charlevoix county road officials and extensive preparations are being made to show an unyielding front to old King Winter's battalions during the season of 1930-31.

The county has ordered approximately 18,000 feet of new fence, which will be put in place immediately on its arrival, a large number of stakes having already been driven in advance. Three thousand feet of the new fence arrived last Thursday morning and was in place by evening of that day. Practically all of the fence on hand from last year was erected last week.

The mechanical department will be strengthened by the addition of a brand new FWD four-wheel-drive truck, with snow plow attached. The matter of size has not as yet been decided, but the truck will probably be either a 3½ or 4 ton model and possibly larger.

State trunk lines will be kept open this year, as in the past. In addition to the highways kept open in this district last year, the state road men will have the former Charlevoix-East Jordan road by the way of Ironton on their hands, as it has now become Michigan trunk line No. 66.

After the trunk lines are plowed out, the county roads to receive attention have been grouped by the county road officials and will be taken care of, as far as possible, in the order of their importance.

First will come the Boyne City-Charlevoix, Deer Lake, Peninsula, Advance, Ellsworth, Bellaire and Ferry roads. Following these, the next local roads to be plowed are the East Jordan-Boyne City, Wildwood (Continued on page 8.)

G. RUSSELL PARKER ACCEPTS PASTORATE

Will Assume His Duties About the First of the Year

Rev. G. Russell Parker of Watervliet, Mich., has accepted the joint call of the Charlevoix and Ironton Congregational churches and expects to assume the pastorate about January 1.

Mr. Parker was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Sloan for several days last week. He preached in both churches which he will serve, also at a union Armistice service, and made the acquaintance of a large number of local people.

Mr. Parker has had successful pastorates in Osego, Grand Rapids (Willin) and Watervliet since coming to this state from Iowa in 1916, and the people of the Charlevoix and Ironton churches are happy to secure him as their pastor.

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY BANK STRENGTHENS FINANCIAL POSITION

FIVE WELL KNOWN AND RESPONSIBLE LOCAL BUSINESS MEN JOIN PIONEER INSTITUTION

New Associates are L. S. See, Capt. John Roen, J. M. Foster, E. J. Hiller, M. A. Levinson—Board of Directors to be Elected at Early Date

A transaction of some magnitude and of interest to all Charlevoix people was consummated on November 15th, when five of Charlevoix's most responsible business men joined the banking firm of the Charlevoix County bank.

This bank, the oldest bank in Charlevoix county, established in 1884, has been owned and controlled by the Bridge family for the past 15 years. During this time the bank has grown to such proportions that it seemed advisable to interest other capital and the firm has been enlarged to include the following men: L. S. See, Meyer A. Levinson, Joseph M. Foster, Ernest J. Hiller and Captain John J. Roen.

L. S. SEE

For many years Mr. See has been connected with business interests in Charlevoix and is now the sole owner of northern Michigan's largest furniture store. He is thoroughly familiar with local conditions and as a member of the banking firm, will add materially to the strength and stability of the institution.

MEYER A. LEVINSON

Mr. Levinson has been in business in Charlevoix for 20 years, is highly

JOSEPH M. FOSTER

J. M. Foster has been associated with the Northern Auto company, Ford distributors, for the past 12 years, the last ten of which he has been manager of the Charlevoix branch of that firm. Mr. Foster is very familiar with conditions in this section; has a host of friends and will be a valuable addition to the banking firm.

ERNEST J. HILLER

E. J. Hiller, secretary, treasurer and manager of the Charlevoix Lumber company and one of the largest individual stockholders of that firm, is considered reliable, enterprising, and has been exceptionally successful with his company. He is known as a safe, conservative business man and as such will be an asset to the bank.

SNEAK THIEVES ENTER NORTHERN AUTO CO.

Make Entrance Through East Window of Work Room

Sneak thieves and night prowlers are at work again in Charlevoix and it will be well for everyone to give the fastenings to their garages and domiciles the once over and make sure everything is securely fastened at nightfall from now on.

Prowlers intent on picking up some loose change entered the Northern Auto company garage late Friday night or early Saturday morning and made away with $16.24 left in the cash drawer over night.

They made their entrance through the east windows of the work room, from there to the main garage, and either picked the lock or forced the door leading into the office from the west.

Other than the cash taken from the drawer, nothing was turned up missing. Certain young fellows in trouble with the law previously are being carefully watched, and if apprehended, will probably take a long stretch of close confinement where the chances for light-fingered work will be remote.

TROUT SPAWN ARE SHORT THIS YEAR

HATCHERY RECEIPTS SHOW A TEN MILLION EGG DROP

Whitefish Holding Up in Good Shape
But Present Conditions Would Indicate Fewer Trout

Coincident with the general economic depression, comes the news from the local fish hatchery to the effect that there is a shortage of trout spawn this season. Whether this indicates that the fish are also feeling the pinch of hard times and refusing to raise large families, or not, we cannot state with accuracy, but it looks very suspicious.

Supt. Hoofnagle, when interviewed last Thursday, said that the present season appears to be a peculiar one and that the run of trout is evident, but going to be light. Last year, at this date, the hatchery had taken in upwards of 27,000,000 lake trout eggs. With last Thursday's receipts, the total for 1930 collection was only about 17,000,000 spawn. The superintendent expressed the hope that when the moon had reduced its light, the take in would be better, but that if it did not pick up within the following four or five days he would not look for a normal number of spawn this year. Conflicting stories were coming in last week from the fishermen as to whether or not the trout had finished spawning and it was hard to estimate just what the prospects were. Outside stations are loading in more eggs than the Charlevoix and Beaver Island fishermen are collecting. Only 6,000,000 trout spawn were sent in by the latter up to last Thursday night. Last year, at this date, Charlevoix's take amounted to about 12,684,000 eggs and Beaver Island, 14,730,000. The hatchery ran up until the 24th of November last year and the total take-in of trout spawn for the season was 40,218,000 eggs.

The whitefish spawn seem to be holding their own. There were 40,000,000 whitefish eggs in the hatchery on Thursday and nine more cases coming in that afternoon brought the (Continued on page 5.)

LOCAL CHARLEVOIX GIRL IS MARRIED

Wedding Took Place at South Bend,
Ind., November 11th

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hendrickson of 310 Mason street, this city, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Isabel, to Arthur Cook of Coopersville, Michigan, the marriage taking place in South Bend, Ind., on Tuesday, November 11.

The bride is a graduate from Charlevoix high school, later completing a business course at the Davenport-McLaughlin Institute at Grand Rapids, and was popular among the younger set of this city. The groom is an employee of the Standard Oil company, Grand Rapids. The young people will make their future home in Grand Rapids.

The Courier as well as their many Charlevoix friends join in extending congratulations.

Will exchange gasoline lamp, nearly new, for anything useful, bolt size bed and springs preferred. R. Farmer, Rt. 4, Charlevoix. 4711 pd.

RESORT SPEED- CRAFT STOLEN

THIEVES TAKE "SALLY GEE" OUT OF PADLOCKED SLIP

Is Thought to be Work of a Gang of Professional Detroit Yeggs Who Needed Boat for Rum Fleet

The "Sally Gee," Hacker-built speed boat belonging to Julius Gilbert of Detroit, who resorts here during the summer months, has been stolen from its slip on Round lake. It is not known when the theft occurred, nor what route the thieves followed in getting away with their prize.

On Mr. Gilbert's return to Detroit at the close of the summer season, the boat was entrusted to Hamilton & Son to be laid up for the winter. The Gilbert boat house is just back of the John Roen residence on Belvedere avenue and the boat was locked up in it on September 20th. During the first had windstorm after that date, Ray Hamilton went over to see if the boat was all right and found nothing wrong. The boat house was not visited again until Armistice day, when Ray and his brother, Reno, went to an adjoining slip to lay up another craft. Having occasion to enter the Gilbert boat house for something, Reno Hamilton discovered the "Sally Gee" missing and reported the loss to his brother, who, at first, was inclined to think that Reno had been "seeing things," so hard was it to realize that so large a craft could have been taken out bodily and spirited away without anyone being the wiser. But the fact remained and it could only be a matter of conjecture as to when it might have happened.

A number of theories have been advanced to explain the mystery, one of the more plausible being that the job was that of a Detroit gang who have been stealing power boats in that city, recently, for use in the rum-running fleet. This view of the matter is supported by the opinion of the engineer representing the insurance underwriters who issued the policy on the "Sally Gee." He inspected the boat house last week and said the theft had all the earmarks of a professional job such as this gang had been known to execute. It is also thought that some local person or persons must have been mixed up in the deal, as the thieves were evidently well-posted as to conditions and went direct to the right boat house, as the locks on the doors of the adjacent slips had not been tampered with. The "Happy Days," a Hackercraft of identically the same type as Gilbert's boat, belonging to John Knight of Kalamazoo, was not molested. The door of the nearby slip in which she was moored had been left wide open by Mr. Hamilton, who was working on her, and it is thought that this fact saved Mr. Knight's craft from sharing the same fate as Mr. Gilbert's, as her absence (Continued on page 7.)

STORK TRIES TO STEAL A RIDE ON P. M. TRAIN

As the train pulled into Central Lake Wednesday morning, a nervous conductor hopped off and asked if there was a doctor in town. The doctor, in fact, was mailing some letters that very minute. The conductor implored him to go aboard and see a lady who so far was traveling alone. After hasty and confidential conversation as to the probabilities of reaching Traverse without a little passenger boarding the train between stations, the lady decided to stop off and make Mrs. Hughes' maternity home a few days' visit. About two hours later Dorothy Jane, seven and one-quarter pounds, asked Mrs. Hodge if she might stay there too, even though every stitch of her clothes had gone on by parcel post to Traverse. Mrs. Hodge, of course, came to the rescue with temporary coverings, so that both mother and babe seem to think Central Lake a real nice town, even if they never had heard of it before.

Dorothy Jane says her mama's name is Mrs. Fred Brdsey, of Traverse City, and that her papa is a barber on Union street. They were on their way home from grandma's, Mrs. Mary Welch, of Superior, Wis.—Central Lake Torch.

Preparing for the Big Offensive

NORWOOD

Joseph Parsons of Ellsworth spent the week-end with his cousin, Chas. Greeley.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore and family of Ironton, are moving on the J. B. Kirby farm.

Mrs. Frank Richardson visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adamson at Bellaire last week.

Mrs. Rollie Baumbach and her three daughters were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Ward of Ironton.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Newland and two daughters of Detroit, were overnight guests Friday at the E. R. Jones home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Powers and Mr. and Mrs. Colon McKenzie of Charlevoix, were callers at the Merrill Richardson home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dye of Traverse City were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richardson from Thursday until Saturday last week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Genett and two daughters, who are visiting Anthon Holecbeck on U. S. 31, called on Mr. and Mrs. Charles Greeley Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George Light and Floyd Wagner answered the "call of the wild" and started for the upper peninsula last Thursday on a deer hunting expedition.

Mrs. Clifford Genett delightfully entertained the Epworth L. A. S. last Wednesday afternoon at her farm home. After the regular meeting Mrs. Genett served refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Hallett and two sons of St. Joe, Mich., arrived in Charlevoix Saturday evening. They will visit friends and relatives both in Charlevoix and Norwood for about ten days.

A church Sunday school has been recently organized at the M. E. church in Norwood, with Mr. Ypma as superintendent. Mr. Morse of Central Lake will also be a helper at the work, which will add much to its progress.

BARNARD

Beautiful fall weather. Mrs. Clyde Dinick is visiting relatives in Pittsburg, Pa., also in West Virginia.

Albert Beattie had the misfortune to cut off a finger while buzzing wood on Saturday.

Don't miss the chicken pie supper next Monday night at the church. On Sunday there will be special services for the harvest festival.

A good crowd of ladies enjoyed the club meeting at the hall on Thursday. They meet again this week with a lesson on "The Use of Time."

The young folks had a very enjoyable time at the party on Friday night. A fine pot-luck lunch was served and the evening was spent in playing games.

Glenn Cummings, Jesse Gregory, Earl and Lon Shapton, Orville Hilton, Will Ager, John Clarke and Geo. Willis are among the hunters after the wily buck this year.

William VerMullen and his son-in-law, Vernon Kohler, of Detroit, spent the week-end with Mr. VerMullen's daughter, Mrs. Frank Smith. While here Mr. VerMullen bought Michael Garber's farm, and will occupy it at some future time.

Gordon Dawson is hunting deer in the upper peninsula.

The gravel has been put on M-88 from Snowflake or Orcutt hill north of Bellaire.

M. E. church Sunday school had 32 in attendance last Sunday. Ellsworth and Barnard each had 45.

Smith's garage is nearly denuded. Harry Smith, Henry Doughty, and Albert Byers all have gone hunting. Mrs. Harry Smith is in charge.

Rev. A. C. Kendall of the local M. E. church, organized a Sunday school at Norwood last Friday evening, with 26 members. They meet every Friday evening at 7:30.

Mrs. William Alberts was called to Manton last Friday to attend the funeral of her nephew, Jack Wilson, 11½ years old, who lives south-east of town, was unable to go.

Mr. and Mrs. Nat Walton, Loren Walton, and Mrs. Celia Trumpour and daughters, LaVera and Violet, have moved to 304 Third street, East Jordan. Loren Walton expects to get work at Porter's camp.

E. J. Johnson and wife and Emory Bence and wife of Torch Lake, attended.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the Central Drug Store, the Rexall store.

tended M. E. church services here last Sunday evening. The Young People's choir composed of 25 voices, did the choir singing. Miss Vivian Kendall is the organist.

The girls' basket ball team won over Boyne City last Friday evening. The Boyne City boys defeated our team in the boys' game. The eighth grade girls are practicing basket ball also. Norine and Irene Brown, lately of Lansing, are taking part in the game.

Rev. Kendall conducted a funeral for Jack Taylor, son of Forest Taylor, at Ellsworth, last Friday. A men's choir, Rev. Kendall, C. N. Snyder, J. W. Morse, of Central Lake, did the singing. H. L. Dawson was able to take charge of the funeral, the first he has been able to be out in about a year.

BAY SHORE

Hay balers are the order of the day at present.

Mrs. Lewis Price is reported very low at the Petoskey hospital.

Hiram Starnor, who has been very ill, is reported some better.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Tillotson called on Hiram Starnor Sunday evening. Mrs. Russell Duffey of Charlevoix, spent Tuesday at the home of Miss McCalmon.

Mrs. Harold Tillotson and children of Petoskey, visited Sunday at the home of Mrs. Zipp.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Mann moved into the house with his mother, Mrs. Burch, for the winter.

Miss McCalmon, with Miss Dorothy Arthella and Edna Zipp, attended the Baptist church at Petoskey Sunday evening.

The Ladies' Aid met at Mrs. Bessie Zipp's home Wednesday for an all day meeting and pot-luck dinner. There were 14 present and a good amount of sewing was done for Mrs. Zipp. All enjoyed the day very much.

The Bay Shore Sunday school visited the Burgess Sunday school November 16th. There were 128 in attendance. Rev. E. P. Linnell of Petoskey, filling the pulpit. It was a real get-together meeting. May there be more of them.

ATWOOD

No smiling in this vicinity, with butterfat at 31 cents.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Empey and Aaron Harwood, took a drive to the Soo one day last week.

Mr. O'Dell of Central Lake, was here one day last week buying beef cattle.

Jay Adams of Charlevoix, and a Mr. Smith were business callers one day last week.

A creamery meeting was held on Monday evening last at the town hall to consider the advisability of a co-operative creamery.

Joseph Rogers, formerly of this place, but of late years residing in Battle Creek, died last week. He had several relatives in this vicinity.

Robert Rogers of Alberta, Canada, is visiting his relatives and many of his old associates of 30 years ago. Mr. Rogers attended his brother, Joseph's funeral, on his way here. Come again "Bob."

Another farm deal was closed one day last week, when Ernest Brow purchased the C. D. Price farm, better known as the John Klamp farm. Mr. Brow will take possession at once.

ROCK ELM

The surveyors have been at work on the Metz road of late.

Everyone is enjoying this delightful weather. So far this has been the most sunny November for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Whitfield are now enjoying the comforts of their new house, which is equipped with all modern conveniences, including bath room, running water and electric lights.

Query: Why, if it would be better for the more wealthy counties to hold an election only once in two years, would it not be just as good economy for the poorer counties? Would not the taxpayers be saved a little if all the township and county officers, as well as all state officers, were elected at the regular state election every even year? Will someone throw a little light on this subject.

CLARION

J. H. Margerum of Walloon Lake, was confined to his bed for several days with a badly strained back.

Rev. W. C. Palmer of Charlevoix, preached at the M. E. church here.

Miss Nash, the pastor, being away. Frank Ecker had the misfortune to have his hand very badly cut on a piece of glass Saturday. Several stitches were necessary to close the wound.

A large crowd of friends and pupils gathered at the town hall Friday evening, to welcome our teachers, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Voster. The children gave a delightful program, following which a pot-luck supper was served. A penny collection had been taken among the school children, with which a very pretty portrait plant was presented to the teachers.

PRESENTING THE NEW CHEVROLET SIX

Today the Chevrolet Motor Company presents

the Bigger and Better Chevrolet Six, a new model of the six-cylinder car which has enjoyed such wide popularity. In the chassis and body of this new six-cylinder Chevrolet you will find expressed, as never before, Chevrolet's well-known policy of progress through constant improvement.

For—without departing from the basic features which have won the enthusiastic approval of over 2,000,000 buyers—Chevrolet has set an entirely new standard of quality and value in the low-price field.

Your first impression of the new Chevrolet will be one of striking fleetness, grace and beauty. The car is longer, lower and modernly smart. The radiator has been deepened. The long hood lines sweep back to blend gracefully into the new Fisher bodies. And never was Fisher's fine craftsmanship more evident than in the bodies of the new Chevrolet Six!

Not only are the bodies roomier and more comfortable, but as you study them you will discover many gratifying new features and refinements.

Mechanically, too, the new Chevrolet Six is a better automobile. The wheelbase is longer. The frame is stronger. The steering is easier. The clutch is more durable. There is a smoother, quieter, easier shifting transmission. In fact, wherever finer materials and more advanced design could add to Chevrolet quality or increase Chevrolet's traditional economy of ownership—improvement has been made. See the new Chevrolet Six—for here is the Great American Value!

» » AT NEW LOW PRICES « «

Chevrolet has long been one of the lowest priced cars in the world. Yet due to the savings of volume production and increased manufacturing efficiency, the Bigger and Better Chevrolet is offered at new low prices. Come in today. See and drive the new Chevrolet Six. Learn the new economy of owning a modern, fine quality, six-cylinder automobile.

THE LAW OF RE-BIRTH

If you ask a business man, anywhere in this country, what he considers to be the key institution or central point around which the wheel of business revolves in his community, the chances are ten to one that he will answer, "the bank." By long experience he knows that good banking means good business and that the necessity for brains, judgment and integrity in the banking officials of his town is only paralleled by the need for those qualities in the public servants to whom is entrusted its local government.

The importance of good banking facilities and the maxim that the men who compose their management should be equipped with a thorough knowledge of business and community affairs is becoming more keenly appreciated, year by year. It is, therefore, in this conviction, that we view with great satisfaction the account, which appears elsewhere in this issue, of the infusion of new financial and administrative blood into one of the oldest and most substantial banking institutions of the region and which has long had its honored place in our community.

Business concerns, like the men who control them, occasionally need to re-organize themselves and take a new grip on affairs with renewed courage and strength. This seems to be one of the great natural laws of growth which forestalls the tendency to show down in effort and gradually fall into stagnation that besets the individual or group that is content with things as they are. We believe, therefore, that the recent re-organization of the Charlevoix County bank promises much for the future stability and progress of our city's commercial existence.

The M. E. Sewing club will hold its annual bazaar Saturday, December 13, at the Charlevoix Hardware Co.—Adv. 4712.

SUBJECT OF DAY "MODERN ARTISTS"

CHARLES DICKENS CLUB MET WITH MRS. RICHARDSON

Mrs. Maude Miller Hoffmaster, Renowned Michigan Landscape Artist, Guest of Honor

The Charles Dickens club met last Monday for their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. W. S. Richardson. They had for their guest of honor, Mrs. Maude Miller Hoffmaster, renowned Michigan landscape artist. The subject for the day being "Modern Artists," the club members felt very fortunate in having this distinguished artist present.

Mrs. Hoffmaster gave a very inspiring talk about her work and about artists she had met. She stressed the importance of art study in every child's education, and especially the child whose parents or teachers suppose has no artistic talent or inclination. That child needs training in art more than the child with a more artistic temperament, to enable him to better appreciate the beauty about him. "You may," said Mrs. Hoffmaster, "be alone for an entire day at home, and not have occasion to work a single problem in arithmetic, or use your knowledge of Latin or chemistry. But you will certainly need to use art in innumerable ways. In arranging books or flowers, placing a chair, hanging a curtain, for laying your table. There is an artistic way of doing everything and a slovenly way. An artistic way of making a salad, planting a garden, arranging dishes in your cupboard."

Following her talk, the ladies viewed an exhibition of Mrs. Hoffmaster's original paintings, including, "Snowshoe Trail," "The Road Out," "Solitude," "Chams," and others. Also a number of silhouettes which had appeared in the Sunday editions of the Chicago Tribune, together with the accompanying verses by Eleanor Jewett. All of the paintings were to be shipped the following day to Chicago to be exhibited in the Palmer House.

Mrs. Hoffmaster is a very charming person, sparkling with enthusiasm, and with a manner wholly devoid of artificiality. She is a lover of nature and particularly the pines and balsams of northern Michigan, and portrays these on canvas in a very realistic manner. She has gained international recognition as a landscape artist and her work has been exhibited in New York City, Chicago, on the Pacific coast, and in Paris and France.

Tea was served, at which Mrs. Julia Campbell presided. She was assisted by Mrs. Abbie Lewis. Each guest was presented with a photographed copy of one of Mrs. Hoffmaster's paintings.—Contributed.

MICHIGAN FOX HUNTERS MEET AT EASTPORT

Annual Two-Day Affair Staged for November 28-29

The sixth annual meeting of the Michigan Fox Hunters' association will be held at Eastport, November 28 and 29, and it is expected many will be in attendance from all points in the northern part of the state.

A two-day program has been arranged, starting Friday morning at 7:00 a. m., with a run for all age dogs. Friday evening at 8:00 p. m., a business meeting will be held.

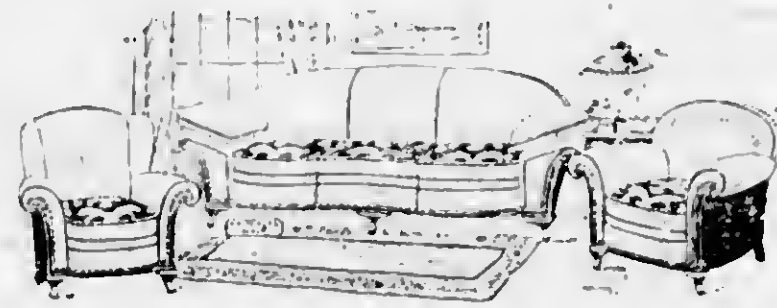

Saturday at 7:00 a. m. has been set for another run for dogs of all ages. All fox hunters are urgently invited to attend.

CITY BAND TO GIVE SERIES OF CONCERTS

The city band, under the direction of John TerWee, will give the first of a series to be given this winter at the Baptist church next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. A good program of well chosen concert numbers will be presented at each of these concerts, and it is hoped that the people of Charlevoix and the surrounding districts attend, which will be free to all.

Meeting Was Well Attended
The meeting of the Baxter Relief Corps held on Monday in the Odd Fellow hall was well attended. There were a number out-of-town visitors, from Petoskey, Central Lake, and other surrounding towns. An excellent dinner was served at noon. There will be another social gathering Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Shearer.

figure up to 58,000,000. Last year's total for the entire collection was 95,000,000 eggs.

Recent purchases of new equipment for the local hatchery include some new fry tanks and field cases and 200 jars for the whitefish. Present available appropriations are not sufficient to warrant the installation of a new whitefish battery, as the superintendent had hoped. This battery is a wooden stand or series of stands in which the jars containing whitefish spawn are set. The wooden structure that formerly covered the filtering outside the main hatchery building has been removed and replaced by a cement cover. Trunks and trays have all been freshly painted. There are about 18,000 pieces to be painted every year, so it is no light task.

Under the head of changes of personnel may be noted the appointment by Game Warden Gus Mielke of an assistant who takes care of the spawn as they are received at St. James from the island fishermen and prepares them for shipment to the mainland, a labor in which Mr. Mielke co-operates. Samuel T. Es, transferred from Fairport, Iowa, takes the place at the local hatchery left vacant by the death of Charles Arnold. Mr. Es is now in Charlevoix with his family, occupying the second floor of the Meggison residence at 227 Antrim street.

The M. E. Sewing club will hold its annual bazaar Saturday, December 13, at the Charlevoix Hardware Co.—Adv. 4712.

Fourteenth Birthday Anniversary
Miss Rynece Linnphar was delightfully surprised last Saturday evening, the occasion being her 14th birthday. Some 40 young people met at the Marion Center Grange hall, where the evening was spent in dancing and playing cards. Refreshments consisting of sandwiches, doughnuts, and cider, were served. Mrs. Chas. Linnphar and Mrs. A. J. Stelter acted as chaperones.

Another Surprise Marriage
Word comes from the newly weds announcing the marriage of Fred Christiansen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Christiansen of this city, to Miss Dorothy Heaven of Waukegan, Illinois; the wedding ceremony taking place at the latter place, November 8th.

Little Things

It is little things that make us happy. Most men want to do something big in business and are holding their happiness in reserve, to burst like a sky rocket when they accomplish the big thing they are after.

Therefore, happiness is not as common, as worry, the smile not as frequent as the frown.

The complete service that the Charlevoix State Bank gives you is made up of many little things.

SCHOOL NEWS

"The distant mountains that uprear
Their solid bastions to the skies,
Are crossed by pathways, that appear
As we to higher levels rise."

Ancient History

Last week the Ancient History classes wrote themes on, "Why We Should Study Greek Civilization."
These essays were to be about 300 words in length and were to be a summary of their study of Greek history. Albert McMillan's and Berniece Lamphear's themes were chosen as two of the best.

Lecture Course

The lecture course given last Wednesday night proved to be a great success and was enjoyed by young and old. It was enthusiastically applauded from beginning to end.
Gaiety and charm appeared throughout their entire program which proved to be irresistible to the audience.

Many American, Swiss, and Tyrolean songs were sung in combination with the native yodel. The Echo-song, sung by the Fiechtl sisters, was especially educational as well as delightful as it gave a perfect reproduction of the yodel and its echo as it is in the mountain stillness. The yodel was first used as a means of communication between herdsmen in the Alps. Since then it has become a part of their native songs.

Instrumental numbers were rehearsed on zither, mandolin, and guitar. The zither is to the Swiss as the piano is to the American. Because of their convenient size as well as their musical quality, herd-men played upon them while tending their herds.

A short talk on interesting points of Swiss life was given. Its history as a peace-loving republic was especially stressed. As a special feature of this talk the "eidweiss," a flower, was shown with a symbol of love in the Alps.

The entire company was dressed in native costumes, which are said to be the most picturesque worn by Alpineers.

The evening was concluded by a native dance in its original form.
The gaiety, vivacity, and simplicity included in this dance is typical of Swiss people.

The next number will appear February 2nd and will be a play entitled "Her Husband's Wife." It is a domestic story with universal appeal.

News of the Week

Last week some of the original poems of the English class were printed in the paper. They were about the Parthenon or the Alhambra or some arena. Anyway, Ralph Lemier's genius burned a little late and his poem came in too late to print. Nevertheless the class was pleased that his was the best ever and as such, Mush accepted it. Oh, yes, it was about the Palace at Versailles. Don't tell Ralph you read it.
He's that modest!

There was an old man of St. Bees
Who was stung on the arm by a wasp

When asked does it hurt, he replied,
"No, it doesn't."

But I thought all the time 'twas a hornet."

This office, under the authority of Mushmilk took the responsibility of sending it to the Atlantic Monthly.
They telegraphed back the next day asking Fried Mush to save the poem until the paper caught up with it.

Is he some modern? Oh, My!
Never mind, Ralphie, other great geniuses were born ahead of their time, too!

Well, now that football season has gone and went, we have nothing to do but settle down and study, except of course, a little basket ball now and then, and band practice, and the junior play and debate and attending Hi-Y club and the Air club and some other little minor details.
Bill Brown says he's got so much spare time now, he can do his home work at night, and sleep all day.
Terrible when we've got so much free time. It must be due to the hard times and the chain grocery stores.

Weather Forecast

Up for repairs. Being experimented with.

So, the seniors have finally ordered their rings. Thank goodness! Mary Simmons told me that they had no system to their ordering at all. It seems that Marlan Smith ordered a size nine, and Stan Cartier ordered size six and one-half. Certainly the world is seeing a reversal of the old order of things.

Fried Mush announces a good pun contest which will be much like the book of the month contest. Every month the ten best contributions will be printed. The prizes range from $10,000 to $1,000. Everyone free to enter. Send your puns in to Fried

"KONJOLA SAVED MY LIFE," SAYS DETROIT LADY

Nervousness and Constipation of Years Standing Yield to New Medicine—Four Bottles Bring Health

MRS. MARGARET HAYNES

"Konjola saved my life," said Mrs.
Margaret Haynes, 2734 Fourth street, Detroit. "I was a nervous wreck, so nervous that I could not hear to be in the company of my own family. I frequently left the table at meal time in order to be away from everyone and everything.
I was unable to eat and became terribly run down and was losing weight rapidly. No matter what I tried nothing relieved me until I took Konjola."

"Before I took this medicine I was terribly constipated. I was listless, sleepy and unable to do my work properly. This had been going on over a period of fifteen years. I have taken four bottles of Konjola and today my nerves are in much better shape. I have an excellent appetite and am free from the misery of constipation. I cannot say enough in praise of Konjola and I have all my friends taking it."

When given a real trial over a period of from six to eight weeks, Konjola has made a record that would often challenge belief were the actual facts not known and verified.
Konjola is sold in Charlevoix,
Mich., at F. J. Fessenden's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Child Care

Classes in child care have been conducted in the school for the last two months every Thursday morning. These classes were to teach the care of small children. This is a part of a state-wide movement which has been in existence for only a few years. Because of the number of deaths caused by carelessness and ignorance this movement was begun in order to make better human beings.
This course was not required, but depended only upon the girls themselves. Miss Bertha Cooper, a state nurse, had charge of classes in neighoring schools as well as here.

Of the 98 girls enrolled, only six did not finish the course. This number is only for the high school. The junior high girls had the same training.

Notebooks were made which illustrated the points in each lesson.
These were a summary of the whole course. They included lessons in the following phases of the subjects:
"The Child's Surroundings," "Baby's
First Clothes—Layette," "Baby's Habits and Development," "The Breast Fed Baby," "The Bottle Fed Baby," "Demonstration Bottle Feeding," "Prevention of Diseases," "Deficiency Diseases (not contagious),"
"Demonstration of Bathing the Baby." The contents of the notebooks was the test for the diploma.
This class proved to be of great interest and help to the girls. It was enjoyed by everyone who took it.

The Hi-Y Hop

The Hi-Y Hop was given last Friday night by the local Hi-Y group to raise funds that will enable some or all of the members to go to Bay City to attend the older boys' state conference. Last year the conference was held at Grand Rapids, but Charlevoix was not represented because of bad weather. This year the boys have decided that they are going weather or no weather. Larry Gould, second in command in Byrd expedition, is the main speaker.

Music for the dance was furnished by the "Cloud Sweepers," an orchestra which was organized in the Air club. It was well attended by Charlevoix people and a good time was enjoyed by all participants. "Another one of these dances will be held in the near future," states President Novak.

Charlevoix Meets Onaway in Debate

The Charlevoix debate team is expecting a strong opponent from Onaway, Friday, November 22nd. For those who were not able to come to the last debate this will be your chance to hear the affirmative side of Charlevoix debate on the question of, "Resolved: That the Chain Grocery Stores are Detrimental to the People of the State of Michigan." We are expecting a large crowd of Charlevoix people (so don't dis-

The judges for this debate are Miss Farnley, Miss Ferman, and Miss Walkenstein of Petoskey.

The fifth grade will give a play entitled "The First Thanksgiving," in the gymnasium at 8:45 Wednesday morning, November 26.

The children have made a brief study of the life of the Pilgrims.
The play is divided into three acts.

Thanksgiving Day Proclamation

"Let never day nor night unhallow'd pass,
But still remember what the Lord hath done."

More than three centuries ago Governor Bradford of the Plymouth Colony appointed a day for public praise and prayer. Since that time Thanksgiving day has most properly become a national institution. One day of all the year is little enough to us, without distinction of race or creed to unite with the peoples of every other state in giving reverent heartfelt thanks to Almighty God for all of His mercies and blessings.

We have passed through a year of business and industrial stagnation with its attendant discomforts, but out of it should come a manifest spiritual strengthening. We have many problems to solve but the good sense of the American people has always been equal to their solution. Every one of us is charged with a civic obligation of how we can best serve one another and thus restore industry to its normal condition and promote greater markets for our agricultural products.

Our achievements of the past provide cheer and inspiration with which to look hopefully to the future. Above all the vicissitudes there exists a confidence that, having earnestly dedicated ourselves to the task, we shall build a better and more prosperous state and nation.

It is, therefore, eminently fitting that Thursday, November 27, shall be set aside as a special day for Thanksgiving, a day for all the people of this Commonwealth to observe in thanksgiving and prayer that our glorious nation, under the wise direction of our President, may go forward unswervingly as the leader of all the world.

FRED W. GREEN, Governor.

BOOK WEEK AT THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Will Be Observed on Thursday, Friday and Saturday

Book week, which is being observed throughout the land between November 16 and 22, in order to bring before the public the educational value of good reading for children, is being observed at the Charlevoix public library Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

During the past ten years the production and sale of children's books in the United States has more than doubled. This is an indication of the increased interest in children's reading. Book week, observed every year since 1919, has been an important factor in this development.

Books today are published in the most attractive way possible, with good print and beautiful illustrations, in order to interest the child.

The modern child has many interests: radio, aviation, science, discovery and travel. A book background is one of the best equipments for life that can be provided for any child. There are books for every age. Both parents and teachers are invited to inspect the books on display. These books will be placed in circulation Monday.

Following is a partial list ready for circulation:

"How They Carried the Mail," by Joseph Walker. Story of mail from the post runner of King Sargon to the air mail of today.

"Seal of the White Buddha," by Daniel Hawthorne. A voyage to China in 1847 in a clipper ship.

"Washington, D. C.," by Frances Margaret Fox. A book for young people.

"The Charlemagne Crest," a mystery of Haiti, by Augusta H. Seaman.

"The Earth for Sam," Story of mountains, rivers, dinosaur and man, by W. Maxwell Reed.

"Children of the Arctic," by Marie Peary and her mother.

YOUNG WIFE, AFRAID TO EAT, LIVES ON SOUP

"Afraid of stomach gas, I lived on soup for 3 months. Then I tried Adlerika and now I eat most anything without any gas."—Mrs. A. Connor. Adlerika relieves stomach gas in TEN minutes! Acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, removing old poisonous waste you never knew was there. Don't fool with medicine which cleans only PART of bowels, but let Adlerika give stomach and bowels a REAL cleaning and get rid of all gas! F. J. Fessenden, druggist.

First Grade Circus

Come one! Come all! Ladies and gentlemen here is your chance to see positively the greatest circus that ever visited your beautiful little city. This circus designed and constructed entirely by the first grade is unequalled in the annals of the big canvas. There are performing elephants, daring trapeze artists, ferocious wild animals and amusing clowns.

Kindergarten

The kindergartners have completed their community project and they feel they have a town worthy of the name of Charlevoix. With its increasing population and city ordinances it will soon head the list of larger cities. The business section consists of Block's grocery, a church, library, school, postoffice and depot.

The designers of railway engines should look to their laurels if we are to judge by the train constructed in the kindergarten. We would be led to believe that the rising generation contains many a mechanical genius. Charlevoix wouldn't be complete without Round lake and this has been capably represented by landscape artists and the civil engineers have built the bridge.

Jokes

Bill Brown: "What time is it?"
Bill Clark: "I'm a little slow."
Bill Brown: "I understand, but what time is it?"

Mr. North: "Can a man love two women at the same time?"
Vic Smith: "Not if they know it."

First Student: "I wonder how old Miss Wyland is."

Second Student: "Quite old. I imagine. They say she used to teach Caesar."

Howard Davenport: "Boy, am I tired!"

Dick: "You just got up!"

Howard: "Yeah, but I dreamed I was shovelling coal."

Teacher: "What animal is it that has very strong limbs, a fierce temper, wild bushy hair on its head, and is called the king of beasts?"
Willie: "A football player."

Miss Button: "Mr. North, there's a machine out now that tells when you are lying. Ever see it?"

Mr. North: "See it? I'm married to one!"

Wayne Belding (in French class):

Miss Logan: "Wayne, read the sentence on the board."

"Mortals and Immortals" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, November 16.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "Thus saith the Lord, the Holy One of Israel, and his Maker, Ask me of things to come concerning my sons, and concerning the work of my hands command ye me." (Isa. 45:11).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "God and man are not the same, but in the order of divine Science, God and man co-exist and are eternal. God is the parent Mind, and man is God's spiritual offspring." (p. 336).

Temperance Workers Plan Future Work and Elect Their Officers for Coming Year

Mrs. Cassie Hart gave a fine paper on "The Dawn of a New Day," at the W. C. T. U. meeting held last Friday afternoon in the community room. Mrs. Hart expressed the opinion that an army of peace thinkers is needed and that lasting peace throughout the world can only come when we learn to think in terms of peace.

Mrs. W. H. Rauch, who represented the union at the recent state convention, gave her report and relayed to the members present some of the enthusiasm which such great gatherings engender.

The new national plans for work presented at the state meeting embrace the use of a study book, the distribution of literature, temperance education for children and young people and a membership campaign continuing throughout the year with special features up to January 16.

The Loyal Temperance Legion meetings will be conducted again this year with Mrs. Rauch as superintendent, and a committee of women representing the various churches as her assistants.

The distribution of Thanksgiving baskets will be sponsored by the Union, Mrs. Hart acting as chairman. Officers for 1931 were elected as tion of the nurses, will be stationed in Charlevoix and will work out of this city as their headquarters throughout the territory comprised in the group. The nurses will be stationed, ordinarily, at the county seats of the counties represented. A nurse is already on duty in Otsego county, under the supervision of the Fund organization, with quarters at Gaylord. Each of the four counties in this group is to donate approximately $50.00 a year for the maintenance of the group headquarters office here. The old Washington school on Petoskey avenue (U. S. 31) will be remodeled to serve as the local administration building for the district health unit. It is expected that the actual work of the unit in this district will commence on January 1st, at which time the staff will have been assembled and assigned to their duties.

WELL KNOWN CLUB WORKER STRICKEN

Mary E. Clarke Will Be Missed by Charlevoix Friends

Word comes from Muskegon of the death of Miss Mary E. Clarke, which occurred last Friday, after a short illness from pneumonia.

Miss Clarke had a host of friends in Charlevoix who will be saddened to learn of her death. She made her home here for years prior to 1927, and was one of the active women workers of the community. She was a leader in civic affairs, will be remembered by her activity in all club work, especially giving a great deal of her time with the Historical society.

Interment, we understand, took place in Muskegon Monday.

CHAX. COUNTY BANK STRENGTHENS POSITION

CAPTAIN JOHN J. ROEN

Cap. John J. Roen, owner of the Str. Marquis Roen and barge Inter-laken, and a joint owner with Ira J. Lyons of Grand Rapids of the North-western Sand and Gravel company, operating the Str. Fred W. Green, has been a resident of Charlevoix for the past 15 years. During this time he has made many friends and the community has watched his maritime venture develop from a very small beginning to a firm with assets of over $200,000.

From this group of men will be elected a board of directors to assist the present management, consisting of Albert F. Bridge and Robert Bridge in directing the affairs of the bank.

The addition of these men to Michigan largest unincorporated bank makes it an exceptionally strong institution and one that can best serve the interests of this community. The bank has always enjoyed the confidence of the citizens of Charlevoix and has earned a place through the service rendered its patrons. Charlevoix can be proud to claim an institution of such merit. A financial statement of the condition of the bank is published elsewhere in this paper and reflects its strong financial position.

Harbor, Marion Center, Barnard, Norwood and McSaub. After these are open, the Wilson, Elmira and Boyne Falls east roads will be cleared if possible. The Chandler and Horton Bay north roads and the old Charlevoix-East Jordan road, from Bird's Corners through to Eveline Orchards, are to be maintained as sleigh roads.

One change in the personnel of the state highway department may be noted at this time. Due to the election of Frank D. Fitzgerald to the secretaryship of state, a vacancy occurs in the office of business manager which is to be filled by the appointment of M. DeGlopper, formerly engineer of materials and equipment for the department. Mr. DeGlopper assumes his duties on January 1, 1931.

HOME MANAGEMENT GROUP LEADERS MET TUESDAY

The following group leaders met at the community room Tuesday for the second home management extension lesson given by Miss Oona Stautz of the Michigan State college; Mrs. Hazel Evers, Mrs. Alice Willis of Burgess; Mrs. Countess Mascho, Mrs. Florence McGhan of Marion Center; Mesdames Gladys Palmer, Jessie Shaw, Rena Edwards, Edith Pearl, B. Saltonstall, George Kelderhouse of Charlevoix; Mrs. Vera Smith, Marie Hilton of Barnard; Mrs. Ida Welshimer and Mrs. Elsie Saunders of Ironton.

PRIZE WINNERS AT HAL-LOWEEN COSTUME PARTY

The Halloween costume party, given at Maple Grove Grange, was attended by about 75 couples. Prizes were awarded for the best costumes, and for the comic costumes. Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Green of Petoskey received a prize of $5.00 each for the best costumes, Russell Cadwell of Boyne City, and Miss Marion Tuhy of Charlevoix, received prizes of $2.50 each for the comic costumes.

Meet for Reorganization

The Charlevoix Hospital Auxiliary will meet Friday evening, November 21, at 7 o'clock, in the community room, for the purpose of reorganizing.

We wish this to become an active organization this winter as the hospital is greatly in need of our assistance.

All members and anyone desiring to become a member please be there on that date. Marion Partridge, secretary.

BOYNE POLICEMAN SHOT BY ROBBERS

SLUGGED, THEN WOUNDED IN ABDOMEN EARLY SUNDAY

First of Youthful Trio of Bandits Captured Sunday, Others Monday—Admit Many Jobs

John Sutor, Boyne City night watchman, is in Petoskey hospital in dangerous condition from a bullet wound in his abdomen, received when he was shot at 4:15 o'clock Sunday morning by one of a trio of bandits he had apprehended robbing the Atwood Schaefer department store at Boyne City.

Catching two of the robbers by surprise as they were carrying stolen goods from the store to an automobile where the third waited, Sutor arrested them, and started to march the pair to jail at the point of gun. Suddenly one turned and struck Sutor with a tire iron. The night watchman stepped back, fired one shot. One of the bandits opened fire and Sutor fell wounded as the second man grappled him. Relieving the officer of his gun and club, the bandits fled.

Sutor's cries for help aroused Mr. Schaefer and others, who called Sheriff Dave Vaughan of this city. Together with Deputy Charles Marshall, the sheriff left immediately for the scene and, just at the edge of Boyne City limits, found Clark Fraley, third member of the gang, asleep in his car. He was arrested and brought to Charlevoix. He admitted being one of the bandits, gave his age as 20, and home in Chandler township. He said his companions were Arthur "Jake" Patten, 23, and William McGuire, 19, both residing near Central Lake in Antrim county.

No further trace of the missing bandits was found Sunday, but Monday morning, working on a tip from the section foreman at Elmira, who had seen two suspicious characters enter a box car on the G. R. & I. railway, State police made a record trip from Boyne City and captured the pair. They were both heavily armed, but offered no resistance other than an attempt to run away when officers approached.

State police gave the bandits a severe grilling and obtained a confession. Patten admitted striking Sutor with the tire iron, and McGuire confessed he shot the night watchman. They were lodged in jail here along with Fraley and will be held pending the outcome of Sutor's injuries.

After further grilling Monday by Prosecuting Attorney Rollie L. Lewis, the trio admitted entering three business places at Bellaire, robbing the Shell oil station and Co-operative Association warehouse in East Jordan, entering two cottages and the Lakeway garage at Charlevoix, and the Boyne City robbery which resulted in their apprehension.

Most of the contraband, which consisted of tires, tubes, gloves, blankets and a miscellaneous assortment of nominal value, has been recovered. One cache was found in Chandler township, another near Central Lake, and quite a quantity of loot in the car.

FISH TUG SLIGHTLY DAMAGED BY BLAZE

Fire caused by an engine back-fire late Monday afternoon caused slight damage to the gasoline fish tug "Mohican," owned by Louis White of Cheboygan. The craft was moored at the city docks, foot of Antrim street. The fire department responded promptly and put out the blaze before much damage occurred.

GOLDEN RULE WEEK SCHEDULED FOR PERIOD DECEMBER 7-14

International Golden Rule week is announced for December 7-14, and we are summoned to plain living and high thinking for the benefit of the under-nourished and under-privileged children of our own and other lands.

There is little or no excuse for not giving. The minimum gift—the difference in the cost of a frugal Golden Rule meal and the usual bountiful dinner—takes not one penny from the cash reserves of the donors.

Clubs, lodges, churches and other organizations are invited to co-operate. Address: Golden Rule Foundation, No. 60, E. 42nd street, New York City.

POLAR BEARS OPEN SEASON THURSDAY

Veteran Team Meet Petoskey Portland Cement Quintet

Opening the 1930-31 basketball season at Charlevoix, the Polar Bears, for two years undefeated in northern Michigan, make their season's debut against the crack Petoskey Portland Cement company team at the local gymnasium.

This year's Polar Bear squad will have a veteran line-up. Practice sessions opened last week and suits were issued to Dean Davenport, Dick Marshall, Ray Kipke, Glenroy Ikens, Ted Cooper and Floyd Brown, all players of the 1929-30 roster. New-comers of no small ability are Harold Jones and Bill Supernaw, both former high school stars. Members of the second team were also out for the initial practice session and are being put through their paces along with the others by Manager Todd.

While no definite line-up of games is available at the present time, the Polar Bears will take on the usual list of strong teams as in former years.

1931 ISSUE AUTO LICENSES ON SALE

EARLY RELEASE AIMED TO QUICKEN NEW SALES

Plates Only for New Cars and Those That Were Not Driven During the Past Year

Pursuant to the request of Gov. Fred W. Green, John S. Haggerty, secretary of state, has ordered immediate shipment of 1931 automobile license plates to be made to all branch offices in the state and same will be issued immediately upon their receipt to the public in advance of the regular date, December 1st. Up until that date, however, they can only be sold to owners of new cars and those who have not driven their cars during 1930 nor purchased license for that year. All others must wait until December 1st. It will be necessary for owners who have licensed their cars in 1929, but not in 1930, to accompany their applications for 1931 license plates with an affidavit to the effect that they have not driven their cars on the highways of Michigan prior to the date on which they make application for 1931 license. Forms for this purpose may be procured at the branch office.

Some changes have been made in the application forms this year. On applications for either passenger or commercial plates, those owners who reside outside of an incorporated village or city must give the township in which they live, as well as the rural route. On the application forms for operator's license, an additional question appears, "Are you now, or have you ever been subject to epilepsy?" On the application for duplicate certificate of title, in cases where the original title has been lost or destroyed, it is necessary for the applicant to swear that the original title has not been assigned to anyone else. With these exceptions, the forms are the same as last year.

Remember to bring your certificate of title with you when applying for plates, as none will be issued without it. If you have purchased a second-hand car, make sure that the assignment and re-assignment sections on the reverse of the certificate are completely filled out and signed by a notary before presenting the certificate to the branch office for plates. This will save much inconvenience and delay.

MINK MAY BE TAKEN ANY TIME OF YEAR

Law Allows Traps Only During Designated Season, However

While an order of the conservation commission forbids the trapping of mink at any time other than during the open muskrat trapping season, it does not forbid the taking of mink by any other ordinary means, at any other time.

Guns, dogs, or any usual method of killing mink may be employed after the last of the zone muskrat seasons closes December 31. However, a permit must be obtained to carry a gun when there is no open season on protected game.

One conviction has been reported for trapping mink before the opening of the muskrat season.

NORTH TO LOSE AIR LINE SOON

LACK OF PASSENGER TRAFFIC WONDERFUL RESPONSE GIVEN FROM EVERY QUARTER

Traverse City Group Move to Save Line, But Deem One-Passenger Guarantee Inadvisable

Traverse City and the other towns along the route will lose the air line that has operated a daily service between Petoskey and Grand Rapids since last January.

A committee of Traverse City business men and public officials decided last Tuesday afternoon that it would be impossible to meet demands of the owners of the line for a guarantee of passenger traffic and it is expected that the service will be withdrawn without further delay.

Jack Byrne, president of the Michigan Air Express, had informed the committee that unless he could be guaranteed an average of one passenger a day for the next six months between Traverse City and Grand Rapids the line would be abandoned.

Such a guarantee would involve raising a fund of approximately $3,000. The attempt would be both futile and unwise, the committee decided, despite the evident value of the Air Express to the community. Mr. Byrne guaranteed to continue the service for a year if he could get the passenger guarantee for six months. A passenger a day would not pay the expense of operation but in addition to the express shipments that have been built to quite a volume, would enable the line to continue through the winter and spring months with a small loss, he said. This year passenger traffic was satisfactory during the summer but dropped off with the end of the resort season. According to Mr. Byrne his company would not consider operating the line for the summer months alone.

In October the company opened a line between Grand Rapids and Detroit, which became immediately profitable, Mr. Byrne has said. His intention has been to use the six-place Stinson plane from the northern Michigan line on that run.

LEELANAU DEER AGAIN PROTECTED

County Closed One Year While State Plans Future Course

Leelanau county has been closed to deer hunting for one year by the conservation commission. Reports received that a few deer had moved into the county during the past summer. So far as is known, these are the first found in the county for about 15 years. Within another year the department of conservation hopes that a definite and uniform policy will be adopted relative to deer hunting in all of the areas of the southern peninsula.

During the past summer and this fall the game division has been making an inventory of deer cover and the distribution of deer in lower Michigan. When this survey is completed, the division expects to have the essential information on which to base a general policy to cover all of the deer territory of the lower peninsula some of which is now closed for one or two years.

Monday, December 8, is the date when Dr. Leahy, the Optometrist, will make his last visit here this year. Office at the Hotel Charlevoix. Adv. 4812.

ANNUAL HOSPITAL DRIVE A SUCCESS

WONDERFUL RESPONSE GIVEN FROM EVERY QUARTER

Large Quantity of Fruits, Jellies, Jams and Vegetables Resulted from Recent Solicitation

A spirit worthy and typical of Charlevoix was manifest the week-end of November 20th during the annual fruit and vegetable drive conducted by members and officers of the Charlevoix hospital board for that institution.

True to their usual response, Charlevoixans donated freely and abundantly to the cause, and today the hospital is supplied with fruits, jams, jellies and vegetables nearly sufficient to last throughout the winter. Members of the committees in charge of the drive report that they met whole-hearted cooperation wherever they called, and many who were not personally solicited sent in their donations to the hospital.

Miss Anna Baumgartner, superintendent of the hospital, has provided the following list covering donations during the drive: 278 quarts fruit, 126 pickles and canned vegetables; 126 dishes of jellies, jams and marmalade; 2 quarts honey; quart maple syrup; one quart each of salad dressing and grape juice; in addition to quantities of apples, cabbage, carrots, beets, ruta baggas, onions, pumpkins, squash and potatoes. There were also donations of five pounds of sugar and two pounds of coffee.

A group of Central Lake women, all of whom had been patients at the hospital during the past two years expressed their appreciation of the excellent care they were given at the local institution by the donation of curtains for the reception room. Members of the group were the Mesdames Frank Greenman, Lloyd Eckhardt, Rollo Johnson, Howard Chamberlain, Fred Curtis and Charles Fox. The hospital board is also very grateful for a donation of $12.89, taken in the collection at the Methodist union service at the Methodist church recently.

Such a splendid spirit of generosity from all quarters insures the hospital as a permanent institution of the future.

OLDER BOYS WILL MEET AT BAY CITY

Annual Convention Convened November 28, 29 and 30

Delegates attending the State Older Boys' conference this year will be guests of the citizens of Bay City. They will be entertained in a home for Friday and Saturday nights, and breakfast Saturday and Sunday, and Sunday dinner without cost. Friday evening, Saturday noon and evening meals are served at places designated and are paid for in the registration fee.

Speakers and leaders for the conference this year include Dr. Frederick B. Fisher, pastor of the First Methodist church, Ann Arbor, recently resigned as Bishop for India; Dr. Thomas W. Graham, a dean of Oberlin college and chairman of the National Student committee; Dr. Lawrence M. Gould, a Michigan man, professor of geology at U. of M., on leave of absence this year, speaking on his experiences as second in command of the Byrd expedition to the Antarctic.

LOCAL YOUTHS ROB BED SHELL STATION

Arrested Friday and Confessed Following Brief Grilling

Raymond Dodd and Wilfred Brown, 16-year-old local high school youths, are being held in jail until the next term of circuit court.

The former was detained on suspicion last Friday by Sheriff Dave Vaughan and Prosecuting Attorney Rollie L. Lewis and, after being questioned, admitted robbing the Shell oil station on Belvidere avenue Thursday evening. He implicated Browne, who confessed when confronted with Dodd's admissions. The pair had been making the station a hang-out, and officers became even more suspicious when Dodd's story of his activities from a week previous up to the time of the robbery did not hold together. The youths have also admitted taking $16 from the Northern Auto Co.

The Shell station robbery netted around $245 in cash. This amount has been recovered. Approximately $80 in checks taken were burned. The youths wrecked the safe.

SCHEDULE FOR 1930-31 READY

FIRST GAME DECEMBER 12TH AT TRAVERSE CITY

Rules and Interpretations Meeting Set for Saturday, December 13, at One P. M., in Local Gym

On Saturday, December 13, at one p. m., coaches and officials of the various high schools of the district will meet at the Charlevoix gymnasium to discuss basketball rules, and interpretations. All those interested are invited to be present. There are, however, no radical changes in the rules this year.

A week ago sophomores and freshmen opened practice in the gym and last Monday afternoon the call for candidates found 40 aspirants answering Coach Kipke's call.

Charlevoix's mentor has a difficult task confronting him this season. Losses by graduation last spring were heavy, leaving only a few seasoned men around which to build the 1930-31 squad. While there is no dearth of material, there is a shortage of veterans. Norman Anee, last year's forward, and Vic Smith, a guard, are available, also a number of promising candidates from last year's reserve squad. Efforts will be made to bring about the return of Bill Novak and "Cornie" McCall to the eligible ranks. They have been out of athletic competition since beginning of the school year because of an infraction of the Amateur Athletic Association rules.

Following is the schedule for the season of 1930-31:

December 12, Traverse City, there.
December 13, Petoskey, here.
January 2, Petoskey, there.
January 6, Gaylord, here.
January 9, Boyne City, there.
January 16, Harbor Springs, there.
January 21, open.
January 30, Mancelona, there.
February 6, Boyne City, here.
February 13, East Jordan, there.
February 17, Traverse City, here.
February 20, Harbor Springs, here.
February 27, East Jordan, here.

PARISHONERS GUESTS AT VENISON SUPPER

Fr. R. E. Fitzpatrick Host at Affair Sunday Evening

Fr. R. E. Fitzpatrick was host Sunday evening to one hundred members of St. Mary parish at a venison supper given at St. Mary school hall.

Following the supper, a group of women sponsored an interesting program of entertainment which added much to the enjoyment of the affair. Fr. Fitzpatrick bagged his huck early in the season at the Bone Head club near Alpena.

Visit in Lansing
Mr. and Mrs. John Boss, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Morris Chew, the latter's father and mother, spent from Saturday until Monday evening with relatives in Flint and Lansing. All members of the party returned Monday evening with the exception of Mrs. Chew, who will remain in Lansing for a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Cooper.

LOCAL LAD SPENT NIGHT IN WOODS

BERNARD FOSTER WANDERED 18 MILES FROM HIS CAMP

Stumbled Into Trappers' Camp Late at Night After Trailing Wounded Buck Many Miles

Bernard Foster, age 16 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Foster, returned home Monday morning from a deer hunting trip north of Atlanta, after an experience he will long remember and one that marks him eligible to the ranks of the "old timers."

Soon after leaving camp Sunday morning, Bernard shot and wounded a buck. For many hours, in fact, until well into late afternoon, he followed the trail of the bleeding animal. He was without a compass and, unlike a more experienced hunter, paid little attention to the direction he was going.

During his travels, Bernard saw a black bear tearing ants out of a rotten log. Following advice of his camping partners, he did not shoot at the animal with the small caliber gun he was carrying. He did, however, shoot a couple rabbits, which he was carrying with him.

As evening approached, Bernard came to the realization that he was many miles from camp and lost. He ran across an old hunter sitting on a runway, explained he was lost and inquired directions to camp. The man showed him a road, saying it would lead him to where he wanted to go. Bernard followed the trail for miles, but got nowhere. He knew he had crossed the Black river, so just at dark re-crossed on a bender dam and continued his wandering. It was now dark and snowing heavily. The lad found a deserted camp and ate some bread and onions he found there before going on. Around ten o'clock he finally saw a light, but it went out before he reached it. Some time later, in total darkness, he stumbled over the rope of a tent.

Unceremoniously disturbed from their slumbers, two old trappers rushed out with loaded guns. Learning Bernard's plight, the pair gave him a good feed of pancakes and eggs and a bed. The next morning (Monday) they took him to Atlanta, where he was met by his father and Ray Shearer, who had gone there to join in the search for the missing lad. During the previous day and night, Bernard had wandered approximately 18 miles from the place where he was camped with Clinton Blanchard and others of his party. He was soaked to the skin by the heavy snow, but was none the worse for his experience. It is quite remarkable that the lad kept his wits about him and did not get excited, otherwise no telling what might have happened.

WORLD WAR VETERAN DIED LAST TUESDAY

James W. Dougherty Succumbed to Injuries Received in 1929

Funeral services were held from the Methodist church Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock for James W. Dougherty, former local resident, who died last Tuesday at Frankfort following a long illness. Rev. John E. Lockyer officiated and interment was at Brookside cemetery.

Mr. Dougherty was born in Charlevoix April 18, 1890, and was 40 years of age at his death. He resided at Charlevoix until 1917, when he enlisted in the army during the World War. Following his discharge, he returned to Frankfort in 1919, later coming to Charlevoix. Soon after he went to Detroit and later to Chicago, where he met with an accident on November 28, 1929, while working on the Daily News building. The injuries resulted in his death.

Mr. Dougherty was married at Detroit to Miss Isabelle Sinclair. In addition to his widow, deceased is survived by five sisters and two brothers, viz: Mrs. Charles Hipp, Mrs. Belle Natzel, Mrs. Max Major, Mrs. Guy Bruce, Mrs. Albert Le-mieur, John C. and William Dougherty, all of Detroit.

The remains were brought to the John Miller residence here, from where funeral arrangements were made.

If troubled with headache, dizziness, nervousness, or any other symptom of eyestrain, consult Dr. Leahy, the Optometrist, when he comes Monday, December 28. Glasses guaranteed to fit. Adv. 4812.

CORRESPONDENCE

BARNARD

A little more like winter. Our hunters have returned from the woods, Jesse Gregory being the only lucky one this year.

In spite of the stormy weather the social on Monday evening was a success, about $18 being cleared.

Michel Garber is having an auction sale of stock and farm implements next Tuesday, December 2nd.

Misses Ruth Matchett and Dorothy Smith attended the exercises of the county normal on Saturday evening.

The new officers of the grange were installed at the regular meeting on Friday night. Several members of South Arm grange were present to do the installation work.

The home management club had their last meeting until the coming spring, last Thursday. An interesting discussion on the "Use of Time" was enjoyed by the 13 ladies present.

Miss Anna Gornell entertained about 20 young people at a party on Saturday evening. Games were played and a fine lunch was served by the hostess, making it a very enjoyable evening.

Miss Anna Gornell accompanied her cousin, "Bill", Clark, to Reed City, on Sunday, bringing home his sister, Eva, for a visit over Thanksgiving with her mother, Mrs. George Clark of Charlevoix.

Some real improvement has been made on the road east from the cemetery. A good ditch was dug, which will enable the farmers on that road to get out with their cars in the spring without using their horses to tow them to the corner.

Mr. and Mrs. George Block, Wm. Shapton and son, Lee, and Mrs. Louis Shapton returned from a week's stay in Chicago on Friday. Mrs. William Shapton remained for a longer stay with her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Couse of that city.

The harvest home services on Sunday were enjoyed by a good crowd. Several additions to the band were present. Mr. Bellinger and daughters, Mr. Durance and Mr. Webster, also Mr. Koozer of Ellsworth, sang several songs, which were much appreciated.

Men's $1.50 shirts for only 49c. Other shirts at like discount. Benj. Brown.—Adv. 4811.

NORWOOD

Thanksgiving day is being ushered in by winter weather.

Several local folks are making plans to entertain guests on Thanksgiving day.

Mr. and Mrs. Ike Brown called on Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richardson Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Brown, also Mr. Hickens, of Charlevoix, called at the Pierce home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wells of Charlevoix were guests at luncheon with Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Jones Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mayne are making plans to entertain their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Mayne of Grand Rapids, also their daughter, Joyce Mayne, of Rockford, over the week-end.

Norwood citizens were saddened to hear of the death of Mary Clarke of Muskegon. Mrs. Clarke spent many of her summers here at Norwood with the VanPelt family and will be missed by her many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Plenny Genett left Sunday on a motor trip to Flint, where they will visit their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Genett, after which they expect to go to Detroit, where they will visit their niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Whitney of Wyandotte.

Mrs. Fred Hull entertained a group of 12 children on Monday from 2 to 4 o'clock, at her farm home honoring her daughter, Roberta, it being her sixth birthday. The children enjoyed playing games, after which the hostess served delightful refreshments, including a birthday cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Pierce arrived at the home of Mr. Pierce's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harris Pierce, Monday, after their marriage, which took place Saturday, November 22, at 10 o'clock at Lebanon, Ohio. Mrs. Pierce was formerly Miss Alice Mae Mount, and Mr. Pierce was formerly of Charlevoix and Norwood. Congratulations.

As a courtesy to the members of the Atwood L. A. S. and a few additional ladies, the Norwood L. A. S. entertained at the home of Mrs. Frank Richardson last Wednesday at a pot-luck dinner. The table was centered with a beautiful bouquet of yellow p.o.m.p.o.m. chrysanthemums, covers being laid for 25. After luncheon the Norwood ladies proceeded with their regular meeting which was followed by a short program conducted by Mrs. Dice.

Look over our stock of Toys, Books, Games, at lowest prices. Shop early for Xmas.—Adv. 4811.

THE NEW CHEVROLET SIX HAS MANY IMPROVEMENTS

The introduction of the new Chevrolet Six marks the most impressive forward step in Chevrolet's twenty-year record of constant progress and improvement. For this Bigger and Better Six offers new beauty, new luxury, new completeness and new quality—yet it sells at lower prices!

In every curve and sweep of Chevrolet's modern lines—in every detail of its new Fisher bodies, you will see the fine hand of the master designer and the skillful craftsman. And the more closely you inspect it, the more deeply impressed you will be.

The improvements in the new Chevrolet Six begin at the smart new chrome-plated headlamps and extend throughout the entire car. The radiator is deeper. The lines are longer and lower, giving an air of exceptional sleekness and grace. And the interiors of the new Fisher bodies provide a new degree of comfort and luxury; greater roominess; fine quality mohair or broadcloth upholstery; more pleasing interior fittings; and a new, completely equipped instrument panel.

The chassis of the new Chevrolet Six has also been refined and advanced in a number of different ways. The frame is heavier, deeper and stronger than before. There is a smoother operating, long lived clutch; a sturdier front axle; an entirely new steering mechanism; an easier shifting transmission. In fact, every vital feature of the new car has been made better to provide more thorough satisfaction for the owner.

And along with these improvements, Chevrolet offers the smooth performance of a 50-horsepower, six-cylinder motor—four long semi-elliptic springs—four hydraulic shock absorbers—a safety gasoline tank at the rear of the car—and an economy of operation not surpassed by any automobile.

Give Mother an Extension Telephone for Christmas

A most welcome, and inexpensive, Christmas gift which Mother surely will appreciate, is one or more conveniently located extension telephones.

In the kitchen, for example, a telephone will enable Mother to place and answer calls without having to leave her work.

A telephone upstairs will save running down to answer calls. Mother will appreciate that convenience. (So will Dad on cold nights!) And, in emergencies, such as fire, sickness or accident, an upstairs telephone is especially useful.

Extension telephones cost only 2 cents a day. To place an order, call or visit the Telephone Business Office.

* OF INTEREST TO FARMERS *

Charlevoix County Dairy Herds Free

from Contagious Abortion

Of particular gratification to several large dairy farmers is the fact that no contagious abortion was found upon a careful test made last week. This disease is causing a loss of thousands of dollars in many counties in Michigan, and is dreaded fully as much as tuberculosis. Like tuberculosis you have no external appearance to indicate whether the animal is affected or not. This disease may be indicated by the cow aborting, by sterility problems, udder troubles and white scours in calves.

The services of Doctor B. J. Killham, veterinarian specialist, was secured to demonstrate on six large herds of cows for the purpose of finding out if this disease was prevalent in Charlevoix county. The test is made by securing a sample of blood from each animal and having it tested at the Michigan State college laboratory. Some 200 animals in these six herds were involved in this test, so a sufficient number have been worked on to make us feel reasonably certain that this county is relatively free from this disease. Doctor Killham informs me that this is the first county in the state that he has found free of reactors, which is a source of great rejoicing to all dairy men.

The following six herds of cattle were used for this demonstration: Ecklund Brothers, Charlevoix; Geo. Meggison, Charlevoix; William Withers, Charlevoix; Oakley Saunders, Charlevoix; Carl Grutseh, East Jordan; and Murphy Brothers, East Jordan. If there are any herd owners in Charlevoix county who have reason to think their herds are infected, plans may be made whereby this test may be conducted by our local veterinary. We have made a wonderful record in our tuberculosis eradication work, and want to be certain that contagious abortion may also be cleaned out if such a situation exists.

Tuberculosis Eradication Campaign Progressing

During the last two months Doctors T. B. Pomeroy of Boyne City, and Merlau, state veterinary, have been covering the county as rapidly as possible. This will be the third time that the county has been completely tested, and we are glad to state that we are having less and less on every test.

Up to the present time over 5,000 head have been tested, and only about 12 reactors have been found, which would indicate that our percentage is slightly over .2 of 1 per cent, which is remarkably low. Doctor Pomeroy has the eastern portion of the county pretty well covered and has only found four reactors, while Doctor Merlau working out of Charlevoix has the west side nearly completed. This work will be continued until late in the fall and finished early next spring, so that Charlevoix county may again be accredited. If your herd has not already been tested, be reassured that it will be done as soon as possible either this fall or next spring.

Co-operative Creamery Meets the Approval of Farmers

Considerable interest and enthusiasm is being displayed by dairy men all through the county. Last week a series of five meetings were held in various communities with John Martin, Michigan State college specialist, present, and the plans for a gigantic co-operative creamery organization were outlined. It is planned to receive cream from every point in the county, as well as a large portion of Antrim county, all of which would make a sufficient volume of business to warrant a highly successful enterprise. Moreover, it plans to gather the cream direct from the farms and save the farmers the inconvenience of delivering their own cream. A careful analysis of our dairy situation brings out quite forcibly the fact that we are securing as low prices for our cream as any section in the state of Michigan. Two successful co-operative creameries not far from this district have been paying their patrons over seven cents a pound more than we have been getting for our cream, which naturally is of great concern to us.

Representative dairy men from various sections have already been appointed to canvass their communities. It will be a co-operative profit sharing stock corporation, which is our most successful co-operative organization. To successfully operate we should have 500 farmers signed up and at least 200,000 pounds of butterfat in prospect.

Farmers, consider this proposition, discuss it with your friends and get their viewpoints, analyze our situation as it is, and I am sure you will be interested in it. Keep informed on this matter and decide for yourself what ought to be done.

Over 200 Boys and Girls Join 4-H Clubs

The greatest interest and enthusiasm in boys' and girls' club work ever shown in this county, has been the case this last week. Nineteen different schools in the county were visited by Miss Sylvia Wixson and P. G. Lundin, state club specialists, and at each school the boys and girls were very desirous of organizing club work. This means that one-half of the schools in Charlevoix county will incorporate this program in their community.

The fact that such a large percentage of our fine boys and girls are interested in agriculture is a direct challenge to the parents, teachers, and others, to give them the type of leadership and guidance that will make them the kind of citizens that America needs now and tomorrow. Think of what this means to have this army of boys and girls growing up in our midst and developing properly under our leadership and supervision. If they continue to be interested in club activities and secure the benefits possible it is up to you and I to give them the best within us.

The following schools and teachers plan to have clothing and handicraft clubs this winter:

North Bay, Doris Trimble; Tainter, Addie Ellis; Wildwood, Elizabeth Sullivan; Ironton, Norabelle Thorson; Walker, Ruby Stueck; Murray, June; Harriet Kilpatrick; Undine, Lila Coblenz; Bay Shore, Nina Shearer; Woodward, Faida Ogden; Barnard, Virgil M. Wise; Nowland, Carrie Taylor; Loeb, Beatrice Straw; Phelps, Marguerite Sutton; Marion Center, John Dutcher; Clarion, Eleanor Vester, John M. Wednesday evening at 7:45, first Wednesday of month only. Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to attend all services. "Soul and Body" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, November 23rd.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "Therefore we are always confident, knowing that, whilst we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord." (11 Cor. 5:6).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Become conscious for a single moment that life and intelligence are purely spiritual,—neither in nor of matter,—and the body will then utter no complaints. If suffering from a belief in sickness, you will find yourself suddenly well." (p. 14).

AT THE MOVIES

A New Bow

The new Clara Bow, who caused such a furore of excitement in the brief glimpse possible in "Paramount on Parade," is back with an eye-ful of charms in her latest "IT" hit, "True to the Navy," opening at the Palace theatre Saturday and Sunday.

She is slim, lithe, peppy, and has all the famous vitality and vivaciousness which have made her the most popular female star in motion pictures. In "True to the Navy," she brings a real enthusiasm, a new beauty and appeal.

"True to the Navy" is all Clara Bow. A soda-fountain girl with a great personality, she has all the smiles from the fleet with about her.

"We invade a new field with vastly improved cars at the lowest prices in our history"

BY WILLIAM J. McANEENY
President, Hudson Motor Car Company

WE have built these models up to and beyond the 1931 standards of performance and quality in every way, and have never in our history offered so many improvements. Quality is greater down to the last detail. Every phase of performance has been greatly improved, and the luxury we have built into the cars is substantially greater than ever before. Motors are larger and more powerful. An efficient system of oil cooling is introduced. A marked improvement in carburetion increases flexibility and economy. Bodies are longer and wider. These cars possess the finest, easiest riding qualities. For the first time, such comfort is available at these low prices. Only great manufacturing economies and the fact that our large resources permit us to take the fullest possible advantage of reduced commodity prices have enabled us to offer the public the greatest combination of quality and low prices in our entire history.

Owner-Management Permits Exclusive Value Advantages

Owner-management enables Hudson-Essex to give you outstanding advantages in quality and price. The men who are now guiding its destinies have been with the company since its inception twenty-two years ago. Its department heads and principal distributors are its controlling owners. Their independence is backed by unusually large resources in capital and plant facilities. It enables Hudson-Essex to lead in design and engineering quality. It permits economies in manufacture and distribution that bring exceptional quality direct to the public at distinct price advantages.

WE ALL NEED HELP

The small loan business is recognized as very important. It has received the attention of the law-makers in an attempt to stop the charges for excessive interest that the loan sharks were making.

Now the banks and financial institutions are taking up the matter of the small loan and some of them have worked out methods which are profitable to them and helpful to the public.

According to records which have been compiled somewhere by somebody, about 80 per cent of the people of the United States have need for the assistance which small loan facilities give to them. It is a real problem of finance, applicable not so much to the small town as to the larger city where there is less knowledge of people and their ability to pay.

BUT A SMALL PART

We think about the cost of accidents in terms of insurance premiums and insurance payments.

The amount paid out under state laws for industrial accidents is very large. Yet it is estimated that the insurance awards are but a fifth of the cost of the accident to the person who is injured. A few hundred dollars may be secured for an accident which is a source of expense and lost time for many years.

What does this mean? It means that accident prevention work is vastly more important than we sometimes believe. It cannot be measured in terms of insurance. It is a greater thing than that. Its humanitarian aspect is of far greater importance than its material side.

To help prevent accidents in industry, on the road, anywhere, is a useful service.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

Beets, turnips, and carrots will keep if stored in boxes or barrels and covered with slightly moistened sand. Add a little water from time to time to keep the sand from drying out.

Darkened nests in the poultry house prevent the birds from acquiring the egg-eating habit. These nests are built out from the wall so the birds enter them from the rear, and have a door in front which is opened for gathering eggs.

When planting unhulled sweet clover seed, sow it in late fall, winter or early spring. Plant the seed late enough in the fall so it can not germinate before spring. The action of moisture and frost breaks the seed coat and the seed will sprout with the warm weather in spring. Unhulled seed is cheaper than hulled or scarified seed and may be seeded more liberally.

Late fall is one of the best times to destroy pocket gophers. You may catch them with the special traps now on the market, or poison them with a vegetable or grain bait. For ridding alfalfa fields, orchards, or ditch embankments of this pest, poisoning is the most practical method. Place the baits in the main runways, at two points in each system of from 10 to 30 mounds, which is usually the home of one pocket gopher.

Farm wages on October 1st were at the lowest level since April, 1923, because of poor crop prospects, farm products price declines, and the fact that the supply of farm hands is more than 40 per cent in excess of the demand, says the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, U. S. department of agriculture. "The supply is in excess of the demand in all geographical sections, ranging from 24 per cent in the North Atlantic states to 50 per cent in the east north central states."

Haul and load alfalfa hay for market only in fair weather, advises the U. S. department of agriculture. In fall or winter much alfalfa hay that was properly cured and sweated arrives at the market wet, damp, or hot, because it got wet in hauling or loading. Hay wet or dampened in this way sometimes heats and molds when packed tight in box cars, even though freezing temperatures prevail while it is in transit.

Immunization is the only means of preventing hog cholera, according to Dr. U. G. Houck, hog-cholera expert of the U. S. department of agriculture. This preventive treatment is especially important when there is an outbreak of the disease in a community. In cases where the vitality of the hogs in a herd has been lowered by insufficient feeding, parasites, inclement weather, or subviral diseases, it may be advisable to give the serum alone to protect the animals temporarily and then give the virus-serum treatment after they have regained normal condition, says Doctor Houck. Hogs should be immunized at the first sign of cholera in a community.

The best time of year to select breeding turkeys is in November or December, before most of them are sold for the Thanksgiving and Christmas markets. Good breeders have large frames, a broad back, and deep body with full, well-rounded breast. Other points of importance are a full, bright eye, a broad head, and stout legs set well apart and not too long. Above all, choose birds that are vigorous. In the north, turkeys need covered roosting sheds during the winter months. They can stand considerable cold but should not be exposed to dampness.

Dormant Sprays

Spraying during the dormant period of the trees is the best remedy for the San Jose scale, one of the serious orchard pests of the country. Lime-sulphur sprays, petroleum sprays, and soap washes are effective against this pest. Spray the trees in late fall after the foliage is off, in the winter, or in spring before the foliage appears. It is usually desirable to prune infested trees severely, to simplify the work of spraying and to promote new growth of non-infested wood.

Quick Frozen Poultry

A new method of marketing frozen poultry by preparing it full drawn has come into considerable use in the last few years, says the bureau of agricultural economics, U. S. department of agriculture. After the poultry is dressed, the head, feet, and entrails are removed, and the giblets are cleaned, wrapped in parchment or waxed paper, and replaced. Then the whole carcass is frozen by a quick process and marketed in a frozen state. It is thought that the meat is sweeter and finer flavored than when the entrails are not removed and removal of the inedible parts saves freight.

Treated Posts Last Longer

By treating with coal-tar creosote, short-lived woods such as soft maple, beech, sweet gum, young or sap pine, and red oak may be made more durable for use as posts and poles on the farm. The longer life of the treated wood and the possibility of using some of the cheap and inferior kinds more than offset the cost of treatment, says the forest service. Timber should be peeled three or four months before treatment and should become thoroughly seasoned. Keep the butts of the posts for one or two hours in creosote heated to 180 degrees to 220 degrees F., treating the wood to about a foot above where it will meet the surface of the ground. In a southern climate, the whole post should then be put into cold oil, 80 degrees to 100 degrees F., for one or two hours. In northern climates, where decay is less rapid, the cold treatment is applied usually to the butts only, the tops being treated by painting or dipping in creosote.

CAMPBELL'S

SCHOOL NEWS

"Those who bring sunshine into the lives of others cannot keep it from themselves."—Sir J. M. Barrie.

The school notes have been edited by: Angie Scott, Doris Gleason, Ruby Supernaw, Helen Meyers, Wayne Belding.

Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving vacation! Rah! Rah! Rah! The freshmen are smacking their lips and the seniors are trying to appear unmoved. But then, who wouldn't celebrate with a vacation in the horizon? We hear that some members of the school are on a 13 day diet, so as to have sufficient room for turkey. We hope you get the wish-bone.

The teachers are almost in tears at the thought of losing us for a few days. Don't worry, though, we'll come back with the same smiling faces and studious visages as of old. By the way, we hear that it is best to lower the eyebrows if you wish to give the impression of concentration. Of course, we can't vouch for the truth of that statement, but we would recommend those seeking further information to see Dorothy Struthers.

Jesting aside, we really wish you a pleasant Thanksgiving vacation, and hope to see you next Monday.

Pep Club

The high school has organized a Pep club. The purpose of this club is to try to put more life in the high school, give ideas for pep meetings and take charge of the Christmas program.

The officers are: President, Bob Foster; secretary, Lola Fessenden; treasurer, Angie Scott.

The charter members are: Bob Foster, Robert McCall, John Winder, Mary Simmons, Angie Scott, Lola Fessenden, Bill Novak, Stanley Cartier, George LaBlanc.

New members taken in are: Wayne Belding, George Smith, Bernice Lamphear, Ethel Powers, Howard Davenport.

Junior Play

The junior class will present "The Goose Hangs High" on December 5.

The members of the staff in charge of the play are as follows: Business manager, Joe Arvilla; stage director, Stanley Cartier; assistant stage directors, Margaret Smith and Myrtle Kelderhouse; electrician, David Dick; costumer, Dorothy Griffen.

Following is the cast of characters:

Bernard Ingals.....Levi Gibelyou
Eunice Ingals.....Gladys McGinnis
Leo Derby.....Ralph Lemieux
Neo Day.....Norman Ance
Rhoda.....Dorothy Griffin
Julia Murdoch.....Mary Orlovski
Mrs. Bradley.....Lilace Johnston
Hugh Ingals.....Howard Davenport
Ronald Murdoch.....Keith Kerr
Lois Ingals.....Esther Brady
Bradley Ingals.....Dan Geneit
Dagmore Carroll.....Kathleen McCall
Elliot Kimberley.....Richard McCann
And last, but not least, Dazzler, the dog.

The theme of this play is the beauty of a family love and loyalty which is strong enough to surmount any crisis. Parents and children alike will find not only pleasing entertainment, but also much food for thought.

The play has been given with great success in many schools and theatres throughout the country and

DR. CARL'S DISCOVERY STOPS GAS, CONSTIPATION

In his private practice, Dr. Carl Weschke first perfected the simple mixture now known as Adlerika. Unlike most remedies, Adlerika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel and removes old poisons you would never believe were in your system. Stops GAS bloating in 10 minutes! Relieves chronic constipation in 2 hours! Let Adlerika give your stomach and bowels a REAL cleaning and see how good you feel! It will surprise you! F. J. Fessenden, druggist.

STOMACH PAINS QUICKLY ENDED BY NEW KONJOLA

Illness of Lifetime Presents No Problem for Famed Compound—Detroit Man Enthusiastic

MR. ERNEST DIONNE

"A plasterer by trade, it is necessary for me to keep feeling fit," said Mr. Ernest Dionne, 498 Vernor Highway, West Detroit. "This has been practically impossible for me because I have suffered from stomach trouble for the past twenty years. In fact, I have been handicapped by a weak stomach all my life. I have lived in Detroit since 1923 and during those years, and for many years previous, I tried many medicines and treatments but none helped me."

"I read of Konjola and its merits in the local papers. I can truthfully say that it has relieved me of all my stomach disorders. I am glad to tell all my friends about Konjola and I am certainly happy to recommend it to all who suffer."

Konjola is a medicine that, when given a fair trial of from six to eight bottles, will make sufferers from ailments of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness. Every day of delay means just an added day of suffering.

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix, Mich., at F. J. Fessenden's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

gives promise of success in Charlevoix. A record-breaking crowd is expected on account of the unusual character of the play.

Now for a brief resume. The family is constituted of the mother and father, their son, Hugh, and the twins, Lois and Bradley. Hugh is occupied by business in New York, while the twins are attending college. Some of the politicians in their home town are conspiring against Bernard Ingals, the father, trying to force his resignation from his position. If he does, it will mean that the twins will have to discontinue their studies at college.

Fire Drill

Each month the grade school has been having a fire drill. Last week they cleared the building in 50 seconds, which is a very good record. So far they have been improving each time. What record will they make next?

Dramatic Club

The Dramatic club held a meeting last Tuesday and discussed the lighting of a stage. Plans were also started for their program to be given some time in March. This program will consist of scenes from Shakespeare under original settings and costumes.

Thanksgiving Baskets

The school children are happily assisting the W. C. T. U. by assembling food for the Thanksgiving baskets to be given to the poor. Each child has been asked to contribute a fruit and a vegetable and anything else that he wishes. At present supplies are coming in fast. Mrs. C. Hart, representing the W. C. T. U., and Miss French, with the assistance of Mr. Ross, will distribute the baskets on Wednesday afternoon.

Camp Fire Girls Hike to Oyster Bay
Miss Button and Miss Bodfish accompanied the Camp Fire girls on an over-night camp trip to Oyster Bay. The girls hiked out Saturday afternoon and returned Sunday morning. In spite of its being cold the girls weathered it well, making the cabins comfortable with their many blankets.

Debate

Our Charlevoix debating team met strong opponents from Onaway Friday night, November 21. This was our last home debate and we proved victorious, the votes being two for the affirmative and one for the negative. At the previous debate between Onaway and Alba, Onaway received the unanimous vote as did Charlevoix with Boyne City team.

Junior High

The English classes of Miss Milner have observed national book week, November 16 to 22. Posters and book lists on various subjects for pupils of various grades were made.

Modern History

The Modern history classes have written 100-word character sketches of Napoleon as a summary of their study of the French revolution.

American Problems

There seems to be danger of a revival meeting as two of our leading young men (at least so far as size is concerned), David Coulter and Bill Novak, voluntarily came forward to the front seats without an invitation having been issued.

COUNTY NORMAL NEWS

The first of a series of health lectures under the auspices of the state department of health was presented on Wednesday, November 19, by Miss Hutzel, who gave a most interesting talk on "Social Hygiene."

The other lectures will be given as follows:

December 3—Dr. Case, "Inspection of School Children?"

December 10—Dr. Snow, "New Course of State Health Education for Rural Schools."

December 17—Miss Lurtis, "Organized Play Periods."

January 14—Dr. Davis, "Mouth Hygiene."

January 24—Miss Turner, "Visual Aids in Teaching Health."

The normal department extends a cordial invitation to anyone who may be interested, to attend any or all of these lectures. So far as is known, they will occur from 10:30 to 11:30 a. m., and 2:30 to 3:30 p. m.

The second social event of this year occurred on Saturday evening, November 22, when Miss Bigge and Mrs. Dick entertained the normal class of 1930 and 1931 in honor of Mrs. Andrus, who graduates at the close of the first term, November 26.

Numbers on the program were presented by members of both classes, also by Mr. Otterbein, Mr. Palmer, and Mrs. Dick.

A program extending throughout the past week was conducted by Miss Spanish in observance of book week. The normal class has been busy writing lesson plans for their teaching, to begin next week.

The normal class has made a rather unsuccessful attempt at reading an Austrian newspaper brought to them by Mr. Blanchard.

Even though this as a rather short school week, the normal students find it advantageous to do their best as it closes their first term of work. Those who thought the last of exams were left in high school are rather surprised to find themselves in the midst of this much-used check-up.

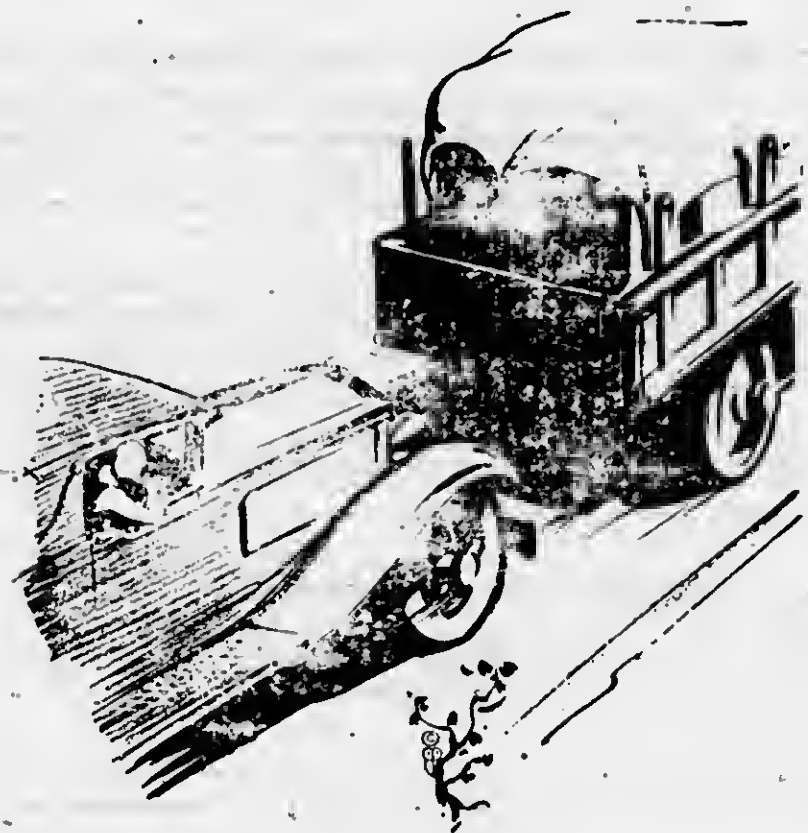

Training Room News

The third grade, under the direction of Miss Bigge, have completed their Thanksgiving dinner project. Students and teachers wish to express appreciation to Korth's and Jacob's grocery stores for the consideration and courtesy extended the young shoppers.

The sixth grade arithmetic thermometer is rising in favor of the girls over the boys.

During book week, much interest was aroused in reading good literature. Cartoons, illustrating the value of good books and encouraging reading, were placed in various places in the room. Under the direction of Miss Spanish a short program was conducted on Friday afternoon in observance of book week, in which the students took an active part. At the close of the program a neat outline, in which to keep a brief account of new books read, were given them.

PARKS VISITED BY OVER 8,891,000

SEASON OF 1930 SHOWS THEIR GREAT POPULARITY

Michigan Residents Constituted 128,
906 With 25,519 Out of State
Visitors

Michigan's 52 state parks open to the public during the 1930 season were visited by 8,891,000 people.

This figure, included in a report submitted to Director George R. Hargrath of the department of conservation by the parks division shows a 19 per cent increase over the 1929 season just closed. During the season just closed there were 154,425 campers at the parks, representing an increase of 11 per cent over the previous year. The totals represent those visiting the parks until October 1, when compilation ceased.

Michigan residents constituted 128,906 of the campers listed with 25,519 out of state visitors. As in past years Ohio continued to contribute the largest number of non-resident campers, with 9,268 from that state; Illinois second with 6,390 campers; Indiana third with 4,556; and Wisconsin and Canada tied for fourth place, each sending 1,028. Other states having considerable representations at the parks were: California, 326; Florida, 211; Iowa, 234; Minnesota, 275; New York, 327; Pennsylvania, 409.

Campers built 44,257 camps during the year at one or another of the state parks with the Bay City state park far in the lead. This park reported 16,418 campers for the season.

Forty-seven states were represented among the visitors and campers at the parks this year. One camping party of four registered from Peru.

In three years Michigan's state parks have shown an increase in attendance of almost 300 per cent. In 1925 the parks division reported a total attendance of 2,539,672 visitors. The next year it had increased to 3,509,425. In 1927 it was 5,107,487, and in 1928 5,345,411. Last year's attendance was 7,454,741.

The increase in attendance at the parks this year has been fairly consistent in parks located in all parts of the state. P. J. Hoffmaster, superintendent of state parks, said in presenting his report. "This same thing occurred last year. Some of the parks are reaching their saturation points, especially in the southeast part of the state and the parks division is now engaged in surveying areas in that part of the state for possible park sites which will offer an outlet for the continued increase in popularity of the parks."

The figures for nearby parks for 1930 are as follows:

Burt Lake state park, Cheboygan county, number visitors, 59,966; number campers, 4,922.

Cheboygan state park, Cheboygan county, number visitors, 15,275; number campers, 3,002.

Magnus state park, Emmet county, number visitors, 16,310; number campers, 6,239.

Wilderness state park, Emmet county, number visitors, 8,556; number campers, 72.

Young state park, Charlevoix county, number visitors, 56,350; number campers, 1,078.

METHODIST NOTES

Divine worship is at 10:30 next Sunday morning. The sermon will be "The Larger Christ." Sermons are important in our services, but worship is more important. "Come and Worship." Bring an extra offering to our White Cross fund for the Breckon hospital and its benevolent work.

Church school is at 12:00 noon. Epworth League is at 6:00 p. m. Evening service at 7:00 p. m. We shall sit at the feet of Kagawa, Japan's greatest Christian, while he talks about Christianity as we live it in the west.

Next Thursday Mrs. Otterbein entertains the Literary and Sewing club. We hope to begin with our studies in Browning at this date.

The Missionary meeting will be with Mrs. P. D. Campbell on River avenue, next Wednesday at 2:30. Bring a Thank offering.

The union Thanksgiving service will be in the Baptist church on Thursday morning at 9:00, and the address will be given by Rev. John E. Lockyer of the Methodist church. The invitation to this service is city-wide. Let us take the President's proclamation seriously.

SMALL CYCLONE HITS AT ROARING BROOK

Tears Up Large Trees by Roots—Blocks Lower Road Misses Cottages

On Sunday night last a twister came north from off the bay and left havoc in its short path. It came in between the Roaring Brook dock and the Taylor private dock to the east.

Several large trees near the side walk were uprooted, in places taking the sidewalk with them. For some unknown reason the young cyclone passed safely alongside the Fannie Pratt cottage and the D. P. Thorpe cottage taking everything in a path of about 30 yards, but leaving the cottages unscathed. A large tree at each end of the Pratt cottage was uprooted, each just scraping the gable of the cottage without doing damage.

Several trees, of about 75 feet in height and 30 inches through were felled to the north and completely blocked the lower Roaring Brook road. All of the trees show evidence of having been twisted, some of the smaller ones being hurled some distance after being twisted in two several feet above the ground.

The wind then moved up on the hill and razed several large trees on the Searles property. The trees which gave toll to the cyclone were hemlocks, birch, cedar, maple and beech. This is the first storm of its kind to strike this locality in many years and it was confined to a very small area. No damage was done to any of the cottages in the district which the wind invaded.

BONDHOLDERS BID IN RAMONA PARK HOTEL

$84,000.00 Figure Involved in Sale of Harbor Springs Hostelry

Although several prospective bidders were present at the sale of the Ramona Park hotel and property, only one bid was placed and that was one of $84,000.00 by Attorney Benj. Halstead acting for the committee representing the bondholders. The sale was consummated on November 8th, after proper legal notice had been given.

Six months must elapse, before possession can be had. During this interim the title-holders, the Ramona Park Hotel Corporation and Traverse Shores holding company may redeem. The original bond issue was $70,000, $4,000 of which has been paid. The sum represented includes accumulated interest, taxes, insurance and legal expense.

W. J. Clarke is trustee for the bondholders and the bondholders' committee consists of Homer Sly, W. G. McCune and Leon Chichester.

THE NEW INSTANT LIGHT

Aladdin

For many years the old-style open flame oil light was the only light available for homes without electricity and the damage to the eyes of millions for which it is responsible cannot be told in dollars and cents. It's a small wonder then that the new Instant-Light Aladdin kerosene (coal-oil) lamp with its abundance of pure white light, with its amazing economy, its absolute safety, its astonishing simplicity, has won its way into the homes and hearts of over 7,000,000 of users throughout the world.

ANOTHER ROBBER SUSPECT JAILED

JOHN SCHULTZ, OF CHANDLER
TWP., ARRESTED THURSDAY

Thought Accomplice of Trio Who Shot Boyne City Night Watchman; Gang Admits Many Jobs

Through information gained from Clark Fruley, William McGuire and Jake Patten, bandit trio who a week ago Sunday slugged and shot John Schult, Boyne City night watchman, Sheriff Dave Vaughan and Deputy Marshall arrested John Schult, Chandler township, last Thursday. In Schult's cabin and in caches nearby was found a quantity of contraband stolen by the bandits.

While officers do not believe Schult took an active part in the operations of the gang, they suspect him as being aware of their activities and also providing a rendezvous for the trio. Schult has a prison record. At the present time he is out on parole from Jackson, where he was sentenced from Saginaw to serve 3 to 15 years for robbery. He is being held in jail here.

Further confessions of Fruley, McGuire and Patten have cleared up a number of robberies which have had officers mystified for several weeks. In all, they have broken into 19 cottages, eight on Walloon lake, four on Lake Charlevoix, two on Torch lake, two near Bellaire and three at Charlevoix. Business places entered include the cheese factory, Shell Oil station and Cooperative warehouse at East Jordan, three business places at Bellaire and one each at Charlevoix and Boyne City. The trio stole and stripped two automobiles, one taken at Potoskey and the other at Boyne City.

A large portion of the goods taken in the many robberies has been recovered and returned to its owners. In most instances the contraband was of small value, being largely along the line of camping equipment.

The bandit trio will likely be sentenced within a short time. It is understood a special session of court will be called for the purpose.

THANKSGIVING DIN- NER PLEASANT FETE

Mr. and Mrs. Ray O'Brien Entertained Group Thursday

Mr. and Mrs. Ray O'Brien entertained a large group of friends with a well planned Thanksgiving dinner at their home last Thursday.

The table was prettily decorated, the main attraction, of course, being the large turkey.

Following dinner the evening was spent in playing cards and listening to a group of musical selections played by Mrs. O'Brien, the hostess.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Albert O'Brien, George O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. James A. O'Brien, Edward and Jimmie O'Brien, Ernest O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. Medrick Waffle, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pearl, Mrs. Bessie Hamlin, Tom Linn and Dick Cooper.

LOCAL MAN WOUNDS BUCK; BEAR INTER- CEDES, BOTH HIKE

Raymond "Candy" Nowland, who Sunday went east for the final day of the deer hunting season, came back with the prize story of the year even though minus the venison he sought.

During the day's hunt, Ray shot and wounded a big buck. He did not go after his prize immediately, thinking it better to let the deer lay down and die undisturbed. So he sat on a log and waited.

After sufficient time had elapsed, Ray started toward the spot where the buck had fallen. In his path was a large dead fall. Up and over the top he started. About mid-way over the heap the bottom fell out. A mighty growl and roar ensued from beneath and out went a big black bear. Ray's not so sure but what he stepped on the animal's back, for his feet went out from under him in a most sudden fashion. He was unable to shoot from such an awkward position, and, despite the fact Bruin was trailed for several miles, he got away. So did the buck.

"Candy" will vouch for that saying: "That's War in Them Thar Hills." "That Bear Mak Heem Tam Mad."

LOCAL COUPLE WED AT HARBOR SPRINGS

Miss Wilma Wagner and Albert Novotny United Saturday

At a quiet wedding held in Harbor Springs last Saturday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, Miss Wilma Irene Wagner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wagner, was united in marriage to Albert Novotny, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Novotny.

Rev. John W. Alexander, pastor of the Harbor Springs Methodist church, officiated at the ceremony, which was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Taylor, who attended the bridal couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Novotny are both well and favorably known in Charlevoix, their homes since childhood. Both attended local schools and Mrs. Novotny graduated with the class of 1926. For the past three years she has been assistant to D. S. Payton, deputy city clerk. Mr. Novotny has been employed at the Cross oil station for some time.

The couple will reside at the E. E. Cross residence, 501 Potoskey avenue, and have the best wishes of their many friends.

PYTHIAN SISTERS PLAN ACTIVITIES

ARRANGEMENTS FOR ANNUAL
XMAS PARTY UNDER WAY

Lodge Sponsoring Drive for Discarded Toys and Clothing—Will Distribute to Needy

Attention of local Pythian Sisters is called to a meeting of that order to be held at the K. of P. hall next Wednesday evening, December 10.

Several important matters are to be called before the lodge, among them being the annual Christmas party. Preliminary plans promise that this delightful affair will be different than in previous years. While primarily for children of K. of P. and Pythian Sister members, the party will be thrown open to other children who might not have the opportunity of attending a party during the holiday season.

Pythian Sisters are also planning to make a canvass for discarded and broken toys and clothing. They will be mended by members of the two affiliating lodges and then distributed to children of the community. Members having such items they wish to contribute are asked to bring them to the next meeting. Others are urged to join in the move and contributions may be left at Bartlett's store or call Mrs. Nellie Hammond, phone 316.

With only two more weeks remaining, interest in the membership campaign is running high. Mrs. Viola Ranger is chairman of the committee in charge of the next meeting, and it is expected an unusual program will be the order.

FARMERS' WEEK PRO- GRAM FEBRUARY 2-6

Near Record Crowd Expected to Attend Event at M. S. C.

Farmers' Week, an annual exposition at Michigan State college at which members of more than thirty Michigan agricultural organizations gather for their annual meetings, will be held February 2 to 6, 1931, it was announced.

The dates correspond with those of many former years, experience having shown this mid-winter season to be the most suitable for rural conferences. Crowds of more than 5,000 gathered from all over the state, have attended recent Farmers' weeks and plans are being made to accommodate a near-record assemblage this year.

CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY ON THANKSGIVING DAY

Mrs. Henry Walker entertained a large group of friends and relatives at her home Thanksgiving day. The party was given in honor of Mr. Walker, whose 68th birthday anniversary fell on that day. Among the guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Will Seegmiller of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Shanks of Grand Rapids, also several friends from Charlevoix, and a sister from Vanderbilt. The occasion was a very enjoyable one.

The ladies of the Church of God will hold a bake sale and Christmas bazaar at Staley Bros. Hardware, Saturday, December 6.—Adv. 4911.

RED CROSS DRIVE WAS SUCCESSFUL

RETURNS LIGHTER THAN LAST YEAR, BUT GRATIFYING

Junior Red Cross Made Especially Good Showing—General Response Was Splendid

Results of the annual Red Cross Roll Call, which closed Thanksgiving day, have been announced by Mrs. Adah Beeman, roll call chairman.

While returns were somewhat smaller this year than last, they were very gratifying considering conditions. This year an agreement between the American Red Cross and the National Tuberculosis association provided that the annual roll call should close on Thanksgiving day, and that no Christmas seals should be sold until the day following. Roll call chairmen were asked to cooperate by strict adherence to the letter of the agreement. Because of the fact there was no house-to-house canvass and also on account of the limited time, returns were smaller.

The Junior Red Cross, under the leadership of Miss Helen French, and the personal work of the teachers in the various rooms, deserves special attention. This division includes junior high, training room, kindergarten, first, second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades, and three grades of the Parochial school.

Following is the result of the drive:

Membership	$66.00
Junior Red Cross	15.71
Teachers' membership	10.00
Total	$91.71

Members of the committee, composed of Mrs. John Burns, Mrs. E. L. Dawson, Mrs. Archie Belding, Mrs. A. J. Usher, Mrs. James Simmons, Mrs. Albin Smith and Mrs. Adah Beeman, chairman, appreciate the loyalty shown and wish to thank the Charlevoix Hardware Co. for pleasant headquarters arranged for them, and all who worked for the success of the drive.

JUNIOR CLASS PRE- SENT PLAY FRIDAY

"The Goose Hangs High" to be Given at School Gymnasium

Charlevoix high school juniors hold the center of the entertainment stage this week. On Friday evening, at the gymnasium, they will present their annual play, "The Goose Hangs High."

The play is heralded as one especially enjoyable at the approach of the holiday season, as the action takes place immediately preceding and following Christmas. The mother and father, the dear aristocratic old grandmother, the rolicking twins, and their older brother are a family with whom all will be glad to become acquainted.

The executive staff of the class is paying particular attention to the setting of the stage and lighting effects, and hopes that this production will be entirely pleasing to the patrons of the school.

OFFICIAL CHOOSES LITTLE SIX TEAMS

CHARLEVOIX HIGH SCHOOL IS AWARDED THREE POSITIONS

John Ferenz, Traverse City, Picked Bradley of Harbor as Captain of His First Squad

Following close of the 1930 football season, Northern Michigan officials who have been in close contact with teams of this region have made their choice of the mythical, all-star eleven.

John Ferenz of Traverse City, who refereed a greater portion of games between teams of the Tip of Michigan class C conference, has made his selections, and, believing him better informed than others, we republish his first and second squads with the belief that he has chosen them impartially and from a standpoint of performance only.

Harbor Springs, conference champions, have been awarded three positions on the first team and one on the second. Boyne City, the runner-up, has two on the first and three on the second. Gaylord high is honored with three places on the first team and two on the second. On the first squad, Charlevoix, Manelona and East Jordan each have one position, while on the second Charlevoix has two, Manelona an equal number and East Jordan one. Bradley, Harbor Springs' flashy captain and fullback, has been selected captain of the first squad.

Charlevoix's selection on the mythical first team is Arvilla, considered one of Northern Michigan's leading fullbacks. Foster, one of the local quarterback on the second team and Stutzman was given a guard position.

Following is the Ferenz selection:

First Team
F. Johnson, lc, Manelona.
L. Backus, lt, Harbor Springs.
M. Booth, lg, Harbor Springs.
R. Gunderson, c, East Jordan.
E. Warner, rg, Gaylord.
D. Rogers, rt, Gaylord.
J. White, re, Boyne City.
M. Rouse, q, Boyne City.
J. Bradley, lb, Harbor Springs, captain.

J. Criski, rh, Gaylord.
J. Arvilla, fb, Charlevoix.

Second Team
Noirot, lc, Gaylord.
Tompkins, lt, Boyne City.
Stutzman, lg, Charlevoix.
Alldred, c, Boyne City.
Drake, rg, Gaylord.
Besnw, rt, Manelona.
Somerville, re, East Jordan.
Foster, q, Charlevoix.
Makel, rh, Manelona.
Daybird, lb, Harbor Springs.
Doyle, f, Boyne City.

ELEMENTARY GRADES GIVE CANNED GOODS

Many Families Remembered During Thanksgiving Holiday Week

Pupils of the elementary grades of the public school contributed quantities of canned goods for distribution at Thanksgiving time, and as a result 14 families were remembered.

The children, teachers and a committee from the W. C. T. U. cooperated in the undertaking, and Rollie Ross donated the use of a truck for delivery.

The ladies of the Church of God will hold a bake sale and Christmas bazaar at Staley Bros. Hardware, Saturday, December 6.—Adv. 4911.

LITERARY CLUB FORM- ED BY BURGESS GROUP

Officers Elected at Last Nutrition Meeting November 20

The Burgess Nutrition club met last Thursday, November 20, with Mrs. Gilbert Ferris. Eighteen members and two visitors were present. Mrs. Amandus Evers and Mrs. Fred Willis took up the subject, "Use of Time." At this meeting, the final one for the nutrition club, a literary club to be known as the Burgess Literary club, was organized. Officers elected were: President, Mrs. George Burns; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Milo Kane; librarian, Mrs. Fred Willis.

The club will take up a course of reading from the state library. The first meeting will be held in January.

A Correction.

In last week's issue we stated Wilfred Browne was implicated with Raymond Dodd in the robbery of the Shell Oil station and Northern Auto company garage. Since that time we have been informed that he had no part in the Northern Auto company robbery, and therefore hasten to correct the error.

ARRESTED THIRD TIME IN AS MANY MONTHS

Henry Sullivan, Cross Village Fishermen, Claims They Cut His Pond Nets in Each Complaint

Charles Martin and Carl Left, Beaver Islanders, are reposing in the county jail again for the time being.

For the third time in as many months, they have been arrested on complaint of Henry Sullivan, Cross Village, who claims the pair cut his pond nets near Hog Island. Martin and Left were first arrested September 9th for an offense said to have been committed September 2. They waived examination, furnished bond for their appearance at the October session of circuit court and were released.

Again on October 29th, while court was in session, they were arrested the second time for a similar offense claimed to have been perpetrated June 27, 1930. Prosecuting Attorney Rollie L. Lewis brought them to trial on the second count. They asked for a continuance which was granted and were released to the March term of court upon their own reconnaissance with the previous bond still holding good.

The third arrest occurred Saturday, November 29th. Sullivan claims they cut his nets again November 8th and is said to have two witnesses to the act. The pair were brought to Charlevoix after their arrest by Deputy Sheriff John Tully of Beaver Island, and are being held in jail for hearing.

They have demanded examination, which was first set for 10:00 o'clock Wednesday morning. Because of the inability of Sullivan to arrive here Wednesday morning, examination was postponed until the same afternoon, but had not been held as we go to press. In case Martin and Left are bound over to circuit court, Prosecuting Attorney Lewis will ask for additional bond.

POLAR BEARS WON THEIR FIRST TILT

DEFEAT PETOSKEY CEMENTS
BY 20 TO 8 COUNT

Meet Tougher Opposition Against Ellsworth Packers Here Next Monday Evening

Charlevoix's Polar Bear basketball quintet opened their 1930-31 season at the local gymnasium last Thursday evening with a 20 to 8 win over the Petoskey Portland Cement company eagles from Petoskey.

While the local aggregation showed plainly lack of condition after only several days of practice, they repeatedly opened with spurts of that tremendous speed and scoring power that has carried them through two undefeated seasons in northern Michigan "competition" and marked them one of the strong independent quintets in Michigan.

The Polar Bears got away to an early lead and were never headed throughout the remainder of the contest. At the half they were leading 11 to 3. The final two periods lacked the speed of the opening cantos, the boys showing lack of condition as the game progressed. However, they garnered 9 more points to five for the visitors and romped through the contest to an easy victory.

Brown, lanky Polar Bear center, led his team in scoring. He made a total of 10 points through four field goals and a pair of free tosses. Davenport followed with a trio of baskets and Kipke furnished the other goal. Ikens and Cooper each missed two free tosses and Davenport one. For Petoskey, Earnst made a basket and two free tosses, Murray a goal and a free one, and Campbell one foul. Hugh Mayne refereed the contest satisfactorily.

The Polar Bears stacked up against tougher opposition next Monday night when they meet the fast-traveling Ellsworth Packers on the local floor. This Ellsworth outfit boasting several former northern Michigan class D champions, have already marked up a couple of victories and will have an edge as far as practice is concerned. "We look for a mighty good game."

EAST JORDAN FOUN- DRY GETS CONTRACT

Has Sufficient Orders to Insure Winter Operation

East Jordan residents are jubilant over an announcement that the East Jordan Iron Works has received sufficient orders to insure operation a greater part of the winter.

Recent contracts signed for a large quantity of fire hydrants valves and water works specials will keep the foundry, East Jordan's lone industrial plant, busy for some time to come, and will insure work for many residents.

CHILDREN'S FUND COM- MITTEE MET TUESDAY

Dr. Carlton Dean, head of the Children's Fund of Michigan, held a meeting for physicians and nurses of the northern Michigan group comprising Charlevoix, Emmet, Antrim and Osego counties, at the Hotel Charlevoix Tuesday afternoon. Details concerning work to be accomplished in this territory were discussed.

BENEVOLENT AFFILI- ATING COMMITTEES ARRANGE MEETINGS

Final arrangements for meetings of the several groups which have joined in the work of the recently organized Benevolent committee, whose purpose is to aid Charlevoix's needy during the winter months, have been made.

On the second Wednesday of each month, the Congregational Mary Brewster Circle and Christian Science ladies will meet from 2:00 until 4:30. Ladies of the Baptist church meet during the same hours on the second Wednesday of each month. Methodist ladies meet the second Thursday. Church of God ladies the third Thursday and Catholic and Episcopal ladies the fourth Thursday.

All requests for clothing are to be sent to the committee, to a member of any church committee affiliated with the Benevolent committee, or to teachers or superintendent of schools. Clothing will be received and distributed on the days mentioned above.

CORRESPONDENCE

NORWOOD

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Holeccheck and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holeccheck were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ferril of Eastport.

Frank Holeccheck and his hunting partner returned from the north woods on a deer hunting trip last week, also Jake Ypma returned Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Holeccheck of Pontiac, visited relatives here a couple of days last week. Mrs. Holeccheck is a teacher in one of the schools in Pontiac.

Oscar Teboe, accompanied by his son-in-law, Mr. Bnatz, motored to Lima, Ohio, where they are visiting Mr. Teboe's sister, who is in poor health. They expect to visit relatives in Indiana and Michigan on their trip home.

Mrs. George Whitley of Charlevoix visited at the Holeccheck home while Mr. Whitley was on a deer hunting trip. Mr. Whitley returned Friday evening, bringing home a fine buck deer which he captured the second day of his hunt.

Word has been received here of the death of Lew Owens, which occurred last Wednesday night at Marquette, Mich. Mr. Owens was married to Miss Dora Carmen, a Norwood girl, and for a number of years lived here, bringing up their family. Mr. Owens was employed at the saw mill and still continued at the same occupation after moving north. He is a highly respected citizen, by all who knew him and will be greatly missed in our locality, as he and members of his family enjoyed a summer vacation at the Carmen cottage in Norwood.

A Dollar will buy more merchandise today at Benjamin Brown's than ever before. See adv. on page 4.—Adv. 4911.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the Central Drug Store, the Rexall store.

"KONJOLA EARNS PRAISE IT GETS"

New and Different Medicine Quickly Conquers Rheumatism and Neuritis in This Case

MRS. MYRTIE STILSON

"I had indigestion, gas, bloating, and cramps," said Mrs. Myrtie Stilson, 317 Townsend avenue, Lansing. "My liver was torpid, and I had spots before my eyes, bilious attacks, and dizzy spells. Rheumatism and lumbago added to my misery. Often I was unable to work. Neuritis pains in my shoulders felt like someone was gouging a knife into my nerves. I tried many medicines but in vain. 'The third bottle of Konjola convinced me that I had found the right medicine. This was two years ago, but I shall never forget the relief that Konjola gave me. Konjola certainly earns all the praise it gets.'"

Results are what sufferers want, and Konjola has brought amazing relief in tens of thousands of cases. What it has done for others it can do for you. Secure a treatment right now... today... and start taking Konjola. The results will astound you.

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix, Michigan, at F. J. Fessenden's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Real winter the past week—and cold.

Donald Senneker has been on the sick list the past week.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Postmus, Thursday, a boy.

H. J. Timmer and son William were in Central Lake Tuesday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. John Goeman visited with Mr. and Mrs. Jay Kuiper Wednesday evening.

John DeGroot of Maple Villa, called on his father, Harke DeGroot, Tuesday afternoon.

August Postmus and two daughters are visiting friends and relatives in Grand Rapids at present.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Oosterbaan and family were Thanksgiving dinner guests at the home of their parents.

Married, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Kuiper, Friday evening.

November 28, William Timmer and Miss Maggie Van der Heide, Rev. B. H. Einik of Ellsworth, officiated.

The young couple need no introduction as they are well known and have grown up in this locality. They will make their future home on the farm one mile south of Ellsworth. Congratulations.

BURGESS SCHOOL

We have a new family in our neighborhood.

Susan Lake is frozen, but skating is not very good as yet.

We received our Christmas seals and the children are busily selling them. Help them out by buying a few.

Burgess school is going to have a Christmas program Friday, December 19. We have not decided if it is to be in the afternoon or evening. Watch the paper for further announcements.

A surprise party was given at the Evers' home Saturday, the occasion being Barbara Evers' thirteenth birthday. There were 28 children present. Ice cream and cake were served. Barbara received many beautiful presents.

CENTRAL LAKE

More snow, cold and blizzards. James Dawson and helpers are buzzing wood.

Mr. Box has returned from hunting near Gaylord.

Ed. Yettaw has finished laying water pipes to his barn, also painting his house.

Guy Morse and wife left by train Monday for St. Cloud, Florida, where they will spend the winter.

Manless McGuire has finished moving his farm and household goods on to the farm purchased of Effie Peck, known as the Ed. Boice farm.

Eben Dawson has moved his livestock to the Harry Clark farm for the winter, but is still living in the O. R. Morse residence.

Reads are getting quite a lot of snow on them, but up to Sunday snow plows had not been through on M-88. Plows have been traversing U. S. 31 regularly the past two weeks.

Mrs. Verd Carpenter, teacher at Bay View, is now having her husband drive the car and take her to school. Wilmer Morse, who has been riding out with her is stopping in the district now.

O. R. Morse and family returned Thursday from Lansing. Mrs. Morse's father, Lyman Cobb, passed away at Charlotte a week ago Saturday, following a stroke of paralysis. He had been staying with his son Eldon.

The Sunday school will give a social hour next Friday evening at 5:30 standard time. Everybody is invited to this, their first meeting. The meeting will be held at the town hall. After the games a pot-luck supper will be served. At 7:30 the people will assemble at the church for a sermon by Rev. Kendall, and Sunday school.

Rev. A. C. Kendall, daughter Eleanor, and J. W. Morse, went to Norwood Friday evening to attend Bible school. Although it was snowing and cold there were 19 people gathered at the school for Sunday school. The Young Peoples' class elected their officers Friday evening as follows: President, Miss Marjorie Richardson; Secretary, Bessie Baumbach; Assistant, Beatrice Baumbach; treasurer, Nelson Kirby.

BAY SHORE

Next on the program will be Xmas shopping and Xmas trees.

Clarence Burch is in the Petoskey hospital with a broken collar bone.

Our mail man had to go with his horse and sleigh Monday morning.

Miss Marcie Dickerhoff is quite ill with the flu. Dr. Mast of Petoskey has the case.

Bay Shore school had a vacation from Wednesday until Monday. Miss Shearer visited in the south part of the state.

Word came from Grand Rapids that Mrs. Fred John's mother had passed away at that place. No particulars have been learned.

The Thanksgiving dinner at the church was a success, with plenty to eat and a general good time. A great many were kept at home by the bad storm.

The Carpenter school held their box social and raffled a quilt. They made $18 on the quilt and $15 on the social. Mrs. Carrie Murray of Bay Shore was the lucky one to get the quilt. A fine program was given and a good crowd was in attendance for such a bad night.

BIGGER AND BETTER

THE GREAT AMERICAN VALUE

Fine-car distinction and quality in the new Chevrolet Six

Again, Chevrolet and General Motors have utilized their combined resources to establish a new and higher standard of value for the American motor car.

The new Chevrolet represents a type of economical transportation that America has long anticipated—a low-priced six styled with such striking talent and good taste, so smartly beautiful and complete in its perfection of detail, so advanced and refined mechanically that you will immediately recognize it as the Great American Value.

This great value is the outcome of four basic Chevrolet advantages: (1) The savings of volume production in nineteen immense, modern plants. (2) The economies which result from great purchasing power. (3) The benefits of continuous research in General Motors laboratories and on the General Motors Proving Ground. And (4) the close association with the Fisher Body Corporation who, this year, have surpassed all their previous achievements in developing bodies of outstanding quality, refinement and value.

These basic advantages have made it possible to build a finer car at lower cost. They have enabled Chevrolet to offer a car with a longer wheelbase—greater roominess and comfort—strikingly smarter style—impressive new luxury—more thoroughly satisfactory performance—greater dependability. And to pass on these savings of efficient manufacturing to the buyer in the form of lower prices!

POULTRY

GEESSE AND DUCKS ARE PREFERRED

Fowls Require Little Feed and Not Much Care.

We almost swear by our geese and we can make each old goose bring in $100 a season. It's not easy to make geese return a greater profit when present feed costs are computed. Our old pairs, and we never attempt to raise from young geese, are good for four dozen eggs in a season and will raise 30 goslings each to maturity, writes J. L. Phillips, Whitman county, Washington, in Capper's Farmer. Each goose lays three times and we let her sit on her last laying of eggs.

There is little cost to raising geese on a general farm and that is the place for profits on almost any sort of live stock. Our goslings grow up on grass until after harvest. Then they fatten themselves on waste grain in the wheat and oats fields and on corn and beans scattered where the hogs harvest those crops. They get practically nothing that would not otherwise go to waste. We sell the best goslings as broilers for $5 each and the common ones at market price for Thanksgiving and Christmas. They weigh 15 to 20 pounds each. By dressing them we get better than $1 each out of the fowls to pay for the work.

Our ducks are almost as profitable as the geese and if it were not for the fact that the eggs do not hatch in an ordinary incubator, I doubt if we would have a hen on the place. They lay splendidly and we hatch from April until August. The young are full feathered at eight weeks for the broiler chicken market and we have no trouble selling them. We like them mighty well fried, too, and use a lot of them at home. The old ducks weigh 6 to 9 pounds and the young ones at eight weeks old as high as 4 pounds. We never could get that weight with chickens.

I don't think the average family appreciates the ease with which the water fowls are raised. Ducklings or goslings increase in weight about three times as rapidly as chickens. It makes the need of brooding much shorter and gets some size on them so they will be out of danger from rats or from being tramped on long before chickens have reached that stage.

Marketing Eggs Direct

Is Profitable Plan

Many poultrymen who are wanting a better market for their poultry products would find better profits in a direct to the consumer trade, according to W. A. Sumner, University of Wisconsin, who points out that a classified ad in city papers often will bring more customers than a farmer can supply.

He points out the necessity of the farmer poultry producer being in position to take care of orders in prompt and efficient manner and to be able to supply a good reliable product, which in the case of eggs would mean, fresh, large-sized and clean eggs.

This direct to the consumer business depends upon repeat orders and poultrymen must keep up the quality of their shipments so that customers will not look elsewhere for eggs or poultry. A satisfied customer is the

Health Insurance

A low chick mortality of 9.3 per cent was reported by Pennsylvania poultrymen who raised their chicks in complete confinement last year. These reports were obtained for a total of 12,393 chicks brooded under the "closed door" plan outlined by the poultry extension department of the Pennsylvania State college. A low chick mortality and freedom from intestinal parasites are two advantages of the plan outlined by the specialists.

Chinese Rank Third

The breed which probably ranks third in number in the United States as a whole is the Chinese. There are two varieties of this breed: White Chinese and Brown Chinese. This breed is rather small, the guinea weighing ten to twelve pounds. Their popularity is largely due to the fact that they are the most prolific breed of geese. Under good management they may be expected to produce 90 to 100 eggs in a laying season. Like other geese, their main feed is grass.

FARM NOTES

Cheapest Gains are Made With Self-Fed Hogs

Hogs raised with a self-feeder not only make faster gains but eat less concentrates per 100 pounds gain than hand-fed hogs, according to results of tests at five experiment stations. These tests were conducted at the Iowa, Missouri, Illinois, Ohio, and Nebraska stations.

These tests involved the use of 433 pigs averaging approximately 70 pounds in weight when the trials began. The five experiments covered an average of 101 days. On the average the self-fed pigs ate more and gained faster than those which were hand-fed. The average daily gain of the self-fed pigs was more than nine per cent faster than that of the hand-fed ones, and the self-fed pigs ate on the average 1.26 per cent less concentrates per 100 pounds gain.

Not only does a self-feeder save on feeds and give faster gains but it also saves on labor. The feeder need be filled only as often as it is emptied, though it should be visited each day. In the self-feeder the hog balances his own ration, only the protein concentrates being mixed. Perhaps the best mixture to use in the self-feeder when the hogs are on dry lot is 50 pounds of tankage, 25 pounds of linseed meal, and 25 pounds of alfalfa meal in one bin and shelled corn in the other bin, or the corn can be hand-fed in the ear.

This year when other feeds are cheaper than corn, wheat and barley may be mixed with success, though both should be ground. In experiments at different stations hogs have made faster gains on wheat than on corn, but the wheat should be mixed with other grains for when fed alone it becomes gummy and is hard to digest.

Give Farm Advisers Vote of Confidence

Final reports on the action taken by the boards of supervisors in Michigan counties in voting appropriations for the support of agricultural extension work show that funds were provided to hire one more county agricultural agent than last year, but there will be one less home demonstration agent and two less club agents.

A tabulation of votes in each county gives the information that 1,317 supervisors voted in favor of the appropriations and 119 voted negatively. Lapeer and Baraga counties, in which agents have not been employed recently, voted favorably; while Livingston failed to vote funds to continue its agricultural extension program.

Total funds appropriated by the counties for the work was nearly $6,000 less than last year's appropriations. The favorable balance of supervisors' votes cast in the state parallels popular votes participated in by the entire voting population in seven counties during the past three years. In each of these seven counties, a majority of the voters favored retaining the county agricultural agent.

This vote of confidence in agricultural extension work is in marked contrast to the attitude of voters a few years ago when there was a continuous record of unfavorable majorities when the subject was placed upon the county ballots.

"We invade a new field with vastly improved cars at the lowest prices in our history"

BY WILLIAM J. McANEENY
President, Hudson Motor Car Company

WE have built these models up to and beyond the 1931 standards of performance and quality in every way, and have never in our history offered so many improvements. Quality is greater down to the last detail. Every phase of performance has been greatly improved, and the luxury we have built into the cars is substantially greater than ever before. Motors are larger and more powerful. An efficient system of oil cooling is introduced. A marked improvement in carburetion increases flexibility and economy. Bodies are longer and wider. These cars possess the finest, easiest riding qualities. For the first time, such comfort is available at these low prices. Only great manufacturing economies and the fact that our large resources permit us to take the fullest possible advantage of reduced commodity prices have enabled us to offer the public the greatest combination of quality and low prices in our entire history.

Owner-Management Permits Exclusive Value Advantages

Owner-management enables Hudson-Essex to give you outstanding advantages in quality and price. The men who are now guiding its destinies have been with the company since its inception twenty-two years ago. Its department heads and principal distributors are its controlling owners. Their independence is backed by unusually large resources in capital and plant facilities. It enables Hudson-Essex to lead in design and engineering quality. It permits economies in manufacture and distribution that bring exceptional quality direct to the public at distinct price advantages.

"Join Red Cross," Urges Vice President Curtis

America's prominent citizens join in urging all men and women to become members of the Red Cross during the period of the annual roll call from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day.

The Honorable Charles Curtis, Vice President of the United States, says: "The American Red Cross is in a position to and does more to relieve those stricken by misfortune than any other organization in the world. Its splendid work has done much to bring a friendly feeling in all parts of the world for the people of our country because they sustain the American Red Cross. This wonderful organization is entitled to the liberal support of our people."

The Honorable Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, says: "No one can predict when or where disaster may occur or acute emergency arise. The American Red Cross represents our community insurance against such misfortunes. The organization stands ready at all times to render speedy relief to any stricken area in our own country or to assist in the relief of disaster in foreign countries. The Red Cross is the agency which carries on when emergency has disrupted customary modes and means of life in a community."

Six Foreign Countries Receive Red Cross Aid

Relief was given by the American Red Cross during the year in six foreign nations in disasters ranging from a tidal wave in Newfoundland, an earthquake in Persia, floods in France to help for refugees from Russia and prevention of a smallpox epidemic in Costa Rica.

The $5,000 Red Cross contribution to Newfoundland, following the tidal wave, which took twenty-six lives and destroyed many homes and fishing boats, was the first from an outside country to reach the distressed people. This sum of $5,000 was given to the fund for the relief of the Meonafite refugees of German descent, who had determined to leave Russia for new lands. About 13,000 passed through Germany, where the German Red Cross, aided by Red Cross societies of other nations, helped them. The majority are being transported to new countries in the western world and the American Red Cross has transmitted contributions from individuals in this country.

When Costa Rica was menaced by a smallpox epidemic, the American Red Cross sent fifty thousand tubes of vaccine, in two airplane loads, undoubtedly saving the country from a serious outbreak of the dread disease.

BUILD ROADS NOW

Michigan's road building program went by spurts during the nearly finished administration of Fred W. Green. One year it would run full blast. The next it would creep at a snail's pace. This year, when economic conditions demanded that it go forward as never before, it dawdled along at the rate of the era before the gasoline tax was invented.

Why not build roads? The 1930 program could be doubled without injury to anyone, and with profit to the workers and the users of automobiles. Roads are one type of public construction that Michigan can finance without increasing the burden of the taxpayer.

The only claim Governor Green made in defense of his handling of state finance that seemed to have a shadow of merit was that relating to the state debt. He said he had paid off almost $20,000,000. Most of the payments were on the highway bond issues. The money came out of the gas tax and the payment was no very bright feather in the Green hat, no matter. At least during the past two administrations more than a third of the highway bond issues have been paid or met by sinking funds. Part of these funds have been sunk in the Grand Trunk enterprise—but there must be something left.

In the present condition of the bond market the state ought to be able to buy up and retire bonds to the face value of the amount in the sinking fund. Having done that, why could it not issue new bonds of an approximately equal amount to finance additional road construction immediately? With $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 of bond money and upwards of $23,000,000 of weight and gasoline tax funds available for 1931 construction, the Brucker administration could do more to relieve unemployment and restore prosperity than anyone ever hoped to do with the $24,000,000 institutional building program which spreads over four years and is a year late in starting.

Such a vast highway program would be of direct benefit to every section of the state and would be of indirect benefit to the industry that is the backbone of Michigan's business, automobile manufacture. Under Governor Groesbeck Michigan was the pacemaker for all the state in the matter of road building. That benefited our own citizens, led the citizens of other states to demand similar improvements—and made a wider market for Michigan's principal product.

During the past five or six years, despite the country-wide activity in road construction, the number of automobiles has been increasing faster than the mileage of paved roads. The overcrowded condition of the highways has led to expansion of the motorboat industry as a means of getting away from the crowds. Boats are a fine thing and no one should discourage their construction and use—but they ought not to sell on the basis of a claim that automobiles have become a nuisance.

With the federal government increasing its contributions toward highway building and with the most backward of the southern states spending as much or more than Michigan for new pavements, it is time for us to hestitate ourselves. We have a gasoline tax high enough to provide an adequate sinking fund, so that it is proper that we have a full $50,000,000 of highway bonds outstanding. As the constitutional amendment of 1919 contemplates. There is more justification for such an amount of bonds than there was when the amendment was adopted. At that time it looked as though the overburdened taxpayer would have to shoulder the cost of the roads. Now we know that the automobile and truck owners are willing to pay that cost through the gasoline tax—always assuming that they get their money's worth.

There never was a time when highway construction could be done more cheaply than now. There never was so great a need for additional highways. There never was a chance to relieve so much suffering by any single state project as would be done by furnishing additional employment on a $40,000,000 highway program. Why not get busy?—Michigan State Digest.

CHRISTMAS CARD RACKET

Right at this time of the year residents of many cities are receiving boxes of Christmas cards which they have not ordered, yet which the manufacturers hope will be paid for. This is in line with the now obsolete practice of sending ties in a similar manner, a plan that was so thoroughly exposed by the country newspapers that the concern backing it went bankrupt. There is no obligation on the part of a person receiving this unordered merchandise. It need not be paid for, and it need not be returned. If an authorized agent calls for it, the package may be turned over to the agent, but it is perfectly proper to place a storage charge against the merchandise. There is no better way of eliminating this practice than by refusing to assist in its development. The merchandise is seldom worth the price asked as the margin of profit must necessarily be great because of the unreturned goods.

BRUCKER ECONOMY

Governor-elect Wilbur M. Brucker has given several indications that he knows what the first step is toward reducing taxes and that he intends to take it. That step, as everybody except the politicians have always known, is economy. And economy is not saving money by spending. It is cutting expenses.

When Brucker told the budget director to make a list of all the new jobs that have been created for deserving lonians and other pay-roll patriots, he was not making medicine for a political campaign. He was engaging in the first official act of the administration that begins January 1.

The fact that the Governor-elect did not spill a lot of economy talk on the stump but has been moving in the direction of economy before and since is the most hopeful news the taxpayers have heard in years.

In his administration of his own department Brucker has been careful to stay well within his budget—and he has not been asking for constant increases in his appropriations. Every new activity that has been added to the work of the attorney general since he has held the office has been designed to save money for the people rather than to spend more. His collection department has brought into the state treasury several hundred thousand dollars that would otherwise have been lost—and the expense of that agency has been trifling. Since Brucker has been attorney general the losses through failure to collect gasoline taxes have fallen to the vanishing point.

It just may be that the Brucker brand of tax reform will prove to be the one brand that works.—Michigan State Digest.

RULES OF THE GAME

Many rules for the government of human conduct have been laid down, and all of them have been broken. Still, it isn't a bad idea to think about some of them occasionally, and if possible, give the sensible ones a trial.

An exchange prints a few, attributed to Walter Johnson, famed pitcher and manager of the Washington Senators, and while they particularly apply to the game of baseball, the principles enunciated are equally applicable to the game of life in general. Johnson says:

"Play fair; be on the level.

Have respect for discipline.

Never alibi for failure; accept the breaks of the game as they come.

Grit your teeth and bear down when things look toughest.

Live cleanly.

Don't criticize fellow players.

Never quit!"

THE FUTURE

We in this country have come out of a past in which individualism has been the dominant keynote, in which each one has shifted for himself, has been suspicious of his competitor, and close-mouthed about the news and plans of his own business.

But the truth is that that period of extreme individualism is now history. We have conquered the whole vast expanse of this country. We have built business institutions to the limit of any one man's intellectual and executive powers.

What we do to make this country greater in the next 25 years must be by way of coordination, and in that direction lies unmeasured empires to conquer.—Craig B. Hazlewood.

COMMERCIAL ASSN. ANNUAL MEET DEC. 11TH

Annual Banquet and Business Session at I. O. O. F. Hall

Date for the annual meeting of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce has been set for the evening of Thursday, December 11th. The Rehoboths will serve the banquet dinner at the I. O. O. F. hall.

Annual reports of officers, committee heads, along with election of officers are among the many important matters coming before the annual session, and a program of activities for the coming year will likely be planned at this time.

PLANS FOR CHARITY DANCE IS ANNOUNCED

Moonlight Gardens Sponsoring Affair Wednesday Night, Dec. 10

A. T. Jeffery, owner and manager of Moonlight Gardens, one of northern Michigan's most popular amusement places, has announced plans for a charity dance to be given the evening of Wednesday, December 10.

Net proceeds of the party will be turned over to a local welfare agency for use among Charlevoix's needy families. A mixed program of round and square dances for both young and old has been planned, and a mighty good time is promised all those who attend the affair.

TOO MUCH VENISON LANDS MAN IN JAIL

Rosecommon Resident Jailed for Possessing Three Deer

Harold Coon, Rosecommon, is under $1,000 bail waiting trial in circuit court and Charles A. Cobb, Grayling, is awaiting confiscation proceedings on his automobile following a search of Coon's home by conservation officers, who claim to have found two deer and parts of a third in a room of the house.

Coon, charged with a second offense will go to circuit court. Cobb paid a fine and costs of $18.90 in justice court for illegal transportation of venison. His automobile and gun were seized.

NEGLECT OF HENS IS COSTLY HABIT

Increased Feeding Is Good Way to Bring Up Production

After hovering near the 20-cent mark most of the summer, eggs recently have climbed until now they are selling for nearly 40 cents per dozen on the market. At this price farmers cannot afford to neglect their flocks.

"Increased feeding during the winter months is a good way to bring up production of the flock," says J. B. Hayes, poultry specialist at the University of Wisconsin, who states that 50 per cent production for the young is a practical economical limit.

Mr. Hayes states that one of the best rations for the flock, to bring the hens to better production, is the following one: Scratch feed mixture, cracked corn, 100 pounds; wheat, 100 pounds; and oats, 50 pounds. Mash: bran, 100 pounds; wheat middlings, 100 pounds; buckwheat middlings, 100 pounds; ground oats, 100 pounds; linseed meal, 50 pounds, and salt, 3 pounds.

Practices in feeding that have been found to be the best, Mr. Hayes says, includes the feeding of grain in two- or three- portions during the day. He calls the mash the true "forcer" of the feed for the flock.

METHODIST NOTES

Do you know ancient history? Do you know life in the Far East? Then you know something about the difference in the world since the coming of Jesus. Be grateful for it. "Come and worship" and let His coming help you personally. Next Sunday at 10:30 is Universal Bible service. The theme is "A Book for all People."

Church school for Bible study and character training at 12:00 noon. Epworth League for young folks at 6:00 p. m.

A helpful service at 7:00 p. m. Are you often discouraged? Do you feel handicapped? Do you complain about the way life treats you? Then come Sunday evening and hear about the "Unused Alibis" of a lot of men and women who really had something to complain about, but didn't.

This Thursday the literary club meets with Mrs. Otterbein, 207 Mason street, at 2:30 o'clock. The pastor will interpret "Andrea Del Sarto" by Browning.

AGED PIONEER WOMAN SUCCUMBED NOVEMBER 24

ADDITIONAL CORRESPONDENCE
Quite a snow storm Monday. The weather man says: "To be continued next week."

Robert Watson, supervisor of Central Lake township was out Bay View way Monday.

Mr. Box and Harold Meggison are expected back this week from near Gaylord, where they went hunting.

Albert Byers and Harry Smith, who each got their deer, are expected home from the upper peninsula this week.

Rev. A. C. Kendall stopped Sunday evening at the Harwood residence and united in marriage Mr. Smith of Charlevoix, and Mrs. Schafer, mother of Mrs. Harwood.

O. R. Morse left Saturday for Lansing on hearing that his father-in-law, Lyman Cobb, was not expected to live. Mr. Cobb had suffered three strokes of paralysis.

Atwood and Norwood Ladies' Aid societies met at the home of Mrs. Richardson, where a bouillabaisse chicken dinner was served. Mrs. Richardson also entertained Rev. A. C. Kendall and Mr. Morse from Central Lake, on Friday evening, before Sunday school.

Norwood young people are also proficient in attending day school as well as Sunday school. The following pupils got a half holiday Friday for attending every day and getting good deportment: Newton Pierce, Buddy Hull, Mildred Hensil, Roberta and Dorothy Hull, Catherine and Doyle Richardson, Bobby Jones and Doyle Wagner.

George H. Barr, formerly candidate for prosecuting attorney of Antrim county, turned his car over on the Laramie Corners Sunday evening.

Mr. Barr received a bad cut above the left eye, and the radiator of his car was badly jammed. The gentleman riding with him was uninjured. This is a bad corner and should have a railing put up or the road put across the corner in the field.

Rev. A. C. Kendall found an attendance of 28 at his Norwood Sunday school Friday evening. The attendance is increasing and more interest being taken in the work. He gave a short talk Friday evening and will preach each Friday evening hereafter.

The young people sang a song appropriate to the lesson Friday evening which was well rendered. Mrs. Pierce did admirably well as superintendent, as did Miss Richardson as secretary; also, Miss Pierce, as teacher of the juniors. Next Friday evening the juniors will sing a song.

Miss Metz, who has been spending some weeks at the home of her brother, Mrs. J. Whitfield, called at the Lawton home Thursday afternoon.

Miss Jessie Metz, who is seriously ill with valvular heart trouble and unable to receive visitors, greatly appreciated the basket of assorted fruit from Miss Pearl Bigge, principal of Charlevoix normal, and also the flowers and greeting cards sent by other friends.

Replenishing the wood pile is now the order of the day.

Ernest Mather was one of the honor pupils of the sixth grade in East Jordan consolidated schools last month.

Plans will be made Friday evening for the Christmas entertainment in which both day and Sunday school will take part. A social evening has been planned for a week from Friday.

McGEACH SCHOOL
Three months of school passed. Mr. Palmer visited our school a few minutes Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Jessie Gregory visited school one afternoon a short time ago. Those standing highest in their daily work the past month were:

The third and fourth grades are learning "Jack Frost" for language. The chart and first grades are learning "Come Little Leaves" for language.

The first grade have been making Dutch villages and paper dolls for "busy work."

Agnes and Elizabeth Kovar were absent from school on account of illness on Monday.

Nineteen of our 30 pupils received last Friday afternoon off for being neither absent nor tardy for the month.

The fourth grade have just completed a poster representing the story "Rumpelstiltskin," which they had for reading.

Mrs. Holeccheck surprised us Armistice day by having a short program and afterwards treating us with candy and peanuts.

Most of the deer hunters from our community have returned. Those fortunate enough to bring home a deer were Clarence Heise and Jesse Gregory.

We have our school prettily decorated for Thanksgiving with turkeys, pumpkins and yellow and blue festoons. Also two calendars on the side boards.

First grade, Norman Schneider; 2nd grade, Helen Shapton; 3rd grade, Libby Kerchak; 4th grade, Edgar Schneider; 5th grade, Jack Schneider; 6th grade, Edwin Gregory; 7th grade, Ralph Shapton.

Bright Remarks
Teacher: "What kind of people inhabit the Philippine Islands?"
Clara Crampton: "The Eskimos."

ROCK ELM
Norma Jensen has gone deer hunting.

Replenishing the wood pile is now the order of the day.

INSIDE INFORMATION

Raw chopped celery is good in fritters.

Tomatoes, fresh, raw, or canned, are a good source of vitamins A, B, and C. Include them very frequently in your menus. Give tomato juice to young children and even to babies.

Dumplings for stew or soup must be cooked tightly covered. Don't remove the top during the cooking to see if they are done or they will not be light. Boil 15 minutes and then serve.

Under no circumstances should milk be placed in a refrigerator in an open pitcher, bottle, or other uncovered container. It should be tightly stoppered and should not be opened until immediately before use. If only a part of the bottle of milk is used, the cap should be replaced.

The temperature of the home refrigerator, in the milk compartment, should be kept at or below 45 degrees F. if possible. Refrigeration is used to retard the development of bacteria in milk, and above this temperature, bacterial growth is very rapid, causing changes to take place in the milk that may render it unfit for food.

French pancakes are often served for dessert. Make a batter consisting of 2 eggs, 1 1/2 cups of milk, 1 cup of flour, 1 teaspoon of sugar, 2 tablespoons melted butter, 1 teaspoon baking powder, and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Bake on a hot griddle in rather large cakes. When done, spread each one at once with a mixture of butter and any preferred jelly, roll like a jelly roll, and sprinkle with powdered sugar. Serve immediately.

In choosing school coats, the plain style is better. Raglan sleeves and wide front laps allow for growth. See that the collar is comfortable against the child's neck. Some materials chafe the skin. The pocket should be in an accessible position, and wide enough to hold gloves or a purse without tearing at the corners.

In choosing Christmas gifts for the children, avoid complicated or fragile articles that give pleasure only for a short time. Select materials or tools with which the boy or girl can make things. Blocks for the younger ones, paints and crayons for the next older, with some good pictures to color, are always acceptable. The still older boy will like a few real tools—a hammer, saw, T-square, and plane—while his sister will be overjoyed with a small workbasket, with scissors, thimble, and a good assortment of threads and needles, tape measure, emery, and so on.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY
Sundays 10:45 a. m.
Subject, "God the Only Cause and Creator."

Wednesday evening at 7:45, first Wednesday of month only.

Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:30 to 5:00 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to attend all services.

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, De-nounced" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, November 30.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "The night is far spent, the day is at hand: let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armour of light." (Rom. 13:12).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "In Christian Science, man can do no harm, for scientific thoughts are true thoughts, passing from God to man." (p. 103).

ORCHARD GLEANINGS

FOREIGN MARKETS TO BE STUDIED

Milton J. Newhouse Has Been Given Special Appointment.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A study of existing and prospective European markets for American fruits, and arrangements for securing more frequent and more inclusive market and crop reports on fruits in Europe have been initiated by the bureau of agricultural economics, United States Department of Agriculture.

Milton J. Newhouse, for four years manager of the North Pacific Fruit Growers' Exchange, has been given a special appointment by the bureau for a period of eight months to carry out the bureau's program. Mr. Newhouse will investigate the market problems of the various American co-operative associations which handle fruits in the markets of the United Kingdom, Germany, France, Belgium, Netherlands and Scandinavia. He will make a survey of present and future market potentialities, and market methods and practices.

The study will be extended to the fruit producing areas in southern Europe, particularly Yugoslavia, France, Italy and Spain, to determine the competition which the American co-operative associations, as well as other marketing agencies, may expect in the future. Mr. Newhouse will be about six months, during which time he will endeavor also to arrange for more frequent and perhaps somewhat more inclusive market and crop reports as they pertain to fruits in Europe. The bureau's program has been arranged in response to the demands from co-operatives and other marketing agencies for foreign information on fruits.

In Neglected Orchards

Prune Only Moderately

Many growers take possession of an orchard in which pruning has been badly neglected, or appropriate too late the value of pruning in their orchards, and in an effort to make the tree appear properly pruned remove entirely too many branches the first year. This severe pruning after years of neglect may throw out of balance the top and root system and produce a heavy growth of water sprouts which may result in little or no fruit development. It is a much wiser procedure to prune only moderately the first year, removing and thinning out the small branches in the top of the tree and also here and there in the center and on the sides, in order to open up the tree for the admittance of sunlight and air. It is seldom advisable or necessary in the neglected orchard to remove limbs larger than one and one-half inches in diameter. It is true that occasionally limbs larger than this will be found growing in undesirable places, but, though it would be much better for the tree were they not there, their removal would produce large wounds which might be very slow in healing.

Warfare Against Scale

Begins During Winter

In regions where the scale is a problem the grower's warfare against insect pests and diseases begins with the dormant spray. As the spring advances and the buds begin to open his second application is called the cluster bud spray, and is directed primarily at the disease called scab and which begins its injurious work early. Many of the growers have already begun or in some cases they have completed their cluster bud spray, though it is still a little early for this spray. For best results, it should be put on just before the blossoms open but after the fruit buds have opened so as to expose the individual future blossoms.

Planting Distance for

Plum, Cherry and Peach

The ordinary planting distance of the cherry, plum and peach is usually somewhere around 20 feet each way, although very frequently they are found set 18 by 25 feet. With a little wider spacing between the rows it makes the trees somewhat easier to take care of after they reach large size. The type of pruning which is to be given and also the variety of the tree has of course its influence on the planting distance. In this state, however, we should not crowd our trees because of the difficulty sometimes encountered of securing enough moisture.—C. C. Wiggins, University of Nebraska.

Water Sprout Growth

Where long "elbows" of the larger limbs are exposed to the sunlight as a result of bending there almost inevitably results a vigorous water sprout growth along the upper surface. Where it seems feasible these new growths should be thinned out and cut back letting them in time develop bearing surface. If, however, these are not checked in growth, the height of the tree may be increased five, or as much as fifteen feet, before this new growth starts to bear.

A meditative man cannot refrain from wonder when he sits down to the deep thought lying at the root of many a metaphysical term employed for the designation of spiritual things . . . and often it would seem as the rays of truth which were still below the intellectual horizon had dawned upon the imagination as it was looking up to heaven. Hence, they who feel an inward call to reach and enlighten their countrymen should deem it an important part of their duty to draw out of the stores of thought which are already latent in their native language . . . and to endeavor to give distinctness and precision to whatever in it is confused, obscure or dimly seen.—Archbishop Trench, in "Study of Words."

NEEDS FOR RED CROSS SERVICE ON INCREASE, SAYS CHAIRMAN PAYNE

Disaster Relief and Service to War Veterans Make Heavy Demands—First Aid on Highways
New Plan.

Demands upon the public services that the American Red Cross is organized to give are increasingly heavy, and will continue to be so in the future, John Barton Payne, chairman, has announced.

The two major services of the society—service to war veterans and their dependents, and relief in disasters—show each year a greater number of persons helped by the Red Cross.

Pension legislation passed recently for World War Veterans, and increased allotments to all Spanish-American War Veterans, have given to chapters and the national society many thousands of additional cases to handle, Judge Payne said.

In the past year help was given in 168 disasters. Ninety of these were in the United States, twelve in foreign possessions and six were in foreign countries.

Health activities of the Red Cross also are being extended, especially in the rural communities where all health authorities agree the greatest need exists. Red Cross, with 794 nurses in its employ, is the greatest employer of public health nurses in rural areas in the United States.

In its campaign against accidental deaths, begun twenty years ago with its life saving and first aid programs, the Red Cross now has adopted an additional program—that of combating the huge toll of life from automobile accidents on the highways.

Expenditures of the Red Cross in the past year were $1,254,796.34, of which $1,208,151.09 was spent in disaster relief, the chairman pointed out.

"The Red Cross depends upon the public for its support, through their membership enrolled once each year in the period from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day," Judge Payne said. "We do not receive any support from the Government, or through other taxation, although as the President of the United States is president of the society, and one-third of its governing members are representatives of U. S. Departments, it ranks as a semi-governmental agency."

"By joining as a member, in the local Red Cross Chapter, once each year, during the annual Roll Call, every citizen will have a part in carrying on this great humanitarian task."

Motor Injuries Treated By Red Cross First Aid

In line with its work for the preservation of life and prevention of accidental death, the American Red Cross has adopted a new program of emergency first aid stations on the highways of the nation, where victims of automobile injuries will be helped.

In the last year 31,000 persons were killed as the result of automobile accidents and more than 1,000,000 were injured. As its contribution to the nation wide safety campaigns of other organizations, the Red Cross will aid through the emergency stations. A number already are in operation by Chapters on such important traffic arteries as the Westchester County, N. Y., park system, the Valley Forge and Gettysburg highways in Pennsylvania and the White Horse Pike in New Jersey, connecting with Atlantic City.

Saving Mothers and Babies Is Important Red Cross Task

Saving mothers' lives and better babies were important features during the past year of the Public Health Nursing Service of the American Red Cross. About four-fifths of the 794 nurses in the Red Cross work made more than 100,000 prenatal and maternal visits, in addition to assisting doctors in the examination of 1,309,409 school children.

Statistics reveal that the lives of two out of three American women who die in maternally cases could be saved if they received proper medical and nursing care. As more than 15,000 women die in the United States each year from various diseases of the maternal state, this means that more than 10,000 of these deaths are preventable.

Before the use of table forks the eating of meals was impossible without rendering the hands in a condition the reverse of cleanly. We find it therefore was customary, when the table in the hall was spread ready for a meal, for attendants to wait upon the assembled guests with basins, ewers of water and napkins, so that their hands could be washed before they sat down, and again when the meal was over.

One servant held the bowl while the other poured the water. The guest, before the meal, washed his hands and after the meal. After the meal he also wiped the grease from his knife and spoon, for the people ate with their fingers and therefore the washing of the hands before and after each meal was not only necessary but desirable. Spoons were placed on the table, but forks were unknown. Knives were not as a rule provided for the guests.

Ford Shows Faith in Future by World Wide Construction Program

Top—The Ford plant at Edgewater, N. J., opposite New York City. Center—The new plant at Long Beach, Cal. Bottom—A model of the plant being built at Dagenham, England.

THE Ford Motor Company's faith in the future of business, and especially in the future of the automobile, is evidenced by the fact that it is spending more than $60,000,000 for new plants and improvements in the United States and in foreign branches and associated companies.

The company has nine new plants under way throughout the world, while plans are being formulated for several others not yet announced. Wherever possible the new plants are being erected on sites accessible to both rail and water transportation so that, with each form of transportation supplementing the other, substantial savings will be effected.

Five of the new plants are in the United States, as follows:

Long Beach, California—This plant, recently completed to serve Southern California, has a capacity of 400 cars a day. Operating at capacity it employs 2,600 men.

Edgewater, New Jersey—The Edgewater plant, one of the company's largest assembly branches, has just been completed to serve New York City and surrounding territory. It has a capacity of 600 cars a day and employs 6,000 men.

Richmond, California—Work was started recently on a plant at Richmond, to be completed next year. It will have a capacity of 400 cars a day and will employ 2,400 men. It will supply cars in the San Francisco area.

Buffalo, New York—This plant will have a capacity of 400 cars a day and will employ 2,500 men.

Seattle, Washington—A site has been acquired and plans for a plant are being drawn.

A new manufacturing plant being erected at Dagenham, England, eighteen miles from London, to supplant the present works at Manchester, will be completed next year. It will be the largest automobile factory in the world outside the United States. Its capacity will be 200,000 cars a year.

An assembly and manufacturing plant is being built at Cologne, an assembly plant at Antwerp, and a service plant at Stockholm. Two branches—one at Perth, Australia, and one at Port Elizabeth, South Africa—were completed.

In addition the Ford Motor Company is spending several million dollars to increase the power capacity of the Rouge plant at Dearborn, Mich., and several million more in miscellaneous improvements.

SPEARING SEASON WILL OPEN SOON

BAN LIFTED AS INLAND WATERS OF STATE FREEZE

Many Smaller Lakes Now Ice Covered—May Spear Great Northern and Grass Pike

The winter season of 1930-31 brings no change in the fish spearing laws and with a year's experience with the spearing regulations there ought to be a sharp decrease in the number of violations of these laws during the next few months, according to the fish division of the department of conservation.

The regulations concerning winter spearing in inland lakes and spring spearing in the non-trout streams were adopted by the 1929 legislature and were in force for the first time last winter and spring.

To remind those planning to use a spear during the coming season, the fish division has issued the following brief digest of the spearing laws.

Spears may be used in the inland lakes during the times when the lakes are frozen. The species of fish that may be taken by spear in the lakes are: Pickerel, (grass or great northern pike), mullet, suckers, and red-horse.

Lakes or ponds created by the backwaters of a dam or artificial barrier on a stream are part of the stream and are governed by the regulations applying to that stream.

Conforming with the sentiment of the legislature which declared all inland lakes open to spearing when these waters are frozen over, the conservation commission last year refused to grant petitions seeking the closing of local waters to spearing.

Spearing is not permitted in any stream before April 1. From that time until May 31, spearing for non-game fish including bullheads, carp, catfish, cisco, dogfish, garfish, smelt, suckers, and whitefish, is permitted from non-trout streams. Spearing is permitted for pike in non-trout streams from May 1 to May 31.

ADDRESS CHRISTMAS PACKAGES PROPERLY

Save Postal Department Delay by Writing Return Address

In January every year the dead-letter service receives between three and four million dead letters containing Christmas and New Year cards in addition to the normal receipts of ordinary undeliverable letters.

This is due primarily to incorrect addresses and failure to place return addresses on the envelopes.

Thousands of these letters are found to contain gifts of money, but comparatively few contain sufficient information to enable their return to the mailers.

Postmasters are requested to give as much publicity as possible, without expense to the department, to the matter of the advisability of placing return addresses on all mail.

Firmament

Grant Withers, the former newspaper reporter, has fitted into the movies better than into any of the numerous jobs he held before going to Hollywood.

Now his career is apparently a path of roses and he is rapidly working his way toward stardom.

The latest role to be played by Withers is the featured part opposite Billie Dove in "The Other Tomorrow," the new First National picture which will be the Palace theatre offering Saturday and Sunday. In this he appears as a southern youth who still loves the sweetheart of his childhood although she is married to another man.

Withers recently appeared in "In the Headlines" and has completed the leading role opposite Corinne Griffith in "Back Pay."

"The Other Tomorrow" was written by Octavus Roy Cohen. It is one of the most dramatic talking films in which the delectable Billie Dove has appeared. She portrays a Southern beauty. Others in the cast are Kenneth Thomson, Frank Sheridan, Otto Hoffman, William Grainger and Scott Seaton. Lloyd Bacon directed.

BLAME SEWAGE FOR HEAVY SPAWN LOSS

IMPURITIES SMOTHER MILLIONS OF EGGS AT HATCHERY

Unparalleled Conditions Experienced During November at Local Government Hatchery

Officials of the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries are conducting an exhaustive investigation at the local hatchery in an effort to determine the cause for a 75 per cent loss in lake trout spawn gathered during the spawning season.

With the normal hatch of between 70 and 80 per cent dwindled down to 25 per cent, or in round figures about 10,000,000 of the original 40,000,000 eggs gathered, the loss is the most severe experienced at the local hatchery in many years.

While no positive theory has been advanced, Supt. G. W. Hoofnagle has expressed the opinion that the loss was caused from sewage dumped into Lake Charlevoix. Round lake and connecting channels.

In normal years, heavy storms during the summer create sufficient current between Lake Charlevoix and Lake Michigan to carry sewage into the larger body of water, thus keeping the harbor and connecting channels free from impurities. The past summer was an exception. No heavy storms were experienced until early November or just about the time spawn fishing commenced and eggs were being brought to the hatchery. At that time heavy winds created a strong current running into Lake Michigan, and impurities which had been lying dormant during the summer were swept through the channel in quantities sufficient to pollute the water. The impurities, in turn, sifted through the hatchery filtration plant and were carried on into the egg troughs, causing them to clog, stop the water circulation and smother the spawn.

Conditions were made even worse by the fact the impurities came through just at a time when the eggs could not be handled. For a period of from 10 to 15 days after being brought to the hatchery, spawn cannot be touched, and it was during this time the heaviest loss occurred. Hatchery workers had no other alternative than to stand idly by and watch millions of eggs smother from lack of water circulation while they were unable to turn a hand to remedy the condition. Handling at that time would have killed the eggs also. Many million white fish eggs, which are hatched under a different circulating system, were not affected.

The enormous loss of spawn, which apparently was beyond human effort to prevent, is a severe set-back. However, it is to be hoped that the occurrence will result in the bringing about of needed improvements so that a similar happening can be eliminated in the future.

LOCAL PARTY ON VA- CATION IN NORWAY

Capt. John Roen and Four Others
Sailed Tuesday from New York

Following closely the completion of their season's work on the Great Lakes, Capt. John Roen and four of his employees—men who have sailed for him on the steamers Fred W. Green and Marquis Roen—left Sunday evening for an extended vacation trip to Norway, their native land.

In the party in addition to Capt. Roen were his brother-in-law, Henry Isaachsen, Peter Baake, Knute Svendsdahl and Rasmus Svendsdahl. They travelled via the Michigan Central from Gaylord to New York City. Tuesday, December 9, the party sailed aboard the S. S. Stavangerfjord for Bergen, Norway.

Capt. Roen's mother resides at Tyssø, Norway, and Baake and the Svendsdahl boys will also visit relatives there, the former his parents, and the other two sisters and other relatives. Mr. Isaachsen will go to Bodin, Norway, where his parents reside.

MISSIONARY GROUP HAVE ANNUAL PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Hooker Entertained Methodist Societies

The Missionary society of the Methodist church held their annual party Monday evening, December 8, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Hooker. Husbands of members were guests at the affair.

Both Home and Foreign missionary work is combined in one organization, and this year's party celebrated the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Home Missionary society.

The program committee, composed of Mesdames Belding and Simmons, provided a number of mental teasers, both amusing and instructive. Rev. J. E. Lockyer added to the pleasure of the evening by singing three selections from the Mikado, "The Wandering Minstrel," "Flowers That Bloom in the Spring" and "Tit Willow." Miss Freda McMillan was thoroughly enjoyed in two readings, "Breaking the News Gently" and "Dorothy Entertains the Minister."

"Delicious refreshments were served, and the outstanding feature was a huge birthday cake made by the hostess, Mrs. Hooker.

A good attendance and a real social time enjoyed by all helped the Society past another milestone.

ANNUAL COMMERCE MEETING THURSDAY

BANQUET TO BE GIVEN BY RE-
BEKAHS AT I. O. O. F. HALL

Election of Officers, Annual Reports, Etc., Important Business to Come Before Session

Advance sale of banquet tickets indicate there will be a good attendance at the annual meeting of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce, which is scheduled for Thursday evening of this week at the I. O. O. F. hall.

While regular meetings of the commerce body have not been so plentiful since the busy summer months opened in the spring, activities of the various committees have been going on nevertheless, and the annual reports of committee chairmen will reveal interesting information regarding their accomplishments. Charlevoix enjoyed its usual good summer season, and this success is due in no small part to the functioning of Association of Commerce committees.

In addition there will be reports of the officers and that of the secretary-treasurer of the association.

Another important feature of the annual session is election of officers for the ensuing year and this function will be in order at the gathering Thursday evening.

To those who have not already purchased their banquet tickets or otherwise made arrangements to attend, an urgent request is made that they do so at once in order that a fairly accurate estimate may be made of the number it will be necessary to provide for. It should not be necessary to extol the many reasons why every local business interest should be represented, for it is felt that the importance of the purpose and accomplishments of the Association of Commerce is fully appreciated locally.

A program for the 1931 summer season will be outlined Thursday night and it is hoped that all who have views of their own concerning activities to be sponsored will be present to make them known.

SCHOOL CHILDREN SELL XMAS SEALS

Those Without Supply May Obtain Them from Pupils

Supt. M. Otterbelle says that local persons who have not received Christmas Seals directly from the Michigan Tuberculosis association may secure them from any school child. Supplies of the seals, whose sale finances the anti-tuberculosis campaign, have been given the teachers and school children to supplement the customary sale carried on through the mails.

While the children will sell the seals to persons desiring them, they will not actively solicit purchase of the stamps.

POLAR BEARS WIN FROM ELLSWORTH

TAKE CLOSE GAME FROM PACK-ERS MONDAY NIGHT

Score of 20 to 8 Fails to Indicate Closeness of Battle With Veteran Astorin Tossars

Charlevoix Polar Bears chalked up their second consecutive victory of the season at the local gymnasium Monday evening by defeating the scrappy Ellsworth Packers 20 to 8.

The game was closely contested throughout every period and the margin of superiority between the two quintets was less than the one-sided score might indicate. The only edge Charlevoix seemed to have was in their ability to make good on chances at the hoop. The visitors missed many tries, but otherwise held the lanky Polar Bears on even terms.

The closeness of the struggle is indicated by the score for the first two periods. At the close of the initial quarter, Charlevoix was out in front 4 to 0. Their attack appeared to be functioning normally, but every advance toward the basket was smothered by close guarding of the Ellsworth team. Charlevoix fared but little better in the second period which ended 8 to 2. Ellsworth's diminutive forward, opened the scoring for his team in that quarter with a pair of free throws.

The third and fourth cantos were repetitions of the first two. The Polar Bears were able to gain only a slight advantage as the game progressed and were never given a chance to let down on their attack. They were out in front 16 to 7 as the third period ended and added two more goals in the final quarter to bring their total to 20. Ellsworth fought hard in both periods in an effort to even matters. They continued to miss chances repeatedly and throughout the entire game scored only a single basket. The rest of their points came on free tosses.

Ikens led the scoring for the Polar Bears. His several long shots from the side of the court were features of the game. Otherwise the scoring was evenly divided. Peebles, Elzinga and Taylor were best for the visitors.

LOCAL YOUNG COUPLE MARRIED NOVEMBER 26

Miss Marguerite Sutton and J. C.
Marshall Stole March on Friends

Stealing the march on their many local friends, Miss Marguerite Sutton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Sutton Jr., of Battle Creek, and J. C. Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Marshall, this city, were wed at Elk Rapids on Wednesday, November 26.

Both are well and favorably known here. The former Miss Sutton has been making her home for several years with her grandmother, Mrs. William Sutton of route 4. She graduated from Charlevoix high school, class of '29, and from the county normal the following year. At present she is teaching at the Phelps school. Mr. Marshall has been associated in business with his father for several years.

SPORTSMEN WANT NEW GAME LAWS

SINGLE OPENING DATE FOR SMALL GAME FAVORED

Suggest General Rod License and More Severe Penalties for Game Law Violators

A resolution calling upon the 1931 legislature to enact a general rod license to be collected from all Michigan fishermen over 17 years of age was passed Thursday by sportsmen attending the department of conservation's biennial hearing on conservation at Lansing.

Another resolution provides that seasons for the shooting of all small game, including duck and other wildfowl, will open October 15 in the lower peninsula and on October 1 in the upper peninsula and continue 10 days.

If the commission's recommendations are passed by the legislature the result will be a duck season which is six weeks shorter than in past years, since the commission also will include in its proposed statutes that the open season end on December 15 instead of December 31, as at present. The season now opens September 15.

Other cardinal points of change in the proposed bill will be:
A 10-day season on all upland game including pheasant and partridge instead of the present six days. Closing of the rabbit season December 31 in the upper peninsula instead of January 31.

Appointment by the next governor of a committee to draft a code of "water laws."

Continuation and expansion of fish preserve programs.

Discontinuance of all spring spearfishing.

A demand that the conservation department incorporate in its recommendations to the next legislature a bill calling for drastic punishment of game law violators and careless hunters was also made.

As passed by the "conference" the resolution calls for ten years' suspension of hunting privilege to hunters responsible for an accidental killing or wounding; for a five-year suspension upon conviction of violating deer shooting; and a year's suspension on small game violations.

Aside from this proposal the most startling event of the day was the fact that the conference made a complete right-about from the sportsmen sentiment of two years ago when it voted 35 to 15 against a proposal that the legislature set aside definite sums each year for purchase of game refuges. Two years ago this question was one of the most bitterly fought conservation issues in the legislature with the sportsmen aligned in direct opposition to the department.

WILMA WELLS ENTER- TAINED FRIDAY EVE

Was Hostess at Pleasant Affair at Home of Her Parents

PROMPT PURCHASE OF SEALS IS URGED

Early Buying Will Cut Cost of Selling Campaign

An appeal for replies to letters as yet unanswered in the Christmas seal sale is made by Dr. B. A. Shepard, president of the Michigan Tuberculosis association, in the following statement:

"We are asking people who can, to send in money for their seals now, and thereby reduce the expense of conducting the sale. It is customary throughout the nation to follow-up every mailing of seals with at least one notice. The cost of making this inquiry will be greatly reduced if those people who have merely overlooked their return will do so at once."

While urging early payment for the seals on the part of those able to do so, Dr. Shepard states that persons who wish to buy seals, but are unable to pay for them at present are welcome to use them on their Christmas gifts and letters, making payment as soon after Christmas as possible.

"In this way," Dr. Shepard explained, "the seals can be put to their intended holiday use, and the spirit of helpfulness which they represent may go on carrying good cheer wherever the mails reach."

LOCAL BASKETEERS OPEN SCHED FRIDAY

PLAY AT TRAVERSE CITY IN INITIAL CONTEST

Dull Early Season Prospects Have Brightened—Line-Up Appears to Be Good Combination

Charlevoix high school basketballs open their 1930-31 season on Friday evening of this week. The initial contest on a twelve-game schedule is at Traverse City, where the Kipke clan stack up against Coach Gordon Macdonald's class B tossers. They will not make a home appearance until after the holidays when they meet Gaylord here January 6th.

While prospects for an average team appeared somewhat dull several weeks ago, those who have been watching the boys in practice the past week now have a more optimistic view of their chances.

From the forty or more candidates who answered the first call early in November, Coach Kipke appears to have worked out a well-balanced combination for his first string squad and has a large group of reserves. He has announced no definite line-up as yet, but has apparently settled upon Davenport and McSaha as forwards, Ane as center, and Vic Smith and Joe Arvilla as guards. At any rate, Kipke has been working this combination together for the past week or more, and they have been showing a good scoring punch as well as a strong defense.

Critics have figured out that the first stringers will not meet much stronger opposition than they have had against the reserves, whose line-up includes Bill Novak and "Cornie" McCall, who are still on the ineligible list. They have repeatedly out-scored the reserves in practice games. Should early predictions hold true, Kipke's present line-up will be hard to beat.

A large group of local fans have expressed their intention of following the team to Traverse City Friday night.

NEARLY 6,000 BUCKS BROUGHT FROM U. P.

Eleven Coyote, 9 Wolves, 47 Bear,
Eight Bob-Cat Included

Conservation officers located at Mackinaw City and St. Ignace report the following game and predatory animals transported south up to December 1st: 5,775 deer; 11 coyotes; 9 timber wolves; 47 bear; and 8 bobcats.

The deer brought across the Straits represent about one-third of the total kill, according to the conservation department, and of course this number does not include those taken out through Wisconsin, or those killed and kept within the upper peninsula and the 12 counties in the lower peninsula which are open to deer and bear hunting.

OFFER ONE HUNDRED CASH SCHOLARSHIPS

OUTSTANDING 4-H MEMBERS TO RECEIVE $500 AWARD

Good in Any Agricultural College in U. S.—Sponsored by International Harvester Co.

One hundred scholarships worth $500 each, and good in any agricultural college in the United States, will be awarded to 100 of the outstanding members of the 4-H boys and girls clubs during the coming year. This gift of $50,000, the largest ever made to further 4-H club work, comes from the International Harvester company, and was announced by vice president, Cyrus McCormick, Jr., to 1,400 state and national club champions, who were being entertained at luncheon by the Harvester company as part of the program for the ninth annual 4-H Club Congress, in session in Chicago last week.

The scholarships are to be awarded in 1931 in commemoration of the invention of the world's successful first grain reaper by Cyrus Hall McCormick in 1831. It was this invention that began the revolution of the world's agriculture just a century ago, and these scholarships likewise should have far reaching effects on the future of American farming.

Contestants must be members of 4-H clubs, and are to be judged on work actually accomplished for the advancement of agriculture from January 1 to October 1, 1931. The awards will go to 4-H club members engaged in corn, cotton, small grain, potato, dairy, baby beef, pig, poultry, sheep, and other projects, including home economics, fruits, vegetables, etc., in which 830,000 boys and girls were enrolled this year. Also the contestants must be near enough ready for college to begin using the scholarships, in the fall of 1932.

For the purpose of making the awards, the nation has been divided into four sections. The eastern section, comprising Connecticut, Delaware, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Maine, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, and West Virginia, will receive ten of the scholarships. The southern sections, Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Virginia, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Texas and Louisiana, will receive 35 of the scholarships. The central section, comprising Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio, South Dakota, and Wisconsin, will receive 40 scholarships, and the western section, which will get 15, is composed of Arizona, California, Colorado, Utah, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Washington and Wyoming.

The winners will be announced a year from now, when the visitors to the tenth 4-H Club Congress again will be the guests of the International Harvester company.

The final judging will be done by a committee which will be announced later. The details of the plan will be administered by the national committee on boys' and girls' club work with offices in Chicago.

BARNARD

Our young folks are planning another party at the church Friday evening of this week.

Mrs. William Shapton returned last week after a few weeks' stay with her daughter in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Shapton and children have moved to Charlevoix for the winter months at least.

Some of our young people attended a party in honor of Miss Lulu Van Dusen on the Norwood road. A very enjoyable time was spent by all present.

(Too late for last week).

Real old-fashioned winter weather. John Clarke and Carl Beattie returned Sunday from hunting with a fine buck. We will all call on John. Next Wednesday, December 10, is the regular meeting of the L. A. S.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderly at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the Central Drug Store, the Rexall store.

ONLY KONJOLA DID ANY GOOD

Tried Many Medicines in Vain — Then Discovered Konjola. Tells How Medicine Brought Relief

MR. WALTER BOND

"Konjola is worthy of my highest praise," said Mr. Walter Bond, 919 East Grand Boulevard, Detroit. "For a whole year my system was steadily going down hill. I lost weight and strength; I lacked energy and vitality, and always had a tired feeling. My nerves were on edge constantly. I tried many medicines before I found Konjola."

"The very first bottle of Konjola gave me encouragement. I have taken five bottles and have regained all my lost weight; I feel stronger and better in every way, and I sleep soundly. I am more than pleased with the results Konjola gave."

Konjola is free from alcohol, heart-depressing chemicals, and nerve deadening drugs. Konjola is pure medicine, every drop, and every drop works. Try Konjola now today.

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix, Mich., at F. J. Fessenden's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

which will be held with Mrs. Clyde Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Shaw of Traverse City and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Beattie of Charlevoix, were Thanksgiving guests at the Clarence Beattie home.

We are promised a musical treat, a concert by the Kendall sisters, during the holiday vacation. These young ladies are our pastor's daughters and are appearing on the lecture course program in Central Lake on December 30th, and we are sure it will be a real privilege to hear them. Watch for further announcement of the date.

ANTRIM CITY

Mrs. F. Brooks called on Mrs. C. Stott Friday.

Phil Mudge of Bay View spent Sunday at the Stott home.

Harry Slate and Milford Tyrrell attended a sale near Eastport Thursday.

Glenn Lord of Atwood, spent Saturday night with his friend, Joe Stott.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Brooks and son, "Billy" visited the latter's people, Mrs. S. Gardner and family at Bellaire.

Harry Slate and Milford Tyrrell left Sunday for Detroit. Mr. Tyrrell took a load of Christmas trees down to that city.

BURGESS

We have drawn names for Christmas.

A new family have moved into the neighborhood.

We are busy practicing for our Christmas program.

The Burgess Sunday school is going to have a Christmas tree.

The Frye family have moved south of Charlevoix on U. S. 31. The children will attend the McGeagh school.

We will have a Christmas program Friday, December 19, at 8 o'clock, standard time. Everybody welcome.

CENTRAL LAKE

C. J. Jones is home and doing repair work.

Jay Mudge and family of Detroit visited a short time with relatives here.

Mrs. Phillip Ohman has been troubled with her limb, cut by barbed wire some time ago.

Mancelona basketballers were beaten on the home floor here by the Central Lake team Friday night.

O. R. Morse has been contracting for J. B. Rice in the vicinity of Saginaw and Flint the past week.

Rev. C. J. Kendall, daughters Joyce, Eleanor and Francis, were present at Norwood's "Social Hour" at that place Friday evening.

Rev. C. J. Kendall preached the funeral sermon Friday, of Mrs. Elver Carrol, whose body was brought home for burial from Detroit.

Creswell Sunday school had an attendance of 25, Musser 15, and Antrim 82, last Sunday. All of them are preparing programs for Christmas.

Funeral of Mr. Charles, Jr., of Mancelona, was held Sunday at the M. E. church in Mancelona. Mr. Charles was found dead in bed. His father is still alive, at about eighty years of age.

The funeral of George Sanford of Bellaire was to be held Monday. He was brought home from Ironwood, U. P., where death had occurred from pneumonia. He had caught cold while hunting, and was about 60 years old.

A fine time was enjoyed by those attending the social hour meeting at Norwood town hall Friday evening. Some were quite adept at playing stage coach, and Eleanor Kendall was good at telling the story. A fine pot-luck supper was served by the ladies, after which Sunday school was held. Christmas entertainment was talked over and it was decided to hold the exercises on Monday or Tuesday evening before Christmas.

A good joke was played on Supt. of the Poor E. C. Potter, Friday. He had just filled his car tank with gas and left it near the court house, when a man and woman came along, got in the car and drove off. They went the wrong direction and got stalled in the snow south of town, where they were about ten minutes getting out. Mrs. Floyd Dewey, who lives on the corner towards Mancelona, saw the Potter car with another driver, go towards Mancelona. Saturday the car was seen by Vern Lambert in Traverse City. Sunday the driver had abandoned it in Grayling, taken another car and left. It is thought to be a man who tried to get a ride on the railroad at Bellaire, but was put off.

AT THE MOVIES

Marked Similarity in Careers of

Walter Huston and James Rennie

Walter Huston and James Rennie who appear together in "The Bad Man," a First National and Vitaphone production which comes to the Palace theatre Saturday and Sunday, were both born in Toronto, Canada. Each made his theatrical debut at the age of 18, Huston with a traveling road show, and Rennie with a Salt Lake City stock company. Both were recruited from the stage for talking pictures. Huston's first assignment being "Gentlemen of the Press," while Rennie's voice was first vitaphoned in "The Girl of the Golden West."

The names of both Huston and Rennie are linked in the minds of theatregoers with outstanding Broadway successes. Mention of Huston recalls "Desire Under the Elms," "The Barker," "Congo," and "Elmer the Great." Rennie created memorable roles in "Spring Fever" and "The Great Gatsby." There, however, the resemblance ceases. Huston is essentially a character actor while Rennie's forte is romantic leads.

"The Bad Man" is an adaptation of Porter Emerson Browne's play of the same title which has long been a prime favorite with stock companies throughout the United States. In addition to Huston and Rennie, the principals include Dorothy Revier, Sidney Blackmer, O. P. Heggie, Marion Byron, Guinn Williams, Arthur Stone, Edward Lynch, Harry Semels and Erville Alderson.

BIGGER AND

THE NEW CHEVROLET SIX

Strikingly beautiful, fleet and smart
—a masterpiece of Fisher styling

Never has the superiority of Body by Fisher been more strikingly exemplified than in the Bigger and Better Chevrolet Six. With the added advantage of a lengthened wheelbase, Fisher designers have achieved in the new Chevrolet an impressive degree of smartness, comfort and luxury.

Inside and out, scores of refinements stamp this car as a masterpiece of modern coachwork. Radiator, headlamps and tie-bar form an unusually attractive and distinctive ensemble. Mouldings sweep back in an unbroken line to blend with the smart new body contours. And new color combinations lead a new individuality. Interiors, too, are exceptional. The new mohair and broadcloth upholstery is smartly tailored. Seats are wider and more luxuriously cushioned. A deeper windshield and wider windows give better vision. And beautiful new modern fittings lend a final note of charm.

Many mechanical improvements are also evident in this Bigger and Better Six. Among these are a stronger frame; easier steering; a more durable clutch; a quieter, smoother transmission; and important engine refinements.

The Bigger and Better Chevrolet Six is now on display. See it today—drive it! It is the Great American Value!

Christmas Gifts for Men and Boys

SCHOOL NEWS

"If you intend to go to work, there is no better place than right where you are; if you do not intend to go to work, you can not get along anywhere."—Abraham Lincoln.

Junior Play

The juniors gave their play, "The Goose Hangs High," last Friday evening at the gymnasium. There was a good crowd and everyone enjoyed the excellent entertainment.

The twins, taken by Esther Brady and Dan Genett, were very lively and modern indeed. We don't blame Hugh and Dagnor for the mutual attraction and wonder about "Tat" McCall and Howard Davenport of the stage? Page Ole Nelson, somebody! He is liable to know.

Gladys Meggison certainly made a sweet Eunice, and we like Levi Gibel you as a sometimes angry, but usually considerate and kind head of the house. We wonder if he will be like that twenty years from now? Don't crowd, girls!

We wouldn't mind having such a sweet, if somewhat spunky, Grannie such as Lilace Johnston made. How do you feel about it? Ralph Lemieur, as the Mr. Derby with whom Bernard finally throws his financial future, made an altogether gallant gentleman.

Mary Orlowski as Julia Merdoek was very stunning in her white and black outfit, and we sympathized with Ronny, alias Keith Kerr, who wanted to go to New York but had to stay home, just as Hugh did. Dorothy Griffin made a charming Rhoda; don't you think so? Richard McCann as an autocratic gentleman brought the house down. We liked Norman Anee in a derby almost as well as in his football uniform.

It was an exceptionally nice play; interesting, clever, and well acted. We think the Juniors have reason to be proud of their success; also Mrs. Dowd who made such a fine presentation possible.

Junior High Basketball

The boys in junior high have been practicing basketball regularly and the prospects for a good team are very bright. Mr. Bingham says. The team expects to play the usual games with Boyne City and other nearby schools. Good luck, junior high!

Miss Ferneau: "I am not going to call on anybody this morning," but will ask for volunteers."

Vie Smith: "That's good, now she won't disturb my sleep."

Junior High Christmas Program
The pupils in the junior high are preparing their annual Christmas program to be given Thursday, December 18th. The program consists of a one act play, "Christmas in the Old Town." The pupils taking part in the play are: Shirley Partridge, Ina Howe, Vivian Pike, Lewis Greenman, Theo. Jeffery, Keith Nickerson, Ernestine Nickerson, Marie Ikens, Helen Loskot, Esther O'Neill, George Bellinger, Marie Hunsen, Herman Meyer.

Christmas carols will also be sung.

Debate

Charlevoix negative team was scheduled to debate with Petoskey on Friday, December 12th. There will be no debate because Petoskey has forfeited the debate to us, since they have withdrawn from the league. This adds four points to the seven which the affirmative has already won.

We hope that in the closing preliminary debate on January 9th, Charlevoix will add enough remaining points to assure them entrance in the eliminations.

Elementary School Christmas Program

The elementary school is presenting a production of exceptional merit for its annual Christmas play in the gymnasium December 17th, at 8:00 o'clock.

The original thought was that, of all possible Christmas programs the real Christmas story was alone worthy of study, time and effort, and the phase of Christmas celebration needing emphasis rather than toys, gifts and feasting. The Bible story of the first Christmas was selected for dramatization.

The characters were chosen after extensive try-outs for fine voices and exceptional comprehension of the parts.

The characters are:

Shepherds
First Shepherd.....Benjamin Palmer
Judas.....Billy Linklater
Kerith.....Billy Housou
Rueben.....Harry Withers
Matthew.....Neil Pike
Zehidee.....Harold Chew
Other shepherds are: John Martin, Ormiston Bergeon, Raymond Nowland, Clare Gleason, Gilbert Powers, Donald Tillotson.

Angels
First Angel.....Esther Lou Foehman
Soloist.....Sophronia Vosburg

Angel Chorus
Carroll Whitley, Beatrice Beardsley, Jean Campbell, Alice Meyer, Marguerite Young, Dortha Taylor, Estella Livingston and Rose O'Neill.

Wise Men
The Egyptian.....Jack Van Orman
The Hindu.....Teddy Ager
The Greek.....Lee Smith
The Servant.....Jimmie Hiller
Each grade will sing its favorite Christmas carol.

The play is under supervision of Miss French, Miss Phillips and Mrs. McKee.

Damrosch Program

Friday morning the 4th, 5th, 6th grades, the training room, and the county normal listened to the Damrosch program in the music room.

We have been studying the Wood wind choir, and the instruments illustrated in our concert were the oboe, English horn and bassoon.

The first part of the program was as follows:

1. Scotch Idyl, from Henry VIII.
2. Minuet.
3. In the Village, from Caucasian Sketches.
4. Dragoons of Alesia, from Carmen.

The second part illustrated the sounds or characteristic movements of animals.

These programs are presented in a series of four, one program being suitable for the primary grades, one for the 4th, 5th, and 6th, one for junior high and one for the senior high. There is a five minute intermission between programs, to allow for passing of classes. The programs are coming in very well, and Mr. Damrosch presents the music with interesting comments. Test questions are placed in the children's notebooks and the selections discussed before the concert. After hearing the program the test questions are answered.

This week the concerts are for the 4th, 5th and 6th grades, and the 1st, 2nd and 3rd grades. The first program is "Brass Instruments," and the second, "Emotions in Music."

Music

The Glee clubs are planning on following the delightful old customs of singing Christmas carols on Christmas eve. We expect to sing in all the main sections of Charlevoix.

Grades

The grades are enjoying the music from the Nutcracker Ballet.

This is based on a fairy story, in which a little girl receives a silver nutcracker for a Christmas gift. In a dream, the nutcracker becomes a fairy prince, and the little girl a princess, and they visit the kingdom of the Sugar Plum fairy. This fairy queen entertains the prince and princess with various dances. First dancing herself, then giving others dances for the toy pipers, Chinese, Arabian and Russian dolls. Then all the guests join in the beautiful "Dance of the Flowers."

We have found that the composer, Tschokowsky, individualizes particular instruments, as the celesta for the fairy queen's dance, flutes for the flowers. The music is subdued, fairy like, and most beautiful, possessing a particular charm.

"God the only Cause and Creator" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, December 7.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people." (Matt. 4:23).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "When man is governed by God, the ever-present Mind who understands all things, man knows that with God all things are possible. The only way to this living Truth, which heals the sick, is found in the Science of divine Mind as taught and demonstrated by Christ Jesus." (p. 180).

LEARNING FROM THE WHALE

There are many people who laugh at what they call the fool pursuits of scientists. They fail to appreciate the scientific mind, or the probability that discoveries in one investigation may disclose principles of great importance to mankind.

For example, a scientist is now making a study of the whale. Why? Because that great mammal possesses a secret that might be of great value to men. Sometimes, for an hour, the whale goes under the water, and stays under. What becomes of the carbon dioxide which he generates? If the whale has some method of disposing of this poison is it not possible that, once discovered, scientists may be able to reproduce for men the same condition?

Well, says the doubter, what of it? Well say we, this might save the lives of a number of submarine sailors. It might spare hundreds of miners and save their lives when buried within the mines. It might do more than this. What it might do we cannot tell, but the scientist will find out for us if we give him a chance.

Little Betty may lose her breath for an instant, but then watch her face light up in her cutest smile when she sees those sparkling-eyed, Talking Dolls and those Doll Buggies and Dishes and other delights she's been wanting you to tell Santa about. Give her a treat—buy one.

BEAVER ISLANDER IS TAKEN ON WET COUNT

Al Watkins Said to Have Sold Beer to Dan Mitchell, Indian

Al Watkins, Beaver Island resident, who was arrested Sunday by Deputy Sheriff John Tully at the island, was lodged in jail here Monday afternoon.

Watkins, charged with possession of beer, waived examination when arraigned before Justice Robt. Withers Tuesday afternoon and was bound over to circuit court under $1,000 bond.

Watkins, it is claimed, furnished beer to Dan Mitchell, a Beaver Island Indian. Mitchell went on the war path, drove his family from the house. He was arrested and subsequently claimed to have obtained his liquor from Watkins.

COUNTY ROAD COMMISSION BUY NEW TRUCK

Four-Wheel-Drive Outfit With Plow Equipment Delivered Here

Another piece of snow-fighting equipment was added to the battery of county road commission trucks last week with the delivery here of a new 3 1-2 ton four-wheel-drive truck from the F. W. D. Truck company at Centerville, Wisconsin.

The new truck is equipped with Sargeant V-type plow with hydraulic lift. Supt. R. T. Davis brought the truck here from Ludington, where it had been shipped by boat from Manitowoc, Wisconsin.

LOCAL MEN PURCHASE SVENSDAHL POOL HALL

In a deal closed the latter part of last week, Oscar Nelson and Floyd Ikens purchased the stock of the tobacco store and pool hall until recently owned by Rasmus Svendsahl. The new owners put the place in shape over the week-end and Tuesday opened for business.

Probate Notice
State of Michigan — The Probate Court for the County of Charlevoix. In the Matter of the Estate of Lillian E. (Compton) Noble, deceased.

At a session of said court, held in the probate office in the city of Charlevoix, in said county, on the 10th day of December, 1930.

Present: Ervon A. Rueggger, Probate Judge.

The above estate having been admitted to probate and Adelia Compton and Aimee Beaudoin having been appointed executrices;

It is Ordered, That four months from this date be allowed for creditors to present their claims against said estate for examination and adjustment, and that all creditors of said deceased, are required to present their claims to said court, at the probate office in the city of Charlevoix, on or before the 10th day of April, 1931, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at which time claims will be heard.

It is Further Ordered, That public notice thereof be given by publication of this order for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing in the Charlevoix Courier, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county.

—Adv. 5013 Ervon A. Rueggger, Judge of Probate.

PETOSKEY CEMENT PLANT SHUT DOWN

General Business Conditions Force Halt in Operations

The plant of the Petoskey Portland Cement company, which has gradually been suspending operations, entirely shut down last week, forcing from 250 to 300 men out of employment for an indefinite period. The only men who will be employed for the present are those necessary in operating the boiler room and power plant which supplies a large part of the electric current used in Petoskey.

"It is impossible to say, at this time," John L. A. Galster, treasurer and general manager stated, "when the plant can be started again, as this will depend entirely on business conditions. We have 485,000 barrels of cement on hand at the present time."

The curtailment also will affect the office and sales force, it was stated.

The Petoskey plant was one of the first mills in the country to operate during the entire 12 months of each year, and in its nearly ten years of operation, this is the first complete shutdown of the plant.

TWO STATE FERRIES TAKEN OFF STRAITS

Single Boat Now Operating Until Close of Navigation

Two of the state ferries in the fleet of three operating across the Straits of Mackinaw have gone into winter quarters at Cheboygan. They were the St. Ignace and Mackinaw City. The Straits of Mackinac will continue on the run making crossings every three hours, according to members of the crews, as long as weather permits.

The firm of J. B. Lund's Sons of Cheboygan has the contract to put a new upper deck on the St. Ignace. This will make it correspond with the other two boats, both of which were decked in this manner by the Lund company. The new upper forward deck will greatly increase the ship's auto capacity.

BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY WAS OBSERVED

Charles Allard Honored at Party Given Friday Evening

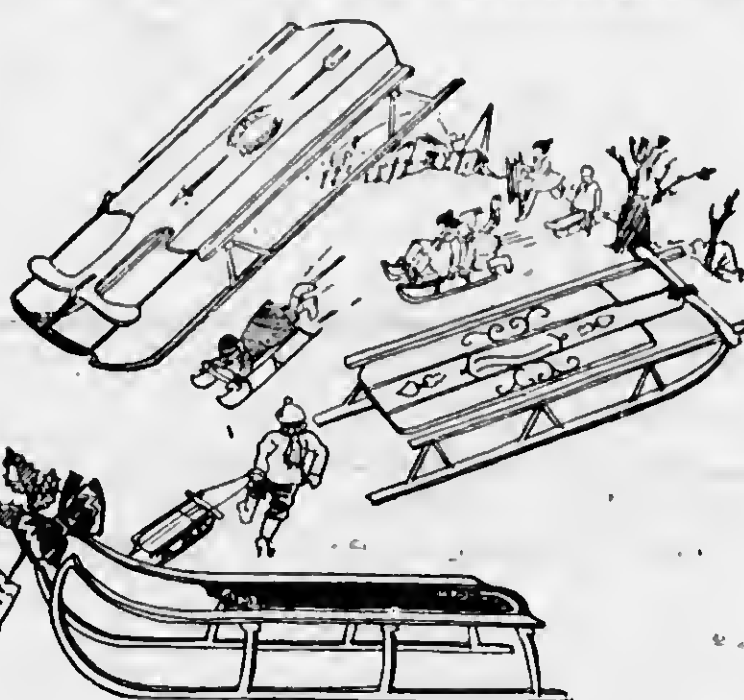

Friday evening the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allard was the scene of a very enjoyable party in celebration of Mr. Allard's 75th birthday anniversary.

A six o'clock dinner was served to a gathering of twenty-three relatives and friends. The large birthday cake was an attraction. Following dinner, an evening of progressive pedro and dancing was enjoyed.

The evening was climaxed at a late hour when Mr. Allard received a long distance telephone call of congratulation from his daughter in Detroit.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

Politics and Personalities

If an extra session of Congress is averted, it will probably amaze every congressional leader who is now declaring that an extra session is unthinkable. Consider the situation. Within approximately ten weeks, this Congress must dispose of pending measures involving such controversial matters as labor injunctions, power regulation, and unemployment relief. It must pass appropriation bills, consider and take action on at least a half-dozen congressional investigations, confirm numerous executive appointments, debate the plan for United States adherence to the World Court, and delve into hundreds of incidental subjects.

The situation would be less acute if Congress hadn't come together with the odor of gunpowder from the November 4th battlefields still in its nostrils. It would also be less acute if practically every piece of proposed legislation didn't offer glorious opportunities for political jockeying. Some debate will undoubtedly precede the confirmation or rejection of William Danks as secretary of labor; of Eugene Meyer, Jr., as governor of the federal reserve board; of Henry P. Fletcher as chairman of the tariff commission; and of various appointments to the federal power commission. Think of the probable uproar that Congressman Hamilton Fish's discovery of a "Red menace" in America will evoke. And imagine the tongue-wagging that the very mention of prohibition will call forth.

Then consider the hours that will be consumed by our congressional playboys, blusterers and demagogues who have nothing to say but who must say it notwithstanding. This session of Congress promises to be the fullest and most interesting in many years. But we predict that it will not be the last one to meet before December, 1931.

Bird's-Eyeing Ancient Cities

To pry from the mountain-locked land behind the Peruvian Andes secrets that have remained hidden for centuries is the purpose of five young American explorers who departed in planes for Peru on December 5th. These secrets of archeological, geographic and geological importance they plan to unearth by camera from the air. Heading the expedition is George R. Johnson, fellow of the American Geographical society and chief photographer of the Peruvian Naval air service. His partner is Robert Shippee, geologist, historian and second pilot.

Two monoplanes, the "Washington" and the "Lima," are carrying the explorers. The planes were christened by Senora Juan Mendoza, wife of the secretary of the Peruvian embassy, at a ceremony at Bolling field, near Washington, attended by Senor Manuel de Freyre Santander, the Peruvian ambassador, and officials of the state, war and navy departments. There were also present officials of the American Geographical and Harvard Geological societies which are cooperating in the expedition.

Remembering Our French Forefathers

Founded four years ago to further friendship between the United States and France, L'Institute Francaise de Washington was recently awarded a diploma by the famous French academy in recognition of the organization's outstanding services. The award was specifically given for the institute's series of publications bearing on contributions made by the French race to early American civilization. It was officially presented by M. Andre Cheyrrillon, member of the French academy, at the institute's fifth annual meeting. General John Pershing, honorary president of the organization, Ambassador Paul Claudel of France, and numerous diplomats, officials and social leaders witnessed the ceremony.

Special decorations of the French Legion of Honor were given by Ambassador Claudel, on behalf of the French government, to Dr. James Brown-Scott, president of the institute, and Rev. Jules Baisnee, secretary, for their work in promoting friendly and intellectual relations between France and this country. Dr. Scott was made a commander of the Legion and Father Baisnee was made a chevalier.

L'Institute Francaise is giving special attention to the history of Louisiana, the St. Lawrence, Mississippi and Ohio valleys, and to the history of the Huguenot refugees who settled in New England, New York, Virginia and the Carolinas. One of the recent publications of the society contains much hitherto unpublished material on Major L'Enfant, whose architectural plans for the city of Washington are now being carried out as far as possible.

Books and Child Welfare

That "civilized man cannot live without books" is more poetry than truth seems evident from a report of the recent White House conference on child welfare which states that the average American buys only two books a year. This "average American" spends more on greeting cards than on books, according to the conference estimates.

It is true that we read more books than we buy. However, public library facilities fail to reach 54,000,000 people, of whom 20,000,000 are children. The small circulation of both books and periodicals among adolescents is most striking. Only nine per cent of the 10,187 new title or editions of books published last year were for children, although this represents a marked increase during the past ten years. Fourteen magazines with a total circulation of 2,094,578 for boys and girls are published.

Town and county units are helping to establish library facilities in rural areas. In 37 states, books are distributed by mail from central libraries, and in some areas the automobile is used as a "library on wheels."

Wires Around the World

When an American telephone company recently made arrangements to establish radio telephonic communications between this country and Hawaii, another chapter was added to the romantic story of international communications as they have developed during the past ten years.

The North and South American continents were first brought into radio telephonic communication on a two-way circuit in April, 1930. This circuit covered 6,000 miles, linking almost 300,000 telephones in Argentina, Chile and Uruguay with more than 21,500,000 phones in the United States, Canada, Cuba and Mexico. Messages travel by radio to Buenos Aires and are then transmitted by land lines to the other South American countries. There are now four two-way circuits operated between New York and London, and a fifth circuit is in preparation, as well as a submarine telephone cable.

Through radio telegraphy, the United States is connected with 45 to 50 countries by direct air channels. Thirteen go from New York to points in Europe and Asia, one crosses the South Atlantic to Africa, and 17 circuits link the United States with South and Central American countries. Six run across the Pacific to the Far East and numerous shorter ones connect San Francisco and Honolulu.

Today, the Atlantic Ocean is spanned by 21 cables, the Pacific by three, the Indian Ocean by eight, and the Caribbean by three. Complicated networks run back and forth across the Mediterranean and the Red Sea.

Uncle Sam's Xmas List

If you don't know what to give Aunt Mary or Uncle John for Christmas, consult the department of commerce at Washington. A booklet entitled, "It's a Gift," issued by the textile division of the department suggests about 200 articles that will approximately fit into Christmas stockings. Although all the proposed gifts derive from the textile world, a remarkable variety characterizes the list. Included in the suggestions are powder puffs, ensemble bathroom sets, gift boxes of bed sheets, plat tents and duffle bags.

The booklet, which was compiled at the direction of Congress to find new uses for cotton, suggests that more homely necessities should not be used as Christmas gifts but should, instead, be purchased from time to time as needed. By this method, the department states, "the most important, shared with those who so sorely need the employment which general buying of necessities assures."

Just Another National Problem

Vigorous demonstrations of state pride are being staged by state representatives in regard to naming an avenue that will be cut as part of the Capitol building program. Two thoroughfares, Ohio avenue and Maine avenue, must be abolished to make way for this one new street. Ohio representatives think "Ohio avenue" would be the correct designation. Maine representatives hold that "Maine avenue" would be more fitting.

To complicate matters, Senators Broussard and Ransdell, both of Louisiana, contend that the new avenue should be named for the Pelican state since the existing Louisiana avenue is being cut to two blocks. California has jumped into the fray with a demand that the street bear the Golden state's name. However, there is already a California avenue, and it isn't likely that even the name of the president's state will grace two thoroughfares in the same city.

Another suggestion is to call the street by some general name like "Memorial avenue" or "Columbus avenue." The decision is up to the commission on enlarging the Capitol grounds, which includes Vice-President Curtis (chairman), Speaker of the House Nicholas Longworth, and numerous House and Senate members, and Capitol Architect David Lynn. Mr. Lynn, unburdened by the duty of representing any state, will probably be the deciding influence.

Notice!

To the taxpayers of the city of Charlevoix:

Notice is hereby given that the December tax roll of the city of Charlevoix has been delivered to me, and that the taxes therein levied are payable at my office in the Carnegie library at any time on or before the 9th day of January, 1931, without any charge for collection. On all taxes remaining unpaid after that date a collection fee of four cents on the dollar will be charged and collected.

It is all right to feed silage that has been frozen to livestock, provided it is fed immediately after thawing.

Keep the horse's stall dry and well bedded, and clean it daily. Wet, mucky stalls are likely to cause thrush and other foot troubles.

Hemlock is attractive for Christmas decorations, but its needles begin to drop off sooner than those of most greens. Plant specialists of the U. S. department of agriculture say that hemlock needles will hold much longer if the stems are recut and put in water.

The popular notion that high yields of cotton are obtained only from varieties with very short staple is incorrect, says the bureau of plant industry, U. S. department of agriculture. Superior varieties of upland cottons with longer staple are available that are as early and productive as varieties with less than an inch staple.

It is not necessary that a Christmas tree be perfectly symmetrical. Christmas trees cut as part of a thinning operation are often one-sided, but a one-sided tree can be placed in a corner of the room or against the wall where it will serve its purpose fully as well as a perfectly rounded tree.

Bees must have stores of high quality during the winter months or they will suffer from dysentery. It is particularly important that the honey adjacent to the cluster be good, as this is the part used in the winter. If the stores are of poor quality, feed each colony about 10 pounds of heavy sugar syrup after brood rearing has ceased. The feeding should be done rapidly.

Demand for feeder pigs has increased in recent years, says the U. S. department of agriculture, principally from corn belt farmers and men who make a business of fattening pigs. Garbage-feeding establishments and serum plants also buy feeder pigs. To sell as feeders, pigs should weigh from 75 to 100 pounds, or they may even weigh up to 120 pounds.

Plowing in late fall or winter is probably the most important control measure for combating the cotton bollworm, as this pest overwinters in the pupal stage from 4 to 6 inches below the surface of the ground. This is especially important for land that has been in crops harboring the bollworm during the late fall. It is also desirable to plow or deeply disc fence rows and other places where bollworms may have fed on plants.

One of the most common causes of fire in farm dwellings is the defective chimney, including flues and stovepipe connections. Walls of chimneys should be built of brick, stone, reinforced concrete, or hollow units of clay or concrete. Walls not more than 30 feet high should be at least four inches thick for brick or reinforced concrete, eight inches for hollow tile, and 12 inches for stone. Use only sound, hard-burned brick for brick chimneys. Reinforce concrete breast-bone toward the throat, making a cut from 10 to 12 inches long. Insert the knife with the back of the blade against the breastbone and point the tip directly toward the backbone at the top of the shoulders, just under the windpipe, and cut forward toward the head. Take care not to stick so deep and so far back as to penetrate the chest cavity. Bleeding is more complete if the carcass is "pumped" by grasping the tail and pushing the paunch forward.

Suitable feed and ample exercise are most important points in caring for the sow during pregnancy. The best feeds for bred sows are corn, shorts or middlings, fish meal or tankage, old-process linseed meal, bran, alfalfa hay or meal, oats, and barley. A good way to feed shorts or middlings is to mix about a pound with one-half pound of tankage and feed dry in a trough once a day. At a convenient place between the watering trough or sleeping quarters and the self-feeder put a rack filled with good alfalfa hay, preferably the third or fourth cutting. If this plan is followed, the corn may be fed twice daily in troughs or on a feeding floor. Keep a mineral mixture in a self-feeder. Scattering ear or shelled corn in the field will furnish exercise for the sows.

The stockyards receive thousands of hogs each year that have died in transit or that are more or less crippled owing to improper handling before or during shipment, says the U. S. department of agriculture. Let the hogs get rested before loading them on cars. Don't drive them too fast, or load too many on a truck or wagon. Never prod, kick, or excite the animals. Keep them in a comfortable, roomy pen and feed light rations just before shipping. Don't use loading chutes that are too steep. A chute 20 feet long provides a gradual rise to an ordinary farm wagon. The sides of the chute should be protected so the hogs can not fall off. See that the cars are free from sharp pieces of broken timber, nails, mud, or rubbish. Bedding should be provided. Crowding too many hogs in a car may result in some of them dying in transit.

The Farm Budget

A farm budget helps the farmer to choose the most profitable system of farming, to keep a good balance between crops or between crops and livestock, to determine how much seed and other supplies will be needed, to figure out the amount of cash needed, and to determine the net returns that may be expected. Farmers' bulletin 1564-F, which may be obtained from the U. S. department of agriculture, Washington, D. C., contains information on making a farm budget.

Read the Spice Box Label

Read the label on the spice box, says W. R. M. Wharton of the federal food and drug administration. Spices are put up in a larger variety of sizes of packages than any other food product. Some manufacturers put out a large-size package purposely to fool you, and such packages are often slack filled. If you judge by the size of the package when you buy spices, you may think you are getting more than it actually contains. But the pure food law requires a quantity-of-contents statement on spice packages, as well as on the containers of many other foods. If you want good value for your money, read the label.

Clean Up the Corn Borer

A clean-up campaign against the corn borer should include cleanly plowing under corn stubble and the ground where corn has been harvested from standing stalks. Harvest first the cornland that is to be planted to spring grains and pasture it while harvesting the rest of the crop. This is especially important on soils that can not be plowed in the spring and worked down to a good seed-bed in time to seed small grain. During the first of the year, break off the standing stalks with a "T" rail or pole when the ground is frozen and free from snow. Raking and burning the dry, frozen stalks in the winter will reduce the amount of clean-up work to be done later. Destroy cobs and tresh, especially cornstalks, around the barns and feed lots.

Trapping Moles for Fur

In the United States moles are generally considered a nuisance, but in some European countries they are trapped intensively for their pelts. The skins of some American moles, says the biological survey of the U. S. department of agriculture, are of good quality and are in growing demand. Mole fur is at its best in winter. Runways and nests of moles are easy to locate by the earth ridges and mounds that the animals make. To catch moles anywhere east of the Rockies, says the biological survey, trap in the hunting paths marked by the ridges. On the Pacific coast, however, it is better to trap in their deeper runways. Good catches can usually be made along their main highways, particularly when these are along fence lines or ridges in open fields, or where they cross from sod to cultivated ground. From 12 to 20 moles have been caught in a few weeks by resetting a trap each day in the same spot. It is well to set traps on ridges over temporary hunting paths only when they have been made recently in damp soil and have not become dry. Moles usually work in a moist, rich soil, and it seldom pays to set traps in dry places.

Eradicate Ox Warbles

Though ox warbles usually do not appear on livestock in the north until February, the southern livestock raiser should watch out for them in December. Warbles found on stock should be squeezed out and destroyed. Do not crush the warbles, says the U. S. department of agriculture, as this sometimes has a bad effect on the cattle. The grubs can also be destroyed by the use of Derris as a wash, ointment, or powder; by pyrethrum ointment; by the injection of benzol or carbon tetrachloride; or by the application of fine tobacco powder or nicotine dust. Get your neighbors to cooperate by destroying warbles on their herds, so your cattle will not be reinfested.

"Black Frost"

A "black frost" may cause considerable damage to growing crops without there being any deposit of frost whatever, says the U. S. weather bureau. The bureau explains this phenomenon by saying that the temperature of any exposed object usually falls more or less steadily after sunset until it reaches the dew point, at which time the invisible water vapor in the atmosphere begins to condense and be deposited, especially if there is considerable moisture present. If the dew point is above 32 degrees F., the freezing point of water, dew forms; if it is 32 degrees F. or lower, frost forms. Since dew or frost does not begin to form until the temperature of the ground or other object reaches the dew point, it is apparent that if the dew point is very low, the temperature may fall low enough to cause considerable damage to vegetation by freezing without the formation of frost.

NEW MARINE RAILWAY IN OPERATION
Work of Hauling Out Boats Speeded Up With New Equipment

Work on the new marine railroad at the Hamilton & Son ship yard, which was started this fall, was completed recently and with the new equipment in operation the usual tedious task of putting boats in the yard for winter is going forward in record time.

The new and larger ear is handling boats of larger dimension than have been hauled out in the Hamilton yard in former years, and is doing the job nicely. The equipment will undoubtedly bring many larger craft to this harbor for repairs and should attract additional business to its owners.

Audience Appreciates Play
Good crowds were present at both the afternoon and evening performances of the junior class play, "The Goose Hangs High," presented Friday at the gymnasium. Those attending were generous in their praise of the production.

LOCAL BOY WRITES OF SPAIN RIOTING

Raymond Faulkner in Barcelona During Recent Demonstrations

Raymond Faulkner, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Faulkner, who is studying landscaping in Spain this winter, writes an interesting account to his parents concerning recent rioting at Barcelona.

Raymond was a witness to many of the demonstrations staged. His letter, in part, follows:

"The strike in Barcelona, Spain, was quite a surprise. We were peacefully sketching miles from our hotel and when we started back for lunch there were no street cars running. It all seemed so quiet and strange—so many people in the streets. As we walked on we found benches broken and thrown across the car tracks and cobble stones torn up. Police and soldiers began to appear and rode along the sidewalks to keep crowds from gathering. That afternoon everything seemed very menacing—all of the shops were closed tightly with their iron shutters down and no vehicles were running. The next day there were fewer shops open and the cafes were all closed. The streets looked so bare with no tables and chairs along them. Soldiers were everywhere with rifles, swords and revolvers and frequently charged the mobs and sent them scurrying to any nearby shelter. It was very thrilling and exciting. Today when we left Barcelona there were still no taxis, but everything seemed getting back to normal. You probably have read more of the riot than I have, since I do not read Spanish well."

WOMAN DEER HUNTER ADMITTED VIOLATION

Killed Her Buck Before Procuring Hunting License

The only woman hunter to be arrested for a deer law violation this year was Mrs. Vivian Hepler, 24, Battle Creek, according to reports received by the law enforcement division of the conservation department.

Conservation officers found a deer hanging by the camp where Mrs. Hepler was staying. It bore no seal. Inquiry by the officers revealed that the deer was killed before Mrs. Hepler obtained her license. She pleaded guilty to the charge when arraigned in justice court at Munising and was fined $50 with costs of $7.00.

Mrs. Hepler's husband refused to assume responsibility the officer filing the report commented.

UP-STATE PROVIDES MOST DEER HUNTERS

Fifty Per Cent of Licenses Sold in Northern Counties

A recent compilation of game licenses made by the conservation department shows that 50 per cent of all small game and trapping licenses are sold in the three lower tiers of counties of the state.

Between town line twenty, the southern boundary of Manistee, Wexford, Missaukee, Roscommon, Ogemaw, and Isosco counties, 85 per cent of such licenses are purchased. The remainder is equally divided between the northern tip of the lower peninsula and the upper peninsula.

Small game license sales maintain a fair relationship with population—it is coincidental that the majority of small game hunting, cottontail rabbits and pheasants, overlaps the area of thickest population in the lower part of the state.

Deer license sales tell another story. Fifty per cent of these licenses are purchased in the 15 upper peninsula counties and the 12 counties of the lower peninsula which are open to deer and bear hunting.

The upper peninsula, by a narrow margin buys more deer licenses than small game licenses. This is also true of several of the counties in the northeastern portion of the lower peninsula.

One in every 12 people in Michigan buys a game license each year. The ratio will vary from one to 33 in Wayne county to one to six or seven in other counties.

The rate per thousand population by counties shows, in small game and trapping license sales, Wayne county 27 to a thousand as the lowest rate and Keweenaw county with a rate of 495 to a thousand, as the highest. Roscommon county, with a ratio of 404 per thousand, runs a close second.

The wisest money ever spent is money invested in a water Kent (The Radio with the Golden Voice). Wood Bros., Adv. 5012.

FARM NOTES

Farmers Learn from Neighbors

That farmers can learn much from observation trips to the farms of their neighbors has been illustrated by a group of 125 beef cattleman of northern Missouri, who recently spent a day visiting farmers who entered this year's Missouri beef production contest.

One of the things learned by farmers who made the tour was how Truman Stewart, Grundy county farmer, fed a group of 14 Angus calves 147 days at a total feed cost of $9.39 per calf. These calves made an average total gain of 373.5 pounds, or an average daily gain of 2.54 pounds. They were allowed to nurse, and each calf was fed $6.43 worth of corn, $1.63 worth of oats, and $0.58 worth of linseed meal.

Some of the outstanding things shown on the tour were that through the cow and calf system of producing beef, the herd can be carried on a maximum amount of roughage or cheap feed, that it requires a small amount of grain to fatten the calves, that practically all of the feed consumed by the calves was raised on the farms, and that cattle handled in this way go to market of a desirable weight and finish to meet market demands.

Plans were discussed for another tour next spring. Agricultural experts who are familiar with the arrangement at this tour claim that similar ones can be carried out by farmers in all sections to great advantage.

When a woman goes visiting nothing hurts her so much as her inability to impress upon her hostess the idea that she is used to something better at home.

LEGAL NOTICES

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale
Notice is hereby given that default has occurred in the conditions of that certain mortgage, dated the 3rd day of February, 1925, executed by Oscar C. Kraft, and Veral H. Kraft, as his wife and in her own right, as mortgagors, to The Federal Land Bank of Saint Paul, a body corporate, at the City of Saint Paul, County of Ramsey, State of Minnesota, as mortgagee, filed for record in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for Charlevoix county, Michigan, on the 2nd day of February, A. D. 1924, at 1:20 o'clock p. m., recorded in Liber 62 of Mortgages on page 301 thereof, in that that certain installment of Twenty-two and 75-100 dollars ($22.75), principal and interest due July 22, 1930, remains unpaid; and further, that the insurance was not paid by the mortgagors and was permitted to become delinquent; that on the failure of said mortgagors to pay such insurance, The Federal Land Bank of Saint Paul did elect to pay the sum of Sixteen and 98-100 dollars ($16.98); and further, that the taxes were not paid by the mortgagors and were permitted to become delinquent; that on the failure of said mortgagors to pay such taxes, The Federal Land Bank of Saint Paul did elect to pay the same, and on October 30, 1930, paid the sum of Three hundred Twenty-three and 49-100 dollars ($323.49) as taxes for the years 1927, 1928 and 1929, that pursuant to the provisions of said mortgage, said mortgagee has elected to declare the whole debt secured thereby to be now due and payable; and there is due and payable at the date of this notice upon the debt secured by said mortgage, the sum of One Thousand Twenty-four and 42-100 dollars ($1,024.42); and that no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover said debt or any part thereof, that by virtue of a power of sale therein contained, said mortgage will be foreclosed and the land and premises therein described lying and being in the county of Charlevoix and state of Michigan, as follows, to-wit:

The South Half of the Northeast Quarter (S½NE¼) of Section Twenty-five (25) in Township Thirty-three (33) North, of Range Nine (9) West, except right of way as heretofore granted of record to the County of Charlevoix, containing Eighty (80) acres, more or less.

will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash by the Sheriff of Charlevoix county, at the front door of the court house, in the city of Charlevoix, in said county and state, on Tuesday, February 24, 1931, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon, to pay and satisfy the debt secured by said mortgage and the costs and disbursements allowed by law upon said foreclosure sale.

Spud Growers Make Excellent Records

Eleven Michigan potato growers gave the weather man a bad beating and through these efforts qualified for the Michigan 300 bushel potato club by producing 300 or more bushels of potatoes per acre in 1930.

The successful growers were: Reiser Bros. and Hoppe, Hawke; Percy Reed, Leverlog; John Soderman, Crystal Falls; John Casman, Bark River; Dale Nichols, Pellston; John de Longchamps, Champion; Alphonse Verschure, Manistique; J. D. Robinson, Pellston; Harry Riley, Belaire; Rudolph Klee, Hawke; and A. E. Drake, Crystal Falls.

The 300 bushel club has been running eight years and to stimulate interest in quality of potatoes as well as quantity another contest called the premier grower contest was begun this year to determine which of Michigan's potato growers would score the highest in quantity, quality, and ability to show and grade potatoes.

WIFE, GAS, SCARE MAN IN DEAD OF NIGHT

"Overcome by stomach gas in the dead of night, I scared my husband badly. He got Adlerika and it ended the gas," Mrs. M. Owen.

Adlerika relieves stomach gas in TEN minutes! Acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, removing old poisonous waste you never knew was there. Don't fool with medicine which cleans only PART of bowels, but let Adlerika give stomach and bowels a REAL cleaning and get rid of all gas! F. J. Fessenden, druggist.

gun this year to determine which of Michigan's potato growers would score the highest in quantity, quality, and ability to show and grade potatoes.

Winners in the various districts for this contest who have been named are: Victor Soderman, Crystal Falls, U. P.; Reiser Brothers and Hoppe, Hawke; Top O'Michigan; George McLachlan, Exart, western Michigan; Lee Fowler, Mayville, Thumb; C. H. Pepper, Bloomingdale, southwestern Michigan.

These growers produced an average of 332 bushels per acre. They believe in planting plenty of seed in preparation for a record crop, as the 42 men in the contest planted an average of 20 bushels per acre.

The use of fertilizer and good cultural practices also played a large part in producing these yields. The average application of fertilizer was 436 pounds per acre and the potato fields were harrowed or disced six and one-half times before planting and the potatoes were cultivated three times. Three growers harrowed or disced their fields 12 times before planting and these fields need only one cultivation.

Early Buyers Get Better Type Ewes

Ewes which are to be bought for Michigan farm flocks can be selected to better advantage now than later when the supply from which choice can be made is reduced by sales, according to the animal husbandry department at Michigan State college.

The purchase of ewes from flocks near the buyers' homes is recommended as the purchaser will save shipping charges and will be able to make a closer inspection of the animals he contemplates buying. Local sheep are also adjusted to that particular locality and will not be affected by the change from one place to the other.

The buyer should be a good judge of sheep to avoid the possibility of becoming the owner of ewes which are being culled out because of age or defects.

Two or three year old ewes usually are preferable. Less trouble at lambing time will be encountered with ewes of this age. A broody individual carrying a sound udder should be selected. A firm, dense fleece attached to a pink skin is an indication of hardiness as well as of ability to produce a fair crop of wool.

Bacteria May Give Butter Bad Flavor

Bad flavors in butter, which are sometimes called metallic, kerosene, weedy, or fishy, are not always caused by the agencies suggested by the names given to the flavors, according to members of the bacteriology department at Michigan State college.

While poorly tinned utensils may result in imparting a metallic flavor to the milk products kept in them through the formation of iron or copper lactate, it is possible to duplicate most of the bad flavors sometimes found in butter by adding bacteria to the butter or to the cream from which it is made.

The presence of bad flavors reduces the grade of the butter to a point where its value is much less than the cost of producing the cream from which it is made, and poor butter always results in dissatisfied consumers who may buy substitutes after experiences with a poor dairy product.

The use of properly tinned utensils and the protection of cream and butter from contamination with undesirable microorganisms will reduce cases of bad flavored butter to a minimum.

* "INSIDE INFORMATION" *

Next time you have a leg of lamb, try having the butcher bone it. You will be surprised to find how many attractive servings can be made from either a hot or cold boned leg, that can be sliced evenly from end to end.

Christmas gifts from the kitchen will be sure to please. A few jars of jelly or preserves or pickles—some of your most appetizing cookies—a fruit cake or a tasty layer cake—some homemade candies—are all good last minute remembrances. Dainty wrappings make them reflect the spirit of the season.

Here are four good rules on the care of milk in the home: First, provide a receptacle on the porch, in which the milkman can place the bottled milk, to protect it. Second, place the milk in the refrigerator as soon as possible after it is delivered. Third, leave the milk in the bottle until it is time to use it. Fourth, do not return unused milk or cream to the bottle. Keep it, covered, in a separate container.

If your rooms are covered with a figured wall-paper, choose a plain colored curtain material. If the wall paper and most of the furnishings, including the rug, are plain, the curtains may be figured, preferably with a background the same color as the walls, or slightly deeper than the walls. In choosing figured materials, choose conventional designs that will stand the test of being looked at day after day. Don't forget that stripes tend to increase the height, and if used in excess, tend to give a stiff, uncomfortable effect. Sprawling designs make windows look shorter and broader.

FIRST BUYERS OF CHRISTMAS SEALSCharlevoix and East Jordan Men Make First Purchases

Glen S. See, 211 Lewis street, Charlevoix, and Walter Corniel, East Jordan, were the first persons in Charlevoix county to buy Christmas seals this year, the Michigan Tuberculosis association reports. Envelopes containing money for their seals arrived at the association's office in Lansing shortly after the opening of the sale on Thanksgiving day.

Basing their opinions on the first day's returns in the seal sale, officials of the Michigan Tuberculosis association expressed the hope that the 1930 sale would be as successful as those carried on in preceding years.

"Envelopes that have been opened to date seem to indicate that people who have a reasonably steady income are buying seals more liberally than ever," T. J. Werle, executive secretary said. "We hope that this trend will continue as the sale progresses, to make up for the defection of those who bought seals in other years, but who simply are unable to make their usual purchase at this time, much as they would like to do so."

CHILDREN'S HEALTH

By Grace Congdon, R. N., Public Health Nurse, Charlevoix CountySponsored by the Children's Fund of Michigan

Hours on Duty—8:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.
Office Hours—Saturday, 8:30 a. m. to 12:00 m.

The purpose of the Children's Fund of Michigan is to promote the health, welfare, happiness and development of the children of Michigan. The child welfare program of the Fund includes the health supervision of the expectant mother, of the infant, the pre-school and school child. By such health supervision early in life the Children's Fund believes that the coming generation will raise the general standard of the health of the nation.

The first and most important duty of the public health nurse is that of teaching her people ways of better and healthier living.

In order that everyone in the county may have a clearer understanding of the nurse's work, an effort will be made in the following outline to make clear her duties.

Duties of the Nurse

The nurse will inspect the school children.

Aid the teacher in testing eyes.

Weighing and measuring pupils in schools.

Carry out the physician's orders. Will make home calls on the expectant mother.

Will call at homes to ascertain what aid she may give to benefit the health of the school or the pre-school child.

Will give maternity service instructions, including care during pregnancy and care after delivery. Will teach the mother, when desired, how to bathe and care for newborn infant.

Will teach and demonstrate control of communicable diseases.

In her home calls, she will instruct in personal hygiene, sanitation and prevention of diseases.

Will be interested in promoting health activities in every way possible.

Will help to form first aid and home nursing classes.

Will be authorized to teach home hygiene and first aid classes in the high schools when the school superintendents so desire.

Such classes will be taught according to the program of the National Red Cross.

In her school inspections, she will send notes home with the pupils as to their physical defects with the request that the family send the child to the family physician or family dentist.

When the family cannot afford this, an effort will be made to find means of providing the necessary treatment.

To avoid misunderstanding, it should be remembered that the nurse is not practicing medicine and therefore she will not do certain things which are for the physician alone to do, or which take an undue amount of her time.

Her program is entirely that of child health along educational lines and no calls will be made on adult patients except in grave emergency or when the illness of the adult is dangerous to the health of the child.

She cannot make calls outside of regular working hours.

She will not vaccinate.

She will not make physical examinations.

She will not diagnose.

She will not prescribe medicine of any kind.

She will not make a prolonged visit in any one home.

She will give nursing care only when necessary to demonstrate simple nursing procedure to some adult member of the family.

When choosing a Radio you have your choice, so pick out the one with the Golden Voice. Wood Bros. — Adv. 5012.

CHILDREN'S FUND OR-GANIZATION AT WORKPersonnel of Northern Michigan Unit
Now Nearly Complete

Dr. C. Dean, director of the Northern Michigan unit of the Children's Fund of Michigan, who is now located at Charlevoix, announces that his organization is rapidly nearing completion.

Miss Grace Congdon has assumed her duties as nurse for Charlevoix county, and Miss Johnston is on duty in Otsego county. Dr. Wm. C. Quinlan, district dentist, starts work on Monday of next week.

It is expected the nurse for Antrim county and the district sanitary inspector will be with the unit some time in January, thus completing the personnel of the organization.

WINDER ELECTED COMMERCE HEAD

CHOSEN AT ANNUAL MEETING
LAST THURSDAY EVENING

Martin Block and Joseph Foster Vice Presidents—Geo. Beeman Re-Elected Secretary-Treasurer

Dr. C. J. Winder was honored last Thursday evening by re-election to the presidency of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce at the annual meeting held at the I. O. O. F. hall.

Other officers chosen were: 1st vice-president, Martin Block; 2nd vice-president, Joseph Foster; secretary-treasurer, George Beeman.

The business meeting was preceded by a delightful banquet dinner served by members of the Rebekah lodge. Table decorations were of evergreen and placards were tiny figures of Santa Claus done in cotton. The scheme carried out the Christmas spirit and was cleverly arranged. The Rebekahs were given a vote of thanks by the Association for the splendid banquet.

The business session opened with annual report of the secretary-treasurer, which showed a balance on hand and was approved. A report by Frederick V. Tyler, manager of the information and license sales bureau was heard, also one by Fred E. Cartier, chairman of the conventions committee, and Archie Livingston, chairman of the tennis committee.

A motion was made and carried that a committee appointed by the president meet with the board of education at their next meeting in an effort to bring the matter of building public tennis courts to a successful conclusion. This move followed a lengthy discussion on the matter.

Considerable time was given over to a discussion of winter sports, resulting finally in a plan to continue Charlevoix's previous "home" program. It is understood a skating rink will be built on the school grounds this winter and that Bridge street hill will be iced for coasting. Charlevoix always stands ready to entertain any visitors who come to enjoy the sport, and facilities and direction will be at hand if they do. A winter sports committee was appointed consisting of Charles Gale, chairman; George Beeman, Archie Livingston, Don Campbell and Gerald Richardson.

The Association went on record as being opposed to the present commercial fishing license of $10 insofar as it concerns hook and line fishermen in Round lake and Lake Charlevoix, and moved that a resolution be forwarded to the state legislature asking that the law be repealed.

AFFIDAVITS FALSE, WET CASES DROPPED

Fictitious Affidavits Resulted in Eleven Booze Raids

Ruling that the search warrants were based on fraudulent affidavits, Judge Parm C. Gilbert Wednesday dismissed eight liquor cases before they came to trial in Traverse City.

His action followed a two-day hearing to determine the credibility of the state's witness, William H. Willis, who signed a fictitious name to the affidavits and admitted he had served a term at Ionia reformatory for rum running.

Willis admitted the fictitious signatures when he was held in contempt of court for refusing to testify. As a result of the affidavits eleven raids were made by state and city police October 9.

PYTHIAN SISTERS ELECTED OFFICERS

Annual Meeting Followed by Social Affair Wednesday Evening

At their meeting held at the Pythian temple last Wednesday evening, Charlevoix Temple, Pythian Sisters, elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

M. E. C., Grace Geneit; E. S., Nellie Hammond; E. J., Sylvia Lewis; manager, Bennon Kohler; M. of R. & S., Clara Heise; M. of F., Viola Ranger; protector, Ruth Whitley; guard, Dorothy Shapton; press corr., Ella Usher; installing officer, Lottie Nowland; grand lodge representative, Lephie Hammond; alternate, Lottie Nowland; pianist, Eva King.

Following the business session, a delightful party was given in honor of Mrs. Ray Hamilton, retiring chief.

HATCHERY SIFT HELD LAST WEEK

OFFICIALS HERE, BUT FINDINGS WERE NOT REPORTED

Tests Made Reveal Water in Channel and Hatchery to Be in Good Condition Now—Changes Suggested

Insofar as local hatchery employees are concerned, results of an investigation conducted Friday and Saturday of last week by officials of the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries to learn the cause for loss of approximately thirty million trout eggs during November, are still in doubt.

In the party making the investigation were A. B. Brown, chief clerk, and J. R. Manning of the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries, Washington, D. C.; Dennis Winn of Seattle, Washington, Alaska agent; F. L. Snipes, superintendent of the hatchery at Northville, Mich.; C. F. Culler of LaCrosse, Wis., supervisor of the Mississippi river district; Dr. John Vnn-Oosten and Dr. Henry J. Deacon of the bureau's biological department, Ann Arbor.

G. W. Hoofnagle, superintendent of the local hatchery, stated Monday that tests made of water taken directly from the channel between Round lake and Lake Michigan, also from water being pumped into the hatchery, showed only a small portion of dioxide gas, but otherwise nothing harmful to spawn. Tests were also taken from the old city wells, but no report returned.

The opinion was expressed that the present filtration plant was too small to handle the volume of water pumped through it for hatchery use. Remedies suggested, but which have not been definitely settled upon as far as local hatchery men are informed, are extending a water line into Lake Michigan beyond the piers for a supply, and to connect a larger main so that a supply may be taken from the old city wells in case tests made of the water taken from them show no harmful impurities.

NAME MEDICAL STAFF AT CAMP CHARLEVOIX

Dr. Ray C. Stone, Battle Creek,
Chairman of Committee

Dr. Ray C. Stone of Battle Creek, president of the Michigan Medical Society, has been appointed chairman of the Camp Charlevoix medical advisory committee for the 1931 season, according to an announcement by Lewis C. Reimann, director of the camp.

Serving with Dr. Stone will be Dr. Norman E. Clarke, Detroit heart specialist; Dr. Edward A. Wishrope, Detroit pediatricist, and Dr. R. P. Thaw, Akron, Ohio, eye, ear, nose and throat specialist.

This committee will assist Director Reimann in outlining the health policies of the camp, rules regulating the examination and admittance of boys, and will assist in choosing the camp physician for the summer.

BOAT MAY CONNECT THREE NORTH PORTS

Boat Line Between Beavers, Petoskey, Charlevoix in Prospect

Prospects of connecting Petoskey, Beaver Islands and Charlevoix by passenger steamer next season are seen in the trip this month of Capt. J. H. Gallagher of Boyne City, to Chicago and eastern cities.

It is reported that Capt. Gallagher, who is general manager of the Wolverine Steamship company, has in mind the purchase of a new passenger ship to be placed on a run, calling at all three ports.—Petoskey Evening News.

Once More a Merry Christmas

Reindeer on the roofs again, patter of their hoofs again.

Children slipping out of bed, to steal a tiny peep;

Chimney is a little small for plump Santa, pack and all.

He stumbles, tumbles, grumbles and hopes that they're asleep.

Stockings in a row again, filled from top to toe again.

Down the stairs the children troop and pounce on them with glee;

Every sort of thing is here, gifts that children hold dear.

Christmas fun is just begun—Oh, see and see and see!

PROMINENT BEAVER ISLANDER IS DEAD

WILLIAM J. GALLAGHER DIED
MONDAY AT PETOSKEY

Political Leader in County Many Years and Held State Appointments—Ill Several Weeks

William J. (Bowery Bill) Gallagher, one of Beaver Island's foremost citizens, died Tuesday afternoon at Petoskey hospital. Several weeks ago he was taken ill with pneumonia at St. James and was in a dangerous condition many days. Apparently recovered, Mr. Gallagher and wife started for Chicago to spend the winter. He was again taken ill in Grand Rapids, and, after being confined to a hospital there a short time was transferred to Petoskey. Death was caused by weakened heart condition resulting from his previous illness.

Mr. Gallagher was born in New York City, March 6, 1856, son of James P. and Bridget Gallagher, natives respectively of Tyrone and Dnnegal counties, Ireland. When 14 years of age he was making his own living as an errand boy on Wall street, and it was through his residence in the nation's metropolis that Mr. Gallagher acquired the nickname of "Bowery Bill," which followed him throughout life.

He came to Beaver Island in 1871 and for 33 years or more engaged successfully in the fishing business. He served St. James township as supervisor for 32 years, retiring last fall when ill health kept him from attending the annual October session. He had served as chairman of most of the important committees on the board. He was prominent in state politics, holding appointments under ex-Governors Osborn and Groesbeck. Mr. Gallagher was a K. of C. and a member of the Elks.

In addition to holding a position of leadership and respect at Beaver Island, Mr. Gallagher was known throughout the state. His friends were legion.

Surviving besides his widow are four daughters and four sons, viz: Mrs. William Sheild, Chicago; Mrs. Fred Dumilusky, Milwaukee; Mrs. Joseph Left, St. James; Miss Mae Gallagher, Petoskey; Jee Gallagher, Chicago; William J. Jr., James and Eddie, all of St. James.

Mr. Gallagher's remains were moved Monday to the Glenn S. See funeral parlors in this city and will be taken to St. James when weather conditions permit. Funeral services have not been arranged.

In Mr. Gallagher's death, Beaver Island loses a friend and benefactor, and northern Michigan one of its most prominent figures.

ARREST FOUR FOR ILLEGAL PRACTICES

Wilderness State Park Area Mecca for Out-of-Season Deer Hunters

District Game Warden Duell and Conservation Officer Carl Weber, lodged a charge against Louis Francis for killing a deer out of season. He pled guilty before Justice Paul Rothe at Pellston and was sentenced to serve 90 days in the Emmet county jail.

Louis Gasco pled guilty to the charge of Floyd Bronson, keeper of the Wilderness state park, of carrying a shotgun loaded with buck shot and slugs. He was sentenced to 60 days in jail.

Joe Menagwla was charged by Weber of carrying a gun in deer territory after the season closed and was fined $25 and costs, which he paid.

Joe Bonishing was charged with the same offense and given 60 days to raise the money.

Considerable trouble has been brewing in the park area and it is rumored that more culprits will be brought to justice.

B. A. Herman Taken by Death Dec.
7th at Phoenix, Arizona

Word was received here late last Wednesday by H. I. Ochs of the death Sunday, December 7, of B. A. Herman at Phoenix, Arizona. Funeral services were held there last Thursday.

Mr. Herman was formerly owner of the Central Drug Store in this city and made his residence here several years. The message telling of his death gave no other details.

ISLAND WILL HAVE AIR MAIL SERVICE

AUTHORIZATION RECEIVED HERE FROM POSTAL DEPT.

Contract for Two Trips Weekly to Be Awarded Hammond Flying
Service of Owosso, Mich.

Regular mail service between Charlevoix and Beaver Island has been assured for the winter months.

Postmaster George W. Weaver received permission early this week from the United States postal department at Washington, D. C., to authorize payment of $70 round trip for two deliveries weekly.

Monday a temporary contract was let to Capt. John Chambers, owner and operator of the Str. James B. Sanford, regular mail boat, which is expected to continue trips if possible throughout the whitefish season, which opened Monday. The final trip of the season was to have been made that day, but Capt. Chambers has changed his plans in view of the authorization from Washington.

At expiration of the temporary contract, another will be awarded the Hammond Flying Service of Owosso, whose bid at $70 per trip had been previously received and now accepted. It is understood that B. T. Hammond, owner of the air line, will build a hangar at the local airport for use during the winter, and this plan will likely be carried out unless unforeseen circumstances arise.

A plan is also under way to incorporate mail delivery to South Manitou Island from Leland in conjunction with the local service, thus giving air mail delivery to Lake Michigan's two island colonies usually isolated for periods during the winter months.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the large, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderly at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the Central Drug Store, the Rexall store.

Music Teacher Enthusiastic About New Compound—
"Glad to Give My Endorsement," She Says

MRS. LILLIAN BECKER

"This splendid medicine ended kidney disorders and bladder weakness for me," said Mrs. Lillian Becker, 4681 Oregon street, Detroit. "Frequently sharp pains shot through the small of my back, and I could not stand straight. My rest was disturbed; my ankles were badly swollen, and I became sallow and listless. I was told an operation was necessary, and just the thought of that made me nervous.

"Then I started taking Konjola. Ten bottles did the work and did it well. Konjola did what all the other medicines I tried failed to do. I am glad to give my endorsement to Konjola, for without it I could not have carried on my work as music teacher."

This is not, by any means, an unusual case. Tens of thousands have found in Konjola the answer to all their health problems... relief from torturous ailments. You owe it to yourself to give Konjola a trial.

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix, Mich., at F. J. Fessenden's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

The seven delegates of Rev. G. A. Weaver's five Sunday schools went to Petoskey last week to pack the Christmas presents for pupils of the different schools. In this way they wished to help out Rev. Weaver, who had previously put up the presents for his 22 schools himself. The delegates from Green River were Mrs. Gus Larson, Sam Wildfong and Rev. Harry Batterberg from Jordan-River were Mrs. Claude Sweet and Mrs. A. B. Pinney; from Musser Sunday school, south on Mancelona, Miss Marie Musser; from Creswell and Bay View, J. W. Morse. The total number of presents were 195, and 195 boxes of candy.

There was an attendance of 29 at Norwood Sunday school Friday evening. The Christmas program will be given next week, Tuesday evening. The following members of the young peoples' class are giving a program: Marjorie Richardson, Catherine Richardson, Dorothy Hull, Bertha Pierce, Mary Baumbach, Beatrice Baumbach, Newton Pierce and Nelson Kirby. Miss Pierce's Sunday school class also has a play, and both classes have songs and recitations. The young peoples' class have drawn names for giving presents. A good interest is manifested in the Sunday school. Mr. Ypma has taken charge as superintendent.

THE GREAT AMERICAN VALUE

Fine-car distinction and quality in the new Chevrolet Six

Again, Chevrolet and General Motors have utilized their combined resources to establish a new and higher standard of value for the American motor car.

The new Chevrolet represents a type of economical transportation that America has long anticipated—a low-priced six styled with such striking talent and good taste, so smartly beautiful and complete in its perfection of detail, so advanced and refined mechanically that you will immediately recognize it as the Great American Value.

This great value is the outcome of four basic Chevrolet advantages: (1) The savings of volume production in nineteen immense, modern plants. (2) The economies which result from great purchasing power. (3) The benefits of continuous research in General Motors laboratories and on the General Motors Proving Ground. And (4) the close association with the Fisher Body Corporation who, this year, have surpassed all their previous achievements in developing bodies of outstanding quality, refinement and value.

These basic advantages have made it possible to build a finer car at lower cost. They have enabled Chevrolet to offer a car with a longer wheelbase—greater roominess and comfort—strikingly smarter style—impressive new luxury—more thoroughly satisfactory performance—greater dependability. And to pass on these savings of efficient manufacturing to the buyer in the form of lower prices!

County Champions in Club Work Announced

The largest and most successful boys' and girls' 4-H club program ever conducted in Charlevoix county has been concluded for the year 1930.

When all was over it was interesting to note that in 1930 a total of 37 different clubs carrying a membership of 262, were organized, as compared with 25 clubs and 184 members in 1929, and 23 clubs with 165 members in 1928. Then recognize that each club has its own organization, that each member knows how to conduct a real business meeting, how to speak in public, how to follow direction, how to select the best for the exhibit and finally makes a complete and accurate business account of the project selected.

Then again think of this army of 262 young boys and girls, studying a specific project, learning the latest and most approved farm practices, receiving a larger vision of real farm progress and through the many and varied contacts gaining those vital qualities that make for higher citizenship.

At the conclusion of every year the outstanding boys and girls are awarded county championships in recognition of their accomplishments. Following are listed the county champions and project carried:

Clothing Clubs

First year, Christinin Withers and Freda Greiner, Charlevoix, tied.

Second year, Bessie Straw, Charlevoix.

Style champion, Mary Perron, Charlevoix.

Handicraft Clubs

For the Family's Xmas

Here's a happy Gift "hunch" for you, Dad. Get the family a VICTOR RADIO SET. Tune it in on Christmas morning and as its melodious reception tinkles through the rooms, you'll see real joy written on the surprised faces of your folks. Then watch the rush to get a "close-up" of the set!

VICTOR RADIO, R-35

Here is a musical instrument as far ahead of last year's Victor Radio as last year's Victor Radio advanced its antecedents. Unchanged in micro-synchronous principle, but radically altered in other fundamentals. Five tuned circuits with four screen-grid tubes, including the new power detector. New and scientifically-improved corrugated cone loudspeaker. Simplified straight-line tuning. Victor-perfected tone control. Maximum selectivity; sensitivity beyond present-day requirements; luminous tone from deepest bass to highest treble. Walnut-finished cabinet in the classical Italian manner, 38 inches high, 25 5-8 inches wide, 15 3-4 inches deep.

CHRISTMAS MAILING

Post offices will make every effort to handle the Christmas mails without congestion and delay, but owing to the enormous volume this can be done only with the cooperation of the public. Compliance with the following suggestions will greatly aid the post office and insure the prompt handling of your mail.

The postal department has set forth much information as to the wrapping, packing and mailing of Christmas packages. Some of the most important of these follow:

All parcels must be securely wrapped or packed. Use strong paper and heavy twine.

Addresses should be complete, with house number and name of street, post office box or rural route number, and typed or plainly written in ink. A return card should be placed in the upper left corner of every piece of mail. If a tag is used, the address and return card should also be written on the wrapper for use if tag is lost, and a copy of the address should be inclosed inside the parcel.

Try this for the children's lunch. Toast slices of bread on one side. Butter the untoasted side. Cover to the edge with a thick layer of ground beef. Season with salt and pepper. Dot with butter or other clean, sweet fat. Broil under a flame for 5 to 10 minutes, so that the outside is browned and the under side of the meat is rare. Serve at once with a garnish of parsley.

What this country needs, along with a good five-cent cigar, is a five-cent appetite.

HIGH SCHOOL OPEN HOME SCHED FRIDAY

KIPKE'S TOSSERS MEET PETOSKEY AT LOCAL GYMNASIUM

Reduced Rate on Season Ticket for Home Games Is Being Offered—Team Strongest in Years

Charlevoix high school's home court season opens here Friday night, when the local tossers clash with Petoskey's class B combination.

Kipke's men sounded a warning in Northern Michigan basketball circles by decisively trouncing Traverse City on their home court last Friday evening. The return of Capt. Novak and "Cornie" McCall, who had been on the ineligible list throughout the football season, has given Charlevoix a mighty strong combination. They have practically an air-tight defense and a fast breaking attack that constantly threatens.

Petoskey tasted defeat along with Traverse City in their opening tilt. Boyne City, another strong contending quintet in the Tip of Michigan class C conference, took the Northern's scalp in a close struggle 7 to 6. Meanwhile Harbor Springs downed the fast Rogers City quintet by a decisive margin. Mancelona, East Jordan and Gaylord, other conference members, are also hitting a winning stride and from all appearances, the class of Northern Michigan basketball this season will be among the smaller schools of the region.

Stewart Coleman, manager of the Charlevoix high school athletic association, has announced a plan of ticket sales that should prove popular with local fans. A season admission ticket, good for the first four home games is being offered for one dollar. There are six home games on the schedule, and those having four punches in their season ticket, will be admitted to the final two contests for 25c per game, or the same rate as applying to the first four.

Because of economic conditions, and also in an effort to increase local interest in high school games, this plan has been adopted. Tickets may be procured from members of the team or at the ticket office at the gymnasium.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday services 10:45 a. m. Subject, "Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?"

Wednesday evening at 7:45, first Wednesday of month only.

Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to attend all services.

"God the Preserver of Man" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, December 14.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits: Who redeemeth thy life from destruction; who crowneth thee with loving kindness and tender mercies;" (Ps. 103:2,4).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Constant toil, deprivations, exposures, and all untoward conditions, if without sin, can be experienced without suffering. Whatever it is your duty to do, you can do without harm to yourself" (p. 385).

Because of storm conditions, the Beaver Island mail boat James B. Sanford did not make her regular run to the island Monday. The boat left port, but returned after a short time. While Monday was to have been the last regular trip, present plans are to make at least two more during the whitefish fishing season.

Forty-two Beaver Island residents were Charlevoix visitors from Tuesday afternoon until Wednesday. About eight boats brought fish in here from the Fox Islands whitefish grounds and spent the night at this harbor. Among the number were James Martin and son Wilbur, Barney Martin with his tug and crew members and many others whose names were not learned.

CHARLEVOIX LOSES RESPECTED CITIZEN

Reuben Geer Died Tuesday Afternoon Following Extended Illness

Charlevoix lost a life-long and highly respected citizen Tuesday evening in the death of Reuben Geer, who succumbed to heart disease following an extended illness at his home on Alice street.

Mr. Geer was born December 25, 1862, at Harbor Springs. When but a child, he moved with his parents to a farm in Marion township. He later took up a homestead in the same district and made his residence there until moving to Charlevoix about 22 years ago.

Mr. Geer was married October 4, 1894, to Miss Zella E. Goodyear at Charlevoix. In addition to his widow, he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Leroy Allers of Charlevoix; Mrs. Norman Rogers, Saginaw; a granddaughter, Patricia Rogers; two brothers, Harry Geer of Traverse City, and Elisha Geer of this city.

Mr. Geer was a member of the Moose lodge, also the Odd Fellows, under whose auspices funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon from the S. M. See & Son funeral parlors.

WANTS TO ABANDON UPSTATE RAILROAD

Michigan Central Says Marquette-East Jordan Line Unnecessary

The Michigan Central railroad has asked the interstate commerce commission for permission to abandon a 6½-mile branch line between Marquette in Antrim county, Michigan, and East Jordan in Charlevoix county. The application states that the East Jordan & Southern railroad parallels the line and that there is not enough traffic to support both.

BEAVER ISLAND BOAT DISABLED NEAR FOXES

Local Coast Guards Left Tuesday Night to Aid Craft

Capt. Oscar Smith and a crew of Charlevoix coast guards left here late Tuesday afternoon for Fox Island to aid the disabled 50-ton steam fish tug "A. M. Link," operated by Carl and Gerald Left of St. James.

James Martin of Beaver Island, and other fishermen returning here from the Fox Island grounds, reported the craft helpless with a broken rudder support, which had in turn tightened the rear bearing so that the engine could not turn. Martin stated he was unable to take the disabled craft in tow because of heavy seas and lack of sufficient tow rope. Another tug made an attempt, but was badly damaged. He is returning to the Foxes Wednesday with coal and other supplies for the crew.

With over 30 boats of the whitefish fleet in the Foxes, the Link is in no danger. It is probable she will be towed to this port by the coast guard boat as soon as seas moderate.

WINTER DRIVING DEMANDS MORE CAUTION

Exhaust Gas Danger Looms Before Others—Several Killed

This is the season of the year when deaths from monoxide gas poisoning occur.

Even though the winter has just begun, several persons have already been overcome by the gas. It is an odorless poison that gets in its work quickly and can easily cause death.

Remember these rules concerning your automobile driving this winter. Do not stay in a closed garage with the motor running. Don't let motor run while car is standing still unless you have a window open. Keep a window open at least part way while driving, especially in a car equipped with an exhaust heater. A little fresh air, even if it does cool off the car a bit, is safer than running the risk of the asphyxiation that has not seldom overcome people driving a hunched closed car with the windows all shut.

BENEVOLENT COMMITTEE IS ORGANIZED

Have Substantial Fund to be Known as Charlevoix Community Chest

A benevolent committee, which will function under the official title of Charlevoix Community Chest, has been organized locally for the relief of the needy.

Mayor Arthur Bergeon heads the committee as chairman, and George Beeman is secretary-treasurer. Other members are Amos Webster, Joseph Foster, Mrs. Frank Courier, Mrs. Louis S. Orlovski and Mrs. E. L. Dawson.

The committee now has a fund of $177.82. Of this amount $85.32 was turned over to them by the committee in charge of funds raised at last winter's charity festival, and the balance, $92.50, was raised at a charity dance given last Wednesday evening at Moonlight Gardens.

Further donations are sought for the work to be undertaken and those having money to give are asked to make their donations to Mr. Beeman, the secretary-treasurer.

Christmas Program

This Christmas program will be given by the Pep club on Friday afternoon, beginning at 2:30.

The program is as follows:

1. Selections by the Cloud Sweepers orchestra.
2. Freshmen Follies.
3. Selections by the Glee club.
4. Speech by Father Fitzpatrick.
5. Selections by orchestra.
6. Christmas play by Pep club.
7. Pep meeting.

Afterwards refreshments will be served over in the high school.

A large Christmas tree will be decorated for the high school assembly, and we hope that the afternoon will be enjoyable and entertaining.

Pep Meeting

A grand old time was held in the assembly last Friday morning when our diligent pep leaders produced Walt Bergeon, the yell leader of four years ago. And he is a wow! He taught us a few yells that were heard during his school days and did the old assembly ring when he led them!

And of course we couldn't get through a pep meeting without the usual slams passed between "Pete" and "Cornie" McCall. The two either have it out on the street or in their excellent speeches in front of the assembly. This time it was about the girl problem per usual, but Bob Foster went one better than "Pete" and handed him a slam worth mentioning. We heard from "Irish" Coleman and Coach Kipke. And it ended with a bang when Mr. Coleman mentioned that we adjourn and go to our classes which, he said, should be music to our ears.

Camp Fire

A lovely time was had by the members of the junior high Camp Fire group at their party last Tuesday, December 16. The tree was decked with tinsel, trimmings of various kinds, and laden with many gifts. Games were played and refreshments served. The party was then brought to a close with the group singing Christmas carols.

The junior high school enjoyed a half-hour program given by the Milwaukee Journal station, Friday at 10:00 a. m. in the music room. The pieces played were: Hungarian Dance, by Brahms; Slavonic Dance No. 3, by Dvorak, and Pavane, by Fauré.

Personals

The following teachers are intending to spend either the whole or part of Christmas vacation out of town: Mrs. Logan, Monroe and Ann Arbor; Miss Anderson, Negaunee; Miss Ferneau, Sparta; Mr. Coleman, Pennsylvania; Mr. Kipke, Manistique; Miss Button, Chicago.

Home Economics

The past week has been full of excitement of the Home Economics class who have been making candies for Christmas. Many different kinds have been made, all proving a great success.

Y. M. C. A. Meeting

A delightful dinner was served at 6:30 at the high school by the Home Economics class to the eleven Y. M. C. A. enthusiasts. A few of the points discussed at the meeting were: Work done at Camp Daggett; The Y. M. C. A. Conference—both local—in Cheboygan and here in Charlevoix last fall—and the state conference recently held at Bay City. The proposition of whether the work of the organization should be continued or not was presented to the group. The question received a unanimous vote in favor of promoting its activities as far as possible. The Hi-Y group here in high school have pushed their division to the front, as they have planned an effective program for the remainder of the school year.

Dramatic Club

The meeting of the Dramatic club last Tuesday evening was one of special interest. Two one act plays were presented.

The first was, "Where But in America," an interesting little play in which Mr. and Mrs. Espenhayne, played by David-Coulter and Dorothy Struthers, were discussing moving to the "north side." Their maid, Hilda (played by Marian McKee) heard of their plans through her suitor, much against the wishes of her employers. Mr. and Mrs. Espenhayne are afraid Hilda will leave them, but matters turn out right in the end. The play was well done and afforded much enjoyment to the club.

The other play, "The Wonder Int," was one of the several clever Harlequinades. Those taking part in the acting were Pat Moran, Bill Clark, Charles Cellner, Marjorie Manley and Gwendolen Miller. This play was altogether different from the other but was very interesting.

The Dramatic club is planning on giving several more short plays and one long special project.

A meeting of the executive committee was held, at which plans were made for further meetings. Some of the subjects which will receive attention will be the art of acting, make-up and stage lighting.

Girls Basketball

The girls have started basketball and all the classes are well represented. The freshmen and sophomores practice together on Tuesday nights, while the juniors and seniors practice Wednesday nights. From the large turnouts, it is to be expected that the competition in the tournaments next spring will be very close.

Debate

The next debate will be with East Jordan on January 9th. Charlevoix is in high spirits over debating this year because if we win the next debate Charlevoix will be in line for the eliminations. Even if we get one vote against East Jordan we may enter the eliminations because Petoskey forfeited their debate to us.

A practice debate will be held on Wednesday or Thursday of this week with Onaway if possible.

Everyone who can possibly go to East Jordan should make the effort because if you do you will be well rewarded. Charlevoix has a good team this year and the debaters need a pep following as well as the basketball team. What are you going to do about it?

NO CHANGES LISTED FOR SPEARING LAWS

With Inland Waters Frozen, Season Is Now Open

The winter season of 1930-31 brings no change in the fish spearing laws and with a year's experience with the spearing regulations there ought to be a sharp decrease in the number of violations of these laws during the next few months, according to the fish division of the department of conservation.

The regulations concerning winter spearing in inland lakes and spring spearing in the non-trout streams were adopted by the 1929 legislature and were in force for the first time last winter and spring.

To remind those planning to use a spear during the coming season, the fish division has issued the following brief digest of the spearing laws.

Spears may be used in the inland lakes during the times when the lakes are frozen. The species of fish that may be taken by spear in the lakes are: Pickerel, (grass or great northern pike), mullet, suckers and redhorse.

Lakes or ponds created by the backwaters of a dam or artificial barrier on a stream are part of the stream and are governed by the regulations applying to that stream.

Conforming with the sentiment of the legislature which declared all inland lakes open to spearing when these waters are frozen over, the conservation commission last year refused to grant petitions seeking the closing of all waters to spearing.

Spearing is not permitted in any stream before April 1. From that time until May 31, spearing for non-game fish including bullheads, carp, catfish, also, dogfish, garfish, smelt, suckers, and whitefish, is permitted from non-trout streams. Spearing is permitted for pike in non-trout streams from May 1 to May 31.

AT THE MOVIES

No Bath Without Bath Salts for Blonde Film Star

About the most embarrassing position imaginable for a bashful young girl would be to take a bath with a lot of men around.

Alice White lays no claim to being a blushing type. She did object strenuously, however, when she had to take a shower and bath for scenes in "Playing Around," her latest First National and Vitaphone picture, which opens Saturday and Sunday at the Palace theatre. But it wasn't because men were watching!

Alice wouldn't crawl into the tub, even for a movie, without having bath salts in the water. So when the assistant director informed her the company was ready for the scene, she made him run out to the nearest drug store and buy her favorite brand of bath salts.

A film-star's life is so much in the bright light of publicity that she doesn't mind taking a little shower in front of men on the set, according to Miss White.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

Due to the absence of the assigned leader an improvised program was presented at the W. C. T. U. meeting held last Friday afternoon in the community room.

Mrs. Benton read extracts from the annual address of Mrs. Ella Boole to the recent national convention held in Houston, Texas, and Mrs. Usher gave a portion of U. S. Senator Morris Sheppard's address to the convention.

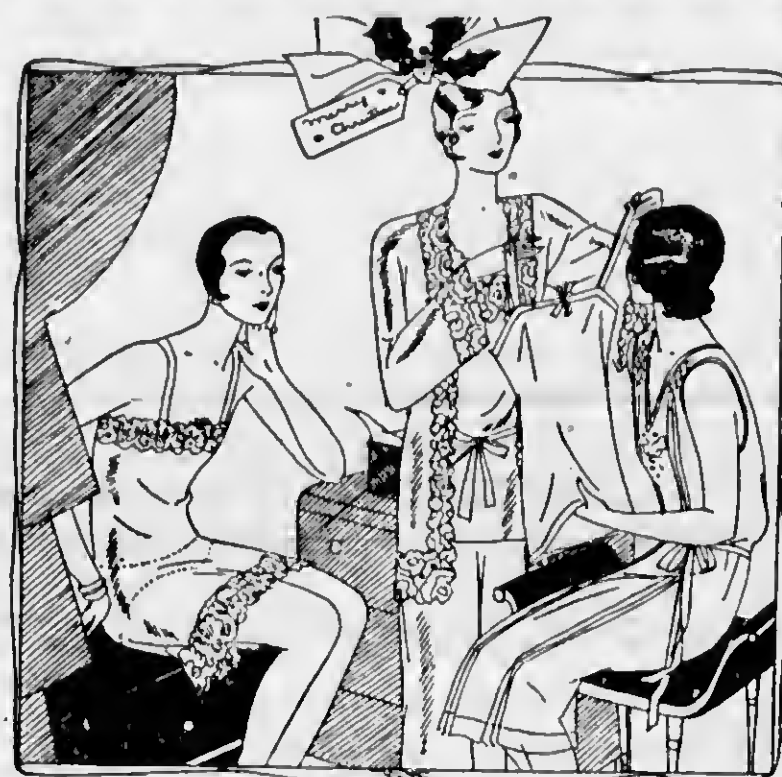

One of the high points in that great meeting was reached when an associated press dispatch was read from the platform to the effect that President Hoover's law enforcement commission had definitely discarded repeal of the Eighteenth amendment and denying the rumor that four per cent beer or a referendum would be recommended. The convention broke into prolonged applause and someone started the doxology. The demonstration lasted 15 minutes and while a later investigation showed the dispatch was built on surmise it made everyone feel good for the time being. It is very evident from the addresses and plans outlined at that convention that the temperance organizations do not intend to give up the fight to hold the ground already won in the struggle against beverage alcohol.

Mrs. Belding reviewed an enlightening article in the December Woman's Journal about the President's law enforcement commission and its problems.

Although Mr. Hoover has repeatedly gone out of his way to state the major purpose of the commission is to consider crime in general rather than prohibition in particular, it is a distinction which neither wets nor dries are prepared to accept and both sides are clamoring for reports in favor of their contentions. Everything seems tending to drive the commission into a deeper consideration of the dry law than it originally set out to make.

What is needed is a housecleaning of all criminal processes in the United States similar to the one England went through with about fifty years ago when technicalities were swept completely out of her criminal courts and her system of criminal justice became a model for the world, with a crime rate in amazing contrast to ours.

KIPKE'S TOSSERS HUMBLE TRAVERSE

CAPT. NOVAK LEADS LOCALS IN 13 TO 8 VICTORY

Local Team Strengthened by Return of Novak and McCall—Play
Petoskey Next

(From Traverse City Record-Eagle)
An alert, close-guarding Charlevoix high school basketball team decisively defeated Traverse City Central's quintet, 13 to 8, at the local gymnasium Friday night, in a well-played embroilment. Coach Ray Kipke's northerners were superior in the two fundamental phases of court competition—defense and basket-shooting. That is the story, outside of a few details including the Trojan's inability to find the ring when they got their chances.

It must be recalled, however, that Coach Gordon Macdonald's athletes did not get an easy shot the entire evening. Invariably the Charlevoixians swarmed over the Traverse boys in under-basket territory—and long toms just simply go in, or else they don't.

Charlevoix was immensely bolstered by the return of two ineligible lads—Captain Bill Novak and Forward Connie McCall. These two youngsters, it seems, participated in a caddy golf tournament at Charlevoix last summer, for which they accepted cash prizes. They were declared ineligible by the state association and remained so during the football season. Thursday they were reinstated at Lansing, because they and their school had been punished enough; and their addition to the Kipke combination makes a formidable basketball team that will give any opponent a terrific tussle this winter.

Traverse went into the lead when Bill Hodges snared a medium deuce midway in the first quarter. There was no more counting in that period—just a lot of jockeying; and the dead-eye Novak never attempted a shot. Things speeded in the second eight minutes, but Traverse stayed out ahead. Hodges made the Trojan lead 4 and 0, but McCall broke through close under for a Charlevoix double. Hodges' free throw on Davenport's infringement completed the tallying for the half, and the board read: Traverse 5, Charlevoix 3. Once having sunk a single when Hodges charged.

Whereupon the visitors opened a third-quarter drive that netted eight points and sewed up the decision. Novak dribbled in for a tie at 5 all. McCall sank a long one for a Charlevoix advantage, and Novak hooked two from far out in quick order. Wahl rang one of two free throws for Traverse City's sole figure.

The fourth period was fiercely fought, with Charlevoix content to tighten its defense even more, and ride along on its commanding margin. The Trojans tried many a heave from considerable distance, for there wasn't a chance of working the leather in under the iron. Once whirled close to make the Charlevoix lead 13 and 6, and along about the middle of the quarter Wahl eased in a follow shot. That was all. Referee Tabrahm handled the melee well.

The annual Christmas Sunday school pageant will be given at 7:00 p. m. Pageantry, color scenes, costumes and carols will make an evening rich in memories. Title, "Come and Adore Him."

The Christmas tree festival will be Wednesday evening, at 7:00 p. m. Special features by each class in the church school.

The Literary club will meet this Thursday with Mrs. Joseph Gornell. It will be a Christmas tree party. A big group will make it more enjoyable.

MANY HERE WITNESS BRILLIANT METEOR

One of the Most Sensational Exhibitions in Locality in Many Years

One of the most sensational meteoric exhibitions known to this locality for many years was displayed in the northwestern sky at 11:15 last Wednesday night.

This meteor, a brilliant fireball of gigantic size that superceded the light of the moon with its flashing illumination, rushed earthward, bathing the entire surrounding snow covered landscape in a weird greenish light.

A loud swishing noise, audible for miles, increased in volume as the incandescent flame swiftly approached the earth. Suddenly the projectile changed from green to red, indicating it was nearly consumed by its own heat.

For an interval the huge Pocket appeared to float balloon-like just above the wooded hills. Then, with a sputter, it exploded into fragments. There was a taint of a strange gaseous odor in the cold air, but all other traces of the meteor had vanished.

TRAVELERS' AID ASK WORKERS REMAIN HOME

Warn Against Influx to Cities in Search of Employment

If you are unemployed, stay in your own community—don't go to other towns or big cities.

This is the advice issued by Travelers Aid societies, whose records show that it is of first importance for unemployed persons to remain in the communities where they are known and where there is the best chance for them to get work or to obtain relief.

Men and women out of work will need all the resources that come from friendship and residence that are not available to the drifters into strange communities, each of which is concerned with the problems of its own residents, reads the advice.

Organizations in 126 cities united in asking for cooperation in warning unemployed of the situation they will face in the larger cities, particularly in the industrial centers.

INVESTIGATE SHOOT- ING OF BENZIE GIRL

Wounded in Leg While Returning Home from School

Prosecutor Kenneth Fewless of Benzie county is directing what may be a futile investigation into the shooting of 14-year-old Geneva Blanchard while she was returning from school.

The girl was struck in the leg by a .22 calibre bullet as she walked along a country road with her younger brother and sister. The vicinity has been searched without trace of anyone who might have fired the shot.

WON'T TELL LIQUOR SOURCE—PUT IN JAIL

Grand Traverse Farmer Held Since Nov. 8 on Contempt Charge

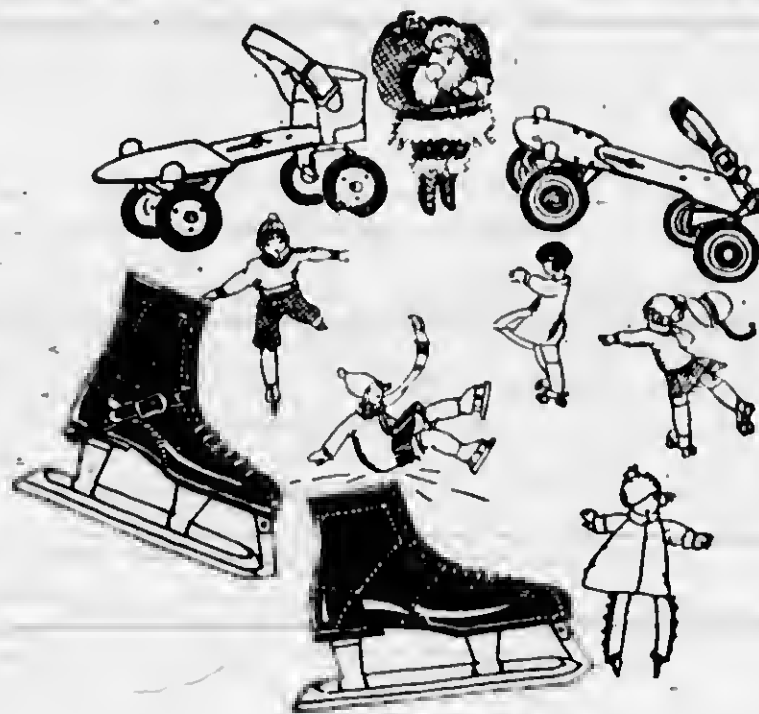

Frank Harrard, 28-year-old Grand Traverse county farmer, may serve a life sentence in county jail, at Cadillac, because he doesn't know whose liquor he drank.

Under Michigan law an intoxicated man may be held for contempt of court if he fails to tell where he obtained the liquor. Harrard says he went to Wexford, a nearby village, to a dance and took several drinks from a bottle passed around among a group of men but that he does not know who owned it.

He has been held in jail since November 8 and Judge E. J. Millington says he must stay there until he "tells the truth."

CHARLEVOIX WINS 2 FROM PETOSKEY

Varsity and Reserve Toss-ers Victorious Friday

Second-Stringers Out-Classed Visitors, But Main Game Was Close and Hard-Fought Contest

Charlevoix high school basketball quintet maintained its place among Northern Michigan's undefeated teams last Friday evening by winning a hard-fought game from Petoskey high school. The score was 12 to 10.

It was a double victory for the local tossers, for in the preliminary, Charlevoix's reserves out-classed Petoskey's second-stringers to win 14 to 6. Both contests were played on the home court.

While the score was close for the first three periods in the opening game, Kipke's reserves were superior to the visitors in every department. Their speedy floor work kept Petoskey on the defense most of the time, and only their inability to make shots good kept the score down.

The main contest was a ball game every minute. It belonged to no one until the final whistle. Coach Wolfgang had his Petoskey team primed for Charlevoix's fast-breaking offense, and from the very start the contest was a great defensive battle. The visitors opened a free one, McSaubia tied the count from the foul line and Petoskey again went into the lead through a goal by Neihardt. McSaubia again found the meshes for a basket and that ended scoring for the period. The count stood 3-all.

The second quarter was equally as hard-fought. Novak, with a free throw, and McCall with a goal, accounted for Charlevoix three points, while Petoskey garnered the same number through Neihardt's field goal and Porter's free one. The count at the half found the two teams still dead-locked at 6-all.

Charlevoix made their best showing in the third canto. Novak and Vic Smith each found the ring for a goal, while the home team's air-tight defense kept Petoskey from making a mark. The period ended with Charlevoix leading 10 to 6.

It was well that Charlevoix had a lead when the final period opened, for in that frame Anee's goal was Charlevoix's only marker. Neihardt, the only man on the Petoskey squad who seemed able to locate the ring, dropped through two goals for four points and one more would have tied the count. The final whistle found Charlevoix leading 12 to 10.

It was a mighty good game—clean, fast and interesting to watch.

Hugh Mayne, Charlevoix, refereed the reserve game. John Ferenz, Traverse City, handled the main tilt in fine shape.

Novak, guard, and V. McSaubia, forward, divided scoring honors for Charlevoix with three points each. McCall, Anee and Smith each made two. Neihardt led Petoskey's attack with 8 points on four goals. R. Porter and G. Porter, guards, each made a free throw.

Charlevoix's next game will be a return contest with Petoskey away from home the evening of Friday, January 2. Their next home game will be January 6th with Gaylord.

While Charlevoix was making its second successful invasion of class B ranks, other favorites of the Tip of Michigan conference of class C schools were victorious. East Jordan won by a comfortable margin from Gaylord and Harbor Springs smothered Mancelona. Both were conference tilts.

PYTHIANS ANNOUNCE PARTY NEW YEARS EVE

Affair at Pythian Temple Wednesday Evening, December 31st

An announcement which will find favor with Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters alike, is that of a "watch" party to be held Wednesday evening, December 31st, at the K. of P. temple.

The affair is to be a party for lodge members and their friends. Featuring the evening's entertainment will be cards and dancing, and it is probable an impromptu program will be arranged.

A pot-luck luncheon is planned, so those attending are requested to bring sandwiches and cake.

ISLAND AIR MAIL SERVICE STARTED

LAST THURSDAY MARKED OPEN-ING OF SCHEDULE

Four Crossings Made Saturday to Clean Up Mail—Larger Plane
Put on Route This Week

Regular winter air mail service between Charlevoix and Beaver Island was inaugurated last Thursday when a Hammond Flying Service plane piloted by S. E. Hammond of Owosso, made the initial trip to St. James.

Flights from Charlevoix are being made from the city airport at the Coulter farm, where a plane hangar has been constructed, and landings at the island are being made near Holy Cross church.

In order to clean up the big accumulation of Christmas mail, four trips were necessary Saturday. A Waco two-place plane, with a 225 h. p. Wright whirlwind motor was used last week. One round trip was completed in 47 minutes.

Leaving Saturday afternoon, Pilot Hammond went to Jackson after a larger plane. He returned to Charlevoix on Monday and service to the island was resumed again Tuesday morning. The new plane is a converted three-seater, capable of carrying 1,000 pounds. In order to increase the load capacity of the plane, a large gasoline tank was shifted from the cockpit, allowing more space. B. T. Hammond, brother of the pilot making the crossing last week, flew the plane Tuesday.

From now on a regular service schedule will be carried out as near as possible, with crossings Tuesdays and Fridays. Passenger service will be conducted along with the mail deliveries for those desiring transportation.

Charlevoix and Beaver Island coast guard units are cooperating along safety lines. Crossings over open water are not without their hazards, and as a precautionary measure, the departure and arrival of the plane from both ends of the trip are being exchanged by telephone. By this means of communication, a forced landing would be noted within a few minutes of departure from either point, and aid could be dispatched at once.

MICHIGAN BELL EM- PLOYEES HAVE PARTY

Annual Christmas Affair Was Enjoyed Monday Evening

Office employees of the local Michigan Bell Telephone company exchange enjoyed their annual Christmas party in the reception room Monday evening.

A delightful dinner was served. Tables were prettily decorated with flowers and evergreens and a lighted and decorated Christmas tree added color. Following dinner, games were enjoyed, and as a final feature came the exchange of gifts. The operators received many gifts in appreciation of their services from patrons.

Those who enjoyed the affair were Vera Buddy, Edith Davey, Eva King, Addie Glessenger, Mable Martini, Winifred Campbell, Alma Halverson, Dorothy Southwood, the Misses Clara Smith, Ida Ingalls, Hilda Cooper, Virginia Solomon and Ethel Gallop. Invited guests were: Mrs. Lottie Todd, Mrs. Alice Hull, Mrs. Frances Olmstead, Mrs. Emma Kane, Mrs. Florence McPherson and Misses Helen Shores and Genevieve Supernaw.

MRS. ARTHUR BERGEON FETED ON BIRTHDAY

Pleasant Party in Her Honor Given
Friday Afternoon

Mrs. Arthur Bergeon was the guest of honor at a delightful birthday party given last Friday afternoon by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Walter Bergeon, at the latter's home on Clinton street.

Nine women friends were present at the enjoyable affair. The hostess served delicious refreshments, a feature of which was the beautiful cake with its candles. The afternoon was pleasantly spent visiting.

MANY CAR ACCIDENTS OVER PAST WEEK END

D. E. Blake and Daughter Hurt
While Enroute to Spring Lake

Icy, snow-covered highways made motoring extremely dangerous over the past week-end.

At least a dozen minor accidents have been reported in and about Charlevoix, all caused from skidding cars. Louis O'Neil's machine was damaged when another crashed into it at the corner of Bridge street and Hurlbut avenue. Floyd Brown's roadster was likewise damaged on Bridge street. A Ford touring car smashed a right front wheel against the curb at the corner of Bridge and Mason streets Sunday. Two accidents were reported on U. S. 31 between Charlevoix and Bay Shore.

D. E. Blake, owner of the Sally Blake shop, also his little daughter, David Blake, were slightly injured Friday when their machine skidded off the road and struck a tree near Acme. They were enroute to Spring Lake to bring Mrs. Blake to Charlevoix for the holidays. After spending a day in Traverse City, Mr. Blake purchased another car, hired a garage man to drive it, and continued to Spring Lake. He returned to Charlevoix Sunday.

NOVELTY ENTERTAIN- MENT AT BALL GAME

Local Young Ladies Gave Dance
Number Friday Evening

Charlevoix and Petoskey basketball fans attending the game here last Friday evening were given somewhat of an innovation in entertainment.

At the intermission between halves, the Misses Byrnes Lamphear and Janet Livingston favored with a very clever dance number. Their costumes were original and the number well executed. The young ladies were given a big hand.

The high school band, under the direction of John TerWee, leader, were appreciated for their part in the evening's program.

The basketball games were followed by a dance given under the sponsorship of the Hi-Y club.

COMMUNITY SKAT- ING RINK PLANNED

START OF WORK HINGING UPON WEATHER CONDITIONS

Hockey Pen Will Be Built Smaller to Allow More Room for Rink—
No Definite Sports Program

Requests for information regarding Charlevoix's plans for winter sports during the next two or three months have been coming in thick and fast of late.

At the annual meeting of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce it was decided to carry on the usual home program as in previous years. A committee was appointed to take charge and plan activities, but as yet they have not organized so as to give out anything definite.

However, Clarence Wood, member of the Board of Education, announced Monday that work of building the community skating and hockey rinks at the school grounds would be started as soon as weather conditions permit. Last year the rink was completed by this date, but up until the past few days there has not been enough snow to form banks for a rink, not to mention insufficient freezing weather to keep the rink in condition.

Mr. Wood stated that present plans call for a larger rink this year. It is proposed to make the hockey pen smaller and have it located directly north of the junior building in order to use the entire space in front of the school buildings between Mason and Clinton street for a skating rink. Experiences of the past two years have taught that the skating rink was too small and this fault will be corrected.

ENTIRE CITY OB- SERVES YULETIDE

REAL SPIRIT OF OCCASION IS FOUND IN EVERY QUARTER

Parties Given for Kiddies — Needy
Are Given Aid—Church Programs
Beautiful and Appropriate

Starting last Sunday, in Charlevoix homes, churches, fraternal organizations and throughout the entire city, in fact, the birth of the Christ child has been observed appropriately and reverently. To those homes where fortune has not smiled so lavishly, the real Christmas spirit prompted the sending of gifts and aid from those who have fared better.

Many homes have been gladdened by the home-coming of loved ones. From the pulpits of Charlevoix's various churches, the meaning of this most beautiful and sacred of holidays has been again expounded and thanks offered.

Christmas has been a merry one for the kiddies. At the schools, lodges and churches entertainment was provided for them—appropriate programs—that they might know the fullest meaning and enjoy to the utmost the holiday spirit.

A most enjoyable Christmas party for kiddies was held Monday afternoon at the Pythian temple. Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus were both there to hand out gifts and candy to the children. It is estimated around 70 were present to enjoy the impromptu program arranged.

The annual Christmas Sunday school pageant was given at the Methodist church Sunday evening. Pageantry, color scenes, costumes and carols made the evening one to remember. The title was "Come and Adore Him." The annual Christmas tree festival will be an event of Wednesday evening.

At the Baptist church, the Christmas party was given Tuesday evening with a colorful program and remembrances to the children, and that of the Congregational church will be held Wednesday evening when their usual interesting and appropriate program will be given.

POLAR BEARS VICTORS OVER KALAMAZOO FIVE

Won Tuesday Game by 23 to 18
Count—Polar Cubs Drop Prelim.

Charlevoix Polar Bears added their fourth victory Tuesday evening by taking the Kalamazoo All-Stars in camp by a 23 to 18 score.

With the exception of occasional spurts the game was a listless affair. Both teams resorted to defense in the opening period, which ended with the Kalamazoo outfit leading 4 to 2.

From then on the Polar Bear attack commenced to function. They had the advantage of a 13 to 6 count at the half and were out in front 22 to 13 at the close of the third period. In the final stanza, Kalamazoo scored 5 points to a single free throw for the Polar Bears.

For Charlevoix Iken and Davenport scored 9 points each. Supernaw and Brown made 2 each and Kipke one.

The visiting team boasted a good bunch of individual players, but apparently had not played much together. In the preliminary, Petoskey Bon Tons defeated the Polar Cubs by a 19 to 8 count.

CIGARET TAX DEFEAT PROVED SOMETHING

The defeat of the cigaret tax in the recent election is proof conclusive of one thing if no other, and that is that if the people are to have a voice in the matter no new tax idea will be approved unless it guarantees reduction in other taxation. This refers in particular to the property tax. Every mother's son sitting in the state legislature this coming January must take full recognition of the expression of the people in the matter of taxation. No matter whether it is an income tax, more gas or any other kind of a tax the great rank and file of the people will not accept it only on the terms herein stated.

Perhaps it would be more to the point to frankly state that the new state administration, together with solons in session in the legislature, will be wise if the taxation issue is kept within the bounds of the present receipts. The actions of the Board of Supervisors in several counties, including Shiawassee, can serve as a good pattern for imitation. If it is possible for counties to curtail their budgets it would seemingly be equally true of the state. Trimming expenses is the keynote of the present trend of business and private life, and mister State of Michigan will do well to whet up the pruning knife and get busy.—Durand Express.

ECONOMIC BUNK

As we understand a lot of current economic thought, business depression is caused by working too hard, adopting too much ingenious labor-saving machinery, producing too much and accumulating too large a volume of goods and money. In short, by using thrift, energy and intelligence in the pursuit of comfort, security and wealth.

The remedy preached by this school of thinkers is to ease up, slack on the job, shorten hours, make less and spend more. We have all got behind by getting ahead; now we'll reverse the process and get ahead by getting behind.

uses common sense, is the bunk. A little spell of business stagnation can't change the moral and intellectual character of the universe all at once, turning virtue into vice and vice into virtue. We won't gain anything by being lazy and dumb instead of industrious and intelligent.

We simply haven't got the knack yet of keeping the machinery running smoothly. It's so new! We don't oil it right, or don't feed it right, or don't make the right adjustments. Particularly we haven't learned the trick of adapting production to consumption.

Suppose industry were war, wouldn't we have generals keeping a careful eye on the operations as a whole, and shifting materials, equipment and men from moment to moment and place to place as they were needed?

Some time peaceful industrial society will have such generals, continually adjusting money, workers, machinery and finished products.

And it needn't be Socialism or Fascism, either. We could do it in this country right now if we had the nerve and the imagination. As a matter of fact, we're rapidly drifting toward such super-management of our industries, probably by private enterprise, with a little benevolent attention from the government.

LOOKING FACTS IN WHICH FACE?

"Face the facts!" It has come to mean only one thing; face whatever calamity the speaker has on his chest. Why can't we, for a change, face favorable facts, kindly facts, beckoning facts, facts that indicate opportunity?

One reason is that business is a more strenuous game than we bargained for when we threw our hats in the ring. It was hardly two minutes by the clock, after we opened our doors for business, before something pulled our feet from under us and let us horizontal even onto this day.

Had we faced salutary facts impartially in the beginning, we should have:

1. Started in a smaller way; or
2. Bought into a going concern; or
3. Set aside a sum for immediate advertising and promotion; or
4. Interviewed a banker and learned the proper portion of funds to hang onto as working capital; or
5. Asked ourselves in cold blood whether we had executive (managing) ability.

No matter what we have done wrong, the fact remains that it is not too late. Slowly let us bend our situation around, as the pilot does his ferry boat, warping it into its slip, within a half inch of dead true.

Start from where we are. Face the facts of gradual correction and opportunity. Don't let calamity facts be the only facts we consider facts.

HIGHER COURT FREES IMPRISONED FARMER

Frank Harland Released Under Bond by Order of Supreme Court

Frank Harland, 38, Cadillac farmer, who has been held in the Wexford county jail since November 8th for his failure to tell Recorder's Court Judge E. J. Millington where he obtained the liquor that he became intoxicated on the night of November 7th, was freed Friday under $500 bond by order of the state supreme court. The case will come up in the January term of court.

Harland's case, the first of its kind in Michigan, started when he was arrested at a dance on drunken charges. When taken before Judge Millington he said he did not know from whom he had obtained the liquor, stating that the bottle had been passed around in the dark and that he did not know who the "fellows" in the crowd were.

Because Harland would or could not name any of the men in the group Judge Millington sent him to the county jail on contempt of court charges. Millington added however, that when Harland would tell from where the liquor was obtained that he would be released.

In the meantime Harland's wife was caring for their children in addition to the dairy herd and farm.

Subject, "Christian Science Lesson for Thanksgiving Day."

Wednesday evening at 7:45, first Wednesday of month only.

Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to attend all services.

"Is the Universe, including Man, evolved by Atomic Force?" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, December 21.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "For, behold, I create new heavens and a new earth; and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind." (Isa. 65:17).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Undisturbed amid the jarring testimony of the material senses, Science, still enthroned, is unfolding to mortals the immutable, harmonious, divine Principle,—is unfolding Life and the universe, ever present and eternal." (p. 306).

BOYNE MAN STOLE GAS FROM CARS; FINED $50

Monroe VanCamp was tried in Justice Cole's court December 17 at Boyne City, and found guilty of stealing gasoline from autos parked at the gym. He was fined fifty dollars or 90 days. There have been several other similar thefts recently which has aroused the community to take steps to punish the offenders. Judge Cole, familiar with the situation, vigorously applied the law to the culprit.—Boyne Citizen.

In Memoriam
In memory of our mother
Who left us in '28;
And oh, how we have missed her.
Who was loving and so sweet.

In our hearts we often wonder,
As we go from day to day;
If we might be like our mother,
Who has gone so far away.

For 'twas she who always taught us
To be always kind and true;
And we pray our Lord above us,
We will carry her wish through.

CORRESPONDENCE

NORWOOD

Our mail carrier, Earl Miller, is a busy man these days, and is giving us good service.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Yettaw of Charlevoix were visitors at the Genett home Sunday evening.

Willom Lushia, who has been visiting his daughters in Cleveland, Ohio, returned to his home this week.

Many of the Norwood citizens are making plans to entertain their friends and relatives on Christmas day.

A heavy snow fell over this locality Sunday, which adds beauty and harmonizes with the Christmas spirit.

Just beyond December lies the new beginning, the clean page of another year, a year of hopes and new efforts.

One way for men and women to improve their situation, is to give thought to that of others at this Christmas time.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richardson and son Merrill, motored to Traverse City Thursday, where they were over night guests of Mr. and Mrs. John McCall and family.

The Norwood summer people who are away in warmer climates for the winter have not forgotten folks here, judging by the number of parcels and greetings that are arriving each day, which are well appreciated by the receivers.

There will be a community pot-luck supper Wednesday evening, December 31, at the town hall in Norwood. Everyone in the community are welcome. Bring your good eats and games and join in the watch party.

The members of the Norwood L. A. S. with several additional ladies, gave their sixth annual Christmas party at the home of Mrs. George Light in Norwood, Monday evening. The home was prettily decorated with holly and Christmas bells, and in one corner of the living room stood a very well decorated Christmas tree. The glow of many lighted candles gave the room a very attractive appearance. A program of Christmas carols and several readings was given, after which both Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus arrived, bringing with them a treat of candy and nuts, also Christmas greetings. Presents from the tree were then distributed, after which delightful refreshments of ice cream and wafers, and fruit cookies were served by the hostess. The ladies, upon leaving, declared Mrs. Light a charming hostess.

Children Like This Safe Prescription

Coughs and Sore Throat Relieved Almost Instantly.

Stop children's coughs and sore throats before these ailments lead to dangerous ill. Use Thoxine, a doctor's famous prescription which brings relief within 15 minutes, yet contains no harmful drugs. Thoxine works on a different principle, it has a quick double action—it relieves the irritation and goes direct to the internal cause. Ideal for all children because it is pleasant tasting and easy to take—not a gargle. Ask for Thoxine, put up ready for use in 35c, 60c, and $1.00 bottles. If you are not satisfied your money will be refunded. Sold by Central Drug Store and by all other good drug stores.

Mrs. Lewis Price has returned home from the Petoskey hospital, where she was taking treatments. She is some better.

Everyone is busy getting ready for Christmas. There was a program at the church Monday for the Sunday school, which was well attended, and all had a merry time.

Miss McCalmon, Mrs. A. G. Tillotson, and Arvilla Yohr attended the Christmas program at North Bay church Sunday morning. There was a good crowd and a good attendance.

The Murray school gave their Christmas program Friday evening to a full house. All reported a fine time. The teacher, Mrs. Kilpatrick, will spend her vacation at her home in Cheboygan.

MARION

Mrs. F. Ecklund is still very ill. The Home Economics club met with Mrs. James Cook Wednesday last.

Kenneth Cellner spent the weekend with his teacher, John Dutcher, at Traverse City.

Will Cellner of Rochester, Mich., is visiting his brothers, Charles and August Cellner.

Mrs. Jack Hunt left last week for Traverse City, where she will spend the winter months with her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Orlin Cunningham of East Towas, are spending Christmas vacation at the home of H. Edward Cunningham.

Mrs. George Meggison entertained the Ladies' Aid of the M. E. church, Charlevoix, at her home in Marion. A fine time was enjoyed by those present.

A Christmas play was given at the Black school last week Friday evening by the teacher, Mr. Dutcher, and pupils, which was a very successful event and appreciated by all.

Miss Beatrice Straw and pupils entertained last Friday evening at the Loeb school; also Miss Taylor and pupils Friday afternoon at the Nowland school, both teachers and their pupils doing nicely.

ATWOOD

Wedding bells soon. Merry Christmas to all.

Irvin Lord purchased 40 acres of land in Norwood township.

The Atwood and Clark schools had real nice Christmas programs.

A Mr. Smith of Charlevoix is a frequent visitor at the Albert Hammond home.

Phillip Uray, formerly of this vicinity, but of late living in Bellaire, died last week.

Wesley Joliffe, who is attending college in Kalamazoo, is spending his vacation at home.

Mrs. F. S. Brown is still at Huntington, Ind., caring for her mother, Mrs. Grinstead. She expects to be home about New Year's.

Last week Thursday the Ladies' Aid, with their husbands, met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Farrell for an all day meeting. It was a gala day for all present. A true Christmas spirit prevailed and a bountiful pot-luck dinner was served. A Christmas tree was enjoyed with each one present receiving a present. Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Kendall's presence added much to the occasion.

(Too late for last week.)

Archie Brown is driving a new Ford roadster.

Miss Geneva Edson of Ellsworth was a Saturday and Sunday guest of her aunt, Mrs. Ethel Joliffe.

William Coeling of Ellsworth, was buying turkeys in this vicinity last Wednesday, paying 21 cents pound.

Mrs. F. S. Brown is still caring for her mother in Huntington, Ind., and will not be home until after Christmas.

The days begin to get longer next Sunday. As the old saying has it, "Days begin to lengthen, cold begins to strengthen."

A very enjoyable business and social meeting was held by the M. E. church folks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Parsons one evening last week. After a short program and business a good lunch was served. These meetings will occur the first Tuesday of each month. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ethel Joliffe. An oyster supper will be served.

IRONTON NEWS

The Ladies' Aid society meets with Mrs. George Hanson this week. Arthur Guld's car turned over on the schoolhouse hill Thursday night. Mrs. Knopp will be the teacher here when school re-opens in January.

Wade Howe's car skidded and went over on its side on Friday afternoon, breaking a wheel as it went over. Mrs. Pillsbury was with him, but luckily, neither of them were hurt.

A large crowd attended the Christmas entertainment at the church Friday night. The children gave a fine program and everyone had a good time. We all join in thanking Mrs. Thorsen and all the others who helped to make it a success.

Friday evening, December 19th, the annual Christmas celebration was held at the Ironton church. The entire community took part. A very fine program was given under the direction of our teacher, Mrs. A. Thorsen, of East Jordan. A very lovely tree and usual Christmas decorations were displayed. Santa Claus, with a well filled sack, distributed gifts to all. The generous check received each year from Mrs. Margaret Stuart of Chicago, enables the various committees to make this an occasion to be remembered by all.

A real white Christmas. Lee Cork of Burr Oak is visiting his sister, Mrs. Ed. Potter.

John Brock of Detroit is spending the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brock.

The Misses Margaret and Ruth Matchett and Dorothy Smith are spending their holiday vacation at home.

The Barnard Grangers and friends enjoyed a party and supper at the hall on Friday evening. An interesting program was also given.

Miss Anna Gornell, teacher of Hilton school, gave her Christmas entertainment Thursday evening. The Clark school entertainment was on Monday evening.

Howard Gornell was pleasantly reminded of his birthday when a party of friends surprised him on Monday evening. The evening was spent in playing progressive pedro. Charlotte Willis and Will Ager were the lucky prize winners. Mrs. Mary Smith and Clyde Smith received the consolation.

FAIRVIEW-BANKS

Merry Christmas to all. Seven inches of snow fell Sunday. Farmers are busy cutting their annual wood supply.

Morris Henry struck water at 11 DeGroot's Thursday morning at 93 feet.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Van Der Heide visited with H. DeGroot Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wiltse and Ed. Wiltse were in Bellaire Friday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. U. Seneker visited with Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Bolhuis Wednesday evening.

Mrs. H. J. Timmer visited with her daughter, Mrs. Dick Oosterbaan, Thursday afternoon.

J. W. Thumm of Bellaire, county school commissioner, visited at the Mitchell school Friday.

FARM NOTES

Grand Champion Fat Pen at Kansas Livestock Show Fed Wheat
Many farmers in different sections of the country have refused to adopt the practice of feeding wheat to livestock, even though they have the wheat on hand, because they are afraid that it will not produce the desired results.

Many experiments have been conducted, the results of which show that wheat is as good a feed as corn for dairy cattle, beef cattle, or hogs, and that it is more economical when the price margin is not too great.

Proof that wheat will produce the proper finish as well as weight was demonstrated at the Kansas national livestock show last month, when a pen of wheat-fed Poland Chinas, averaging 244 pounds at six months old, carried off the grand champion award in the fat hogs division. They were fed on a strict ration of cracked wheat and a protein supplement.

Wheat probably is best fed to hogs, however, as only a part of the ration, using corn or barley to complete the grain mixture. Best results are likely to be obtained when a self-feeder is used, feeding the grain mixture in one bin, and a mixture composed of two parts of tankage, one part linseed meal, and one part alfalfa meal in the other bin.

Tea, coffee, and spices hold their flavor best in air-tight containers. Baking powder also should be kept in an air-tight tin to maintain its leavening powers.

A closet shower for the bride-to-be is a good idea. Everyone brings something to make the closet more convenient. Shoe trees or racks, hat stands, shoe bags, laundry bags, clothes hangers, nested boxes, stocking boxes, dress bags, and a clothes brush are among the possible items to choose from. One girl received a hammer and some boxes of tacks and small brass hooks among other things.

Instead of placing slices of lemon on a platter with fish, to garnish it, pass them on a separate plate, so they will not become greasy. It is better to cut the lemon lengthwise into six or eight sections, than to slice it, when one expects to squeeze the lemon juice over the fish. Finely chopped parsley may be sprinkled on the fish as a garnish and flavor.

Charlevoix Township Tax Payers
I will be at the Charlevoix State Savings bank on Saturday, December 27, and also Thursday, January 8th, for the collection of taxes for Charlevoix township. Mrs. Anna Stroud, Treasurer of Charlevoix township. Adv. 52t2.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Council Chamber, December 22, 1930.
The common council of the city of Charlevoix met on the above date, with Mayor Bergeon presiding. Aides present: Fessenden, Hooker, Kibbe, Smith. Absent: Hammond and Webster.

Minutes of meeting held December 18, 1930, were read and approved. Petition, filed by Louis Orlovski and 13 others, praying that the shade trees on South Bridge street be trimmed, was read and referred to the street committee.

Alderman Hooker presented the following resolutions:

Resolved, That Pease, Greeley & Hansen, 6 N. Michigan avenue, Chicago, he and are hereby authorized to make a survey of two septic tank sites, one on each side of Pine river, location to be indicated by the city, having in contemplation the possible construction of the sewer disposal plant known as the complete septic tank project, with capacity to serve the entire city; and to prepare the report and submit the same to the State of Michigan, the city to pay for such services as follows, to-wit: $20 per day for surveying; $15 per day for office work; and $50.00 per day for time of principal member of the firm employed on said project, cost not to exceed $100.00.

On motion of Ald. Hooker, seconded by Ald. Smith, the resolution was adopted by the following aye and nay vote: Ayes, Aids, Fessenden, Hooker, Kibbe and Smith. Nays, none. Absent, Aids, Hammond and Webster.

The finance committee submitted the following report: having examined the following bills aggregating $3,612.88, find them correct and recommended they be allowed.

What is Christmas?

IT'S a time of holly and mistletoe, of colored lights and trees, of gifts and good will—a time when the world renews its sense of fellowship, and the children their belief in Santa Claus—a time, more than any other, when hearts open and hands go out, and voices are raised in universal friendship.

To our many loyal customers and friends, and to the community at large, we extend our heartiest wishes for a good old-fashioned

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Smith of Washington, D. C., arrived Tuesday to be the guests until Saturday of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smith, Antrim street.

The Misses Lucille M. Usher and Lila Heise arrived Wednesday morning from Lansing. They will be the guests for several days at the homes of their respective parents.

William J. Gallagher, Jr., left Saturday for Grand Rapids after spending several days at St. James, where he was called by the death of his father, William J. Gallagher.

Miss Frances Milner, student at Mt. Pleasant normal college, arrived home late last week to be the guest throughout the holidays of her mother, Mrs. Thomas Milner.

Edwin Madill, student at Georgetown university, Washington, D. C., arrived home Saturday to spend the Yuletide vacation period with his mother, Mrs. Josephine Madill.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gallagher and Mrs. William Sheid, who were called here by the death of their father, William J. Gallagher, returned Saturday to their homes in Chicago.

Miss Alice Partridge is among the students from Mt. Pleasant normal college home for the holidays. She is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Partridge, Park avenue.

Dr. Dean, director of the Northern Michigan Children's Fund group, accompanied by Dr. R. B. Armstrong, motored to Petoskey Thursday afternoon to attend a medical conference.

Charles Hendrickson, Sr., returned Saturday from a motor trip to Muskegon. He was accompanied home by his daughter, Mrs. Joseph Pierce and two children, who will make an extended visit.

Miss Alice Chew, instructor in Harbor Springs schools, also Gale Chew, who is attending Western State normal college at Kalamazoo, are spending the holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Chew.

The Misses Hilda Brady, Anna Tuhy and Audrey Staley, who are attending McLaughlin-Davenport business college at Grand Rapids, are spending the Christmas holidays here at the homes of their respective parents.

Miss Edna Brown arrived home Wednesday morning from the University of Michigan to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Brown. Willard Smith, son of Capt. and Mrs. Oscar Smith, also a U. of M. student, is home.

Mrs. James McCann and daughter, Miss Katherine, left Monday, for Minneapolis, Minn., where they will make an extended stay with their daughter and sister, Mrs. Vern Runberg. They came here Sunday from Beaver Island on the McCann tug Venus.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Rogers and daughter, Patricia, who were called to Charlevoix by the death of Mrs. Rogers' father, Reuben Geer, left Sunday for their home in Saginaw. They were accompanied by Mrs. Reuben Geer, who will spend the winter at their home.

CITY MOURNS DEATH OF PIONEER WOMAN

Mrs. Julia Ackert, Life-Long Resident, Died Last Sunday

Charlevoix lost a life-long and beloved resident in the death of Mrs. Julia Ackert, who passed away at her home on Belvedere avenue at 7:15 o'clock Sunday evening, following an illness of several months.

Julia Mason had lived her entire life in Charlevoix. She was born April 17, 1866, in a log cabin on the shore of Round Lake. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Seth Mason, who were the second family to settle in what is now the city of Charlevoix and the fourth family in Charlevoix county. Mrs. Ackert had seen Charlevoix grow from a pioneer village to its present stage, and she knew the hardships of those early days.

Mrs. Ackert's husband, Sybrant Ackert, whom she married in 1888, preceded her in death about 30 years ago. Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Raymond Pearl, Charlevoix; a granddaughter, two sisters, Mrs. Judson Markham and Mrs. John Ackert, both of Charlevoix; also two brothers, Oscar Mason of this city and John Mason of Mercedes, Texas.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home on Belvedere avenue, Rev. Ethel Barnett of the First Spiritualist church, officiating. Interment was at Brookside cemetery.

DOLL CONTEST INTERESTS ALL CHILDREN

Fifteen Beautiful Prizes to Be Given at Central Drug Store

A place of especial interest to children these days before Christmas is the Central Drug store, where the annual doll contest sponsored by this store is in progress.

At the last count, Ila Bassett was leading all contenders for first prize by a comfortable margin. It is quite probable she will win the beautiful doll awarded as first prize and fourteen other children will come in for the handsome doll awards.

METHODIST NOTES

Divine worship will be held Sunday at 10:30 and 7:00 p. m. Sermons are important with our churches, but the opportunity of worship is more so for you who should come. The apostolic advice is still good: "Forsake not the assembling of yourselves together, as the manner of some is."

In the evening service at 7:00 a special feature will be the passage of the months and their messages in candlelight arrangement.

Epworth League is at 6:00 p. m. in the parlors of the church.

The next meeting of the Literary club will be January 8th, with Mrs. Milton Block.

AT THE MOVIES

Director, 31, Quits Theatre for the Films

The tremendous success of the talking pictures has been responsible for many a true story of "success overnight" for stage folk who have deserted the boards for the screen. One of the most interesting of such tales is that of Rouben Mamoulian, director of "Applause," the Paramount picture which comes to the Palace theatre Saturday and Sunday.

GREETINGS

I wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year—a job; permanent employment; food, shelter, clothes; an opportunity to earn for yourself and your family all of the necessities of life and some of the luxuries.

I hope there may be no starving children in America nor in all the world. I hope it may be your good fortune to recognize, if you do not already know this, that industrial stagnation, unemployment and starvation are almost wholly caused by legislative racketeers and land gamblers.

Health, Prosperity and Consideration of the rights of others:

I can wish you no more.

Michigan's 1930 wheat crop will probably be fed to livestock this year, Verne H. Church, U. S. Agricultural statistician working in cooperation with the state department of agriculture, said in a report.

Enjoyment of other forms of winter sports will be entirely up to fans themselves. It would take but little work to put the ski and toboggan slides at Mt. MeSaubia in shape, and other numerous hills in and nearby the city provide plenty of opportunity for this type of sport. Bridge street hill will be put in shape for coasting at a later date when conditions permit.

So as matters now stand, enjoyment of winter sports is put entirely up to fans themselves. There will be no organized program for the time being at least.

COYOTE IS KILLED NEAR BOYNE FALLS

Conservation Officers Surprised to Find Animals in This Region

H. D. Ruhl, of Lansing, a member of the state conservation department force, shot a coyote while fox hunting on the state game refuge near Boyne Falls. Mr. Ruhl was hunting with Joseph Stevenson, game refuge keeper, stationed near Boyne Falls.
Mr. Ruhl is a brother of Mrs. M. W.
Simonton, of Petoskey.

Quite a few Boyne Falls persons inspected the animal and all declared they had never seen one before. In fact, it was a surprise to everyone that these enemies of wild game had penetrated so far south.

For several seasons there have been coyotes around Wilderness state park, in the upper end of Emmet county, and several have been shot and trapped about Carp Lake and Cecil Bay region. This is the first one found south of Petoskey in many years.

The fox hound the two men were using refused to trail the animal but finally did take up the chase in a sort of half-hearted manner. The hunters circled several times and finally came out in front of the leasuredly moving animal. As he came within range their rifles barked and at least one enemy of bird and small game life around Boyne Falls was eliminated. The coyote weighed about 45 pounds.—Petoskey Evening News.

COMMUNITY TREE A CITY BRIGHT SPOT

Decorated Evergreen on Business
Street Bespeaks Yule Spirit

Marking with realistic significance the approach of Yuletide is the community Christmas tree erected by the city council at the corner of Bridge and Clinton streets. The tree is prettily lighted with colored globes, and each night radiates the Yuletide spirit to the passer-by.

In previous years a committee of business men have arranged for distribution of candy bags to children of the community on Christmas eve.
Last year the function took place at the school gymnasium as a part of the Christmas carnival program. This year, however, it is planned that distribution of Christmas gifts will be of a more substantial nature, and the various welfare committees are carrying on the work throughout the city.

TRAPPER MAY RETAIN FURS AFTER SEASON

No Permit Necessary for Those Holding Season's Catch

Trappers who want to keep their furs until market prices are better may do so without the necessity of obtaining a permit, according to the law enforcement division of the department of conservation.

If trappers comply with the law and send reports to the department offices at Lansing within five days after the close of the respective trapping seasons and listing the number and kinds of furs on hand, these furs may be kept as long as desirable without permits or other formalities.

Fur dealers may purchase furs after the close of the seasons, but must determine whether the furs purchased have been reported to the conservation department by the trappers.

AUTO PLATE TIME EX- TENSION IS EXPECTED

Lansing Authorities Probably Will
Not Enforce January 1st Limit

Lansing authorities probably will not drastically enforce the state law requiring all autos to be equipped with 1931 license plates after January 1, Frank D. Fitzgerald, secretary of state-elect believes.

He said that while state officials lack the authority to suspend the law county and municipal authorities have shown a disposition to delay enforcement of the act because of economic conditions. During the campaign one of the proposals advanced by Fitzgerald was that license plates should be put on sale January 1 and that the final date for operation without them be March 1.

Legislation to this effect probably will be introduced at the coming session.

PLENTY PROBLEMS FACE LEGISLATURE

TAXATION TANGLE WILL BE HARDEST OF THEM ALL

Capital Punishment, Conservation and Highway Funds Other Snags
Which Line the Route

Taxation, in all of its many ramifications, probably will be the snag which will give the 1931 legislature most worry, divide it into several hostile camps and delay adjournment until the last minute.

Probably there will be at least several other highly controversial issues—such as the perennial capital punishment proposal, conservation, prohibition and highway fund division—but with the opening of the session but a month away the age-old conflict of interest between the state and citizen on taxes appears still paramount.

In the first place, the 1929 legislature appointed a commission which was directed to make a study of the state's entire tax system and to report its findings to the 1931 session. That commission has been busy for the last year and a half and, according to apparently well-founded report, is prepared to report favorably on an income tax proposal. If this is true there will have been provided another issue on which Detroit and the outstate can engage in their usual battle.

Aside from the rumor of an income tax proposal, there has been no indication of what other changes in the general tax laws the commission will recommend. There have been scores of proposals made during the series of public hearings it has held, but no member has signified what will be favored.

After the experience of the last legislature with special taxes there is reason to believe that the 1931 session will step cautiously in that direction. The cigarette tax of 1929 was swamped when put up to the voters last November and the malt tax has both failed to net the revenue predicted for it and it has met with unfavorable reception from both wet and dry. Moreover, it was filled with flaws and only constant battling on the part of the attorney general's department has kept it in operation. There will be no effort to repeal it in 1931 and this movement will have the support of Governor Brucker.

Such other proposals as a sales tax, elimination or modification of the general property tax and others may make their appearance in what will be a general attempt to relieve the burden on general property.

Tax legislation affecting many of the different functions of state government may be thrown into the legislative hopper. The group which has been making a study of school laws apparently is prepared to offer a legislative product of Dr. Paul Mort, advisor of the Michigan Educational association, which would establish a minimum of $2,000 annually for operation of school units. A property tax of one mill would be levied locally under the plan, the state making up the difference between that and the $2,000. The plan, according to Mort, would cost the state $10,000,000 annually.

Highway taxes will also present inflammable material. Last session a proposal was made to divide the gasoline tax evenly between the state, counties and cities and villages. It was shelved. At present there is what amounts to a two-way division between the state and counties. Rep. Ate Dykstra, of Grand Rapids, who was the chief opponent of the three-way division plan last session, is now quoted as being prepared to come to Lansing to demand a two-way division between the state and cities. The highway department will continue to oppose any change in the present plan.

Taxation will also be a problem for the legislature to tackle in connection with conservation. During the course of a recent public conference between sportsmen and members of the legislature's tax commission it was revealed that there is to be a determined effort at the coming session to curb the reversion of tax delinquent lands to the department of conservation for public purposes. It was pointed out that these lands are lost to the local government as sources of future taxation with the result that the remainder of the property is any given area is made to carry a heavy burden.

The result may be an attempt to alter the Act passed in 1929 which automatically turns the land over to the state after five years of delinquency. Prior to 1929 the lands were put up for public sale, the original owner having the right of redemption.

Another turn that the department of conservation may face in the matter of taxation is a proposal to refund certain portions of the game license moneys to the counties in which there are areas of state forests, game refuges and hunting grounds.

The only proposed legislation which will be sponsored by the department will be a plan to establish a single day for the opening of all small game seasons, eliminating the present confusing series of "first days." The northeastern and northwestern sections of the lower peninsula may stage a battle on the question of closing of the deer season by individual counties. The closed season has been popular in the western sections while the eastern counties have remained open. The result has been, it is said, that the western hunters invade the eastern game areas to make their annual kill while they retain their deer at home for tourist purposes.

Capital punishment, which finally was approved by the 1929 legislature (Continued on page 6.)

LUMBER CO. SUFFERS FIRE LOSS

BLAZE THURSDAY MORNING DESTROYED FACTORY BLDG.

Loss of Machinery and Material Is Placed Close to $7,000—Business
Will Be Continued

One of the most disastrous fires experienced here in recent years completely destroyed the factory building of the Charlevoix Lumber company last Thursday morning.

Cause of the blaze, which started on the ground floor of the structure around midnight, is not known. Two theories have been advanced. The first, that of defective wiring, and the second that someone had gained entrance to the building and carelessly dropped a lighted match or cigarette stub.

Local firemen fought the stubborn blaze for nearly ten hours before finally bringing it under control. Fortunately there was no high wind so that the fire could be kept from adjoining sheds and buildings. A heavy northwest wind would have probably meant a complete loss.

Loss to machinery and material has been placed at approximately $7,000, partially covered by insurance. Loss on the building, which was property of the old Charlevoix Lumber Co., is not known.

William Black and Jone Durance, mill employees, both lost tools of considerable value.

E. J. Hiller, one of the principal stock holders in the present Charlevoix Lumber Co., a corporation, stated Monday that the business would be continued. The factory will not be equipped to the extent it was before the fire, but machinery necessary to the present demands of the business will be installed. The question of location remains to be settled, inasmuch as the lease of the corporation with the old Charlevoix Lumber Co. has expired and as yet has not been renewed. In case the lease is not renewed, the business will be moved to another location.

PETOSKEY ELKS AID IN LOCAL CHARITIES

Provide Underwear and Stockings for Distribution in Charlevoix

In addition to its annual Christmas party and charities at home, Petoskey Elks carried their benevolent activities to Charlevoix this year in order to make Christmas a happy one for everybody.

Through Joseph Foster and N. R. Washburn, local members of the Petoskey fraternal order, 36 suits of underwear and 70 pairs of stockings were made available for distribution in this city. They were turned over to the Charlevoix Benevolent committee for disposal.

In addition to the above named items, Messrs. Foster and Washburn were given authority to provide shoes and rubbers for a limited number of local needy children.

CAR LICENSE LIMIT DATE IS EXTENDED

February 1st, However, Must See Everyone Provided With Plates

The local branch of the state department was notified by wire on Monday of this week to the effect that no sales of 1931 license plates were to be made on December 31, 1930, or fees collected on that date. This is to enable the business that is transacted under the regime of John S. Haggerty, secretary of state, to be separated definitely on the state records and on those of the local branch from that occurring under the administration of his successor, Frank D. Fitzgerald.

The telegram also carried the information that the time limit in this county for the 1931 plates had been extended until February 1, 1931. Your 1930 plates are therefore good until that date, at which time, every car owner should have provided himself with 1931 license plates.

Those who are financially able to do so are urged to procure their 1931 plates as early as possible so as to avoid a rush of business around that date, at which time it will be difficult for the local branch to give prompt and efficient service.

MAN SHOT SUNDAY MORNING AT BOYNE

ED. LATHAM, DANCE HALL MAN-AGER, BADLY WOUNDED

State-Wide Search in Progress for Ellsworth Bellant, Petoskey, Alleged Assailant

Boyne City had another shooting fracas early Sunday morning. The affair was the aftermath of a drunken brawl on the floating dance pavilion, Keuka.

As a result, Ed. Latham, a manager of the pavilion, is in Petoskey hospital with a bullet in his abdomen, and local and state officers are conducting a search for Ellsworth Bellant, Petoskey aviator and hotel clerk, for whom a warrant has been issued charging him with the shooting.

According to information gathered by local officers, the shooting followed a quarrel between Bellant and Ted O'Grady, Petoskey barber. It is claimed O'Grady asked Bellant's lady friend for a dance and an argument ensued. Several men present made attempts to quiet the argument without avail. Among them was Latham, whom it is claimed, Bellant shot with a weapon concealed in his coat pocket.

Stanley McNally, Boyne City night watchman, was called, but when he arrived at the pavilion it was deserted. Latham was attended by Dr. Guy C. Conkle of Boyne City, who had the wounded man removed to Petoskey hospital, where he now is in a serious condition.

Bellant so far has not been apprehended. A description of himself and car have been broadcast to police throughout the state, and it is expected he will be found within a short time.

William Elger of Traverse City, Latham's partner, is being held in jail here on a charge of violating the prohibition law.

As a result of Sunday morning's affair, it is quite likely pad-lock proceedings will be instituted to close the Keuka. The place has had an unsavory reputation for some time and residents of the county would undoubtedly rest easier knowing the place was closed.

CITY ASKS PLANS FOR SEWAGE PLANT

Authorize Chicago Firm to Survey
Two Contemplated Sites

At their last regular meeting, the Charlevoix city council took preliminary steps to provide additional sewage disposal facilities.

Pearse, Greeley & Hanson, a Chicago firm, were authorized to make a survey of two septic tank sites, one on each side of the channel between Round lake and Lake Michigan, as designated by the city. It is contemplated to construct a sewage disposal system known as the complete septic tank project, to take care of the entire city. Survey plans will be submitted to the state and city for approval.

The city council had previously obtained sewage disposal plans from the same Chicago firm, but the system then recommended was deemed too expensive. The one now proposed is similar to those under construction at Harbor Springs and Wewahatcha. It is not too expensive and is meeting with state approval. The Belvedere club is now using the septic tank system, and the city has a tank in operation at the foot of Alice street.

First Sermon Sunday

On Saturday, January 3rd, Rev. G. Russell Parker of Watervliet, comes to Charlevoix to assume pastorate of the First Congregational church. He will succeed Rev. Bernard G. Mattson, who has moved with his family to Manistee.

Rev. Parker preached his farewell sermon at Watervliet on Sunday, December 28th. He will be joined here by Mrs. Parker and son, Hugh Parker, the latter part of January.

Regarding Rev. Parker, we quote in part an article from the December 26 issue of the Watervliet Record:

"With the services Sunday Rev. Parker will conclude a pastorate of six years here. On January 2nd he will leave for Charlevoix, where he will immediately assume his duties as pastor of the First Congregational church of that city.

"Mrs. Parker and Hugh Parker will remain here until the end of the school semester, the latter part of January, when they will join Mr. Parker at Charlevoix.

"Mr. Parker's going was entirely of his own desire and we believe we are not overstating the matter in saying that no minister ever left Watervliet taking with him the sincerest wishes of more people, both inside and outside his church, than does Mr. Parker.

"During his pastorate here, his church has better than held its own in interest and influence, which in this day of varied interests to attract people to other things than the church, is indeed doing well."

Rev. Parker will preach his first sermon here Sunday, January 4th. He will take over the pastorate of the local as well as the Ironton Congregational churches, whose pulpits have been ably supplied in recent months.

AGED ATWOOD PIONEER DIED LAST WEDNESDAY

A. W. Hartwell Had Been Resident
There Over Half Century

Antrim county lost one of its pioneers last Wednesday in the death of A. W. Hartwell, a Civil war veteran and resident of the Atwood district over a half century.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday from Atwood M. E. church by Rev. J. C. Kendall, and burial was in Antrim cemetery.

Mr. Hartwell was born August 6, 1844, and was 86 years of age at his death. He was united in marriage December 19, 1866, to Miss Josie Lavina Near, who died two years ago. Two children, Hiram and Ruth, preceded their parents in death.

The family has been residents of Atwood for 54 years, and were held in high esteem by everyone who knew them.

SKATING RINK IS A POPULAR PLACE

LARGER POND RAPIDLY BEING PUT IN SHAPE

New Shelter House with Facilities for Skaters Is Now Under Construction Nearby Rink

Charlevoix's municipal skating rink at the school grounds is again the center of attractions for both young and old alike.

Work of getting the rink in shape was started last Thursday and is still progressing as weather permits. While not in the condition it will be later on, skating has been permitted several afternoons and evenings. Soft weather, however, has hindered the work of icing the pond, and at the same time cut down the periods when skating could be allowed.

By making the hockey pen smaller and moving it farther west along the north side of the junior high school building, the skating pond has been made much larger than it was the past two winters. The rink now occupies the entire space in front of the school buildings between Clinton and Mason streets.

Work was started Monday of this week on a shelter house. The structure is approximately 16 foot square and is being built in the space between the junior high and high school buildings. The building will be heated and is provided with shelves for shoes and rubbers and hooks upon which to hang wraps. In previous winters, the hall of the junior high building has been used for this purpose, but the present plan has been deemed a better and more satisfactory one. This added facility should prove a very popular one.

A regularly supervised schedule for skating will be maintained this winter as in previous years, and maintenance of the rink is taken care of by the board of education and city council jointly.

While we have no definite information as yet, it is probable that local hockey teams will be organized and games scheduled with teams from nearby towns as heretofore.

LOCAL BASKETEERS TO PETOSKEY FRIDAY

First and Second Squads Play There in Return Game

Interest this week-end in basketball as far as local fans are concerned will be centered at Petoskey, where Coach Kipke's tossers journey Friday evening for a return game. Both first and second squads have games scheduled, with the second-stringers appearing in the preliminary.

Friday evening's encounter will mark the first for both teams following the holiday season. In their former meeting on the local court, Charlevoix teams were victorious over Petoskey.

With but one exception, Kipke's men haven't missed a practice session during the vacation period. During the coach's absence over Christmas, they worked out under Stewart Coleman, putting in full sessions each day.

Charlevoix's first-stringers have kept their record clean in the first two games of the season, both against class B teams. They will go to Petoskey Friday night with the intention of repeating their previous performance. If closeness of the game played here is any indication, Friday evening's encounter should be an interesting one to watch.

OBSERVED BIRTH- DAY ON TUESDAY

Mrs. M. S. DuBois, Senior Partner in Courier, Was 85

Mrs. Margaret S. DuBois, mother of Mrs. A. J. Usher, and senior member of the Courier co-partnership, celebrated her 85th birthday Tuesday at her home on Clinton street. She was born December 30, 1845, at Wilby, Ohio, and has been a resident of Charlevoix 23 years.

The occasion was observed with a six o'clock dinner for members of Mrs. DuBois' immediate family. Incidentally, she helped prepare the meal. To her, it was a matter of everyday routine, for in spite of her advanced age, Mrs. DuBois does all her own housework and enjoys unusually good health.

WHY NOT QUIT QUIBBLING?
Next Monday, January 5th, Charlevoix county's legislators convene for their annual January session.

Among several important matters to come before the supervisors at this time is the annual appropriation to the county fair, request for which was made as usual at the October session. The question, then the subject of considerable discussion, was referred to the ways and means committee and still rests there.

Speaking from the public's viewpoint, we believe that the coming session should be a time when "passing the buck" should be dispensed with and this important matter settled either one way or another. Schools, Granges and individuals throughout the county went to the expense and trouble of preparing and taking exhibits to the fair. They are now entitled to their premium money. Our supervisors have in other years appropriated sufficient funds to meet the deficit facing the Agricultural society. This year should be no different than those before it.

It has been hinted that personal grudges against certain officers of the fair association is the reason why our supervisors have not passed the appropriation as in previous years. If this is so, we might say that meetings of our supervisors are no place to settle personal differences at someone else's expense.

It has been said there is mismanagement of the fair. This may be so, but to date no one has proven it. The fair association issued a financial statement to the supervisors after their books had been audited and found to be correct by a county banker.

It has been hinted there were irregularities in the election of fair association officers and that the Society is a "cut-and-dried" affair with not a look-in for anyone except a chosen few. If this fact be true, it is the fault of members of the Society itself. The Society has a membership of 95, representative of the entire county. Each is entitled to a vote at the annual election. If members are not satisfied with present officers, let them elect someone else. That matter should be "neither here nor there" as far as our supervisors are concerned.

Some of our supervisors believe the county fair does not merit financial support. They believe such an expenditure of public money is a waste. If that is the case, attention might be called to several charities for which funds are appropriated each year. Also the matter of two thousand dollars yearly for Whiting County park when the state furnishes a better one for nothing at all. The fair returns all money directly to tax-payers themselves, while many other appropriations are a dead loss. It's dangerous to invite public comparison of the merit of appropriations.

It is time to stop quibbling. The public doesn't approve of such methods. Exhibitors have earned their money and should be paid. The county fair is as deserving of support as many other projects for which tax money is appropriated. If there is dissatisfaction in management, it seems the right course would be to give exhibitors what they have coming to them and then find a way to settle other difficulties. Why play politics at the tax-payers' expense?

IT'S TIME FOR ACTION
Charlevoix's city council took action last Monday night which will ultimately result in an improvement this city has been sorely in need of for many years.

A Chicago firm was authorized to make survey of two septic tank sites as designated by the city on each side of the channel between Round lake and Lake Michigan. It is proposed to build a sewage disposal plant which is known as the complete septic tank system, with capacity sufficient to serve the entire city. The Chicago firm will submit reports to the state and city for approval.

It is to be hoped that the improvements will be made as soon as possible. Previously plans for a sewage disposal plant were asked, but cost of the system recommended was deemed exorbitant and beyond the city's pocketbook. The septic tank system is much cheaper and is providing satisfactory in other communities and to the state as well. The Belvedere club is using the system and the city has a septic tank in operation at the foot of Alice street.

Sewage conditions at Charlevoix have heretofore been a little talked-of topic. They have been sort of hushed up for fear summer people would become alarmed and shun the place. That attitude, in our estimation, is entirely wrong. Sewage conditions should be a mighty important topic to discuss. All of us know what is needed here. Everybody should be sufficiently interested in the city's welfare to lend a hand toward remedying any existing fault so that instead of hiding behind a bush to keep the matter quiet, we can shout to the world we have no sewage trouble, our water is pure, our bathing benches are not contaminated. Come and enjoy this healthful resort!

SOMEONE'S "PASSING THE BUCK"

Ever since the deer season closed we've been watching conservation department reports, newspaper outdoor pages and exchanges for some comment on the wolf situation in upper peninsula counties. At the conservation department's biennial meeting at Lansing, nothing was said about it. Editor Al Weber of Cheboygan, touched the matter lightly in "Observations," but we don't know whether he was serious or kidding.

Not long ago the federal wolf trapper issued a report stating there were only 25 wolves left in the upper peninsula. Deer hunters brought 18 back across the straits and since then a Crystal Falls account says state trappers caught the remaining seven up in Iron county. After digesting all these reports thoroughly, and having spent the deer season in the upper peninsula besides listening to other fellows since their return, we somehow or other have come to the conclusion that someone is "passing the buck."

One local party hunting up in Ontonagon county found a doe freshly killed by wolves, heard the marauders howling every night and even found fresh tracks within a few rods of their camp. Another local party hunted below the falls on the Tahquamenon river—generally conceded to be the best deer territory anywhere because of its inaccessibility. Wolf signs were plentiful everywhere and the deer were gone—driven from the territory. The same condition was true in the Two Heart river territory northeast of Newberry. Wolf packs could be heard running deer nightly.

Where this writer hunted north of Seney, there were no wolves, but plenty of coyotes. We heard them howl every night and found evidences of their work.

Knowing all this, we cannot help but think there is something wrong somewhere. Such a condition did not exist several years ago under the old bounty system. Wolves and coyotes are undoubtedly on the increase and the toll they take from Michigan's deer haunts is tremendous.

Michigan's state trappers cost $50,000 annually. It appears as though the conservation department should check up and see if they are getting value returned.

TEMPERANCE

Curiously enough, while the air is full of clamor about prohibition repeal and home-made wine and revival of the brewing industry, someone starts talking about Francis Murphy and the remarkable movement he started.

It was 60 years ago that Murphy delivered his first temperance speech in Portland, Maine. He knew what he was talking about, for he himself developed a notable oratorical gift and spoke with persuasion. Three years later, in the business depression of 1873, he really began to impress the country.

There was general unemployment. Idleness fostered drinking and at the same time gave men an opportunity to listen to temperance speeches. In Pittsburgh 5,000 men signed the Murphy pledge in one week. Soon he had 80,000 converts, and from then on the movement rolled along irresistibly.

There has been desultory talk of temperance and temperance movements in the last year or two, but nothing much has come of it. Possibly voluntary temperance movements will not flourish under a system of compulsory deprivation. If prohibition is abolished or liberalized, will it be different?

With prohibition or without it, there should be honest, unrelenting instruction and persuasion as to the evils of intemperance.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

Politics and Personalities
Nobody is shedding tears over the swift, complete collapse of the much advertised "spirit of harmony" that was to have existed between the two major political parties in this session of Congress. In the first place, no one expected such a spirit to last; furthermore, no one wanted it to. A harmonious congress just wouldn't be any fun. It wouldn't even be natural. Why, it simply wouldn't be congress!

The administration's depression relief program touched off the fireworks. Immediately, Democrats began to assail the president's plan for administering a $150,000,000 emergency appropriation through executive departments. Why should the administration be given power over so much money without restraint. Representative James Byrnes, of Tennessee, and other prominent Democrats asked. And the Democratic representative, James B. Aswell, of Louisiana, characterized the cutting down of his $60,000,000 drought relief measure to $25,000,000 by Republican committeemen as "crooked, cheap political trick." These are only two instances of the hair-pulling and name-calling now rampant among our "cooperative" statesmen.

Revolt has even spread within party ranks. The Insurgent Republicans have never made any pretense of going along with their regular party brothers. But even such stalwart Old Guardsmen as Senator James Watson, of Indiana, are bitterly criticizing the president for injecting the world court issue into the short session. Among the Democrats, there is outspoken resentment over the "non-obstructionist" policy of Senator Joseph Robinson, of Arkansas, minority floor leader. It is so outspoken, in fact, that two Democratic senators have felt constrained to announce publicly that no resentment exists.

Prohibition 500 Years Ago
That prohibition was a subject of debate 500 years ago is revealed by an examination of the famous Vollebr collection of literature which was purchased a short time ago by the Library of Congress. The debate is in the form of a lengthy poem in the Italian language contrasting the benefits of wine and of water. It is by an unknown author and from an unknown press in Florence.

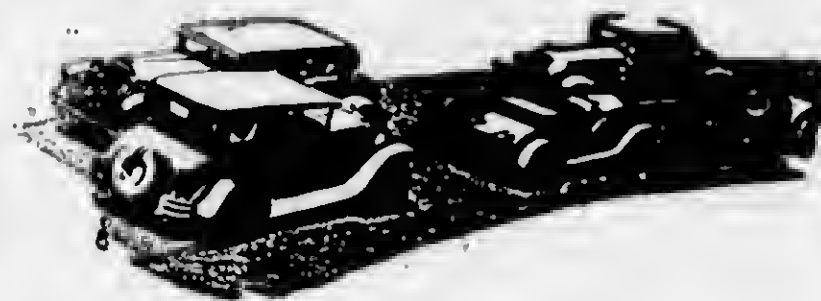

As a cross-section of fifteenth century thought, the collection is invaluable. An illustrated "Life of Christ," thought to have been printed in 1845, contains 100 wood cuts that are exceptionally important to the history of art. The earliest known book of travel, "Pilgrimage to the Holy Land," is likewise prized for its wood cuts. Also included in the collection is the first cook book, which was originally intended as a medical book, but is largely devoted to recipes. Another rare literary specimen is a volume on the advantages and disadvantages of matrimony as interpreted by a fifteenth century humorist. There are numerous novels, most of them highly romantic, and some samples of what were probably the first printed newspapers in the world.

The District Get a Friend

How would you like to grow up and be given federal legislative supervision over schools that included one you attended when you were a boy and played truant in the springtime? That is the unique experience of Senator Robert L. Carey of Wyoming, who is one of the six new senators in this session of congress. Senator Carey was placed on the district committee which passes on legislation dealing with the national capital. When he was a child he came to Washington with his father who was the last delegate from Wyoming before the territory became a state, and he attended both public and private schools in Washington.

It is not always easy to persuade senators to serve on the district committee. Many of them feel that the committee is a minor one and it is impossible to distinguish oneself as a member in a way that will impress constituents who reside hundreds of miles from the capitol. However, Senator Carey accepted the appointment with alacrity. He regards the district as his boyhood home and, as the present home of himself and his family.

So few attain that nice balance midway between inferiority complex and swellhead.

Speedy Relief for Sore Throat

This Doctor's Prescription Requires No Gargling

No longer is it necessary to gargle and choke with nasty tasting medicines to relieve sore throat. Now you can get almost instant relief with one swallow of a doctor's famous prescription. This prescription was refilled so often that the druggist who originally filled it decided to put it up under the name "Thoxine" and make it available to everyone.

The remarkable thing about Thoxine is that it relieves almost instantly, yet contains nothing harmful. It is pleasant tasting, and safe for the whole family, and is guaranteed to relieve sore throat or coughs in 15 minutes or money back. Put up ready for use in 35c, 60c, and $1.00 bottles. W.N.U.
SERVICE

IF YOU went to bed poor and woke up to find yourself possessed of a million dollars, what would you do? With ruthless satire and keen humor Peter B. Kyne vividly portrays the exciting adventures of Elmer Clarke with his suddenly acquired million; how he had to side-step, duck and run to escape the "gold diggers."

Fiction of Dash and Thrill—New Serial for the Courier starting next week.

CENTRAL LAKE

George Gibbard's snow plow was out again last week.

Mrs. Louise Lashbrook has taken advantage of her vacation to visit her daughters at Flint and Howell.

Mrs. Fred Ford is convalescing after a serious attack of heart trouble. Dr. Duffie has been in attendance.

Former Postmistress Mildred Small has been visiting friends and relatives here this week. She had not been home for two years.

William Powers and wife have been at the bedside of their daughter, Marian, who has been very ill of pneumonia. She is a teacher in the Muskegon schools.

Second Lieut. Winfield Scott Sisson, was home on a short furlough last week, returning Friday. He is stationed at a town in Indiana. He graduated last spring from West Point Military Academy.

Rev. J. C. Kendall's daughters, Leah and Bernice, arrived Friday evening from Battle Creek and Hammond, Ind., respectively, and have been visiting the past week at the Kendall home. The former teaches school, and the latter is attending Taylor university.

Mrs. Vera Carpenter began school at Bay View again Monday, after a week's vacation. She still boards in town and drives to her school, as does Ivan Hill, teacher in Forest Home township near Bellaire.

The social hour was much enjoyed last week Wednesday at Barnard. Next Monday, it is planned for a social gathering at the Jolliffe home in Norwood, and the following Monday at Ellsworth.

Clifford Morse, who is finishing school at Michigan State college, Lansing, was home last week on a short vacation. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cuy Morse, went by train to Florida, where they will spend the winter.

The writer accompanied Rev. Kendall to his several appointments last Sunday and was well pleased with interest shown at the several places. A fair sized crowd was found at Atwood, although bad roads made it unfit for several to attend. Ellsworth had 64 present, and Barnard about 50.

The program given by the Kendall

Sisters at Norwood Saturday evening was one of the finest that we have ever heard given along that line of entertainment. The sacred hymns were given in fine harmony. The "Dat Watermill" and "Down in Arkansas" were given by Vivian, were very humorous and enjoyed by the audience. It is hoped the Kendall Sisters will be able to come back again in the spring.

Bay View Sunday school had an attendance of forty at their Christmas exercises a week ago Sunday. The little folks, as well as the young folks, all took part in the singing and speaking. Mr. Morse had written out their pieces for them and had intended to get to the three Sunday schools in which he is superintendent, viz., Bay View, Creswell and Musser near Mancelona, but on account of the heavy snow storm, was unable to get to only the Creswell Sunday school, which had a fine program and an attendance of 75.

Norwood Sunday school's program was splendidly rendered, the readings and songs being given without any prompting. The program given by the young people's class was especially fine. Much of the success of the program was due to Mrs. Fay Light, who, as organist, trained the young folks in the singing and in the pageant. No small credit is due the superintendent of the Sunday school, Jake Ypma, who looked after all the rehearsing. The summer friends of Chicago, who gave presents to members of the school, are extended many thanks. Miss Pierce's music was especially fine.

ROCK ELM

A happy and prosperous New Year to all.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitfield and Mrs. Metz spent Christmas at the L. Jensen home.

Up to the present time people have been able to drive their cars out to the main roads, but it looks like we might be snowed in soon.

The school bus came out Christmas and took the children to East Jordan to enjoy a free moving picture show, which they greatly enjoyed.

Funeral services were held Tuesday for Mrs. Umor, who died Saturday of pneumonia. She leaves to mourn their loss a husband and nine children, the youngest being six weeks old twin babies. The bereaved family have the sympathy of the entire community.

BURGESS

Mr. and Mrs. Hair visited Mr. and Mrs. May Sunday afternoon.

The eighth grade have almost completed their arithmetic note books.

Mrs. Shantz and Sam Shantz were visiting out of town during Christmas.

Mrs. Novotny makes the trips to and from school on the Charlevoix-Petoskey bus.

School began again after one week of Christmas vacation. A number of new sleds appeared at the school.

We had the following visitors Monday: Opal and Ruby Gregory, and Ruth O'Dell. We expect a number of visitors as our school started a week earlier than the majority of schools.

AUTO NEWS

When the doors open next Saturday on the 31st national automobile show at Grand Central Palace, New York, the Chevrolet Motor company will occupy the position of honor on the show floor for the fourth consecutive year.

Each year the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce awards first place at the national automobile shows to that member company doing the largest volume of business during the previous twelve months.

The award is one much coveted within the industry, for in addition to the distinction it conveys it also carries with it the right to first choice of exhibition space at the national automobile shows at New York and Chicago.

Back in the days of the four cylinder Chevrolet this honor first fell to the company. Since that time the margin between the leader and the runner-up has measurably widened, even since the change-over from a four to a six.

FARM NOTES

The surest and cheapest method of improving the dairy herd is by reproduction of only the best grades, that is, only the good cows should be bred, while the poor producers should be sent to market. The low producers not only cause a depreciation in the herd when they are bred, but they lose money for their owners during the entire time they are in the herd.

Old or poor cows should be replaced with heifers bred from the best cows in the herd, using a pure-bred bull from a high producing dam. In this way a poor or average herd can be turned into a valuable one within a very few years. Only one generation of good breeding makes an immense amount of difference.

With proper supplements, heifers do just as well on skim milk as on whole milk, after two or three weeks of age, and they can be raised successfully even without milk of any kind. The old standard feeds for calves are ground corn, ground oats, wheat bran, and linseed meal. Calves should be given all the good hay they will eat, preferably alfalfa or clover, after the second week. They may be fed small amounts of silage after two months of age, if carefully watched. All changes in feeding should be made slowly, taking ten days to change from whole milk to skim milk, at about three weeks of age.

The best ration to feed with skim milk, or without milk, is 200 pounds ground corn, hominy, or barley; 200 pounds ground oats, 200 pounds wheat bran, and 100 pounds linseed meal. If no milk is to be fed, whole milk should be fed for the first four weeks, when it should be cut down gradually until it is dropped altogether at six weeks. Success depends on replacing the protein which is lost from the ratio when the milk is dropped. This can be done satisfactorily by feeding a calf meal or gruel, with the above grain ration, composed of 100 pounds hominy meal, 100 pounds Red Dog flour, 100 pounds soluble blood flour, and 100 pounds linseed meal.

Card of Thanks

I wish to express our sincere thanks for the many kindnesses shown us during the illness and at the death of our mother and sister, and especially for the beautiful flowers from the Eastern Star and Maccabee lodges, and from other friends. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pearl and Helen, Mr. and Mrs. Judson Markham, Oscar Mason and other relatives.—Adv. 5311.

Charlevoix Township Tax Payers

I will be at the Charlevoix State Savings bank on Saturday, December 27, and also Thursday, January 8th, for the collection of taxes for Charlevoix township. Mrs. Anna Stroud, Treasurer of Charlevoix township.—Adv. 5212.

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale

Notice is hereby given that default has occurred in the conditions of that certain mortgage, dated the 3rd day of February, 1925, executed by Oscar C. Kraft and Verah F. Kraft, as his wife and in her own right, as mortgagors, to The Federal Land Bank of Saint Paul, a body corporate, of the City of St. Paul, County of Ramsey, State of Minnesota, as mortgagee, filed for record in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for Charlevoix county, Michigan, on the 7th day of February, A. D. 1925, at 3:20 o'clock p. m., recorded in Liber 62 of Mortgages on page 324 thereof, in that the taxes were not paid by the mortgagors and were permitted to become delinquent; that on the failure of said mortgagors to pay such taxes, The Federal Land Bank of Saint Paul did elect to pay the sum of sixteen and 98-100 dollars ($16.98); and further that the taxes were not paid by the mortgagors and were permitted to become delinquent; that on the failure of said mortgagors to pay such taxes, The Federal Land Bank of Saint Paul did elect to pay the same, and on October 30, 1930, paid the sum of Three Hundred Twenty-three and 49-100 dollars ($323.49) as taxes for the years 1927, 1928 and 1929, that pursuant to the provisions of said mortgage, said mortgagee has elected to declare the whole debt secured thereby to be now due and payable; and there is due and payable at the date of this notice upon the debt secured by said mortgage, the sum of

One Thousand Twenty-four and 42-100 dollars ($1,024.42); and that no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover said debt or any part thereof, that, by virtue of a power of sale therein contained, said mortgage will be foreclosed and the land and premises therein described lying and being in the county of Charlevoix and state of Michigan, as follows, to-wit:

The South Half of the Northeast Quarter (S½NE¼) of Section Twenty-five (25) in Township Thirty-three (33) North, of Range Nine (9) West, except right of way as heretofore granted of record to the County of Charlevoix, containing Eighty (80) acres, more or less.

The highest bidder for cash by the Sheriff of Charlevoix county, at the front door of the court house, in the city of Charlevoix, in said county and state, on Tuesday, February 24, 1931, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon, to pay and satisfy the debt secured by said mortgage and the costs and disbursements allowed by law upon said foreclosure sale.

Dated this 22nd day of November, 1930.

FARMER, WHO STOLE FOR FAMILY, FREED

Judge Gilbert Puts Kalkaska Man on Probation

Russell Clark, young Kalkaska county farmer who stole groceries for his destitute family, is back with his wife and four children.

Coming before Judge Gilbert in a brief special session of circuit court, Clark was placed on probation for one year. He broke into the Gleaners' warehouse at Fife lake, across the county line from his farm, two weeks ago. Most of the groceries that he took were found in an abandoned house the next morning, but state police found part of them hidden in his home three days later and his arrest followed.

Our skid chains prevent your car from skidding. All kinds and sizes—we put them on. Benj. Brown.—Adv. 5312.

NEW YEAR BRINGS NO CO. OFFICE CHANGES

Same Officials Will Be on Duty at Court House Thursday

One thing we may be sure of is that when officers in the court house open for business Thursday morning after New Years, we will be greeted by the same efficient corps of officers as in the past two years.

While in many other counties throughout the state newly elected officials will be getting acquainted with their duties, here there will be no change. The fall's primary and general elections returned each and every one to office, where they will remain for another two years, at least.

Announcement
I have rented the Johnston Shop on Mason street for the winter and will do general repairing; gum, hammer and file saws; repair tires; and do custom sawing. A. C. Hanson.—Adv. 5311.

METHODIST NOTES
The pastor will conduct morning worship at 10:30 and administer the Sacrament of Our Lord's Supper. Church school begins a new series of lessons on Sunday at noon. Come and begin with us.

Epworth League meets at 6:00 p. m. and the topic is "Who Is a Great Man?"

No evening service until the fourth Sunday at 5:00 p. m. at vesper hour.

Mrs. Gornell will be hostess to the Missionary society on Wednesday next at 2:30.

The Ladies' Aid meets Tuesday at 2:30.

Shall the Men's club function this year? Well, the only way to find out is to meet once and talk it out. So let us meet on Monday next at 6:15 and voice our wishes. Dr. Dean will be present and address the meeting.

SUPERVISORS IN SESSION HERE ON MONDAY
Charlevoix county supervisors convene at the court house Monday for their annual January session. Business matters uncompleted at the October session will be taken up at this time.

Battery run down and car won't start? Bring your battery troubles to us. Brown's Battery Shop.—Adv. 5312.

ture, but vetoed by Gov. Green, will make its regular appearance and may meet with more favorable action if it reaches Brucker. The new governor has stressed law enforcement as one of his chief planks and is said not to be so bitter toward the death penalty as Green.

Also in the theme of crime prevention will be the report of the crime commission, which was created by the 1929 legislature and which has been making a thorough study of conditions in the state for a year and a half. No intimation has been given out as to what the commission's report will contain, but probably there will be many suggestions by which much of the technicality in present laws which delays speedy justice can be removed.

Although the voters at the November election wrote a large "no" on a proposal to reapportion the state for the purpose of electing members to the state legislature, the City of Detroit has not given up the idea. Recently the members of the city council met with the Wayne county delegation in the house and senate to formulate plans for a renewal of the fight in the senate, but no word as to the details of their plan.

Aside from the malt tax there appears no important prohibition issue to be submitted to the 1931 session. Two years ago the objectionable "life for a pint" proviso of the criminal code was eliminated to the joy of the "moists," but at the same time the penalty for commercial violations were imposed. There has been evinced by the legislators so far no strong intent to change the laws as they now stand.

There is, of course, much probability that there will be some proposal to repeal the state's entire dry legislation, or an attempt to place the question before the voters at a referendum. Even the most ardent wets, however, despair of accomplishing the former, but there might be some possibility of the latter.

Regulation of husses and trucks on highways — with regard to their length, width and weight — will undoubtedly be another issue. Commercial interests have already signified their intention of attempting to increase all of these specifications and the highway department officials have said they will oppose any such moves.

SANATORIUM GROUP MEET AT GRAYLING

Backers of Tuberculosis Hospital Begin Campaign December 30

The Northern Michigan Sanatorium association, organized to back the movement for establishment of a state tuberculosis sanatorium to serve Northern Michigan, met at Grayling December 30 to plan for presentation of the sanatorium measure before the 1931 legislature.

The meeting was called by J. C. Melin, Pellston, chairman of the Sanatorium association, and Ray McKinley, Gaylord, secretary.

Delegates from the 24 counties who in cooperation with the Michigan Tuberculosis association organized the Sanatorium association on August 27, 1930, attended the meeting. The association expected to draw up a suggested bill and a program for its introduction to the legislature.

The movement to obtain the sanatorium is based on the fact that an estimated 2,000 active cases of tuberculosis are living in the northern part of the state, that present sanatorium accommodations are inadequate, and that the distance to the present state sanatorium is unreasonably great making travel costly and dangerous to the health of the patient.

The public is cordially invited to attend all services.

"Christian Science" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, December 28.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you." (John 14:26).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Science is an emanation of divine Mind, and is alone able to interpret God aright. It has a spiritual, and not a material origin. It is a divine utterance — the Comforter which leadeth into all truth." (p. 127).

MICHIGAN TO GET TWO AND HALF MILLION ROAD MONEY

Press reports say that Governor Green was informed by President Hoover last week that Congress had made available $2,500,000 for highway work in Michigan, the funds to be spent on a winter highway program to relieve unemployment. A bill providing for the advance release of the federal road funds was introduced by Sen. James Couzens. The two and a half million dollars is Michigan's share of a total of $80,000,000 recommended for the purpose by President Hoover.

"Shadow of the Law," William Powell's Newest Hit, Great Punch Drama

If you were caught in the toils of the law, were hauled before a judge, tried for a crime you didn't commit, convicted of murder, and sentenced to prison for life, you would know the real thrilling drama of William Powell's newest starring picture, "Shadow of the Law," which will show at the Palace theatre for two days, starting next Saturday.

But the drama of this story only begins with prison. The most breath-taking action begins with Powell's escape from the penitentiary; his fight to prove his innocence; a seemingly hopeless search for the woman in whose hands lies the proof of his story; his love-affair with a daughter of wealth, and his final happiness.

William Powell has never had such a powerful and thoroughly sympathetic character to portray on the screen. The young engineer of this story is a believable character caught in a net of circumstance which might happen to any one.

A great cast supports Powell. Natalie Moorhead, the blond beauty seen opposite the star in "The Benson Murder Case," is one of the two women who bring powerful forces to play in his life. Marion Shilling, young, beautiful American stage actress, is the other. Regis Toomey is in the cast, and a group of well-known and effective character actors add vitality to the story.

SUPERVISORS REFUSE FAIR REQUEST

APPROPRIATION TABLED FOR FURTHER REFERENCE

Bonds of County Officers Approved and Other Business Completed at January Session

Charlevoix county board of supervisors convened Monday for their annual January session, put in the entire day with business on hand and adjourned at about 7:30 until June.

Bonds of all county officers were scrutinized and approved.

A committee was appointed and instructed to forward a resolution to all state legislators showing that the Charlevoix county board of supervisors had gone on record to do all in their power to procure legislative action which would compel the Michigan Department of Conservation to pay the same rate of taxation to townships, cities and villages on property held by the department as other lands are taxed.

In recent years the Michigan Department of Conservation has purchased large tracts for parks, refuges, etc., and in addition other large acreages have been returned to the state for taxes. The result has been that each county has lost much taxable property, thus placing a heavier burden on the balance. Relief from this situation is being sought.

The board accepted a proposition from the six county banks used as depositories, by which they will pay two per cent interest on the county checking account and 1-1/2 per cent on savings. Last year the rate was three per cent on savings. The vote on passage was 13 to 7, with two not voting and three absent. The county pays 5 per cent interest on its bonds and will receive 2-1/2 per cent interest on sinking fund deposits designed to retire same. Approximately $130,000.00 is carried in the sinking fund. It appears the county could afford to retire as many bonds as possible at a slight loss and still be ahead of the game.

As the final business brought before the board, Supervisor Lewis of East Jordan, offered a motion that the matter of an appropriation of $2,000 to the Charlevoix County Agricultural society be taken from the ways and means committee and brought to a vote. Supervisor Barnett seconded the motion.

There followed considerable discussion on the topic. Archie Murphy, prominent Cranger, was called upon to expound the views of Charlevoix county Granges. He told of various accusations he had heard against the Society, but offered no definite proof substantiating any of them as far as we are able to learn. When all had had their say, Supervisor Pearson offered another resolution that the matter be tabled for future reference. He was seconded by Supervisor Newville of Inyette City. The motion was brought to a vote and carried 13 to 9.

We find that those voting to table the appropriation were Supervisors Pearson, Wood, Gardner, Sanderson, Stephens, Magee, VanDusen, Reidel, McNeal, Hooper, Newville, Schaub and Craig. Voting nayes were Supervisors Smith, Meggison, Colden, Murphy, Partridge, Alcock, Barnett, Bashaw and Lewis. Three were absent.

By their action Monday, we believe those supervisors who voted in favor of tabling the fair appropriation, which is plainly a polite way of turning it down, failed to acknowledge a moral duty they owe the taxpayers of the county. Depending upon aid given them by the supervisors in former years, the fair association went ahead with the 1930 fair and contracted debts they are unable to pay. When those Granges, farmers, school pupils, club members and individuals who won awards at the fair want to know where their money is coming from, they might ask the supervisors who voted against the appropriation.

We might enumerate other appropriations less worthy, yet this one was turned down. It doesn't look right. Suppose, for instance, someone become curious enough to investigate how other appropriations are expended and the good that comes from them. It would probably invite an embarrassing situation.

What future action the fair association will take we are unable to state at this time. It is understood, however, that a meeting will be called soon to discuss ways and means

TELEPHONE COMPANY TO SPEND MILLIONS

Program for 1931 Calls for Many Construction Projects

The Michigan Bell Telephone company has planned for 1931 an expenditure of approximately $22,000,000 for new construction, Burch Foraker, president of the company, stated.

This work has been engineered on the basis that business and industrial conditions will improve as the year 1931 advances.

The contemplated expenditure will be made from new capital, entirely for new plant and equipment, Mr. Foraker said, and he expects the program will be followed unless conditions unforeseen arise.

In addition to the construction expenditures for new telephone plant planned for 1931, there will be spent approximately $22,689,000 for maintenance and operation of the company's service in Michigan, making total expected expenditures of approximately $44,689,000.

The telephone program engineered for the year includes the completion of new buildings at various points, construction of additional long distance lines and cable, and installation of considerable dial central office apparatus and other exchange equipment.

LIST RULES GOVERNING SKATING

INCREASED USE OF RINK REQUIRES REGULATIONS

Hours for Minor Children Are Adopted, Also Rules Governing Conduct of Skaters Using Pond

Due to the ever-increasing popularity of the municipal skating rink at the school grounds, and also because of the large number of enthusiasts using the rink, it has been necessary for the board of education to adopt certain rules governing use of the pond.

During soft weather and until the rink surface has frozen hard following icing, red flags will be placed on the rink to denote that skating will not be allowed. Everyone is asked to observe these signals.

Sunday skating hours are from 1:00 to 6:00 and 7:00 to 10:00 p. m. Other rules are as follows:

- Profane language will not be tolerated, either on the rink, or in the shelter house.

The use of tobacco by minors is strictly forbidden.

Skating on the rink shall be in a circular motion to the left. The center and extreme corners of the rink shall be used by fancy skaters or beginners.

When the rink is crowded, it is expected that all skaters will conduct themselves in a manner that will not hinder the enjoyment of others. This refers to fast skating, cracking the whip, playing tag and other such games.

- School students below the ninth grade shall vacate the rink at 9:00 o'clock each evening, unless accompanied by their parents. Others will be permitted to skate until 10:00 p. m.

- Persons without skates shall not be permitted on the rink.

Habitual violation of any of the above suggestions will mean suspension from the rink for a period designated by the board of education.

While the above rules refer largely to school students, others are expected to act in accordance. Cooperation will make the rink the outstanding recreational center in Charlevoix.

MRS. PEARL JOHNSON FETED ON BIRTHDAY

Friends and Relatives Arrange Delightful Surprise Party

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Johnson, Green street, was the scene of a pleasant party Saturday, January 3. A large group of friends and relatives called that evening to help Mrs. Johnson celebrate her birthday.

Cards and dancing were enjoyed until a late hour, following which a pot-luck luncheon was served. A large birthday cake was a prominent feature. Before departing, the guests left Mrs. Johnson many fine gifts as remembrances of the occasion.

SEEK CHANGES IN STATE FISH LAWS

LOCAL ANGLERS PETITION CONSERVATION DEPARTMENT

Want Inland Lake Status Removed from Round Lake and Lake Charlevoix—Change License Ruling

A petition, signed by a large number of sportsmen from Charlevoix and vicinity, was forwarded this week to district legislators at Lansing, and to the department of conservation.

Action is sought to change rulings governing fishing in Lake Charlevoix and Round lake. These bodies of water, connected with Lake Michigan, both navigable to lake steamers and under federal jurisdiction, nevertheless are listed as inland lakes insofar as game laws are concerned.

While a limit is placed on perch taken from inland lakes, there is no limit on the number which may be taken from Round lake and Lake Charlevoix, yet Lake Charlevoix is listed as a "pike lake" along with other inland lakes of the state. Furthermore, the same rules governing spearing are in force on both, and during the month of April they are closed to all fishing except pike.

Pike are found in the two lakes only in limited numbers, with the exception, possibly, of South Arm. There is, however, excellent mackinaw trout fishing during the month of April when the lake is closed, and this sport has been highly advertised as a tourist attraction. It is the contention of local sportsmen that mackinaw trout are migratory, coming and going from Lake Michigan.

By closing the lake to fishing in April, it deprives anglers of an opportunity to enjoy mackinaw fishing when it is at its best. As the law now stands, spearing mackinaw and whitefish is banned in Round lake and Lake Charlevoix. Some want it changed, while others are divided in opinion. It would make little difference in the fish supply, however, for the number taken from these lakes by spear is negligible.

A change is also sought in the law which compels line fishermen to procure a $10 commercial license if they desire to sell their catch. At Charlevoix, this law imposes a hardship on other localities do not experience. There is no limit on the number of perch, mackinaw trout and whitefish which may be taken by hook and line, yet the angler must pay a $10 license to sell his fish. He is put in the same class as the commercial fisherman whose lifts sometimes run into tons.

Before this law went into effect, many local men, unemployed during the winter months, were able to make their spending money and in some cases even more, by fishing through the ice. However, even at the best, their revenue was never large enough so they could afford to deduct $10 for a license, and still come out ahead of the game. In view of these facts, and with a belief that the present law is discriminatory, local sportsmen are seeking a change.

I will be a candidate for nomination to the office of Commissioner of Schools at the primary election March 2, and will appreciate any assistance given me. Archie C. Belding.—Adv. 111 pd.

CHARLEVOIX WINS FOURTH VICTORY

BURIED GAYLORD HIGH 41 TO 13 HERE TUESDAY NIGHT

Oscego County Tossers No Match for Fast Local Outfit—Reserves Lost Prelim to Alanson

Charlevoix high school basketball opened their schedule of Tip of Michigan class C conference games on the local court Tuesday evening with a 41 to 13 victory over Gaylord high school. It was the fourth consecutive win for Charlevoix. They had previously won from Traverse City and two from Petoskey, all non-conference tilts.

Playing before a packed house, Kipke's tossers just simply ran rough-shod over Gaylord. Capt. Novak, McCall and Anee sank them from all angles in the first period to run up a 15 to 7 lead. Gaylord seldom even had possession of the ball after they took the first tip-off through for a goal for their lone marker of the period.

Before the second quarter had been under way long, Coach Kipke removed McCall, Smith and McSaub from the line-up and sent in Davenport, Arvilla and Chew as substitutes. While this combination failed to show the speed of the original line-up they were able to more than hold Gaylord even. The count at the half stood 23 to 5, and at the three-quarter mark 27 to 7. During the two periods, Charlevoix held Gaylord to a pair of goals and one free throw.

The final stanza saw Charlevoix off on another rampage. Kipke started the period with his regular line-up, and the way Novak and Anee rained in goals was pretty to watch. During this period Gaylord came through with a trio of baskets to even things up a little and make the contest more interesting.

Novak was high point man for Charlevoix with 24. Anee made 12 and McCall 5. Scoring for Gaylord was evenly divided. Coach Brotherton of Boyne City, refereed the contest.

Alanson's heavy regulars proved too much for Charlevoix's reserves in the preliminary, and the Emmet aggregation went home with a 17 to 7 victory. They led all the way. Hugh Mayne refereed the game.

BELLANT ARRAIGNED HERE LAST WEDNESDAY

Waived Examination, Bound Over to Court Under $2,000 Bond

Ellsworth Bellant, 22, of Petoskey, who is charged with shooting Ed. Latham, dance hall manager, Sunday morning at Boyne City, gave himself up to Sheriff Dave Vaughan at Petoskey at noon last Wednesday.

He waived examination when arraigned before Justice Robert Withers that afternoon and was bound over to circuit court charged with felonious assault. Bond of $2,000 was furnished by friends.

Bellant was nonecommittal concerning his whereabouts since Sunday. A statewide search had been in progress to apprehend him.

William Allgire of Ellsworth, Latham's partner in the management of the dance hall, was arrested on a charge of violating the prohibition law. He waived examination at a hearing Friday before Justice Robert Withers, and was bound over to circuit court under $500 bond.

NORTH SANITORIUM ASSOCIATION MEET

Committee Appointed to Meet in Lansing Jan. 27 to Draft Bill

The Northern Michigan Sanatorium Association, of which J. C. McLain, of Pellston, chairman of the Emmet county board of supervisors, is president, met in Grayling, last Tuesday. A committee of 13 men from the northern Michigan counties was chosen to meet in Lansing on January 27 to draft a bill and find the proper representative to sponsor it before the Michigan legislature.

The association is backing a movement to establish a tuberculosis sanatorium somewhere in northern Michigan to serve this part of the state. Ray McKinley of Gaylord is secretary of the association.

The association was formed in August of this year by delegates from 24 northern counties working in conjunction with the Michigan Tuberculosis association.

The movement to obtain the sanatorium is based on an estimate of 2,000 active cases of tuberculosis in the northern part of the state. Present sanatorium accommodations are inadequate and the distance to the present state sanatorium is unreasonably great, making travel costly and dangerous to the health of the patient, it is contended.

TOURIST TRADE IS GIVEN IN FIGURES

SUMMER INFLUX RESULTS BIG POPULATION INCREASE

Twenty-five Thousand People Are Employed to Care for Wants of Tourists—Boost Gas Tax Funds

The statisticians are at it again, this time they have Michigan's tourist and resort industry under the slide rule and tacked out on chart paper, according to Hugh J. Gray, secretary of the Michigan Tourist and Resort association, Grand Rapids.

Figuratively speaking, and before the gentleman had become too deeply absorbed in the volume of this industry, the following facts were released.

Population Boosted

Michigan, with a population of about five million enjoys a five per cent boost in the number of people within her borders during the tourist and resort season, some will think this figure conservative.

However, even five per cent when analyzed as only a statistician can, becomes interesting. For instance, a five per cent increase means 250,000 people spending not less than five dollars each day for this and that—close to nine million dollars weekly, and just about $100,000,000 during the entire season.

Many Jobs Created

The chief statistician next arrived at the astonishing fact that to care for this number of tourists and resorters, over and above the normal population of the state, required about 25,000 individuals engaged in service of some kind, summer-time jobs. The opinion was ventured that a majority of these jobs were done by men and women of high school and college age, many of them earning money against the next school or college term, and that such jobs netted those people a total of two million dollars during the season.

Tourist Industry Builds Roads

The total automobile mileage on Michigan roads attributed to tourist travel was 300,000,000 miles, which results in a gasoline tax of $450,000 paid into state and county highway funds. This money becomes immediately available for the maintenance, repair, construction and improvement of state and county highways.

RED AND WHITE VICTORIOUS AGAIN

WON SECOND GAME FROM PETOSKEY BY 18 TO 16 SCORE

Fast Attack in Early Periods Gave Them Good Lead—Reserves Defeated 20 to 8 in Prelim.

Led by the brilliant playing of Capt. Bill Novak, Charlevoix's varsity tossers hung up their third consecutive victory at Petoskey last Friday night. It was their second win over the Northern. The count was 18 to 16 and the margin of victory the same as in their previous encounter on the local court.

Charlevoix's reserve squad did not fare so well. In the preliminary contest, Petoskey's second-stringers evened the count with the local boys by giving them a decisive 20 to 8 trouncing.

Unlike the contest played at Charlevoix, when the battle was a nip-and-tuck affair from start to finish, Kipke's tossers piled up a commanding lead in the early periods at Petoskey. Novak, considered the best running guard in the north, led the fast-breaking early attack with four field goals. Once he dribbled the length of the court to sink a close one, and another was a pretty long shot from outside the Petoskey defense. Charlevoix led at the half-way mark 11 to 7.

During the late periods, when Petoskey's attack appeared to function the best during the contest, the Northernmen kept Novak pretty well covered, with the result that he got away for only one more goal. However, Charlevoix's tossers worked the ball to Anee, forward, who marked up a couple of goals.

Play was fast and furious throughout the contest, but even more so in the last two periods. In the final quarter, several fouls were called on the local tossers, and through free throws Petoskey came within striking distance of evening the count.

Novak led in scoring for Charlevoix with 5 goals. Anee sunk two goals and a pair of free tosses and McCall made two free ones.

Johnson, forward, was best for the Northernmen with three goals. Neihardt had a goal and two free tosses, Hankey a goal and free one, R. Porter two free ones and C. Porter a gift shot.

LOCAL HEALTH UNIT MET AT CHARLEVOIX

2100 Children Examined and 1000 Needed Medical Attention

Last Wednesday afternoon a meeting of the directors of the Children's Fund of Michigan Health Unit No. 3 was held at Charlevoix with the following members present: Chairman, Chester Gibson, Petoskey; H. A. Craig, Charlevoix; W. S. Bashaw, East Jordan; Norman Wells, Petoskey; W. C. Severance, East Jordan; A. B. Fairbanks, Elk Rapids, and Ronald Schuyler, Elmira.

A resolution, which directed all contagious diseases to be reported to Dr. Dean, the district health officer at Charlevoix, instead of to Lansing, by all doctors and health officers in this territory, which includes Emmet, Otsego, Charlevoix and Antrim counties, was passed. This resolution was adopted to allow prompter action on contagious cases.

The health unit of this district has been doing mighty fine work as reports of the medical staff, composed of Ethel Johnston, Grace Congdon, W. C. Quinland, D. D. S., and Dr. Carlton Dean, M. D., showed 2100 children have been examined and over 1000 were found ailing, who have or are receiving attention.

Two new members were nominated to the board, Carl Spitzler, educator, and Dr. R. B. Armstrong, physician.

ROADS IN GOOD SHAPE

Motorized over to Petoskey along with the rest of the fans last Friday evening for the basketball game, and couldn't help but notice the excellent condition of roads.

Need chains to get up the alley and into the garage, but out on the trunk line they are more of a nuisance than anything else. The highway was practically bare from here to our neighboring city. The same condition is true of trunk lines south and of county highways also.

We might also speak a good word for our city streets white on the subject. With the exception of alleys where it's impossible for the big truck to go, they are in excellent condition, and if last winter's example is any criterion, they will continue to be throughout the winter.

A GOOD INVESTMENT

When a person passes by the skating rink at the school grounds and sees a happy throng of children enjoying themselves far away from the ever-lurking dangers of the lakes, they cannot help but think to themselves, "there's some of my tax money spent for a good purpose."

And it's true, too. The average parent is reluctant to allow their children to skate on the lakes, even in late winter when ice reaches a safe thickness. There is always that element of danger. To them it is a great relief to know that the kiddies have a safe place to play. The small portion of each taxpayer's dollar which goes for maintenance of the rink is a mighty cheap investment.

All Republicans believe in a protective tariff and we also believe a manufacturer who pays taxes in Michigan should be protected from manufacturers in other states as well as from goods manufactured in Europe, at least to the extent of giving the home manufacturer the preference in every instance.

Martin DeGlopper will assume the position of business manager of the highway department with Lucille Fisher as his secretary. O. F. Beemer of Grand Rapids will be deputy state treasurer. We do not see how anyone could have selected persons better fitted for these offices.

King Carol of Romania has decreed a 22 per cent reduction in the Royal family allowance. Not to be outdone by any foreigner, Ye Editor decreed a reduction of 25 per cent for his Royal family (but the decree did not stand). Wonder why?

You can recognize the typical American anywhere. He is asking somebody for a match.

SPEED WILL REIGN ALL FARMERS WEEK

Program Includes Meetings, Banquets, Shows, Contest and Talks

Plans for farmers week at Michigan State college, February 2 to 6, have progressed to the point where the committee in charge make the prophecy that visitors will need to get a program in advance and to make out a time schedule if they are not to miss any of the interesting features.

Association meetings, department programs, contests, shows, feature events, and talks by prominent men and women follow each other so rapidly that in many cases several of the attractions are simultaneous rather than successive. The plan of holding sectional meetings for farmers organizations in the morning, the general program in the afternoon and evening, and the entertainment features and banquets in the evening is continued this year.

Dairy farmers will have their inning on Monday, February 2, when most of the dairy organizations hold meetings throughout the day and close with a banquet at night. There are five associations of dairymen in the state. All of the dairy cattle breeds are represented and the latest entrant to the list is the group who are interested in the milking goat industry.

Beef cattle men and the farmers who pin their faith on draft horses will hold group meetings Tuesday, sheep and hog breeders meet Wednesday, and the shows and contests appear on the program on Thursday and Friday.

Watch for announcement of the Mother and Daughter banquet to be served by South Side Circle at the Congregational church.—Adv. 111.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING LAST FRIDAY

Miss Inez Peters and August Johncheck United in Marriage

A very pretty home wedding was solemnized Friday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Peters, when their daughter, Miss Irene, was united in marriage to August Johncheck of Horton Bay.

Rev. A. T. Harris of Ellsworth, performed the ceremony. Miss Inez Johncheck and Howard Peters attended the bridal couple.

Following a wedding dinner, the couple left for their farm residence near Horton Bay, where they are now at home to their many friends.

INTERESTING MEETING IS ANNOUNCED

Shakespeare Study Club Treat for Public Monday Evening

The Shakespeare Study club will hold an open meeting at the school house Monday evening, January 12, at 7:45 o'clock.

This should be a meeting of unusual interest to Charlevoix, as Brayton Saltonstall will present the subject, "The Jesuits in Michigan," reading from the diary of the first white man to enter Charlevoix harbor.

The public is invited.

SEE WHAT NEW KONJOLA DID!

Eighteen Months Ago Lansing Lady Was Freed of Ailments by Modern Medicine

MRS. ARTHUR H. LONGHURST

"It has been eighteen months since I quit taking Konjola but I am ever in need of a medicine I shall take it again," said Mrs. Arthur H. Longhurst, 1014 Sparrow avenue, Lansing. "Stomach trouble had me in a badly weakened condition. I had indigestion pains, heart palpitations and a dull aching pain across my back. I did not sleep well and felt miserable all the time."

"Konjola proved to be the right medicine for me, there can be no uncertainty about that. It restored me to health and that is why I am eager to endorse it. I wish others to know of my experience and I hope they will give this fine medicine a trial."

Konjola is that kind of a medicine. It is recommended over a six to eight week period for ailments of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and rheumatism, neuritis, and nervousness. Try Konjola today. Konjola is sold in Charlevoix, Michigan, at F. J. Fessenden's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

EXTENDING POWER LINE TO IRONTON

Michigan Public Service Has Crew Working on Project

The Michigan Public Service Co. have a crew of men at work installing a 6900 volt transmission line from East Jordan to Ironton.

The new line is about a ten-mile extension. It runs along the west side of the South Arm of Lake Charlevoix from East Jordan to Ironton, crosses the channel at the latter place and runs about a mile on the east side.

This new line will serve a large number of rural and resort residences in this territory.

There are between 50 and 60 men engaged in this work, consisting largely of four trucks and crews. It is estimated the work will take from two to four weeks for completion.

The farmer who buys his alfalfa or red clover seed can tell whether it is domestic or imported, since the Federal seed act requires the coloring of all imported seed. Ten per cent red coloring (orange red for Argentine alfalfa seed) indicates general unadaptability to conditions in the United States. All other alfalfa and red clover seed is colored one per cent green with the exception of Canadian seed which is colored one per cent violet.

CHAPTER I

Mr. Absalom McPeake's secretary came into her employer's office with an unpleasant announcement. Mr. Hiram Butterworth was waiting in the outer office and desiring of seeing him.

"Keep him waiting half an hour," the lawyer answered. "I haven't finished reading the morning paper and a half-hour wait will have a good psychological effect on that old razor-back. It will add to my importance and diminish his."

McPeake finished reading the paper and lighted a cigar; when the cigar was consumed, he opened the door leading to the general office and bowed Hiram Butterworth in with a cheery good morning and a polite inquiry as to the state of the Butterworth health.

"I'm done for," his visitor replied agitatedly and sank heavily into the overstuffed armchair which Absalom McPeake reserved for his clients. "Yes, McPeake, done for!"

"I wouldn't say that, Mr. Butterworth," McPeake soothed him. "You are always pessimistic. Try being optimistic for a change."

Hiram Butterworth flared in sudden impatient. "Why wouldn't you say it?" he growled, and answered the question himself. "Because you don't know anything about it, that's why. And I do. I ought to. I've paid out enough good cash money to find out. I've been to six specialists in six cities and have received six identical verdicts. I'm done for, I tell you, and don't you try to tell me I'm not. I guess I know when I'm done for. Cost me enough to find out."

He shuffled his feet, and McPeake, glancing down, observed that Butterworth's shoes were old, cheap and worn. And the thin, threadbare suit, cheap and ready-made, old and demoded, coupled with the saw-edged collar and the plain black "ready-to-wear" necktie, still further heightened the atmosphere of misery and neglect which this old man radiated.

McPeake replied without irritation: "I'm very sorry to hear this disturbing report, Mr. Butterworth. What did the doctors say was the matter with you?"

"Hardening of the arteries and heart disease," the old man barked. "Three years ago I found myself getting a pain in my chest, so I called on Doc Reiter to cure it. Reiter told me what was what and six others have since confirmed his diagnosis." He bowed into McPeake with his gleaming eyes. "I'm liable to die at any moment," he said then in a low, sad voice, "so I've come to see my house in order."

McPeake frowned but kept his temper. "You will recall—pardon me for reminding you—that for twenty years I have been urging you to make a will, Mr. Butterworth."

"That's right, that's right," the miser complained. "You're one of those I-told-you-so fellows. For two cents I'd have another lawyer draw up my will."

"That would please me greatly," Absalom McPeake replied serenely. "For less than that I'd decline to draw your will."

His peevish client subsided instantly. "Tut, tut, Absalom. You're too quick on the trigger. You know mighty well it's too late for me to quarrel with my lawyer now, and besides you know more about my affairs than anybody else."

The lawyer glared at him for a half-minute, then drew a pad of legal-size yellow scratch paper toward him and prepared to place Hiram Butterworth's house in order.

"To whom do you wish to bequeath your estate?" he queried.

Butterworth pursed his lips. "Well, Absalom, I've only got one blood relation."

"And that is?"

"My sister Hattie's two girls."

"And that is?"

"My sister Hattie's two girls."

"To Whom Do You Wish to Bequeath Your Estate?" He Queried.

"I've only got one blood relation."

"And that is?"

"My sister Hattie's two girls."

and two boys. Hattie's husband left them mighty well fixed, but they would beg-wild once they got control of the money—d-d extravagant wasters. Let 'em work for a living now, like I did. 'Tatch me leavin' 'em anything, I'd die first."

"According to the doctors' verdicts you probably will. What inclines you toward Elmer Clarke?"

"Well, in the first place I thought more of his mother than any other member of my family. She never bothered me with her troubles. Why, her husband was dead two years before I heard of it. She never asked me for a dollar and I never gave her a dollar. I don't suppose we'd written in each other for twenty years before Mabel died, on account of me not thinking much of her husband. Good enough cuss, but no git-up-an'-go to him."

"The old wretch chuckled pleasureably as he recalled his futile brother-in-law. "Never laid eyes on Elmer," he went on. "Never heard from him in my life and wouldn't know him from Adam's off ox. If I hadn't seen his photograph, Absalom, he's the dead spit of his Uncle Hiram."

He handed the lawyer a photograph. McPeake studied it a moment and gave it back. "You flatter yourself," he remarked acerbly. "That boy resembles you as much as he resembles a wart-hog. But go on."

"He resembles me when I was his age," the miser persisted. "And I know all about him. H-h-hat! You bet. Never made a move in my life until I knew just why I was making it. Yes, sir," he fumbled in his pocket and brought forth some envelopes.

Absalom McPeake opened the one his client handed him and drew out a sheet of typewritten pages. The first page was a carbon copy of a letter:

"Muscatine, Iowa,
July 16, 1924.

"Gentlemen:
"A valued customer of this bank is desirous of ascertaining in the strictest confidence the mental, physical, social, and moral status of his nephew, Elmer Butterworth Clarke, of your city. Any information you can give us as to his character, habits, occupation, the degree of application, he exhibits in his pursuit of a living, how he is regarded by his associates and any other information you may consider will enable our customer to form a vivid picture of Elmer Clarke, will be appreciated and reciprocated whenever possible. Please bill us for any expense incurred in securing the information desired."

"Thanking you in advance, we are,
"Yours very truly,
"First National Bank of Muscatine,
"By Geo. O. Davitt, Cashier."

The lawyer granted disdainfully. "Catch you spending any money for a report from a detective agency when your banker will do it for nothing," he remarked. "This letter attached is the report. I took it. Hum-m!" He read:

"Dear Sir: We have for acknowledgment your letter of the 16th inst., requesting that we furnish you with a confidential report on Mr. Elmer Butterworth Clarke of this city."

"Mr. Elmer B. Clarke is well and infinitely known to us and has been for the past fifteen years. The Great Register of Voters of this county informs us that Mr. Clarke is a Republican and that he was born October 10, 1888, in Selma, Fresno county, this state. He is the only child of the late Prof. James J. Clarke and the late Mabel Butterworth Clarke."

"Professor Clarke was a graduate of the University of California and was very eminent in the field of parasitology. His research work contributed much information of tremendous value to the fruit growers of this state. He perished of a fever contracted while in Brazil studying the life and habits of a pest known as the Brazilian fly which had succeeded in invading the territory of Hawaii. His wife died of pneumonia as a sequel to influenza contracted during the epidemic of 1918-19. She was a woman of great intelligence, probity and force of character and, like her husband, was held in the highest esteem here."

"We enclose herewith a photograph of Elmer Butterworth Clarke, which we succeeded in securing from a local photographer at a cost of $1.50, for which we would be pleased to have your remittance."

"Elmer Clarke was twelve years old when his father died. As is the case with most professors and particularly those in federal employ, Professor Clarke's salary was never commensurate with his ability. Also, he was careless in the matter of providing life insurance for his dependents, with the result that the care of his widow fell immediately upon Elmer."

"At twelve years of age, therefore, Elmer Clarke played his last game of ball and became the sole and efficient support of his mother—a burden lightened somewhat by reason of the fact that Professor Clarke had left his widow a comfortable six-room bungalow on a lot of 100 feet frontage, on C street of this city."

"Elmer Clarke graduated from the Union high school here at the age of sixteen and was No. 1 on the honor list of ten pupils. He immediately went to work in a local fruit cannery, where the remuneration of employees is regulated by their industry. When the canning season closed he had three hundred dollars in the saving department of this bank. The following season he bought fruit, on commission, for various packing houses and proved himself an accurate judge of fruit values and crop tonnage."

"However, finding the demands of a seasonal occupation and faced with the necessity of insuring the care of his mother, he learned telegraphy in his spare moments and secured a position as assistant station agent in the local office of the Southern Pacific railroad. He had just been promoted to station agent at the outbreak of the World war. He enlisted at once and served with the Rainbow division as a radio sergeant, until October of 1918, when he was commissioned a second lieutenant. He was wounded twice and slightly gassed."

"For the three years following his discharge from the service, Mr. Clarke's health, due to his wounds and the gassing already referred to, was too precarious to permit of his acceptance of his old position as station agent at Pilsen, Wis. He therefore accepted a position of less responsibility and heavier duties as assistant to the proprietor of a local billiard and pool hall, with a cigar stand in connection with same."

"He has gradually recovered his health, and the last time the writer spoke to him on this subject, he stated that he was now as well as he had ever been."

"Mr. Clarke is a very ambitious young man, never satisfied with what he has, always scheming for something better. He is well and very favorably known in this city. As commander of the local post of the American Legion, he is a strong force for better citizenship in our community. He is profoundly interested in politics but too shrewd and far-seeing to desire a political office."

"Mr. Clarke is unmarried and there are no immediate prospects of this status being changed. He pays cash for everything and has a savings account in this bank of approximately twenty-five hundred dollars. At the present time he is endeavoring to negotiate with a loan on his C street property, his object being to engage in business for himself. He is a member of the Rotary club, the Kiwanis club, the Hundred Per Cent club, the Optimists club, the Advertising club and president of our local chamber of commerce. He is a Go-Getter and too big for this town and it is our opinion that he will leave it for wider and greener pastures. We regard him as a model young man and worthy of every confidence."

"Respectfully yours,
Pilsen Commercial Trust and Savings Bank,
By N. C. Cuthbert, Trust Officer."

Absalom McPeake looked up and caught a gleam of pride in old Butterworth's plucky little eyes. "Pretty flattering report, I should say, Mr. Butterworth."

"He takes after me," the miserable man persisted.

"God forbid!" said Absalom McPeake.

"Don't get misty, Absalom. The boy takes after me, I tell you. A young fellow like that who knows the value of money is the man who ought to have my estate. He'll make it grow. He'll do things with it. I want to leave everything to him and cut that 'tch's children off at the pockets."

"Very well, then, Elmer Clarke draws the capital prize. However, I suggest that you leave his cousins something also."

"Not a penny," Absalom. They're wasters, I tell you."

"Well, we'll leave them five dollars each just so they'll be remembered in the will, and that will block a lawsuit."

"You bet, Absalom; I want you to make that will airtight."

"Do you desire to make any other specific bequests, Mr. Butterworth?"

"Yes, five thousand to Bunker."

"Only five thousand to old Bunker?" McPeake looked and felt surprised. "Why, he's been as faithful to you as a dog for a quarter of a century! I think you're a miserable miser to cut Bunker off with five thousand at the very best. Get some other lawyer to draw your will. I'm through handling your business. You're a wolf. Get out!"

"No, you're not through. Now, Absalom, you hold your horses. You get fresh with me and I'll name somebody else executor of my estate."

"Oh, so you want me to be your executor also, do you? Well, I don't want the job. Now, how does that strike you?"

"Absalom, you've got to accept the executorship. You're the one man I can trust."

"Well, I'll take it provided you leave Bunker ten thousand dollars."

"Very well, to please you, but not a cent more. That's final."

"We will not quarrel about it further. Any other specific bequests?"

TELEPHONE SERVICE

MAKES A NEIGHBORHOOD OF MICHIGAN

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company is constantly improving the scope, speed and accuracy of its service, that it may continue to furnish "the most telephone service, and the best, at the least cost to the public."

THROUGH slim wires, etched against the sky... through cables carrying thousands of lines... hundreds of thousands of Michigan people keep in touch with each other... talking from house to house... city to city... peninsula to peninsula... distances that require much time for ordinary travel, but over which your voice is carried to its destination in a fraction of a second.

Over his telephone, a retailer in one city keeps in touch with wholesalers in another. A housewife calls friends who live nearby. A son at school in Ann Arbor enjoys weekly telephone visits with his parents. A state legislator in Lansing transacts business by telephone with an associate in the upper peninsula. No matter what the distance, Michigan's great telephone system will carry your voice to almost anyone, anywhere, at any time you may choose.

Today, most Long Distance telephone calls are completed while you hold the line! Today, your telephone will connect you instantly with more than 800,000 other telephones in Michigan alone! Yet, telephone service is available to anyone at remarkably low cost.

CORRESPONDENCE

NORWOOD

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Yettaw of Charlevoix, enjoyed a New Year's day dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Plenny Genett.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richardson entertained a group of relatives at their home New Year's day, where a bountiful dinner and social hour were enjoyed.

Sam Alward left last Friday morning for Grand Rapids, where he expects to visit his sister, Mrs. Clarence Boomstra, and other relatives, for a couple of weeks.

Misses Bessie and Mary Baumbach and Bertha Pierce, who spent their Christmas vacation with their respective parents, returned to their school duties Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Dice and Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Beard of Petoskey, enjoyed a social visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ashdon and family of Charlevoix, Sunday evening.

The M. E. church school which is held each Friday evening in Norwood is making fine progress, both in interest and attendance. There were 42 present at the last report, but there is room for many more.

William Mayne met with an accident one day last week, when a car from Petoskey struck his car broadside as he was going to Charlevoix. The Petoskey car came down Huribut avenue. Mr. Mayne was unconscious for some time and was badly shaken, also his car was somewhat damaged. He was able to drive home and is now improving.

I. L. Dice, who was on the beach one day last week with his horse and sleigh, left his horse standing and came up rather a high bank, when he heard something digging, similar to a badger. The only weapon he had with him was an axe, so he raised it and stood in a very quiet manner while the animal dug his way out, a distance of about eight feet. To his surprise it was his neighbor's rabbit dog, which gave him a very surly growl and went toward home.

Notice! We are now contracting String Beans for the 1931 season. Call at factory office and get yours.—Adv. 113.

CENTRAL LAKE

Wallace Whitney, who formerly went to and from school, now boards in town.

Miss Nettie Petimczek of Bellaire, is teaching the Esseltine school east of town.

Miss Lucy Klooster returned Friday to her studies, at Kalamazoo Business college.

Miss Harriet Albert has resigned from the Esseltine school to attend school at Mt. Pleasant.

Ray Wilkinson transports the Torch Lake and Eastport pupils to the high school at Central Lake.

A social hour is planned for this Monday evening at the Ethan Joliffe home. Mr. Joliffe is an old member of the Atwood church.

Ora Johnson is keeping M-88 well plowed out this winter. Some of the largest drifts are just west of the Bay View school. There are no snow fences there.

Rev. J. C. Kendall now has a 1930 Nash car which makes it much more

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the Central Drug Store, the Rexall store.

convenient and comfortable to make the Ellsworth, Norwood, Barnard and Central Lake appointments.

Mrs. Fred Ford is able to walk about the house again; also Mrs. John Stevens, mother of Banker Harry Stevens, is gaining in health. Both ladies are about 84 years of age.

Wayne Childs and Ruby Young, teachers in the local high school, were married Friday. Mr. Childs teaches the seventh and eighth grades, and Miss Young the fourth and fifth grades.

There were 64 in attendance at the Congregational Sunday school last Sunday, and 63 at the Methodist Sunday school. The Methodist church begins revival meetings at the church this week Tuesday.

Miss Marian Bowers, daughter of Postmaster William Bowers, is able to be out again after a serious attack of pneumonia. She was teaching in the Muskegon schools when taken ill; and was brought home by her parents.

O. R. and J. W. Morse made a trip by auto to Petoskey Monday, O. R. on a contracting trip, and J. W. to call on Rev. Weaver. Mr. Weaver writes that he will probably not go south this winter as he is feeling better this winter than last. His daughters were both able to celebrate Christmas with their parents.

There promises to be quite a contest on for supervisors and school commissioners the coming spring election. For supervisors, the opposing candidates are Robert Watson and Moses King. Mr. Watson is present supervisor of Central Lake township. For school commissioner, the candidates are the present incumbent, J. W. Thumm, opposed by J. W. Morse.

Norwood Sunday school had an attendance of 39 last Friday evening. This is the largest ever. The enrollment now is 45. Interest in the Sunday school is increasing. Nearly all of the members of the Young People's and Junior classes have not missed a session. With the help of Mrs. George Light the Young People's class are intending to have a special song a week from Friday evening. Miss Bertha Pierce being absent at Manton last Friday evening.

should play some sacred songs on the accordion and guitar next Friday evening to compensate for her starting the New Year that way. She gave us quite a surprise Christmas night by playing selections on each of the instruments.

County Normal News

The normal class is starting in geography museum. Thus far a green orange and a cocoon have been collected.

The following week, on Wednesday, January 21, Miss Turner will lecture on "Visual Aids in Teaching Health."

The normal department wishes to express its appreciation to Mr. Powers for taking such good care of the plants during vacation.

A new year! A good clean room! Friendly and helpful associates! Opportunities, innumerable for helping others! What more could any county normal student ask for—to make life happy?

The state extension health lectures in the county normal will be continued by Dr. Davis, who will speak on "Mouth Hygiene," Wednesday, January 14. Dr. Davis will lecture at 10:15 a. m. and 2:30 p. m. will demonstrate mouth inspection of school children.

ST. JAMES, B. I.

A New Year's dance was given at the hall Thursday night.

H. R. Pischner and son Harry rowed to Garden Island Sunday, where they will cut wood.

A. Larsen went to Garden Island Sunday to visit his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Madse Jensen.

The mail plane made two trips Tuesday, there being more mail than could be handled in one trip.

Wilbur James, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Martin, died Friday, January 2, of pneumonia.

The Heaver Island Game club held a meeting at the hall on Sunday evening. New officers were elected.

The fish tug Venus, with Rowland McCann in charge, left Friday morning enroute for Manistee, where the tug will be laid up for the winter.

Friday morning the gas boat Rambler, with Capt. Rowland McDonough in charge, made a trip to Charlevoix on business, returning late in the afternoon.

As usual on New Year's Eve relatives and friends gathered at the home of Capt. C. C. Allers to watch the old year pass out and to welcome the new. This date also happened to be the second wedding anniversary of the youngest son, Leroy Allers, and the birthday of W. W. Boyle, who was one of the guests. A pleasant evening was spent and a light lunch served, after which new year greetings were exchanged and with good wishes for many happy returns of the day to Mr. Boyle, all left for their homes, hoping to all meet on New Year's Eve for many years to come.

FAIRVIEW-BANKS

Walter DeGroot of Atwood, called on the DeGroot family Thursday.

H. J. Timmer and son William, were Charlevoix callers Friday morning.

The Mitchell school resumed their studies on Monday after the holiday vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Parsons of Ellsworth, visited with H. DeGroot and family Thursday.

The young people of this vicinity were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Timmer, Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Oosterbaan visited with Mr. and Mrs. John Oosterbaan, north of Ellsworth, Wednesday afternoon.

Harm DeGroot and Herman Fielstra of Pleasant Hill-Banks, were in this locality Monday soliciting stock for the new co-operative creamery. Of course, everyone signed up.

The residence formerly owned by Barney Diepstra of Mitchell, is being torn down and hauled to John Van-Straten's farm, where it will be rebuilt for a home of Mr. and Mrs. John Oosterbaan.

Don't take chances—equip your car with good quality skid chains. We have them. Benj. Brown.—Adv. 5312.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday services 10:45 a. m. Subject, "Sacrament."

Wednesday evening at 7:45, first Wednesday of month only.

Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to attend all services.

"God" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, January 4.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "Thus saith the Lord, thy Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel: I am the Lord thy God which teacheth thee by the way that thou shouldst go." (Isa. 48:17).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The starting-point of divine Science is that God, Spirit, is All-in-all, and that there is no other might nor Mind,—that God is Love, and therefore He is divine Principle. To grasp the reality and order of being in its Science, you must begin by reckoning God as the divine Principle of all that really is." (p. 275).

AT THE MOVIES

This Community Due for a Shock When Comedy Thriller, "The Gorilla," Opens at Local Theatre

The last word in chills and merriment on the talking screen is coming to town next Saturday and Sunday in First National's pictorialization of Ralph Spence's famous mystery comedy, "The Gorilla." It will be shown at the Palace theatre, and according to those who have seen it in other cities it is the most thrilling of all the thrillers.

This is the show that held Broadway for a year. In its screen form it has been altered somewhat, according to the producers, First National Pictures, Inc. Changes were made for the double purpose of "stepping up" all of its entertainment elements to the highest degree the talking screen can show, in chills, romance and mirth, and to offer a new mystery tangle for those who have seen the stage play. So it's really a new "gorilla," with all the dramatic values of the old.

Joe Frisco, famous vaudeville headliner, and Harry Gribbon, celebrated film comedian, appear as the two farcical sleuths, Garrity and Mulligan, who hear all, and know nothing! A much finer and more thrilling love story than was offered by previous versions of "The Gorilla" on stage or screen, features Walter Pidgeon and Lila Lee.

Other favorites appear in the cast. Bryan Foy, director of "The Lights of New York," the first all-talking picture, directed this new super-sensational "Gorilla." Additional screen dialogue was written by B. Harrison Orkow.

Our skid chains prevent your car from skidding. All kinds and sizes—we put them on. Benj. Brown.—Adv. 5312.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

The regular monthly meeting of the local Union will be held next Friday at 2:30 p. m. in the community room. Mrs. Otterbein will present the topic, "What's It All About?"

The national organization asks all members to observe two special days this month, viz., the 8th and 16th.

Thursday, January 8th, is the day of prayer for temperance. "Enter into thy closet."

Friday, January 16th, is victory day, the eleventh anniversary of national Constitutional prohibition. The celebration this year will be in the Congregational church and the detailed program will be given next week.

My list of "good men I have met" is not made up entirely of those who never took a drink, used tobacco or swore.

MRS. HERBERT HULME DIED MONDAY EVENING

Succumbed Suddenly Following a Stroke of Paralysis Sunday

Charlevoix was saddened Monday by the sudden death of Mrs. Herbert Hulme, who succumbed about 8:30 that evening at her home on Clinton street. She had been in poor health some length of time and shortly after noon Sunday was stricken with a stroke of paralysis, from which she never regained consciousness.

Harriet Metcalf was born May 10, 1863, at Oxbidge, Canada. She came to Charlevoix with her parents in 1882 and on September 26, 1911, was united in marriage to Herbert Hulme in this city. Her husband preceded her in death nine years ago.

Surviving are a daughter, Lucille; also two sisters and two brothers: Miss Annie Metcalf and Mrs. Charles Arnold, Charlevoix; Frank Metcalf, Grayling, and George Metcalf, Muskegon.

Mrs. Hulme was a member of the Methodist church and several church societies, in whose interests she was an active worker.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, Rev. J. E. Lockyer of the Methodist church, officiating.

HOLIDAY VISITORS INJURED IN AUTO WRECK

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jacobs Victims of Crash Last Wednesday

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jacobs of Flint, who were guests of local relatives over the holidays, received minor injuries in an automobile accident last Wednesday afternoon.

While returning from the George Block farm on U. S. 31, they met head-on another machine driven by James McIntosh, Traverse City, near the Porter corner. Neither driver saw the other in the blinding snow storm.

Mr. Jacobs suffered a fractured wrist and Mrs. Jacobs had cuts about the face. Both cars were badly wrecked.

WORST DAMAGE DONE BY COMMON INSECTS

Attacks by Army Worms, Locusts
Small Compared to Everyday Pests

The mass attacks upon farm crops made by locusts and army worms attract a great deal of attention at the time of their occurrence but in reality the losses caused by them are small in comparison to the damage done by such unsensational insect pests as weevils, cut-worms, maggots, and the many varieties of beetles whose unrelenting appetites cause an unceasing stream of requests for help from the entomology department at Michigan State college.

Members of the department spend a great deal of their time in trips to farms about the state in answer to calls for help and to plan ways to control the damage being done. Most of the loss could be prevented if proper control measures were used before insects increase too greatly in numbers, according to C. B. Dibble, a member of the department.

To acquaint farmers with the proper methods to use to lessen the losses from insect pests, Mr. Dibble held 62 meetings which were attended by 2,001 farmers during the past year. It is possible to assist many more farmers by holding the meetings than by visiting individual farms.

The insects which cause the greatest damage have the same habits in every part of the state and it is possible to give advice to a large group of farmers at a meeting and the means suggested for insect control are equally effective upon every farm.

COMMUNICATION

George Dennis, well known Charlevoix township farmer, is interested in the dairy situation as it concerns local farmers. In his effort to learn more about conditions, he has corresponded with farmers in other localities to get their view point on the subject. We are publishing below a letter Mr. Dennis received from Del Meyer, Waukesha, Wis., concerning the dairy business in his district. The letter follows:

"I received your letter today, in regard to your problems as to the cheese industry.

"I wish to say I am in the heart of the greatest dairy section in the state, which is known as 'Cow Country of America.'

"We are not located in cheese factory districts, as our milk is sold direct to the dealers in Milwaukee who bottle it and sell direct to the consumers. I would say this is our greatest handicap, as there are no creameries or cheese factories in operation now.

"We all cater to one market for our whole milk now. The reason that all the local creameries and cheese factories are not in operation now is as follows:

"The large dairies bought the factories and creameries at a large sum of money, and after they bought them they ordered them closed, so that everyone that was shipping milk to creameries and cheese factories had to sell their milk direct to the large dairies.

"Personally, I think that opening up cheese and butter factories is the only way to solve the farmers' problem in regard to the milk situation. It is the only way by which the farmers can become more independent.

"I am shipping milk to Gridley dairy of Milwaukee. For the November milk we received $2.28 per hundred pounds of 3.5 per cent milk, less 25c per hundred for hauling. This is the way our statement reads:

"Fluid price for 3.5 per cent, $2.85 per hundred. Manufactured milk, 3.5 per cent, $1.33 per hundred. Per cent manufactured, 37.3. Average price for 3.5 per cent, $2.28. Manufactured milk is the per cent which they claim is not sold as bottled milk, which they make butter from. Then we are paid on test basis whatever the milk tests above 3.5 per cent we get .04c for every tenth point over, or if it doesn't test 3.5 per cent there is a discount of the same rate." Cheese retails out of the store between 25 and 45c per pound, depending on grade. Creamery-butter sells at 37c in jars or tubs.

"Hoping these figures may be of some use to you, and if there is anything I can help you with please let me know."

FARM NOTES

On Care of Sows
Proper care and feeding of the sow has been called the mark of a successful hog man. If the sow does not receive the proper care the pigs are not likely to, either, and as a result the hog man will be disappointed in his profits, if he has any.

Sheep men have long "flushed" their ewes just before breeding, and hog raisers have found that this is a good practice with sows, as it increases the size of the litters. After the sow is bred there are two very important factors in the ration: protein and minerals.

A mixture of 20 pounds iodized salt, 40 pounds finely ground limestone, and 40 pounds bone meal should be included in the ration. This should be kept before all hogs at all times, but is doubly important for pregnant sows.

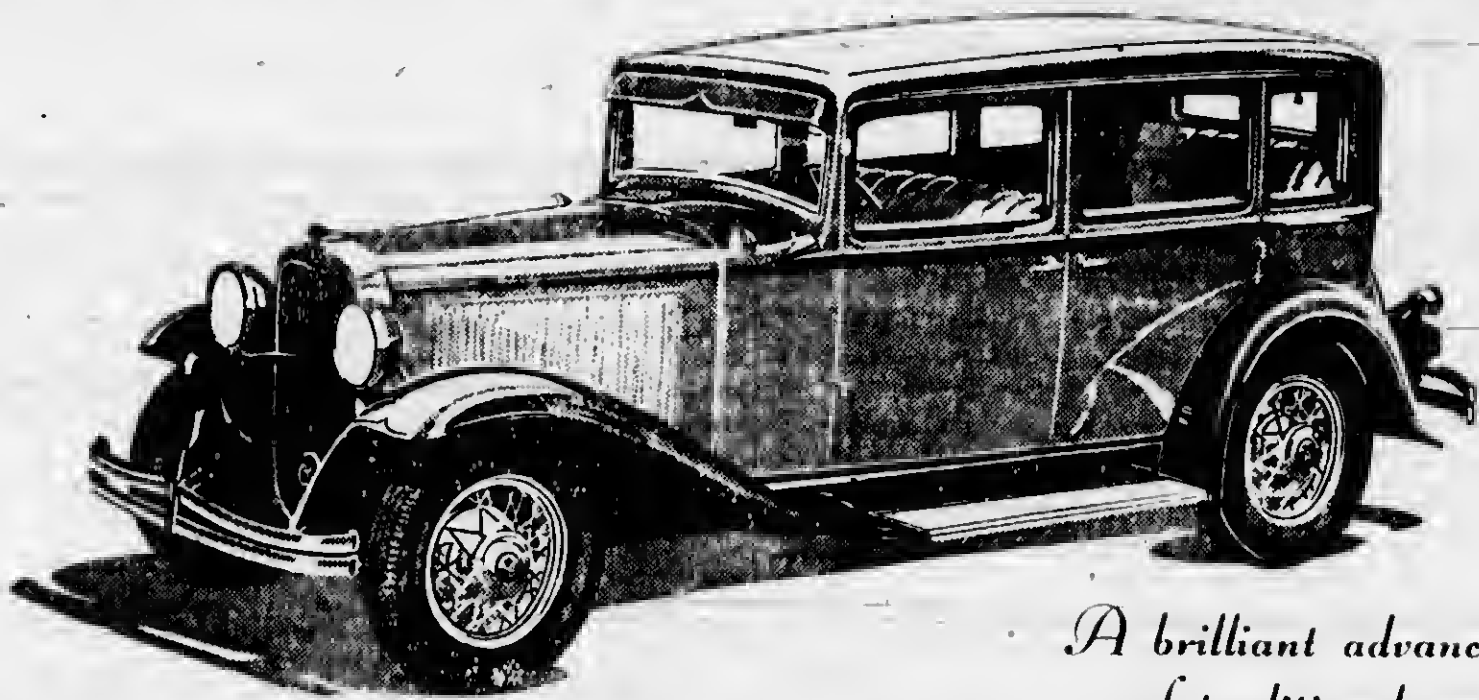

A reasonable amount of fattening during pregnancy is desirable, as a reserve of flesh improves milk production, but too much fat means a lazy sow and a poor litter. The sow should gain from 70 to 80 pounds during the 16 weeks.

A good ration to be fed in dry lot from two weeks before breeding to farrowing, is made up of 60 pounds corn, preferably yellow; 30 pounds shorts or ground oats, 5 pounds linseed meal, and 5 pounds tankage, with alfalfa or clover hay in a rack.

If a good legume hay is not available alfalfa meal should be added to the grain mixture.

CORRESPONDENCE

BAY SHORE
Murray school opened Monday after a two weeks' vacation.

Eda and Dick Zipp spent part of their vacation visiting in Petoskey. Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe Glaiser were callers in town Saturday evening.

T. Copping is back at his job of carrying mail, after a fifteen day vacation.

Carpenter school opened Monday. All are glad to be back and coasting is the order of the day.

All the high school students that attend school in Petoskey are back at their studies once more.

Mrs. Alice Mawhy, who has been very ill with erysipilis, is reported to be much better. She is up and about the house again.

Mrs. Fred Zipp and children, Miss Ethel Zipp of Petoskey, were New Years dinner guests at the home of Mrs. Bessie Zipp.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Duffey of Charlevoix, spent the week-end at the McCalmon home. Mr. Duffey returned to his school studies at Kalamazoo the first of this week.

Bay Shore school opened again Monday morning, and the county nurse was their first caller. Although she had been feared by the children, they all said she was a very nice person after all.

Lewis Price had his hand and wrist badly cut while buzzing wood Monday afternoon. He was taken to Petoskey hospital where little hope of saving his hand is held by Dr. John Raycraft.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack McCalmon returned to their school work in the southern part of the state Friday, after spending their vacation at the home of their mother and Miss La-Vern McCalmon.

BARNARD
School opened again on Monday after the holiday vacation.

Mildred Ager spent last week visiting her cousins in East Jordan.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Genett were visitors at the Howard Gornell home on Sunday.

Mrs. Ed. Ager and three children of East Jordan, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Ager last week.

Mrs. Robert Gregory returned home on Sunday from a week's visit with her mother, Mrs. Adams of East Marion.

Next Wednesday, January 14, is the regular meeting of the Aid society, which will be held with Mrs. Burns. The gentlemen are especially invited to attend.

Owing to bad roads Rev. Kendall was unable to get through last Sunday and no church services were held. We hope he will have better luck next Sunday.

The young people are having their regular monthly party at the church Friday evening. Pot-luck supper. All young people are invited to come and have a good time.

The Grumgers are having an oyster supper at the hall on Saturday evening, to which everyone is invited to come and enjoy the usual good time at these social gatherings.

Joe Bottema returned Saturday to Grand Rapids, after spending the holidays with his mother. His brother Martin, also Robert Bolhuis, returned with him for a visit in the city.

Mrs. Clyde Dimick returned last Tuesday from an eight weeks' visit to her relatives in Pittsburg, Pa., and also in West Virginia. She reports a grand time while she was away.

Saturday, December 27, Charles Dhaseler was pleasantly reminded of his birthday, when eight of his friends visited him. All of the boys had a fine time and did full justice to the fine supper provided by Mrs. Dhaseler.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ager entertained at a pedro party Tuesday evening. Seven tables were played and the following were lucky prize winners: First, Mrs. Dhaseler and Lou Shapton; second, Alice Clark, and George Willis and John Clarke received the consolation. Needless to say it was a very enjoyable occasion.

SPORTSMEN WILL SEEK BILL REPEAL

ORGANIZE AGAINST SPECIAL PRESERVE LAW

Granting of Privileges to Private Preserves Is Opposed by Michigan Sportsmen

Sportsmen of Michigan have organized for the purpose of effecting a repeal of Act 249, P. A. 1929, commonly known as the Shooting Preserve law, or the special privilege features of that law, during the present session of the legislature. No one thing has occurred for many years that has aroused the indignation of farmers and of the sportsmen in general, more than the special privileges granted by this act, and those who are interested in the continuance of those privileges have definitely organized for the purpose. Practically every group of organized sportsmen and farmers in Michigan has officially gone on record as opposed to the law or those features of it which provide special privileges for certain individuals, and a number of the officials of these organizations, in order to centralize and co-ordinate their efforts, have created a central committee, known as the Central Sportsmen's committee. This committee is a volunteer group which is offering its own time to oppose what it and most sportsmen believe to be a vicious piece of legislation, while, on the other hand, the forces who wish to maintain the longer seasons and large bag features of the law are highly organized and well financed, by the same parties who are interested in maintaining for themselves these special privileges.

The personnel of the committee is most formidable, and representative of many important groups. It consists of C. A. Justin, President of the Michigan Conservation Congress; Judge Willis B. Perkins, President of the Dwight Lydell chapter of the Isak Walton League of America; George Matteson, President of the West Michigan Game and Fish Protective association; Lester Walters, President of the Michigan Sportsmen's League; Dr. J. F. Pepler, President of the Kent County Conservation association; Theo. A. Thompson of the Williamston Progressive Hunting club; Arthur G. Baumgartel, Secretary of the Dwight Lydell Chapter, Isak Walton League of America; Ben East, well known outdoor writer and newspaper man; and Jack VanCoevering, another well known outdoor writer. In addition to this representative list, there is a large number of other groups and organizations of both sportsmen and farmers who are backing the efforts of the committee. The committee has opened headquarters at 136 Division avenue, N. Grand Rapids, and Jack VanCoevering has volunteered to act as secretary.

The committee will also undertake to advise their constituents how their representatives and senators vote on the question in the legislature.

The opposition to the demand for repeal of special privileges comes essentially from a handful of individuals with both money and time at their disposal, and one state organization which is dominated by these same individuals. And, of course, it is to be expected that in the main, these individuals are at the present time enjoying or represent those who are enjoying special privileges under Act 249.

JOHN L. GALSTER DIED AT PETOSKEY

Was a Pioneer Resident of Boyne Falls—Funeral Tuesday

Petoskey and northern Michigan mourns the loss of a staunch pioneer in the death of John L. Galster, who died at his home in Petoskey Sunday.

Mr. Galster for many years operated a hotel and store at Boyne Falls. He moved to Petoskey about 13 years ago.

Surviving him are seven children, Mrs. Benjamin Rine, John L. A. Galster, Mrs. George W. McCabe, Mrs. Elizabeth Moon, Charles Galster and Henry Galster, of Petoskey, and Mrs. J. E. Regan, of Buffalo. One brother, Dr. H. G. Galster, resides at Erie, Pa.

The funeral was held at 10:00 o'clock Tuesday forenoon from the home of Mr. and Mrs. McCabe, under the auspices of Durand lodge, No. 334, F. & A. M., of which he was a member.

BRUCKER TO SPEAK AT FARMERS' WEEK

President Ruthven of Michigan Also Among Headliners

Gov. Wilbur M. Brucker will be one of the featured speakers at the annual M. S. C. Farmers' week this year. Michigan's new executive will address the conference Thursday evening, February 5, publication of the detailed program this week revealed.

Dr. Alexander G. Ruthven, president of the University of Michigan; George William Russell, internationally known Irish poet and economist; and Hon. Webster H. Pearce, state superintendent of public instruction, are others who stand out particularly among the long list of speakers scheduled for the various sessions of the week.

Authorities in practically every phase of agricultural endeavor will appear at one time or another during the five day conference. Many of them will find places on the programs of the many state farm associations which will be holding annual meetings during the week. Others will speak at the special morning "subject matter" meetings; while some will be heard at the afternoon and evening "general" programs.

Women will have special programs of their own during the mornings, joining the men for the general programs later in the day.

LOCAL DEBATERS SET FINE RECORD

WON 15 OUT OF POSSIBLE 16 POINTS IN FOUR CONTESTS

Will Represent School in Michigan
High School Debating League
Elimination February 20

Winning 15 out of a possible 16 points in their series of four preliminary debates as members of the Michigan High School Debating League, Charlevoix's debaters have won the right to enter the league's elimination series for the first time in the school's history.

In their final contest of the elimination series at East Jordan, Charlevoix's negative team, composed of Virginia Nickerson, Margery Manley and Albert McMillan, won the unanimous decision of the three judges. The judges were the Misses Furman and Moore of Petoskey, and Miss Pitts of Harbor Springs.

In earlier debates of the season, Charlevoix's affirmative team, whose members are Daisy Duteber, Dorothy Staley and Charles Cellner, won a unanimous decision from Boyne City, defeated Onaway 2 to 1, and were given four points through a forfeit by Petoskey.

By virtue of their splendid record, Charlevoix's debaters are assured of a place in the elimination series along with those of 64 other schools out of the original 267 members of the league. Traverse City, Cheboygan and Onaway are the other northern Michigan schools to survive the preliminary series.

The elimination series opens for the 64 successful schools February 20th. Between now and that time, Charlevoix's opponent will be named and either the affirmative or negative team chosen to carry on.

Charlevoix high school is exceedingly proud of its debating teams. Some of the members were without previous experience, and one is a freshman. They further added to their accomplishment by being the first local team to survive the preliminaries.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY OCCASION FOR PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Shearer Victims of Pleasant Surprise Friday

Friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Shearer gave them a pleasant surprise party at their home on East Hurbut avenue last Friday evening. The occasion was their 35th wedding anniversary.

Following a bounteous pot-luck supper, the remainder of the evening was enjoyed at cards.

Among the guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Benton, Mr. and Mrs. Jud Markham, Mr. and Mrs. John Bugbee, Mr. and Mrs. Art Alcock, Mr. and Mrs. Jone Durnee, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Eckinger, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Carey, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Nowland and Mesdames Lota Coulter, Katherine Hilmchauch, Mary Blissett, Louis Cook, Allison, Bacon, Barish and Watson.

WORLD WAR VET DIED SUDDENLY

WILLIAM GRAVES VICTIM OF HEART ATTACK SUNDAY

Served 22 Months in France With American Expeditionary Forces—
Funeral This Afternoon

Charlevoix residents were shocked Sunday afternoon by the sudden death of William Graves, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Graves, who died from heart attack while walking along the Lake Michigan beach below the Lowenstein cottage on Michigan avenue.

Accompanied by his little son, Billy Bob, and Miss Marie Grua of Chicago, a friend and guest of the family, Mr. Graves had gone down the beach to cut evergreens. Stopping to examine a flag pole floating in the water, he complained of a sudden illness. Advised to lie down, he slumped to the ground dead. Mr. Graves had been in poor health since leaving the army years ago. While in the service he was slightly gassed and a complication of ailments resulted. Death was attributed directly to myocarditis, a heart ailment.

Deceased was born November 26, 1886, at Charlevoix. He attended and graduated from the local high school. For many years he had spent his summers at Charlevoix and worked in Chicago during the winter. Mr. Graves enlisted in the army at Chicago, and served 22 months in France during the World war as 1st gunner in Company 13, Illinois Coast Artillery Corps.

He was married October 14, 1914, to Miss Mable Anna Weise of Shalopin, Pa., who survives besides his 5-year-old son, Billy Bob; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Graves, and a brother, Ray Graves, all of Charlevoix.

Masonic funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from the Methodist church, Rev. John E. Lockyer officiating. Members of Leslie T. Shapton Post, American Legion, will act as pallbearers.

"Bill," as Mr. Graves was known to local residents and a large number of Charlevoix summer people, was held in high esteem by everyone. His untimely passing will be mourned by all who knew him.

NUMEROUS HUNTERS ASK FOX PROTECTED

Claim This Valuable Fur-Bearer Is Rapidly Becoming Scarce

The red fox, for years classed as a predator, is becoming scarce in Michigan and many hunters and trappers are beginning to agitate for a closed season on these animals.

The argument is advanced that the fox has become an important game and fur species and that it should be afforded the same protection given other species of this kind. This attitude is steadily gaining momentum as the red fox continues to decrease, according to the conservation department.

GEORGE HAGGERTY IN- JURED IN ACCIDENT

George Haggerty, farmer residing on Route 3 north of this city, was painfully injured shortly before noon Wednesday when he cut his right foot with an axe while working in the woods. Dr. F. F. McMillan attended the injured man and stated that, while not serious, the wound would keep Mr. Haggerty confined for several weeks.

HOCKEY FANS OR- GANIZING TEAMS

WILL COMPETE WITH OTHER CITIES OF REGION

Twenty Candidates Out for Team and Former Pro Players to Take Over Coaching Duties

While weather conditions have so far been more or less adverse for winter sports, various northern Michigan cities have been going ahead with the organization of hockey teams and plans for competition during the next two months.

Charlevoix is no exception and organization of a local hockey team is now well under way. Around twenty candidates have expressed a desire to be included in the hockey line-up, and so far, several practice sessions have been held at the school ground rink.

A regular schedule of games will be arranged as soon as possible. It is expected Charlevoix will engage in games with teams from Petoskey, Traverse City, Cadillac and Boyne City, all of which are organizing for the sport.

Charlevoix will have several men who carried local colors into action in previous winters. Among them are Joe Arvilla, George LaBlanc, Dave Livingston, Ole Neilson, Glen Heise, Bob Foster and others. Other candidates out for the team are Lawrence Korth, Edwin McCann, Drew Young, Devere Bird, John Winder, Ralph Lemieux, George Smith and McKenzie. Don Campbell, a member of the Association of Commerce winter sports committee, is helping the team get organized, and John Williams of Ironton, former player in professional ranks at Detroit, has offered to teach local lads the fine points of the game.

Charlevoix was to have played Petoskey on that city's winter sports program Saturday night, but condition of the ice made it necessary to call the contest off. With necessary cold weather, Charlevoix's hockey rink can be put into use.

Regularly scheduled games will be announced as soon as arranged. It is expected one or more games will be arranged with teams of the newly-organized Western Michigan Hockey League at Grand Rapids. Dr. Clair Cartier is president of the league.

AIR CLUB HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

David Coulter Elected President—
Other Officers Chosen

At a recent meeting held with Glenn Heise at the home of his parents on Mason street, the Charlevoix Air Club elected officers for 1931.

Those chosen were: President, David Coulter; vice-pres., Bill Brown; treas., Charles Cellner; sec., Pnt. Moran.

The club held a discussion on the auto-kyro, a new type of air craft with rotating wings which ascends and descends vertically. The members have been given much helpful information by "Bud" and "Butch" Hammond, who are operating the mail plane between Charlevoix and Beaver Island this winter.

OUT-STATERS MUST HAVE NEW LICENSE

Licenses Issued for 1930 Expired
December 31st Last

Non-resident anglers' licenses issued in 1930 expired December 31, and non-residents desiring to fish through the ice now must secure a 1931 license. These licenses are now being distributed by the department of conservation to all license dealers.

The buttons of the new licenses are brown. While non-residents are permitted, under license, to fish with hook and line through the ice, they are not permitted to use a spear or any other means of catching fish.

SHERIFF ANNOUNCES DEPUTY APPOINTEES

Same Force Will Serve County During Term of 1931-32

Sheriff Dave Vaughan last Thursday announced his appointment of deputies to serve various districts of the county for the years 1931-32.

There is no change from the previous term and the appointments are as follows:

Under sheriff, Henry Cook, East Jordan; chief deputy, Charles Marshall, Charlevoix; deputies, Henry M. Steimel, Boyne City; John Tully, St. James; Fred Denice, Boyne Falls; Albert Juvenville, Walloon Lake.

PERE MARQUETTE CHANGING SCHED

SOUTH TRAIN THRU TO CHI-CAGO STARTING JAN. 15

Leaves Here at 3:40 Each Afternoon
Instead of 8:10 in Forenoon—
Northbound Unchanged

An announcement of great importance to the traveling public was made today by the Pere Marquette Railway company. This line will change the time of its southbound train out of Charlevoix from 8:10 a. m. to 3:40 p. m. and thus make it a through run, connecting with all points south at Grand Rapids. The change will become effective Thursday, January 15th.

Agent B. Nickerson has been at work on this change for several weeks, urging railroad officials to give Charlevoix a through connection over the Pere Marquette. The train will connect at Traverse City with the through Pullman service at about 6:20 o'clock and leaves Grand Rapids for Chicago at 11:50 o'clock.

Thus it will be possible for a traveler to leave Charlevoix at 3:40 in the afternoon and be in Chicago the next morning.

Mr. Nickerson also reports that the local freight run south will leave at 10:40 a. m. daily. It formerly operated every other day.

The schedule of time for the passenger train change follows:

Leave Petoskey 3:00 p. m. instead of 7:30 a. m.
Leave Boyne Shore (f) 3:20 p. m. instead of 7:50 a. m.
Leave Charlevoix 3:40 p. m. instead of 8:10 a. m.
Leave Phelps (f) 4:00 p. m. instead of 8:30 a. m. (f)
Leave Ellsworth 4:13 p. m. instead of 8:43 a. m.
Leave Central Lake 4:23 p. m. instead of 8:53 a. m.
Leave Bellaire 4:43 p. m. instead of 9:13 a. m.
Leave Alden 5:06 p. m. instead of 9:36 a. m.
Leave Rapid City 5:16 p. m. instead of 9:46 a. m.
Leave Williamsburg 5:37 p. m. instead of 10:07 a. m.
Arrive Traverse City 6:00 p. m. instead of 10:30 a. m.
Service daily except Sunday.

Well Known Local Couple Married at Petoskey Last Week

Miss Edith D. Hamlin and Herbert F. McRoberts, both well known local young people, were married at 8:30 last Wednesday evening at the Methodist parsonage in Petoskey.

Rev. C. J. Krause performed the ceremony, using the ring service. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hamilton of this city, were the attendants.

Following the ceremony, the wedding party returned to Charlevoix for a wedding supper, at which immediate relatives and a few friends were present.

Mr. and Mrs. McRoberts will make their home in this city.

KIPKE'S TOSSERS WIN FROM BOYNE

RUN STRING OF VICTORIES TO FIVE FRIDAY NIGHT

Final Count Was 14 to 11 for Regulars While Reserves Drop
Their 16 to 9—Harbor Next

Championship hopes of Charlevoix's basketball quintet received their most severe test Friday night and were found justified. In a closely fought contest at Boyne City, coach Kipke's tossers were victorious by a 14 to 11 margin. It was their second conference victory and fifth straight win of the season.

The game gave promise of being a nip-and-tuck affair from the very start. Boyne stepped right out in the first period, marked up a goal and free throw while holding Charlevoix without a mark. The team play and defense of both squads was machine-like.

In the second period, however, Charlevoix found her stride. With Boyne centering its defense around the flashy Novak, Anee came through with a goal and pair of free throws for 4 points, and Smith sank a loag one to bring Charlevoix's total to 6. Charlevoix kept Boyne closely covered and their best efforts produced a free toss. At the half, Charlevoix was leading 6 to 4.

Charlevoix, whose passing was superior throughout the contest, maintained their advantage in the third period. Goals by Novak, McCall and Anee netted 6 points for a total of 12. Rouse sank a pretty one from center court for two points and the period ended with Kipke's men still out in front 12 to 6.

Charlevoix's 6-point advantage was sorely pressed in the final canto. Shooting from all angles in an effort to win, Boyne out-scored the local tossers 5 to 3, but their late effort fell short. When the final gong sounded, Charlevoix still had a 3-point advantage.
